Case No. 3:19-cv-02074-G

PLAINTIFF'S PRETRIAL DISCLOSURE PURSUANT TO FED. R. CIV. P. 26(a)(3)(A)(i)

The NRA's disclosures pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(3)(A)(i) are set forth below. The NRA reserves the right to supplement these disclosures, particularly in response to information recently made available, or still unavailable, as of the date hereof. In addition to the witnesses identified herein, the NRA reserves the right to call: (i) any witness designated or called by Defendants; (ii) any witness necessary to authenticate documents; (iii) any witness necessary to respond to unforeseen developments at trial; (iv) witnesses for rebuttal or impeachment; and (v) any additional witnesses permissible under applicable federal and local rules.

Pursuant to Rule III.A.2 of the Specific Requirements of the Honorable A. Joe Fish, the NRA classified the witnesses as probable, possible, expert, and/or record custodian and provides a brief narrative summary of the testimony to be covered by each witness. The NRA reserves the right to elicit testimony from the witnesses on additional topics not listed here.

Witness Name	Address / Tel.	Classification	Summary
Alex Bilinski Jon Serafino Kyle Snyder and/or Daniel J. Ahrens (Performance Improvement Partners)	Performance Improvement Partners, LLC 1 Enterprise Drive, Suite 430 Shelton, CT 06484 (203) 220-9556	Probable	Performance Improvement Partners was contracted to develop a performance "dashboard" for NRATV and similar Ackerman products. The "dashboard" could have displayed ROI metrics (and the parties' contract references such metrics), but it did not. The NRA is also likely to elicit additional testimony depending upon its review and analysis of the PIP dashboard, to which it only recently gained access.
Allen, Meghan	c/o Brewer Attorneys & Counselors 1717 Main Street Dallas, TX 75201 (214) 653-4000	Possible	Ms. Allen completed an internship at the NRA, and was later hired by the NRA. Her internship housing was arranged by Ackerman. Ms. Allen's relationship with Wayne LaPierre was entirely professional. Ackerman's statements concerning these events were misleading and damaged Ms. Allen

Arulanandam, Andrew	c/o Brewer Attorneys & Counselors 1717 Main Street Dallas, TX 75201 (214) 653-4000	Probable	The NRA intended and desired to monetize NRATV from the outset, but opacity with respect to performance metrics hurt this effort. Ackerman's messaging deviated from the Second Amendment and created public affairs problems for the NRA. The NRA never viewed Ackerman and the NRA's outside counsel as "competitors." Mr. Arulanandam may also provide testimony regarding confusion or likelihood of confusion resulting from Defendants' display of the NRA's intellectual property on Ackerman's website
Azimi, Ariana	1510 Glenbrook Drive Oklahoma City, OK 73118 (405) 620-2020	Possible; Record Custodian	Ms. Azimi may testify if the need arises regarding the provenance of documents handled, scanned, and transmitted in the course of her work for Revan McQueen, including a letter scanned and emailed to Mr. McQueen on September 24, 2018.

Witness Name	Address / Tel.	Classification	Summary
Bach, Scott	c/o Brewer Attorneys & Counselors 1717 Main Street Dallas, TX 75201 (214) 653-4000	Probable	Ackerman's accusations concerning the NRA's retention of outside counsel and its litigation strategy are baseless in the view of this Legal Affairs Committee member. Statements, discussions, and exchanges for which Mr. Bach was present during the April 2019 Annual Members' Meeting are among the evidence that proves the NRA's extortion allegations.
Barr, Bob	c/o Brewer Attorneys & Counselors 1717 Main Street Dallas, TX 74201 (214) 653-4000	Possible	This NRA director may testify if the need arises regarding the quality and impact of messaging generated by Ackerman for the NRA; Ackerman's messaging deviated from the Second Amendment, creating public affairs problems for the NRA.
Betts, Gina	Dorsey & Whitney LLP 300 Crescent Ct., Suite 400 Dallas, TX 75201 (214) 981-9900	Likely; Record Custodian	The NRA may examine Ms. Betts if the need arises regarding (i) the "WBB Investments" transaction and the role of Dorsey and Ackerman principals therein, authentication of related records, as well as DJ investments; (ii) her communications with representatives of the NRA concerning the NRA's requests to examine and copy business records, and (iii) activities related to Ackerman's litigation preparation with Dycio & Biggs during the Spring of 2019.

Witness Name	Address / Tel.	Classification	Summary
LaPierre, Wayne	c/o Brewer Attorneys & Counselors 1717 Main Street Dallas, TX 74201 (214) 653-4000	Probable	Among other things, the NRA vested Defendants with decades of trust and confidence concerning its most important matters. Ackerman's allegations that Mr. LaPierre instructed it to "fake" results of its work, "front" improper expenses, conceal and misrepresent NRATV performance data, and otherwise breach its obligations are false. Any allegation that Mr. LaPierre promised to withhold information from the NRA's outside counsel or any NRA executive is false, and Ackerman's account of the October 2018 budget meeting is otherwise misleading. Defendants pitched NRATV to the NRA as a revenue-generating mechanism and Mr. LaPierre relied on Ackerman's representations and omissions concerning NRATV. Oliver North breached his obligations to the NRA and attempted to interfere with the NRA's pursuit of Ackerman-related whistleblower concerns. Occurrences Mr. LaPierre personally observed during the April 2019 Annual Members' Meeting prove the NRA's extortion allegations—he believed, and believes today, that Ackerman attempted to coerce his resignation and the withdrawal of the NRA's lawsuit against AMC. Mr. LaPierre is additionally expected to testify about pressure from Ackerman to fire or marginalize NRA employees that scrutinized its work; for example, after an introductory meeting with Craig Spray in early 2018, Angus McQueen telephoned Mr. LaPierre to demand that Mr. Spray be fired.
