23 you, it's at the very bottom of the page if you looked at that
24 as well.

25 Is that a phone number that you've had?

BP

T. King - by Defendants - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 A Yeah, that's my current cellphone number.

2 Q So, that's your current cellphone number that you use
3 now; right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And it was your cellphone number in May of 2019; right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And if we look at the first bubble on this text stream
8 from Mr. Lee, do you see that at the top of the page?

9 A Yes, I do.

10 Q And Mr. Lee says --

11 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, objection.

12 THE COURT: If you want to use it, you want to 13 admit it as something, then can you start reading from it;
14 but if you want to use it to refresh his recollection, you
15 can have him read it --

16 MS. CONNELL: I was going to impeach him, but,
17 actually, your Honor, I'd move for its admission.

18 MR. PETERS: We object. There's been on the 19 writing, no foundation.

20 MR. CORRELL: Lots of different names and texts.

21 MS. ROGERS: And, your Honor, with respect to a
22 text message like this produced from a personal cellphone, 23 the admission is more straightforward attributable to the 24 person whose phone it was. But he doesn't remember the 25 provenance of these messages attributed to him and it is not

3443

T. King - by Defendants - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 from his phone.

2 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, there are messages from 3 his phone.

4 THE COURT: Well, why don't you tell me how you got
5 this?

6 MS. CONNELL: We got this through the production by
7 the NRA.

8 THE COURT: By the NRA, itself?

9 MS. CONNELL: Yes, by the NRA itself; and we asked
10 for production of certain text messages from certain board
11 members. We received this, and you'll see that these are 12 NRA board members who are on this text stream. Mr. King has 13 admitted this is his number, and he said he had occasionally
14 texted.

15 MS. ROGERS: And this was a document collected by 16 the NRA from someone's cellphone, but it is not from an NRA
17 server. We don't have chain of custody of it or know how 18 contacts are stored on people's phones.

19 MR. CORRELL: And Mr. LaPierre knows nothing about
20 it.

21 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the NRA gathered -- I'm
22 sorry.

23 THE COURT: Whether Mr. LaPierre knows anything
24 about it is not really the relevant question.

25 So, look, my assumption is is that the NRA doesn't

BP

3444

T. King - by Defendants - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 collect documents from its employees, directors and
2 officers. They didn't go around making these things up.

3 MS. ROGERS: Not routinely. I mean, as part of the 4 discovery obviously.

5 THE COURT: In response to a discovery request you
6 collected documents for people in your custody and control.
7 That's the only reason why it would be produced. It is
8 admitted.

9 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 1620 was
10 admitted and received into evidence.)

11 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor. If we can 12 please show this.

13 (Displayed)

14 Q Mr. King, you see at the top of the page a text from 15 Willes Lee and he's referring to Facebook page "NRA members for 16 Accountability;" correct? Do you see where I'm looking? It is 17 on your screen as well.

18 A Yes.

19 Q He says "Just now got 1,052 page likes. And noticed
20 several more board members Schneider, Brown, Maloney and then he 21 goes on to say Johnny Nugent, Liptak have liked the page."

22 Do you see that?

23 A Yes, I do.

24 Q If you look down, Mr. Cotton responds to this and 25 says: "We need to reconsider Nugent's committee assignments."

BP

3445

T. King - by Defendants - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 Right?

2 A Yes, it does.

3 Q And Ms. Hammer responds -- that's Marion Hammer; right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q You know his Ms. Hammer well; right?

6 A No, I know her. I don't know her well.

7 Q She's been on the board for years?

8 A Yeah, and I've her maybe three times.

9 Q Ms. Hammer responds "Please keep a list. There's more 10 than one kind of accountability."

11 Right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And there's an emoji of what appears to be a Hammer and 14 a clock; right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Does that mean Hammer-time to you?

17 A I don't know how to interpret that, I'm sorry.

18 Q Okay, fair enough. Not an expert in Marion Hammer as 19 some of us are becoming.

20 If we continue down, you'll see that Jay Prince said "I
21 would be cautious. I think Johnny Nugent an ok Wayne 22 supporter;" right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q If we keep going down to the bottom you respond and 25 say, "They are waving a war," and you say, "Actions will be

3446

1 taken very soon to neutralize some of these people;" correct?

2 A I'm reading through that. (Brief pause) Yes.

3 Q Okay, thank you.

4 A But I dispute that I said that.

5 Q Mr. King, the number that you can see on the paper,
6 that's your cellphone number; correct?

7 A Yes, it is.

8 Q And that's the cellphone number you used in May of
9 2019; correct?

10 A Yes, it is.

11 Q Thank you. We can put that aside.

12 Mr. King, you testified that any NRA board member who 13 wants to know what's going on can just read the reports in that 14 like 150-page board book that you get after a board meeting;
15 right?

16 A That's true.

17 Q And you're saying that's how a board member can educate
18 themselves for what's really happening in the NRA; right?

19 A For any board member that missed the board meeting,
20 yes.

21 Q But you supported a suggestion to hold most board
22 meetings, most board meetings in executive session; didn't you?

23 A No, not most. I've done it three or four times in my 24 entire career at the NRA.

25 Q But supported a suggestion that more meetings be held

BP

3447

T. King - by Defendants - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 in executive session so that the discussions wouldn't appear in
2 the reports that are in those board books; right?

3 A Not that I'm aware of. I don't remember doing that at 4 all.

5 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I'd like to bring up for 6 identification PX 1553. I have a paper version that does
7 not have the numbers redacted. Thank you.

8 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it is very hard to decide
9 whether to object or not if we're not given a copy of what
10 the witness is being shown. If we could just in the future.

11 THE COURT: Yeah, for cross-examination you don't 12 always have them in advance, but we can put them up on the 13 screen without it being in front of the jurors.

14 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

15 Q Mr. King, I placed in front of you a document that was 16 also produced by the NRA in this action, and it is a text stream
17 between you and other NRA board members and employees including 18 Ms. Hallow, Ms. Froman, Mr. Friedman; and it has been marked for 19 identification as PX 1553.

20 Do you see that?

21 A Yes, I do.

22 Q And do you see the second text bubble down there seems 23 to be a response from you?

24 A Yeah, it says "Agree."

25 Q And that's number -- is that number that's there the

BP

3448

1 phone number you had in June of 2019?

2 A Yes, it is.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I move for the admission
4 of this document.

5 THE COURT: On the same grounds, admitted.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Plaintiff's Exhibit PX
7 1553 was admitted and received into evidence.)

8 MS. CONNELL: I'd ask it be published to the jury.

9 THE COURT: Yes.

10 (Displayed)

11 Q Do you see the first text from Joel Friedman?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Who's Mr. Friedman?

14 A Mr. Friedman is just a board member.

15 Q And Mr. Friedman says, "Believe serious consideration
16 be made to hold most meetings in executive session so only the 17 results are put in the minutes. Quote, Resolved that -- blank 18 -- was passed."

19 Do you see that?

20 A Yes, I do.

21 Q And your response was "Agree;" correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Mr. King, would you agree that money spent on, for 24 example, a $1600 tip to a landscaper is money not spent on 25 mission activities of the NRA?

BP

3449

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 MR. CORRELL: Objection, your Honor. Assumes facts
2 not in evidence.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 MR. PETERS: And this, also, is outside the scope
5 of direct.

6 THE COURT: Overruled.

7 A Could you repeat the question, please?

8 Q Sure. Would you agree with me that money spent on, for 9 example, a $1600 tip to a landscaper is money not spent on 10 mission activities of the NRA?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And, in fact, money -- the NRA spending on mission
13 programming has declined between 2014 and 2022; correct?

14 A Yes.

15 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, Mr. King.

16 THE COURT: Any further questioning?

17 MR. PETERS: Yes.

18 REDIRECT-EXAMINATION

19 BY MR. PETERS:

20 Q Good afternoon, Mr. King.

21 A Good afternoon.

22 Q Sir, you testified -- I think I asked you during direct 23 whether you were -- whether you were aware of the extent of 24 Mr. LaPierre's use of a private plane prior to 2019. Do you
25 remember me asking you that?

BP

3450

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 A Yes, I do.

2 MS. CONNELL: Objection.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 Q And did there come a time when you learned more about
5 Mr. LaPierre's use of private plane travel?

6 A Yes, there did.

7 Q Did you describe when that was?

8 A It was sometime mid 2018 if I'm not mistaken. You
9 know, it is hard to put dates with that.

10 Q Okay. And, so, at that point you discovered that the 11 extent of -- or did you or did you not discover the extent of 12 Mr. LaPierre's private plane usage was greater than you had 13 previously realized, is it fair to say?

14 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: It's a little bit leading, but I'll let
16 it.

17 A Yes, I did. You know, and, and as far as I was 18 concerned, it didn't matter what it was spent on. It was 19 misspent monies, okay; and that was -- that was infringement on 20 the NRA laws, okay.

21 I don't care if he -- if it was spent on his nephew. I
22 don't care if it was spent on anything, okay. It shouldn't have 23 been spent, and that's what I decided on and plus he was making 24 restitution.

25 Q Okay. So, you said before, didn't you, that a -- well,

BP

3451

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 strike that.

2 Is it fair to say that from 2019 going forward, a key
3 part of your support, continued support for Mr. LaPierre was 4 that he was supporting efforts at compliance; is that fair to 5 say?

6 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: You used your one phrase leading.

8 Q So, you said before on cross that you continued to 9 support Mr. LaPierre; is that right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Why did you continue to support Mr. LaPierre after 12 2019?

13 A I think I may have stated this earlier.

14 Everybody makes mistakes. Mr. LaPierre stood up in 15 front of this entire board and said he made a mistake and that 16 he was making restitution. And, in my eyes, someone who stands
17 up, admits their mistakes and has the hutzpah, okay, to do that,
18 is a man who has some honor, okay. And he told us that he was 19 going to reimburse the money to the NRA, and he has in fact done
20 that.

21 Q Now, if Mr. LaPierre were to run -- say put his name in 22 that ring once again for EVP, do you think that you would 23 support him?

24 A I stated that earlier. No. You know, Mr. LaPierre's
25 time -- he did great work for the NRA. Even in consideration of

BP

3452

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 the problems that he had and the mistakes that he made, he
2 raised hundreds of millions of dollars and he increased the
3 membership and made the NRA what it is today. But could I
4 support him again? No, the time has passed. It is time for a
5 new NRA.

6 Q Now, you said before we were talking about, you know,
7 who is elected in board of directors' elections.

8 Did anyone ever ask you for your advice on how they 9 should vote, any NRA members?

10 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

11 Q Let me get there a different way. You said before that 12 it was --

13 THE COURT: What was the objection based on?

14 MS. CONNELL: I thought it was leading, your Honor,
15 but --

16 THE COURT: It's not.

17 MR. PETERS: It's is not?

18 THE COURT: You're allowed to ask did something
19 happen. It doesn't suggest the answer.

20 Q So has anyone -- did anyone ever ask you for how you
21 think people should vote on board of directors elections?

22 A You know, I stated earlier that there's discussions
23 going on between the board of directors. All of the time while 24 we're there, okay, and does that topic come up? Of course it
25 does.

BP

3453

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 You know, we're people that are interested in who's
2 going and somebody might I'm supporting so and so, I'm
3 supporting so and so. Who do you think or what do you think?
4 It was never a case of asking me for any type of coercion to 5 make me vote in any one particular way.

6 So, yeah, of course, we discussed that.

7 Q Okay, you said before that you found it funny or that
8 it was a joke when, you know, some people would submit their own
9 lists of who to vote for for the board of directors.

10 Can you explain why you thought that was funny?

11 A Because, he -- he just mocked it, okay. And, you know,
12 and, frankly, I don't know who they came from and I don't know
13 if he did or not; but he just thought it was funny. Oh, it was 14 because he didn't give one, okay, and that's what he was making 15 fun of.

16 Q Now, when we saw these text messages before that seemed 17 to involve a lot of different directors and you -- you expressed
18 a concern here in one of these about Facebook names that you
19 don't know or appear fake.

20 Do you remember writing that part of the text message?

21 A Which one was that?

22 Q This is PX 1620.

23 A You know, you know that had been discussed numerous
24 times. The thing that I see here, okay, is I don't abbreviate
25 "FB" for Facebook. I write it out. I come from the old school

BP

3454

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 where I don't like using abbreviations. Okay, it took me three
2 years to figure out O-M-G, what it meant, okay, and so I just 3 don't do that.

4 Q Okay, fair enough.

5 Do you remember discussions around May of 2019
6 regarding, you know, the Oliver North and the attempt with, you
7 know, and the stuff around the annual meeting that year?

8 A Yeah, that was -- there was a lot of discussion going
9 on about that.

10 Q And you even filed an ethics complaint against 11 Mr. North?

12 A Yes, I did.

13 Q Can you explain why you filed that complaint?

14 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor, beyond the 15 scope.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 MR. PETERS: Well, I asked about it in direct, but 18 it is fair --

19 THE COURT: You asked about it.

20 MR. PETERS: Okay.

21 THE COURT: If you want to cross yourself, I'm not 22 sure you can.

23 Q Do you remember discussions in May 2019 around Oliver
24 North and the leadership challenges at the NRA?

25 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

BP

3455

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 A Yeah, there was a lot of discussion going on, okay, and
2 a lot of it centered around the fact that we had found out that
3 Mr. North was getting a -- was getting paid, and he would become 4 actually the first paid NRA president and many people on the 5 board took exception to that, and that's what started this whole
6 thing.

7 Q And so you didn't -- so around that time is it fair to 8 say that you had concerns about Mr. North's attempt to continue
9 in leadership at the NRA with his conflict of interest; is that 10 fair to say?

11 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Hang on. I missed the last objection,
13 but this really wasn't covered by anybody on cross.

14 Q Okay, understood.

15 So, were there discussions -- what was the tenor of 16 discussions among board members in May 2019, if you can recall?

17 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: This is the same topic I just said.

19 MR. PETERS: Well, these are discussions among 20 board of directors May 2019.

21 THE COURT: You're back to that, so discussions
22 about what?

23 Q I'm asking, were there discussions -- what were the 24 tenor of discussions among board members in May 2019 if you
25 recall?

BP

3456

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 A Well, yes, I do. There was a lot of discussion that 2 was going on, and one of the things that was happening is that
3 all of our discussions were being leaked to the press. Okay,
4 and in one instance I was sitting -- I was sitting at my table
5 and we had just discussed something and I read it on the 6 internet. Okay, and that was the reason -- and I don't --
7 honestly, I don't remember this particular text; but if somebody
8 had sent this to me asking me that if I agree that we should do
9 most of the sensitive things in executive session, I would have 10 said I agree.

11 So, I'll take credit for this even though I don't 12 remember it.

13 Q So, but, generally speaking, when you talk about people
14 being directors having access to information at board meetings,
15 are you talking about the board minutes only or talking about
16 other things such as financial statements?

17 A I'm talking about everything, financial statements,
18 legal discussions, you know, and that -- that are supposed to 19 be -- that are supposed to be privileged and held to the board.

20 Q And your understanding is that -- and your experience
21 has been or has it that board members are given ample amount of 22 information to guide their governance of the NRA?

23 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

24 A I totally agree with that is if they are interested
25 enough and want to find out, the information is there and you

BP

3457

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 know, we're seeing these text messages and all that. You can
2 text anyone of the officers, particularly the president. You
3 can e-mail them or even, you know, most people don't do it
4 anymore, is pick up the phone and call him and you would get an 5 answer to your questions.

6 Q And would you not only -- is it fair to say that you
7 would not only speak to officers, you might also speak to the 8 NRA's own employees to be able to get information; is that 9 fair?

10 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Sustained again.

12 Q What other sources of information do you have as an NRA
13 board member?

14 A I -- the employees, okay. The fellow who was running
15 general operations at the time -- he's since retired -- was a
16 fellow from New York State who served on my board of directors, 17 the New York State Rifle and Pistol Association, and we 18 regularly talked.

19 Q And I think you said before that there was vigorous
20 discussion and debate amongst the board members. Is that fair
21 to say?

22 A Oh, yeah. There's always vigorous discussion no matter
23 what the topic is.

24 Q And there's sometimes board members will even criticize
25 other board members; is that fair to say?

BP

3458

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Peters

1 A Oh, yes.

2 Q Do you -- have you found -- but in the, in the end is
3 it fair to say the members of the NRA decide who's on the board?

4 A Yeah, they're the ones that vote. It's a national 5 election like I stated. The ballots go out in the magazines and 6 hundreds of thousands of them come back in.

7 Q So, people can and directors can start their own
8 Facebook group, for example; is that fair to say?

9 A Sure.

10 Q And you can start your own Facebook; right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And you can make statements on your Facebook in support
13 of certain directors?

14 A Yes --

15 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Hang on a second.

17 THE COURT: Ground?

18 MS. CONNELL: Leading, and going beyond the scope.

19 THE COURT: Sustained.

20 Q Fair to say there's lots of ways for directors to 21 communicate their views to the public?

22 A Absolutely.

23 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: You can borrow one leading question
25 from your next witness, if you want.

BP

3459

T. King - by Defendants - Redirect/Mr. Correll

1 Q Go ahead.

2 A Absolutely. Any of us that are running for -- for the

4 can't do it right now -- but see Tom King, NRA Board, Reelect
5 Tom King NRA Board 2021. I don't remember the exact year, but,
6 sure, we all do that.

7 Q Fair to say that you -- that you -- have you ever
8 threatened anyone to try to get them to vote for you?

9 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: That's not leading.

11 A You know, I'm sorry to say this, but that's absurd, no.
12 That would never ever, ever, ever happen; and if someone did it
13 to me, I would be really offended and that would not be the end 14 of it.

15 MR. PETERS: Okay, no further questions. Thank
16 you.

2 A First time I heard about is right now.

3 Q Has the NRA had any security problems during the time

5 A In what way do you mean that?

6 Q Does the NRA have a security department?

7 A Yes, we do have a security department.

8 Q Is security important to the NRA?

9 A Extremely important.

10 Q And why is that?

11 A Because we -- we talk about many sensitive things. You
12 know, we are an advocacy group, okay; and we put plans together
13 about what we're going to do politically over the years, what 14 were going to do on elections. And we can't have people
15 listening into what we're doing and being able to counteract
16 everything that we're putting together.

17 I mean, it is like during the Gulf War, Governor
18 Schwarzkopf (sic.) didn't tell the Iraqis where he was going to

1 THE COURT: Do you want to turn the screen off.

2 (Witness excused.)

3 THE COURT: So members of the jury, we started the 4 second -- this session late. We would normally have a break
5 if we started at 2:15.

6 Are you okay pushing through? If anybody is 7 uncomfortable -- so we can either take a break now or we are 8 going to go all the way to the end. So if you need a break,
9 then I'll let you have that. Do you want a short break?

10 Okay. Restroom break. And then we will get the 11 next witness.

12 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

13 THE COURT: Once whoever needs to do that is done,
14 just let the court officer know and we can restart. Not to 15 rush anyone.

16 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
17 the courtroom.)

18 (Whereupon at this time there was a recess taken.)

19 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

20 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
21 courtroom.)

22 THE COURT: Thank you. Please have a seat. Okay.
23 Next witness for the defense.

24 MS. ROGERS: The NRA calls Sonya Rowling.

25 THE COURT: She was previously sworn. Do you want

KM

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 me to have her sworn again.

2 MS. ROGERS: We think that might be wise, your
3 Honor, because it's separate testimony.

4 THE COURT: Sure.

5 (Witness resumes the witness stand.)

6 THE COURT: Welcome back.

7 S O N Y A R O W L I N G, a witness called on
8 behalf of the Defendant, after having been first duly sworn,
9 took the witness stand and testified as follows.

10 THE COURT: Welcome back.

11 DIRECT EXAMINATION

12 BY MS. EISENBERG:

13 Q Good afternoon. Can the members of the jury hear me?

14 Ms. Rowling, welcome back.

15 A Thank you.

16 Q Please tell us a little bit about your background.

17 A I'm a graduate of James Madison University. I am also 18 a CPA. I have a degree in accounting. I spent my beginning
19 professional career at the Department of Defense, Office of the 20 Inspector General auditing intelligence programs and moved from 21 there to public accounting auditing non-profits and then came to 22 the NRA in '99 where I started as a assistant manager within the 23 Financial Services Division and eventually became a director and 24 then became treasurer and CFO in 2021.

25 Q Thank you. There should be a binder with documents in

KM

3465

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 front of you.

2 A Yes.

3 Q If you can please turn to Tab 37, and Mr. Stein, if we 4 can please display for the Court and counsel Tab 37 which is
5 DX1-0547.

6 Ms. Rowling, what is DX1-0547?

7 A This is the compliance seminar that is provided Board
8 of Directors by Mr. Frazer. It's the slides associated with
9 that.

10 Q When was it provided?

11 A September of 2023.

12 Q Did you attend the presentation?

13 A Yes.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this time the NRA
15 moves to admit DX 1-0547 in evidence.

16 MR. THOMPSON: No.

17 THE COURT: It's admitted.

18 Q If we can please scroll down to Page 6 of the exhibit
19 and publish it to the jury.

20 What is the COSO Framework?

21 A COSO Framework is a guideline for internal controls for 22 an organization. It creates a -- provides for a 360-degree
23 review of compliance. It gives the organization a means to 24 identify risk areas and understand risks so that the 25 organization can then prioritize risk along and group and link

KM

3466

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 risk with strategy and operational performance of the
2 organization.

3 Q It looks a little like a Rubik's cube; right.

4 Can you walk through the various sides of the cube and 5 what they refer to?

6 A Sure. The top layer where it discusses operations
7 reporting and compliance, those areas represent your internal 8 control structure.

9 You want your internal control structure to enhance 10 your operations to insure that you have efficiencies and 11 effectiveness in working through and fulfilling the mission of 12 the organization.

13 The reporting side is to -- you want your internal 14 controls to report that your external reporting is accurate.
15 And you want your internal controls to also insure compliance
16 with laws and regulations.

17 Q Let's look at the panel on the right, the one that 18 refers to entity level division, etc.

19 What are those references to?

20 A So that references basically all of your compliance,
21 and your internal controls impacts every level of the 22 organization from the entity level all the way down to say a 23 staff position, an entry-level staff position, and everyone is 24 actively involved. And then across the front, it starts with 25 control environment.

KM

3467

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Control environment is your culture of your
2 organization, your tone at the top.

3 And moving down, risk assessment is prioritizing risk,
4 setting and understanding what your risks are as an
5 organization.

6 The control activities takes the risks and makes sure
7 that you have policies and procedures in place to mitigate where 8 those risks are.

9 Your information and communication then makes sure you
10 disseminate this information across the Board.

11 So our compliance seminars are a prime example of that.
12 And then monitoring activities, you really think of that as kind 13 of an independent review. So external auditors, internal 14 auditors. And then even internal kind of reviews can be done in 15 the treasurer's office or the Office of General Counsel.

16 Q The most important question. What does "COSO" stand
17 for?

18 A COSO is the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations. It
19 was a commission of the Treadway Commission, and this was just a 20 product of that commission.

21 Q And to what extent, if any, do you as treasurer and CFO
22 of the NRA use the COSO Framework in assisting the NRA comply
23 with the various legal regulatory and policy requirements?

24 A Well, it's a daily operation.

25 Compliance is a part of everything that we do, and it's

KM

3468

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 pretty much part of everyday life.

2 Q What is "Tone at the top?"

3 A Tone at the top refers to as I said culture. It's do
4 you have the support from the very top of the organization to --
5 and to basically set that tone for the rest of the employees.
6 So all the employees understand the importance of compliance.

7 Q Who is the interim executive vice president of the NRA?

8 A Andrew Arulanandam.

9 Q Has he worked at the NRA for a while?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And during your time with the organization, have you
12 formed an opinion as to his respect in regard for the NRA's
13 internal policies?

14 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Leading.

15 THE COURT: It's not leading. Overruled.

16 A In the 20 years that I have a worked with Mr.
17 Arulanandam, he has been nothing but forthright and has never 18 shown any sort of noncompliance-type behavior.

19 Q As far as you know, never sought reimbursement for 20 expenses without providing backup? Would that be fair?

21 A Yes, as far as I know.

22 Q And in terms of tone at the top and sort of the CFO
23 treasurer level, how, if at all, did the tone at the top of the 24 NRA change when Mr. Spray replaced Mr. Phillips in 2018?

25 A Mr. Spray, when he came on board, his -- you know, his

KM

3469

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 first goal was obviously to try to understand the organization.
2 We were holding meetings. That's with myself, my colleagues,
3 Mr. Spray.

4 We didn't have those under Mr. Phillips. We were 5 sharing information, and he -- his behavior was one of we want
6 to get this right. We want to look at expenses. We want to see
7 if everything is for lack of better words "aboveboard," and he 8 really focussed in those areas and provided this kind of a 9 catalyst for the sharing of information amongst each other that 10 identified some areas of concern.

11 Q And in terms of potential override of internal
12 controls, how did the atmosphere change with Mr. Spray's arrival
13 and Mr. Phillips' departure?

14 A Mr. Spray was -- was not supportive of overrides. I do
15 believe there was one he participated in, but for the most part, 16 not very supportive of our internal control policies and
17 procedures.

18 Q And Ms. Rowling, do you see yourself as a vital
19 contributor to tone at the top?

20 A Absolutely.

21 Q What's your policy with respect to internal overrides
22 or internal policies?

23 A There are no internal overrides.

24 Q Let's talk a little bit about Mr. Frazer.

25 He is the secretary an general counsel of the NRA;

KM

3470

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 right?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Again, how, if at all, would you say he contributes to 4 tone at the top and the NRA's efforts to comply with laws,
5 regulations and policies?

6 A Mr. Frazer is an integral part of that process. We 7 collaborate all the time regarding controls and compliance, and 8 he faces any issue head on and always wants to do the right
9 thing.

10 Q When Mr. Powell left the organization or was asked to 11 leave the organization, how, if at all, did the control
12 environment and tone at the top change?

13 A It improved the tone at the top.

14 Mr. Powell had some control violations himself. So him
15 leaving really emphasized that desire for the proper tone at the 16 top.

17 Q How did Mr. Mensinger's arrival as director of 18 compliance effect the NRA's tone at the top?

19 A Well, that further enhanced that tone at the top as 20 a -- letting the organization and all the employees know the 21 importance of compliance effort.

22 Q What, if any, role does the Audit Committee of the 23 NRA's Board play in setting appropriate tone at the top?

24 A They are -- they are a compliance partner really with 25 myself and other members of the staff in that they are -- their

3471

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 efforts with regards to whistle blowing and reviewing
2 related-party transactions as well as -- they actually oversee
3 and hire the external auditors. And yeah, they are just a
4 complete partner with the -- with the organization.

5 Q Is it fair to say that there might be other things that 6 they do? Those are just some of the ones that come to mind at 7 the moment?

8 A Yes.

9 Q If you would be so kind as to please turn to the first
10 tab in your binder.

11 MS. EISENBERG: Mr. Stein, could you please advise
12 me of the next available DX-1. Actually, I have it.

13 Q I am showing the witness and the Court but not the jury
14 for the moment what's been marked as DX 1-0800 for 15 identification.

16 Do you have it in front of you?

17 A I have it on my binder.

18 Q Tab one. Okay. I'll wait.

19 While Mr. Stein is pulling it up, and thank you so much
20 for doing that, can you tell us in general terms whether or not 21 the NRA has a risk assessment?

22 A Yes, the NRA has a risk assessment.

23 Q What is the purpose of a risk assessment in the context
24 of the COSO Framework?

25 A The risk assessment gives the organization an

KM

3472

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 opportunity to identify risk, prioritize resources associated
2 with those risks. It also really makes you sit down and in 3 thinking of risk, map those controls to insure that your risks
4 are minimized.

5 Q Is it the organization's practice to have a risk
6 assessment?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did you recently participate in an update to the risk
9 assessment?

10 A I did. Our original risk assessment focused from a 11 loss exposure and insurance analysis perspective and that had 12 already been provided to our auditors, but I enhanced this to 13 focus in areas of financial and governance in more detail.

14 Q When did you do that?

15 A 2023.

16 Q Who, if anyone, else participated in the preparation of 17 the most recent risk assessment?

18 A Mr. Frazer did.

19 MS. EISENBERG: Mr. Stein, do we have the exhibit?

20 Your Honor, at this time I move to admit in 21 evidence this exhibit.

22 THE COURT: Is this the same document?

23 I mean, it's a different tab. Just make sure I
24 have the right one.

25 Can you do the first tab?

KM

3473

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 MS. EISENBERG: And also the middle one. That's
2 called "Risk Assessment."

3 THE COURT: Oh, yeah. It just doesn't look like
4 the one that's in the book. I can't figure out which page
5 is what, but okay.

6 Are there there any objections?

7 MR. THOMPSON: Yes, your Honor. Relevance, hearsay
8 and then also attempts to offer a lay expert opinion
9 particularly as to the risk assessment tab.

10 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, this is highly relevant
11 to the defense.

12 The NYAG defense of the case is the NRA has done
13 nothing to insure compliance.

14 THE COURT: Hang on. This is the actual document
15 used in the business now; is that right?

16 MS. EISENBERG: And that's the one that Ms. Rowling
17 prepared with input from Mr. Frazer.

18 THE COURT: And this is prepared and kept in the 19 ordinary course of business?

20 THE WITNESS: Yes.

21 THE COURT: It's admitted.

22 MR. THOMPSON: Just to note for the record that we 23 also object as to have been a late-produced document.

24 THE COURT: Understood. Overruled.

25 It was prepared in 2023; right.

KM

3474

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor, and we offered an
2 opportunity for the further deposition.

3 THE COURT: Fine.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Let's talk a little bit about some
5 of the NRA's control activities, and we can take the exhibit
6 down, Mr. Stein. Thank you.

7 What is C-Track.

8 A C-Track is a program that we -- we have used or we use
9 to prepare our 990 which is our information return for the IRS.

10 It is kind of -- you can think of it like a Turbo Tax
11 for non-profits. It helps you to answer the questions. It then 12 prompts you with what schedules you also need to fill out
13 associated with those.

14 As you've seen before this 990 is 100 pages long.
15 Having that kind of checks and balances provides a good control.

16 Q What do you mean by checks and balances?

17 A Where the form itself will give you an error if you
18 have not filled out based on your answers in certain areas.

19 Q Does the NRA use C-Track?

20 A Yes, we do.

21 Q Has it used C-Track for several years now?

22 A Yes. Since 2019.

23 Q And to the extent you view it as part of the NRA's
24 control activities, how so?

25 A Well, it provides that good checks and balances. It's

KM

3475

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 part of our process of creating the -- the 990 as well as it --
2 it -- it's really part of our control environment or control
3 processes.

4 Q Let's talk about the accounts payable software that's
5 in use at the NRA.

6 What is PN3 for Payables?

7 A PN3 is a software where all of our invoices are input
8 electronically into the software. They are routed for 9 approvals.

10 Embedded within the software are control check points.
11 So if an invoice is -- and those control check points tie
12 directly to our policies.

13 So if an invoice is over $50,000, it requires two 14 signatures of certain individuals. If I am the only person that 15 approves it, it will not route. It will tell me there is an 16 error. It has to go to the next person, and I have to select 17 that person -- only certain individuals then are able -- I'm 18 only able to select certain individuals as well in that approval
19 process.

20 Q Do you consider the NRA's choice to use the software as 21 part and parcel of its control activities under the COSO
22 Framework?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Let's talk a little bit about management reporting.

25 What reports do managers at the NRA receive with regard

3476

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 to money going in and out within their department?

2 A So monthly managers will receive electronically
3 accounting reports of all their activities within their
4 divisions, but the reports also provide -- drill down capability
5 into the details. So not only do you see information on summary
6 level, you see the information at the invoice level, for 7 example, of an expense so that they can adequately track and 8 manage their budgets.

9 Q Has the NRA recently amended any of its internal
10 policies?

11 A Yes. The travel policy has been amended. The 12 procedures that have been amended to travel procedures were 13 added. We have added purchasing procedures.

14 Basically, the procedure -- the policy is part of what 15 the Board implements. Procedures help define for the users more
16 detailed explanation to enhance those policies.

17 Q I'd like to talk to you about enforcement of policies
18 at the NRA.

19 If a late expense report is submitted, what happens?

20 A If an expense report is submitted after 60 days, it
21 will be denied and not paid.

22 Q What if someone submits an expense report but it is 23 missing support to show the business purpose of the expense or 24 to provide information about the nature of the expense?

25 A Those will be rejected, sent back to the individual who

KM

3477

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 submitted the expense report, and they either provide additional 2 information we have requested or the -- or they have to remove
3 the expense -- that portion from the expense report.

4 Q What is the NRA's procedure for vendor contracts as it
5 relates to the NRA's purchasing policy?

6 A Vendor contracts must comply with the policy at this
7 point. The policies require certain signatures if the 8 contract's over a certain amount.

9 So the whole goal is to insure that the vendor
10 contracts follow the policy.

11 Q Does the NRA expect its vendors to comply with the 12 NRA's requirement with regard to those matters as well?

13 A Yes.

14 Q What would happen to a vendor if it didn't comply?

15 A If they -- if they already had a contract and were 16 refusing to submit support for an invoice that we have asked
17 for, we would terminate the contract.

18 Q And in fact, that's happened in the past; would that be 19 fair?

20 A Yes.

21 Q What is the NRA's policy and procedure with regard to 22 related-party transactions and other conflicts of interest?

23 A So related-party transactions are -- you know, you want
24 to identify them. If they exist, they would go before the Audit
25 Committee, would need proper disclosure into financial statement

KM

3478

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 or otherwise, if it's necessary. So the whole idea is to
2 identify and evaluate and disclose.

3 Q What about the whistleblower policy?

4 Has the NRA's policy and procedure with respect to 5 ensuring that whistleblower protections are widely disseminated
6 and known by its staff employees, officers and directors?

7 A Our whistle blowing policy is on our NRA website. It's 8 on our intranet. It's on the timekeeping system. It's a log-in 9 type system, and it is readily available to anyone to view.

10 Q What is the NRA's policy and procedure with regard for 11 identifying and recognizing potential private inurement?

12 A Obviously, private inurement, you would try to 13 basically stop from happening upfront. So you would identify it
14 in a process of accounts payable process, whatever. You would 15 identify it upfront, not pay it. If it's identified after the 16 fact, you are going to evaluate it and seek reimbursement and 17 disclose, if necessary.

18 Q To the extent the NRA uses a corporate credit card, how 19 would you compare the extent of such use today versus let's say
20 in 2018?

21 A So the use today is for very limited use.

22 So our travel agency has a card where I log into a
23 system. If I'm going to book my flight, it automatically
24 charges that card.

25 We have a card for general counsel's office when they

KM

1 have to submit charitable filings, their fees. These type of
2 things, you have to pay on-line, so there is a card for that.
3 And there is a card for our IT Department. Same types of 4 things.

5 They have areas where you can only pay by credit card.
6 And then one other area that we have a card in is if we are 7 going to have an event and we're room blocking hotel space like
8 at our annual meeting, credit cards are used to secure that room
9 block.

10 In the past, not every employee, but a lot -- over 100
11 employees had cards. It was a much bigger, bigger piece, and we 12 just have eliminated that use.

1 Q That is no longer the case?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Let's talk a little bit about information, which is 4 part of the COSO cube. Can you please remind us how information
5 sharing is important in that context?

6 A Sure. I mean, one of the biggest things you want to 7 make sure you do is share these policies and procedures with the 8 staff so they know, and not just staff but board members and 9 part of that effort is the compliance training.

10 Staff also knows our compliance efforts, are policies
11 are in the Employee Handbook; but these compliance trainings
12 actually kind of reinforce all of the compliance efforts.

13 Q Let's take a look at Tab 27, which is PX 2567, which is 14 already in evidence. Do you recognize this exhibit,
15 Ms. Rowling?

16 A Yes.

17 Q What is it?

18 A This is the compliance seminar front page of the deck
19 that was provided at the seminar in 2018.

20 Q And to what degree, if any, do you find this deck to be 21 informative?

22 A They're very informative. They provide the users or 23 attendees at these events with not only the policies, but 24 examples and kind of a Q and A of what do you think and to be 25 able to provide kind of a thought provoking interactive

BP

1 discussion and really sets the framework for -- for all of the 2 compliance efforts.

3 Q Does the NRA make efforts to track attendance at these 4 seminars?

5 A Yes.

6 Q You could please turn to Tab 26, which is marked for 7 identification as DX1-0243.

8 What is this exhibit?

9 A That is a sign-in sheet for the compliance training on 10 July of 2018.

11 Q Does your name appear on the sign-in sheet?

12 A Yes, it does.

10 management. That designation was removed and currently all
11 employees are required to attend.

12 Q What if you work at the Whittington Center in New
13 Mexico, are you supposed to travel to the headquarters to be a
14 part of the training or do they make arrangements to train folks
15 who are not in Virginia?

16 A They make arrangements in different ways. I
17 know arrangements have been made for remote sessions as well as 18 individuals traveling to actually give the seminar.

19 Q Who was travelled in order to give these seminars?

20 A Mr. Frazer traveled to give the seminar to our field
21 staff and Mr. Mensinger traveled to Whittington Center.

22 Q And are these -- I'm sorry. Is the current version of 23 the slide deck available online to the NRA's employees?

24 A Yes, it is.

25 Q Let's take a look at Tab 37. This has already been

BP

3485

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 admitted in evidence as DX1-0547 remind us, please, what this
2 exhibit is?

3 A This is the compliance training for the board of 4 directors given September 2023.

5 Q Please describe a little about the training that you
6 attended for the board.

7 A Mr. Frazer gave this training to the board, and he 8 basically goes over governance requirements and the requirements
9 that are basically impact the board, themselves.

10 Q Understood. Moving on, let's take a look at Tabs 39
11 and 40, which are two images not yet in evidence, identified as 12 DX1-1068 and DX1-1069.

13 What are they?

14 A These are photographs taken at a compliance event
15 during compliance week in 2023.

16 Q Do you consider that event to be part of the 17 informational effort under the COSO framework?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Please describe that event.

20 A That event was held as an introduction and a -- an 21 introduction of our new managing director of compliance, as well
22 as to reinforce our compliance efforts within the organization.

23 Q Did you attend this event?

24 A I did.

25 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA

BP

3486

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 moves to admit DX1-1068 as well as 1069 in evidence.

2 THE COURT: I thought -- wait, which tabs were you
3 looking at?

4 MS. EISENBERG: 39 and 40, 1068 and 1069.

5 THE COURT: Okay, it is admitted.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Defendants' Exhibits
7 DX1-1068 and DX1-1069 was admitted and received into
8 evidence.)

9 Q Ms. Rowling, do you recognize some of the individuals
10 depicted in these pictures?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Whom do you recognize?

13 A Mr. LaPierre in the DX1-1068 and I don't know if I can 14 see him in 69; but 1068 he's holding the microphone. Bob
15 Mensinger is also standing in the front.

16 Q Let's take a look at Tab 38 for identification,
17 DX1-1067. What is it?

18 A These are the slides that were presented at that 19 compliance week seminar.

20 Q And, again, you attended the seminar and saw these 21 slides being used during that event?

22 A Yes.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, move in evidence
24 DX1-1067.

25 MR. THOMPSON: No objection.

BP

3487

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Admitted.

2 (Whereupon, at this time Defendants' Exhibit
3 DX1-1067 was admitted and received into evidence.)

4 Q Let's take a look at Tab 41 for identification,
5 DX1-1070. What is it?

6 A This is a picture of a banner that has -- was created
7 for compliance week and just shows a commitment to integrity
8 that is signed by employees.

9 Q And did you observe this banner being used and signed
10 during that event?

11 A Yes, I did.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA
13 moves to admit DX1-1070 in evidence.

14 MR. THOMPSON: No objection.

15 THE COURT: It is admitted.

16 (Whereupon, at this time Defendants' Exhibit
17 DX1-1070 was admitted and received into evidence.)

18 MS. EISENBERG: Let's display it for the jury.

19 (Displayed)

20 Q I'd like to switch gears a little bit and talk about 21 monitoring activities. Did you say monitoring activities are 22 sort of the COSO framework in some way?

23 A Yes.

24 Q How in your view are monitoring activities important in 25 terms of maintaining compliance?

BP

3488

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Monitoring activities provide the efforts of an
2 independent kind of review of activities. Think of the external
3 audit as a prime example of monitoring activity.

4 Q Why do you need monitoring activity if you have
5 thousands of procedures in place that say all the right things?

6 A Because if you identify a risk, even if you have
7 controls in place, you want to make sure and test those controls
8 to -- to give you further confidence that everything that 9 you're doing is right, and those monitoring controls provide
10 that.

11 Q Understood. And does the NRA hire external auditors?

12 A Yes.

13 Q What is the main thing that the external auditors is 14 hired to do?

15 A Well, they audit the financial statements.

16 Q And what does it mean to audit the financial 17 statements?

18 A They -- they perform tests of our internal controls and 19 then they give an opinion of whether the financial statements
20 present fairly the -- in all material respects the financial 21 position of the organization.

22 Q Did Aronson perform special procedures in the last few 23 years?

24 A Yes, they did.

25 Q For what purpose as far as you understand?

BP

3489

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A They prepared special procedures relating to actually
2 the allegations from the New York AG. They wanted to ensure
3 themselves that the allegations that were presented in the past
4 were not still continuing.

5 Q You already testified about Bob Mensinger being the 6 compliance director. What about an internal auditor, does the 7 NRA have anyone who performs the function of internal audit?

8 A Yes. Mr. Mensinger has hired an internal auditor.

9 Q Let's talk about the segregation of duties. Is that a 10 concept that you've heard about?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Why is that important when you talk about compliance?

13 A In a monitoring aspect, especially it is important
14 given -- so there are processes of the organization that I'm a 15 part of, but I shouldn't be the one to test that process because 16 I'm a part of it.

17 So, the separation of duties gives you that comfort
18 that an independent source is still doing that monitoring or 19 that testing.

20 Q Understood. Switching gears a little bit again. If 21 you can please turn to Tab 12, which is DX1-0837 for 22 identification.

23 What is it?

24 A This is a memo that I wrote regarding my review of 25 excess benefit transactions, potential excess benefit

BP

3490

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 transactions relating to Mr. LaPierre.

2 Q Who performed the review that's described in this 3 memo?

4 A I did.

5 Q And if you can also flip to Tabs 13 through 17, and
6 tell us what they are. For identification these are DX1-0835,
7 0834, 0838, 0839, and 0836.

8 Would you mind telling us what those tabs are, 13
9 through 17?

10 A They are attachments to the memo that I wrote that 11 detail out the testing procedures that I took.

12 Q To the extent the memo reaches certain conclusions, who 13 is it that reached these conclusions?

14 A I did.

15 Q And who drafted this memo?

16 A I did.

17 Q And did anyone review it before it was finalized?

18 A Yes, I reviewed it with you.

19 Q Did you and I review it for clarity?

20 A Yes, we reviewed this for clarity. There was no
21 changes to the conclusions. Those were all -- those were all 22 mine.

23 Q And is it your practice as the CFO and treasurer of the 24 organization to prepare such analyses and to memorialize them?

25 MR. THOMPSON: Leading, your Honor.

3491

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Overruled.

2 Q You said yes?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And is it also the practice of the organization as a
5 whole to prepare and memorialize such analyses when the need for 6 them arises?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Please give us some examples of similar analyses that 9 you have done?

10 A So, I've done analyses like this relating to a review
11 of expense reports that were submitted late by Mr. LaPierre, Mr.
12 Coy; and I did that review and memorialized it in the same
13 format.

14 I reviewed and memorialized Josh Powell's expenses in 15 the same format.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Understood. Your Honor, at this 17 point the NRA moves into evidence DX1-0837 as well as all
18 the attachments.

19 MR. THOMPSON: Renewing our business records
20 argument, your Honor. She reviewed this with counsel, which 21 goes to the litigation of this document and preserving our 22 other objections.

23 THE COURT: Well, we discussed this. I'm going to 24 admit it.

25 I'm just going to advise the jury that this is one

BP

3492

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 of knows out-of-court statements that has a bit of a story
2 to how can you use it.

3 The analysis is Ms. Rowling's and it is being 4 admitted to show the process that she went through, but 5 there are a number of statements in here that reflect
6 conversations with others where it has recitations of facts
7 based upon what she was -- who she was talking to.

8 Those are all in here just for the purpose of her
9 describing her process, but that is not evidence that you
10 can use for the truths of the matter asserted -- to use that 11 phrase again. This is hearsay. This is things that were 12 told to Ms. Rowling and that she then transcribed.

13 So, you should not use it for the proof of the 14 underlying facts stated by other people in this memo. The 15 main source of your evidence will be Ms. Rowling's personal 16 testimony about this process, and this document will just be 17 evidence that the process took place and contemporaneous
18 evidence of her notes, but only to that extent.

19 So, any proof of the underlying facts here will 20 have to come through other evidence. Okay.

21 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

22 Let's display DX1-0837 for the jury. And for the 23 record, the attachments that I understand your Honor to have 24 admitted are DX1-0835, 0834, 0838, 0839 and 0836.

25 THE COURT: Yeah, I didn't specifically make my

BP

3493

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 comments to the attachments and we discussed those as well.
2 I'm admitting those.

3 Those, also, have a number of things that come from 4 third parties or other documents that -- that these are 5 documents she either looked at or used. They are not
6 admitted for the truth of the matters asserted in them.
7 This is really just to show the process. Okay.

8 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

9 Q Ms. Rowling, directing your attention to the first page
10 of DX1-0837 which is the top 12 of your binder. Specifically
11 the paragraph that starts with the words "The NRA has."

12 Do you have that in front of you?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And if can you please sort of help us understand what
15 the purpose of your writing this paragraph was and what you
16 intended to communicate by these words and sentences?

17 A It really just -- you know, we identified excess
18 benefits or potential excess benefits that were engaged in 2019
19 or prior years. Those, those were reported on the IRS Form 990
20 for 2019 through 2022, and another transaction which was going
21 to be -- is going to be recorded on a 2023 990.

22 They relate to Mr. LaPierre and he -- he has reported
23 those and then reimbursed those transactions.

24 Q Thank you. Directing your attention to the sentence
25 that starts with the word "To ensure." Do you see that?

BP

3494

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Yes.

2 Q What does it say? Would you please read that for us.

3 A "To ensure the NRA has properly reported and be 4 reimbursed for those transactions. I have performed a review of 5 these transactions."

6 Q And does the sentence fairly reflect the purpose for 7 which you conducted this review?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Let's take a look at the second to third page of this
10 exhibit under the heading that's numbered "2".

11 Directing your attention to the sentence next to number
12 2 where it states, "My review of these."

13 Do you see that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And fair to say that that sentence states that your 16 review of these excess benefit transactions and potential excess
17 benefit transactions included the following list?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And did you go on to list the specific types of 20 categories that you reviewed?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Please tell us what they are by reference to pages 2
23 and 3 of this exhibit.

24 A Airfare, charter airfare, gifts, cosmetics, family
25 lodging, personal lodging and cellphone-related expenses, black

BP

3495

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 car service, wardrobe and leased vehicles was mentioned although
2 no additional testing was done there.

3 Q Does your memo reflect your findings?

4 A Yes, it does.

5 Q Again, who if anyone other than yourself participated
6 in the formulation of your findings?

7 A No one.

8 Q What were your findings? If you can please tell us by 9 reference to the memo.

10 A I found that there were no errors, inconsistencies
11 within the testing of charter travel.

12 I did find two additional gifts within his expense
13 reports that were not reported. They were of minimal dollar
14 amount and given there were -- was an overpayment relating to 15 personal and black car usage, he's actually was still -- has an 16 overpaid position.

17 I did not note any errors relating to the calculations
18 for cosmetics or family lodging.

19 I did find an error in the wardrobe calculation where 20 the wrong applicable federal rate was used. Because of the 21 length of time these transactions occurred, the rate should have 22 been a long-term rate, and so a recalculation was done and 23 Mr. LaPierre provided an additional payment.

24 Q And by "the rate," are you referring to the interest
25 rate?

BP

3496

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A The interest rate that was charged, yes.

2 Q Was the interest rate calculation compounded?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And what does that mean?

5 A Compounding means you pay interest on interest. So,
6 when it happens over multiple years, you're going to pay your
7 principal plus your interest and then you're going to continue
8 to pay interest on that, on the total as everyday occurs.

9 Q How was it done here? Was it compounded?

10 A It was compounded.

11 Q I'm sorry, I think you already testified to that.

12 Let's go back to section 2, and I'd like to draw your 13 attention to references within section 2 to various attachments;
14 for example, at the end of subparagraph A and B and so on.

15 Fair to say that these references are to the 16 attachments that are included in your binders as Tabs 13 through 17 17?

18 A Yes.

19 Q We won't look at all of them, but let's take a look at 20 Attachment A, which is in evidence and as DX1-0835, and it
21 appears in Tab 13 of your binder.

22 Let's take a look at the first page. What does it say
23 in the top-right corner?

24 A Attachment A.

25 Q Please identify for us the handwritten notes on this

BP

3497

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 page?

2 A So, the handwritten notes reference that I was testing
3 the -- what was reported on the 2019 990 within this group of 4 testing.

5 The checkmark means I tied out what was on the Excel
6 spreadsheet to an underlying invoice, and that tie-out includes 7 verifying the dates, the amounts and who was actually on the 8 flights.

9 The other checkmark with the slash through it means
10 that I further tied out the trip, itself, to expenses that 11 Mr. LaPierre had submitted and that further gave me evidence of 12 the business purpose. Because the expense report also had the 13 business purpose on there and it validated that the trip was 14 actually taken.

15 The T represents a trace to or matching to the IRS
16 website for the federal -- for the applicable federal rate.
17 That's an interest rate, and the R represents that I
18 recalculated that interest calculation and for the final
19 payment.

20 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you. Excuse me for just one
21 moment.

22 (Brief pause)

23 Q Would you be so kind as to please tell us the or kind
24 of walk us through the rest of this exhibit, which is Attachment
25 A, DX1-0835. What are some of the subsequent pages that appear

BP

3498

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 as part of that attachment?

2 A The next pages are representative of what was disclosed
3 in the 990. Specifically, the page following the one on the 4 screen references Mr. LaPierre's excess benefit transactions.

5 Q And there's a checkmark that appears in the third page
6 on the left side of the page at the top. Who made that 7 checkmark?

8 A I did.

9 Q And what was that in reference to?

10 A That that was what I was testing in the next several 11 pages.

12 Q And would you mind reading for us the language that
13 appears in all caps starting with the words "From 2015" up
14 through the penultimate sentence.

15 A "From 2015 to 2019, the NRA estimates it paid on behalf
16 of Mr. LaPierre directly or indirectly travel expenses for 17 Mr. LaPierre in the aggregate amount of 299,000 and some change.
18 The NRA has determined to treat the payments as automatic excess
19 benefits under treasury regulations as described here.
20 Mr. LaPierre has repaid this excess benefit to the National
21 Rifle Association plus interest, and, therefore, the excess
22 benefit has been corrected."

23 Q And how does this passage relate to the memo that you
24 prepared? What's the relationship between the payments that are 25 described that you just read and the memo and the analysis that

BP

3499

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 you prepared?

2 A My analysis was of those, the calculations that were
3 presented in that.

4 Q And moving on to the next page. Can you please tell us
5 what that appears to be?

6 MS. EISENBERG: Let's go to page 4 and 5 and 7 display them in landscape format, if that's possible.

8 (Displayed)

9 Q What appears on page 4, Ms. Rowling?

10 A These are the transactions that were identified by
11 Mr. LaPierre.

12 Q Who provided you with this spreadsheet?

13 A Mr. LaPierre did.

14 Q It appears there are check marks on the left margin of 15 the page. Do you see those?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Who made them?

18 A I did.

19 Q And what do they denote?

20 A They denote that I -- I tied out the underlying 21 information except for the business purpose to an actual 22 invoice.

23 Q Let's take a look at page 5. Here, we see two types of 24 checkmarks on the left side. Can you please tell us what that 25 means?

BP

3500

S. Rowling - by Defendants - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Sure. The regular checkmark, once again, is the 2 tie-out to the actual invoice, the matching to that invoice.

3 The checkmark with the slash is the tie-out to an
4 actual expense report justifying the trip.

5 Q Let's take a look at the next page, which is page 7 and 6 focus on the right side of the page.

7 I see a reference or I see a capital T and capital R in 8 handwritten note. Who made those?

9 A I did.

10 THE COURT: Do you mean page 7 or page 6? I think 11 they have page 6 up.

12 MS. EISENBERG: I'm sorry, your Honor, I couldn't
13 hear you.

14 THE COURT: They have page 6 up on the screen. Do
15 you mean page 6 or 7?

16 Now 7 is on the screen.

17 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much.

18 Q Directing your attention to the right side of the page,
19 I see a capital T and capital R in blue ink.

20 Do you see those?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Was that you who wrote that?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What does the T mean?

25 A The T means that I tied that interest rate, the

BP

3501

1 1.93 percent to the IRS website.

2 Q And what does the R mean?

3 A That I recalculated the interest calculation.

4 Q And to the extent there are other check marks of the 5 type that you just discussed, are the Ts and Rs that appear on 6 this exhibit, do they all denote effectively what you just 7 described?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Let's take a look at exhibit -- I'm sorry. Let's take 10 a look at Tab 18, which is DX1-0855, for identification.

11 Please tell us what it is?

12 A This is a memo that I wrote describing the review
13 process of Mr. Schropp's expense report submitted in relation to 14 expenses that were paid through Ackerman McQueen.

15 Q When were they paid?

16 A 2016 to 2018.

17 Q Has there -- has this practice continued past 2018?

18 A No, it has not.

19 Q What is Tab 19, which is DX1-0856 for identification?

20 A These are attachments relating to that memo.

1 Q And the analysis that you performed, was it yourself
2 who performed it? Were you assisted by others?

3 A I performed it myself.

4 Q And who drafted the memo that appears in Tab 18?

5 A I drafted the memo.

6 Q And is it your practice to perform such analyses when
7 the need arises and to memorialize them similar to how you did
8 that in DX 1-0855 through DX 1-0856?

9 A Yes.

10 MS. EISENBERG: The NRA moves to offer -- to admit
11 in evidence 1-0855 and the attachments which are 0856.

12 MR. THOMPSON: Preserving our objection.

13 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to admit this with the 14 same instruction. This memorialized her analysis, and you
15 will hear her testimony.

16 The underlying facts that are reported in here are 17 not -- these are out-of-court statements, so they are not 18 admissible for the truth of the matters asserted including
19 things that she heard from Mr. Schropp and in reports here.

20 So this again, is part to show the process and to 21 show her contemporaneous notes of it, but not for the truth
22 of the matter. So it's same as the last one.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

24 Q Let's display to the jury DX 1855 which is the memo
25 itself.

KM

1 Can you please tell us by reference to the memo what
2 your findings were with regard to your review?

3 A My findings?

4 Q Yes. And I guess for that purpose, it may be helpful
5 to go to the second page.

6 A I found that Mr. Schropp had traveled business and 7 first class flights without proper approvals that were required
8 under our policies.

9 There were categories of missing receipts. There were 10 also business -- lacking in business purpose and occasion as 11 well as an expense submitted for a meal that was seemed 12 excessive.

13 Q Okay. And in the middle of the page where it states,
14 "My Findings," do you see that sentence?

15 A Yes.

16 Q There is a reference to a report to the Audit Committee
17 on November 30, 2023.

18 Do you see that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q What does that refer to?

21 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Hearsay. And this was 22 not provided any discovery on this.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, this document was 24 produced through the NYAG on December 5, 2023. After which 25 they were given the opportunity to depose the witness.

KM

3504

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Overruled. The objection to the 2 question -- we will see how far you go into the next thing.

3 Q To the extent the sentence refers to a report to the 4 Audit Committee on November 30, 2023, what is that reference in 5 reference to?

6 A That reference, my -- that I presented these findings
7 to the Audit Committee.

8 Q And how would you characterize the status of your 9 review with regard to Mr. Schropp's use of the Amex back in '16,
10 '17 and '18?

11 A That we are currently waiting on payment from Mr.
12 Schropp.

13 He is aware of the -- that the Audit Committee found
14 that he needed to reimburse and that we performed the 15 calculations, and he is aware of the amount.

16 Q And just to be clear, is he being asked to repay the 17 entirety of the expenses that he incurred using that method,
18 only some or something else?

19 A For business and first class flights, he doesn't have to 20 pay back the whole flight. He is paying back a difference. He 21 wouldn't pay back the coach flight portion, so there are 22 calculations that had to be done. And then he would reimburse
23 plus interest.

24 Q What, if any, information did Mr. Schropp provide to 25 you in connection with the review that you conducted?

KM

3505

Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A He provided -- he basically created expense reports.
2 He took -- he took every Amex statement and every transaction on 3 the Amex statement, was then put into an expense report and 4 attached receipts and identified business purpose.

5 Q Let's take a look at Page 1 of the DX 1-0855 which is
6 the exhibit right in front of you. There is a three part list
7 at the top of the page preceded by the words, "He explained his 8 process of the creation of the expense reports as follows."

9 Do you see that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And do these three points effectively refer to what you
12 just described?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And do they fairly reflect your understanding as to 15 what he had done in connection with your review of these 16 expenses?

17 THE COURT: What he told you he had done, you mean?
18 Is that the question? Of what he told her he had done?

19 MS. EISENBERG: Her understanding; right. Do those 20 words fairly reflect her understanding?

21 THE COURT: Okay. You can answer.

22 A Yes.

23 Q Let's take a look at the attachments which appear which
24 have been admitted as DX 1-0856. I believe they are Attachments
25 A through D. If you can please walk us through each and briefly

KM

1 describe what it is.

2 A So Attachment A was taking every -- every line item
3 from the Amex statement, putting it into Excel to come up with a
4 total so that then it could be compared to Attachment B which 5 was a list of every expense report line item that he had 6 submitted and to make sure that those two actually agreed so
7 that he had identified every single transaction.

8 Q Thank you. And if we proceed further to Page 11 of 9 this exhibit, that's the beginning of Attachment B.

10 Please tell us about attachment B, Ms. Rowling.

11 A So Attachment B was each line item from the expense
12 reports. The Attachment A was the line items from the Amex
13 statement.

14 Q What about Attachment C which appears on Page 21?

15 A Attachment C is kind of my first review of his expense
16 reports. I had some questions. I met with him again. I needed
17 further explanation. I gave him the opportunity to do further
18 research and then come back with additional explanations.

19 Q Thank you. And what about Attachment D which appears
20 on the last page?

21 A Attachment D was the final findings presented to the
22 Audit Committee.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Okay. Let's talk a little bit about 24 Josh Powell. We can take this down.

25 THE COURT: Counsel, we are pretty much out of time

KM

1 for the day.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Certainly, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: I'm assuming you are not going to 4 finish the whole thing in the next two minutes.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, I still have a little bit.

6 THE COURT: Why don't we reconvene tomorrow morning
7 at 9:30. We will see you all then.

8 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

9 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
10 the courtroom.)

11 THE COURT: And just for the witness' benefit,
12 again, during the break overnight, you are still on the 13 stand and shouldn't discuss your testimony with anyone
14 including counsel.

15 You can escort the witness out.

16 Thank you. See you tomorrow.

17 Before you all go, just to -- you can have a seat.
18 Just real briefly before we go too far into the week, I just 19 wanted to check in on one thing about the allocation of time
20 among the defendants.

21 I can certainly see there are at least let's put 22 thematic differences in terms of what the defendants are 23 probing, and I want to make sure I have some comfort that
24 each of the individual defendants have enough time allocated
25 to them during this period of time to be able to put their

KM

1 defenses in.

2 So I don't need to jump in and micromanage this
3 unless there is a problem, but I just wanted to air it and 4 say that I need to make sure, and I'll use counsel as the 5 proxy to help me make sure that there is -- that the process
6 is being done in a way that's fair. So that, you know, you
7 don't get stuck at the end with no time for evidence -- that
8 affirmative evidence that you want to put in because, I
9 mean, you know, the NRA's -- I'm not suggesting they have 10 gone over time because they just started, but if I don't 11 raise this until the end of next week, it's too late.

12 So you know, you don't have to react now, but I do
13 want to hear sooner rather than later if you need any 14 managing to make sure that occurs because, you know, left on 15 their own, the NRA could take the entire time and that would 16 not be fair.

17 MR. FARBER: Understood, your Honor.

18 Speaking for Mr. Phillips, I think as of now, we 19 are fine. We will raise an issue if one arises.

20 THE COURT: Yeah. Just don't wait till the end
21 when I can't do anything about it.

22 MR. FARBER: No. Understood, your Honor, but I
23 think the way things are proceeding from our perspective, I
24 don't see an issue.

25 THE COURT: All right. If you're happy, I'm happy.

KM

3509

1 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, I would just say we have
2 spoken not with great precision, but my understanding is
3 that I should have enough time I think the last day to get 4 our case in.

5 THE COURT: I hope you don't wait till the last day
6 to figure that out.

7 MR. FLEMING: Well, we would don't have many days
8 left, so somebody has to have the last day.

9 THE COURT: Objects in the mirror are closer than 10 they appear.

11 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'm hopeful that there
12 will be enough time for Mr. LaPierre to put on his.

13 THE COURT: Well, the only point I'm making to you
14 is I need to hear about it in enough time that I can change
15 anything because the -- if the expected solution is, well,
16 we will just keep the jury the following week, that's not a
17 solution I'm willing to live with. So forewarned equals
18 forearmed.

19 Okay. All right. See you tomorrow.

20 (Whereupon, at this time the trial was continued
21 until February 7, 2024.)

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: I have a jury note. What's the Court
2 Exhibit number we're up to?

3 THE COURT REPORTER: IX.

4 THE COURT: So, we'll mark this as Court
5 Exhibit IX. It is from one of the jurors. I'll show it to 6 counsel.

7 "Dear, your Honor, I didn't have much time to view
8 some of the demonstrative slides and would like to know if I
9 would have access to them in the future during deliberations
10 if necessary. This would have direct impact on how I take 11 notes. Thank you."

12 MR. WERBNER: Which juror was that, your Honor?

13 THE COURT: Seven. So, my typical practice is 14 that if any demonstratives that were shown in court so that 15 they were able to see, it doesn't make a lot of sense to say
16 they can't see them in deliberations. It is not supposed to 17 be a memory test. That's my general view.

18 It is hard to see what's the prejudice around that 19 since they were allowed to see them. I would need counsel
20 to be careful about not including slides that are in their 21 deck, but were not shown.

22 Any other objections to that if they saw it in 23 court, whether if they want to have them when they ask for 24 documents, generally speaking, I have provided those?

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, Mr. LaPierre objects on

BP

3512

Proceedings

1 the ground that big numbers were put on these slides that
2 may have disproportionate impact in the jury room. They may 3 provide sort of a baseline for discussion in the event that
4 there's any finding of liability discussion of damages, I
5 think would be highly prejudicial to have the slides put 6 before the jury just because of the disproportional effect.

7 THE COURT: Well, I mean, they have been before the 8 jury. The question is whether the jury should be told,
9 well, we're going to flash things on the screen real quick
10 which are designed and only permitted if I consider them to 11 be helpful to the jury and then say, but you don't get to 12 see them again.

13 MR. CORRELL: Well, your Honor, some judges do
14 allow jurors to take notes, and there are arguments on 15 either side. I think that allowing them to take notes and 16 then take things that have been prepared by counsel into the 17 jury room is extremely problematic.

18 MR. FARBER: Judge, I join in that objection. I
19 think that's the difference between demonstratives and 20 exhibits that are admitted into evidence. The presentations
21 are, in essence, sort of mini summations. The same
22 reason there will be, I assume, if the State's likely going
23 to use presentations during their summation, they're not 24 going to take that and view in the jury room.

25 It is a summary of testimony, becomes a summary of

3513

Proceedings

1 testimony and I think it's inappropriate, and that's why the
2 evidentiary rules distinguish between demonstratives and
3 admitted evidence.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the NRA similarly
5 objects to Mr. Hines's demonstratives going back to the 6 jury.

7 THE COURT: Just those, but not yours?

8 MS. EISENBERG: Well, I think what he did was at 9 least in certain of his slides was provide total amounts
10 that the NRA spent on this type of expense or that type of 11 expense, which we submit is not even relevant.

12 THE COURT: Well, look, I'm taking in considering 13 these objections before I let them be shown to the jury, but 14 I understand. So, but just so -- I didn't mean it as a 15 joke. You just object to those demonstratives going to the 16 jury?

17 MS. EISENBERG: In terms of the ones that have been 18 shown to date, correct.

19 THE COURT: What does the AG think?

20 MS. CONNELL: Well, your Honor, we certainly object
21 to selective exclusion of disclosures for just Mr. Hines;
22 but this is an unusual circumstance where I think all
23 parties are in agreement. Demonstratives tend to not go
24 back with the jury. It is admitted exhibits.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

3514

Proceedings

1 MS. CONNELL: And I just want to flag one issue.
2 We have an expert coming up and we have a problem with at 3 least one of the sides, so...

4 THE COURT: So, for what it's worth, that has not
5 been my practice; but I don't think I'll do it over the 6 objection of literally everyone. If you don't want any 7 slides, demonstratives go back, I do think it is a little
8 peculiar; but if they're allowed to see it, then I guess
9 what they're asking essentially -- what this juror is asking
10 is leave them on for a longer time so they can take notes
11 about it.

12 The thing about notes -- I saw that objection early
13 on. I think asking jurors to sit for six weeks without 14 taking notes is a little unrealistic.

15 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I had objected to the 16 jurors seeing Mr. Hines's demonstratives. So, the fact that 17 they saw it doesn't give me any comfort in weighing in on 18 this issue of whether they should be able to have it in 19 their lap during deliberations.

20 THE COURT: Well, I won't make a final decision on 21 that; but I'll just tell the jury that, you know, for now
22 they should assume it will just be the admitted exhibits and 23 I'll make a decision about that at the end.

24 MR. FARBER: Could I just add one thing?

25 MS. CONNELL: I don't know who was up first. I

BP

3515

Proceedings

1 didn't catch who's up first.

2 THE COURT: I don't have a buzzer system, so...

3 MR. FARBER: I think the nature of the note, in 4 other words, that they wanted to take more time for their 5 note taking to view more slides, they should not be taking
6 notes of what's in the slide. They should be taking notes
7 of testimony coming from the witness and that should be the 8 focus. That's our view.

9 THE COURT: Look, both sides are using slides for 10 some reason, right? And the test is that it's helpful to 11 the factfinder. So, it is helpful, except you don't want
12 them to see them or remember, right? That doesn't make any 13 sense to me. I mean, so, presumably -- I'm a little puzzled
14 by that.

15 I mean, I recognize there are some that you
16 don't -- that you objected to and you win some and you lose
17 some; but if it is helpful to the jury, how is it helpful
18 to go by at a hundred miles an hour and never to be seen
19 again?

20 MR. FARBER: Judge, we haven't offered any slides
21 and I don't think any of these are appropriate, but your 22 Honor has ruled on that.

23 THE COURT: Demonstratives are -- especially as 24 years go by, more and more part of trials, you know, people
25 use audiovisual. People use all sorts of things. It seems

BP

3516

Proceedings

1 a tad unrealistic to say, well, okay for them to see it;
2 it's just not okay for them to remember it.

3 MR. FARBER: I accept that in principle, your
4 Honor; but a lot of the demonstratives that are used here
5 are summation slides and that's really the problem.

6 THE COURT: Well, then, look, I mean, if you're 7 saying that you disagree with decisions about some of the 8 demonstratives, okay. But, look, everybody seems to be in 9 agreement.

10 MS. CONNELL: I was just going to add one thing.

11 Maybe the difference is sending them back to the 12 jury room versus if they ask to hear a certain testimony and 13 there's demonstratives that go along with it, having them
14 see it in the courtroom is nice way to split the baby;
15 right?

16 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'm opposed to any baby
17 splitting.

18 THE COURT: All right, as a general matter, I think
19 that's probably right.

20 All right, let's bring -- everybody else set?

21 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, just in terms of 22 timing, would the Court be interested in knowing what our 23 math is prior to --

24 THE COURT: Let's review that at the end of the 25 day, okay?

3517

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: Certainly.

2 THE COURT: All right, let's go get them.

3 THE COURT: Is the witness back?

4 Bonnie, can I get this marked as Court Exhibit IX.

5 (Whereupon, Court Exhibit IX was so marked.)

6 (Whereupon, at this time the witness,

7 SONYA ROWLING, having been previously duly sworn by the

8 Clerk of the Court, resumed the witness stand and testified

9 as follows:)

10 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

11 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
12 courtroom.)

13 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please have a
14 seat.

15 So, before we begin, I got one of your notes about 16 the demonstrative slides. The general rule is that only
17 admitted exhibits go into the jury room for deliberations,
18 not demonstratives. Demonstratives are designed for 19 in-court viewing.

20 I'll think about it as we go, but you should assume 21 that the only things you can call up into the jury room are 22 going to be the admitted exhibits. That's typically the way
23 it works, but I'll let you know.

24 So, if that affects your note taking, the notes
25 should be focused, candidly, on the admitted exhibits and

BP

3518

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 any notes about the testimony. The demonstratives are meant
2 really as a visual aid, not really a substantive thing. So
3 you should be taking your facts from the witness's mouth and
4 from the admitted exhibits. But, again, I'll let you know
5 as we go if I decide to permit some or all of them to go
6 back.

7 All right, so let's continue with Ms. Rowling.

8 Ms. Rowling, just to confirm, you're still under 9 oath.

10 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

11 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

12 BY MS. EISENBERG: (Continuing)

13 Q Good morning, Ms. Rowling.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Good morning, members of the jury.
15 Can you hear me okay? Thank you.

16 Q Ms. Rowling, yesterday we discussed review of certain
17 repayments made by Mr. LaPierre.

18 Do you recall our discussion?

19 A Yes.

20 Q What is the amount of total of repayments made by
21 Mr. LaPierre?

22 A Over a million dollars.

23 Q And I would also like to talk to you about a slightly
24 different topic.

25 Did there ever come a time when you and David Coy

BP

3519

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 reviewed certain expense reimbursement requests from
2 Mr. LaPierre?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And when, approximately, was that?

5 A Early 2021 when I first became treasurer.

6 Q How did that arise?

7 A Mr. LaPierre had a number of outstanding expense
8 reports that had never been processed. They related to previous 9 years and the expense reports have kind of been passed around;
10 and they landed in my office, and the Audit Committee requested
11 that Dave Coy and I review those for processing.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Can the jury hear the witness?

13 JUROR: Can be a little louder.

14 Q Who conducted the review of the reimbursement requests
15 that you just referenced?

16 A Mr. Coy and myself.

17 Q And at the time Mr. Coy was a member of the Audit
18 Committee?

19 A Yes, that's correct.

20 Q And also one of the officers, correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Please describe what you did.

23 A The first step was we -- we looked at all the expense
24 reports. There were a lot, but there were many from years that 25 were way too old and we immediately made the decision we weren't

3520

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 even going to look at those. We were going to say they were 2 submitted late, and we were not going to process them. That was
3 not part of an accountable plan with according to IRS rules that 4 we would -- we couldn't process those.

5 The next step we took was to look at the ones that were 6 submitted timely even though they hadn't been processed. The 7 timely submission is the key. It is not about when the payment
8 is actually made, and Mr. LaPierre had submitted timely certain 9 number of expense reports and so we reviewed those.

10 There were items that we decided should not be paid,
11 and then we ended up processing maybe about $12,000 worth of 12 expense reports of over 200,000 that were submitted.

13 Q So, what was the approximate amount of the ones that 14 were not paid?

15 A The over 200,000.

16 Q Could you please turn to Tab 4 in your binder.

17 A Yes, I'm there.

18 Q It is PX 2455 for identification. What is it?

19 A This is a memo from Mr. Coy and I to the Audit
20 Committee documenting the process we took in the review of those 21 expense reports.

22 Q Who prepared the memo?

23 A I prepared it originally, and Mr. Coy reviewed it.

24 Q When the need arises to conduct a review of this kind,
25 is it your practice to prepare a memo to file like this?

3521

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Yes.

2 Q And is it the organization's practice as well?

3 A Yes.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA
5 moves to admit PX 2455 in evidence.

6 MR. THOMPSON: No objection.

7 THE COURT: It is admitted.

8 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

9 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 2455 was
10 admitted and received into evidence.)

11 Q If we may publish it for the jury, please.

12 (Displayed)

13 Ms. Rowling, in the first paragraph there's a reference
14 to an accountable plan, and you just referred to that as well in 15 your testimony.

16 Can you please tell us a little bit about what an 17 accountable plan is?

18 A An accountable plan is -- it's kind of an IRS
19 definition whereby expenses must be submitted timely. There has 20 to be a business purpose, things of that nature that are 21 specific to what qualifies as an accountable plan.

22 Q Let's take a look at Tab 3 in your binder. It has been
23 marked for identification as DX1-1066.

24 What is it?

25 A This is the Purchasing Procedures Manual.

BP

3522

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Did you have a role in the preparation of this manual?

2 A Yes.

3 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA
4 moves to admit DX1-1066 in evidence.

5 MR. THOMPSON: Objection, as late produced, but no
6 other objection.

7 THE COURT: Is there a date on this as to -- just 8 curious.

9 Q Ms. Rowling, when approximately was this manual
10 adopted?

11 A This is a procedure, so it wouldn't have been adopted
12 per se; but it was -- it was prepared in 2023.

13 THE COURT: It is admitted.

14 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-1066 was
15 admitted and received into evidence.)

16 Q Let's publish it for the jury.

17 (Displayed)

18 If you would, please, Ms. Rowling, review the various 19 sections of the manual just to kind of help us understand what 20 types of issues it addresses.

21 A Section 1 just goes over the reporting and 22 authorization levels of various positions, what they're allowed
23 to approve, depending on their level within the organization.

24 Q Let's scroll to Section 2 on page 2, please.

25 (Displayed)

BP

3523

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A The next section just relates to basically as it says,
2 budgeting responsibilities. So, it has to be anytime anyone is 3 submitting any requests for a purchase, needs to be a part of 4 the budget. You have to have account numbers, that sort of
5 thing.

6 Q Let's scroll down to page 3, Section 3.

7 A Section 3 defines the competitive bidding process and 8 requests for proposals.

9 Q And what about Section 4 on page 3?

10 A These are other general procedures. So, how to get 11 office supplies and just more simple purchases.

12 Q And, finally, let's take a look at page 6, Roman number
13 V.

14 A That area discusses more specialized procedures.
15 Purchasing paper, for example, is more of a specialized
16 procedure due to most of our paper is purchased for magazines.
17 So that purchase of magazine paper is very different than a
18 normal ream of paper for your printer.

19 Q Thank you. We can set that down. Can you please take 20 a look at Tab 6 in your binder.

21 What is it?

22 A This is a memo -- an example of a memo that was sent to 23 our -- to our vendors explaining the -- the process of 24 submitting support for invoices, having proper -- sorry --
25 having proper description on the invoices as well as any backup

3524

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 that's needed, and it was a memo sent to kind of reinforce that
2 policy.

3 Q When was the memo sent?

4 A August of 2018.

5 Q Approximately how many members did the memo go out?

6 A Approximately 200.

7 Q Did any of the individuals who you supervised at the 8 time suggest that they were either on vacation of the vendors to 9 whom the memo was sent?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And who was that?

12 A Portia Padilla, she created the accounts payable list
13 to provide to who could do the mail merge with this memo.

14 Q By "mail merge," you're referring to Microsoft Word's
15 application that allows you to quickly generate multiple letters
16 that say the same thing, but are addressed to different
17 individuals; is that fair?

18 A That's fair.

19 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA
20 moves to admit DX1-0176 in evidence.

21 MR. THOMPSON: No objection.

22 THE COURT: It is admitted.

23 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0176 was
24 admitted and received into evidence.)

25 Q Ms. Rowling, I'd like you to please take a look at

3525

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Tab 7, which is DX1-0674 and Tab 9, which is DX1-0567. These
2 are exhibits marked for identification that are not in evidence
3 at this point.

4 What do you recognize them to be?

5 A These same letters to different vendors.

6 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor at this point the NRA
7 moves to admit DX1-0674 and DX1-0567 in evidence.

8 MR. THOMPSON: No objection.

9 THE COURT: They are both admitted.

10 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0674 and 11 DX1-0567 were admitted and received into evidence.)

12 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Do you want them on the screen or you
14 just want to have them in for later reference?

15 MS. EISENBERG: It is for later reference, your 16 Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

19 Q Ms. Rowling, did there come a time when you
20 participated in the review of certain expenses incurred by 21 Mr. Powell?

22 A Yes.

23 Q When approximately was that?

24 A Late 2019.

25 Q And how did that come about?

BP

3526

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Mr. Spray had noticed there was some unusual charges on
2 his Am Ex and requested that I go back and review all -- get
3 access to and then go back and review all the Am Ex charges that 4 had been made on his card.

5 Q And when you are saying "his card," you're referring to 6 Mr. Powell's card?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And did you, in fact, do what Mr. Spray suggested?

9 A Yes, I did.

10 Q Describe in general terms what you did to conduct that
11 review.

12 A I got access to all of the detailed Am Ex statements as 13 well as all of his expense reports and detailed out all of his 14 charges and then made note of what seemed inappropriate or 15 considered personal charges.

16 Q What types of inappropriate charges did you identify?

17 A First class and business class travel was the biggest 18 item. There were some black car service.

19 Q Did there come a time when the NRA engaged a forensic
20 company to conduct the same review?

21 A Yes.

22 Q What was the understanding about the purpose of that
23 engagement?

24 A Just a further independent review of the process I had 25 taken so that there would be no kind of argument over whether it

BP

3527

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 was -- it was a fair assessment.

2 Q After the forensic -- I'm sorry, what was the name of 3 the outside forensic company?

4 A FRA.

5 Q And after FRA completed their review, what conclusions
6 did they reach?

7 A They reached similar conclusions that I had had and 8 found.

9 Q And what happened there after?

10 A Mr. Powell was asked to reimburse the NRA for the 11 amounts that were considered personal, plus interest.

12 Q And what happened after that?

13 A He did not pay and he was subsequently let go from the
14 organization.

15 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much. I'll pass the 16 witness.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Any other direct testimony, or,
18 I'm sorry, where are we? Any other direct testimony?

19 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I may, I'm in next
20 order.

21 THE COURT: Okay, sure.

22 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

23 BY MR. CORRELL:

24 Q Good morning.

25 A Good morning.

BP

3528

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q Good morning, Ms. Rowling. I'm Kent Correll, and I
2 represent Wayne LaPierre.

3 Did you attend an Audit Committee meeting where Wayne
4 LaPierre appeared and made a presentation regarding repayment of 5 expenses?

6 MR. THOMPSON: Objection, leading.

7 THE COURT: It is not leading. Overruled.

8 A Yes, I did.

9 THE COURT: Partially leading, but it is not 10 completely leading.

11 Q Can you tell the Court and jury what you can recall
12 about Mr. LaPierre's presentation at that meeting?

13 MR. THOMPSON: Your Honor, hearsay, and we were not
14 provided any evidence of this meeting in discovery.

15 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it's relevant to show
16 notice to the NRA of our efforts to address issues raised by 17 the AG.

18 THE COURT: Well, it may be. But are you saying
19 that requests were made and documents about the meeting were 20 withheld?

21 MR. THOMPSON: This was included in the continuing
22 discovery, and we did not receive anything about a November
23 Audit Committee meeting.

24 THE COURT: It doesn't necessarily mean -- if there
25 are no documents about it, then there's nothing to produce.

3529

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 MR. THOMPSON: I guess we'd like to know whether
2 there were documents about it.

3 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, Mr. LaPierre has not
4 withheld anything.

5 THE COURT: That's not --

6 MS. EISENBERG: In addition, your Honor, the 7 process is that at the January meeting of the board, the 8 Audit Committee makes a report to the board which includes
9 minutes/report of the meeting that they had held previously;
10 and then the board book comes out after the January meeting.

11 So, the records that we had committed to produce to 12 the NYAG are board minutes, board books, board reports.

13 So, the timing simply was such that the meeting
14 about which Mr. Correll is asking occurred shortly before 15 the January meeting for which the board books are still 16 being finalized.

17 THE COURT: Well, but there's still documents that 18 exist independently. They just haven't been put in the 19 books yet?

20 MS. EISENBERG: That's right. I mean, what happens
21 is the NRA pulls together all of the reports of all of the 22 committees, and then that's what comes out and that's what 23 we had committed to produce.

24 THE COURT: Well, there's a -- especially if you're 25 going to rely on a meeting, the notion that you can sort of

BP

3530

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 just hold off on producing -- I'm not going to -- I'm going
2 to sustain the objection, rather than going on to give all
3 my reasons for it. So, it is sustained.

4 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, let me try it another
5 way.

6 Q Did you attend a meeting where Wayne LaPierre appeared
7 and made a presentation?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And after that meeting, did you come to any conclusions
10 as to whether Mr. LaPierre had made a fair representation with 11 respect to -- a fair representation with respect to his efforts
12 to identify and repay amounts that might be considered personal
13 expenses?

14 MR. THOMPSON: Leading, and same objection.

15 THE COURT: Well, this is hearsay at this point
16 now. I think --

17 MR. CORRELL: I'm asking for her conclusion at the 18 end of the meeting, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: You're asking her to vouch for a 20 hearsay statement that we're not providing?

21 MR. CORRELL: I'm just asking her if she attended a
22 meeting and afterwards formed any conclusions.

23 THE COURT: Sustained.

24 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, Ms. Rowling.

1 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

2 BY MR. FLEMING:

3 Q So, Ms. Rowling, you were asked a lot of questions
4 yesterday about what I'll sort of call current events; right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. I'm going to ask you some questions about 7 related-party transactions, but I want you to go way back in 8 time as best as you can.

9 Do you recall in 2016 after the adoption of the new 10 conflicts of interest and related-party transactions policy?

11 A Sure, yes.

12 Q Okay. I want to ask you questions about the Audit
13 Committee and work it did or didn't do with respect to 14 related-party transactions.

15 Do you recall or let me -- were you present for Audit
16 Committee meetings in 2016?

17 A Yes.

18 (Continued on next page)

20

22

25

BP

3532

1 Q Okay. Can you describe the process that the Audit
2 Committee went through to evaluate related-party transactions?

3 A Sure. They were presented usually by Mr. Frazer, kind
4 of what the potential conflict was in great detail, and then
5 they would make a decision whether to -- whether it was fair,
6 reasonable to the NRA, and that would then get documented.

7 Q Do they also evaluate whether it's in the best
8 interests of the NRA?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. Is there anything intrinsically wrong with
11 related-party transactions?

12 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Leading.

13 THE COURT: Overruled. You can answer.

14 A No.

15 Q Okay. So after Mr. Frazer would present these 16 related-party transactions, what would happen next? What did
17 the Audit Committee do when it was presented with these?

18 A Well, they would make a decision whether they were --
19 could -- could -- that would -- could incur those expenses --
20 the NRA could incur those expenses.

21 Q Now, I would like to ask you about documentation of 22 that meeting.

23 Can you take us through the process of how that meeting
24 was documented?

25 MR. THOMPSON: Foundation, your Honor.

KM

3533

1 MR. FLEMING: She is present.

2 THE COURT: Overruled: Again, based on your
3 personal observations of it.

4 A It was documented in the minutes.

5 Q Who would do the minutes?

6 A It would depend. I did some at some point and then
7 later it has changed, but I would prepare some in the beginning.

8 Q And I know I'm testing your memory because it was 9 eight years ago, but can you be as granular as possible about 10 sort of how it went from the evaluation of related-party
11 transactions to pen on paper and final documentation?

12 A I would be given -- its been a long time since I've 13 done minutes.

14 I was generally given kind of a review sheet from Mr.
15 Frazer that actually documented the transactions that were 16 discussed and then include that write-up in the minutes so that 17 it would -- could be accurately portrayed.

18 Q Okay. So if I understand correctly, you would take a
19 document that had been created by Mr. Frazer; is that right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And edit it based on what happened at the meeting?

22 A I would generally cut and paste it in the minutes
23 format really because there would not necessarily need to be 24 edits made to what -- what had been -- he had sent.

25 Q Okay. Now I'll come back to that in a second.

KM

3534

1 From that point after you do whatever you do, is there
2 a process by which it's finalized?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Is that the final action done or is there subsequent
5 action after you've, you know, added this document?

6 A I would generally give it to the secretary, whoever was 7 the secretary at the time, and then they would take it to the 8 Audit Committee Chair who would review potentially, make edits,
9 and then sign.

10 Q And the secretary at that time was Mr. Tedrick?

11 A I believe that's correct.

12 Q And do you recall that there was also an Audit
13 Committee report?

14 A To the -- report to the Board, yes.

15 Q Right. And in 2016, were those two separate documents,
16 minutes and report?

17 A Not to my knowledge.

18 Q Okay. Can I call up PX 2586 for identification. Not 19 for the jury. You will see it on the screen in a second, 20 hopefully.

21 THE COURT: 2586?

22 MR. FLEMING: 2586 for identification.

23 Q Ms. Rowling, take a look is this. Si that your email
24 address at the top?

25 A Yes, it is.

KM

3535

1 Q All right. Can we have the whole document so she can
2 see it.

3 I just want to have you look at this and tell me if you
4 recognize this.

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q Okay. What is this? Without describing its content,
7 what is this?

8 A It is an email between myself and other various 9 parties.

10 Q And if you can look now at the attachments. Do you
11 see -- what is that right there?

12 A The report of the Audit Committee.

13 Q And if you can scroll down to the next page. Is this a 14 draft of the Audit Committee report. Up one page.

15 A Actually, go back.

16 Q Go back one more page up.

17 A No. One more page down.

18 Q I'm sorry. One more page down.

19 A There we go.

20 Q Okay.

21 A This is the language from -- for the minutes basically
22 that -- so it's draft.

23 Q And this is the document you just described a couple of 24 minutes ago?

25 A That's correct.

KM

3536

1 Q All right. And if you go one more page down. This is
2 the rest of it.

3 Do you recall whether this is the document after you
4 worked on it or before you worked on it?

5 A This is before.

6 Q Okay. And do you recall making any changes to this
7 -- well, I apologize for the disjointed presentation. But can
8 we go back up to the first page. If you can look at the third
9 email from the top where Mr. Tedrick asks you a question.

10 Do you see that?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And then you get back to him with a response. Is that
13 right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. Does this refresh your recollection about 16 whether the attachments are after you've looked at the document
17 you were given by Mr. Frazer?

18 A I think -- well, it's a little bit confusing because 19 there was an assumption at this point that there were separate
20 minutes and separate Board documents, and they were kind of one
21 in the same, so it's a little muddy.

22 Q Now, do you recall at some point in the future where 23 the minutes and the report ceased to be separate documents and 24 they were all put together into one document?

25 A To me, they were not two separate documents at this

KM

3537

1 point.

2 Q Okay. Okay.

3 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, we have had a long
4 tortured history with this document, but I have exhausted
5 the witnesses who are able to discuss how it was formulated.

6 I would move its admission.

7 THE COURT: What's the independent relevance of 8 draft minutes when there are final minutes?

9 MR. FLEMING: Well, these are the final minutes.
10 It's a draft report. The report is then finalized later.
11 The report does not include the discussion of what actually 12 happened, but the draft report does corroborate what was 13 done in the minutes.

14 THE COURT: The issue I had in an earlier version of 15 this is that -- and maybe I'm wrong. And you can -- when 16 the witness -- some of it seemed like it had been prepared
17 before the meeting even happened as to what was anticipated
18 to happen at the meeting and that was an issue I had with
19 it.

20 I mean, it's not -- there is nothing wrong with 21 doing this, but it doesn't reflect what actually happened.
22 How do I tell the difference?

23 Because the earlier version of this seemed at least
24 pretty clear as if it much more incomplete than this one,
25 and it seemed like somebody was writing for what was

KM

3538

1 intended to be discussed at the meeting by the staff which
2 is different than what you just said now which is that it's
3 a summary of what was actually done at the meeting.

4 Has -- I don't know that this witness has yet given
5 a foundation for saying that what follows is a
6 contemporaneous recording of what was actually done at the 7 meeting as opposed to what was the prep for it.

8 MR. FLEMING: Well, what the witness just verified
9 that, yes, there was a document prepared before the meeting.
10 She was given it. She observed the meeting. She made
11 whatever changes she would make, and that document was then
12 finalized, and there are other versions of this document
13 that are part of the business records that are forwarded
14 within the objection years later.

15 THE COURT: Well, how about maybe ask just that 16 question more directly about whether the part of this that 17 you really want to use which I guess is the summary, if this 18 witness can say, yeah, this is based on my work reflecting 19 what was actually -- I actually observed at the meeting and 20 I contemporaneously -- this group contemporaneously put it
21 together in the ordinary course of business to reflect what 22 happened. Because it's still a little unclear to me.

23 MR. FLEMING: Okay. I will try to do it in sort of 24 two separate questions.

25 So can we scroll down to this part.

KM

3539

1 THE COURT: Apologies to the jury. I know this is
2 kind of like a mystery novel because we are talking about
3 something that you haven't seen, but I want to do it out of 4 your presence, and I want to make sure what it is before you
5 see it.

6 MR. FLEMING: I have taken up way too much of your
7 time, and I apologize.

8 Q Can you tell me without mentioning names that you
9 recall that these transactions were looked at by the Audit
10 Committee, identified, evaluated and voted on?

11 A Yes, they were.

12 MR. FLEMING: Okay. I would also then like to 13 change documents.

14 THE COURT: Wait. The question I was -- maybe you
15 are going to get to it -- is whether this summary is after 16 the meeting based on her and her colleague's recollections
17 of what actually happened as opposed to meeting in advance.

18 MR. FLEMING: Okay. Well, first of all, I will ask
19 that, but you're right, that's what I was getting to.

20 Q But do you recall whether this document that you're 21 looking at reflects the final version of the minutes of the 22 Audit Committee related-party transaction review in
23 September 2016?

24 MR. THOMPSON: Asked and answered, your Honor. I
25 believe she testified to this prior.

KM

3540

1 THE COURT: You can go ahead and answer because it
2 was so long ago, I can't remember.

3 A Yes, it does accurately reflect.

4 MR. FLEMING: Are we able to do a side by side
5 document?

6 Can I side by side do PX 1631? Is this doable or 7 no? Okay.

8 Q So Ms. Rowling, on the left is PX 1631 which I'll
9 represent is an email dated April of 2018. That's about a year
10 and a half after the one we just looked at; is that right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Can we scroll to the second page of PX 1631 and to the 13 similar page on PX 2586.

14 Keep going. Keep going. Thank you.

15 A tough question, but are you able to see whether these 16 are the same document?

17 A I mean, a quick review it, they appear to be the same
18 document.

19 Q Can we scroll to the next page of both of those and 20 again --

21 A Yes.

22 MR. FLEMING: Okay. And if I could now get rid of 23 PX 1631 and call up PX 1674. And if we could on PX 1674.
24 Again, scroll to the attachment. Hold on a second. I'm 25 sorry.

KM

3541

1 Q PX 1674, Ms. Rowling, is an email from February 2019;
2 is that right? Can you go back?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And if we can scroll to the minutes, please.

5 Once again, I would ask you to do a comparison and tell
6 me whether these are the same document.

7 A They appear to be the same document.

8 Q And second page of both.

9 A The spacing is a little different, but they appear to 10 be the same document.

11 Q Now, do you recall in 2016 --

12 A Something seems to be missing on these two documents.

13 Q I'm going to ask you a question about it.

14 Now do you recall in 2016 after the Audit Committee
15 meeting where a transaction involving Mr. Skelton was left off
16 and the members voted electronically subsequent to the meeting
17 to approve it?

18 MR. THOMPSON: Leading, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Sustained.

20 Q Do you recall any issue with respect to a transaction
21 involving Mr. Skelton?

22 A I really don't. Not off the top of my head.

23 MR. FLEMING: Well, your Honor --

24 THE COURT: My question, are any of these the final 25 minutes.

KM

3542

1 MR. FLEMING: The one -- the ones that I showed Ms.
2 Rowling, PX 2586, is the final minutes.

3 THE COURT: Well, there is no -- this final minutes
4 that I have seen have a signature on them.

5 MR. FLEMING: They do not have the signature on 6 them. That was the unfortunate practice back then, and it
7 evolved.

8 THE COURT: We know they are the final minutes how?

9 MR. FLEMING: From speaking to different people who 10 are involved in the process.

11 THE COURT: And who sat next to me with a 12 microphone?

13 MR. FLEMING: Yes. Mr. Cotton testified.

14 THE COURT: No. I mean testified --

15 MR. FLEMING: Mr. Frazer testified to it.

16 THE COURT -- that this Document 2586 is the final
17 minutes.

18 MR. FLEMING: That these transactions were all
19 voted on in 2016.

20 THE COURT: Different questions.

21 MR. FLEMING: I understand, and that minutes were 22 taken and Ms. Rowling -- and Mr. Frazer testified that he 23 created the document, was pretty sure that this was the 24 final one but understood that Ms. Rowling had been given the 25 pre-prepared document to edit after the meeting for any

KM

3543

1 changes. And Ms. Rowling is here today to testify that
2 that's what she did.

3 You can take these down.

4 THE COURT: But has she? I'm not -- I'm asking
5 that.

6 MR. FLEMING: Well, she just answered yes, that
7 these were the final. I could read back the answer, but I
8 could ask you again.

9 THE COURT: Is that right? With all these
10 different documents floating around, you have an independent
11 recollection that this last one was the final? Because I
12 thought what you first started asking about it, she said it
13 was a draft.

14 MR. FLEMING: Right. PX 2586 -- can you please call
15 it back up -- was what I presented to her, and I took her
16 through that. She received from Mr. Frazer a draft, that 17 she edited it. She wasn't, you know, sure this was the 18 final, but when I took her through the transactions, she 19 said yes, this is the final.

20 THE COURT: She said that those were discussed at 21 the meeting. She didn't say that this document -- why don't 22 instead of asking me, you can ask her again because I --
23 maybe I misheard it. I didn't -- I think -- and the 24 testimony that these were discussed at the meeting, that's 25 fine. That's her personal recollection, but we are still at

KM

3544

1 the question of whether this particular version of a
2 document that you've already sort of shown her a few
3 different of is the final despite it not being signed.

4 Again, you can have -- I guess you can have a final
5 minutes if somebody can testify, and maybe your client is 6 the best one to testify at the end of the day, the secretary
7 of what the final minutes were. But if you want to ask this 8 witness again, it may be that a few questions have gone by,
9 and I have forgotten it.

10 MR. FLEMING: I will ask, and then I'll leave it 11 alone.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 Q Can we go -- scroll to the minutes, please, at the end.
14 So Ms. Rowling, I apologize for putting you through 15 this, but I'll again ask you.

16 Were these transactions voted on that's reflected in 17 this document by the Audit Committee in September 2016?

18 A To the best of my recollection, they were.

19 Q Okay. Was the treatment by the Audit Committee as 20 reflected in this document and as expressed in this document?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And if you can scroll to the second page.

23 I know it's a tough question, but I would ask you to 24 the best of your ability, was this the final version -- final 25 documentation of the Audit Committee's consideration of these

KM

3545

1 transactions, the final minutes for this meeting in
2 September 2016?

3 A To the best of my recollection, they are.

4 MR. FLEMING: So I would move its admission on this
5 basis, your Honor.

6 MR. THOMPSON: Quite a few objections. I don't 7 know if it would be better to approach but --

8 THE COURT: I have an idea. Again, just going back
9 one more page.

10 Q Go back one more page, please.

11 THE COURT: The document on the top says "language
12 for minutes."

13 Does -- just -- is your recollection that this 14 is -- I mean, that could sound like a draft for this is what 15 we're thinking about for the minutes.

16 Is that not what this is?

17 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I tried to say before that the 18 minutes were -- at the time there weren't two separate sets
19 of records necessarily. And so I think there was a 20 misunderstanding with the secretary's offices that they were 21 completely separate minutes with respect to -- and then the 22 Board -- the Board report. And so generally, the way -- the 23 way we had done them was they were one document, but in this 24 case, specifically we kind of had this second document that 25 kind of acted as the minutes.

KM

3546

1 THE COURT: Let me ask the question that I actually
2 had and then we can maybe be done with this part and the 3 jury can find out what we are actually talking about.

4 Is this prepared before or after the meeting?

5 THE WITNESS: This was prepared before the meeting
6 to lead the discussion and then used as kind of the 7 discussion document for the minutes. It was kind of both.

8 THE COURT: So is it edited afterwards to reflect
9 what happened at the actual meeting?

10 THE WITNESS: If any changes would have needed to 11 be made, it would have been edited.

12 THE COURT: I will admit it on that ground.

13 Now, it is hearsay, so it's on out-of-court
14 statement. Somebody recorded various things about it. You
15 can take it as at least one version of this witness
16 describing contemporaneous notes of the process, but the 17 underlying facts have to be shown by actual evidence, but 18 this can be evidence that these were discussed based on this
19 witness' eyewitness testimony and that this is a summary
20 prepared contemporaneously. So I got the objections. You
21 don't have to say them again. I understand it, but I think
22 its been adequately explained that this is a post-meeting
23 summary; whereas earlier, I was a little concerned that some 24 of the other versions of it and in fact sound like some 25 things are prepared in advance of the meeting which is not

KM

3547

1 an accurate summary of what happened, but this witness has
2 given her testimony.

3 MR. FLEMING: Okay.

4 MR. THOMPSON: Just one brief thing for the record
5 that Ms. Rowling was just shown two different versions of 6 the quote unquote "final minutes," and so there is no -- our 7 objection is that there is no evidence that these are the 8 final minutes.

9 THE COURT: Well, the jury can make their own
10 decision about that, I think.

11 Q If we can publish for the jury, I have a couple of 12 questions about the document for you.

13 So Ms. Rowling in September 2016, do you recall that an 14 annual contract the NRA had with Dave Butz was evaluated by the 15 Audit Committee?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And was it approved as fair, reasonable and in the best
18 interests of the NRA?

19 MR. THOMPSON: Hearsay, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: No. You're asking whether that actually
21 happened?

22 MR. FLEMING: I am asking whether in her experience
23 it actually happened.

24 THE COURT: From her observation.

25 MR. FLEMING: From her observations.

KM

1 THE COURT: Overruled.

2 Q What's the answer?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. Now, in September 2016, did the Audit Committee
5 address an arrangement with Sandra Froman by which she was paid
6 by the organization?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did the Audit Committee determine that that
9 arrangement was fair, reasonable and in the best interests of
10 the NRA?

11 A Yes.

12 THE COURT: This is from your recollection. This 13 is not in the document.

14 Q Not from the document. From your own recollection;
15 right?

16 And one last question.

17 Do you recall -- if we can scroll down a little bit --
18 whether the Audit Committee considered an arrangement with 19 Marion Hammer that the NRA had with Marion Hammer?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And did the Audit Committee determine that that
22 arrangement was fair, reasonable and in the best interests of
23 the NRA?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. I just have a few more questions for you. You

KM

3549

1 can take the document down.

2 You were asked questions about "tone at the top."

3 Do you recall those?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Do you consider Mr. Frazer to be one of the top people
6 at the NRA?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And have you been able to observe his performance in 9 the years that you've known him?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Now, based on those observations, do you believe that 12 he sets a good tone at the top?

13 A Absolutely.

1 Q Now, I think you testified that he gives the compliance
2 training seminars; is that right?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Have you received any feedback about whether those
5 compliance training seminars are effective?

6 A Um, yes, actually, yes.

7 Q Is there any sort of specifics you can tell us about
8 what that feedback has been?

9 A I've gotten -- I actually get questions a lot more
10 questions now from people based on those seminars of what's 11 appropriate or what's not, including from board members.
12 They'll call me directly.

13 Q Do you feel like people are emboldened by what they 14 hear in the seminars to raise questions that maybe before they 15 wouldn't have?

16 A Yes.

17 MR. FLEMING: I have nothing further, thank you.

18 THE COURT: Any other questions on the defense
19 side?

20 MS. COUTU: No direct, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Okay. The State can cross.

22 CROSS-EXAMINATION

23 BY MR. THOMPSON:

24 Q Good morning, Ms. Rowling.

25 MR. THOMPSON: Can you hear me all right?

BP

3551

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 Q Ms. Rowling, you were asked some questions yesterday
3 about COSO. Do you recall that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q As of your deposition in July of 2022, COSO was not
6 memorialized in any of the NRA's policies or written documents;
7 correct?

8 A Um, not memorialized, no.

9 Q And prior to July of 2022, you had taken one continuing
10 education class on COSO; is that correct?

11 A As far as I can recall. I've been a CPA since 1994, so
12 it is a long time.

13 Q Right, so you can only recall the one class?

14 A One recently, very recently.

15 Q And, Ms. Rowling, you have no experience conducting 16 internal controls audits; is that correct?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And you testified about tone at the top yesterday and a
19 little bit this morning.

20 Do you recall that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And you testified that the tone at the top changed when 23 Mr. Spray became the treasurer and CFO or that was one example
24 of when the tone changed; is that right?

25 A I testified that he was -- I didn't say he was -- the

BP

3552

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 tone changed at that point, no. I said that he was part of a
2 change in the tone at the top.

3 Q Right. And Mr. Spray was fired in 2021, right?

4 A No.

5 Q Mr. Spray was told that the NRA was going in a
6 different direction in 2021; correct?

7 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, objection.

8 THE COURT: Overruled.

9 A To my understanding, Mr. Spray left for medical 10 reasons.

11 Q Your understanding is that Mr. Spray left for medical 12 reasons?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Mr. Arulanandam has been at the NRA for over 15 twenty years; is that correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you've been at that time NRA for over twenty years;
18 is that correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And Mr. Coy and Mr. Cotton each have been at the NRA
21 for over twenty years; is that correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And Mr. Frazer has been at the NRA for almost 24 twenty years; is that right?

25 A I guess, approximately.

BP

3553

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q And during your testimony yesterday you mentioned an
2 amendment to the NRA's travel policy.

3 Do you remember that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And that amendment occurred in 2021, correct?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q So, that was a year after the complaint when this 8 action was filed?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you mentioned changes to the NRA's credit card
11 program.

12 Do you recall that?

13 A Yes.

14 Q The NRA had Am Ex cards for a number of employees until 15 the bankruptcy in 2021 cut them off, correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And Mr. Mensinger was hired by the NRA in September of
18 2023, right?

19 A Correct.

20 MR. THOMPSON: If we could please, if you could
21 turn to Tab 12 of your binder. Please bring up DX1-0837,
22 which is already admitted.

23 (Displayed)

24 Q Ms. Rowling, this is the memorandum that you prepared
25 in November and December of last year; right?

3554

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 A Yes.

2 Q That was about a month before the trial started;
3 right?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And I believe you testified -- oh, first, you are the 6 first NRA employee other than Mr. LaPierre to review the excess
7 benefits disclosed in the 2019 990; is that correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And that's the 990 that Mr. Spray did not sign,
10 correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And that Mr. LaPierre did sign?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And are you testified yesterday that you prepared this 15 memorandum DX1-0837 in the ordinary course of the NRA's
16 business; correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And so it is the NRA's ordinary course of business to 19 review disclosures in 990 filings three years after the fact?

20 MS. EISENBERG: Mischaracterizes the testimony.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 A Sorry, can you repeat that question?

23 Q Sure. It is the ordinary course of the NRA's business
24 to review disclosures in its Form 990s three years after the 25 fact?

3555

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 A No.

2 Q Now, this says that it was dated November 28th and then
3 updated December 4th, right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Did the update occur after you reviewed this with 6 litigation counsel, Ms. Eisenberg, for clarity?

7 A No, that wasn't what the substance of the update was.

8 Q When did the review with Ms. Eisenberg for clarity
9 occur?

10 A It occurred around the same time period, but I can't 11 recall what I changed subsequently to that. There was 12 something -- I can't recall what, what I subsequently changed
13 about it; but I had made a substantive change, and then I
14 reviewed it with counsel.

15 Q Okay. And it is the ordinary course of the NRA's
16 business to review memoranda for clarity with litigation
17 counsel?

18 A It is not unheard of.

19 Q Did you do that with the memorandum regarding 20 Mr. LaPierre's expense reports?

21 A I don't recall.

22 Q And then if -- and so just to situate this in time, so
23 this memorandum is dated November 28, 2023, and then updated
24 December 4, 2023. That's three years after the complaint was 25 filed in this action, right?

BP

3556

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 A Correct.

2 Q And three years after Mr. LaPierre's excess benefits
3 were first disclosed on Form 990; right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And one month before this trial started, right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. And if we could please go to Tab 13 of your
8 binder, which is DX1-0835, which is already admitted.

9 So, I just want to clarify or make sure that I
10 understand, Ms. Rowling, the sort of normal checkmark means that 11 you tied it, a flight to a CAA invoice; is that correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And then the check with the slash through it means that 14 you tied it to an expense report submitted by Mr. LaPierre, is 15 that correct?

16 A Not the -- you've got to be clear that it was the trip
17 itself was tied. Not the flight, but the trip was tied to an 18 expense report.

19 Q So, ancillary expenses to the trip?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. If we could please go to page 4 of the document.

22 MR. THOMPSON: And, Jesse, if you could please blow
23 up rows 2 and 3.

24 (Displayed)

25 Thank you.

BP

3557

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q So, looking at row 2, so the checkmark there means that
2 you tied this to a CAA invoice; correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And I believe you testified that you did not determine
5 whether or not this trip was for an appropriate business
6 purpose, correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Okay. So, if we look in the column with the locations
9 or the destinations where it says "Washington DC, Colorado
10 Springs, Colorado, Grand Island, Nebraska, Washington DC;" do
11 you see that?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So, this trip included a leg to Grand Island, Nebraska;
14 right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you do not know what the business purpose of 17 Mr. LaPierre, Ms. Sterner and Ms. LaPierre flying to Grand 18 Island, Nebraska, was; correct?

19 A I do not.

20 Q Okay. And so you don't know whether or not this was an 21 appropriate business expense for the NRA, correct?

22 A I have to take Mr. LaPierre's word for that.

23 Q You have to take Mr. LaPierre's word for it, right?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And this is the same Mr. LaPierre who has to date to

BP

3558

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 reimburse the NRA for about a million dollars for inappropriate
2 expenses?

3 MR. CORRELL: Objection to the characterization,
4 your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 Q This is the same Mr. LaPierre who has to date
7 reimbursed the NRA about a million dollars?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And are there still ongoing reviews of Mr. LaPierre's
10 excess benefits?

11 A Not at the moment.

12 Q Not at the moment. So, as of the date of the trial, no
13 more excess benefits being reviewed; is that right?

14 MR. CORRELL: Objection, mischaracterizes the 15 testimony.

16 THE COURT: Overruled. You can answer.

17 A If any documentation is discovered or found that has 18 any sort of inappropriate expense by Mr. LaPierre, we would 19 absolutely be following up on it. Documents have been -- have 20 been researched and searched for. I mean, a lot of this stuff
21 is really old. It is hard to find.

22 But, if we find them, we will absolutely be seeking
23 reimbursement, plus interest.

24 Q So, for example, trips to Grand Island, Nebraska, where 25 there's no clear business purpose, for example?

BP

3559

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 MR. CORRELL: Objection, your Honor. This assumes
2 facts not in evidence as to whether or not there was a
3 business purpose.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 A Again, we would have to -- you can't make a
6 determination off the fly without having any sort of support or 7 backup associated with a trip.

8 Q Which you don't for this trip, right?

9 A I don't personally sitting here today have any backup
10 to that.

11 Q Did you have access to the backup for it?

12 A I had discussions. We've had conversations. We have 13 expense reports potentially. This is not one that I went back
14 and looked at.

15 But, but testing of transactions proved that expense
16 reports were there as backup so --

17 Q Except for this one?

18 A I didn't look at 2015.

19 Q You didn't look at 2015?

20 A Not expense reports. When I tested -- audit or a test
21 does not look at every single document. I tested a process.
22 The process showed consistent and accurate reporting.

23 Q But your testing here was just that this flight was 24 paid for, right, effectively?

25 A Correct.

BP

3560

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q Okay. And with respect to the flights where you did
2 look at ancillary business or expense reimbursement requests,
3 you're taking Mr. LaPierre's word for it; right?

4 MS. EISENBERG: Objection, unclear.

5 THE COURT: Overruled.

6 A There has to be some level of that, yes.

7 Q Okay. And the flights -- well, first of all, you
8 testified that Mr. LaPierre provided you with this chart; is 9 that correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And do you know who created the chart?

12 A I'm not a hundred percent sure who created the chart.

13 Q Do you know what the source of the information in this 14 chart is?

15 A The CAA documents.

16 Q And the chart -- this chart, the flights in it only
17 went back to 2015; correct?

18 A On this one.

19 Q And so you have not reviewed the flights that 20 Mr. LaPierre took in 2014; have you?

21 A I believe some of those were reviewed in subsequent
22 testing.

23 Q In subsequent testing?

24 A After this -- in the testing done -- not in this 25 document. There were four or five attachments.

BP

3561

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q And let's look at one of the other attachments. Well,
2 first of all, did Mr. LaPierre provide you with all of the 3 attachments to your memorandum?

4 A Well, no there are pieces to these attachments that are
5 the 990s, so, no.

6 Q With respect to the charts, themselves, and excluding
7 the cover page and the 990s?

8 A He did not provide us with the leased vehicle
9 calculations.

10 Q Any of the other attachments that Mr. LaPierre did not 11 provide you with?

12 A Not that I'm aware of.

13 Q And so if you could please go to Tab 17 of your binder.

14 MR. THOMPSON: So, this is DX1-0836. Specifically,
15 the second page and if we can rotate it please, Jesse.
16 Thank you. You're ahead of me.

17 Q So, this is another one of the charts that Mr. LaPierre
18 provided to you, is that correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And then at the very top where it says "BNN," that 21 reads "BNN recreation of chart prepared by Lisa Correll."

22 Do you see that?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Do you know what BNN means?

25 A No.

BP

3562

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q So, Lisa Correll, that's Mr. Correll's paralegal; is
2 that correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q So, this chart was to the best of your knowledge
5 created by Mr. LaPierre's counsel?

6 MR. CORRELL: Objection, your Honor. Paralegal is 7 not counsel.

8 MR. THOMPSON: I'll rephrase, your Honor.

9 Q This chart was created by somebody in Mr. Correll's
10 office?

11 A It appears to be the case.

12 Q Okay. All right, so if we could please bring up this 13 Tab 18 of your binder, Ms. Rowling. DX1-0855.

14 This is the memorandum that you prepared concerning
15 Mr. Schropp's out-of-pocket expenses; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you learned that Mr. Schropp was -- had expensed
18 things through Ackerman McQueen during your deposition in 2022,
19 is that correct?

20 A No, I thought I had said I heard about it during -- 21 during this case at some point when I read about it in the 22 paper.

23 Q Now, you had testified a little bit about what an 24 accountable plan is; right?

25 A Yes.

BP

3563

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Q And so if I'm remembering correctly -- and please
2 correct me if I'm wrong -- the process here was that you looked 3 at the Am Ex statements with Mr. Schropp's expenses, is that
4 right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And then Mr. Schropp recreated the expense reports for 7 those expenses, is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q So, he didn't timely submit expense reports for 10 anything on his Am Ex, is that correct?

11 A He submitted this information to Ackerman at the 12 time -- these all were run through Ackerman McQueen. I would 13 never have had them.

14 So, the expenses were incurred and already paid. I was 15 doing this to seek reimbursement. He was just providing me
16 backup for my calculations on reimbursement back to the NRA for 17 things that might have been inappropriate.

18 Q The total amount that Mr. Schropp spent on the Am Ex
19 card just between 2016 and 2018 was about $241,000; right?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Is Mr. Schropp being asked to repay the full $241,000
22 to the NRA?

23 A No.

24 Q And that's even though his expenses did not follow the 25 NRA's accountable plan?

BP

3564

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 A These -- that is correct.

2 Q And if you could turn to the attachment to this
3 memorandum, which is the next tab, Tab 19, and this is DX1-0856.

4 So, can you describe again, please, Ms. Rowling, what
5 the difference is between Attachment A and Attachment B to this 6 memorandum?

7 A Attachment A is the -- each line item in the Am Ex
8 directly off the Am Ex statement.

9 Q Okay, and then what is Attachment B?

10 A Each line or expense report off of -- from the expense
11 reports.

12 Q Okay. Does Attachment B contain the business purpose
13 for the charge?

14 A No.

15 Q Where would I find the business purpose for each of 16 these expenses in Attachment A and Attachment B?

17 A On the expense reports that he created.

18 Q And those expense reports haven't been produced in 19 discovery; have they?

20 A I wouldn't know the answer to that.

21 Q Okay. So, looking at just the front page of Attachment
22 A, the first four charges there are for several stays at the 23 Beverly Hills Hotel for more than $4,000; right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q What was the business purpose for those trips to the

3565

S. Rowling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 Beverly Hills Hotel?

2 A I can't recall off the top of my head what all of these
3 would be, so...

4 Q I'm sorry?

5 A It is impossible to do that at this point.

6 Q And it is impossible to do that without looking at the 7 expense reports that Mr. Schropp created that have not been 8 produced in discovery, right?

9 A Again, I don't know if they have been produced in 10 discovery.

11 Q Okay, and I'll represent to you, Ms. Rowling, that in 12 Attachment A, there are approximately 55 references to Landini
13 Brothers.

14 Do you know what the business purpose for each of those 15 meals at Landini Brothers was?

16 A No.

17 Q All right, and has Mr. Schropp repaid the NRA yet for 18 anything?

19 A No.

20 Q If you could please turn to Tab 26 in your binder,
21 which is DX1-0243, which is in evidence.

22 This is the sign-in sheet for the two 2018 compliance

24 A Did you say two?

25 Q I believe there's a 7/26 and then an 8/28 compliance

BP

3566

1 training on the second page; is that correct?

2 A Oh, yes.

3 Q Mr. LaPierre did not attend this training; did he?

4 A I don't recall if he did.

5 Q He doesn't appear on the sign-in sheet; right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Neither does Mr. Arulanandam; right?

8 A I have to quickly look through, but doesn't appear to 9 be.

10 Q Okay, and if you could go to Tab 28 of your binder,
11 please, which is DX1-0242, also already in evidence.

12 So, this is the sign-in sheet for the February 2019
13 training; correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And, again, Mr. LaPierre's signature or sign-in does 16 not appear anywhere on this, correct?

17 A No.

18 Q Neither does Mr. Arulanandam?

19 A No.

20 Q And, Tab 32 also admitted, this is the sign-in sheet
21 for December 16, 2021; correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Mr. LaPierre did attend this one, right?

24 A This one is really hard to read.

25 Q Oh, yes, I'm sorry. So, we'll -- I think we can

5 A Yes, I see it.

6 Q And so this was the first training that Mr. LaPierre
7 attended; right?

8 A This just says it is the first one that he's signed in.

9 Q All right, so three years after the compliance
10 trainings began; right?

11 A That is the date of this seminar.

12 Q Okay. And the same thing for Mr. Arulanandam, right,
13 this is the first one he attended?

14 A Did we establish his name was on this?

15 Q Okay, we can move on. That's fine.

16 So quickly, if you could please go back to Tab 27,
17 which is Plaintiff's Exhibit 2567 already in evidence.

18 When did the trainings become mandatory, Ms. Rowling?

19 A I don't recall the exact timeframe.

20 Q Was it approximately 2022 to the best of your 21 knowledge?

22 A That probably sounds right.

23 Q Okay. And then if you could please go to page 15 of

3 Do you see that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And that's a type of gift that needs to be reported, is
6 that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you think it would have been useful for Mr. LaPierre
9 to attend this training in 2018?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And then you spoke a little bit yesterday about the 12 compliance week training that happened, right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q That was in November of last year, right?

15 A Yes.

16 MR. THOMPSON: Pass the witness, your Honor.

25 Please tell us what types of responsibilities you have

BP

1 as the chief financial officer and treasurer?

2 A Well, obviously, I'm in charge of all of the financial
3 aspects of the organization and as well as the entire I.S.
4 Department.

5 So, I have a lot of job responsibilities that require
6 my day-to-day work.

7 Q And remind us the breadth of the operations of the NRA?

8 A The NRA is a 200 to 300 million dollar organization
9 with a hundred different divisions that have activities going
10 on, ongoing at all times.

11 Q Mr. Thompson questions suggested that he is questioning
12 the general commitment of the NRA to getting compliance right.

13 What is your reaction to that accusation?

14 A Well, I find it kind of appalling, actually.

15 This -- this effort has been consistent and ongoing
16 since 2018 really, and there's been a concerted effort to get,
17 you know, what you might call the titanic turned around and that 18 takes time; but it has been a consistent effort for years to do
19 that.

20 Q Let's talk a little bit about COSO. He asked whether 21 it was memorialized. Is COSO something that you actually have 22 to memorialize?

23 A No.

24 Q Why not?

25 A Well, it is a -- I mean, it's kind of a framework of --

1 of compliance and internal controls. So, while we have internal
2 controls memorialized, procedures memorialized, it wasn't
3 memorialized in a -- in that specific COSO framework.

4 Q Let's talk a little bit about the internal audit piece.
5 You testified that you don't have any experience conducting
6 internal audits.

7 Tell us what you do have experience doing?

8 A Oh, I was an auditor for seven years, five of which 9 audited non-profits. So, while I don't have internal specific 10 audit experience, I do have audit experience, auditing
11 non-profits.

12 Q Does the NRA now have an internal auditor as well?

13 A Yes.

14 Q To the extent Mr. Thompson's questions suggested that 15 policies were amended only because of this litigation, what is 16 your reaction to that accusation?

17 MR. THOMPSON: Objection, leading.

18 THE COURT: Overruled.

19 A Policies and procedures have been amended for various
20 reasons throughout the history of the organization. The travel 21 policy, specifically, was amended because it lacked clarity in 22 several areas.

23 We took that as an opportunity to add clarity, and this
24 happens all the time in an organization.

25 Q Mr. Thompson asked you a few questions about the review

BP

1 of Mr. LaPierre's repayment and he pointed out that the first
2 repayment had occurred all the way back in 2020. Do you recall
3 that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And was there anything wrong with Mr. LaPierre making
6 the repayment before you had an opportunity to review it?

7 MR. THOMPSON: Objection, leading.

8 THE COURT: Overruled.

9 A No.

10 Q You mentioned that other attachments to the memo which 11 is in Tab 12 refer to flights that occurred before 2015.

12 Can you please take a look at Tabs 13 through 17 and 13 identify the exhibit number that discusses earlier flights.

14 A There were earlier flights in Attachment B.

15 MR. EISENBERG: Okay, let's take a look at that.

16 Mr. Stein, can you please display for the jury
17 DX1-0834.

18 (Displayed)

19 Q And, Ms. Rowling, where in the exhibit are you looking?

20 A Page 5.

21 MS. EISENBERG: Mr. Stein, let's go to page 5.

1 Q We now have it on the screen. What are the dates of 2 some of the reimbursed flights?

3 A 2013 and 2014.

4 Q Isn't it fair -- let me ask more generally.
5 Some of the repayments relate to expenses that had been
6 incurred a while ago. Would that be fair?

7 A Yes.

8 Q What is the earliest date for which repayments
9 occurred?

10 A 2020. I'm sorry. 2000.

11 Q And that relates to purchases of certain wardrobe items
12 for television appearances. Is that your understanding?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Mr. Thompson discussed with you that Mr. Schropp hasn't 15 yet repaid the amount that you identified as requiring 16 repayment.

17 And what is your understanding as to whether or not he 18 will be required to pay interest once he makes the repayment?

19 A Mr. Schropp is very aware that every day he doesn't
20 make payment, that interest is being accrued.

21 I am actually meeting with him tomorrow when I get
22 back.

23 Q And will it be compounded just like it was for Mr.
24 LaPierre?

25 A Yes.

KM

1 Q Today does the NRA follow the accountable plan?

2 A Yes.

3 Q To the extent there were certain expenses incurred by 4 Mr. Schropp using the Ackerman Amex, is it fair to say that the 5 ones that the NRA is not demanding that he reimburse, he in fact
6 represented that they were for business purpose?

7 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. It's leading and
8 hearsay.

9 THE COURT: Sustained on leading.

10 Q You testified that there were certain expenses that he
11 incurred using the Amex that he doesn't have to reimburse.

12 Why is that?

13 A He -- Mr. Schropp had submitted expense reports to us
14 that indicated a business purpose.

15 Q What is his position at the NRA?

16 A He is the Director of Advancement.

17 Q So what does he do?

18 A He fundraises.

19 Q And in fundraising for the NRA, is he frequently
20 required to travel for work?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Did you present your findings concerning repayments by 23 Mr. LaPierre to the Audit Committee?

24 MR. THOMPSON: Objection on the same Audit
25 Committee issue. No discovery into the Audit Committee

1 meeting.

2 THE COURT: I think you can ask whether she
3 presented. It's fine.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Nothing about -- at this point nothing
6 about the meeting.

7 A Yes, I did.

8 Q What were your findings?

9 A Is this on or about Mr. Schropp or Mr. LaPierre?

10 Q Mr. LaPierre. And in answering the question before I
11 was talking about Mr. LaPierre. Did you present your findings
12 regarding Mr. LaPierre's repayments to the Audit Committee?

13 When you said yes, were you answering that question?

14 A Yes.

15 Q What were your findings with regard to Mr. LaPierre's
16 repayments?

17 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. No discovery into this
18 Audit Committee meeting.

19 THE COURT: You're asking about her conclusions;
20 right?

21 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Overruled.

23 A My findings were I believe we actually talked about 24 them yesterday as well that, you know, Mr. LaPierre had put 25 forth a -- a valiant effort in trying to find all of his

1 expenses and document any that were -- were considered personal
2 in nature, and he made payments back to the NRA plus interest.

3 MS. EISENBERG: No further questions.

4 THE COURT: Anything further from the defense?

5 MR. CORRELL: Just a little bit, your Honor.

6 RECROSS EXAMINATION

7 BY MR. CORRELL:

8 Q Just quickly, Ms. Rowling. You were asked about an 9 entry on a chart that showed travel to Colorado Springs.

10 Do you remember that?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Does the NRA conduct any activities in or around
13 Colorado Springs with respect to Olympic shooting?

14 A Yes. They have events kind of all over the place, but 15 Colorado Springs is one.

16 Q Does the NRA provide any support to the Olympic 17 shooting team?

18 A Yes, we do.

19 Q Is Mr. LaPierre to your knowledge involved in any of 20 the communications with the U.S. Olympic committee about 21 supporting the team?

22 A I am unaware of that.

23 Q Do you know what "WLF" means?

24 A Yes.

25 Q What does that mean?

KM

1 A Women's Leadership Forum.

2 Q Did Mrs. LaPierre -- Susan LaPierre have any
3 involvement to your knowledge with the Women's Leadership Forum?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Did Colleen Sterner have any involvement with the 6 Women's Leadership Forum?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you have any view whether the Women's Leadership
9 Forum was an important part of the work that the NRA was doing
10 with women in this country?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And what's your view?

13 A Well, my view is that, you know, women are generally
14 unrepresented in this -- within the NRA, so it was a prime 15 opportunity to bring more women into the organization, and 16 that's what this group was doing as well as bringing in 17 fundraising dollars associated with that.

18 Q And do you have any view as to whether it was in the 19 interest of the NRA for Mr. LaPierre -- Susan LaPierre and 20 Colleen Sterner to be working with the Women's Leadership Forum
21 to try to pursue that mission?

22 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Leading.

23 THE COURT: Overruled.

24 A It definitely has -- it's a good effort for our
25 organization.

Proceedings

1 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, Ms. Rowling.

2 THE WITNESS: Sure.

3 THE COURT: Anything further?

4 MR. FLEMING: Nothing from me.

5 THE COURT: Anything from the State?

6 MR. THOMPSON: No, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You're free to 8 step down. We are going to take our morning break before
9 the next witness.

10 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

11 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
12 the courtroom.)

13 THE COURT: Just two small things before we break.
14 Well, three small things, I guess.

15 One, on the demonstratives, look, I do agree the 16 law is generally that you don't give demonstratives to the 17 deliberation room.

18 I think in my prior trial experience that I was 19 referencing, it was typically by consent that both sides
20 thought it made sense for them to have it. I think nudged
21 along by my staff doing some research in the background and 22 sending them to me, in the absence of consent, I think I am
23 unlikely to put anything back there or typically I would 24 wait for them to ask for exhibits rather than just sending 25 all however many hundreds of exhibits there are.

KM

3578

Proceedings

1 I think I described to them the general principles
2 that they are not entitled to them, so I'll just leave it
3 where it is.

4 The second thing, and this -- I wasn't going to ask
5 this in front of the jury, but it's just for my instructions
6 purposes, the document that Mr. Fleming and I tussled over
7 for a little bit, is it the position of the defense that 8 those 2016 or the 2016 meeting constituted approvals of 9 those related-party transactions prior to the transactions
10 taking place or were they just an earlier ratification?

11 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, as we talked about in 12 2016, the conflict-of-interest policy was adopted by the 13 NRA. Before that, it did not have a procedure to do that,
14 and the revitalization law imposed that new obligation. And 15 so in 2016 was the first time that in compliance with the 16 revitalization law, the NRA had an opportunity to deal with 17 these legacy arrangements, so they were both a ratification
18 in the first instance. But since a lot of these were 19 continuing, they were approvals going forward.

20 THE COURT: And what's the effective date of the 21 N-PCL?

22 MR. FLEMING: I believe --

23 MS. STERN: July 1, 2014.

24 THE COURT: Regardless of what the internal 25 policies, the law required pre-approval, so these would in

KM

3579

Proceedings

1 any event be ratifications.

2 In my proposed instructions, I -- and again, I'll
3 hear from you on Friday that at least as far as I'm aware,
4 there is no dispute that as to the specific related-party
5 transactions that I assume are going to be listed in the 6 verdict form. None of them had compliant prior approval,
7 but they are all going to be defended on the ground that
8 they were ratified. Correct?

9 MR. FLEMING: That's correct, but there is one
10 little wrinkle with that.

11 Your Honor, you may recall at one of the pretrial
12 meetings, you had talked about if there are legacy
13 transactions or contracts or agreements that were entered 14 into before the law changed, that you would entertain a
15 directed verdict on those. And so these three that I talked
16 about today fall into that category.

17 THE COURT: I think I have told you my general view
18 is there is probably a three-year Statute of Limitations on 19 related-party transaction claims because they are a creature
20 of statute, but you know, we will see if you have any that 21 you think are prior to the statute changing.

22 But anyway -- but the point remains, to the extent
23 that it is covered by the statute and it is part of the 24 case, none -- none of these anyway were approved in advance.
25 I'm not suggesting that means they are unlawful. I'm

KM

3580

Proceedings

1 just -- I try to in the draft instructions and the ones that
2 will ultimately come out try to make it clear to the jury
3 what's disputed and what's not.

4 MR. FLEMING: I understand totally.

5 So Mr. Hines addressed four related-party
6 transactions. Three of them were what we addressed today,
7 and there is one other that was entered into in 2017 which 8 was also ratified.

9 THE COURT: Right. The only point of that whole
10 2016 thing is it provides a somewhat earlier date for the 11 ratification. It doesn't provide a preapproval.

12 MR. FLEMING: Right.

13 THE COURT: Okay. And it doesn't have the other
14 things that the statute requires in a ratification. There
15 is a list of things that have to be in a ratification for it
16 to be effective. We will talk about that all later.

17 The other -- you mentioned about the time. You 18 know, I do -- I am thinking about it. And so what is the 19 current state?

20 MS. EISENBERG: As of the beginning of today by our 21 calculation, the NYAG had only three and a half hours left
22 which would be including their closing argument. So to the 23 extent Mr. Thompson has used 20 to 30 minutes at this point, 24 we think they are at about three hours to include their 25 closing arguments. So if they use an hour and a half for

KM

3581

Proceedings

1 the rest of the day, they would only be left with an hour
2 and a half for their closing.

3 THE COURT: Yeah. I did have a sense of sand going
4 out of an hourglass a little bit. But you know, they can do
5 the math too. So I was -- it's going to have to get awful
6 efficient to be able to reserve time for closing arguments.

7 MR. WERBNER: Yesterday you asked the individual
8 defendants if we were kind of getting squeezed out of time
9 or something to be sure we had adequate time and do it
10 before it's too late.

11 On behalf of Mr. Phillips, we need an hour for 12 closing argument. I don't think we are going to be using 13 any minutes -- very few minutes prior to that, but we would 14 like to be sure that we have that hour for closing.

15 THE COURT: Well, I mean, if you're really going to 16 be very short in terms of other time, you certainly -- you
17 are certainly entitled to at least that. But if you want to 18 put any evidence in, I think that would be fine. I'm 19 hopeful, you know, this time we will have, to get all the 20 closings in in one day. That should be still doable even 21 with you taking -- I think taking an hour because we --
22 well, especially if you use far less of the other time.

23 MR. WERBNER: That's right. While we are on the 24 subject of the closing, Mr. Farber and I wanted to split our 25 hour closing, one of us handling liability and one on

KM

3582

Proceedings

1 damages.

2 Is that okay with the Court?

3 THE COURT: That's fine.

4 MR. WERBNER: Thank you.

5 MS. CONNELL: I'm so sorry, but there is an
6 objection to the upcoming expert. I don't want to do this
7 in front of the jury. It's very brief.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MS. CONNELL: If I can share with your Honor the 10 demonstratives. This is for Mr. Lerner.

11 Your Honor, Mr. Lerner is an expert -- an NRA
12 expert. He proffered expert -- he offered expert opinions
13 in September and October of 2022. His primary opinions were 14 as of -- about the control environment and the effectiveness
15 of the internal controls in the NRA as of a snapshot of 16 December 31, 2020. That's the primary focus of his 17 opinions. But if you turn to Page 12 or slide 12, he is 18 offering evidence of 2023 and continued compliance
19 improvements.

20 Your Honor, this is inappropriate discovery. This 21 is not in his report. This should not be permitted.

22 THE COURT: Was any supplemental expert report
23 filed to give notice of new opinions?

24 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, no, but I believe that 25 Mr. Hines and Mr. Tenenbaum have also given testimony

KM

3583

Proceedings

1 through the present.

2 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor. They did not testify
3 to a single thing that was not in the reports. In fact, we 4 were careful about that, and had they, it should have been
5 objected to. This is clearly outside the scope of his 6 reports and shouldn't be permitted.

7 THE COURT: Look, I mean, I think, you know, this
8 is the kind of thing that should have been in a supplemental 9 report if you were going to try to bring this up to date.

10 I mean, you have already put in mountains of 11 evidence about new things, so I don't think in the absence
12 of a supplemental report, you can go beyond his -- what he's 13 disclosed as his opinions.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

15 MR. FARBER: I have an additional objection. So
16 Page 14.

17 THE COURT: Was that the end of yours?

18 MS. CONNELL: We also object to some of his 19 exhibits if they are going to seek admission, but I think we 20 will see if they are going to seek admission.

21 MR. FARBER: Page 14 references "evidence." It's 22 not before the jury, and I don't think that's --

23 THE COURT: What specifically?

24 MR. FARBER: Well, if you look at the box on the 25 right, you know, "Deposition and Bankruptcy Court

3584

Proceedings

1 Testimony."

2 THE COURT: That's referencing -- well, at the
3 moment, it's just saying these are things he looked at.
4 That's partly of the thoroughness of his preparation.
5 You're objecting to --

6 MR. FARBER: Okay, Judge.

7 THE COURT: -- the fact that these exist?

8 It would be inaccurate for him to say he didn't
9 look at it; right?

10 MR. FARBER: Well, I just don't think that there
11 ought to be opinions offered on the basis of things that are 12 not in evidence. And to the extent that's what this and the 13 next slide are --

14 THE COURT: Well, if what you're saying is he is 15 going to in his -- is the plan in his opinion in his 16 testimony to specifically rely on this kind of stuff that's 17 not been admitted?

18 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, it's merely to like you
19 said impress upon the jury that his review was thorough.

20 THE COURT: Right. So we are not going to hear a 21 question that says, well, the basis for this opinion is 22 something in the bankruptcy court testimony.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Correct.

24 THE COURT: I think just listing it is not a problem
25 to me. I think -- and it is also true just parenthetically

KM

3585

Proceedings

1 that experts are permitted to rely in some circumstances on
2 evidence that would otherwise be inadmissible for other
3 reasons, but you have to be careful that's going on that 4 those inadmissible -- that inadmissible evidence doesn't
5 sort of dribble in and become sort of confusing to the jury.
6 So I'll be alert if he starts getting into -- I don't see
7 how we will get to that point, and I would certainly caution
8 counsel to avoid it, that he can not be the vehicle to 9 introduce inadmissible evidence just freestanding, but I
10 don't think that him listing what he actually looked at is 11 inappropriate, even if some of the stuff was inadmissible.

12 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

13 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I had additional things
14 about related-party transactions, but it sounds like I will 15 have an opportunity to do that later.

16 THE COURT: You mean on the instructions?

17 MS. EISENBERG: Right; what you discussed with Mr.
18 Fleming.

19 THE COURT: I'm just trying to keep -- I wasn't 20 sure whether the vigor with which we were fighting about 21 2016 had a chronological significance that I didn't
22 understand.

23 MS. EISENBERG: Well, I think the EPTL claim, they 24 probably will argue that failure to follow laws in effect in 25 2016 constituted improper administration. And in that

KM

3586

Proceedings

1 regard, the fact that there was approval ratifications back
2 then is very important.

3 THE COURT: But it's still -- my only question was 4 the approval still is supposed to be at least in the prima
5 facie case for related-party transactions, the statute
6 requires the approval be in advance. It gives an
7 affirmative defense if you can show that it was ratified
8 after. I was just probing to make sure that under any 9 reading, 2016 is still ratification, not preapproval.

10 MS. EISENBERG: Well, I think it was both. They 11 were ratifying what had occurred previously and approving 12 things going forward.

13 MR. FLEMING: Right.

14 THE COURT: Meaning that there were new
15 transactions going forward that were being preapproved.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Correct. And in addition, Ms.
17 Connell represented to the Court that to the extent some 18 post-July 14 payments were made pursuant to preexisting
19 contracts that had not yet been extended or reviewed, that 20 the NYAG was not going after payments in that regard.

21 MR. FLEMING: And further, your Honor, the 22 significance was also to show Mr. Frazer's diligence in 23 addressing these issues.

24 THE COURT: I think that's a fair point. I'll have 25 to think about how to maybe tweak some of the language. If

KM

3587

Proceedings

1 basically the argument is that each year a new decision is
2 made as to whether to pay Board Member X for something going
3 on in Florida or wherever, that some of these approvals will
4 be ratification of past payments but preapproval of forward
5 looking payments, I can -- assuming they are deemed to be 6 separate transactions which, you know, I guess is an
7 argument you can make.

8 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I think there is a lot of 9 argument to be made from that document that was admitted
10 today such as it is, but I don't believe it would satisfy
11 either approval or ratification, but I think --

12 THE COURT: Well, maybe. I may have to -- I think
13 I have a sense, and they are saying it's undisputed that all
14 the transactions were not approved in advance, and I may 15 have to sharpen that a little in that if you look at each
16 payment made annually to Ms. Hammer, for example, it may 17 have -- I don't know whether you are currently arguing it
18 that it's one -- it's one related-party transaction that 19 lasted ten years or maybe they are going to say it's --
20 well, it's ten related-party transactions, one happening
21 each year for ten years or something like that.

22 MS. CONNELL: Well, I don't know what they are 23 going to say. I'm going to say that Ms. Hammer was paid by 24 three different streams over the years. Sometimes with a
25 contract. Often without and for many years.

KM

3588

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: No, but the point is about when -- at 2 some point in time they either did a ratification or an
3 approval. There was a thing that happened. That is going
4 to be a dispute about whether it's sufficient under the 5 statute is fine, but the difference between whether it's a
6 preapproval or ratification depends on how you view its 7 forward impact.

8 You know, in other words, when they were -- even if 9 they were doing a ratification of something, depending on 10 how it reads, and I'll have to go back and look at the 11 approval, if it is designed to be an approval for 12 going-forward transactions, that might have some legal 13 significance.

14 My recollection of the reading is that it looked to 15 be backward facing, but that's going to be a specific 16 decision. It's kind of technical, but it's important.

17 All right. See you in a second. We have used most 18 of our break, so be quick about it.

19 (Whereupon, at this time there was a recess taken.)

20 THE COURT: Ready for the jury?

16 DIRECT EXAMINATION

17 BY MS. EISENBERG:

18 Q Mr. Lerner, please tell us what you do.

19 A So I am an internal auditor. I perform internal 20 control assessments for not-for-profit organizations.

21 Q Where do you work?

22 A I work for Grant Thornton, large national accounting
23 firm.

24 Q And how long have you been doing this?

25 A I have worked with Grant Thornton for 13 years. Prior

KM

3590

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 to that I also worked in the not-for-profit industry in a
2 compliance role.

3 Q Please tell us a little bit about your education.

4 A So I have an undergraduate degree from Rutgers
5 University Business School in Management and also have an MBA
6 from New York University, Stern School of Business specializing
7 in Finance and Accounting.

8 Q Did there come a time where you reached certain
9 conclusions with regard to this case?

10 A Yes, I did have opinions related to the internal 11 control environment at the NRA in 2020.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA
13 offers Mr. Lerner as an expert in internal audits.

14 MS. CONNELL: No objection to his qualifications,
15 your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay. He is admitted to provide
17 opinion testimony.

18 Q We have heard testimony about different kind of audits;
19 internal audits, external audits.

20 Can you please help us understand the relevant
21 distinctions?

22 A Sure. We have heard about financial statement audits,
23 for example. Those are really -- the point of that, of course,
24 is to insure that the financial statements of an organization
25 -- so a financial statement audit, the primary objective is

3591

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 really to evaluate that there are no material misstatements
2 within the financial statements of an organization.

3 An internal audit is different in that it evaluates the 4 internal controls associated with -- it could be a variety of 5 business processes or functional areas within an organization.
6 So you could perform an internal audit of accounts payable or a
7 human resources function, expenditures of an organization.

8 And similarly, an internal control assessment is 9 similar to an internal audit. It can be, you know, performed in 10 a variety of different areas.

11 Q Have you ever testified as an expert witness before?

12 A No.

13 Q And are you being compensated for your work on this
14 case?

15 A My firm is being compensated.

16 Q To your knowledge, does your compensation depend in any 17 way on the outcome of this case?

18 A No.

19 Q To your knowledge, does your firm's compensation depend
20 in any way or what opinions you offer to the jury today?

21 A No.

22 Q What are internal controls?

23 A So at the highest level, internal controls, the 24 objective is to really insure that the business processes,
25 practices, policies of an organization support their business

KM

3592

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 objectives. So those objectives can be a number of things. It
2 could be operational objectives, so making sure that the 3 operations of an organization are efficient and effective. They 4 can be related to reporting; financial reporting, non-financial 5 reporting, the accuracy of those to make sure that business
6 decisions can be made based upon sound information, and there
7 could be compliance objectives as well. So making sure that we 8 are complaint not only with the organization's policies and 9 procedures but also related to regulatory requirements and 10 things like that.

11 MS. EISENBERG: Can the members of the jury hear the 12 witness okay? Perfect.

13 Q Let's go to the next slide. Please tell us a little 14 bit -- well, we have already heard about COSO somewhat. But 15 just tell us from your perspective what role it plays in 16 compliance.

17 A COSO is really a critical component of -- to evaluate 18 an effective framework of internal controls for an organization.
19 So it can really help promote compliance within an organization,
20 and those objectives that I spoke to earlier, the operational
21 objectives, the financial objectives, the compliance objectives,
22 those are all part of COSO. So that framework really helps an 23 organization evaluate the effectiveness of their control
24 environment in support of those areas.

25 Q Directing your attention to the third main bullet that

KM

3593

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 starts with the words "The Framework Establishes Five
2 Components," please tell us about what the five components are
3 and how that relates to the overall COSO Framework.

4 A So the framework does outline these five components
5 that are really interrelated and are hallmarks of an effective
6 control environment holistically.

7 So that first element, control environment has to do
8 with things like tone at the top and the culture of the 9 organization, making sure that, you know, that there is good
10 governance and good tone at the top to make sure that we have an 11 effective control environment.

12 Risk assessment is also a key element or key component
13 of the COSO Framework making sure that we understand the 14 organization's various risks and how we respond to them.

15 Control activities has to do with really what are we 16 doing, what policies, procedures, internal controls do we have 17 in place in the support of our objectives, making sure that we 18 have a sound set of controls.

19 Information and communication has to do with how those 20 policies, procedures and controls are communicated throughout 21 the organization to make sure that there is awareness which is 22 obviously critical to the success of the overall control
23 environment.

24 And then monitoring is also the fifth component really 25 has to do with really evaluating periodically in various

KM

3594

1 different ways to make sure that the control environment that we
2 do have in place is actually functioning as we expect it to.

3 Q Thank you. Let's go to the next slide.

4 Before we turn to the slide, can I ask you please to 5 repeat what it is that you were asked to do in this case.

6 A Sure. So I was asked to evaluate the control
7 environment at the NRA really in consideration of some of the 8 changes that were made as part of NRA's course correction which 9 began in approximately early 2018.

10 Q And what, if any, timeframe did you specifically focus
11 on?

12 A My evaluation focused on the timeframe of 2020. So my 13 opinions are really as of the control environment as of 14 December 31, 2020.

15 (Continued on the following page.)

KM

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Did the NRA's counsel direct you to focus on that
2 particular timeframe?

3 A No.

4 Q Your slide says that you assess both the design of the 5 NRA's internal controls and their effectiveness. Let's focus on 6 that distinction for a second.

7 What is the difference?

8 A So, when you're evaluating internal controls at an
9 organization, the first thing that you want to do is understand
10 how those internal controls are designed. It is important to do
11 so because later on you're going to test whether those controls
12 are effective. If they aren't really effective, effectively
13 designed in the first place, it doesn't matter if they're 14 operating effectively.

15 You need to have appropriate design. You need to make 16 sure that they are comprehensive and adequate to ensure the 17 achievement of the organization objectives.

18 Now, I spoke to the operating effectiveness a little 19 bit. That is a process by which the someone can look at the 20 actual effectiveness of those internal controls and that can be 21 done various ways; for example, through testing of transactions
22 often through either sample testing. It can be done through 23 data analytics and a number of different ways, but testing of 24 those controls is one way of evaluating the operating 25 effectiveness of control environment.

BP

3596

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Let's go to the next slide. You didn't actually go to
2 the NRA, right, to interview individuals and conduct an internal
3 audit on your own; is that fair?

4 A Yes. I did have a conversation with members of 5 management at the NRA, but that's correct.

6 Q And, nonetheless, you were able to formulate certain
7 opinions in this case; right?

8 A Correct.

9 Q What enabled to you do that?

10 A It was really the wealth of information that was 11 available to me in the record.

12 So, for example, in evaluating the design effectiveness
13 of internal controls, I looked at policies, procedures, meeting
14 minutes and things like that. And then when I was evaluating 15 the operating effectiveness, one of the things that I had 16 leveraged were special procedures that were performed by the 17 NRA's audit firm, Aronson. They had conducted these -- I'll try
18 and stay close to this, I apologize. The special procedures
19 were performed by --

20 THE COURT: If they don't hear it, it doesn't 21 count.

22 THE WITNESS: Okay, understood.

23 A The special procedures were conducted by Aronson in 24 2020 as part of their taking on the NRA as a new client.

25 Q And what are we looking at on this slide?

BP

3597

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A So, these are the descriptions of some of the tests
2 that they had performed; and so, broadly, I'll discuss a little
3 bit about what I understand the process that they undertook.

4 It involved discussions with various members of 5 management and the Audit Committee to understand their 6 perspectives on the control environment, governance, the 7 compliance of the NRA at the time that they conducted this 8 review. They also -- Aronson that is -- conducted these 9 additional procedures in connection with their financial 10 statement audit that was conducted in 2020.

11 Now, while these were done in connection with the 12 financial statement audit, they were -- I would say in addition 13 to what is typically performed in a financial statement audit in 14 that they looked at specific internal controls that were part of 15 the AG's complaint to evaluate whether or not the control
16 environment in those areas was strong as of the time that they 17 looked, which was December 2020.

18 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I'm just going to object
19 to the slides to the extent they contain language that's 20 hearsay that's not been admitted.

21 THE COURT: Yeah, this witness is to give his 22 opinions, not just to vouch for another party's work, right?

23 So, I mean, it is fine that if he looked at various 24 things people did; but I would ask that we focus on this 25 witness's independent views as to the adequacy and not

3598

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 simply repeating what -- I don't know whether you have
2 somebody coming from Aronson or not, but their views are
3 their views. His views should be independent.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Understood, your Honor.

5 MR. FARBER: Judge, there's a lot of it in these 6 slides. I said that's what a lot of these slides consist of 7 so perhaps the witness should just testify.

8 THE COURT: As I said, it can be background for 9 some of the research he did, but this is the live witness
10 here and Aronson's work would be hearsay.

11 MS. EISENBERG: Okay.

12 Q Now, Mr. Lerner, you're not simply adopting whatever
13 conclusions Aronson may have reached; is that fair?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Explain to us how, nonetheless, reviewing their papers
16 enabled you to reach your independent opinions in this case.

17 A Sure. So, that was a part of the information that I
18 did review; and, basically, what I had done in the professional
19 standards that apply to my profession, internal auditing, you
20 can rely upon testing that is performed by external parties as 21 long as it meets certain criteria.

22 I did apply that criteria when evaluating the testing
23 of internal controls that was performed by Aronson. That 24 criteria includes things like making sure that the scope is 25 aligned and appropriate to the assessment that you would

BP

3599

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 perform, that I would perform, the credentials of the 2 individuals who are performing that review and the like.

3 So, in applying that criteria, I determined it was
4 appropriate to include the results of their internal control
5 testing as part of my assessment, but I also at that -- in 6 forming my conclusions, reviewed documentation, policies,
7 procedures, meeting minutes, testimony, these types of things.

8 THE COURT: All right, with that as the background,
9 any references here to what Aronson may have concluded or 10 did is simply background. This evidence is -- this is not
11 substantive evidence for you to consider. It is just part
12 of his background. But statements made about what Aronson
13 concluded or said are hearsay, and they're not at the moment
14 anyway testifying.

15 So, you can consider it to that limit of extent as 16 part of the background that he did and looked at, but their 17 conclusions are not evidence yet.

18 MS. EISENBERG: And, your Honor, the jury will be 19 hearing from Aronson later today who now goes by Aprio.
20 They changed their corporate name.

21 Q Now, let's go back to the list that you just provided,
22 the materials that you reviewed.

23 In addition to reviewing those materials, you also 24 spoke to certain individuals at the organization; is that fair?

25 A That's correct.

BP

3600

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q To whom did you speak?

2 A I spoke with Sonya Rowling, John Frazer, and Arif
3 Rahman.

4 Q Arif Rahman?

5 A Yes.

6 Q What types of things did you discuss with them?

7 A My discussion with them was primarily focused on 8 their -- the process by which they compile they're statutory
9 reports, the IRS Form 990 and the New York CHAR500.

10 Q Understood. Let's go to the next slide.

11 In conducting your work on this case, was one of the 12 areas on which you focused conflicts of interest generally and 13 related-party transactions specifically?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And what did you do with regard to that specific 16 subject matter?

17 A In evaluating the controls and some of the underlying
18 documentation that was available noted certain aspects of a
19 control environment that I thought was effective.

20 So, things like considering the financial disclosure
21 form process that the NRA has instituted, which requires
22 officers and members of the board to disclose related-party
23 transactions and conflicts of interest. Some of the controls
24 that were put in place by management to review known conflicts
25 and related-party transactions against expenditures, payment

BP

3601

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 transactions, those types of things.

2 Just noted the enhancements that were made to the
3 financial disclosure questionnaire form. There were -- there
4 was an additional question was added to help gather additional
5 information where a -- one of the individuals who filed the form
6 might know of any third-party relationships that could be 7 involved with the NRA, for example.

8 Q Did you reach a conclusion with regard to the 9 effectiveness of the design of the NRA's internal controls for 10 addressing related-party transactions and conflicts-of-interest
11 matters?

12 A Yes. So, as of the time period that I considered as of 13 December 31, 2020, I felt that the design of the control
14 environment related to -- for related-party transactions and 15 conflicts of interest was effective.

16 Q What about the operating effectiveness of the same
17 controls, did you reach any opinions with regard to that?

18 A Yes, in my opinion that the controls were operating 19 effectively, as well.

20 Q Let's go to the next slide.

21 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, objection for one second
22 on foundation of these questions.

23 The expert is being asked his summary, and I think
24 he needs to state the foundation because I think it is going
25 to implicate an issue that your Honor put his finger on.

BP

3602

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Overruled.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

3 Q Mr. Lerner, what is this slide about?

4 A This really reflects some of the underlying 5 considerations related to the analysis of -- my analysis of the 6 internal control environment as it relates to the approval of 7 third-party contracts.

8 Q What were some of the observations that you made in 9 connection with the review of this subject?

10 A So, I had noted the policy that is in place at the NRA
11 where we refer to as an authority matrix, which really outlines
12 the contract approvals that are necessary for different types of 13 contracts and different amounts; I did note additional controls
14 what we call detected controls that are put in place and those 15 are meant to identify things that may have occurred after, after 16 the fact they may have been non-compliant.

17 One example of that is control that was implemented to 18 evaluate all vendors paid over $100,000 in the -- during the 19 course of the year to make sure that there was a contract in 20 place.

21 So, it is a good detected control from my perspective.

22 Had noted that a number of historically non-compliant
23 contracts had been terminated by the NRA. Those that had 24 remained were either renegotiated or were being monitored such 25 in the way I just described, including an evaluation of the

BP

3603

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 payments that exceed $100,000, for example.

2 Q You referenced an authority matrix in answering my
3 question. Can you please talk a little bit more about what that 4 is?

5 A Sure. So, that's something that is typically found in 6 a policy that relates to contracts or purchasing approvals and 7 things like that. What that describes are the approvals that 8 are necessary from management or the board for, in this case,
9 contracts of specific amounts. So, and it is something you
10 typically like to see in an effective control environment.

11 Q And did you conclude that the NRA has an authority
12 matrix?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Let's look at the right side of the slide. Please tell
15 us what the box at the top refers to and what image we're 16 looking at?

17 A Sure. That's actually an image from the compliance
18 training that the NRA has held since 2018. Just demonstrating
19 in this case the information communication element of COSO which 20 is really about making sure there's awareness of policies and
21 procedures.

22 This outlines some of the requirements as they relate
23 to procurement of new vendors on the top. And then what I was 24 referring to earlier the authority matrix, that's summarized
25 below for contracts greater than or equal to $100,000.

BP

3604

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Did you reach an opinion with regard to whether the
2 NRA's internal controls are designed effectively when it comes
3 to management of third-party contracts?

4 A Yes. And, in my opinion, as of the period that I
5 evaluated, December 31, 2020, the design of the controls related
6 to third-party contracts were effective.

7 Q What about the operating effectiveness of those
8 controls?

9 A Yes. In my opinion, those -- the operating
10 effectiveness of those controls were effective, as well.

11 Q Let's move to the next slide.

12 Please tell us what this slide is about?

13 A Similar to the prior slides, really just highlighting 14 some of the key controls that were the basis for my opinions and 15 conclusions in this case relating to the NRA's expense approval
16 and reimbursement process.

17 Q Thank you. There is a graphic at the bottom on the 18 left side. Let's focus on that. If you can walk us through 19 that and explain how that relates to any conclusions that you
20 reached.

21 A Sure. So, this is really just a high-level visual
22 representation of an effective of the expense report approval
23 process in place at the NRA.

24 So, when an individual submits an expense report,
25 there's a review of that report, make sure that there's

BP

3605

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 appropriate business purpose that is supported by receipts and 2 evidence that those expenses actually occurred. And should
3 those exist, it can be approved. If not, it should be denied.

4 Q And did you conclude based on the review of the 5 information you described that at the NRA, reimbursement
6 requests are denied if they don't come with appropriate backup?

7 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I'm going to object at 8 this point. And to the extent that Mr. Lerner's opining on 9 the design effectiveness, that's one thing. When he's 10 opining on the operating effectiveness, you'll hear and 11 he'll admit he relied upon and vouching upon client
12 retention procedures performed by Aronson. And so that's 13 the vouchering that your Honor was speaking about.

14 We can do voir dire separately, but I think that 15 just having him state his conclusion without revealing that 16 he relied upon and is just spitting back out Aronson
17 procedures is not correct.

18 THE COURT: I'll sustain that. At least the way
19 the question was asked, it is a little unclear. It seems to 20 be more of a fact question. I think the question was to ask
21 whether reimbursements are denied if they don't come with 22 appropriate backup. That's a different question than what 23 the procedures are and what's supposed to happen.

24 I thought the way you asked it sounded like you
25 were asking him whether that's actually the way it works in

BP

3606

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 real practice.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Understood, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: So, maybe we can put a little more
4 behind that question.

5 Q Based on the work that you've done and the review that
6 you've conducted, what is your understanding as to the NRA's
7 policy for any expense reimbursement requests that are not
8 accompanied by appropriate backup?

9 A Through my understanding, the policy would require that 10 those expense reimbursements be denied or returned to the 11 individual who submitted it for it to be corrected.

12 Q Let's look at the left side of the slide. Is it fair
13 to say that it summarized some of the observations that you
14 reached in connection with your work on this case?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Please walk us through them.

17 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor. These are 18 factual conclusions, rather than support for an opinion on 19 operating or design effectiveness.

20 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, this goes to weight.
21 It is clearly admissible.

22 THE COURT: And these are intended to describe the 23 policies, not facts on the ground of what actually happened
24 during the years?

25 MS. EISENBERG: I think it is a little bit of both,

BP

3607

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 but he based these opinions on things that experts in his
2 field typically review.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, Mr. Lerner offered an 4 opinion as to the control environment in the NRA as of
5 December 31, 2021.

6 THE COURT: 2020.

7 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry, 2020. If he's going to 8 state what the design was, so what he based that opinion on 9 that's the actual procedures and policies that were in place
10 that he thought were fine, that's fine.

11 If he's going to talk about what actually happened
12 as of December 31, 2020, and that it was okay and it was 13 operating effectively, he needs to state his basis; and when 14 he states his basis, I think you'll see that there's a basis
15 for objection.

16 THE COURT: I think those are fair observations.
17 So, if we're switching now away from design to efficacy, is 18 that what we're doing?

19 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I simply asked the 20 witness about the left side of the slide, but I'm happy to 21 rephrase and take effectiveness of design versus operating 22 effectiveness one at a time.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MS. CONNELL: Well, it says controls implemented
25 which is operating effectiveness.

BP

3608

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Right, that's what makes it a little
2 confusing as to where we are; but I do agree if you're going
3 to switch to the effectiveness, you have to -- I would 4 suggest that you have to ask the witness what it is based on 5 and what his views are and as opposed to putting --
6 sometimes these may sound to the jury like factual
7 statements. I don't think that's what you intend.

8 So, with that caveat, you can continue.

9 MS. EISENBERG: Certainly, your Honor.

10 Q Let's focus on the right side of the slide. Please
11 walk us through the three graphics that we see there and tell us
12 how they relate to your analysis.

13 A Sure. So, those are visuals, excerpts of the NRA
14 travel and business expense policy. They outline just 15 requirements related to various types of expenses. In this 16 case, lodging, meals and business entertainment expenses,
17 commercial airfare as well as charter air travel.

18 Q At some point did you reach an opinion as to the design
19 and the effectiveness of the design of the NRA's internal 20 controls when it comes to expense approvals and reimbursement?

21 A Yes. In my opinion they were effective as of
22 December 31, 2020.

23 Q And what was your opinion about the effective design
24 based on?

25 A Based on my review of the policies, procedures that

BP

3609

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 type of documentation.

2 Q Okay, and this is a yes or no: Did you at any point
3 reach an opinion as to whether the controls in this regard were 4 operating effectively as of the timeframe that you specified?

5 A Yes.

6 Q When you reached that opinion, what was that opinion
7 based on?

8 A It was based on my review of testing that was performed
9 by Aronson.

10 Q And when you say you reviewed the testing that they
11 performed, please tell us specifically or please describe
12 generically what you reviewed and perhaps give us a few 13 examples.

14 A Sure. So, I had reviewed their what we call audit work
15 papers test sheets that really describe the testing that they
16 had performed in these areas, the samples that they selected,
17 the results of that testing noting any exceptions.

18 Q And do professionals in your field typically rely on 19 papers or documents of that type?

20 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor. This --

21 THE COURT: She can ask that question. We'll take 22 it one step at a time.

23 A Yes, at times you can rely on the testing of others.
24 I think I described a little bit about what that process and the 25 criteria that I applied earlier.

BP

3610

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q And based on all of that, what opinion did you reach
2 about the effectiveness of the NRA's internal control in terms
3 of their operating effectiveness with regard to this topic?

4 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor. This is --

5 THE COURT: Sustained. Based on his testimony, the 6 only thing that he said it is based on is somebody else's
7 work.

8 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

9 Q Let's go to the next slide, which is slide 9.

10 (Displayed)

11 Mr. Lerner, what is this slide about?

12 A Similar to the prior slides, just my evaluation of 13 internal controls as they relate to executive compensation.

14 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I would ask that the 15 slide be taken down. This relates to operating 16 effectiveness and implementation which he did not, himself,
17 look at.

18 THE COURT: Well, we're going to have to do this
19 foundation thing for each part of this, so let's see how it
20 goes. Again, the slides aren't evidence anyway. So, let's
21 just proceed through it.

22 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

23 Q Mr. Lerner, let's take a look at the right side of the 24 slide. Please tell us what we're looking at?

25 A So, this is an excerpt from the meeting minutes for the

BP

3611

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 officers -- I'm sorry -- the report of the officers compensation
2 committee, which is really charged with approving the 3 compensation provided to NRA executives and officers.

4 Q What are were looking at the bottom?

5 A This really speaks to -- it is another excerpt from 6 that. It is really speaking to some of the criteria that the 7 officers' compensation committee considered in approving the 8 compensation that was provided to the NRA executives in this 9 case in 2020, which included just different reports from 10 compensation experts.

11 Q Based on your review of the materials that you
12 described, what do you understand the internal controls to be at 13 the NRA for ensuring that compensation is determined
14 appropriately?

15 A So, the NRA hires a third-party consultant to evaluate 16 the compensation that is provided to its officers and 17 executives, which is common in my experience. Making sure that 18 it is compared against similar organizations, to make sure that 19 the payments -- that the compensation that's provided is 20 appropriate.

21 Q Did you reach an opinion as to whether the NRA's
22 internal controls with regard to executive compensation are 23 designed effectively?

24 A Yes. In my opinion, the controls are designed 25 appropriately.

BP

1 Q And that was, again, in relation to the timeframe of --

2 A Yes, as of 2020, correct.

3 Q Let's go to the next slide, which is slide 10.

4 (Displayed)

5 Please tell us what this slide is about?

6 A Similar, this is the basis upon which I formed my 7 opinions, just some highlights as -- of the control environment
8 as it relates to the NRA's whistleblower program.

9 Q When you're evaluating the -- I'm sorry -- the 10 effectiveness of the design of internal controls when it
11 comes to whistleblower programs, what types of things do you
12 look for?

13 A Well, I look for some of the policies and procedures
14 that are in place. So, in this case it was the NRA's statement
15 of corporate ethics and whistleblower policies.

16 I look at really the things like the reporting
17 structures that are in place. So, things like the Audit
18 Committee review of any whistleblower reports to make sure that 19 those are appropriately reviewed by governance.

20 I look at the structure for investigating whistleblower
21 reports, resolving them, and also look for some of the vehicles
22 through which whistleblower reports can be submitted.

23 Q Let's look at the at the top of the right side. It
24 says: "Non-retaliation Clause."

25 Do you see that?

BP

3613

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A Yes.

2 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I'm sorry, I don't mean
3 to interrupt; but the slide is a factual narration of not 4 what the design and his opinion about the design, but 5 findings that he made. It is the type of narration that 6 your Honor has spoken about before.

7 Focussing on the policies is one thing for design
8 effectiveness, the rest is --

9 THE COURT: At this point I'm not flyspecking the 10 slides and focussing on the testimony.

11 The jury has heard me say enough times that factual
12 statements by expert witnesses are not evidence. They may 13 or may not be relevant to the opinions we're getting into.

14 So, I'd rather not --

15 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry, your Honor, I'm just 16 trying to preserve the record.

17 THE COURT: Well, the record right now is the 18 testimony. That slide is not in the record.

19 So, go ahead.

20 Q Mr. Lerner, the top right part of the slide, there's a 21 quote. What is this a quote from?

22 A This is a quote from the NRA's whistleblower policy,
23 which is a part of the statement of corporate ethics.

24 Q And what does that quote say?

25 A Well, I can --

BP

3614

M. Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q In sum and substance.

2 A In summary it says that anyone who submits a
3 whistleblower report in good faith should not be retaliated
4 against.

5 Q When you evaluate the effectiveness of the design of 6 internal controls related to whistleblowing, do you typically 7 look for an anti-retaliation provision?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And when a company does have an anti-retaliation
10 provision, how does that affect your analysis with regard to 11 this issue?

12 A Well, it's one aspect of a good control environment in 13 that place. You want to make sure that individuals feel 14 comfortable submitting whistleblower reports and understanding
15 that they won't be retaliated against for submitting them.

16 Q Let's look at the second box, which is entitled "Audit
17 Committee Discusses Reports Received."

18 Why did you include it on the slide?

19 A I think it is important and it is part of the NRA's
20 policy that whistleblower reports be submitted for consideration
21 to the Audit Committee. So, as part of my analysis, I reviewed
22 Audit Committee meeting minutes to evaluate whether 23 whistleblower reports were included in those minutes.

24 Q And when you see references to whistleblowing in Audit
25 Committee reports, how does that affect your over all evaluation

BP

3615

1 of the effectiveness of design of internal controls with regard
2 to whistleblowing?

3 A It is an important aspect of an effective control
4 environment.

5 Q Let's look at the third rectangle entitled "Anonymous
6 Reporting Capabilities."

7 Please tell us why you included that?

8 A That is an aspect of the NRA's whistleblower policy as 9 well. Similar to my comments about non-retaliation, you want
10 potential whistleblowers to feel comfortable with submitting
11 anonymous reports as well should they not be comfortable
12 submitting it with their name attached. So, we want to make 13 sure there's a way that whistleblowers can do that.

14 Q Is this a quote?

15 A Yes, this is an excerpt from the NRA's whistleblower
16 policy.

1 Q When an organization has an arrangement for enabling
2 anonymous reporting, how does that affect your overall
3 evaluation of the internal control?

4 A It's an element of an effective control environment.

5 Q So that's a good thing; right?

6 A That's a good thing.

7 Q Let's take a look at the next piece which is entitled
8 email communication of whistleblower policy updates.

9 What is that?

10 A So this was a email that was sent by the NRA in this
11 case with I believe it was John Frazer, and you want to make 12 sure that when policies are updated that they are not only
13 updated and available but actually communicated to individuals.
14 So this was an excerpt from an email that went to NRA staff just 15 highlighting updates and changes to the whistleblower policy to 16 help with awareness.

17 Q And what about the last one?

18 A Similar email communication. In this case, the 19 Statement of Corporate Ethics was updated. So a similar email
20 that was sent demonstrating that it was communicated to staff.

21 Q And this slide, just to be clear, doesn't represent all
22 the information that you reviewed in connection with the 23 subject; is that fair?

24 A Correct. Like the others, these are just some 25 highlights or excerpts of things that I considered in my

KM

3617

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 evaluation of control environment in this area.

2 Q And you have also considered sworn testimony by fact
3 witnesses; is that fair?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And based on all the various things that you considered
6 and your experience, what, if any, conclusion did you reach with 7 regard to whether the internal controls of the NRA are designed
8 effectively as of 2020 when it comes to the NRA's whistleblower
9 program?

10 A I felt that the control environment was designed
11 effectively as of December 31, 2020.

12 Q And this is a yes or no.

13 Did you reach a conclusion as to the operating 14 effectiveness of the same controls?

15 A Yes.

16 Q What was that conclusion based on?

17 A It was based upon in part on some of the testing that
18 was performed by Aronson, but I also reviewed Audit Committee
19 meeting minutes and things like that to evaluate whether 20 whistleblower reports were submitted and reported to the Audit
21 Committee.

22 Q If you set aside the Aronson piece, is the material
23 that you reviewed in addition to that sufficient for you to be 24 able to form a view as to the operating effectiveness?

25 A I don't -- I don't think so. I think it's important to

KM

3618

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 consider, you know, holistically. That's an important element
2 of the operating effectiveness of the controls.

3 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, while preserving our 4 rights, I will just move on because I know that you will 5 rule the same way as you did previously.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 Q Let's look at the 11th slide.

8 Why did you include it in your presentation?

9 A So this highlights some of the compliance trainings
10 that have been held at the NRA since 2018.

11 I mentioned earlier, you know, the information and 12 communications component, for example, of COSO. This is really,
13 you know, evidence of that and showing in various areas that I
14 evaluated. So conflicts of interest and related-party
15 transactions, expenditures, contract approvals, whistleblowers,
16 those types of things. Those have been included in the 17 compliance training that are provided to NRA staff, senior
18 leadership and the Board over the last number of years.

19 So you know, it's important as I mentioned earlier that 20 there is not only policies but awareness of those policies and 21 how individuals are expected to behave and enforce and make sure
22 that those policies are enforced, and compliance trainings are I
23 think -- are critical elements of that.

24 Q Let's take down the slides, and I just want to talk to 25 you without the slides.

KM

3619

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Did you evaluate the internal controls at the NRA for 2 making sure that form 990, CHAR 500 reporting is complete and
3 accurate?

4 A I evaluated the design effectiveness of those controls.

5 Q In evaluating the design effectiveness of those
6 controls, what materials did you consider?

7 A I mean, the reports themselves. I did have a
8 conversation, I referred to earlier, with Sonya Rowling, John
9 Frazer and Arif Rahman.

10 Q What did you come to understand with regard to the 11 internal controls of the NRA based on your interview of those 12 employees?

13 A They walked me through, and this is a typical way of 14 understanding control environment. They walked me through the 15 process that they undertake to compile the information for the 16 form 990.

17 So you know, they talked about how -- who was 18 responsible. In this case Arif Rahman. He is primarily 19 responsible for compiling a lot of the information.

20 We talked about the approvals and reviews that are 21 performed to make sure that they are accurate, you know, the 22 information that is compiled.

23 We talked about the sources of information, you know,
24 taken from HR records, vendor records, 1099's, the accounts
25 payable records of the organization, how that's all compiled.

KM

3620

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 It is reviewed by multiple individuals including
2 Michael Erstling, Sonya Rowling, John Frazer. Talked about the 3 process for presenting the report for approval and review by the
4 Audit Committee.

5 So they really walked me through the entire process of 6 compiling the 990.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Can the members of the jury hear the
8 witness? I want to make sure the members of the jury can
9 hear you.

10 Q Okay. So in -- after having done the work that you
11 just described, analyzed the information, and based on your 12 experience, what, if any, conclusion did you reach about whether 13 or not the internal controls of the NRA when it comes to Forms
14 990 and their accuracy are designed effectively?

15 A So my -- in my opinion, the design of the internal 16 controls as they relate to the compilation of the Form 990 and 17 CHAR 500 are effective as of December 31, 2020.

18 MS. EISENBERG: Mr. Stein, if we can please go to 19 slide 14.

20 Q Please tell us what we are looking at on this one.

21 A So this is a -- what I would say is a very high-level
22 representation of the documents that I had considered as a part
23 of my analysis. There are many of them. So I put them into I
24 would say some buckets or categories here.

25 Q Okay. Let's go to the next slide.

KM

3621

Lerner - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Did you evaluate the opinions offered by Mr. Tenenbaum
2 and Mr. Hines?

3 A I did.

4 Q What observations, if any, did you form?

5 A In my opinion, you know, they had stated opinions, and 6 we had heard some of them I think recently about the 7 effectiveness of the control environment at the NRA, fraud risk
8 indicators and the like.

9 In my opinion, they did not take into consideration
10 some of the control enhancements that were implemented during 11 the course correction at the NRA so beginning in 2018 and 12 continuing into present day.

13 Q Anything else?

14 A No. That's high-level summary.

15 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much, Mr. Lerner.
16 I'll pass the witness, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Any other direct testimony? No?

18 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

19 MR. FLEMING: No, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Begin cross. We have maybe 15,
21 20 minutes.

22 MS. CONNELL: I'd like to see if I can get it done
23 in this time. I think I can, and we can make the most use
24 of time.

25 THE COURT: Good.

1 CROSS-EXAMINATION

2 BY MS. CONNELL:

3 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Lerner. I'm Monica Connell from 4 the Attorney General's Office.

5 We have met before; correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q You just gave a lot of opinions about the design
8 effectiveness of various NRA internal controls; right?

9 A Right.

10 Q You would agree with me that the design effectiveness
11 of an internal control assumes that it operates as designed;
12 correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And that the effectiveness of even the best designed 15 internal control can be negated when management overrides or 16 evades that internal control; correct?

17 A It can be, yes.

18 Q As part of your work in this case, you did not look at 19 whether any of the NRA's internal controls had been evaded or 20 overridden before 2020; right?

21 A My opinions did not specifically relate to those, but I
22 am aware of some of the elements within the complaint and did
23 take those into consideration when conducting my analysis and 24 scoping my analysis and some of the areas that I considered.

25 Q But you didn't investigate whether those allegations

KM

3623

Lerner - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 were true; correct?

2 MS. EISENBERG: Outside the scope, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 A No, I didn't specifically investigate them.

5 Q You are an internal auditor; right?

6 A Right.

7 Q You weren't hired to do an internal audit for the NRA
8 in this case.

9 A No.

10 Q And you weren't hired to do an internal control audit
11 for the NRA in this case.

12 A I performed an internal control assessment.

13 Q You performed an assessment. Not an internal control
14 audit; correct?

15 A I mean, I think those terms are similar.

16 Q Well, Mr. Lerner, didn't you testify that, for example,
17 the IIA standards that usually apply to your work didn't apply
18 to this engagement?

19 A Yes. So those apply --

20 Q That's a yes or no question.

21 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I ask that counsel not 22 interrupt the witness.

23 THE COURT: It was a yes or no. She can insist on 24 a yes or no answer.

25 You can -- just so you know, on cross-examination,

KM

3624

Lerner - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 they can ask narrow questions like that. You can either
2 answer yes or no or say why you can't.

3 If you want to elaborate beyond the yes or no, you
4 can be redirected on that.

5 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

6 Q Mr. Lerner, you said you were -- you were retained by 7 the Brewer Firm for the NRA in this case; right?

8 A My firm was.

9 Q Your firm was; correct.

10 How much has your firm been paid for your work to date?

11 A To my knowledge, it's approximately $700,000.

12 Q Up to date?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And how much are you getting paid on an hourly basis?

15 A My rate is $775 an hour, I believe.

16 Q So as part of your engagement, you could go to the 17 NRA's headquarter and poke around; right?

18 A I could.

19 Q And you could have spoken to any NRA employees that you
20 wanted to; right?

21 A I think so.

22 Q And yet, you testified at your deposition that the only
23 NRA employees you spoke with were Sonya Rowling, John Frazer and 24 Arif Rahman by a 90-minute Microsoft Teams call; right?

25 A Correct.

KM

3625

Lerner - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Connell

1 Q That focused on regulatory filings; right?

2 A Correct. Primarily.

3 Q And you talked about reviewing sworn testimony in this
4 case; correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And the sworn testimony that you were given in this
7 case was given to you by the Brewer Firm; correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q They determined what testimony you would review;
10 correct?

11 A They did provide it. You know, I had asked for --

12 Q Mr. Lerner, you previously testified --

13 THE COURT: Well, he can finish that answer.

14 A Yes. They provided the testimony that I reviewed on 15 specific topics that I had outlined as the scope of my review.

16 Q And they determined what testimony you should review;
17 correct?

18 A I mean, yes. I wasn't aware of all of the testimony
19 that existed.

20 Q And Mr. Lerner you were talking about the travel --
21 enforcement of the travel policy earlier on the slide that you
22 brought up. I think it was slide -- if we can have it brought 23 up. Slide number eight. On the bottom, Square D.

24 A Yes.

25 Q Do you know what year that travel policy went into

KM

3626

Lerner - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 effect?

2 A I believe it was 2021 or it might have been 2022.

3 Q So it went into effect after the date you're opining
4 about the design effectiveness of the NRA's internal controls;
5 correct?

6 A Correct.

7 MS. CONNELL: Thank you very much, Mr. Lerner.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Any other defendants want to 9 cross?

10 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor. No thank you.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 Anything further, Ms. Eisenberg?

13 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor. Just briefly.

14 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

15 BY MS. EISENBERG:

16 Q In connection with your work on this case, did you have 17 an opportunity to review reports of Mr. Tenenbaum and Mr. Hines?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And based on your review of those reports, do you have 20 any information about whether or not they are being compensated
21 for their work on this case as well?

22 MS. CONNELL: Objection, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: I think they have already testified
24 about their compensation.

25 MS. CONNELL: It's fine, your Honor. We withdraw

KM

1 the objection.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And the rate that you charged for your work on this
4 case, is it the typical rate that you charge to all clients?

5 A Yes.

6 Q When you were provided with information that you
7 evaluated in connection with your work on this case, do you have 8 any reason to believe that any testimony was held back or 9 withheld?

10 A Not to my knowledge.

11 Q And was there anything that you wanted to see that was 12 not provided to you?

13 A No.

14 Q Ms. Connell mentioned a few things you could have done
15 but didn't do. Nonetheless, even though you didn't travel to 16 Virginia, how were you able to form the opinions that you shared 17 with the members of the jury earlier today?

18 A You know, this is customary in my profession. Right.
19 I conduct a lot of internal audits, internal control
20 assessments.

21 We don't always visit on site. There are different
22 means and methods for gathering information, and you know, in 23 connection with that analysis.

24 In this case, there was a lot of documentation related
25 to policies, procedures, testimony and things like that that I

KM

3628

Lerner - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 did consider. Where I felt like I didn't have enough
2 information to form my conclusions, I asked for more
3 information. In this case, it related to the conversation that 4 I had with Sonya Rowling, John Frazer and Arif Rahman.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much, Mr. Lerner.

6 No further questions, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Thank you. Anything further?

8 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Thank you very much. You can step
10 down.

11 We have about -- we would have about five minutes.
12 So should we just take our break now or is there any benefit
13 of starting something? All right. Let's take our lunch
14 break. We will reconvene at 2:15.

15 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

16 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
17 the courtroom.)

18 THE COURT: Is there anything that we can 19 profitably do to address things for the afternoon that are 20 going to come up without wasting the jury's time?

21 MS. CONNELL: I'm not aware of any right now, but 22 Mr. Shiffman is handling the next witness. Mr. Wang.

23 Ms. Cullen is the next witness?

24 MS. EISENBERG: Correct.

25 MS. CONNELL: Mr. Wang is. I don't think so.

2 MR. FARBER: One logistical thing.

6 THE COURT: All right. Thanks.

8 recess taken.)

6 DIRECT EXAMINATION

7 BY MS. EISENBERG:

8 Q Good afternoon. Please tell us where you work.

9 A At Aprio.

10 Q What kind of company is Aprio?

11 A It's an accounting firm.

12 Q Did it recently merge with another company called 13 Aronson?

14 A Yes, that's correct. As of January 1, 2023.

15 Q What is your position at Aprio?

16 A I am the director of non-profit tax services.

17 Q How long have you been with Aprio? I'm sorry. With 18 Aronson/Aprio.

19 A I have been with them roughly three years.

20 Q What, if any, services does Aprio perform for the NRA?

21 A They perform audit services as well as a review and 22 consulting work on the 990.

23 Q Have you been involved in the review and consulting
24 work on the Form 990 for the NRA?

25 A Yes, I have.

KM

3631

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q And since when was that?

2 A Since I started in April of 2021.

3 Q We have heard in the trial references to Form 990
4 preparation and separately Form 990 review.

5 Would you please tell the members of the jury from your 6 perspective what the distinction is.

7 A Sure. So the Form 990 is a tax form that non-profit
8 organizations have to file, and the preparer is the one who is 9 actually taking the form and using software to put the 10 information on to the return.

11 A reviewer looks at that information for accuracy and 12 completeness.

13 Q And when a company like yours reviews but don't prepare
14 Form 990, does it typically sign the Form 990?

15 A No, we would never sign a return that we are not the 16 preparer for.

17 There is a line for the organization to sign the return
18 and a line for the paid preparer and for the organizations that 19 we are just providing review work for, we don't sign those 20 returns.

21 Q Is it fair to say that the NRA prepares its own Form
22 990?

23 A Yes, that is correct. They have their own software
24 that they are using, and they are preparing their 990.

25 Q And that your company reviews the form and provides

KM

3632

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 consulting services in connection with the form?

2 A Yes. That's correct.

3 Q Do you have any clients other than the NRA who prepare
4 their own Forms 990?

5 A Yes. Typically our larger clients are preparing their 6 own 990s. They have a more sophisticated staff and are able to 7 do that and hire us to do the review and any consulting work
8 regarding the 990.

9 Q Understood. Now, let's step back a little bit and tell
10 the members of the jury a little bit about your professional
11 background.

12 A Sure. So I have a J.D. and an LLM in taxation.

13 I started my career at Deloitte doing various types of 14 tax there.

15 When the Form 990, the non-profit tax form was 16 revitalized in 2008, I jumped over to start doing non-profit
17 only work and have done non-profit tax solely for the past
18 15 years.

19 Q And did you say that you head up a particular
20 department at your company?

21 A So I head up the non-profit tax group. We are a group
22 of eight individuals that are dedicated to our non-profit
23 clients.

24 We have got about 850 990s that we do. So everybody on 25 the team is a non-profit specialist. We don't have people doing

KM

3633

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 like partnership returns, individual returns. Everybody is a
2 non-profit specialist.

3 Q Did you say 850?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And what does that refer to?

6 A The number of 990s that our firm either prepares or 7 reviews.

8 Q What do you do to stay on top of the latest tips and 9 best practices in your field?

10 A Sure. So I get a daily email that is non-profit tax
11 specific that highlights any changes that have recently happened
12 or any court cases. And then I also go to different training.
13 Most recently, I was in the State of New York for their New York
14 State Non-Profit conference.

15 Q Welcome back.

16 A Thank you.

17 Q Could you please tell us what you do to review the 18 NRA's Form 990.

19 A Sure. So I start -- I look at the financial 20 statements, familiarize myself with what was going on during 21 that year that way. And then I start on Page 1 of the return
22 and I really flip every single page looking for accuracy and to 23 make sure that the narrative is telling the same information
24 throughout the return.

25 Q And in connection with with this process, with whom at

KM

3634

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 the NRA do you typically interface?

2 A Rick Tedrick, Sonya Rowling, John Frazer, and there was
3 a gentleman with the organization named Arif who is no longer
4 there who was also part of it.

5 Q And when you have occasion to speak to them about it,
6 is it typically in person, on the phone over Zoom or something
7 else?

8 A We use Teams meetings a lot or Zoom meetings.

9 Q Okay. And when you use Zoom meetings, does that 10 provide for an opportunity to pull up the form on the screen and 11 discuss it in context?

12 A Yes. Zoom and Teams meetings both allow you to share
13 your screen so that everybody is on the same page and able to 14 look at the draft of the 990 and make sure we are talking about 15 the same questions.

16 Q Understood. And in the course of your work on this
17 engagement for the NRA and interactions with the three 18 individuals that you mentioned, have you come to form a view as 19 to their commitment to making sure that the NRA's Form 990 is as 20 complete and as accurate as possible?

21 A Yes. I believe they are all very involved in the 22 process. The depth of the questions that they typically reach
23 out to me for while they are preparing those shows they are 24 really taking a vested interest in what information they are 25 putting on the return. And additionally, they ask me to present

KM

3635

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 the return to the Audit Committee.

2 Q Let's talk about the Audit Committee. Have you made
3 presentations to the NRA's Board's Audit Committee?

4 A Yes. The past two years I have done a virtual
5 presentation to the Board of the 990 where we walk through all
6 -- every page of the 990 and point out the important parts that
7 they really need to be focusing on as well as the general
8 information that's contained in the return.

9 Q When was the latest set presentation that you delivered
10 to the Audit Committee?

11 A I don't remember the exact date, but it was before
12 their 2022 return was due November 15 of 2023. I believe it was 13 in October, but I might be a little off when that happened.

14 Q Of course. And ballpark, how long was your 15 presentation?

16 A The meeting itself went for about an hour, but it
17 wasn't just a presentation. I encouraged them to ask questions
18 throughout the process which they -- everybody was very 19 interactive, asking questions and was really involved in the 20 process.

21 Q And how does that compare to some of your other
22 clients?

23 A So I do have some other clients that are -- have audit
24 committees that are very good and interactive as well and then I
25 do have some clients who unfortunately their audit committees

KM

3636

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 don't ask any questions. I have a ten-minute presentation
2 instead of an hour, and at the end when I'm done, I don't know
3 if anybody's listened to anything I have actually said. So they 4 are much more involved.

5 Q And going back to your interactions with Mr. Frazer,
6 Ms. Rowling and Mr. Tedrick, are there ever times when after 7 your review you identify questions for them?

8 A Yes. So quite often, I'll ask questions to get more
9 information from them to figure out if what is on the form is 10 the way it should be reported.

11 Additionally, as we are going through things, if there
12 is things that I think are not being reported correctly, they 13 will make those changes and then send out another draft for 14 review.

15 Q What is the C-Track validation process?

16 A Sure. So C-Track is the tax software system that the 17 NRA uses to prepare their return. And part of that process is 18 once they think their return is ready to be submitted to the 19 IRS, there is a button that they have to press that says
20 "validate," and I'm not an IT person, but it somehow runs the 21 data to make sure all of the numbers are tied in correctly and 22 that every part that is required to be completed is complete.

23 Q And in your professional opinion, how does that help,
24 if at all, insure that disclosures are as accurate and complete
25 as possible?

KM

3637

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A So it insures that required disclosures are in the 2 return because it won't pass validation without that. And then
3 if it doesn't pass validation, they can't hit the "submit"
4 button to e-file the return with the IRS, and e-filing is
5 required, so they can't file the return until it passes
6 validation.

7 Q Do all of your clients use C-Track?

8 A They do not. So when Aprio was Aronson, Aronson was 9 using C-Track for all of our clients. It's an excellent
10 software, and I believe the only software that was designed just 11 for 990s, so it's specific for non-profit organizations and is 12 very user-friendly and interactive.

13 We do have -- after we merged we switched over to CCH
14 software that we use for the bulk of our clients, but most of 15 our clients that are preparing their own returns have decided to 16 stay with C-Track.

17 THE COURT: Counsel, I don't like to interrupt, but 18 just because I am trying to keep track, do we know the 19 years -- the witness has talked a lot about the company's 20 process, but I don't know that you've asked yet which years
21 of 990s she's worked on.

22 MS. EISENBERG: I don't think --

23 THE COURT: If I am confused, it's certainly
24 possible that the jury might not know either.

25 MS. EISENBERG: I'm sorry. Thank you very much.

KM

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Ms. Cullen, tell us which of the NRA's Form 990s you
2 have reviewed?

3 A I have reviewed their 2020, 2021 and 202 tax returns.

4 Q And those were filed in which years?

5 A So that they -- those would have been filed a year
6 later. So close to November 15 of 2021, November 15 of 2022 and 7 November 15 of 2023.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 Q Thank you. You shared with us your recollection of the 10 meeting with the Audit Committee in the Fall of 2023.

11 I believe you testified there was a similar 12 presentation that you delivered in the year prior. Please tell
13 us about that presentation.

14 A That was very similar. It was also a virtual meeting.
15 And again, the Audit Committee was very involved in the process
16 asking questions and really making sure to the best of their 17 knowledge that the information that was being reported was 18 accurate.

19 Q If you would be so kind to turn to Tab 5 in the binder
20 that's to your left, and that is PX 2347.

21 A Okay.

22 Q And that document is already in evidence, so we can
23 display it for the jury.

24 What is PX 2347?

25 A This is the NRA's Form 990 for their 2020 tax year. So

KM

3639

Cullen - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 this is the one that would have been filed around November 15 of 2 2021.

3 Q And not specifically or exactly, but about how many
4 pages does this Form 990 contain?

5 A So I haven't flipped to the back page of this one, but 6 the NRA's 990 is usually about 101 to 103 pages. This one is 7 108.

8 Q Does the form consists of certain sections or parts?
9 And if so, what are they?

10 A Sure. So the form -- the core form of the 990 has 12
11 parts, and each of those are asking for various information
12 that's different in each part.

13 So what you're seeing on the screen right now is Part 1
14 of the return and this is just an overview, and it gives the 15 reader an overall sense of what they are going to see further 16 into the return, and almost all of the information on Page 1 of 17 the return is being pulled from other sections of the return.

18 Q And then on -- if you direct us to a particular page,
19 we can scroll to that on the screen.

20 A Okay. And then the next page, Page 2 of the return is 21 Part 3. This is program service accomplishments are listed
22 here. This is a really important part of the return. This
23 tells the reader exactly what the organization was spending
24 their money on and what their program services were for that 25 year, and this changes a lot each year because everything that

KM

3640

1 they are doing is slightly different year to year.

2 I mean, it all falls under their general mission, but
3 the extent of their reach changes each year, so it's important
4 that this is updated. So that's Part 3.

5 And then Part 4 which is the next page is a checklist
6 of required schedules, and this is one of those sections that 7 C-Track is particularly good with. Depending on the answers on 8 this schedule, it let's you know what other schedules you need
9 to complete.

10 So the core form of the 990 has 12 parts, but then 11 there is all these lettered schedules that organizations may 12 have to complete depending on how they answer these yes and no
13 questions.

1 Q Thank you, Ms. Cullen. Is there a form -- I'm sorry.
2 Is there a section of the form that deals with governance
3 issues?

4 A Yes. That's section -- part 6.

5 Q And is there a schedule that goes with that?

6 A There's not a schedule, per se, for the governance.

7 Q Okay.

8 A It's all on part 6; and a lot of part 6 depending on 9 how the questions are answered do have Schedule O disclosures.

10 Q Understood. What is Schedule J?

11 A Schedule J -- so I think it might make sense to go back
12 to part 7 first, part 7 which is actually page 7 of the 990.

13 This lists out the officers, directors and board
14 members, the highest compensated individuals and key employees
15 of the organization. Anybody that's listed on this part who has 16 compensation over $150,000, it's called the Schedule J.

17 So the Schedule J then provides additional breakout of 18 compensation information for individuals listed in part 7.

19 Q Understood. When you made the presentation to the 20 Audit Committee of the NRA's board in the fall of 2023, do you
21 remember where they used specifically discussed the governance
22 section of the Form 990?

23 A Yes, we did.

24 Q And what about during the fall of 2022?

25 A Yes.

BP

1 Q Does the Internal Revenue Service issue instructions
2 for the Form 990?

3 A Yes, there's a long set of instructions for the core
4 form of the 990, as well as instructions for each schedule.

5 Q Based on your professional experience in this area,
6 what if any view have you formed about whether or not despite
7 best efforts sometimes inadvertent errors are caught?

8 A Yes. Many organizations --

9 MR. WANG: Objection. Your Honor. It calls for 10 opinion testimony.

11 THE COURT: Overruled.

12 A Many organizations have an error or two or something
13 that can be stated more clearly on their 990s. It is such a

6 How do you spell the witness's last name?

7 MS. ROGERS: P-L-O-T-T-S.

8 Your Honor, while we wait for Mr. Plotts, it is my 9 understanding that there were a few slides that Mr. Lerner
10 had that were objected to because the Aronson testimony
11 wasn't yet on the record.

12 I wasn't here so I apologize if I'm misconstruing,
13 but would the Court after the Aronson testimony is in be 14 amenable to us briefly calling Mr. Lerner to discuss those 15 matters?

16 THE COURT: No.

17 MS. ROGERS: Okay.

18 THE COURT: I didn't mean that as harshly as it may 19 have come across. I didn't think it was an unreasonable

13

BY MS. ROGERS:

14

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Plotts. Can you introduce yourself

15

16

A Yes, I'm Greg Plotts.

17

THE COURT: That's not going to work. You have to 18

come closer.

19

A I'm Greg Plotts. I'm a CPA. I've been a public

20 accountant for twenty-five years. Currently, I work at Aprio.

21

Aronson just recently just merged in with Aprio January 1st,

22

the not-for-profit audit division, and went to a regional firm after that and became partner and then joined up with Aronson

1 about 2016.

2 Q Can you describe for the jury the extent to which your
3 work as an accountant focuses on not-for-profit versus for 4 profit organizations?

5 A Yes. Currently now with Aronson/Aprio is one hundred
6 percent not-for-profit audits.

7 Q Are you a Certified Public Accountant?

8 A I am.

9 Q The jury's heard from some paid accounting experts
10 brought in to give about opinions about issues in litigation.

11 I want you to clarify you're not testifying as a hired
12 expert witness; right?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q Can you describe the standard of independence that 15 applies to you as an accountant, as an auditor?

16 A Yeah, independence is a keystone to being an 17 independent auditor. It is making sure that we are objective, 18 that we're free from any influence from management, from the 19 board, from the Audit Committee. And we're not ones to make 20 management decisions. We have to make sure that that's 21 management and we're independent from management.

22 And we -- we do professional skepticism. It is very 23 important with all the independence that go along with that.

24 Q What do you mean by "professional skepticism?"

25 A The bottom line, just not taking everything at face

BP

3646

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 value when you're having conversations with management and Audit
2 Committee. We trust what they're saying, but we verify what
3 they're saying.

4 Q The jury just heard testimony from Stacey Cullen.
5 Can you describe how your position differs from her
6 position at Aprio?

7 A Yes, I am an audit partner so I'm in charge of the 8 audits for not-for-profit division in our firm, and she is a tax
9 accountant, so she does all of our 990 work for our
10 not-for-profits.

11 Q And you work on the NRA account, too; right?

12 A I do work on NRA account.

13 Q When did you start your work with the NRA at 14 Aronson/Aprio?

15 A I'm sorry, repeat that question?

16 Q Sure, so you were at Aronson and now Aprio, which is 17 the same firm; right?

18 A Yes, it is.

19 Q And you work with the NRA, right?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q When did that start?

22 A That started in 2019.

23 Q Okay. Let's turn to Tab 4 of your binder. This is --

24 MS. ROGERS: I'm going to show this to the witness,
25 but it is not in evidence yet.

BP

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 This is DX1-0007.

2 Q And let me know when you've got that in front of you.

3 A I have that in front of me.

4 Q Mr. Plotts, do you recognize this document?

5 A I do.

6 Q What is the document?

7 A This is our Acceptance and Continuance form.

8 Q Is it in the ordinary course of your work as an
9 auditor, do you prepare these forms often?

10 A We do on every job.

11 Q And you rely on them in the ordinary course of your 12 work?

13 A We do.

14 MS. ROGERS: I move to admit it into evidence.

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, we object to the extent
16 it contains hearsay within the document itself.

17 THE COURT: Look, this is -- it's admissible as a
18 business record which means that you can accept it for the 19 fact that it faithfully records certain things that they did
20 and thought.

21 To the extent that within it are statements made by 22 other people that they have recorded, you can take it as 23 evidence that this is what they heard and reported on their 24 form; but it doesn't go to the truth of what those other
25 people told them.

BP

3648

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 We've talked about this so many times you probably
2 would all get a very good grade in an evidence class in law
3 school, but that's the issue here. It is called hearsay
4 within hearsay. So, the business record gets sort of a
5 first level, which is that since this is prepared in the 6 ordinary course it has some general business reliability
7 that it's not just made up, but the underlying statements
8 from others is -- this is not for the truth of the matter
9 asserted by those people.

10 Okay, otherwise, it is admitted into evidence with 11 that caveat.

12 MS. ROGERS: Thank you, your Honor.

13 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0478 was
14 admitted and received into evidence.)

15 Q Mr. Plotts, when your audit firm takes on a new client,
16 is there a vetting process for the client?

17 A There is. There's a form that we always fill out, an 18 acceptance form.

19 Q Can you describe that vetting process?

20 A Yeah, we go through and make sure that we are 21 comfortable with internal controls or tone at the top with the 22 not-for-profit organization when we bring on new clients and 23 that we'll be able to complete an audit of their financial 24 statements.

25 Q Is the vetting process always the same or does some

BP

3649

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 potential new audit clients receive more scrutiny than others?

2 A It is not the same. Every audit is unique, and so we
3 tailor audit procedures around each client that we have.

4 Q Tell the jury when and why you prepared this form
5 regarding the NRA?

6 A Sure. We were contacted in October of 2019 that the 7 NRA was looking for a new auditor, a new audit firm and so we
8 were understanding we did some investigation as far as news
9 articles that were out there and so we came through a couple of 10 ones that concerned us.

11 So, we wanted to talk within our organization if this 12 is the kind of client that we wanted to be associated with and 13 to -- to work with. It was approved. To go out and meet with 14 the management of the NRA to find out more information of what's 15 in those news articles.

16 Q And would you describe this as a due diligence process?

17 A Oh, absolutely, yes.

18 Q In the course of your diligence, whom at the NRA did 19 you meet with?

20 A We met with Craig Spray, the CFO and treasurer at the 21 time. We met with Sonya Rowling and we met with Rick Tedrick.

22 Q And can you describe for the jury aspects of those 23 meetings that informed your view of whether this was the kind of 24 clients you wanted to be associated with?

25 A Yeah, we definitely had some concerns with what was

BP

3650

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 going on in the environment. So, we came in pretty, pretty hard
2 asking questions to management of some things that came out were 3 the allegations of the Russia investigation. These were top of 4 my list to talk to them about. I wanted to get their story on 5 this. Oliver North and Ackerman McQueen and that relationship,
6 we also heard about the New York State Attorney General was 7 having an investigation into the NRA.

8 So, those were the main topics that I wanted to get 9 information from them and get an understanding to make sure we 10 can move on with a proposal process.

11 Q We want to orient the timeline here. So this is 2019.
12 There's an investigation by the New York State AG, but not a 13 lawsuit, right?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q When you met with management, what kind of criteria and 16 qualities were you assessing to figure out if you wanted to work
17 with these people?

18 A Integrity is one of the first things that we look at.
19 We want to make sure that they want to have internal controls
20 and that they're transparent with us about what's going on with 21 our questions, too.

22 Q If we turn to the top of page 2 of -- well, wait, let's
23 stay on page 1 for a second. You said you had a list of things
24 you were concerned about, and you heard you name Russia, Oliver
25 North, Ackerman and the New York State AG.

BP

3651

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Are those the three things listed on the first page?

2 A They are.

3 Q And let's turn to the top of page 2, where you have a
4 sentence beginning "The NRA's management team has taken major
5 steps discussing Craig Spray, revamping oversight and strict
6 controls."

7 Do you see that?

8 A I do see that.

9 Q Can you explain what information you gathered about 10 management and controls that informed your decision to take this 11 client on?

12 A Yes. So, we had -- again, we had a conversation with 13 Craig, Rick and Sonya; and in there, we found that they were 14 very transparent on answering all of our questions and admitting 15 that there was some not best in practice contracts that were 16 signed in the past; but they are implementing internal controls
17 and that Craig was a new CFO that came in and he was adamant
18 that he was going to have tight internal controls. He was -- he 19 was seems a little emotional about it, too, and very, very 20 genuine.

21 In fact, I brought on do you know of any other fraud or 22 fraud allegations made within the organization other than the 23 things we've been talking about today; and he said, yes, we 24 actually have a chief of staff --

25 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, your Honor, to hearsay,

BP

3652

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 would be relating conversations with Mr. Spray.

2 THE COURT: Again, I think it's admissible for what
3 was said, that these are things he heard. It is not
4 admitted for the truth of what this person might have said.

5 Q Mr. Plotts, what was said to you that helped you form
6 the view that management were being transparent?

7 A Well, when we were asking the questions, he was saying
8 they are doing an investigation into the chief of staff over
9 expense reporting. That they thought there was some fraudulent
10 expense reporting on that behalf.

11 Just his overall we're going to take care of the 12 internal controls, we're looking to beef them up; and so that 13 was really to me, that was very transparent, passionate of where 14 he was with these internal controls and how he wanted to take 15 them for the future.

16 Q Let's look at the second paragraph on this page, where 17 it says "Aronson found the NRA."

18 Do you see that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did you find just that Mr. Spray was transparent, or 21 was that your view of other NRA leadership, too?

22 A I had a past history with Sonya Rowling and Rick
23 Tedrick. When I used to work at PricewaterhouseCoopers, I was 24 part of that audit that PricewaterhouseCoopers did with the NRA
25 in the early 200s we're talking --

BP

3653

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q 2000s? You're not that old.

2 A Not that old, you're right. Twenty years ago. I added
3 a couple thousand on that. Yeah, early 2000s.

4 THE COURT: You're using a stone tablet at that
5 point. Wrong continent I think, but, go ahead.

6 A So early 2000, my key contacts -- they were my key
7 contacts when I was out there doing the audit as a lower level
8 staff, and I had a good relationship with them when I was out
9 there doing -- I think it was probably three or four years if I
10 remember correctly I was on that audit.

11 So, I was excited that they were still in that position
12 of a finance role. And I felt like -- I've met them at another
13 not-for-profit event, we started talking and that's why actually 14 Sonya reached out to me in October 2019 because we kept that 15 relationship up.

16 Q You said as a "lower level staff." Did you mean that 17 when you worked on the NRA twenty years ago, you were a lower 18 level accountant?

19 A Yeah, I was a senior accountant.

20 Q I see references in your red text here in a couple of 21 places to the AC. So you say "Craig has the report of the AC
22 CEO board." Do you see that?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What is the AC?

25 A It's the Audit Committee.

BP

3654

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Did you find the Audit Committee to be transparent?

2 A We met with the Audit Committee during our proposal
3 process; so after we met internally at Aronson at the time with 4 partners in the board and said let's go forward and put a
5 proposal together and give that proposal and have a meeting with 6 the Audit Committee, I thought that meeting with the Audit
7 Committee was very, very transparent, very straightforward as 8 far as what they're looking for in an auditor.

9 They wanted to have someone to come in, give them a
10 thorough audit.

11 So, again, that was reassuring to us that we weren't 12 going to have, you know, in our minds we're not going to have 13 any blockades to performing this audit.

14 Q Have you ever heard of something called SKE in the 15 terms of an audit?

16 A Yeah, so we call SKE, Skills, Knowledge and Experience;
17 and that's how we really evaluate finance staff. So we -- we 18 document that in our audit file the SKE that the finance staff
19 would have.

20 Q And without divulging confidential details about any of 21 your other clients, can you tell the jury generally how in your 22 assessment the SKE of the NRA finance staff compares to other
23 not-for-profits you've seen?

24 A We were very -- I was -- let's see. SKE was very high
25 for me when we evaluated the finance staff. The skills,

BP

3655

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 knowledge and experience, we knew Sonya Rowling and Rick Tedrick
2 have been there a long time, right. I met them twenty years
3 ago. So, that was important to us.

4 They were very knowledgeable back then and very
5 knowledgeable about their accounting and generally accepted
6 accounting principles.

7 Q What about the level of transparency at the top without
8 divulging confidences about other clients, how does the NRA
9 transparency in your view compare to other not-for-profit you've 10 seen?

11 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, lack of foundation.

12 THE COURT: Overruled.

13 A We have a great two-way communication with the Audit
14 Committee. That's one of our staples. It is very important to 15 us to have that, so I find them to be as transparent, but more
16 communication than I have with the Audit Committee at the NRA.
17 And it could be because they have a lot of things going on also,
18 too, compared to some of my other not-for-profits.

19 Q I want to flip back to page 1 quickly and focus on your 20 paragraph concerning the New York State AG.

21 At the very bottom of the first paragraph, you document
22 a concern that the NYAG will prolong the investigation to keep 23 legal fees --"

24 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: If you can wait till maybe the question

BP

3656

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 is finished before --

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: She was reading in the hearsay
3 portion.

4 MS. ROGERS: I'm directing him to a paragraph.

5 THE COURT: Look, I've admitted this document with 6 a caveat about what can be done about it.

7 Q Do you see that sentence in the document you prepared?

8 A Yes, I do.

9 Q Do you recall --

10 MR. SHIFFMAN: Same objection.

11 THE COURT: Again -- just let me. Nothing in this 12 document that comes from the NRA is viewed as evidence of 13 its truth.

14 So, maybe the slight concern is that you referenced 15 it as a concern without indicating whether it was his 16 concern or concern that the NRA had expressed, and maybe
17 that was causing Mr. Shiffman some indigestion.

18 MS. ROGERS: I understand, your Honor.

19 MR. SHIFFMAN: It is speculative and prejudicial.

20 THE COURT: Well, whatever it is, it is what he 21 heard, which is all that I'm admitting it for.

22 So, maybe you can just fine tune the question to 23 focus on that.

24 Q Mr. Plotts, do you recall documenting a concern
25 expressed to you by the NRA that the Attorney General would

BP

3657

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 prolong the investigation to keep legal fees high?

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: Same objection.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 A Yes. So, we had a concern about the New York State
5 AG's Office investigating the NRA. So, this is their response
6 to it that they were concerned that the New York AG would 7 prolong investigations and keep this going to increase legal 8 fees and expenses for the NRA.

9 Q Did you generally find that the management you
10 interviewed were attentive to the potential costs imposed by 11 legal fees?

12 A Yeah, of course. There were three staff in finance and 13 they were concerned about their finances.

14 Q So, after completing this assessment, did you accept
15 the NRA as a compliant?

16 A We did.

17 Q Let's turn to Tab 1 in your binder.

18 MS. ROGERS: And this is going to be DX1-0810, and 19 I want to show it to the witness for identification because 20 it is not in evidence yet.

21 THE COURT: This has been admitted --

22 MS. ROGERS: I thought it wasn't. Just in case,
23 we'll do the ritual.

24 Q Mr. Plotts do you recognize the document?

25 A DX1-0810?

BP

3658

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q That's correct.

2 A I do recognize.

3 Q This is your engagement letter when you took on the NRA
4 as a client; right?

5 A That is correct.

6 Q Is it the ordinary course of your business to prepare
7 engagement letters like this one for new client?

8 A We have engagement letters for all of our clients, yes.

9 Q And you prepared --

10 A For all have our audit clients.

11 Q And you prepared this one; right?

12 A I did.

13 MS. ROGERS: I move to admit it in case it is not
14 admitted.

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: No objection.

16 THE COURT: It's is admitted now.

17 MS. ROGERS: Thank you very much.

18 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0810 was
19 admitted and received into evidence.)

20 Q The document is now on screen. So, you took on the NRA
21 as a client for Audit Services and Related; right?

22 A We took on the client for Audit Services -- actually,
23 what was your question again?

24 Q Well it, says, "Audit services and Related Report." So
25 what is the related report?

BP

3659

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Oh, audit services and related financial statement
2 opinion report.

3 Q I want to turn to page 3 of the document where it says
4 Roman number IV, "Other Services."

5 And do you see where it says that Aronson will assist
6 in preparing the NRA federal and state tax returns?

7 A I do see that.

8 Q But, we just -- well, I won't say that. Did Aronson
9 prepare the NRA's tax return that year?

10 A Aronson did not prepare it.

11 Q Why?

12 A The NRA went out and got their own tax software and got 13 training on that software and prepared their own 990 tax return
14 on that software.

15 Q And how did the NRA software, if you know, compare to 16 the software Aronson would have used if Aronson had prepared
17 it?

18 A I think I understand your question. At this time we're 19 all using C-Track as a tax return. So we would use the C-Track
20 within Aronson, and NRA would use that same system, that tax
21 system.

22 Q Now, instead of preparing the tax return, Aronson
23 reviewed it; right?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And do you recall whether subsequent years engagement

BP

3660

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 letters correctly specified that Aronson would have reviewed
2 rather than prepared the return?

3 A To the best of my knowledge, I believe it does say that
4 we're going to review the tax return and not prepare it.

5 Q Let's turn to Tab 6 of your binder, which is DX1-0478
6 for identification.

7 THE COURT: Any objection to this one being
8 admitted?

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: No, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: You can skip the foundation.

11 MS. ROGERS: Move it admitted.

12 THE COURT: It's admitted.

13 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0478 was
14 admitted and received into evidence.)

15 MS. ROGERS: Thank you very much. We can show it
16 to the jury.

17 (Displayed)

18 Q Mr. Plotts, this is the audit report you prepared when 19 your company audited the NRA financial for 2019; right?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q This is an unqualified opinion, right?

22 A Unqualified clean opinion, yes.

23 Q Can you explain to the jury what a clean opinion means
24 and doesn't mean?

25 A Sure. A clean opinion means that in all material

BP

3661

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 respects, the financial statements are free of material
2 misstatements in accordance with generally accepted accounting
3 principles. A lot of people call GAAP, and that's where that 4 GAAP comes from.

5 Q Is a clean opinion the same as a clean internal 6 controls audit?

7 A It is not.

8 Q Can you describe for the jury the extent to which a
9 clean audit opinion takes into account internal controls?

10 A Sure. When we plan and perform audit procedures, we 11 want to get an understanding of the organization, the 12 environment, the internal control processes in order to 13 specifically identify audit procedures that we're going to use
14 to come up with this opinion that we -- that we're going to 15 have.

16 Q All right, let's look at Tab 5 of your binder for 17 identification, because this is not in yet.

18 MS. ROGERS: It is DX1-0030.

19 MR. SHIFFMAN: With the same objection as the 20 previous form, PX 150, the hearsay within the hearsay.

21 THE COURT: Right, well, are you going to move to 22 admit it?

23 MS. ROGERS: Yes, on the same basis.

24 THE COURT: This is a similar form, so the similar 25 instruction that it's admitted as a business record to show

BP

1 what they heard and observed and wrote down; but it's not
2 admissible for the truth of the underlying statements made
3 by others that are reflected in it.

4 So, with that caveat, it is admitted.

6 admitted and received into evidence.)

1 Q Mr. Plotts, do you recognize this document?

2 A I do.

3 Q You prepared this document?

4 A Yes.

5 Q So you had to vet the NRA before you took them on as a
6 client. That's the previous form we saw.

7 A Correct.

8 Q This looks like a similar form. So can you explain the 9 extent to which or why you were vetting the NRA again the 10 following year?

11 A Yeah. So every year as a new engagement with a 12 not-for-profit organization, so we would do an acceptance and 13 continuance form for all of our clients to make sure that we can 14 continue working with them in the following year.

15 Q And this form is dated August 2020, and it references
16 an Attorney General and NY Attorney General and DC Attorney
17 General lawsuits filed in August of 2020.

18 Do you see that?

19 A I do.

20 Q So given that the Attorney General had just sued your 21 client the NRA, did that affect the level of investigating, the 22 level of diligence that Aronson performed?

23 A Yes, it did.

24 Q Describe to the jury how it affected it.

25 A Yeah. When serious allegations came out with an

KM

3664

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 official lawsuit, we got together internally and we met with the
2 managing partner, with the the GC partner and decided our next
3 steps to take in order to see if we should continue working with 4 the NRA. There was phone calls. We were part of a praxity
5 alliance firm. That's like 55 connected accounting firms
6 together, and they have global offices. So that's where we go
7 to bounce off some ideas to the praxity firms that maybe have 8 dealt with something in like this situation in the past just to 9 get some best practices.

10 We also met with our external counsel to make sure that 11 we were, you know, doing all the right things with our 12 continuance work paper that -- making sure we have dotted all 13 our Is, crossing all our Ts, meeting with the right people and 14 understanding if we should move forward with the NRA.

15 Q When you say "external counsels," you mean your 16 accounting firm lawyers?

17 A That's Aronson lawyers, yes; correct. And through 18 those discussions, we decided to come up with an ad hoc
19 committee made up of partners to evaluate the continuance form
20 so that's out of normal scope of what we would do with other
21 not-for-profit organizations. It's directly related to the New 22 York State Attorney General lawsuit.

23 Q So after talking with your quality control partner,
24 your lawyers, a network of other accounting firms, was there
25 additional diligence that Aronson decided to perform on the NRA

KM

3665

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 before continuing the engagement?

2 A Yes. We decided to meet with those within management
3 and the Audit Committee, those charged with governance.

4 Q Now, in addition to talking to people at the NRA, did
5 you continue doing your own outside independent research?

6 A Yeah, of course. We are keeping an eye on, you know,
7 outside environment. I have a Google alert that comes to my 8 emails every day about clients in the news and headlines. So we 9 are watching those. And then we wanted to talk with management
10 and the Audit Committee about what's going on and what we are 11 hearing out there in the environment.

12 Q Let's turn to Page 2 of this document, and I want to 13 direct your attention to the list of bullet points on the top
14 half of the page, and I'm looking at the second one from the 15 bottom where it says, "He welcomed the comment that we made 16 about having to perform additional procedures around the 17 lawsuits from NY and DC AG, and he encouraged us to review all 18 material contracts and vendors."

19 Do you see that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q You are not testifying about the truthfulness of what 22 this person said to you. But who was it that told you he 23 welcomed the additional scrutiny and wanted you to perform a
24 review?

25 A Yes. When we were having a conversation with Craig

KM

3666

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Spray, we wanted to get his take on the New York AG lawsuit, so
2 we walked through that. And then I told him that we were going
3 to -- we already reviewed the lawsuit, and we were going to take 4 their point in their lawsuit and make special procedures in our
5 2020 audit to make sure because there is a risk of a material
6 misstatement due to a significant fraud risk and a significant
7 material misstatement risk. So we are going to do special
8 procedures to mitigate those risks directly related to the 9 allegations in the New York Attorney General lawsuit, and he was 10 open to it, he was welcoming to it, and he was happy that we 11 were doing those things.

12 Q And you also spoke with others at the NRA; right?

13 A I did talk to others within the NRA. I wanted to make 14 sure everyone was clear that we were going to do special
15 procedures that directly related to the lawsuit that was filed
16 by the New York Attorney General's Office.

17 Q Sir, were other -- other NRA leadership team consistent
18 with Mr. Spray in welcoming the additional scrutiny?

19 A They all were welcoming. They said you have full
20 access. We want you to go in and make sure that these things
21 are not happening, you know, in your audit. So please -- they 22 just wanted me -- they had no complaints about it. They wanted
23 to have open access for our audits.

24 Q All right. You mentioned special procedures. Can you
25 explain to the jury when auditors use the word "procedures" what

KM

3667

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 do they mean?

2 A Those are audit tests that we would do, so we call them
3 procedures, work papers, audit tests. So what we want to do,
4 they are specifically designed to mitigate some risk especially
5 the special procedures were.

6 Q Let's turn to Page 8 of this document, and I'm going to 7 direct your attention to a long numbered bulleted list prefaced
8 by the sentence, "Through the review of the lawsuit brought on 9 by the NYAG Office, Aronson will perform the following
10 additional procedures in the 2020 audit."

11 Do you see that?

12 A I do.

13 Q Is this a list of the special testing you performed due
14 to the concern of a fraud risk raised by their lawsuit?

15 A Yes, these are special procedures that when I was 16 reviewing the lawsuit that I wanted to address and put into my 17 file for the 2020 audit.

18 Q There is a lot here. I want to focus first on number 19 seven.

20 Does it describe testing you did concerning contracts
21 with David McKenzie's companies?

22 A Yes. That's correct.

23 Q When you did that testing, did you find any material
24 risks?

25 A Yeah. When we reviewed the contracts, we did find some

KM

3668

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 noncompliance with the internal controls at the NRA.

2 Q In the past or in the present?

3 A In 2020 when we looked at like the MMP contract, we saw
4 it was old, and they were -- they were working on renegotiating
5 it but did not follow the internal controls at the NRA and we 6 have a comment about that.

7 Q And what about in the same bullet you talk about
8 testing on Ackerman McQueen, Mercury Group and Under Wild Skies.

9 Do you see that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what did that testing show?

12 A They have a lawsuit out -- they started a lawsuit
13 starting out in 2019, so there was no expenditures, but we 14 wanted to make sure. We had them run to make sure there was no
15 expenditures against those contracts that they weren't still 16 paying Ackerman McQueen for invoices and things like that.

17 Q You also list a consulting agreement with former 18 employees and current Board members.

19 A That's right.

20 Q Your special procedures also covered legal fees; right?

21 A That's correct, yes.

22 Q Why did your special procedures in number 11, why did
23 you look at the Women's Leadership Forum?

24 A That was specifically identified in the Attorney
25 General's lawsuit that there was -- so that made us concerned

KM

3669

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 that there was something in the Women's Leadership Forum expense
2 accounts that we should look at and test for compliance with the 3 internal controls at the NRA.

4 Q Looking at number 17 which is on the top of the next
5 page. You also tested conflict of interest and related-party
6 transaction issues; right?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And if we look a couple down, number 19, you also
9 tested how the NRA handled whistleblower complaints; right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q All right. Did you meet with the Audit Committee
12 regarding this testing?

13 A Yes. We met with Charles and David of the Audit
14 Committee Chair and Vice-Chair and had these conversations that 15 we were going to perform these procedures.

16 Q And can you describe how the Audit Committee reacted to 17 the news that you would be testing and inspecting these 18 documents pertaining to these transactions?

19 A Again, they welcomed the news. They were -- they 20 thought that was a great idea and they were encouraged that we 21 came up with these and are going to do the special procedures.

22 Q All right. Let's turn now to Tab 8 in your binder
23 which is DX 1-0477.

24 MS. ROGERS: Do we have any objection to this
25 document?

KM

3670

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 MR. SHIFFMAN: No.

2 MS. ROGERS: We move to admit it.

3 THE COURT: It's admitted.

4 Q Did you prepare these audited financial statements
5 after doing those procedures to test the New York Attorney
6 General's allegations?

7 A Yes, we did. These were filed in September 2021, and 8 this was another clean opinion that we had over the financial 9 statements.

10 Q Now, you mentioned there was an old MMP contract. So
11 how did you issue a clean opinion even though the MMP contract
12 was old?

13 A Yeah. So we look at underlying invoices with the MMP
14 and make sure that they are reviewed and approved and entered 15 into the financial accounting records appropriately and recorded
16 in accordance with NYAG accounting principles.

17 Q I want to look back now at the document which is when 18 you vetted the NRA again following the lawsuit, and I want to 19 look deeper into that document, and I want to look at Page 10 of 20 DX 1-0030 which was Tab 5 of your binder. Let me know when 21 you're there, and let's get to Page 10.

22 A I'm at Page 10.

23 Q I want the screen to be at Page 10 too. All right.

24 In the middle of the page, there is some gray text that 25 says, Update to the continuance documentation in May 2021 after

KM

3671

1 the dismissal of the bankruptcy case."

2 Do you see that?

3 A I do.

4 Q So you had to vet the NRA again after its bankruptcy;
5 right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And you discuss here issues that you -- diligence, when
8 the NRA emerged from bankruptcy.

9 A Yeah, that's correct. We started the audit, and it was 10 paused because they filed for bankruptcy in January of 2021. So
11 the audit was put on hold and when the bankruptcy was dismissed, 12 there were things that came out of bankruptcy that was 13 concerning to us. So we decided as a continuance committee,
14 let's go back and meet with management and the Audit Committee
15 again to get an understanding of some of these things that came 16 out of the bankruptcy.

17 Q Now, Craig Spray was no longer treasurer by that time;
18 right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q So did you do anything to gain comfort with the new
21 treasurer Ms. Rowling?

22 A Yes. We interviewed Ms. Rowling, and we had a long
23 relationship. Well, we did the audit in 2019. I have known her
24 for 20 years as I discussed before. And again, we evaluated her 25 SKE, the skills, knowledge and experience and if she was fit for

KM

3672

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 that role that she was put in.

2 Q Did Aronson form a opinion whether she was fit to 3 replace Mr. Spray?

4 A I want to be careful here.

5 Q I'll ask it a different way.

6 Did you form a view on whether she was fit for the 7 role?

8 A We evaluate the SKE to make sure that there are 9 financial statements that we are comfortable with the people in 10 their positions in the finance role, yes, and that's what we
11 document.

12 Q Did you form a view as to whether you were comfortable
13 with Ms. Rowling in that role.

14 A Yes, we were.

15 Q Okay.

16 A We documented that.

17 Q When you look at your list of special procedures, I saw
18 a lot of familiar allegations, but I didn't see anything about
19 Gayle Stanford, the travel consultant.

20 Why is that?

21 A I believe it is in there.

22 Q Well, if we look at the bottom of Page 11 or the middle 23 of Page 11 -- I'm sorry -- right there where it says, "Aronson 24 asked specific questions."

25 A Yes.

KM

3673

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Do you recall performing any due diligence regarding
2 Gayle Stanford the travel consultant?

3 A Yes. In number four -- I'm sorry. In special
4 procedures number six, we obtain travel consultants contracts
5 invoices and payments. We inquired about Gayle Stanford after 6 the bankruptcy filing, and Charles said that they have cut ties
7 with her because -- so maybe bad practices in accounting and how 8 she was billing the NRA.

9 Q Have you discovered any information inconsistent what
10 with what Charles told you?

11 A I have not discovered anything that would conflict or 12 approve what he was saying.

13 Q Okay. Now you described the special procedures, and I
14 see a list of 21 of them keyed to the New York Attorney
15 General's lawsuit which you perform in the 2020 audit.

16 Has Aronson continued to scrutinize and test those same
17 issues in subsequent audits?

18 A Yeah, we continue to do that in 2021, 2022, and we are 19 starting the 2023 audit, and we are going to do the special
20 procedures.

21 Q Let's turn to Tab 11 of your binder. This is going to 22 be DX 1-0526. These are the audited financials for the year

24 Do you have any objections to those?

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: No.

3 THE COURT: It's admitted.

4 Q Mr. Plotts, is this the clean audit been that you
5 rendered for the indicated years?

6 A It is.

7 Q And do these reflect the special procedures we
8 discussed testing the New York Attorney General's allegations?

9 A We did perform those special procedures during this 10 year's audit.

11 MS. ROGERS: All right. Let's turn now to Tab 14.
12 Oh, and this is admitted.

13 Let's turn now to Tab 14 of your binder, and this

17 thought you said it had been admitted.

18 MS. ROGERS: The last one was. The financials
19 were. This is a new document.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MS. ROGERS: So we should put it only on the 22 witness' screen. PX 40.

23 THE COURT: The witness has the hard copy, so let's
24 just do it this way.

25 Q Okay. Mr. Plotts, do you recognize PX 40?

KM

3675

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A I do.

2 Q Did you prepare this document?

3 A The audit team and I was included in that preparing of 4 this document, yes.

5 Q In connection with special procedures, is it your 6 ordinary course of business practice to prepare documents like
7 this one?

8 A A memo that discusses special procedures, yes.

9 MS. ROGERS: I move to admit it.

10 MR. SHIFFMAN: No objection.

11 THE COURT: It's admitted.

12 Q Would it be correct now -- strike that. I see P X 150
13 in red text there.

14 What does that refer to?

15 A That's referring back to our continuance and acceptance
16 document, and those special procedures that were in that
17 document.

18 Q That list of 21 sets of tests performed on items the 19 Attorney General sued about; right?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Now as part of those special procedures, would I be 22 correct to understand this memorandum to indicate that you spoke 23 with Audit Committee members about whether the Audit Committee
24 was fulfilling its duties under its charter?

25 A That's correct.

KM

3676

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q And did you make a determination about whether the
2 Audit Committee was fulfilling its duties under its charter?

3 A Yeah, we felt like they were performing their duties.

4 MS. ROGERS: All right. Let's turn to Tab 15 of 5 your binder. This is a similar memorandum. It's not 6 admitted yet.

7 Does Plaintiff have any objection.

8 MR. SHIFFMAN: I'm sorry. I missed it.

9 MS. ROGERS: Tab 15, PX 28.

10 MR. SHIFFMAN: No objection.

11 THE COURT: It's admitted.

12 MS. ROGERS: Let's show that to the jury.

13 Q Mr. Plotts, this is a similar memorandum you prepared
14 with your audit team to memorialize the kinds of special
15 procedures you were doing; right?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q And in addition to assessing whether the Audit
18 Committee was doing its job, did you look at how the NRA was 19 handling late expense reports?

20 A Yes. We inquired about how they are handling late
21 expense reports that were in or held for certain reason.

22 Q And why were you interested in late expense reports?

23 A It was mentioned in the New York Attorney General's
24 lawsuit.

25 Q I want to turn to the second paragraph where you

KM

3677

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 mention meeting with Sonya Rowling, and you say that were no
2 late expense reports that were approved.

3 Do you see that?

4 A I do.

5 Q Do you recall reaching the determination that the NRA
6 was not approving late expense reports even though there were 7 some submitted for Wayne LaPierre?

8 A Yeah. That was our conclusion on this.

9 Q This paragraph also says that expense reports for Mr.
10 LaPierre were reviewed by Ms. Rowling and David Coy of the Audit
11 Committee.

12 Do you see that?

13 A I do.

14 Q Did you form an understanding as to whether this 15 represented a changed practice vis a vis a practice alleged 16 years ago whereby his expense reports were reviewed by someone
17 at ILA?

18 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Lack of foundation and 19 leading.

20 THE COURT: Overruled.

21 A Yeah. I was talking with Sonya Rowling, and she said
22 they had a new process in process that she was going to review
23 Wayne LaPierre's expense report and have David Coy review those 24 with her.

25 MS. ROGERS: Okay. Let's turn to Page 16 of your

2 it. Let's turn to Tab 16, and this is not in yet. So let's
3 just it show it to the witness. For identification. It is 4 PX 1324.

5 Are there any objections to this?

6 MR. SHIFFMAN: We object on hearsay grounds.

7 Q Okay. Mr. Plotts, do you see this email?

8 A I do see the email.

9 Q I don't want you to focus on the very top of the email
10 chain which doesn't involve you, but I want you to look at the 11 email dated Tuesday, September 15 which you wrote.

12 Do you recall writing this email?

13 A I recall writing this email to Craig and Rick.

14 Q In the ordinary course of your work as an auditor, do
15 you send communications like this to these individuals?

16 A I would.

17 Q And do you rely on these communications in the ordinary
18 course of your work?

19 A Yes.

20 MS. ROGERS: I move to admit it.

21 MR. SHIFFMAN: Same objection. This is produced by 22 the NRA. It's an email -- part of an email chain that 23 contains hearsay.

24 MS. ROGERS: The document is being admitted for the 25 proposition that there are regular communication on certain

KM

3679

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 topics between the auditors and Audit Committee. So the 2 fact it was said is pretty important.

3 THE COURT: I agree. I think once -- there is not
4 much to it, frankly. But once you see it, it's really more
5 transactional to say that these meetings were set up, and I
6 think that has independent evidentiary significance. So
7 I'll admit it. I actually don't see a lot of factual
8 statements other than it just documented that certain topics
9 wanted to be discussed. So I'll admit it.

10 Q Mr. Plotts, do you have regular communications with the 11 Audit Committee about the topics listed in this email?

12 A Yes, we do have.

13 MR. SHIFFMAN: Can we just get a timeframe.

14 MS. ROGERS: Well, this email -- so I'll ask over
15 several timeframes.

16 Q Mr. Plotts, you first took on the NRA as a client at 17 Aronson in 2019; right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q And over the course of 2019, did you have regular
20 communications with the NRA about financial operations?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Did you have regular communications with the NRA
23 getting updates on lawsuits or investigations like theirs?

24 A Of course.

25 Q Did you have regular communications with the NRA

KM

3680

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 getting updates on fraud inquiries?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Did you have regular communications with the NRA on 4 whistleblower matters?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Did you have regular communications with the NRA on 7 current events?

8 A Yes.

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Leading.

10 THE COURT: Overruled.

11 Q Did you have regular communications with the NRA on any 12 internal control concerns?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Did your communications with the NRA happen with senior
15 leadership, junior staff or both?

16 A We have communications throughout the organization with 17 senior staff, Audit Committee, and then we do fraud interviews
18 with those at lower level positions.

19 Q What's a fraud interview?

20 A Fraud interview is asking questions -- I'll give an 21 example -- to like the AP clerk. Has -- have you witnessed any 22 fraud? Do you know of any fraud allegations? Were you asked to 23 do anything out of your ordinary course of your job that made
24 you feel uncomfortable? Those kind of conversation which is --
25 are, you know, one on one with the audit team and that person.

KM

3681

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q And the Attorney General wanted us to be specific on
2 time. So we talked about your communications during 2019.

3 Would it be fair to say that you continued to have 4 regular communications with the NRA over the course of 5 subsequent years on topics like this?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Did the communication frequency increase or decrease
8 after they filed their lawsuit?

9 A The communication with the Audit Committee increased
10 when the lawsuit was filed.

11 Q All right. Let's turn to Tab 17 of your binder, and 12 this is a large document. It is an annual filing, and I'm going
13 to direct your attention to Page 0205 of this document which I
14 believe should be the financial statements.

15 Do you have any objection to admitting any portion of 16 this?

17 MS. CONNELL: That's the PX?

18 MS. ROGERS: It's a DX, but it's 1-1729.

19 THE COURT: I will hazard to guess it's in evidence
20 somewhere else.

21 MR. SHIFFMAN: I believe it's already in in a
22 different form.

23 No objection.

24 THE COURT: All right. So DX 1-0729 is admitted;
25 although, this is probably a duplicate of at least one other

KM

1 exhibit.

2 MS. ROGERS: Sorry for increasing the exhibits, your
3 Honor?

4 THE COURT: It doesn't cost me anything.

5 Q Let's turn to Page 0205 of this large exhibit.

6 Mr. Plotts, do you recognize this as the clean audit
7 opinion you delivered for the years indicated?

8 A On 0207 starts our opinion, yes.

9 Q Okay. Yes and that's -- there is the cover page and 10 then your opinion; right?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Okay. Mr. Plotts, what is a management letter?

13 A A management letter is when an auditor goes through 14 their audit. They look at controls. They do walk-throughs of 15 controls and sometimes they test controls. And if anything is 16 found during this process or if any audit adjustments come out
17 during the audit, there could be a control breakdown within the 18 organization. So a management letter is a way for us to 19 communicate with management those control deficiencies.

20 Q And can you --

21 THE COURT: You know, Counsel, I realize we have 22 been going for a while, and the jury hasn't -- although, I
23 know this is --

24 MR. ROGERS: I have very little additional.

25 Probably one more minute with Mr. Plotts.

KM

3683

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 THE COURT: Let's finish.

2 Q What are the different type of deficiencies you can
3 communicate with a management letter?

4 A You can communicate the best practices control
5 deficiencies. You can communicate significant deficiencies, and 6 you can communicate material weaknesses.

7 Q We have heard the word "material" a lot.

8 As an accountant, what do you mean when you call
9 something material?

10 A I look at it as two ways. You have a quantitative 11 factor that can be material, a large amount, and it can also be 12 qualitative, what's meaningful to the user of the financial 13 statements, and that might not have a quantitative figure to it.
14 It could be a low figure if it's meaningful to the users of the 15 financial statements.

16 Give a brief example. Maybe like if you are going to 17 fail a debt covenant by like $5,000 because you are not meeting
18 a ratio. That's a bigger deal. So that's a qualitative 19 materiality because that's a big deal that they are failing debt
20 covenants compared to maybe an adjustment of a couple of hundred
21 thousand dollars that really on a hundred million dollar
22 account, that really doesn't really mean much to the user of the 23 financial statement.

24 Q Would it be fair to say that a financial statement
25 which is materially inaccurate has many some kind of inaccuracy

KM

3684

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 in it, that the kind of person who relies on that financial
2 statement might act differently if they knew the truth?

3 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Leading.

4 THE COURT: That's a free one.

5 MS ROGERS: I'll withdraw it.

6 Q So Mr. Plotts --

7 MS. ROGERS: I want the jury to get the break, so
8 I'm leading a little bit.

9 Q Mr. Plotts, would it be fair to say that when a
10 document is materially misleading --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- it means that the kind of person who cares about 13 that document and relies on it might make a different decision
14 by reason of that inaccuracy than he would if the document were 15 true?

16 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Leading for the second
17 time.

18 A I understand where you're going.

19 MR. SHIFFMAN: In a hypo.

20 THE COURT: Overruled.

21 A Yes. So that's where we look at for materiality.
22 What's going to a a user of the financial statement? What would 23 make -- maybe change the way that they would view the 24 organization. It could be a lender, a banker, and they can see 25 something different and that could be material to them. So we

KM

3685

Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 want to make sure it's materially correct for the users of the
2 financial statement.

3 Q I also heard you use the term "significant deficiency."
4 When you say "significant," what do you mean?

5 A Significant, it's a judgment by the auditor. And when
6 I talk about "significant deficiency," it's a control deficiency
7 that we found during the audit, and we feel like it's 8 significant enough to communicate that to those charged with 9 governance, and in this case it could be the Audit Committee.

10 Q Have you found any material weaknesses in the NRA's
11 finances?

12 A We did not identify any material weaknesses in the 13 internal controls that were communicated or that we found during 14 our audit.

15 Q You did find a few items that were significant enough
16 to talk with management about; right?

17 A We did find significant deficiencies that we wanted to 18 discuss with the Audit Committee, yes.

19 Q And over the course of your work since what you've been 20 performing since they brought their lawsuit, have you formed a 21 view on whether management has diligently addressed those 22 deficiencies?

23 A That's very important to us at auditors, that they take 24 our management letter seriously, that they look into that, that 25 they respond to our significant deficiency or even best

KM

3686

1 practices, and they put things in place to fix those control
2 deficiencies, and we have seen that get better over the time
3 that we have been auditing the NRA.

4 Q I have only one tiny more topic to ask you about;
5 You are also the auditor for the NRA's charitable
6 affiliate the NRA Foundation; right?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q From an audit perspective, can you describe for the 9 jury the difference between the NRA and the Foundation?

10 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Legal conclusion.

11 THE COURT: Overruled.

12 A So the NRA Foundation is a charitable organization, and 13 it's there to set up for charitable reasons and maybe some 14 education reasons where the 501(c)(4) of the part of the NRA is 15 not a charitable organization and is really set up to do --

16 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, your Honor. It's a legal 17 conclusion.

18 THE COURT: He's giving an auditor's perspective on
19 it.

20 MR. SHIFFMAN: It's confusing. It's -- we are 21 talking about --

22 MS. ROGERS: I'm asking from an audit perspective,
23 and the speaking objection is stealing trial time.

24 (Continued on the following page.)

25

KM

3687

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 THE COURT: Look, you can ask on cross what he
2 means by it, but this witness is not giving you a legal
3 definition of whether something is covered by the New York
4 law governing charitable organizations. That's not his 5 field, so his view as an auditor, just take that for what 6 it's worth.

7 Q You can complete your answer, Mr. Plotts.

8 A So, 501(c)(4) is not a charitable organization. That's 9 set up to do more lobbying activities, getting education for 10 those that are in political field and doing more of those that 11 are running for office, and getting more information out to the 12 public about those type of things. And they're really unlimited
13 with those lobbying activities where a (c)(3) would be confined
14 on very particular things on what they could do.

15 Q Is there money within the NRA, pools of money that 16 would have to be spent for charitable purposes?

17 MR. SHIFFMAN: Same objection, your Honor.

18 Q From an accounting perspective.

19 THE COURT: I mean, charitable purposes has 20 different definitions within the statutes than it might for 21 an accountant.

22 MS. ROGERS: Well, I'll ask it this way.

23 Q Is there money within the (c)(3) that -- strike that.

24 Is there money within the NRA that has to be spent for 25 501(c)(3) charitable purposes?

BP

3688

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A There are net assets that are held for donor
2 restriction in the 501(c)(4). Those are monies that were given
3 for specific areas that they have to spend the money for, and 4 that's what they call the endowment that's set up there at the 5 501(c)(4).

6 Q In all your years auditing the NRA, have you ever seen
7 any misuse, abuse, diversion, waste, weakness or deficiencies
8 that you know affected any of those restricted donor --

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, leading and same thing --

10 THE COURT: Overruled.

11 A We have not seen any of that taken place with the 12 endowment there at the (c)(4).

13 MS. ROGERS: Pass the witness.

14 THE COURT: All right, we're going to take a short
15 break. We'll see you shortly.

9 THE COURT: Yes. We're going to continue with 10 direct.

11 MR. CORRELL: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

14 BY MR. CORRELL:

15 Q Mr. Plotts, I'm Kent Correll. I represent Wayne
16 LaPierre. Good afternoon.

17 A Good afternoon.

18 Q I have one question for you. For all the work you did
19 for the NRA, everything that you have done, have you ever
20 encountered any resistance from Mr. LaPierre?

21 A We have not.

22 MR. CORRELL: Thank you.

23 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

24 BY MR. WERBNER:

25 Q Mr. Plotts, you remember when you said 200 when you

BP

3690

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Werbner

1 meant 2000?

2 A Oh, yes.

3 Q I think what you were describing then was that you had
4 worked with Rick Tedrick and Sonya Rowling when you were a young
5 auditor at PricewaterhouseCoopers; is that right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q How many years did you work as a young auditor at 8 PricewaterhouseCoopers?

9 A My tenure there is about seven years.

10 Q And how many of those seven years were you doing audit
11 work for the NRA?

12 A I believe it -- to the best of my knowledge it was 13 three, could have been four.

14 Q And that would be in the early 2000s?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And you got to know, did you not, Sonya Rowling and 17 Rick Tedrick pretty well from those audits?

18 A Yes.

19 Q What was your opinion of them as you worked with them
20 in the early 2000s?

21 A Again, I evaluate people on SKE, the Skills, Knowledge
22 and Experience and I thought they were high, very good
23 accountants.

24 Q And they were part of the Financial Service Division of
25 the NRA?

BP

3691

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A That's correct.

2 Q And you were impressed them?

3 A Yes, I was impressed and I -- yes, I was.

4 Q Did PwC, Pricewaterhouse, give clean audits to the NRA
5 back in the early 2000s when your were working with Sonya
6 Rowling and Rick Tedrick?

7 A To the best of my knowledge, they were clean audit
8 opinions.

9 Q You never had a problem with the Financial Services
10 Division back then?

11 A Again, I know, they did a clean audit opinion; and I
12 was a low-level accountant at that time so it's hard for me to 13 answer that whether others on my team had any other issues.

14 Q But you didn't not have any issues, and they were clean
15 audits?

16 A I did not have any issues.

17 MR. WERBNER: All right, thank you.

18

19 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

20 BY MR. FLEMING:

21 Q Mr. Plotts, sorry to burden you with more questions,
22 but I'll be brief.

23 So, I believe you testified earlier that a clean audit
24 opinion is -- the financial statements are free of misstatement;
25 is that right?

BP

3692

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Free of material misstatement, yes.

2 Q So, how long does it take to reach that conclusion
3 annually?

4 A The audit at the NRA we start October, November, start
5 doing preliminary field work; and then we go on depending if we 6 don't have a bankruptcy lawsuit in between there, it usually 7 ends around March.

8 So, we're talking a couple months.

9 Q Okay, so that's five, six months?

10 A Yeah, we're not out there completely for those five or 11 six months, but we probably are focused on it for about twelve
12 to fourteen weeks. That's twelve to fourteen weeks, yeah.

13 Q And when you talk about twelve to fourteen weeks, what 14 part of the audit are you talking about?

15 A Well, we start with the preliminary, so we do some 16 control testing and get some inquiries with management. So
17 that's maybe a couple of weeks to plan. And then performing the 18 fieldwork part of the audit, that's the core of the audit and 19 that takes -- I want to say about eight to ten weeks to wrap it
20 up.

21 Q So, let me stop you there. With fieldwork, does that 22 involve your staff going to the NRA?

23 A Yes, it does. Typically, now when COVID hit, there was 24 a lot of virtual going on; but we are going out to the client,
25 to the NRA.

BP

3693

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q Now, how many staff go to the NRA during the fieldwork
2 process?

3 A We could have as many as four staff that are going to 4 the NRA at a time.

5 Q And do you know what they do there with some level of 6 granularity? I don't want excruciating detail, but just so you
7 can educate the jury about what they did?

8 A So we set up audit programs. So, they're following the 9 programs that are laid out and identified exactly what the steps
10 that we want to take during the audit for the NRA. So, they're 11 fulfilling those steps.

12 Q And how do they fulfill them? What are they doing
13 actually?

14 A They're looking at -- they're doing a lot, right.
15 There making inquiries with management. They're looking at 16 source documents and vouching different transactions to make 17 sure that there's right transactions are recorded in the 18 financial statements, themselves.

19 They're looking at estimates that management is making
20 about the financial statements, and we're testing those 21 underlying numbers.

22 Q And I've always heard the expression "ticking and 23 tying." Is that still used in auditing?

24 A Yes, it's changed over the years of the ticking and 25 tying; but, yes, we still tick and tie the work papers to make

BP

3694

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 sure they're agreeing with -- I don't want to get too technical
2 here -- like the trial balance, the general ledger they give us,
3 we want to make sure everything is being properly recorded in 4 the financial statements that they gave us and then we opine on 5 those financial statements whether or not they're materially
6 correct and in accordance with generally accepted accounting
7 principles.

8 Q So, that fieldwork process where staff is on site, it's 9 about you said eight weeks?

10 A Yeah, eight to ten, yeah.

11 Q All right. And then when you get to the opinion
12 process, how long does that take? Is there reporting back? How 13 does it work?

14 A Yeah, the wrap-up stage is when we're done with all of 15 our testing, the financial statements are prepared by NRA
16 management. They give us though to us. We make sure we have 17 all the support in our file for the audit, and then the wrapping
18 up of doing the opinion probably takes about two weeks after 19 fieldwork.

20 Q And just going back to fieldwork for a second. Does 21 your staff work with NRA internal Financial Services Division
22 staff?

23 A Yes, they work very closely with them.

24 Q Are you familiar with those people, the Financial 25 Services Division staff at the NRA?

BP

3695

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Yes.

2 Q Are they accountants?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Are they CPAs?

5 A Some are.

6 Q How many are would you say?

7 A It is -- I don't know if they're active CPA licenses or 8 they just hold the CPA license, but there's a couple.

9 Q But a CPA -- does a CPA in your mind have some level of 10 sort of professional cache?

11 A I would like to think so, yes, yes.

12 Q And do you -- to what extent does your staff rely on 13 those accountants, if at all, rely on Financial Services
14 Division accountants?

15 A There's reliance on the information they gave us.
16 There's trust, but we've got to verify of all those transactions
17 they give us. It is the professional skepticisms that we say
18 you have to keep high during the audit. Again, when I talked 19 about independence, professional skepticism, we make sure that 20 the entire team knows to do that. We just don't take things at 21 face value that we're actually diving into the details and 22 making sure things are correct in the financial statements.

23 Q And do you have a view or have you formed a view of the 24 quality of the NRA's internal accountants?

25 A No, we think very highly of the internal people that

BP

1 they have there inside the FSD.

2 Q Okay. Now, I think you said in your role on this
3 engagement you also oversee -- did I get it correctly -- the tax
4 portion of this engagement?

5 A Stacey Cullen now oversees that.

6 Q Do you have any sort of visibility into that process?

7 A I -- I worked with Stacey a little bit, but she is a
8 990 guru, so I just -- we bounce questions maybe back and forth
9 with each other, but I let her do the review of the 990.

10 Q Do you have any idea how long that tax process lasts?

11 A At the NRA or at?

12 Q The process by which Aprio performs tax services for 13 the NRA on their 990?

14 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, lacks foundation. I
15 think this is a different witness.

16 THE COURT: He asked if he knew that's the 17 foundation.

18 THE WITNESS: I think it is over a certain amount
19 of months because this is a big process of putting the 990
20 together. So, when the staff at the NRA are putting it
21 together, they might be asking questions to Stacey Cullen as 22 for some help or some review of what they're doing.

23 Q Do you know when the tax services portion of engagement
24 begins, you know, on a calendar basis?

25 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection, lack of foundation.

BP

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 THE COURT: He's asking whether he has a
2 foundation. He said "Do you know."

3 A They wait until after the audit is settled, make sure
4 the numbers. That's their focus right now, and then they start.
5 In my knowledge, that's when they start looking at the 990 and 6 putting that together; and to the best of my knowledge that 7 happens May, June timeframe that they start working on that.

8 Q And do you know when it ends?

9 A Well, there's a November 15th deadline that it needs to 10 be filed by. That's the extended deadline.

11 Q And by November when the deadline comes for the tax
12 return, your auditors are back in process, is that right, on the 13 next year?

14 A Yeah, we are talking with management, getting ready for 15 the preliminary fieldwork. That's correct.

16 Q One last question for you. At the beginning of the tax
17 services, do you have any understanding of whether the beginning 18 step is to populate the 990 with any of the figures from the 19 audited financial statements.

20 MR. SHIFFMAN: Foundation, leading.

21 THE COURT: Asking if he knows, which is --

22 A I don't know that for sure, but that would be my 23 assumption that you would start there for the audited financial 24 statements to populate the 990, yes.

25 MR. FLEMING: Thank you.

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: Thank you, your Honor.

3 CROSS-EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. SHIFFMAN:

5 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Plotts. My name is Steve Shiffman
6 and I'm an Assistant Attorney General with the Charities Bureau.
7 I have just a few questions for you.

8 In 2019 the NRA was the Aronson's largest 501(c)(4)
9 client; wasn't it?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And you received -- Aronson received over a quarter
12 million dollars in fees that year; right?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q And the NRA was your largest client; wasn't it?

15 A In revenue?

16 Q Yes.

17 A Yes, it was.

18 Q And wasn't it also twice as large as any other client?

19 A Close, yes, I would say that.

20 Q Okay. How much in fees has Aronson and Aprio received
21 from the NRA since you started the engagement?

22 A Well, for the audit, it is around that 250,000 to 23 300,000 dollars a year for all of our audit services, including 24 employee benefit plans and tax review services.

25 So, we did '19, '20, '21, '22, so, you know, so that's

BP

3699

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 roughly 1.2 million.

2 So, we did have some extra procedures that we did with
3 the special procedures and with the New York Attorney General
4 lawsuit they --

5 Q I'm just asking for the amount.

6 A Oh, there's more, right, when they subpoena us, too.
7 And when the New York AG --

8 Q Sir, I just asked you for a number.

9 A Okay, all right. I would say approximately 1.2.

10 Q Okay, thank you.

11 You talked recent with Ms. Rogers about some of the 12 work that Aronson did with respect to Gayle Stanford. Do you 13 recall that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So, you did some special procedures with Gayle Stanford
16 who's a travel agent; right?

17 A Well, the special --

18 Q That's a yes or no question, sir.

19 A Yes, we pulled those invoices.

20 Q Right. And when you did that for 2020, you pulled only 21 two invoices; isn't that correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q And 2019 you looked at one, right?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q You, also, talked about the type of audit you did.

BP

3700

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 Aronson did a financial statement audit; right?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Okay, and when Aronson provides a clean opinion, it's 4 not opining that the NRA had effective controls; correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q If the NRA had wanted to do a -- wanted to get Aronson
7 to give an opinion on the effectiveness of its internal 8 controls, it could have done or asked for an internal controls
9 audit; right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q But the NRA never asked Aronson for internal controls
12 audit; correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And there's another type of audit called the forensic
15 audit; right?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And the NRA never asked Aronson to conduct a forensic
18 audit; right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Sir, are you aware that there are excess benefit
21 transactions that were listed on the 990 for 2019?

22 A I am aware.

23 Q Okay, and you as the auditor wanted to know, didn't
24 you, what breakdowns in internal controls led to those excess
25 benefit transactions being listed on the 990 for 2019?

BP

3701

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 A We would, yes.

2 Q And some of those excess benefit transactions were
3 excess benefit transactions involving Mr. LaPierre; correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q But you never found out what breakdown in internal 6 controls led to the excess benefit transactions with 7 Mr. LaPierre that were identified in the NRA's 2019 990; right?

8 A We would not have audited those years, that's correct.
9 So, we would not have known the breakdown of controls
10 necessarily for those past years.

11 Q And you didn't ask any questions to find out what those 12 breakdowns were, right?

13 A We test transactions in the current year to make sure
14 controls are in place over those transactions.

15 Q So, Aronson, though, did not play any role in examining 16 whether the NRA's disclosures of Wayne LaPierre's excess benefit
17 transactions in the 2019 990 were accurate; right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q But Aronson was the auditor on the 2019 990; right?

20 A We didn't audit the 990.

21 Q Were you the auditor for 2019, the fiscal year 2019?

22 A Well, we audited the financial statements, yes.

23 Q Right, I understand that, sir.

24 Were you the auditor of the financial statements in 25 2019?

3702

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 A Yes.

2 Q But even though you audited the financial statements in
3 2019, you did not look into what led to the -- what control
4 breakdowns led to the financial disclosures of excess benefit
5 transactions in 2019; right?

6 A Are you talking about 2020 audit or 2019?

7 Q I'm talking about the fiscal year 2019 that would have
8 been done in 2020.

9 A Yeah, our audit was complete by March of 2020 for the 10 2019 audit.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And the 990 was filed in November, but, yes.

13 Q My question, though, was Aronson did not play any role
14 in examining whether the NRA's disclosures of Mr. LaPierre's 15 excess benefit transactions in its 2019 990 were accurate; is 16 that right?

17 A That is correct, yes.

18 Q Thank you. And you, personally, are not familiar with 19 what New York law requires for the approval of related-party
20 transactions; are you?

21 A I'm familiar with New York not-for-profit law, but I'm 22 not an expert in it, and we do not audit in accordance with 23 not-for-profit law.

24 Q And you did not test whether when the Audit Committee
25 ratified related-party transactions whether it complied with New

BP

1 York law; isn't that correct?

2 A That is correct.

3 Q And Aronson did not interview Mr. LaPierre in 4 connection with its 2019 audit to inquire about his expenses,
5 right, even though there was press about those expenses; isn't
6 that correct?

7 A We did not interview Wayne LaPierre in 2019 audit.

8 Q And it is true, isn't it, that when you conducted your 9 audit of the 2020 financial statements, Aronson did not ask
10 Mr. LaPierre about any of the specific allegations in the 11 complaint?

12 A We asked broad questions about the complaint, that 13 there were -- that their lawsuit was out there and --

14 THE COURT: Let him answer.

15 A Restate the question, and I'll do a better answer.

16 Q You asked, generally, about the attorney general's 17 complaint; isn't that correct?

18 A That is correct.

19 Q But did you not ask Mr. LaPierre about any of the 20 specific allegations of the complaint; right?

21 A We asked, generally, about the lawsuit complaint, yes.
22 We did not get into specifics. We wanted him to discuss that 23 with us.

24 Q Okay. So, the answer to the question did you discuss
25 specific allegations is no; right?

BP

3704

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 A Not in detail, no.

2 Q Okay. And you never asked Mr. LaPierre about the
3 flights that the complaint alleges that took place in the period
4 prior to 2021; isn't that right?

5 A Not directly with Wayne LaPierre did we ask him.

6 Q Now, you learned in January or so of 2021 that
7 Mr. Spray was no longer the CFO of the NRA; right?

8 A That is correct.

9 Q And when you asked why he left, you were told by 10 Mr. Cotton and Mr. LaPierre that he left for health reasons;
11 right?

12 A As to the best of my knowledge and that's my testimony
13 in the past, yes.

14 Q But you later learned that Mr. Spray said he was let 15 go two days after he pushed back with Mr. LaPierre about the 16 bankruptcy filing; isn't that correct?

17 MR. CORRELL: Objection, assumes facts not evidence
18 and misstates prior testimony.

19 THE COURT: Overruled.

20 A There's a conversation I had with Craig Spray after he 21 was let go, and I documented that in the continuance form that 22 we went through.

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Well, let's pull up that continuance
24 form, which I have it as PX 47.

25 THE COURT: That's the one that's already in

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: From Ms. Rogers.

3 MS. ROGERS: I believe it's DX1-0030, Tab 5, in his

5 MR. SHIFFMAN: Thank you, Ms. Rogers.

6 Q If we can go to page 13 there.

7 A I missed the tab.

8 Q I'm sorry, Tab -- it will be in the binder that 9 Ms. Rogers gave you, Tab 5, the Brewer book which is right
10 behind you.

11 We're going to show it on the screen.

13 If you look there, this is from that report that you
14 prepared, right, and you wrote:

15 "He pushed back on bankruptcy to Wayne and then two 16 days later he was let go."

17 Right?

18 A Let me get to the hardcopy here.

19 Q Sure.

20 A It is page 13. I'm just verifying this is all what I'm 21 writing here with Craig's conversation. Yes, I had a phone
22 interview with him on June 9th and these are my notes
23 documenting that phone conversation.

24 MR. SHIFFMAN: All right, you can take it down

1 Q When the NRA completed -- I'm sorry.

2 When Aronson completed this 2019 audit, it sent a
3 management letter to the NRA; right?

4 A That is correct.

5 MR. SHIFFMAN: Can we mark PX 327, which is Tab 4.

6 Q Can you turn to Tab 4 in the binder that we gave you.

7 MR. SHIFFMAN: I don't know if there's any
8 objection to this? This is the management letter.

9 THE COURT: Any objection?

10 MS. ROGERS: It is not Tab 4 in my binder.

11 MR. SHIFFMAN: I'm sorry, we didn't give you a 12 binder. It is PX 327, but it is the management letter.

13 MS. ROGERS: No objection.

14 THE COURT: It's admitted.

15 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 327 was
16 admitted and received into evidence.)

17 Q I just want to mark it; and if we turn to page 3, the 18 last sentence of the second paragraph. It's true, Mr. Plotts,
19 isn't it, that Aronson found a number of significant
20 deficiencies in its audit and that those significant 21 deficiencies were found even though it wasn't the focus of the 22 audit; right?

23 A It is true that we did find three significant
24 deficiencies during our audit, yes.

25 Q Thank you. Let's go to Tab 5, which is the management

1 letter for the next year.

2 MS. ROGERS: No objection.

3 MR. SHIFFMAN: Which is PX 48.

4 THE COURT: It is admitted.

5 MR. SHIFFMAN: Thank you.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 48 was admitted
7 and received into evidence.)

8 Q And in this in 2020, it's true, isn't it, that Aronson
9 found additional significant deficiencies; right?

10 A We identified four significant deficiencies.

11 Q Right. Can you go to page -- I think 10 of that 12 letter, please, sir.

13 Under the best practices, in its management letter
14 Aronson recommended a number of practices for the NRA to 15 undertake, right?

16 A The best practice recommendations, yes, we did.

17 Q And one of those was to install a compliance manager or 18 officer; right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And the NRA actually agreed with that recommendation;
21 right?

22 A They did.

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Let's go to Tab 6, PX 2385, which is 24 the 2021 management letter.

25 MS. ROGERS: No objection.

BP

3708

G. Plotts - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Shiffman

1 THE COURT: That's admitted, as well.

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: Thank you.

3 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 2385 was
4 admitted and received into evidence.)

5 Q So, in this letter which is for 2021 that you sent in
6 2022; right?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q So, in this letter Aronson, again, identified a number
9 of significant deficiencies; correct?

10 A Yes, that is correct. I believe two.

11 Q Okay. And, again, in this management letter, Aronson
12 again recommended that the NRA get a compliance manager or 13 officer; right?

14 A As a best practice, I believe, right?

15 Q It was Aronson's recommendation, right?

16 A Yes, I see it in here.

17 Q And the NRA, again, agreed with it; right?

18 A Yes, they did.

19 Q And we talked a little bit about the special procedures
20 and those were conducted after the attorney general commenced
21 this lawsuit; right?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q But the special procedures were not designed to test
24 whether the allegations in the attorney general's lawsuit were 25 right or wrong; right?

BP

1 A They were not.

2 Q And the special procedures were actually only designed
3 to test if the allegations and the violations were still ongoing
4 in 2020; right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q They were not looking at anything that was going on 7 prior to 2020; right?

8 A Our focus was 2020, yes.

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: Pass the witness, your Honor.

1 Q You testified with the Attorney General that the NRA
2 was one of your larger clients; right?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q What percentage of Aronson's revenue, if you know, did
5 the NRA account for in 2020?

6 A Less than one percent.

7 Q It if I told you at your deposition you testified it
8 was less than one half of one percent, would that sound right to 9 you?

10 A It would.

11 MR. SHIFFMAN: Leading.

12 Q Does what your compensation from the NRA depend on 13 whether you issue a clean audit or you find deficiencies?

14 A No.

15 Q You said you were paid to be independent. Did that 16 extend to your compensation?

17 A There's a lot involved in my compensation.

18 Q But would it be fair to say that your compensation
19 doesn't depend on the outcome of this matter?

20 A No.

21 Q And you're certainly not an expert witness being paid
22 for this testimony.

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection.

24 A I'm not expert witness on this testimony. Yes, that's

1 Q Why didn't you look at more of Gayle Stanford's
2 invoices?

3 A In 2019, it was a sample size that we took, and we did
4 one of GS2, I believe. She had a couple of -- a couple of 5 different companies. We did hit one. And then in 2020, we
6 selected two. There wasn't -- the travel is starting to come
7 down quite a bit because Covid hit in March of 2020, so I
8 believe that's why our sample size was only two.

9 Q Do you have an understanding as to whether after Covid
10 Gayle continued to be employed by the NRA?

11 A We were told she was not, and we found in the next
12 audit, there was no transactions.

13 Q Mr. Shiffman asked you about another audit called a 14 forensic audit. Do you remember that?

15 A Yes.

16 Q To your knowledge, did the NRA hire a forensic firm to 17 do a forensic audit of any expenses?

18 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Foundation. Hearsay.

19 MS. ROGERS: If you know.

20 THE COURT: Overruled.

21 A I have heard that they have.

22 Q Okay. But don't testify about what you've heard. If 23 you don't know, that's fine. But yeah, I am not 100 percent
24 positive of that report or that they hired them.

25 Q You testified that you don't audit related-party

KM

3712

Plotts - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 transactions in accordance with New York Law.

2 Do you remember that?

3 A I do.

4 Q What does that mean?

5 A Well, our audit isn't geared to New York Not-For-Profit
6 law. It's geared to generally accepted accounting principles
7 and certain audit standards that we have to do, and one of them
8 is looking at related-party transactions, and that is the 9 guidance that we go by. It's not that we look at New York
10 Not-For-Profit Law and audit towards that.

11 Q You testified that when you interviewed Wayne LaPierre,
12 you asked him about their lawsuit generally. But you didn't sit 13 down with him and go through their lawsuit paragraph by 14 paragraph and ask him if the allegations were true or false;
15 right?

16 MR. SHIFFMAN: Leading.

17 A That's correct. We had long conversations with Wayne
18 LaPierre, but I did not specifically detail out all of the 19 allegations in the lawsuit to walk him through.

20 Q When you were testing whether each of those allegations
21 seemed to be true or false, why didn't you just ask Wayne
22 LaPierre?

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Misstates the testimony.

24 MS. ROGERS: I can rephrase.

25 Q When you were testing each of those allegations, why

KM

3713

Plotts - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 didn't you just ask Wayne LaPierre if they were true or false?

2 A Well, at this point --

3 MR. SHIFFMAN: Timeframe.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 A Professional skepticism comes in so we have already had
6 our conversations with Wayne LaPierre's Audit Management
7 Committee, and so no offense to the management at the NRA here,
8 but we are professional skepticism. We don't take everything at 9 face value. We want to actually test documents to verify what 10 they are saying is true.

11 Q Let's go back to Tab 5 of your binder. That is the 12 continuance document the Attorney General just asked you to look 13 at.

14 I am going to direct you to Page 13 where you discuss a 15 conversation with Craig Spray. In the same bullet point, we 16 read from earlier, it says, "An Agreed Memo. An agreed memo 17 went out that it was health reasons."

18 Do you see that?

19 A Yes. I think I'm in the wrong binder.

20 Q Sorry.

21 A I apologize. Wait. This is -- all right, but I'm 22 familiar with the document that you are looking for. It's right
23 here.

24 Q What did you mean by agreed memo?

25 A I'm sorry.

KM

3714

Plotts - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 Q When you say an agreement memo went out that Craig was
2 gone for health reasons, what did you mean by "agreed?"

3 A Well, what was told to me is that Craig wanted it to go
4 out that it was about health reasons that he was let go, and
5 that's what he told me, and I verified that with Wayne LaPierre
6 that that's the conversation that they had in this meeting when 7 he was let go, that they wanted to go -- that it was due to 8 health reasons.

9 Q Did Craig also tell you that because it was a
10 termination, he was able to get severance?

11 A Yes.

12 Q It's fair to say from your prior testimony, right, that 13 Craig Spray made comments to you which were pretty supportive of 14 the NRA's correction efforts; right?

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection. Leading.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 Q I'll ask it this way. Mr. Plotts, when you spoke to 18 Mr. Spray after he left the NRA, did his tone or his comments
19 about the NRA's control environment change at all?

20 A No. It was very important for to us get a hold of him.
21 We tried.

22 MR. SHIFFMAN: Objection.

23 Q This, you can answer.

24 A We tried numerous times to get a hold of him until we 25 probably got him on the phone because it was important to us to

KM

1 get his take of someone that just left the organization in these
2 terms. So I was -- I was happy to hear his transparency that he
3 was confident in the integrity of management, but there were 4 some concerns that he had, and I could add that to my testing in 5 the audit file that he had some concerns over contracts and 6 certain related-party transactions so we could add that to our 7 audit evidence in our file.

8 Q When you went out to perform the additional testing in 9 response to your conversation with Mr. Spray, did you encounter
10 any resistance from the NRA?

11 A No. They encouraged it. I told the NRA management
12 team that I wanted to have that conversation with Craig Spray.
13 I thought that was important for our continuance. And in fact,
14 our ad hoc committee really made sure that that was a pivotal 15 conversation that we wanted to have before we moved on with the 16 audit.

17 Q When you say "the ad hoc committee," are you talking
18 about the lawyers and the other accountants and the people you
19 talked to?

20 A The ad hoc committee is internally at Aronson.

21 We had an ad hoc committee made up of partners that was 22 going to decide if we are going to continue with the audit of
23 the NRA.

24 MS. ROGERS: Thank you. Nothing further.

15 the courtroom.)

16 THE COURT: Okay. So what can we clear off the 17 agenda for tomorrow for this next witness?

18 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor. This pertains
19 top Mr. Mehta who is the next witness. I think he is in the 20 courtroom and should probably step out for this discussion.

21 MS ROGERS: He is an expert. He's been here, so he 22 can remain or leave.

23 MS. CONNELL: I'm not objecting to him being here
24 during the testimony.

25 THE COURT: Well, sometimes it's actually helpful

KM

3717

Proceedings

1 because the other witness heard some of the limiting
2 instructions and I saw, took them to heart.

3 Look, if you --

4 MS. CONNELL: It's fine. It's fine, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: We are not talking about anything that
6 he doesn't know so.

7 MS. CONNELL: If I can hand this up, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Sure.

9 MS. CONNELL: These are the demonstratives
10 regarding Mr. Mehta that the NRA circulated. Mr. Mehta
11 rendering his opinions relies very heavily on the special
12 procedures that Aronson performed. And in fact, really just 13 re-discusses them and re-channels them and restates them to 14 the extent they have been stated, and I would direct your 15 attention particularly, your Honor, to Pages 8 and which if 16 you see the two slides described on eight, there is the 17 heading, "Procedures performed by Aronson, NRA's independent
18 auditor," and he just walks through the procedures performed
19 again but without --

20 THE COURT: I'm sorry. The pages aren't numbered
21 to me. Okay.

22 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry. Pages 8 -- and I was 23 actually looking at 11 and 12. So maybe shooting you to 11
24 and 12 would be the best.

25 On 11 and 12, it says, and they are on the screen

KM

3718

Proceedings

1 now. "Procedures performed by Aronson, NRA's independent
2 auditor." Again, he is just walking through what Aronson
3 did.

4 Your Honor, this is -- it's not for an expert
5 witness just to bolster, restate whatever the independent
6 auditor did. And the same kind of thing is done on the next
7 page on slides 13 and 14.

8 You know, Mr. Mehta discusses a review of the 9 record and conclusions by the outside auditor Aronson. You
10 know, your Honor, it goes on and on 18 -- Slide 18, he is 11 also talking about procedures performed by Aronson. We just 12 heard from Aronson. We don't need a witness to tell us what 13 Aronson said and found.

14 THE COURT: Sounds right to me.

15 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, so --

16 THE COURT: Certainly not in this detail.

17 I mean, I think he, you know, maybe can sort of 18 note in passing that he is aware that there was -- there
19 were audits, but this does seem like vouching to me.

20 MS. ROGERS: So your Honor, two points. This is a
21 lengthy slide deck and a few of the slides discuss Aronson.
22 Mr. Mehta is an expert on non-profit external auditing.

23 So we were told, for example, that Mr. Sullivan 24 couldn't talk about, you know, what auditors would do, but 25 he can talk about that.

KM

3719

Proceedings

1 The auditors talk about, and the auditing expert
2 can talk about it.

3 THE COURT: Look, it's been a long time. I can't 4 remember the motion in limine on this witness. But did his
5 expert disclosures indicate that he would give opinions
6 about the nature and quality of the audit?

7 MS. ROGERS: Everything in these slides comes from 8 my understanding is the -- I didn't prepare them, so I am
9 being careful, but I think this comes from his report.

10 THE COURT: Well, there is a difference between -- 11 as I mentioned, lots of expert reports which are not
12 admissible generally contain all sorts of factual summaries
13 and background and all of which I kind of ignore because all 14 I care about is what is the testimony going to be, and the 15 testimony should be his opinions and the facts that support
16 them. So the fact that he may have referenced the audit in 17 his opinion, but -- in his expert report didn't by itself
18 move the needle for me. The question is did he indicate
19 that these statements about the audit are part of the basis
20 for his opinion about the NRA's establishing protocols to 21 handle whistle blowing.

22 MS. ROGERS: I believe the fact that the outside
23 auditor did a special procedure, it was a fact he considered
24 in forming his assessment.

25 THE COURT: That's just like one expert leveraging

KM

3720

Proceedings

1 off another.

2 I mean, there are times when there may be a
3 precursor finding from one expert that the other one can 4 sort of launch off of, say, well, look assume the driver was 5 negligent, you know, which is another expert -- here's my 6 opinion on damages.

7 This though seems to say that his opinion about the 8 NRA's establishing protocols, you know, I think it's at best
9 you are saying it's consistent within what Aronson did, but 10 that's really, alright, for the jury to determine. So what 11 does this add for him to basically, you know -- the fact of 12 the audit is what it is. Right.

13 But how does it -- I'm just a little -- I don't
14 really understand how this does anything other than echo
15 what we have already heard.

16 MS. ROGERS: Well, obviously, there have been a lot
17 of attacks on these particular controls and activities, so
18 we probably have had multiple witnesses discuss them.

19 There are a number of bases for his opinions in 20 this slide that have nothing to do with Aronson. Like, he 21 reviewed the NRA's compliance seminars. He reviewed their 22 questionnaires. He is giving an opinion on, you know, as a
23 career non-profit auditor.

24 THE COURT: Did he disclose an opinion that I have 25 as an auditor I have reviewed Aronson's work and I conclude

KM

3721

Proceedings

1 in my expert opinion that they did a good job? I mean, is
2 that a disclosed opinion.

3 MS. ROGERS: It's -- I believe that's in his
4 report, and I would also note that part of his expertise is 5 he performs what are called peer-review of auditors. So he 6 examines whether other auditors have done a good job.

7 THE COURT: There might be some case in which he
8 could be qualified as an expert to opine about another
9 accountant's work which happens in malpractice cases all the 10 time. That's not how I read it, that that's what he was 11 doing here, and there is -- you know, there are -- it's 12 frowned upon to have an expert basically just vouching for 13 somebody else.

14 MS. ROGERS: If it would resolve the issue, I think
15 there are three or four slides that refer to Aronson.

16 THE COURT: All I'm saying is it's a question of 17 emphasis; right. I mean, I don't -- it is a fact that he 18 saw that Aronson did an audit, and -- but I think that the 19 way these slides are written, it does look like he is sort 20 of offering a qualitative opinion which has not been 21 disclosed.

22 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, if it would help, we can 23 condense the Aronson references to one slide and can make 24 sure that whatever is on them is in his report.

25 THE COURT: It's the content, not so much the

KM

3722

Proceedings

1 repetition. Extensive procedures performed by Aronson. You
2 know, various things like that are qualitative.

3 To me, you know, if this goes beyond background --
4 background fact that, you know, maybe it gives -- he can
5 say, look, the fact that they had a recognized auditor doing
6 an audit is, you know, helpful but all of this sounds like
7 the jury is hearing another distinguished person saying and 8 that guy you just had testify today did a great job which 9 is, you know, in another case, he might be able to give that 10 opinion, but that's not the opinion that was disclosed. So
11 that part, all of that, I think you -- I think all of this 12 sort of detail needs to come out.

13 MS. ROGERS: We'd be happy to do that, your Honor.

14 As a point of clarification, if instead of "great 15 job," he is saying something like as an expert in this 16 field, I think this looks pretty wide ranging, the fact that 17 they acquiesced to something like that is notable and it
18 impacts how I view the financials. What if he said
19 something like that? Not that the other auditors are great
20 auditors, but that the auditor turned over a lot of rocks
21 that a financial audit might not normally.

22 THE COURT: And tell me how this plays into his 23 opinion exactly.

24 MS. ROGERS: Well, we have just heard, you know,
25 the Attorney General cross-examine, you know, try to poke

KM

3723

Proceedings

1 holes in what the jury can take from Mr. Plotts. What did
2 they really look at? Were they not exercising a lot of 3 scrutiny because the NRA is a large client? And we have 4 here a leading New York not-for-profit auditor that 5 specializes in this, and he as part of his profession is to 6 form a view of whether I can rely on these controls, and he
7 does this all the time. And he's saying, I looked at the 8 NRA, and I formed the view that the controls are good.

9 THE COURT: In terms of Aronson to say that as part
10 of the basis for his opinion, just as an example, he would 11 say, you know, they did -- they had an auditor which of 12 course they have to, but also there were -- his 13 understanding is there were special procedures.

14 MS. ROGERS: Right. His understanding is among the 15 many things they looked at. They had questionnaires. They 16 had seminars, and an audit, and that audit was extensive or 17 wider ranging or had special procedures, and we heard
18 testimony from Mr. Hines that in considering a control
19 environment, it's not relevant whether there was special
20 procedures done by the auditor.

21 We will hear from this professional that he does 22 consider that a relevant data point, not because he is 23 vouching for the acuity of Ackerman of Mr. Plotts but 24 because we are considering as a default, the NRA's
25 administration and control environment. And we have heard

KM

3724

Proceedings

1 one witness say the jury shouldn't care about the special
2 procedures and here's a witness saying I care about them.

3 THE COURT: Well, look, I think he can -- he can --
4 I think he can address that as a -- just an understood. His
5 understanding is that the audit included special procedures
6 and other things, and I think a -- it's not unfair assuming 7 it's in the expert report as well that without opining on 8 whether they did a good job at it or not because that's not 9 what he is here to do, but just that fact is supportive of 10 the opinion, generally. I think that's okay.

11 MS. ROGERS: Thank you, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: But the part where I start to lose you
13 is a qualitative assessment of how they did at it which he 14 may have a view on, but that's not the expertise he is being 15 asked to give an opinion on here.

16 MS. ROGERS: I will double check tonight and make 17 sure that anything he says is literally in his report.

18 THE COURT: In other words, it's another version of 19 assumed facts.

20 In other words, the assumed fact is that they had 21 an audit. There were special procedures and whatever the 22 objective things one can say is, look, if I'm correct that 23 this all happened which I'm assuming as part of my 24 background, that's helpful, and the difference from that and 25 what at least I'm gleaning maybe between the lines here is

3725

Proceedings

1 that this is more of a qualitative assessment of how they
2 did the job. So I think if it's limited to his
3 understanding of the kind of procedures that they have 4 described and that the jury has seen in some of these
5 documents, you know, if those took place, that's helpful.

6 MS. ROGERS: Understood, your Honor.

7 MS. CONNELL: May I just address this for one
8 second?

9 THE COURT: Sure.

10 MS. CONNELL: Mr. Mehta, just to be clear, is 11 really just vouching in most instances for Aronson's special
12 procedures.

13 THE COURT: Well, we are taking that out.

14 MS. CONNELL: But I don't know --

15 THE COURT: Look, the fact that the special
16 procedures happened is a fact; right. I mean, now whether 17 they were a bust or not or whatever, that's what you can 18 argue about to the jury based on your cross-examination, but 19 I think it's not unfair for an expert to say because, you
20 know, not all audits have special procedures and all -- and 21 I think he can opine on that being something that is 22 supportive.

23 My concern is that they are not -- that he not
24 provide some not previously disclosed qualitative vouching
25 for the work that was done. So --

KM

3726

Proceedings

1 MS. CONNELL: But my concern is all he did is
2 vouching. So for example, he was asked if you look at slide
3 12, it asks him about related-party transaction.

4 He was asked if he did any audit work with respect
5 to the NRA's related-party transactions or conflict of 6 interest policies. He said, I did not. And then he went on 7 and said -- we said, Did you test them. He said, I did not.
8 I reviewed the work of Aronson, and I -- you know, that's 9 what he did.

10 So he is coming back in and saying Aronson did
11 this. You know, yeah, for Aronson and we are just having--

12 THE COURT: No. Look, I think this is not really
13 that inconsistent. He can give the basis for his opinions
14 and if, for example, he comes in and says, well, the only 15 basis for my opinion is I thought it was good that some 16 special procedures were formed by somebody else, I think
17 that's cross-examination material.

18 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, but there is a
19 gatekeeping function here because we have duplicativeness.

20 We have the special procedures being brought in by 21 another parade of expert witnesses, and we have him saying,
22 for example, he approves the whistleblower policy's
23 application. He admitted he is not an expert on the 24 application or efficacy of whistleblower policies. He just 25 relied on Aronson. And to a certain point that puts too

KM

3727

Proceedings

1 much emphasis --

2 THE COURT: Well, look, I have to sort of evaluate
3 what I heard as well.

4 I mean, I am hearing you describe what he is going
5 to say. I haven't heard it yet. I will evaluate as it
6 comes in. I'm reacting to the specific thing you're 7 pointing to and you know -- I -- he is somebody whose 8 qualifications meet the test for expertise, you know, and 9 I'll have to just sort of evaluate when it comes in, if
10 there is some reason, and I have been not shy about doing it
11 with other experts if there is something that I view as 12 going -- running afoul of what normal and proper expert
13 testimony is, I'll address it then. So I understand the 14 point. I don't -- I did not preclude him in its entirety
15 based on the motions in limine. I think this is one of the 16 ones where I wanted to see what the testimony is.

17 MS. CONNELL: Could we have just an offer of proof
18 or something in the morning as to what's left and what he is 19 going to say? Because I think there is a real question mark
20 there, and we should have some clarity on that, your Honor, 21 before we have to object and delay things in front of the 22 jury which you know irritates the jury.

23 MS. ROGERS: We are happy to provide as plaintiff
24 did Mr. Hines' revised set of demonstratives indicating 25 where we intend to go.

KM

3728

1 THE COURT: I think that might be helpful and send
2 a copy to me as well.

3 MS. ROGERS: Of course, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: And hopefully, we don't need a lot of 5 time because my inclination is to see how it goes. And what
6 I'm hearing largely goes to weight, not admissibility. But 7 at some point, if weight is overwhelming, then it goes to 8 admissibility.

9 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor. I do think
10 there is duplicativeness.

11 THE COURT: It's their time.

12 MS. CONNELL: I know.

13 THE COURT: We will see you tomorrow at 9:30.

14 MS. ROGERS: Thank you, your Honor.

15 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor.

16 (Whereupon, at this time the trial was continued
17 until February 8, 2024.)

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Good morning everyone. Just a head's
2 up, if there is something I need to read and it's coming in 3 really late at night, send it to the chamber's email also
4 because I received those slides as I was walking downstairs
5 because they weren't -- they didn't go to me.

6 So I don't know whether there are any continuing
7 issues with the slides.

8 MR. CONLEY: Yes, your Honor, we do still have 9 issues with the Mehta slides.

10 While the NRA did scrub references to Aronson from 11 the slides that we discussed yesterday, the slides --
12 specifically slides 11, 12 and 16, they are still describing 13 work that Aronson and -- Aronson performed and that Mr.
14 Mehta did not, and we have a concern that this is 15 essentially vouching for work that Aronson -- Aronson
16 completed.

17 And I also just want to note that the witness NRA
18 intends to call after Mr. Mehta, Mr. Blacker, we have the 19 same concerns about the demonstratives for him. There are a 20 couple of slides that are just describing the procedures
21 that Aronson performed.

22 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, we definitely aren't
23 intending to use either of those experts to simply rehash
24 what the Aronson fact witness already testified to nor would 25 that be a valuable use of our time, but the idea that the

KM

3731

Proceedings

1 Plaintiff can offer two experts who opine on what the audit
2 doesn't mean, that just because they got clean audits, the 3 jury shouldn't credit reliance on those and that the 4 pretense that they can have experts refer to Aronson and how
5 those findings can and can not be interpreted without us
6 offering experts touch on the same issues is unsupported by 7 law or common sense.

8 These are financial experts, and we had Mr.
9 Sullivan an economist who is a user of this information
10 testifying about how he would use it, but he was not 11 permitted to testify about, you know, what an auditor could 12 do or look at. The reason being the limits of his expertise
13 and the fact that his report was prepared jointly with Mr.
14 Blacker.

15 So now we have Mr. Blacker who -- that is the 16 second expert he just referenced whose report was likewise
17 not excluded. His testimony was likewise not excluded, and 18 it wouldn't behoove us to just have the expert get up and 19 say, well, you saw Aronson's documents and I saw them too.
20 But we have a professional non-profit auditor with decades
21 of experience auditing non-profits.

22 THE COURT: Tell me how the opinion -- how the 23 Aronson work plays into his opinion. Is it the basis for 24 his opinion? What is he --

25 MS. ROGERS: He mentioned the Aronson procedures

KM

3732

Proceedings

1 among a list of data points that he considered when he did
2 his work opining on the NRA's internal controls.

3 THE COURT: What does that mean? Does that mean
4 because they issued a clean opinion, he therefore opined
5 that the internal controls were robust?

6 MS. ROGERS: So he looks into Aronson work papers.
7 He will talk about if I was the auditor what kind of things
8 would I have looked at. He disagrees with Aronson in a
9 couple of places.

10 THE COURT: Is that in his expert report?

11 MS. ROGERS: I don't think the disagreement is in 12 his expert report.

13 He's obviously been listening to testimony so. But 14 if we look at slide 9 of the demonstratives which I
15 apologize that your Honor is just now receiving, there is a 16 second bullet, and this is an example of the kind of 17 testimony the jury will hear. Related-party transactions
18 appear appropriately handled, an opinion I reached based on,
19 and he lists a bunch of things, none of which are Aronson.

20 And then he also says at the end, Analyzing the 21 outside auditor's work papers, I also noted procedures
22 confirming, you know, what I saw. And again, you know, both 23 of Plaintiff's experts touched on Aronson and what they 24 thought about -- what they thought it could mean and what 25 they thought it didn't.

KM

3733

Proceedings

1 We heard Mr. Tenenbaum testify, you know, just 2 because a non-profit gets clean audits doesn't mean that the 3 directors can content themselves with the state of controls.

4 And here we have an auditor saying when I come in 5 and look at a company, here's the kind of things I would
6 look at to reach a clean audit. Here's the kind of 7 documents and data that I looked at the NRA to form the view
8 that as a auditor could rely on these controls, and I
9 wouldn't be blind to what the other auditor did. I looked 10 through all their work papers. That's something I would 11 consider.

12 THE COURT: Well, looked through all their work
13 papers and rendered an independent view or just is saying
14 they did a good job?

15 MS. ROGERS: He is not just saying they did a good
16 job. He is rendering an independent view as we tried to 17 make clear in these slides, and I think part of the issues
18 we had was just the demonstratives.

19 If you actually look at his report, he is saying
20 here's what the professional standards require. Here's how 21 I am applying them, and here's how Aronson applied them.
22 And we have distilled the slides to focus on, you know,
23 here's how I am applying them.

24 THE COURT: So offering an opinion as to what a
25 clean audit opinion means?

KM

3734

Proceedings

1 MS. ROGERS: So I do intend to ask just as
2 Plaintiff asked Mr. Tenenbaum and Mr. Hines, you know, what
3 can you take and not take from a clean financial audit.

4 I do intend to ask our auditor and forensic
5 accountant a couple of questions that are similar, but the 6 meat of his opinion -- of Mr. Mehta's opinion is summarized
7 on slide 3 titled, "Summary of Opinions." And it's 8 basically -- it's core merits stuff, not sort of meta
9 opinions about Aronson.

10 I think that talking about how you interpret
11 financial audit findings is certainly within the scope of 12 the expert testimony.

13 THE COURT: All right. Well, this has been cleaned
14 up, it seems to me anyway, the summary of opinions.

15 I guess the question is whether the -- when you get
16 to the basis for each one, is that his work or is it him
17 saying to them, well, you've already heard that they did an 18 audit. It sounds like you're on top of this.

19 Look, this is not one that's easy to micromanage
20 nor is that typically my job in advance. I will see what it
21 comes in like. I don't -- I think that the -- sort of the 22 most obvious material has been removed, and you know, it's a
23 combination of cross-examination material which is not 24 something that would cause me to strike either the expert or 25 all these things. So I don't see anything in the slides

KM

3735

Proceedings

1 that jumps out at me, but I'll be listening. And you know,
2 the appropriate -- you know, I think it is -- if something
3 came up during trial that was not necessarily in the -- in 4 either expert's report but just part of the back and forth,
5 I think your expert can comment on it, but as long as it's 6 not a new opinion.

7 MS. ROGERS: I understand.

8 MR. FARBER: With respect to the jury charge, I
9 know your Honor in what you've sent called upon the Defense
10 to submit a combined set of comments.

11 As you noted, there are four separate trials going
12 on here. I have no ability to compel the NRA to work
13 cooperatively. They said they would provide us with a draft
14 yesterday which they haven't, so I'm going to need to 15 prepare my own set of comments because I need to provide 16 them to the Court. So I just wanted to alert your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Well, look, I'm hopeful that you can at 18 a minimum fold them into a single document by whenever, you
19 know, Thursday so that, you know, literally if it's just 20 cutting and pasting to say here's Mr. Phillips on this and 21 here's Mr. Phillips on that just to avoid the juggling
22 process -- physical juggling of trying to figure out who is 23 saying what.

24 MR. FARBER: I understand. I will provide that to 25 the NRA -- today is Thursday which I had hoped to get this

3736

Proceedings

1 yesterday.

2 THE COURT: Yeah. I forgot about that.

3 MR. FARBER: I was told I would, but we didn't.

4 THE COURT: Do the best you can, and I told the 5 jurors it was four trials. For me, it's one, and I have to 6 give one set of instructions. And it's -- you know, it's in 7 your own interests to make your filings easier for me to 8 digest.

9 MR. FARBER: I agree with that, your Honor, and we 10 are endeavoring to do that.

11 THE COURT: Yours were in the first round of 260
12 pages. Yours were the only ones that were relatively 13 concise. So hopefully, they will listen to some of your 14 ideas.

15 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, may we -- may I have 16 until tomorrow morning at 10:00 a.m. to get our comments to 17 you because I can't do two things.

18 THE COURT: Well, with the following caveat. It
19 means that I won't read them because I'm going to be in 20 hearings every minute of tomorrow until 3:00.

21 MR. CORRELL: Is there a drop-dead time for you,
22 your Honor? Because I'm happy to work all night if I need
23 to, but if there is some -- it's going to be impossible for 24 me to start until the end of the day.

25 THE COURT: Well, I mean, do the best you can.

KM

1 I'll try to either read it on my commute or -- I don't know
2 what it's going to look like. So I guess what you're saying
3 is yours is also not going to be folded into whatever I get
4 from the other defendants.

5 MR. CORRELL: I have sent my comments to the NRA
6 and asked that they be included. I'm not sure if they will
7 be, and if not, I will have to do a separate set.

8 THE COURT: Just so it's clear, that shouldn't
9 happen in the sense that if there is something that you
10 submit as your position it should just be inserted as you
11 have done in the past as Mr. LaPierre's separate position.

12 I'm just trying to have a one document or two 13 document that I can balance. Four is a little harder.

14 MR. CORRELL: I understand, your Honor, and our 15 position is a little different from the NRA's.

16 THE COURT: I get it, but it can be in the same
17 piece of paper. I didn't give you a page limit.

18 MS. ROGERS: We have no problem putting one party's 19 position in different color text or something like that. We 20 just weren't able to get a draft out yesterday.

21 THE COURT: Look, I didn't give you a lot of time.
22 I tried as best I could, but I'm doing things during the 23 week also. So do the best you can.

24 If -- I would appreciate it if it could be in a
25 single document, even if it's maybe not coordinated as well

1 as we might if you had a few more days just so I can during
2 the commute, if that's where I'm reading it, I don't have to
3 take an entire train car up with balancing them. Okay.

4 MR. CORRELL: Understood, your Honor. Thank you.

5 THE COURT: All right. All right. Let's get the
6 jury.

7 I will have an hour in the morning to look at 8 things.

9 MR. CORRELL: I would encourage everyone to get it
10 in earlier, but that's nice to have an escape belt if we 11 need to.

12 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

13 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
14 courtroom.)

15 THE COURT: Welcome back, everyone. Please have a
16 seat.

17 Is the next witness for the Defense available?

18 MS. ROGERS: Yes, your Honor. The NRA calls Amish
19 Mehta.

20 THE COURT: Good morning.

21 A M I S H M E H T A, a witness called on behalf of
22 the Defendant, after having been first duly sworn, took the 23 witness stand and testified as follows:

24 THE CLERK: State your name.

25 THE WITNESS: Amish Mehta, A-M-I-S-H; last name

KM

3739

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 M-E-H-T-A.

2 THE CLERK: Thank you. You may be seated.

3 MS. ROGERS: Could I trouble the court officer to 4 give the witness the Power Point clicker.

5 Q Please introduce yourself to the jury.

6 A Sure. My name is Amish Mehta. I am an engagement
7 partner and the New York metro non-partner insurance leader for 8 the accounting firm Marcum, LLP.

9 I graduated from New York University with a Bachelors
10 of Science in Accounting, and I have been a Certified Public
11 Accountant since 1993.

12 So in my role at Marcum, I exclusively work with 13 non-profit organizations. I spend 100 percent of my time
14 working with different non-profit organizations. And over my 15 career, I have worked on organizations similar to the NRA.

16 So I started my career in 1991 with the firm called
17 KPMG. It's one of the firms known as one of the Big Four firms.
18 I spent a number of years --

19 MR. ROGERS: The witness is a native New Yorker. We 20 can tell. He talks fast, and it's his first time
21 testifying. So the court reporter has to write down
22 everything you say.

23 A So I graduated in '91, as I mentioned. I started my 24 career at KPMG. That's where I grounded my fundamentals in 25 not-for-profit accounting.

KM

3740

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 I also spent a number of years at the firm
2 Pricewaterhouse, another one of the Big Four firms, and again,
3 specializing in non-profit organizations.

4 Since then I have joined a firm called Friedman, LLP to 5 head up their not-for-profit practice. So fairly small mid-size
6 firm, and it grew over the years. And in September of 2022,
7 Friedman merged into the national firm of Marcum, LLP and that's
8 where I made my current role as the New York metro non-profit
9 insurance leader.

10 So over my career, in addition to specializing in 11 non-profit organizations, I have also taken on other special
12 projects.

13 So one of the things that accounting firms have to do
14 is as part of being able to perform audits of any organization
15 for that matter, they are subject to what's called the peer
16 review by the American Institute of Certified Public
17 Accountants, and that process takes place every three years.

18 And so what happens there is a firm -- similar size
19 firm would go into another firm and obtain a sample of financial 20 statement audits that they have issued, look at their work
21 papers and come to some conclusion is that firm complying with 22 professional standards in rendering and performing their audits.

23 So I -- my firms over the years have participated in 24 that process where I have gone into other firms and performed
25 these peer reviews and been able to look at their work papers

KM

3741

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 and to be able to draw conclusions as to did they perform the
2 audits that I was looking at, and in my particular example,
3 performed their working in accordance with professional
4 standards.

5 In addition to that, most of the firms have an internal
6 inspection process that they typically go through as well. So
7 your colleagues would come in and look at the work that you have
8 done, and that happens periodically. Similar fashion.

9 They would follow the AICPA checklist similar to a peer
10 review, but you are looking at your own firm's work that another
11 colleague of yours has performed.

12 So based on those, the experience that I have with 13 performing internal inspections as well as peer reviews, I am
14 able to review the work of other auditors and be able to draw
15 conclusions based on the work that they have done.

16 In addition, over my career, I have also been a Board
17 member of a --

18 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Narrative.

19 THE COURT: It was kind of a long answer to please
20 introduce yourself to the jury. Maybe we can do it more 21 traditionally.

22 Q All right. We can break this up a little bit.

23 Mr. Mehta, you mentioned applying the standards of an 24 organization called the AICPA.

25 What is that?

KM

3742

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

2 Q And before we get to your non-profit personal
3 experience, I do want to ask about a couple of things you just 4 mentioned in your introduction.

5 We have heard testimony, and you have been listening to 6 testimony in this case the past couple of days; right?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And you have reviewed transcripts and reports from 9 other experts; right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q We heard testimony from an accountant Ms. Cullen who 12 works on the tax side, and we heard testimony from Mr. Plotts
13 who works on the audit side of the NRA engagement; right.

14 You are an engagement partner. Can you explain to the 15 jury how the engagement partner is situated vis a vis tax and 16 audit?

17 A Certainly. So I am the engagement partner on the 18 audits that I have relationships with. So I have overall
19 responsibility for all services that are delivered to my 20 clients. That would include the audit service, the tax services
21 and any advisory services that the client has requested.

22 So I would work with our tax directors similar to Ms.
23 Cullen who would be responsible for preparing the Form 990, that 24 individual and their team, but I would have ultimate 25 responsibility for the tax services that are delivered to the

3743

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 client and would review the 990 prior to the issuance to the 2 client.

3 Q But you don't work at Aprio or Aronson with Ms. Cullen
4 and Mr. Plotts.

5 A That's correct.

6 Q You are an expert witness, and you're being compensated
7 for your testimony; right?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q Are you being compensated based on what you say?

10 A No.

11 Q When the NRA hired you and agreed to pay you, did it
12 know what conclusions you would come to as far as you're aware?

13 A It did not.

14 Q As far as you're aware -- and is your firm being 15 compensated for this work at the same rate it would be 16 compensated if you were doing regular accounting work?

17 A That's correct. For similar work.

18 MS. ROGERS: I offer Mr. Mehta as an expert in 19 non-profit accounting and auditing.

20 MR. CONLEY: No objection.

21 THE COURT: Okay. He is admitted for that purpose.

22 Q Mr. Mehta, you mentioned that you also served on 23 non-profit Boards.

24 A That's correct.

25 Q Tell the jury about that.

KM

3744

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Sure. I have served on Boards of non-profit
2 organizations initially as a Board member, and then I spent two
3 years as the treasurer of a non-profit organization, so I am
4 able to see, kind of wear two hats. And again, my testimony,
5 one that is an auditor for financial statements, but also a
6 Board member understanding my fiduciary responsibility as a
7 Board member knowing the things that I requested from the 8 accounting firm that, for example, worked on the audit of the 9 organization that I was on the Board of, the questions that I
10 would ask my fellow Board members and management, in fact, you
11 know, to carry out my fiduciary obligations as a Board member.

12 Q What were you asked to do in this case?

13 A So I was asked to provide expert witness testimony.

14 Q Is the clicker working? Okay. He is not an expert on 15 this, and it's not his fault either. There we go.

16 So you were asked to give opinions and testimony on --
17 sorry. Go ahead.

18 A Sorry. So yes, so I was asked to review the 19 documentation from the -- review the first complaint, the 20 amended complaint, second amended complaint, review the 21 testimony, various documentation, policies and procedures and 22 the like in order to provide my expert opinion on the financial 23 reporting practices of the NRA, their internal controls and 24 their commitment and then compliance with good corporate 25 governance.

KM

3745

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Yesterday you heard Greg Plotts testify about how
2 auditors have to be independent.

3 Do you recall that?

4 A I do.

5 Q Can you describe whether or to what extent that
6 standard applies to you?

7 A Certainly. So again, under the AICPA, we are bound to 8 the independent standards of AICPA in fact and appearance.

9 So what does that mean?

10 So we are prohibited from having any type of business
11 relationships with the client that we audit. We can't have an 12 ownership interest in any client that we audit. We can not have 13 relationships -- for example, I can not have a spouse that's the 14 CFO of an organization that we audit. So those are types of --
15 and then when I mentioned appearance, if there is any doubt that 16 someone could potentially say that you have an independence
17 problem even though in reality there might not be one, we are 18 really precluded from carrying out that particular transaction.

19 So even though the underlying foundation may not be 20 independence violation, but because the fact it might give the 21 appearance that could be an independence violation, we would be 22 prohibited from carrying out such a transaction.

23 Q Have you ever been an expert witness before?

24 A I have not.

25 Q Can you summarize briefly for the jury and then we will

KM

3746

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 walk through them, the opinions that you reached when you looked
2 at these documents.

3 A So I was asked to -- one of the things I was asked to 4 do is look at and evaluate the NRA's various policies and 5 procedures. Specifically, a couple of key areas.

6 One is related-party transaction. One is whistle
7 blowers, and the the third being their filings with the 8 regulatory authorities of whether the Audit Committee of the NRA
9 properly discharged their responsibilities and come to some 10 conclusion of what my assessment was with -- related to those 11 particular opinions.

12 So with respect to conflict of interest and 13 related-party transactions, I have worked on hundreds of 14 non-profit organizations over the years and looked at conflict
15 of interest, and related-party transactions is a key cornerstone
16 of the work that we do.

17 So in any audit, we would ask for what is your 18 conflict-of-interest policy. May I see a copy of it? What is 19 the process that you utilize to, for example, circulate
20 related-party questionnaires or conflict-of-interest
21 questionnaires on an annual basis to all Board members, officers
22 and senior management.

23 THE COURT: Just are you now moving on from the 24 summary to now -- I'm just trying to --

25 Q I think -- why don't we talk -- before we get into the

KM

3747

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 meat of your opinions, let's talk about what you're basing them
2 on, and I think that should be your next slide.

3 A So one of the key concepts that you may have heard --

4 Q I think we skipped a slide.

5 THE COURT: He is back now.

6 Q Sorry. There we go.

7 A So the items that I looked at in coming and forming
8 conclusions and my opinions are I looked at the allegations that 9 the NYAG office has made with respect to the NRA. So I looked 10 at the second amended verified complaint. I looked at the 11 various subpoenas that were produced by the various parties and 12 the witnesses during the litigation. I reviewed policies and 13 procedures, the conflict-of-interest policy, the whistleblower
14 policy, the employee handbook, their corporate governance
15 policies.

16 I looked at the -- Aronson's work papers, for example.
17 I looked at the depth and breadth that they did their work and 18 the areas that they looked at specifically as it relates to what 19 the opinions that I'm forming. I looked at the Bylaws, the 20 employee handbooks. I looked at the compliance and governance
21 refresher seminars. I looked at the Audit Committee, the 22 meeting -- the minutes of the Audit Committee meetings. So I
23 looked at a whole -- in addition to also consulting
24 professionally accounting guidelines in forming my opinions.

25 Q All right. We have heard from a few different

KM

3748

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 witnesses about a concept called "materiality," and you used
2 that concept in your work; right?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q Can you tell the jury what that means from a financial
5 perspective and in layman's terms?

6 A Certainly. I recall Sonya Rowling testify in terms of 7 the size of the NRA.

8 When I looked at the financials from '15 to '21, and 9 just to get an overview of the size and depth and breadth of the 10 organization, you can see that the NRA's, you know, transactions
11 run at hundreds of millions of dollars. And in addition, the 12 NRA's a complicated organization in the sense that they have 13 multiple entities; right. So they have separately incorporated
14 entities that carry out different purposes.

15 You've heard the NRA being what's called a (c)(4)
16 organization which is the advocacy organization. You have heard
17 that they have a (c)(3) organization which is the foundation
18 that carries out different charitable activities. So they have 19 multiple organizations that have been established to carry out
20 various purposes, and those organizations are consolidated from 21 a financial reporting purposes into what's called consolidated
22 financial statements.

23 So someone takes several or multiple different trial
24 balances, ledgers and pulls out information together to give you
25 an overall picture of the total organization.

KM

3749

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 So when you take an organization like the NRA, the
2 concept of materiality is the under -- is the undertone of the 3 work that we as auditors do.

4 So when we render an audit opinion, we are not saying
5 that the financial statements are 100 percent accurate. What we 6 are saying is that the financial statements are fairly presented
7 in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles,
8 that they are materially stated correctly.

9 So when we talk about that it's possible that you can 10 -- you could have an error, for example, ranging in the hundreds 11 of thousands, but that would not prevent an auditor from 12 rendering what's called an unmodified opinion or a clean opinion
13 on those financial statements.

14 So from a materiality standpoint, it's one of the 15 concepts that you have to look at when you evaluate the 16 financial statements of any organization.

17 Q And if we move ahead. Now that we have talked about 18 how accountants calculate materiality, how would you think about 19 it as a layman and how did you think about it when you were on a
20 not-profit Board?

21 MR. CONLEY: Objection to leading, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Also, his -- he is testifying as an
23 accounting expert, not as an expert in director's duties.

24 MS. ROGERS: That's fair. I did also say as a
25 layman. I don't know if he is allowed to give lay testimony

KM

3750

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 at the periphery of his expert testimony.

2 THE COURT: Materiality is an accounting principle
3 which is that's what he is here for, but he can explain it
4 to the jury in layman's terms.

5 Q Can you explain to the jury in layman's terms?

6 A Certainly. So in layman's terms, materiality as this
7 slide indicates, it's where are the financial statements
8 misstated to the point where a user of a financial statement
9 would come to a different conclusion, you know, had an error not 10 been present.

11 So if you talk about the NRA and you're talking about 12 revenues of three to $400 million, if the revenues were off by 13 let's say a million dollars, would that cause you to come to a
14 different conclusion than if that error was not present.

15 You heard Mr. Plotts testify that, you know, we also 16 look at materiality in a qualitative manner. So if that million
17 dollars would have changed the debt covenant in where there
18 would have been default of their debt covenant, from a
19 qualitative standpoint, yes, that would be material. So you
20 have got to take a look at materiality from a quantitative as 21 well as a qualitative standpoint.

22 Q Let's talk now about the specific opinions that you've 23 reached, and I'd like to direct you back to the discussion about
24 related-party transactions.

25 Can you explain to the jury the opinion you reached

KM

3751

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 about the NRA's controls on related-party transactions and walk
2 the jury through the basis for your opinion.

3 A Certainly. So as I mentioned earlier, when we look at 4 conflict of interest and related-party transactions, we ask for 5 a number of items when we are performing a financial statement
6 audit. So one being that does the organization have a
7 conflict-of-interest policy.

8 In my experience having served on audits of hundreds of 9 non-profit organizations, I'm familiar with -- I can distinguish
10 between what's a fairly robust policy versus one that's lacking
11 in some key principles that I would expect to see in a policy.
12 So that's one area that we looked at.

13 Also, do they obtain conflict-of-interest statements
14 from their Board members, officers and senior management
15 typically on an annual basis? So does that process take place?
16 Who is in charge of that process? How are the results of those 17 questionnaires handled and disseminated to the Board and other
18 members of governance?

19 And then also how is that process documented. I would 20 expect to see that process documented in the minutes of the 21 audit committee's meetings that, you know, conflict-of-interest
22 policy statements were circulated. These were the results that 23 were -- that we obtained. These were the conflict -- potential
24 conflicts that were reported to the -- within this particular
25 case, the Office of General Counsel, and how are we going to

KM

3752

1 address those particular conflicts that may have been mentioned.

2 In addition, what type -- what does the organization do
3 to communicate that policy and what do they do to insure that
4 individuals are following through on that policy.

5 So the NRA, for example, I looked at a number of these 6 governance and compliance seminars that I believe you have seen
7 from different experts along the trial. And in those seminars,
8 there is a constant focus on insuring that the Board members as 9 well as members of senior management understand and know how --
10 what a potential conflict could look like, how to identify, what 11 is the reporting mechanism once you have identified such a
12 conflict and then, you know, what's the protocol for handling
13 those types of conflicts.

14 So I looked at all of those factors in determining that 15 the NRA does have a robust conflict-of-interest policy process
16 in place.

24

25

KM

3753

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Let's move ahead and talk a little bit about those
2 seminars.

3 You said you've audited hundreds of not-for-profits in 4 your career. How would you compare the NRA's seminar conflict
5 education program to most of not-for-profits you've seen?

6 A It's certainly more robust than many of my existing
7 clients. Most of my clients do have a conflict-of-interest
8 policy in place -- I mean, all of my clients have a
9 conflict-of-interest policy in place. They do circulate
10 conflict-of-interest questionnaires to board members, members of 11 senior management and officers. They disseminate those results
12 and discuss those within the board.

13 But I don't recall any of my existing clients doing
14 these types of seminars or a constant training on a periodic 15 basis to those constituents and ensure and reinforce that 16 there's a policy in place and what is the protocol for adhering
17 to the policy, and what happens if you have a potential conflict
18 that you want to report.

19 So, certainly, the NRA has a more robust policy in 20 place.

21 Q Mr. Mehta, I want to situate your analysis on a
22 timeline. When you were analyzing NRA's conflict policies and 23 its other documents and practices, did you look at the NRA
24 before or after the attorney general's lawsuit?

25 A So, the years of my -- the focus of my analysis related

BP

3754

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 to 2019 and 2020.

2 Q So before and after?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q Let's talk about -- well, strike that.

5 You mentioned that a financial statement can be off by 6 a million dollars and if it's a billion dollar company that 7 might or might not be material. Separate from those kinds of 8 misstatements, are auditors required to look -- are auditors
9 like you required to look at related-party transactions
10 specifically?

11 A Yes. I mean, we're -- again, we're required to look at 12 related-party transactions. So, typically, what we'll do is 13 obtain -- we'll we ask management for a listing of their 14 related-party transactions. So, we'll say can you provide us
15 with a list of your related-party transactions, and we'll go
16 through those and test those transactions to ensure that, one,
17 they were reviewed, they were approved. That they appear to be 18 have been carried out as arms-length transactions similar to 19 what the organization would obtain if they had gone out into the 20 marketplace for similar goods or services.

21 And then we would maintain a heightened level of 22 professional skepticism so that as we're carrying out our work,
23 if we happen to notice a payment made to a vendor, for example,
24 that we recall seeing it on a related-party questionnaire that 25 was disclosed as a related-party, we want to make sure that

BP

3755

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 particular transaction appeared on the related-party transaction
2 list that we obtained from the client.

3 Q You talked about analyzing whether the company is 4 getting the same terms from a related party that it would get if 5 it went out into the marketplace.

6 Can you talk a little bit more about that analysis?

7 A Certainly. So, in looking at the related-party
8 transactions, we would do an assessment to determine whether,
9 again, those transactions were arm's length.

10 Again, drawing on our professional experience, if we 11 see that there's a transaction that causes a cause for concern,
12 we would certainly go out --

13 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. This is 14 outside the scope of his report. Mr. Mehta didn't perform
15 the analysis.

16 MS. ROGERS: There's an entire section in his 17 report.

18 THE COURT: Right now he's just talking about what 19 he would do in an audit of a different company. We haven't
20 really gotten to any of his opinions about whether he did
21 any of this for the testimony about this case, yet.

22 Q Mr. Mehta, let's talk about what you looked at in this
23 case in reaching your opinion of the NRA was robustly handling
24 related-party transactions, what items did you analyze?

25 A So, again, I analyzed -- as I mentioned -- the Audit

BP

3756

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Committee reports. I also looked at as I mentioned their
2 conflict-of-interest policies and procedures. I looked at the 3 questionnaires. I obtained a list of questionnaires for 4 particular years that were my areas of focus and emphasis.

5 I looked at the -- the auditor financial statements, so
6 I think that's one area I want to talk about.

7 So, it's Generally Accepted Accounting Principles of 8 the Financial Accounting Standard Board is the body that 9 promulgates accounting principles, so that's the FASB, F-A-S-B.

10 The American Certified Public Accountants promulgates
11 the audit standards for auditors when we carry out our 12 procedures. It is the AICPA. It is the AICPA that promulgates
13 the audit standards in terms of how the auditors carry out their
14 procedures.

15 So, the disclosures that go into the financial
16 statements are promulgated by the FASB under Generally Accepted
17 Accounting Principles, and it's management that's responsible
18 for the financial statements. The auditors are not responsible 19 for the financial statement. The only thing that belongs to the 20 auditors is that one 2-to-3 page opinion at the beginning of the 21 financial statement that says we have audited.

22 That's the report that belongs to the auditors; but the 23 financial statements and the notes to the financial statements
24 belong to the management.

25 So, it's management that makes the disclosure of the

BP

3757

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 related-party transactions in the financial statements. That's
2 one of the requirements if you have related-party transactions,
3 that you must disclose -- you must have some level of disclosure
4 about the related-party transactions. So, when I reviewed the 5 NRA's financial statements, it is clear that there is reference
6 to the fact that there are related-party transactions with board
7 members and other insiders.

8 So, when the Aronson firm looked at the financial 9 statements, they concurred that, for example, and I felt that 10 the related-parties disclosure were also appropriate in terms of 11 the NRA had put forth.

12 The other thing I also looked at was Form 990, and kind 13 of backing up a little bit. So the reader knows that there are 14 related-party transactions, they can always ask the NRA can we 15 get more information on what those related-party transactions
16 are. If you go to the Federal Form 990, the Form 990 goes into 17 much, much more detail about related-party transactions.

18 So, if you take a look at the financial statements,
19 that will cue you that there are related-party transactions with 20 the organization; and if you go to the 990, it will give you a 21 lot more detail as to what those related-party transactions are.

22 Q Thank you.

23 A So, combination of all those documents.

24 MR. CONLEY: Objection, narrative answer.

25 THE COURT: Yeah, it might be better to do question

BP

3758

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 and answer format.

2 MS. ROGERS: Okay.

3 Q Mr. Mehta, I'll try to ask slightly narrower questions.

4 Did you look at the tools and rules the NRA has in 5 place to make sure information about these transactions filters
6 where it can be disclosed?

7 A I did.

8 Q Let's talk about what you found narrowly.

9 A Collectively, when I looked at the different tools that 10 I described in my testimony, I formed the conclusion that the 11 NRA in fact does have robust conflict-of-interest and 12 related-party transactions process where the transactions that 13 it engages in that are deemed to be related party have been 14 disclosed in their financial statements as well as their Federal 15 Form 990 and have been documented in their Audit Committee
16 meeting minutes.

17 Q Do you have a few more slides on what you looked at at 18 the accounting standards that you applied?

19 A So, this is an example for a -- it's an example of 20 related party financial disclosure question, FDQ, that the NRA
21 circulates to board members and members of senior management.

22 This is -- there's actually two pages missing. It is a
23 five-page document. Most of my clients would typically have a
24 two pager, for example, for their related-party transactions
25 conflict-of-interest questionnaire. In NRA's case, it is a

BP

3759

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 five-page document. It is extremely robust in terms of the 2 types of transactions that it inquires about.

3 And, certainly, there's space on the forms to provide 4 further detail if you answered yes to any of the questions that
5 are asked on the questionnaire.

6 Q All right, and let's talk a little more just briefly
7 because I know you've already gotten into this somewhat about 8 what accountants and auditors like you do when you dig into this 9 issue?

10 A So, we -- we go through the process of evaluating the 11 client's related-party transactions. As I mentioned earlier, we 12 look at the policy. We look at the process that they utilize to 13 educate the board and members of the senior management about the 14 policy. We also look at the results of the questionnaires.

15 We maintain a heightened level of skepticism and 16 professionalism to the extent that we uncover any transactions
17 that have not been reported by the members of the board or 18 members of senior management in order to come to conclusions,
19 and should there be any issues or concerns we would certainly 20 communicate them in what we call a management letter to those 21 with charge with governance indicating any issues we found in 22 performing our work.

23 Q You heard Mr. Plotts testify about doing something
24 called testing, testing related-party transactions.

25 Can you tell the jury what that means?

BP

3760

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Certainly. So, as I mentioned we would obtain a
2 listing of related-party transactions from management, and we
3 would obtain those transactions and then we would pick a sample
4 of those transactions and vouch them to the underlying 5 transactions, supporting documentation, were there review and 6 approval processes in place for the transaction and also look at 7 the Audit Committee minutes to see if that transaction was 8 discussed and deliberated in the minutes of the meeting.

9 Q Let's talk about whistleblowers. You also looked at 10 the NRA's whistleblower controls; right?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And can you tell the jury what you found and tell the 13 jury concisely, if you can, and then we'll go into each one, the 14 basis for that opinion.

15 A Sure. So, when I looked at the NRA whistleblower
16 policy, my first question was where can I find the policy. And 17 it's outlined in a number of areas.

18 So, for example, it is in their policy manual. It is 19 in their Employee Handbook. It is in their intranet, which is 20 within the company itself. If you go to the NRA external
21 website, you'll see a statement about whistleblower policy
22 directly on their website; so anybody, anyone in the world, for 23 example, can take a look at their whistleblower policy. It is 24 also embodied in their statement of corporate ethics.

25 Another place you can find is also another part of

BP

3761

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 their compliance and governance refresher seminars that we've
2 been talking about. So, that's a key point in that particular
3 seminar where they reinforce what the policy is, and we'll go
4 into more detail in terms of the points that they cover in that
5 policy. But, again, it is embodied in those particular seminars
6 that are given. And then the Audit Committee and the Office
7 General Counsel, also what their role and responsibilities are 8 that relates to the organization's whistleblower policy.

9 Q You mentioned that your analysis covered both 2019 and 10 2020. Did you notice any revisions to whistleblower policy
11 during that time?

12 A I do recall seeing a document where the NRA enhanced 13 their whistleblower policy where they laid out more detail the 14 anonymity clause, and we'll talk about how they've added that 15 particular clause about how whistleblower claims can be made
16 anonymously.

17 Q Even before 2020, how did the NRA's whistleblower
18 protections compare to those you've seen in other
19 not-for-profits?

20 THE COURT: By "before" you mean 2019?

21 MS. ROGERS: Well, yes, so in 2019 before 2020
22 because his analysis covered both years.

23 THE COURT: Right, but when you say before, that's 24 a long period of time. You mean he looked at 2019?

25 MS. ROGERS: Right -- well, the

BP

3762

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 whistleblower policy, yeah.

2 Q So for the whistleblower policy you saw in 2019, the
3 one before they laid -- added more details to the anonymity
4 clause, how did that 2019 policy compare to policies that other
5 not-for-profits you audited?

6 A I found the NRA's whistleblower policy robust. When I
7 look at a whistleblower policy, we look for a couple of 8 different factors.

9 One, is that one, obviously, they have to have a policy
10 to begin with; but does their statement in there that says
11 whistleblower policies can be made anonymously.

12 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. This is 13 factual narrative and doesn't discuss any analysis MR. Mehta
14 did.

15 MS. ROGERS: He's comparing the policy to other
16 policies he looked at in his capacity as an expert.

17 THE COURT: Overruled.

18 By the way, we lost the real time completely. It
19 is going to take awhile. It already crashed. So, we're 20 just going to have to listen for awhile. Go ahead.

21 Q So, Mr. Mehta, in the documents you reviewed, did you
22 form an understanding as to whether anonymous whistleblowers
23 even before the NRA revised its policy were coming forward at
24 the NRA?

25 A That's my understanding.

BP

3763

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q All right, let's talk about --

2 THE COURT: Okay, I -- you just asked him a factual
3 question about --

4 Q Well, what was your understanding based on?

5 A So, again, looking at Audit Committee minutes in 2019,
6 I saw evidence that whistleblowers were coming forward on an
7 anonymous basis.

8 Q And let's talk more about the technical accounting
9 standards that govern whistleblowers and why and how an 10 accountant would consider this.

11 So, are there any specific accounting standards you
12 consider in your practice that you brought to bear here on your 13 whistleblower policy analysis?

14 A Sure. So, the whistleblower policy is kind of part and 15 parcel with the auditor's responsibility for assessing fraud in 16 a financial statement audit. So, as auditors, we're not --
17 we're not performing a financial statement audit for the purpose
18 of detecting fraud, but we have to be aware that the possibility
19 of fraud exists.

20 So, that's the guidance that we look at in performing 21 with financial statement audits. So, a key cornerstone of 22 having -- a key cornerstone of minimizing the possibility of 23 fraud in an organization is having an effective whistleblower
24 policy.

25 So, if an organization has an effective whistleblower

BP

3764

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 policy, that gives us comfort that the risk of fraud or that
2 minimizes the risk of fraud. It's impossible to have an
3 environment where you'll never have any fraud, right? But 4 you're always trying to minimize the risk of fraud, so having 5 effective whistleblower policy does that.

6 So, when we look at the whistleblower policy, what is 7 the policy, what is the reporting mechanism for the policy, what 8 is the -- are there -- and one of the key cornerstones is to 9 having making sure that you have anti-retaliation clauses so
10 that whistleblowers are not retaliated against if they bring 11 forward any complaints that they have.

12 And then what is a reporting mechanism? Is it -- there
13 should be a reporting mechanism directly to the Audit Committee, 14 for example, the Office of General Counsel which is the case in 15 the NRA's practices, that those matters are brought forward to 16 the Office of General Counsel and, ultimately, to the Audit
17 Committee.

18 The whistleblower matters were documented in the 19 minutes of the Audit Committee meetings as to how they were 20 addressed. So, my conclusion on the NRA's policies when I look
21 at the audit standards in terms of our response is that the NRA
22 is meeting those standards.

23 Q You mentioned looking for an anti-retaliation clause,
24 and you also mentioned looking at both the 2019 and 2020
25 versions of the NRA's policy. Focussing on the 2019 policy, did

3765

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 you form a view about the robustness of the NRA's
2 anti-retaliation mechanism?

3 A I did. So, I mean, that particular anti-retaliation
4 clause is present in the 2019 policy. I can see from the 5 minutes, the Audit Committee meetings that those items were 6 discussed, that whistleblower protections were offered to those 7 individuals that came forward.

8 Certainly, that's a point that's emphasized in the 9 governance and refresher seminars they offer periodically, and I
10 was comfortable with the fact that those clauses were present.

11 Q The Audit Committee meetings aren't always very 12 detailed about whistleblowers; are they?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q Did that concern you?

15 A What I look for is the fact that the item was 16 discussed. Sometimes, again, they could be very sensitive 17 matters and discussions so many times those specifics of the 18 whistleblower matters are discussed in executive session. There
19 might be confidentiality issues at hand and that, therefore,
20 you would not see the details of what investigation was 21 documented.

22 MR. CONLEY: Objection, to factual narrative, might
23 occur.

24 MS. ROGERS: He's providing an expert view on 25 whether as an auditor --

BP

3766

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 THE COURT: Look, I've done this with each expert.

2 Experts base their or have to base their opinion on
3 their review of documents and the like. This is not a fact
4 witness. He doesn't have firsthand knowledge of what is 5 going on at the NRA on a daily basis. He's basing it on the 6 same kind of evidence that you're looking at.

7 So, at the end, as I said, you evaluate all the 8 experts; and if you consider that the factual basis that 9 they're using you disagree with or you think that's not 10 really the way it worked, you can use that in considering
11 with this expert or any of the experts.

12 So, some of the experts more frequently say
13 explicitly that it is based on things that they have read or 14 things that they have heard; but you should assume that 15 unless you hear otherwise, Mr. Mehta is not a fact witness.

16 So, he's not testifying about facts, although it
17 sometimes sounds like it. He's just giving you his 18 understanding of the evidence.

19 Ultimately, it is up to you.

20 Q Thank you, Mr. Mehta. In the Audit Committee minutes
21 you read that the jury is going to see, too, did you have any
22 concerns or opinions about the level of detail or lack of detail
23 concerning whistleblowers?

24 A I did not.

25 Q Can you explain to the jury how you look at those

BP

3767

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 documents and how you form that opinion?

2 A So, as I stated earlier, I'm looking to see is there
3 evidence in the Audit Committee minutes that whistleblower
4 matters are discussed and deliberated.

5 That's certainly laid out in their policies and
6 procedures, so I'm certainly checking to see are they in fact
7 carrying out what they have documented to be their policies and
8 procedures.

9 So, I did see evidence in the Audit Committee minutes
10 that their whistleblower matters were discussed. They,
11 certainly, may not have gotten into detail as far as the full 12 extent of the investigation that was conducted; but, certainly,
13 there was evidence in the minutes that whistleblower matters are 14 being discussed.

15 Q All right, let's talk now about the completeness and 16 accuracy of the NRA's filings, and I want you to explain the 17 opinion you formed based on the evidence and the basis for that 18 opinion.

19 A So, as an auditor, I reviewed their financial 20 statements, again looking at the disclosures that were made in 21 the financial statements. There was nothing that jumped out at 22 me that wouldn't cause me concern that there were significant
23 disclosures that were missing or inadequate.

24 Just taking a step back, in New York State what's 25 called it's called a CHAR500 filing. So, the CHAR500 form,

BP

3768

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 itself, is a fairly simple form. It asks a bunch of
2 administrative questions. But the crux of that filing package,
3 if you will, is to submit the audited financial statements
4 and the copy of the Federal Form 990 that accompanies the 5 CHAR500.

6 So, that forms the packet -- the reporting package
7 that's provided to the New York State Attorney General's
8 Charities bureau on an annual basis.

9 So, I reviewed that package, the reporting package. I
10 found the financial statements to be complete. There was 11 nothing when I reviewed those financials that caused me concern.

12 I, also, reviewed the Federal Form 990 for those 13 particular years and found them to be complete.

14 I, also, consulted with other experts within my firm as 15 a second look to see if there was anything that raised red flag
16 concerns to them, and they communicated back to me that there
17 was nothing that they saw out of the ordinary in the 18 organization's 990 filings.

19 Q All right, I think we have a couple more screens on 20 this, including one discussing the C-Trac software that the NRA
21 used to prepare its 990.

22 In your experience, is that a robust way in preparing a
23 tax form?

24 A So, as part of our audit and tax preparation process we 25 look to see what is the organization's process for preparing

BP

3769

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 their financial statements as well as their Federal Form 990.
2 I would expect to see that there are sound, robust processes in
3 place in terms of review by the management.

4 Once those documents are ultimately prepared, the 5 Federal Form 990 is typically -- if we're engaged to prepare the 6 990, obviously, we'll do that; but in the NRA's case, they
7 utilized the C-Trac software to prepare their own Federal Form
8 990 and had utilized their external auditor in a consulting
9 fashion.

10 So, I looked at the process that the NRA undertakes to 11 prepare, for example, their Federal Form 990. Based on the 12 documents that were provided to me and testimony that was 13 provided by John Frazer, Sonya Rowling. I understand that 14 that's a coordinated effort between the office of General
15 Counsel, the CFO and the Financial Services Division. And they 16 also used outside tax counsel to review the Form 990 for 17 completeness. They also utilized their independent auditor,
18 Aronson, who provides consulting advice so if they have 19 questions, to answer a particular question --

20 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, a narrative.

21 The question was about C-Trac software.

22 MS. ROGERS: The question was completely
23 appropriately framed, and the witness is providing the basis
24 for his opinion.

25 THE COURT: Yeah, there's still a disconnect

BP

3770

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 between the scope of questions and the scope of answers.

2 Direct there's a fair amount of leeway, but it's a little
3 hard to follow.

4 Q Let's go back to the C-Trac software. You would agree
5 with me that the C-Trac software doesn't prevent anyone from 6 lying on their tax return; right?

7 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

8 THE COURT: Overruled.

9 Q It wouldn't prevent you from lying, from intentionally
10 concealing information; right?

11 A No. The C-Trac software relies on inputs; and as 12 testimony was given, there are crosschecks within the software
13 so if you answered a particular question -- I believe Ms. Cullen
14 talked about the governance questions. So, if you answered yes
15 on a particular question, it would prompt you that you must fill
16 out a supplemental schedule. So if you failed to fill out a
17 supplemental schedule, the software would not let you validate
18 the tax returns.

19 So, by itself, it wouldn't allow any type of lying.

20 Q Now, you had a slide earlier about how a form can be 21 inconsistent without being it from an audit perspective
22 materially misleading.

23 Can you describe whether and to what extent that's the 24 kind of thing the software would solve?

25 A I'm sorry, repeat the question again?

BP

3771

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Sure. So, you had an earlier slide that talked about
2 inconsistencies in a document. Can you describe whether that is
3 the kind of thing the software would address?

4 A Certainly. So, as I mentioned earlier that the 5 software has built-in checks. So that the way you answer the 6 questions or you fill out a particular number on a particular
7 line item would force you to complete the other required
8 schedules or line items so that would, itself, would prevent any 9 type of inconsistencies in the reporting within the document.

10 Q Let's talk about the Audit Committee.

11 Can you describe for the jury the facts and documents
12 that you analyze relating to the NRA Audit Committee and how it
13 does its job?

14 A Sure. So, as independent auditors, we have a direct
15 line of reporting to the board and, typically, the Audit
16 Committee. So, we work for the board and the Audit Committee
17 and not management.

18 So, we have a collegial relationship with members of 19 management, but that's not who ultimately hires us to perform
20 the audit of the financial statements. It is the Audit
21 Committee of the board that hires us.

22 So, how does the Audit Committee carry out its 23 responsibilities? Typically, there's an Audit Committee
24 charter. So in that charter it outlines what responsibilities
25 the Audit Committee has for financial reportings. The Audit

BP

3772

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Committee has responsibility for the internal controls of the 2 organization. So, that's the responsibility that they're taxed
3 with.

4 They also are responsible ensuring that the 5 organization complies with the various laws and regulations that
6 it has to adhere to; and then, ultimately, it has -- as I
7 mentioned -- overall responsibility for the external audit.

8 Q You heard Mr. Plotts testify yesterday that as part of 9 the special procedures he did after the attorney general's 10 lawsuit, he looked at --

11 MR. CONLEY: Objection, characterizing testimony.

12 THE COURT: She can --

13 MS. ROGERS: I can abbreviate the characterization
14 slightly, but I'm trying --

15 THE COURT: You didn't get to it yet, so it is a
16 premature objection.

17 MS. ROGERS: I'm prematurely accommodating him.

18 THE COURT: You're just assuming.

19 Q You heard Mr. Plotts testify yesterday about special
20 procedures done after they filed their lawsuit; right?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And you heard him testify that one of those special
23 procedures involve looking at whether the Audit Committee was 24 doing its job under its charter; right?

25 A That's correct.

BP

3773

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Did you look at similar issues in forming your expert
2 opinion?

3 A Yes. So, in reviewing the work that was done by 4 Aronson, I looked at the extent that they performed their 5 procedures and how that would compare to procedures that I would
6 perform where I would perform an audit of an organization.

7 So, I was comfortable with the -- by the way, what
8 Aronson refers as special procedures are really just extended
9 procedures that they performed in light of --

10 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: The witness is not here to give an 12 opinion about the quality of Aronson's work. He's here to 13 give you his opinion based on his own work.

14 Q Let me ask this. I won't ask about the quality of 15 Aronson's work; but we did hear cross-examination yesterday
16 about the difference between a financial audit with special
17 procedures, which is what Aronson did, and an internal controls
18 audit.

19 Do you recall that?

20 A I do.

21 Q If you were advising the NRA, would you tell the NRA to 22 do an internal control audit?

23 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

24 THE COURT: Overruled.

25 A So, the NRA complies -- currently complies with what

BP

3774

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 they're required to do, which is performing a financial
2 statement audit. Under New York State they're required to
3 perform a financial statement audit and also file a Federal Form
4 990.

5 There is no requirement under New York State to perform
6 any type of an internal control audit. Organizations may elect
7 to do that, should they wish to get an additional level of 8 comfort, organizations may wish to incorporate an internal audit
9 function within the organization, but there's certainly not a
10 requirement.

11 Given the -- given the robust policies of the 12 procedures that the NRA has placed, the different groups that 13 work together during the NRA, for example, the Financial 14 Services Division, the CFO, the treasurer, the office of General
15 Counsel, use of outside consultants; it is my opinion the NRA
16 has a robust internal control structure in place already that 17 would not necessitate them to perform a separate internal 18 control audit.

19 Q Let's talk about the NRA's commitment to corporate
20 governance. That's your opinion number 5.

21 You've audited hundreds of non-profits. Without 22 revealing confidential details about any other client, where 23 would you say the NRA ranks in its commitment to corporate
24 governance among the non-profits you've looked at and I'll tell 25 you to focus that ranking on the time period you looked at which

BP

3775

1 started before their lawsuit in 2019 and into 2020?

2 A So in 2019, again, based on my experience having
3 performed financial statement audits of hundreds of non-profits
4 in my career and looking at the breadth and depth of the 5 procedures and policies that the NRA has in place, in 2019 I
6 would probably put their governance structure in the top
7 25 percent.

8 Ones this litigation was brought on by the AG's office
9 and the improvements that they made to their environment in 10 2020, I would say probably in the top 10 to 15 percent.

11 Q And then listening to the trial which has included
12 testimony about improvements after 2020, would that ranking
13 change?

14 A I would still put them in the top 10 to 20 percent.

15 Q You mentioned earlier that at the end of the audit you
16 send a management letter if you want to communicate certain
17 issues to management; right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q And yesterday you saw Mr. Plotts cross-examined about a
20 management letter he issued, which was Plaintiff's Exhibit 48.

21 MS. ROGERS: Can you put that up.

22 (Displayed)

24

25

BP

3776

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q All right. Let's turn to Page 5 of this exhibit.

2 Did you review this management letter in forming your
3 opinion?

4 A I did.

5 Q As part of the basis for your opinion?

6 A I did.

7 Q You heard testimony yesterday about significant
8 deficiencies, and I want to know if you disagree with Aronson on 9 any of these.

10 A So when we think about a management letter, it's one of 11 the documents that we issued.

12 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. This isn't --
13 this is beyond the scope of his report.

14 MS. ROGERS: He is responding directly to testimony
15 he heard yesterday.

16 THE COURT: Well, you're asking him whether he 17 disagrees with the conclusions in this document which he's 18 had for his report, so sustained.

19 Q Okay. All right. Well, I can't ask that because 20 that's beyond the scope of your report, but in addition to 21 management letters, did you review other communications issued
22 by the auditors to the NRA?

23 A Yes. So in addition to the management letter, I
24 reviewed their required communication with those charged with 25 governance. So that's a letter that we typically issue in every

KM

3777

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 audit, and what that letter does is outlines the auditor's
2 responsibilities, you know, what we came across from the results
3 of the audit, whether we had disagreements with management,
4 whether there were any audit adjustments that we came across
5 that were either booked or passed upon by management.

6 We talked about our independence. We talked about the 7 accounting principles that the organization utilized and what
8 are your thoughts on those accounting principles. So it's 9 basically recap to the Audit Committee of the work that we have 10 done and the results of our audit.

11 Q And in your career as an auditor, you have delivered
12 these communications hundreds of times; right?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q In reviewing Aronson's communications to the Audit
15 Committee and the Audit Committee's response, how would you rank
16 the NRA's responsiveness to its auditors concerning relative to 17 other non-profits that you have seen?

18 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Outside the scope of his
19 reports.

20 MS. ROGERS: It's not explicitly in his report. I
21 would say it's within the general area that he's analyzing.
22 The NRA's commitment to corporate governance, this is 23 certainly one of the benefits of that.

24 Q Do you need me to ask it again?

25 THE COURT: Overruled.

KM

3778

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Yes.

2 Q You have hundreds of times at the end of your audit
3 issued management letters and governance letters, and you have 4 talked those over with management and audit committees; right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And they respond to your concerns to some degree;
7 right?

8 A That's right.

9 Q So looking at the documents, looking at what Aronson
10 told the NRA and how the NRA responded, how would you rank the 11 NRA's responsiveness, it's Audit Committee relative to other 12 non-profits you've seen? How would you rank their 13 responsiveness to the concerns their auditors raised?

14 A So the NRA has been responsive to recommendations and 15 suggestion by their audit firm.

16 Even when I compared 2019 to 2020, you can see the 17 volume of comments that the auditors provided to management come
18 down. So the way the comments are phrased is that the auditors
19 provide a recommendation and then management is given an 20 opportunity to respond. How are they going to address those 21 recommendations? And we typically like to give the client about 22 a year to address those hopefully for the following year that 23 those comments have been addressed. And when I look at the 24 NRA's management letters, I can see an effort by management to 25 address the comments and implement the best practice

KM

3779

Mehta - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 recommendations by the auditors.

2 Q And how do those efforts compare like percentage-wise
3 to other non-profits?

4 A Again, I would put them in the top 15 to 25 percent.

5 MS. ROGERS: Thank you. Pass the witness.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Any other direct testimony?

7 MR. CORRELL: Not here, your Honor.

8 MS. COUTU: No your Honor.

9 MR. FLEMING: Just a couple of questions.

10 CROSS-EXAMINATION

11 BY MR. FLEMING:

12 Q Mr. Mehta, good morning. I just wanted to see if I
13 understood a couple of things. The financial statements you
14 testified belong to management; is that right?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q All right. So the auditor doesn't create the financial 17 statements?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q They just audit them.

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Okay. And when an auditor gives a clean opinion, is 22 that in any way a commentary on the care and competence of the 23 NRA's professionals who put it together?

24 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

25 THE COURT: Let's -- overruled on this one.

KM

3780

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A So when an auditor gives an unmodified or clean
2 opinion, there is some level of comfort that the auditor -- the 3 public can take that the financial statements were prepared in 4 accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and 5 thereby draw a conclusion that there is competency among the 6 management group who prepared those financials.

7 Q I can't recall if your testimony is that you were an 8 auditor at some point. Were you?

9 A I am still an auditor.

10 Q Okay. And do you derive comfort from a company's 11 financial statements after an audit?

12 A I do.

13 Q Okay. Second question I have and last question, and 14 I'm not sure if I got it right. But you said in 2019 the 15 governance of the NRA you viewed was in the top 25 percent of 16 companies.

17 A In my opinion, yes.

18 Q And if the New York AG began its investigation in 2019,
19 would that statement cover that period of time?

20 A Yes.

21 MR. FLEMING: Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Any cross-examination from the State?

23 MR. CONLEY: Yes, your Honor.

24 CROSS-EXAMINATION

25 BY MR. CONLEY:

KM

3781

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 Q Good morning, Mr. Mehta. Can you hear me?

2 A Good morning. Yes.

3 Q You were retained by the NRA to testify in this action;
4 correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q What's your hourly rate?

7 A 975.

8 Q How much has Marcum billed the NRA to date for your 9 services?

10 A I have billed -- my firm has billed approximately 11 $400,000 to date.

12 Q Okay. If I understood your testimony, you are offering 13 the opinion that the NRA's sufficiently robust policies and 14 procedures in place detect and address conflicts of interest and 15 related-party transaction issues. Is that accurate?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q That opinion does not apply to policies in place of the 18 NRA before January 1, 2019; correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And while you are saying that these policies are 21 sufficiently robust, you aren't actually offering an opinion on 22 whether the opinions were violated; correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q So while you're telling the jury today that the NRA's
25 conflict of interest and related-party transaction policies are

KM

3782

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 sufficiently robust, you're in no way refuting or contesting
2 that there were persistent violations of these policies for 3 years; are you?

4 A I'm not drawing that conclusion.

5 Q And you are not offering any opinion whatsoever on 6 whether any of the NRA's internal policies have been violated;
7 correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q You also opined that the NRA established protocols for 10 handling whistle blowing; correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q You are not offering an opinion today that the NRA's
13 whistleblower program is actually operating effectively;
14 correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And you admit that evaluating the effectiveness of a
17 whistleblower program is not within your expertise; correct?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q You also stated a couple of opinions about the NRA's
20 regulatory filings.

21 You didn't perform any of our own testing to verify
22 that any of the information the NRA reported in it's Form 990
23 was accurate and complete.

24 A I did not perform my own testing.

25 Q You also offer an opinion that the Audit Committee

KM

3783

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 properly discharged its responsibilities with respect to the 2 NRA's outside auditors; correct?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q At the time that you were deposed in 2022, you had
5 never spoke with the Audit Committee members; correct?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q You never attended any Audit Committee meetings?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q You couldn't name any of the members of the Audit
10 Committee; right?

11 A No, I can name a member.

12 Q In your deposition in 2022, you could not; correct?

13 A I couldn't remember.

14 THE COURT: Little tiny bit slower on the 15 questions.

16 Q And when you were deposed in 2022, you couldn't recall
17 how many people served on the Audit Committee; correct?

18 A At that time, I probably didn't know exact number.

19 Q You're also offering the opinion that the NRA's
20 demonstrated a commitment to corporate governance and strong
21 internal controls.

22 A Correct.

23 Q You are not saying that the NRA demonstrated commitment
24 to corporate governance and strong internal controls in 2018;
25 correct?

KM

3784

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A That's correct.

2 Q Or in 2017?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q Or in 2016; right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And isn't it true that in offering this opinion, you
7 didn't actually apply any established standards or framework;
8 correct?

9 A Well, I consulted accounting guidance and relied on my
10 skills, knowledge and experience, education and training, but I
11 did consult accounting guidance in offering my opinion.

12 Q You were not actually applying any standards or 13 framework.

14 A That's not correct. I referred to accounting
15 guidelines in offering my opinions.

16 Q Do you recall being deposed in this action in 2022?

17 A I do.

18 Q And you swore an oath to tell the truth?

19 A I did.

20 MS. ROGERS: Jesse, could you please pull up Page
21 375, Lines 12 to 25.

22 Q I draw your attention to question: "You opine that the 23 NRA's demonstrated a commitment to corporate governance; is that
24 correct?"

25 "That's correct" is your answer.

KM

3785

Mehta - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 "Question: So what standards are you applying when
2 you make that statement?

3 I'm referring to the documentation that was
4 provided, the testimony that's been provided and my review
5 of the work papers that Aronson provided.

6 Question: Are there any standards or framework
7 that you're applying?

8 Answer: No."

9 You would agree that without enforcement, even the 10 best written policies are just words on paper; correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And you're opining that the NRA's demonstrated a
13 commitment to corporate governance and strong internal controls
14 without having conducted any independent evaluation of whether 15 the NRA internal controls were actually followed; correct?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q You don't believe that misappropriating or misusing
18 funds is appropriate if it's below a certain monetary threshold;
19 do you?

20 A I'm sorry. Can you repeat the question?

21 Q I will ask it differently.

22 Diverting charitable assets is wrong; correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And you aren't opining that misusing charitable funds
25 is okay if it's below a certain amount; correct?

KM

3786

Mehta - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 A That's correct.

2 MR. CONLEY: Pass the witness. Thank you.

3 THE COURT: Anything further?

4 MS. ROGERS: Just a bit more.

5 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MS. ROGERS:

7 Q Mr. Mehta, you just testified that you didn't test
8 whether the NRA's good policies were actually being followed;
9 right?

10 A I didn't independently test them.

11 Q But in the course of your work as an auditor, do you
12 have to be alert for indications that the policies you look at 13 are being followed or disobeyed?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And in the documents that you looked at for the years
16 you looked at, did you see indicia that the NRA was letting its 17 policies be violated?

18 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

19 THE COURT: Well, it's not leading.

20 Q I am happy to rephrase.

21 THE COURT: I'm just trying to -- overruled. You
22 can ask.

23 Q In the document you looked at for the years you looked 24 at, did you see indicia that the NRA was letting its policies be 25 violated?

KM

3787

Mehta - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 A No.

2 Q Irrespective of whether there is a formal framework you
3 use every time in the ordinary course of your work as an
4 auditor, do you have to form opinions about companies'
5 commitment to governance?

6 A I'm sorry. Repeat the question.

7 Q Sure. In the ordinary course of your work as an 8 auditor, do you have to try to gauge whether or -- strike that.
9 I'm sorry.

10 In the ordinary course of your work as an auditor, do
11 you have to try to gauge whether the company you're auditing is 12 committed to good governance?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Why?

15 A Again, you know, with -- one of the areas that we 16 looked, and I think we talked about COSO Framework with one of 17 the expert witnesses, that one of the bases for sound internal 18 control environment would be to assess the tone at the top. So,
19 you know, commitment to corporate governance would be a factor
20 evaluating the tone at the top.

21 Q And even if there is no formal framework you're citing
22 every time you make that judgment, can you describe for the jury
23 whether that judgment impacts your ability to audit the 24 financials?

25 A I'm sorry. Again, repeat the question.

KM

3788

Mehta - by Defendant - Recross/Mr. Conley

1 MS. ROGERS: You know what, that's okay. Pass the
2 witness.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further?

4 MR. CONLEY: Briefly, your Honor.

5 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. CONLEY:

7 Q Mr. Mehta, you are an auditor; correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q In this case you didn't perform an internal control
10 audit; correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And you didn't perform a financial statement audit;
13 correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And you didn't test the work that the NRA's external
16 auditor Aronson performed; correct?

17 A I did not independently test the work.

18 THE COURT: Anything else?

19 MS. ROGERS: Nothing further.

20 THE COURT: All right, sir. You are free to step
21 down. Thank you.

22 So would now be a good time to break before the 23 next witness?

24 MS. ROGERS: Yes, your Honor. I think so.

25 THE COURT: Let's take a short break and then we'll

KM

1 push on.

2 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

3 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
4 the courtroom.)

5 (Whereupon at this time there was a recess taken.)

6 THE COURT: Have a seat. Let's get the jury. Who 7 is the next witness so they can get them ready?

8 MS ROGERS: So he is also an expert. He is our 9 last one, so he's here.

10 THE COURT: Just remember to talk clearly and 11 slowly.

12 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.
13 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
14 courtroom.)

15 THE COURT: Okay. Have a seat, please. Next
16 witness, Counsel.

17 MS. ROGERS: The NRA calls Bruce Blacker.

18 THE COURT: Good morning.

19 B R U C E B L A C K E R, a witness called on

25 DIRECT EXAMINATION

KM

3790

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 BY MS. ROGERS:

2 Q Good morning, Mr. Blacker.

3 A Good morning.

4 Q Could you please introduce yourself briefly to the
5 jury.

6 A Yes. My name is Bruce Blacker. I'm a CPA. I'm 7 certified in financial forensics. And generally what I do is 8 provide consulting services to clients, and some of that
9 consulting services includes being an expert witness like I am
10 in this case today.

11 Q Can you tell the jury about your professional
12 credentials and experience in the fields of forensic accounting
13 and financial forensics?

14 A I have a slide. Let me just briefly explain my 15 background and why I'm here today.

16 I received my Bachelors in Accounting in 1989 and a
17 Master Degree from Brigham Young University.

18 After that I began working at what was then one of the 19 Big Eight accounting firms, KPMG. Today you will hear of the 20 Big Four accounting firms, and there was some consolidation. I
21 worked in their tax department and prepared tax returns.

22 After that I began working at Pricewaterhouse Coopers.
23 I was in their dispute analysis and resolution group, and what 24 the services that I provided there included an assessment of 25 financial documents in bankruptcy and insolvencies.

KM

3791

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 I did business valuations and forensic work, fraud
2 investigations where we began to do expert witness testimony.

3 You heard a lot about independence and objectivity with 4 accountants. Pricewaterhouse Coopers at the time, and I was a
5 partner there was one of the largest, if not the largest
6 accounting firm in the world. But as I said, I provided
7 consulting services including litigation consulting services.
8 And to maintain independence, it became very difficult for me to 9 have the world largest accounting firm doing tax work and audit
10 work and then me maintain my independence and provide consulting 11 work. So I had an opportunity to leave. And generally over the 12 last 20 years, I have either worked at an economic consulting
13 firm or a financial advisory firm, but I have continued to use
14 my accounting to provide these consulting services.

15 Q Now, we have heard that Pricewaterhouse Coopers used to 16 audit the NRA.

17 Just to be clear for the jury, you weren't part of the 18 Pricewaterhouse Coopers team that worked on the NRA.

19 A That's correct.

20 As I said, I was part of a consulting division. I
21 wasn't part of the audit division or the tax division. There is 22 others, but I will just divide it into those three categories
23 for this purpose.

24 Q We've heard about different kind of audits. We heard
25 from an external auditor Mr. Mehta, an internal auditor Mr.

KM

3792

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Lerner and a forensic auditor a Mr. Hines who testified for the 2 Government.

3 What kind of audits have you done?

4 A So this is where sometimes speaking generally can be 5 misleading.

6 Often times I'm asked because I provide consulting
7 services, Are you an auditor. Because the general public, and I
8 think most people think of auditing as auditing the financial 9 statements, it wouldn't be uncommon for me to say, No, that's 10 not what I do. However, to an accountant, an audit means
11 different things. So as an accountant and as a consultant, I'm 12 often times asked do you conduct an audit of a contract, audit
13 for compliance, audit for those things.

14 So I just caution you when you hear "audit," it may not 15 be that there is an internal control audit or a financial 16 statement audit. There is also other types of audits.

17 Q You have done compliance audits; right?

18 A I have done compliance audits.

19 Q And forensic audits; right?

20 A And forensic.

21 For example, their are rules and regulations in the 22 healthcare industry as to what hospitals can charge insurance
23 companies and how that's billed.

24 So for example, I would go in and see if they were in 25 compliance with regard to that contract or two companies may

KM

3793

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 enter into a licensing agreement where royalties are due one to
2 another. I have audited those contracts to see if they are in 3 compliance with those contracts.

4 MS. ROGERS: I offer -- the NRA offers Mr. Blacker
5 as an expert in forensic accounting and financial forensics.

6 MR. CONLEY: No objection, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay. He is admitted for that purpose.

8 Q We see a company on your screen Secretariat, and we 9 have heard testimony earlier this week from Ryan Sullivan, the 10 economist.

11 You worked with Mr. Sullivan on your expert analysis;
12 right?

13 A He is my colleague. Dr. Sullivan is a stellar 14 economist. I come out with a different background being an 15 accountant, CPA and certified in financial forensics.

16 Q What were you asked to do in this case?

17 A The task that we were given was to evaluate the NRA's
18 controls efforts using the tools that we have from our 19 experience, education and training.

20 So on the slide, you'll see that I have highlighted
21 finance and accounting. You have heard from Dr. Sullivan
22 already, so I will try to stick to the accounting piece of the 23 work that we did.

24 Q Now you were here listening to Dr. Sullivan testify;
25 right?

KM

3794

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A I came on Tuesday. I think he started Monday, but I
2 have been in the courtroom since Tuesday.

3 Q Well, did you hear him examined about what he was being
4 paid and what you were being paid and what Secretariat was being
5 paid?

6 A Yes, I did.

7 Q And you're being compensated as an expert; right?

8 A To be specific, my employer pays me for the work that I
9 do, and the NRA is paying my employer.

10 Q But you are not being paid -- your employer is the same
11 as Mr. Sullivan's. So you're covered by what the money that was 12 discussed with Dr. Sullivan; right? You are not additional.

13 A Exactly. My personal compensation is not tied to this 14 case because as an accountant, for one, I have to be independent
15 and objective.

16 Q All right. What materials and information did you
17 consider in evaluating the NRA's control efforts from a finance
18 and accounting perspective?

19 A I mentioned that I provide consulting services and 20 sometimes it's in a litigation.

21 Now, if it's not in a litigation, it's a little bit
22 different than in litigation. But in litigation, we are 23 provided the documents that are produced within the litigation
24 itself.

25 So I reviewed the financial statements, the audit

KM

3795

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 reports, the audit work papers, the policies and all the
2 documents that you've heard about now.

3 I have had an opportunity to review those and to read
4 deposition testimony and to sit here in court prior to arriving
5 here. I was provided some transcripts. Its been a long trial.
6 I think the transcripts were up to over 3,000 pages, so I got
7 through them the best that I could. But I take all of that 8 information as an input into forming my independent opinion.

9 Q And what additional work did you do before arriving
10 here today?

11 A I have assessed as I mentioned before how effective the 12 NRA has been in monitoring its controls. I have also looked at 13 specifically the testimony both in reports and at trial of Mr.
14 Tenenbaum and Mr. Hines.

15 Q Did you hear Mr. Tenenbaum say anything about 16 accounting or auditing that you would like to comment on?

17 A Yes. Two quick points. Mr. Tenenbaum is not an 18 accountant. And when I heard his testimony that auditors simply 19 test the numbers, I think after the testimony today and 20 yesterday, I think you know that auditors do a lot more than 21 just test the numbers. So I took issue with that.

22 The testimony that he did give that I totally agree
23 with is that companies in their attempt to be independent, to go 24 through this cycle of monitoring, identifying, correcting and 25 improving, they should rely on outside experts. As an

KM

3796

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 accountant, I sometimes too rely on the information that other
2 professionals conduct.

3 You have heard the phrase, you know, "Trust But 4 Verify." That's what accountants do.

5 Q Great. And let's -- is your clicker working?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you did some work. You prepared a report; right?

8 A So I was retained in this case in 2022. I have issued
9 two reports, hundreds of pages, hundreds of foot notes, reviewed
10 the deposition testimony that I talked about.

11 Also in 2022 as part of litigation process, the 12 Attorney General's Office of New York is aware of the opinions
13 that are in my report. They have not taken my deposition. I 14 provided deposition testimony so that they would know what my 15 opinions would be.

16 Q In addition to reviewing testimony by the Government's 17 expert Mr. Tenenbaum, you also reviewed testimony by Mr. Hines.
18 He is a forensic accountant like you; right?

19 A He is.

20 Q And did you form any opinions in response to Mr. Hines
21 that you want to share with the jury?

22 A You seen the slide maybe a couple of times. And as a
23 forensic accountant, one of the things that I want to point out
24 that he and I are totally in agreement on and that is that fraud
25 risk indicators are just that. They are only indicators of the

KM

3797

Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 possibility of fraud. They do not in and of themselves mean
2 that there was any misconduct or harm that was done because of 3 the internal controls.

4 I do have concerns about the way too that Mr. Hines
5 said and tried to make it a distinction, if you will, between --

6 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, to 7 characterization of other testimony.

8 THE COURT: Overruled.

9 A That Mr. Hines made the distinction between what a 10 financial audit is and what an internal audit is. They are 11 different, but I think it's incomplete to not take it a step 12 further.

13 Q Please take it that step further for the jury.
14 How would you explain that?

15 A For example, again, I have taken only as an input into 16 my analysis to form my own independent opinion the work of other
17 professionals including the NRA's auditors.

18 When looking at the audit for December of 2019, the 19 year 2019, you heard testimony from Mr. Plotts that the auditors
20 begin somewhere in the Fall and begin the audit and then that 21 audit takes about five months. So somewhere around March they 22 are going to issue this audit.

23 Part of that was that they issued a management letter
24 which you've heard about. That's the audit might be looking 25 backwards, but the management letter is looking forward. I

KM

3798

1 think it's important on the slide here right above those
2 highlighted, it says that it's done in accordance with auditing
3 standards generally accepted in the United States of America.
4 Those standards are for audits. So the auditors have standards
5 that they have to follow. They follow GAP, generally accepted
6 accounting principles. That, as I forensic accountant gives me
7 a lot of comfort in taking that piece of data, putting it into
8 my analysis and assessing that in forming an independent
9 analysis.

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Now, you saw the Government's forensic accountant
2 create some of his own data in that he took dollar amounts in a
3 bunch of invoices and added them up.

4 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, on
5 characterization of work done by an expert.

6 THE COURT: Overruled. Are you talking about the 7 compilations exhibits?

8 MS. ROGERS: Yes, yes.

9 Q Do you -- did you understand that that's what their 10 expert was doing?

11 A Yes, and I may have gotten a little ahead of the 12 slides. I'm going to go quickly through the slides.

13 This is again Aronson talking about the special
14 procedures. We don't need to talk about that anymore.

15 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. There's no
16 question pending.

17 Q Well, let's talk first about what Hines discussed, and 18 then we'll hear more what you have to say about the special
19 procedures.

20 But their forensic accountant made big lists on all of 21 the flight invoices and what they totalled; right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q You're a forensic accountant and you didn't do that;
24 right?

25 A I did not need to do that.

BP

3800

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

2 THE COURT: Overruled.

3 Q Why?

4 A I was asked to assess whether the internal controls and
5 specifically the corrective action of the NRA had been 6 effective.

7 So, on this slide I'm showing where Mr. Hines' analysis
8 was about past transactions, and he went in and he summarized
9 some of those past transactions. Again, those are transactions
10 that possibly could be at issue because those were only fraud
11 indicators, not evidence of fraud.

12 So, as a forensic accountant, I would be concerned that 13 that's not measuring the right thing as far as either the 14 internal control or --

15 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, testifying to 16 what's at issue here.

17 THE COURT: Overruled.

18 A That that's not measuring the assets that are alleged 19 to have been self-dealt or mismanaged.

20 Q And in your career as a forensic accountant, have you
21 ever made a list of invoices that had fraud indicators without 22 looking at whether assets were ever actually diverted?

23 A Not in the real world. All right, so I will do
24 consulting outside of litigation and that would be an incomplete
25 analysis. If I had a client who wanted to know if there were

BP

3801

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 fraud indicators, they would want to know, well, how much and 2 what next.

3 Q Would you ever look only at what the organization was 4 paying for a contract and ignore what the organization was 5 getting?

6 A No. This goes to the incomplete assessment of what
7 Mr. Hines has done in my opinion.

8 Let's just take the vendors, for example. I'll give 9 two examples starting with the vendors. Some of the vendors I
10 was able to see that there were issues with, and those were 11 terminated and I went and looked at the general ledger and I
12 could see if the payment stopped. So, I know the corrective 13 action was taken there.

14 Other vendors were ratified and continued to move
15 forward. They would fall in Mr. Hines' bucket of, Here's some 16 invoices that I'm concerned -- concerned about, red flagged.
17 What that doesn't tell you is did the NRA receive reasonable,
18 fair services? So, that would be for the vendors.

19 Another example would be for an employee who had a
20 business trip, but they took a black car service. The business
21 trip was valid. They needed to have a travel expense, but there
22 might be an incremental difference between following the NRA
23 policy and using, say, black car service.

24 Mr. Hines did not do that analysis.

25 Q What do you mean when you say "incremental?"

BP

3802

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A The difference. If, if the allegation is that there
2 was self-dealing and that there were mismanagement of assets,
3 what Mr. Hines does not do is provide that amount.

4 All he does is provide the entire universe where
5 there's red flags where there should be further investigation.
6 He doesn't complete the analysis to say here's what the amount
7 is.

8 Q You heard Mr. Mehta testify that accountants look at 9 what kind of deal the company could have gotten if it went out
10 into the market.

11 Do you recall that?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Can you explain to the jury how, if at all, that plays
14 into what you've diagrammed here vis-a-vis alternative NRA
15 decisions?

16 A Again, bringing it back to what Mr. Hines did not do,
17 so we've -- he looked at what the real world -- what the 18 decision actually was.

19 What he doesn't do as Mr. Mehta had said is go out and 20 get a request for a proposal or see who else could provide the 21 services. This chart indicates that it might have been more
22 expensive or less expensive.

23 Mr. Hines didn't do that analysis, so, again, we're 24 just left with a summation of expenses that aren't -- that don't 25 get to the issue.

BP

3803

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q I apologize because I asked you a question earlier that
2 was out of sync with your PowerPoint.

3 Were there aspects of the Aronson special procedures
4 that informed your opinions that you want to tell the jury
5 about?

6 A Again, it's the Aronson documents were an input. Why
7 do I think the basis for why it was important to me to be able 8 to look at Aronson and to look at the financial statements and 9 be able so see there were clear audits is knowing that not only
10 was the normal, if you will -- auditing the NRA is not normal -- 11 there were additional steps that were taken and that was 12 important to me --

13 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. This is
14 testimony about work that Mr. Blacker didn't perform.

15 THE COURT: Overruled.

16 Q You can answer.

17 A As I said, I'm taking that as an input into my analysis
18 to know that the work that Aronson and other outside consultants
19 have done was thorough and rigorous.

20 Q You testified just now that auditing the NRA isn't 21 normal. What do you mean by that?

22 A No client, I guess, is normal with an accountant; but 23 it is no secret that the NRA has political implications. When 24 you mention the NRA, people usually have a reaction to that one
25 way or another.

BP

3804

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 As a consultant or an auditor, that also has 2 implications as when you take a client as to what that means in 3 the marketplace. Are other people going to look at that
4 consultant and say, oh, you work for that entity or that entity?
5 I don't want to be associated with you or I do want to be 6 associated with you.

7 Those things are business decisions that have to be 8 made; but, also, because at the time they were looking at 9 retaking the audit, the lawsuit had been filed and they knew it
10 was going to be -- this is a public case with public issues --

11 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, to testifying
12 about what people knew or didn't know.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 A The case was filed in -- at the end of 2020, and 15 they're trying to make this assessment as to whether they want
16 to take the audit. And they went through those special
17 procedures and determined that it was okay for them,
18 professionally, to be able to do the work that they needed to 19 and render the independent decision that they would, ultimately, 20 come up with.

21 THE COURT: Just to repeat the instruction I've 22 given now probably six times:

23 When the witness describes something like his
24 understanding of what Aronson was facing, sometimes people
25 use that words "it is my understanding that" and sometimes

BP

3805

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 they leave that out. None of these statements of which
2 sound like facts are of personal knowledge of this witness.

3 All of the basis for his opinion is based on what 4 he read and heard from others, at least in terms of the 5 factual basis. So, just repeating that same -- that same
6 point. And I didn't sustain the objection because I believe
7 by now that you understand that when the witness is talking
8 about facts, he's saying that his understanding is based on 9 what he has read in preparing for this is X, Y and Z.

10 If you conclude that those facts are not accurate,
11 then you can take that into account.

12 Q Based on the resume of yours that we reviewed and your 13 experience as an accountant, if you were vetting a new client
14 engagement with a very controversial political adverse group
15 that had just been targeted for a dissolution for corruption by 16 a state regulator, would you vet that client more strictly or 17 less strictly than other clients?

18 A That's not a hypothetical question. I had to make that 19 decision in accepting this engagement.

20 Q And did you scrutinize the NRA more strictly or less
21 strictly than other companies?

22 A More strictly. We go through our conflict check, but 23 we also had to make a business decision.

24 MS. ROGERS: Thank you. Pass the witness.

25 THE COURT: Any other direct testimony?

BP

3806

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 MR. CORRELL: No.

2 MR. FLEMING: Nothing for me.

3 THE COURT: Okay, from the State?

4 CROSS-EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. CONLEY:

6 Q Good morning, Mr. Blacker.

7 A Good morning.

8 Q What's your hourly rate in this case?

9 A I think it was mentioned before that Secretariat has 10 charged $795 an hour for my services, and beginning in 2024 that 11 rate may have increased.

12 Q Your colleague, Dr. Sullivan, testified he didn't know
13 how much your prior firm, Intensity, and your current firm,
14 Secretariat, has billed the NRA for this matter. Do you know
15 how much they have been billed?

16 A I do not. There are people at Secretariat that take 17 care of the billing.

18 Q Your deposition in 2022, you testified you billed
19 hundreds of hours on this engagement; correct?

20 A Yes, I've spent a lot of time to form my opinion.

21 Q And safe to assume you've billed more since then?

22 A Yes, in preparation for today, certainly.

23 Q Mr. Blacker, are you aware that this case concerns
24 questions about compliance with corporate governance standards
25 for not-for-profits and their officers; right?

BP

3807

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A As an accountant, that's my general understanding of
2 the legal allegations in the case.

3 Q You were engaged by the NRA to be an expert in an
4 action by the DC attorney general against the NRA and the NRA
5 Foundation; correct?

6 A To correct your question just a little bit, again, was 7 hired by outside counsel for the NRA, and then I can say yes.

8 Q Sure. And in that action there are also claims 9 concerning corporate governance standards and not-for-profits;
10 correct?

11 A I believe so, but I've been focused on this case so I
12 don't want to speculate.

13 Q And you were found unqualified to offer expert opinion
14 testimony on that topic, correct?

15 MS. ROGERS: Objection. Misstates the ruling, I
16 think.

17 THE COURT: That's not -- you can ask it. I'm 18 assuming you have some basis for asking that question the 19 way you did?

20 MR. CONLEY: Yes.

21 A Can you repeat the question? I did not understand it.

22 Q You were found unqualified to offer expert testimony on 23 corporate governance in that case, correct?

24 A I'm not an attorney. I don't believe that's a correct
25 way to describe that in the question.

BP

3808

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 MR. CONLEY: Jesse, could you please pull up the 2 pretrial order.

3 (Displayed)

4 Q And this is a pretrial order in this DC action. Do you
5 see the highlighted language there, Mr. Blacker?

6 A I do see that. I don't know if I have actually seen
7 this document before.

8 Q And you agree it says:

9 "Upon review of Ryan Sullivan and Bruce Blacker's
10 qualifications as identified in their June 21, 2023, expert
11 report, neither expert is qualified to testify about 12 not-for-profit governance."

13 Do you see that?

14 A I see that's what it says, yes.

15 Q You are not an auditor, correct?

16 THE COURT: Just so it is clear, I don't think -- I
17 don't think he's been offered as an expert on not-for-profit
18 governance here.

19 MS. ROGERS: He has not. He's a forensic
20 accountant.

21 Q You're not an auditor, correct, Mr. Black?

22 A That's where I provided an explanation as what do you
23 mean by auditor? Do you mean auditor of financial statements?
24 Because to an accountant, there's a number of different types of 25 audits.

BP

3809

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 Q Understood. You've never conducted a financial
2 statement audit; is that right?

3 A That is correct.

4 Q And you never conducted an internal control audit; is
5 that right?

6 A That is correct.

7 Q And in your analysis, you looked at transactions and 8 arrangements that the attorney general raised in the complaint
9 in this action, right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you're not opining on the accuracy of those 12 allegations; right?

13 A That would not be for me as an expert witness. I
14 believe that decision will be left up to the trier of fact.

15 Q You testified a moment ago that the attorney general --
16 about the attorney general's expert, Eric Hines; is that
17 correct?

18 A Yes, I spoke about Mr. Hines.

19 Q You are not opining that any of the arrangements and 20 transactions analyzed by Mr. Hines complied with the NRA policy;
21 are you?

22 A Mr. Hines is not providing that testimony and I am not 23 providing that testimony.

24 Q It is your understanding Mr. Hines isn't providing 25 testimony regarding the compliance of certain arrangements and

BP

3810

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 transactions with NRA policy?

2 A Correct. He said he's identified red flags that would
3 require further investigation.

4 Q You have not evaluated whether the NRA's internal
5 controls are functioning currently, correct?

6 A That's correct, and was not necessary in forming my
7 opinion.

8 Q And you did not evaluate whether the NRA's
9 relationships with the vendors complied with internal policies
10 and procedures; correct?

11 A Again, not necessarily for the work I did, no, I did
12 not.

13 MR. CONLEY: Pass the witness.

14 THE COURT: Anything further?

15 MS. ROGERS: Just a little bit.

16 REDIRECT-EXAMINATION

17 BY MS. ROGERS:

18 MS. ROGERS: I'm going to ask if the attorney
19 general tech person would be so kind as to put back on the 20 screen the DC AG case ruling shown a moment ago, and scroll
21 down to the two sentences that were left off the screen.

22 Q And while we're waiting for that, Mr. Blacker, to your 23 knowledge have you ever been offered as an expert on 24 not-for-profit corporate governance law?

25 A No.

BP

3811

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Do you remember that you were offered as an expert in 2 forensic accounting in the DC case?

3 A Yes, I was.

4 Q Did you know that they moved to strike your opinion,
5 and the court denied that motion and said that you could testify
6 about forensic accounting?

7 A I have that understanding from counsel. I don't think
8 I've reviewed this document, but that's my understanding, yes.

9 MS. ROGERS: All right, nothing further.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further for anyone?

11 MR. CONLEY: Nothing further, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, sir, you can step
13 down.

14 (Whereupon, at this time the witness was then 15 excused.)

16 No clients are normal, that would be a good thing
17 for the business card.

18 Okay, next witness for the defense.

19 MS. ROGERS: The NRA calls Michael Erstling.
20 He's a fact witness, so I think the court officer has to get
21 him.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

16 BY MS. EISENBERG:

17 Q Welcome back, Mr. Erstling. Please remind us what your 18 position is at the NRA?

19 A I am the director of finance at the NRA.

20 Q How long have you worked at the NRA?

21 A I started at the NRA in 2001.

22 Q Who is your supervisor at this point?

23 A Right now, I report to Sonya Rowling.

24 Q What are some of your responsibilities in your current 25 position?

BP

3813

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 A I am responsible for accounting operations. I am
2 responsible for budgeting. I am responsible for the preparation
3 of the 990 and any other duties as a side.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you. Your Honor, may I
5 approach the witness to hand him a bottle of water?

6 THE COURT: Sure.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you. I meant to do this
8 before.

9 (Handed to the witness)

10 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

11 Q About how many people report to you?

12 A Approximately, eight.

13 Q Let's talk a little bit about the period of in or 14 around the summer of 2018. What was your position at the NRA at 15 that time?

16 A I was the director of budget and financial analysis.

17 Q To whom did you report then?

18 A I reported to Rick Tedrick.

19 Q Did there come a time in or around early 2018 when 20 Mr. Spray joined the organization?

21 A Yes, I think it was in March of 2018.

22 Q And he became the treasurer and the CFO over the course
23 of that year; is that fair?

24 A Over the course of the year, yes, he became both of 25 those.

3814

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 Q In early 2018, did you have an opportunity to form an
2 opinion about his leadership style?

3 A I did.

4 Q And how would you compare his leadership style to that
5 of Mr. Phillips, his predecessor?

6 A Craig was much more engaged in the day-to-day
7 activities of the association. He was present. He was 8 inquisitive. He asked tough questions. He made decisions. It
9 was 180 degrees from Mr. Phillips.

10 Q And in the five or so years prior to Mr. Phillips
11 departure in 2018, with what frequency did you personally meet
12 with Mr. Phillips?

13 A Over the -- from 2015 to 2018, I don't think I ever met
14 with Mr. Phillips. Prior to that, it would be maybe two to 15 three times for budget purposes.

16 Q Did there come a time when you and your colleagues
17 started to have regularly scheduled meetings in 2018?

18 A As soon as Craig started, we were having regular 19 monthly meetings. It was myself, Sonya Rowling, Emily Cummins,
20 Rick Tedrick, and Lisa George.

21 Q What type of discussion did you have in those 22 meetings?

23 A We -- we discussed the financial results. We discussed
24 budgeting, insurance, risk, accounting, whatever the topic was 25 of the day, of the month, we were all talking about it. So, we

BP

3815

B. Blacker - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 were all sharing information.

2 Q And prior to Mr. Spray's arrival, did you and the 3 individuals you listed hold regularly scheduled meetings or 4 randomly scheduled meetings?

5 A We definitely did not hold regularly scheduled
6 meetings. We would definitely talk in the office, but it
7 wouldn't be all of us together at one time. So, there was no
8 group thing. It was just one or two of us meeting to talk about 9 an issue, but it wasn't a complete 360-degree view of the 10 organization.

11 Q As you started to attend these meetings, these 12 regularly scheduled meetings that Mr. Spray organized, did there
13 come a time when you expressed certain concerns about certain 14 transactions, expenditures or the like?

15 A So, my personal experience was I was frustrated. I had 16 seen a great deal of large transactions, large invoices, very 17 little detail. There were other concerns of transactions that,
18 I mean, were being approved and, also, at that time concealed 19 carried initiative was ramping up; and the invoices for that 20 were absolutely enormous.

21 All they said was three letters, CCI, and they were 22 half a million dollars, three hundred thousand dollars. They 23 were big, and so that was troubling.

24 Q Did you share this concern with Mr. Spray and others
25 who attended those meetings?

BP

3816

1 A Yes. We started to -- we started to compare notes.

2 We started to, you know, put the puzzle together to a
3 certain degree where prior we were -- we may not have been
4 sharing all information that we had. By sitting around a round
5 table and sharing, we were able to start to put the puzzle
6 together, to try to figure out what was going on.

7 Q And as you started to do that, did you personally
8 arrive at new realizations about the state of compliance at the
9 NRA?

10 A Yeah, it was -- the -- the scope was getting larger
11 every time we met.

12 So, there was -- there were significant problems. I
13 don't think any one of us knew individually how big the issue
14 was until all of us were sitting around talking about it.

1 Q And at the time -- at the time what were the various
2 responsibilities of the various individuals in the meeting?

3 A So at that time I was working on budget and financial
4 forecasting and analytics. Sonya Rowling was accounting
5 operations. Emily Cummins was risk and insurance and tax. Lisa
6 George was purchasing, and I think that names them.

7 Q Thank you, Mr. Erstling.

8 Did there come a time when you and certain of your
9 colleagues made a presentation about these concerns to the NRA's
10 Audit Committee?

11 A So out of --

12 Q Just yes or no.

13 A Yes. Sorry.

14 Q And what role, if any, did Mr. Spray have in that 15 meeting in connection with that meeting?

16 A So Craig could see that we were frustrated and he 17 suggested that we come forward and bring these -- bring these 18 issues up to the Audit Committee.

19 Q Leading up to the meeting of the Audit Committee, did
20 you and others corroborate on preparing a list of top concerns
21 to discuss with the committee?

22 A Yes. So we -- we met -- we met off line off of the 23 standard Craig meeting. We met in Sonya's office, and I
24 provided my few items, and Lisa provided her couple of items,
25 and Sonya provided her items. Portia Padilla who was our

1 accounts payable manager provided some information about some of
2 these items, and then Emily sent a document of her concerns and
3 so Sonya consolidated all of those concerns on to the Top
4 Concerns memo.

5 Q Let's take a look at PX 2605 which is in evidence.
6 Let's go to the second page of the exhibit.

7 Mr. Erstling, is this the document that you were just 8 testifying about?

9 A Yes, ma'am.

10 Q Leading up to the meeting on July 30, 2018 with the 11 Audit Committee, did you have any meetings with Mr. Frazer about 12 any of your concerns?

13 A Yes. John was trying to understand some of the 14 financial transactions that were presented in this list.

15 Q Please tell us what happened at the meeting.

16 A We -- we talked about specifically the Grassroots 17 Behavioral item number 4B which dealt with some accounts payable 18 for the National Rifle Association to PM Consulting that 19 remained on the Association's books after PM Consulting was sold
20 to MMP and that those accounts payables were never written off.
21 They just remained there. And then accounting operations was 22 instructed to slowly pay that accounts payable off over a period
23 of years at a think it was like 20,000 increments.

24 Q Instructed by whom?

25 A I believe it was Woody Phillips.

KM

3819

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Did you also share with the Audit Committee your 2 concerns about payments to ATI or Associated Television for 3 rental of a house?

4 A Yeah. I saw those -- those invoices come through, and
5 I obviously did my own Google search of the address and found
6 out who the property was owned by, and I -- I brought it up as
7 an issue. You know, the invoice itself was not descriptive. So
8 I mean, if it was truly the rental of that house, then we paid a
9 lot of money for that rental. If it was for something else,
10 then why wouldn't you have put what it was for. Why did you
11 have to hide that it was for lights and cameras and stuff like 12 that. I don't understand.

13 Q Do you have an understanding as to who had authorized
14 payments for this in the past?

15 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor. And is it
16 firsthand knowledge or what he was told?

17 THE COURT: I mean, you're here as a fact witness,
18 so it should be things that you observed or know. Not 19 speculating.

20 MR. FARBER: Judge, I would object to know. People
21 know things from hearsay.

22 THE COURT: Well, that's a fair point. The -- in 23 the first instance, the question is whether you have 24 personal knowledge.

25 A Can you ask the question one more time.

KM

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q Yes. To the extent or someone had caused the NRA to
2 make payments for Associated Television for the rental of the 3 house before you brought this concern to the Audit Committee's 4 attention, do you have firsthand knowledge regarding who 5 authorized those payments?

6 A I don't have -- I don't have knowledge of who
7 authorized them. I have knowledge who signed them.

8 MR. FARBER: Your Honor, that's the question.

9 Q Do you have knowledge about whose name appeared on the 10 approval portion of the paperwork?

11 A I do.

12 Q And what was that?

13 MR. FARBER: Again, your Honor. Just reading the 14 document is not appropriate.

15 THE COURT: Is that a document that's in evidence?

16 MS. EISENBERG: I don't have it handy, your Honor.
17 Maybe.

18 MR. FARBER: It's not appropriate to ask a question
19 what his knowledge is of a document. If it's in evidence,
20 it's in evidence.

21 THE COURT: I disagree. I mean, if it's -- if the 22 document is hearsay and not admissible, then you might be 23 right; but the document has been admitted. So maybe at some 24 point during this you can confirm that before the witness
25 answers that.

KM

3821

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 MS. EISENBERG: Certainly, your Honor.

2 Q Let's take a look at item two, Mr. Erstling. It refers
3 to senior management override of internal controls.

4 Do you see that?

5 A Yes, ma'am.

6 Q And then there is a listing at the top of five
7 different procedures or policies that you were telling the Audit
8 Committee were being overridden. And let's just go through that 9 list. What are they? Accounts payable procedures, IST
10 purchasing policies.

11 What does "IST" refer to?

12 A Information Technology or Information Services
13 Technology.

14 Q Okay. Travel and expense reporting policy, procurement
15 contract policy, HR policy.

16 And when Mr. Thompson asked you questions about this 17 document, the first time you testified in this trial, you
18 testified that item 2b as well as item 2c is something that you
19 personally contributed to this list.

20 Do you recall that testimony?

21 A Yes, ma'am.

22 Q So let's focus on item 2b that talks about Lance
23 Olson's invoices.

24 To the extent you believe -- well, let me just confirm.

25 Did you believe that the payment of those invoices

KM

3822

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 constituted overrides by senior management of internal controls?

2 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor. His belief
3 about whether something constitutes an override or not is 4 not proper testimony.

5 THE COURT: Overruled.

6 A I believe that this -- this overrode internal controls.

7 Q And who is -- whom specifically, if you know, overrode
8 those controls?

9 A Well, Josh Powell and Woody Phillips' signatures are on 10 all of the documents associated with this purchase.

11 Q Let's go to item 2c. It refers to Josh Powell's
12 purchases of computer assets.

13 Do you see that?

14 A I do.

15 Q Who was the senior manager who overrode internal 16 controls with regard to item 2c?

17 A Josh Powell.

18 Q Items 2a and 2d are not something that you previously
19 testified you contributed to the list. But let me ask you about 20 2a, whether once it was added by one of your colleagues you
21 agreed that this particular transaction was an issue that should 22 be reported.

23 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Overruled.

25 A I agree that -- I was on the floor when this

KM

3823

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 transaction came down, and I witnessed it, and I agree that this
2 was a total override of controls.

3 Q Who was the senior manager or senior managers who
4 overrode internal controls?

5 A In this case, it was Woody Phillips and then also it
6 was handed down by Craig Spray as well.

7 Q And what about item 2d that refers to hiring of staff
8 without HR knowledge.

9 In your opinion was that another instance of senior
10 management overriding internal controls?

11 A Yes, and that was Josh Powell hiring people left and
12 right.

13 Q Let's take a look at item three. It refers to 14 management's subordinating its judgment to vendors. It states
15 decisions are made in the best interest of vendors.

16 When Mr. Thompson questioned you about this document,
17 you didn't identify number 3 as a item that you personally
18 contributed to the list. But the same question. Once it was 19 added to the list, did you agree with your colleagues that this 20 was a concern?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Which management subordinated its judgment to vendors?

23 A In the case that I'm thinking about, it would have been 24 Wayne LaPierre and Woody Phillips.

25 Q When you -- we can take down the document.

KM

3824

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 When you presented the concerns with the Audit
2 Committee, was that the first time you ever met with the Audit
3 Committee about these concerns?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And as far as you know, was it the first time the other
6 individuals who came with you were meeting with the Audit
7 Committee about their concerns?

8 A As far as I know, yes.

9 Q How would you characterize their reaction of the Board
10 members at the meeting?

11 A I thought that the three that remained were engaged.
12 They asked questions. They were receptive to not only the list
13 that was sent to them early but some additional items that we 14 brought forward in that meeting specifically that weren't even 15 on that list, and so we brought those as well. So they were 16 asking questions.

17 They were -- you know, I know Curtis Jenkins seemed mad
18 about it. They were -- they were interested.

19 Q And when you say that Mr. Jenkins seemed mad, in what 20 respect did he seem mad? Was he mad at you or was he mad about 21 what you were reporting?

22 A He was mad about what we were reporting. I mean, he 23 -- I think he was a bit flabbergasted.

24 Q You previously talked about how once you started to 25 have meetings organized by Mr. Spray with Lisa George and Sonya

KM

3825

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Rowling and others sort of knew things or things kind of came
2 together, you pieced together certain things that previously you
3 hadn't.

4 So would it be fair to say that you began to have an
5 understanding of sort of the magnitude of some of the issues?

6 A That's a very good, fair understanding. I mean, each
7 one of us brought, you know, two or three or four items to this
8 list. But then when you put the list together and you see its 9 length and complexity, it sort of opens your eyes; right.

10 I mean, like one thing doesn't -- doesn't make you say
11 oh, you know, that's horrific; right. But when you look at the 12 totality of what was happening, it was bad.

13 Q Who, if anyone, at the NRA prior to Craig Spray's
14 departure would have been in a position to understand the 15 magnitude of these issues?

16 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Sustained.

18 Q Do you think that Mr. Phillips knew about these 19 concerns and these issues?

20 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor. He is asking 21 for his opinion about his mental state, what was in his 22 mind.

23 THE COURT: Yeah. If you can ask it just focusing 24 on fact witness, what he knows on personal knowledge.

25 Q Do you know facts that would enable you to form a

KM

3826

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 belief on whether or not Mr. Phillips knew about these issues
2 and their magnitude?

3 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor. She can ask
4 specific questions about specific facts.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 Q Who was the contact person at the -- or persons at the 7 NRA for the vendors that are listed in the Top Concerns memo?

8 A As far as Ackerman McQueen, it would have been Wayne
9 LaPierre and Woody Phillips. For ATI, it would have been Wayne
10 LaPierre and Woody Phillips. For PM Consulting, it would have 11 been Wayne LaPierre and Woody Phillips.

12 Q What about McKenna?

13 A That would have been Josh Powell, and I don't know what
14 -- what the other two knew about McKenna.

15 Q In or around that time for a payment to go out, is it
16 fair to say that someone at the NRA had to approve the payment?

17 A Yes. Over $50,000 invoices, there has to be two 18 officers signatures.

19 Q And in your position at the time did you have occasion
20 to go review approvals to see who was approving payments to 21 these vendors?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Who were those individuals?

24 A Mostly Rick Tedrick for Wilson Phillips, John Frazer,
25 Josh Powell. On a rare occasion, Wayne LaPierre, but it wasn't

KM

3827

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 very often.

2 Q Let's go back to July 30, 2018.

3 After the meeting with the Audit Committee, did things
4 happen at the NRA that you considered to have improved its 5 efforts to comply with laws, regulations and internal policies?

6 A There were a lot of things that changed after the
7 meeting.

8 Q And just before we get into those, how quickly did you
9 start to observe change?

10 A Within a week.

11 Q Please tell us about some of the changes.

12 A So I would categorize the changes into sort of four 13 different groups. There were changes to vendors. There were 14 changes to employees. There were changes to systems, and there
15 were changes to what I will call education or compliance.

16 So the changes, and these happened -- these started
17 quickly. So the vendor one started immediately. The others
18 over the -- over the period, you know, three, four, five years
19 these other things have been continuing to change.

20 So but starting with the vendors, within a week. We 21 had sent out a letter to 200 of the top vendors at the NRA and 22 said hey our policy is that you have to have detail on your 23 invoice, and if you can't provide that, then we are not going to 24 be able to do business with you. So we allowed them to try to 25 correct the issue. If they weren't able to correct the issue,

KM

3828

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 we ended the relationship.

2 We removed any type of out-of-pocket expense associated
3 with NRA travel and that no longer went through Ackerman McQueen
4 or an outside vendor, so we brought that in-house.

5 We started to move vendors out of EVP and out of public
6 relations and put them where they belong. So if a particular
7 consultant or contractor was working on general operations work
8 or they were working on publications work or they were working 9 on advancements work, we took them out of the EVP office and we 10 put them in the area of responsibility for whatever work they 11 were doing. And what that does is it creates accountability,
12 right, so that the manager of that particular area is now
13 accountable for that contractor; what are they doing, are they 14 working, are they providing benefit to the association. And if 15 they are not, they were then eliminated. So those are some of 16 the things that occurred on the vendor side.

17 On the employee side, we started to dig in to expense
18 reports and start to look for anything that might be personal in 19 nature. And if we found that, then we asked for reimbursement.
20 And if reimbursement wasn't made, they were terminated.

21 Then on to the systems side, there were three -- three 22 systems that were instituted. One was a change in how we 23 reported monthly financials.

24 So prior to 2018 we would send out the monthly
25 financial statements in paper format. So we printed everything

KM

3829

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 off. We, you know, collated it with the general ledger detail,
2 and we put it in an interoffice envelope and mailed it out
3 interoffice, but we were able to digitize that. So we were able 4 to add a component to our accounting system where it sent an
5 electronic picture of your income statement and all your detail
6 and you could drill down on that.

7 So each manager could look at their phone wherever they
8 were and see their financial statements, and you could drill
9 down on a variance. And say, oh, why is this big or little or 10 what's going on with the variance there. Why is this going up
11 or down?

12 The next thing we instituted was PN3. So PN3 is a 13 software that enables us to track invoices as they come in to 14 the Association. So they come in to an email box. They get 15 sort of imported into PN3, and PN3 then routes that invoice to 16 the appropriate person and gets their approval so you can track
17 the approval process all the way along. No invoices get lost,
18 and there is record within PN3 of exactly who approved whatever
19 invoice.

20 And the last thing we instituted was purchasing KYX's
21 C-Track. It's a software. Completes the 990. It's similar to 22 a Turbo Tax, but it's for Associations, and what it does, it
23 allows you when you input information on one schedule, it might 24 bring it over to another schedule, wherever it's pertinent, but 25 it also does a lot of cross checks to allow you to make sure

KM

3830

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 that you have accuracy across different schedules.

2 And the final grouping is compliance and education.

3 MR. THOMPSON: Your Honor, just narrative.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 A Was the compliance software, the compliance
6 presentation.

7 So we started to give compliance presentations to sort
8 of teach everybody the stuff that they should have known; right.
9 So what are the rules? What are -- what are the policies?
10 Where do you need to be looking when you do a transaction, when 11 you make a contract? What do you need to be doing for that 12 process to work?

13 I was part of giving those compliance seminars. I gave 14 the compliance seminar portion related to purchasing and related 15 to what authority you needed, what signatures you needed on 16 purchases, and that's ongoing. Education is ongoing. You have 17 to keep teaching people over and over and over again. You can 18 never stop.

19 And on top of that, we did -- the Board revised the 20 travel and reimbursement policy. We have new procedures for 21 travel and reimbursement policy.

22 The purchasing policy has been -- procedures have been
23 updated, and we continue to educate people. What are the rules?
24 What do you have to follow?

25 Q Thank you very much, Mr. Erstling. Let's go back to PX

KM

3831

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 2605, the second page.

2 Directing your attention to the second item that refers
3 to "Senior Management Override of Internal Controls."

4 Mr. Erstling, is it fair to say that you and your 5 colleagues used this memo to communicate your concerns to the 6 Audit Committee on July 30, 2018?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And in so far as the words "Senior Management Override
9 of Internal Controls" were used, to who were you referring when 10 you used the word "senior management" there?

11 A That would be Wayne LaPierre, Woody Phillips and Josh
12 Powell.

13 Q Directing your attention to item three which refers --
14 states that management has subordinated its judgment to vendors.

15 To the extent this was another concern that you
16 communicated to the Audit Committee, when you used the word
17 "management" there, to whom were you referring?

18 A Wayne LaPierre, Woody Phillips, Josh Powell.

19 Q Let's talk a little bit about the budgeting process
20 leading up to the July 30 presentation.

21 Did you have any concerns about the timing of the NRA's
22 budgeting process relative to the timing of the budgeting
23 process with Ackerman?

24 A Yes. So --

25 MR. FARBER: Objection, your Honor. He's answered

KM

3832

Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 the question.

2 Q Please tell us about the nature of that concern.

3 A The budgeting process at a very high level starts in 4 July. We -- we work towards a goal of getting a budget prepared
5 and approved by senior management in and around the week of 6 Thanksgiving. And so once that's been approved, we send that
7 budget -- that approved internal budget to the Finance Committee
8 for review at the December Finance Committee meeting.

9 And then that NRA budget is then -- you know, if there
10 are any changes, those changes occur, and we again, send it out
11 in early January for the January 6 or 7 Finance Committee
12 meeting. And then if they approve it, then it goes to the full
13 Board for approval. On a parallel track, there are meetings
14 taking place between the NRA and Ackerman McQueen where they 15 also are figuring out what their budget is going to be for the 16 next year. Next fiscal year.

17 That budget -- that Ackerman McQueen budget is then not 18 incorporated into the NRA's budget so that -- that budget is 19 taking the -- the Ackerman McQueen budget, the timing of that is 20 late November, early December at the same time that our budget
21 is going on.

22 And so what happens is you get to January, and the 23 NRA's budget is being approved by the Board, but it doesn't have 24 any of the adjustments or any of the projects or any of the work
25 that Ac-Mac is going to be doing for the next year within our

KM

3833

1 own budget. And so you get to January's actual results, and you
2 start to compare the NRA's budget to actual, and there are
3 variances all over the PR budget where Ackerman is involved
4 because the budget's not the same. It's different.

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Who at the NRA caused this issue?

2 MR. FARBER: No foundation, your Honor?

3 Q When Ackerman and the NRA negotiated the budget, who at 4 the NRA participated in that process?

5 A There were two people that were the contacts for the 6 Ackerman McQueen relationship, and that was Wayne LaPierre and 7 Woody Phillips. I wasn't in the room. I don't know who was 8 sitting there.

9 Q And when the Finance Committee was presented with a 10 budget for its approval, who amongst management presented the 11 budget for the Committee's approval?

12 A Woody would have initiated the meeting, and he would
13 have given an overview. Wayne would have spoken, and then each
14 of the department heads would have spoken at that meeting.

15 Q Switching topics a little bit.

16 What is your understanding as to the meaning of the 17 term 501(c)(4) Organization?

18 A A 501(c)(4) is a social welfare organization that 19 files -- that is a nonprofit, nontaxable, nonfederal taxable
20 organization by IRS code.

21 Q Is the NRA a 501(c)(4)?

22 A Yes, ma'am.

23 Q What type of organization is the NRA Foundation?

24 A That's a 501(c) charitable organization.

25 Q Did the NRA receive 501(c)(3) funds from the Foundation

BP

3835

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 in 2015 through present timeframe?

2 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Relevance, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 A Yes, ma'am.

5 Q When the NRA received or is receiving funds from the 6 Foundation, how can the funds coming in from the Foundation be 7 used by the NRA?

8 A There are different levels of restriction; but the 9 overarching goal is that (c)(3) funds can only be used for 10 (c)(3) programs. Further restricting it could be money may be 11 restricted to competitions, or money may be restricted to the 12 Eddie Eagle Gun Safe Program, or it could be restricted to our 13 Youth Hunter Education Challenge.

14 So, those monies could be further restricted, but 15 they're still restricted to (c)(3) programs.

16 Q Who at the NRA has been responsible since at least 2015
17 for ensuring that (c)(3) funds coming in from the Foundation are 18 accounted for appropriately and spent only for the types of 19 services that you just referenced?

20 A Me.

21 Q How have you done that?

22 A (C)(3) accounting-wise, in the accounting system we set
23 up cost centers. A cost center or a profit center, it's just a
24 code. It is a series of numbers.

25 So, each-- each cost center has a five digit code. So,

BP

3836

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 with this example right now, the NRA Museum, the cost center
2 number is 40685; and so any expenses associated with the museum,
3 whether that be salaries and benefits, whether it be supplies
4 and materials, whether it be travel, we would code those 5 expenses to 40685. And so when money comes over from the 6 Foundation and it is restricted to a (c)(3) program, well, the 7 museum counts as a (c)(3) program. If it was restricted to just 8 museum, well, I could put it in museum.

9 And so each program within general operations that is a 10 (c)(3) program, it's educational, it is for the public, they 11 fall in a specific cost center and they have a specific cost
12 center number, and that's how we keep each column separated from 13 the next.

14 And so when the money comes over from the Foundation,
15 when we request money from the Foundation, we request it in 16 those particular buckets. So, I may request $125,000 to cover
17 the expenses and allocations to the museum from the Foundation,
18 and the Foundation would send if they approved 125,000.

19 I might request for the Eddie Eagle Gun Safe Program
20 that we send out $25,000 worth of material across the country.
21 I might request $25,000 of Eddie Eagle money to be granted over 22 to the NRA, and so I keep those things separate by their 23 accounting code on the ledger.

24 Q Were there any other steps you took to ensure that 25 (c)(3) funds coming from the Foundation were spent only for the

BP

3837

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 designated purposes like the museum, Eddie Eagle, Refuse to be a
2 Victim, et cetera?

3 A I mean, that's the analysis that I do on a monthly
4 basis. So, I am pulling information directly from the general
5 ledger, right from our accounting software. I place it into 6 this -- this model, this spreadsheet and it gives me a column
7 for each and everyone of those (c)(3) programs.

8 And so when I make my request to the Foundation, I
9 provide -- I provide the Foundation with that spreadsheet and 10 with the detail behind it showing the ledger and the expenses to 11 the Foundation to approve that request.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, Mr. Erstling. No
13 further questions at this time.

14 THE COURT: Any other direct testimony?

15 MR. CORRELL: I'll pass the witness, your Honor.

16 MR. FARBER: No direct, your Honor.

17 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. FLEMING:

19 Q Hello, Mr. Erstling. How are you?

20 A Good, thank you.

21 Q So, I have some questions and you seem like the right
22 person to get granular with.

23 So, you testified about approving payments to vendors.
24 Do you recall?

25 A Yes.

BP

3838

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Can you explain to the jury the process by which an
2 invoice comes in and payments are approved ultimately?

3 A So, today we request that payments are e-mailed as a
4 PDF into an e-mail box called AP Invoices.

5 THE COURT: You say payments, you mean invoices
6 e-mailed?

7 THE WITNESS: Invoices. So, invoices are sent in 8 to an e-mail box called AP Invoices.

9 From there, PN3 will import that PDF into the 10 system and so that's step one.

11 Step 2 is the AP group will then take a look at 12 that invoice and they will enter in whatever type of 13 information they can as far as the vendor name and address
14 and the like, and then they look on that invoice for who the 15 owner is of that particular invoice.

16 Q That's where I want to stop you, if you don't mind to 17 go through it.

18 A No worries.

19 Q When you say owner of an invoice, what do you mean?

20 A In some cases it's really simple because it might say
21 in the address, it might say Mike Erstling NRA; and so right
22 there they can say, oh, look, that belongs to Mike. Let me
23 route that to Mike for approval.

24 Q Okay, but is owner of the invoice in any way related
25 to the person who contracted for the services, for instance?

BP

3839

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Not always, not always.

2 Q Okay. Is that person; that is, the person who
3 originated the contract or ordered -- asked for the services,
4 does that person get routed the invoice at all?

5 A Um, they should. At some point, at some point in the 6 routing if let's say -- let's say a junior, a manager, a manager
7 gets the invoice; they have the ability to route that to a more
8 senior manager in their own department for approval as well.

9 So, it tracks those steps all the way through. So, it
10 depends on what their authority is to sign off on a particular
11 invoice.

12 Q Okay, but if I worked at the NRA and I ordered 100
13 widgets and the invoice comes into AP invoices, would I expect
14 to see that invoice?

15 A You should.

16 Q Okay. And once the person in my position gets the 17 invoice, what input if you know do they then provide and who do
18 they provide it to?

19 A So, the invoice would pop up on their screen if they're 20 in the software, and they might be asked to code that invoice,
21 to provide that five digit cost-center code that we talked about 22 the GO a couple minutes ago; they might be asked to put that 23 code. In they might be asked to put an account in, office
24 supplies, fulfillment supplies and then they would be asked to 25 either approve it or approve and forward to the next person for

BP

3840

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 their approval as well.

2 Q Okay, and when they approve it -- let's assume they
3 approve it -- are they saying yes, I ordered this, and yes, I
4 received it?

5 A They should be, yes.

6 Q And are they also saying that yes, this is the price I
7 agreed to?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And then after they do that, where does it go?

10 A It depends on the size, right? So if -- if the size is 11 small, let's say under 50,000 -- we'll just go with that easy
12 one -- and the person approved it last had the authority to 13 approve up to that level, then it just returns back to AP for 14 payment.

15 Q Okay. So, if -- now, let's take a different level.
16 Let's say it is over a hundred thousand. Where does it go?

17 A So, let's say we have a show of exhibits. So they have 18 a $105,000 invoice, and so John Bailey goes ahead and he signs
19 off on it; and he would send it to Lisa Supernaugh and Lisa
20 Supernaugh would go ahead and she would approve it. And then it
21 would go -- the next step would go to the treasurer's office,
22 and the treasurer would sign off on it because it is over
23 $50,000.

24 And then once the treasurer signs off on it, she'll
25 send it to John Frazer, and John Frazer will sign off on it

BP

3841

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 because it needs two -- two officers' signatures.

2 Q Let me stop you. I had understood that that process
3 you just described for invoices between 50 and 100, am I wrong
4 about that?

5 A It is over 50,000.

6 Q Over 50, okay. And when it goes to the treasurer's
7 office and then to Mr. Frazer for signature, do they usually 8 have any original or primary understanding of that invoice or 9 that service that was provided?

10 A I don't know what knowledge they would have. If it's 11 a contract or any type of contract they would have seen a 12 contract, right? Because through the contract process, the 13 approval of that has the signature of the treasurer and the OGC.
14 So, they would have known about it they way.

15 Q Now, by the time the treasurer and Mr. Frazer received
16 this invoice, is it true that the originator of the service --
17 me in the example I asked you -- would they know that I have 18 already approved that, yes, I ordered those services; yes, I
19 received them; yes, that's the price I contracted for?

20 A It would show up in PN3 that you've signed off on it.
21 So, they would see that the trail of prior signatures going down
22 the list, yes.

23 Q Okay. Next topic and last topic: You talked about 24 compliance and education being a critical function of the NRA
25 now; is that right?

BP

3842

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Yes.

2 Q And you were talking in the sort of post-whistleblowing
3 Top Concerns Memo period; is that right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Now, is it true that the first compliance refresher
6 seminar was given actually prior to July 30, 2018?

7 A It may have been. I just don't remember the timing of 8 the exact date.

9 Q Okay, and then chronologically, last question. All of 10 that, the 2018 whistleblowing, the Top Concerns Memo, the 11 compliance refresher and all of these reactions that took place
12 according to your testimony within a week occurred prior to 13 2019; isn't that right?

14 A Not all of them, but a lot of them, yes.

15 Q And that was prior to the New York Attorney General's 16 investigation; isn't that right?

17 A I believe so, yes.

18 MR. FLEMING: Thanks so much.

19 THE COURT: All right, we're going to take our 20 break, and we'll reconvene at 2:15.

21 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

22 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
23 courtroom.)

24 THE COURT: Mr. Erstling, as last time, during the 25 break, you're still on the stand so you shouldn't discuss

BP

1 your testimony with anyone, the substance of your testimony,
2 including counsel.

3 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

4 (Whereupon, at this time the witness stepped down.)

5 (Whereupon, at this time a luncheon recess was then
6 taken.)

AFTERNOON SESSION

3

* * * * *

4

THE COURT: The jury is ready. Are you all ready?

5

6

MR. FLEMING: Just as a quick housekeeping matter really. I had spoken to the Attorney General about stipulating to certain exhibits, primarily all 990s and also secretary's reports; and I haven't heard back and I'm not pressing them for an answer, but I just wanted to raise the issue because I think at some point it would be very effective to make sure that all these documents were in instead of rather than have belabor --

10

12

13

14

THE COURT: I'd be surprised if all 990s haven't been put in already.

15

MR. FLEMING: Well, 990s of importance go back to 2008, at least for our case and I wanted to get all the '08 through '14. I think you're right, 15 through 22 are in.

17

19

THE COURT: The '08 through '14 are relevant?

20

MR. FLEMING: Into the history and treatment of certain items that are in issue here.

21

THE COURT: Okay, and the 990s and the secretary's reports are presumptively admissible as either business records or public filings, right?

23

25

MR. FLEMING: Certainly, the 990s for sure. The

BP

3845

Proceedings

1 secretary's reports are internal business records. They're
2 traditionally done every year. They're part of the standard
3 practice.

4 THE COURT: So, is there -- do you expect any 5 issues, issue about relevance or --

6 MR. THOMPSON: Relevance, your Honor, but we are
7 looking at it and we are going to respond to Mr. Fleming's
8 e-mail. We just figured Mr. Frazer was not going to be on 9 the stand today, and we had a little more time to look at
10 it.

11 THE COURT: And I had been generally been fairly
12 lenient with the before-and-after time period. In terms of 13 just broad relevance, as you probably saw in the 14 instructions, I'm going to tell them that the only thing
15 that ultimately matters are how things bear on the relevant
16 period; but that sometimes you learn things from prior 17 periods that's relevant and some things.

18 So, hopefully, you won't have an issue because 19 they're admissible in terms of hearsay and other kinds of 20 things. Let's wait and see if we have an issue. I'm 21 inclined to let them in, but --

22 MR. FLEMING: Just to be fully clear, 2008 I forgot
23 to mention is in already and, actually, I used it in 24 previous testimony. So you know for what it's worth.

25 THE COURT: And that was before your client was --

BP

3846

Proceedings

1 was the GC, right?

2 MR. FLEMING: That's right.

3 THE COURT: Okay. All right, I don't want to waste
4 any time on something that's probably not going to be an
5 issue.

6 So, let's get the jury.

7 MR. THOMPSON: Just one more quick housekeeping
8 item, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Get the witness.

10 MR. THOMPSON: This is just about the closings. So
11 we are -- we're still working with the NRA to sort of 12 finalize the time allocation. There's just one discrepancy
13 that we're working on; but as far as we calculated the time,
14 we think the closings are probably going to need to start
15 Wednesday afternoon in order to finish by the end of day
16 Thursday.

17 We just want to see if that tracks with what the 18 defendants are thinking as well?

19 THE COURT: Well, how long are you all thinking for 20 closings? I mean, there's five hours in a court day, and so
21 we have to have breaks. Mr. Phillips wants an hour.

22 What does the AG want?

23 MR. THOMPSON: I think we're thinking approximately 24 two hours, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: That's your opening bid. I will accept

BP

3847

Proceedings

1 that as --

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, Mr. LaPierre will require 3 an hour.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Phillips, still an hour?

5 MS. ROGERS: The NRA would be looking -- I'm sorry.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Phillips, an hour?

7 MR. FARBER: As of now, but we may be less.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Frazer?

9 MR. FLEMING: Tough to say, your Honor, so I will 10 an hour. It could be less. It could trickle over.

11 THE COURT: And the NRA?

12 MS. ROGERS: We were thinking about ninety minutes
13 and we think -- we're still resolving our time discrepancy;
14 but if the AG takes two hours for closing, then we think
15 cross is pretty much done.

16 MR. CORRELL: The other concern, your Honor, is 17 Mr. LaPierre has not had an opportunity to present his case
18 in chief yet, and he is planning -- I'm planning to call him
19 on Tuesday. I have two experts and maybe one other witness,
20 and we have time allotted to do that.

21 THE COURT: Yeah, so your assumption in your time
22 allotments was that we would have through Wednesday for 23 evidence; but nobody completely dialled in on how long
24 closings would take.

25 So, I still want those done -- even if I back the

BP

3848

Proceedings

1 AG down to ninety minutes, that still doesn't work for one
2 day, right?

3 MR. FLEMING: Well, your Honor, just one other
4 factor. By my understanding of the clock, before today the 5 attorney general is at 43 and a half hours. Two hours for 6 summation puts them at 45 and a half, doesn't include
7 whatever they have done today.

8 If they have no cross next week, then maybe that 9 quickens the day and frees up some time on Wednesday because 10 right now, I have an expert witness, as well. Mr. Frazer
11 may testify; and if we can eliminate cross so we know
12 there's no cross, it's a lot quicker.

13 THE COURT: Well, I'm not going to anybody in 14 advance. We'll just have to sort of see. I made a point at 15 the beginning, it is not a mathematical test here.

16 It's got to be equitable, but I do want to make 17 sure that especially the individual defendants who haven't 18 really -- that they have time. The NRA has, obviously, been 19 spending the time so far.

20 Well, look, my preference would be for all the 21 closings to be together on Thursday. I realize now that 22 would necessary -- require everybody to be much shorter to 23 be able to get all four of you in in four hours. If nobody
24 thinks that's reasonable, then it has to start Wednesday
25 afternoon.

BP

3849

Proceedings

1 So, I'm going to let you all talk about it for now.
2 But, yeah, the question is what I'd like you to be able to
3 do is to get all the closings in in a total of four hours
4 and to just be more efficient. The jury has heard six weeks
5 of evidence, look, I get it. Summations are important, so
6 I'm aware of the AG's time expenditure.

7 So, unless you can figure out a schedule that gets 8 you down to four hours for closings, some closing is going 9 to have to start and it will be a defendant closing on 10 Wednesday afternoon.

11 MR. FARBER: Judge, I'll say for our part if the 12 Court is going to do this in four hours, we'll conform our 13 closing to do our portion of that. I mean, I would prefer
14 to have these all be in one day, as would the Court.

15 THE COURT: I would certainly. There's a lot to 16 summarize, but my experience watching you all is that time
17 constraints has more often than not improved the quality of 18 presentation. Not that the quality has been bad ever; but 19 the shorter crosses, for example, are not a lot of wasted
20 time, right to the point. Frankly, you have to sort of plan
21 that out.

22 I don't want to do a dicta that says it has to be 23 four hours and, basically, an hour a piece; but that's what
24 I would prefer and that would give the AG some more
25 flexibility on time for cross.

BP

3850

Proceedings

1 And it may be a little too flip for me to say this;
2 but if you can't summarize it in an hour, that's a
3 problem.

4 MR. FARBER: Judge, what is the order of summations
5 going to be?

6 THE COURT: Well, I mean, the default is defense
7 first and it goes the opposite of the openings. So, the 8 defendants go first and then the plaintiff finishes, and the 9 default, at least for jury selection which I guess I would
10 apply is the caption, where normally the NRA is listed first 11 and the same order that you've been sitting in that we would 12 do it in that order, and then the four defendants go and 13 then the plaintiff.

14 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, actually, the CPLR
15 provides for closing in inverse order of opening. So --

16 THE COURT: Inverse meaning the defendants first
17 and then plaintiff.

18 MR. CORRELL: Yes, so that would be Mr. Fleming
19 would go first, Mr. Farber --

20 THE COURT: I don't think it necessarily -- does it 21 get as granular as that, that the opposite of the 22 defendants?

23 MR. CORRELL: I think it does, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Really?

25 MR. CORRELL: I've been planning my closing in that

BP

3851

Proceedings

1 order.

2 MR. FARBER: The CPLR does say inverse. It does
3 not --

4 THE COURT: I'm not going to --

5 MR. FARBER: -- anything beyond that.

6 THE COURT: While we're worried about time, let's
7 get the jury and get the witness, and we'll deal with the 8 rest of all this.

9 I want you to work on a time. Again, if the AG
10 which has to do the entire case can do there's in an hour,
11 that suggests to me that maybe a little more than an hour
12 for them instead of just assuming a block of an hour. For 13 each individual defendant there should be like
14 forty-five minutes each and the NRA, which has a blank sort
15 of an overview, maybe a little bit more.

16 I'm not going to micromanage it yet, but I think
17 the AG who has to cover the entire case would likely have a 18 pretty good argument to have a little bit longer time than 19 the individual defendants who are only arguing part of the 20 case.

21 MR. THOMPSON: Your Honor --

22 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I respectfully disagree.
23 So far my client has had one hour to the AG's ten, and we 24 are feeling like we're getting squeezed already and to allow 25 them more time in closings than Mr. LaPierre when he's had

BP

3852

Proceedings

1 to deal --

2 THE COURT: Well, you're not getting squeezed by me
3 because I made this point already, that you should have as 4 much of the defense case as you feel like you need; and if
5 you're not getting it, let me know.

6 MR. THOMPSON: Your Honor, just to note that we
7 have been building the two hours into our, like, how much
8 time we have for cross.

9 THE COURT: Get the witness.

10 Look, like I said, you all know the rules; but the 11 two hours doesn't work for us to have closings in one day.
12 And the Wednesday start for closings is not consistent,
13 maybe with how defendants are reasonably planning out when 14 their witnesses are going to be allowed to be in and your 15 case did take into the fourth or maybe even the fifth week.

16 So, I have to give them some deference in terms of 17 making sure they can put their primary witnesses in; and if 18 that's the expense of you going from two hours of a closing
19 to an hour and a half to an hour and fifteen, that's just 20 the way it is.

21 So, let's get the jury.

22 (Whereupon at this time the witness,
23 MICHAEL ERSTLING, having been previously duly sworn/affirmed
24 by the Clerk of the Court resumed the witness stand and 25 testified as follows:)

CROSS-EXAMINATION

13

BY MR. THOMPSON:

14

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Erstling.

15

A Good afternoon.

16

Q Just a few questions. Would you agree with me, Mr. Erstling, that all of the NRA funds must be used in furtherance of the NRA's mission?

17

19

A I would agree that the funds should be used in the NRA's mission.

20

Q And before the break when you were being questioned by Mr. Fleming, he was asking about the timing of the NYAG's investigation.

22

24

Do you recall that?

25

A I recall there was an investigation, yes. I don't

BP

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 remember the exact dates.

2 Q Did you ever receive a document preservation notice in
3 connection with that investigation?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And do you recall that being in approximately April of 6 2019?

7 A I could agree with that. I don't know the -- again, I
8 don't know the exact date, but I know there was a preservation
9 and I know we're following that.

10 Q Okay. And if I can just to refresh your recollection,
11 Mr. Erstling, if I could hand up a document very quickly.

12 MR. THOMPSON: And I have copies here, as well.

13 THE COURT: Marked for identification so we know
14 what it is?

15 MR. THOMPSON: It is marked for identification as 16 Plaintiff's Exhibit 3584.

17 THE COURT: And you're not admitting this. This is 18 just for refreshing recollection?

19 MR. THOMPSON: Correct, your Honor.

20 Q And my question, Mr. Erstling, when you have the 21 document, does this refresh your recollection as to the timing
22 of the document preservation notice?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What does it refresh your recollection as to when the 25 preservation notice was issued?

BP

3855

M. Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Thompson

1 A It was according to the document, which I believe I've
2 seen, is April 26, 2019.

3 Q And you were testifying about the new invoice software.
4 That's PM3?

5 A N as in Nancy.

6 Q N as in Nancy. When did the NRA begin using that 7 software, that program?

8 A That was probably 2018 to 21.

9 Q Okay. And then you were talking with Ms. Eisenberg
10 about the Top Concerns Memo and sought of the pace of change
11 after you spoke with the Audit Committee.

12 Do you remember that?

13 A Yes, sir.

14 Q And one of the items on the Top Concerns Memo concerns
15 Membership Marketing Partners; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And the NRA renegotiated its agreement with Membership
18 Marketing Partners and Allegiance Creative Group in 2022?

19 MS. EISENBERG: Objection, outside the scope.

20 THE COURT: I can't remember.

21 MR. THOMPSON: Were discussing the Top Concerns
22 Memo and the timing things changed, your Honor, so this is 23 going to an item in the Top Concerns Memo.

24 THE COURT: Overruled.

25 MR. THOMPSON: And if we could please bring up for

BP

1 the witness only, Plaintiff's Exhibit 2459.

2

3 THE COURT: So, the witness and counsel?

4 MR. THOMPSON: Witness and counsel, please.

5 This was Tab 8 of the Erstling binder. I'm not

7 there's no objection, I will move this into evidence.

8

Q And Mr. Erstling, if we can please go ahead and publish this actually.

10

My question is just does this email chain reflect the timing of the renegotiation with MMP in 2022?

12

A Yes. It appears about the right timing, yes.

13

A Yes, I was on an earlier exchange.

1 BY MR. CORRELL:

2 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Correll, you can continue if

5 Q Good afternoon Mr. Erstling. I am Kent Correll. I
6 represent Wayne LaPierre.

7 A Good afternoon.

8 Q And would you please direct your attention to Tab 18 in

10 A I don't have a notebook. I'm sorry.

11 MR. CORRELL: Could we bring Tab 18 up on the 12 screen.

13 THE COURT: Is that the notebook from last week?

14 MR. CORRELL: This is the Top Concerns memo.

15 THE COURT: But what notebook are we talking about?
16 Is there a notebook for this; Erstling exhibits? The one he 17 just testified from.

18 MS. EISENBERG: We identified a set we could have 19 used. Because I only used one document, I didn't bother
20 bringing a binder.

21 MR. CORRELL: It's PX 2605, Top Concerns memo.

22 THE COURT: I think it would be helpful for the 23 witness to have a copy of the binder so he can have a hard
24 copy to look at if he wants to. Okay.

25 But it's just the Top Concerns memo that we looked

2 MR. CORRELL: Yes, it is.

3 Q I would like to direct your attention if you would to

5 Committee.

6 Next page, please. Third item.

7 A Yes, sir.

8 Q Did you write that statement?

9 A I did not.

10 Q Who did?

11 A I believe Emily Cummins wrote that.

12 Q Did you have any personal knowledge at the time this 13 was written as to whether management had subordinated its 14 judgment to vendors?

15 A I believe that Emily -- during our conversations --

16 MR. CORRELL: Objection, your Honor. Hearsay.

17 THE COURT: Well --

18 MR. CORRELL: This is a former.

19 MR. FARBER: This is a yes or no question, your
20 Honor.

21 Q So my next question is did she also write the part that
22 says "Decisions are made in the best interest of vendors?"

23 A She would have written the whole thing.

24 Q Okay. As you sit here -- well, at the time this was 25 written, did you have any personal knowledge as to whether any

KM

1 decisions were being made in the best interest of vendors?

2 A I did not.

3 Q And at the time this was written, did you have any 4 personal knowledge as to whether management had subordinated its
5 judgment to vendors?

6 A I did not.

7 Q And as the time -- as of the time this was written, had
8 you ever spoken to Mr. LaPierre?

9 A Not about this, no.

10 Q And at the time this was written, did you go and talk
11 to Mr. LaPierre about any of your concerns?

12 A I did not.

13 Q Okay. Did Mr. LaPierre ever hold any assets for 14 charitable purposes pursuant to a will?

15 A I have no idea what you're talking about.

16 Q Okay. You talked about charitable assets before. Do
17 you remember testifying about that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you testified that there were restricted assets
20 that would come under your management.

21 Do you remember that?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Was Mr. LaPierre involved in that process of managing 24 the funds from the (c)(3) corporations?

25 A No.

KM

3861

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Correll

1 Q Did you know that Ackerman McQueen tried to fire Craig
2 Spray shortly after he was hired?

3 A Only through this process.

4 Q Through which process?

5 A This lawsuit that's going on today. I have heard that
6 information.

7 Q Okay. And that was before the Top Concerns memo was 8 composed; correct?

9 Do you have any personal knowledge as to when that
10 occurred?

11 A I do not.

12 Q And do you know -- do you have any knowledge as to 13 whether Mr. LaPierre pushed back on that and prevented that from 14 happening?

15 A Only through this process.

16 Q Was Mr. LaPierre supportive of your efforts to address
17 these issues in the Top Concerns memo?

18 A He was.

19 Q And were those concerns ultimately addressed to your 20 satisfaction?

21 A They were.

22 Q And could that have happened without Mr. LaPierre's
23 support?

24 A It probably would have been more difficult, yes, but he 25 was helpful.

KM

3862

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 Q But as you sit here today, you have no personal
2 knowledge of Mr. LaPierre doing anything to try to impede that 3 effort; correct?

4 A No.

5 Q And in fact, your personal knowledge is the opposite
6 that to -- as far as you know, he was an ally in that process;
7 correct?

8 MR. THOMPSON: Objection. Leading.

9 THE COURT: This is cross. Overruled.

10 MR. CORRELL: Thank you.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Farber.

12 MR. CORRELL: I don't see an answer to the last
13 question.

14 THE COURT: The last question; And in fact your 15 personal knowledge is the opposite that as far as you know,
16 he was an ally in that process; correct?

17 And then there was an objection which I overruled.
18 So you can answer.

19 A Yes. He's been an ally.

20 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

21 MR. FARBER: May I proceed?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 Q Good afternoon. My name is Seth Farber. I represent
24 Mr. Phillips.

25 Mr. Correll just asked you some questions as to whether

KM

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 Mr. LaPierre did anything to impede the reforms that were being
2 put into place at the NRA after you went to the Audit Committee
3 with these concerns.

4 Do you recall that question?

5 A I do.

6 Q Okay. Mr. Phillips didn't do anything to impede those 7 reforms either; did he?

8 A He wasn't here, so no.

9 Q He was still a treasurer at the NRA at the time; wasn't 10 he?

11 A I didn't see him so -- correct. I don't think he did
12 anything, but I wouldn't know. He wasn't here.

13 Q You wouldn't know?

14 A I wouldn't know.

15 Q At the time your position at the NRA was Director of 16 Budget and Financial Analysis; is that correct?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q How many people reported to you in that capacity?

19 A Usually one to two.

20 Q Okay. Of and you did not report directly to Mr.
21 Phillips at that time; did you?

22 A I did not.

23 Q You reported to Mr. Tedrick?

24 A Correct.

25 Q But you were frustrated because you did not get to

KM

3864

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 speak to Mr. Phillips directly; is that correct?

2 MS. EISENBERG: Mischaracterizes testimony.

3 THE COURT: He is just asking a new question.

4 Overruled.

5 A I wasn't necessarily frustrated I couldn't meet with 6 him. It's just that we didn't meet with him.

7 Q But you didn't report directly to him. You reported to 8 Mr. Tedrick; isn't that correct?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Who is the treasurer now?

11 A Sonya Rowling.

12 Q Okay. And how many people roughly report to her?

13 A Got to be close to 50.

14 Q And what's the scope of her responsibilities as 15 treasurer and CFO?

16 A Financial aspects of the Association. That could range
17 from IT work to Financial Services to treasury to risk and 18 insurance to tax.

19 Q Interactions with the Board?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Audit Committee?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Finance Committee?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Mr. LaPierre when he was EVP?

KM

3865

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 A Correct; yes.

2 Q Fairly broad?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And is it correct -- is it a fair characterization to 5 say that you were not a fan of Mr. Phillips' management style?

6 A I was not a fan.

7 Q You preferred Mr. Spray's; isn't is that right?

8 A I do prefer Mr. Spray's.

9 Q And I think you testified that you at some point were 10 frustrated that you were seeing a great deal of large
11 transactions with very little detail.

12 Is that accurate?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you were also frustrated -- you had concerns about 15 transactions that you believe were lacking proper approvals. Is 16 that correct as well?

17 A I don't know if approvals was the right word, but it
18 was lacking in detail.

19 Q Okay.

20 A They always had approvals.

21 Q And you have shared that with Mr. Spray you said in 22 2018?

23 A We did, yes.

24 Q Well, I'm asking about you.

25 A I did, yes.

KM

3866

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 Q You did; correct.

2 And if I recall correctly, you have been at the NRA
3 since about 2001; is that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And so that was the first time that you shared those
6 concerns with someone at Mr. Spray's level; is that correct?

7 A I would always bring them up to Rick, but I never had a
8 meeting with Woody to talk about stuff like that.

9 When Craig came, we had meetings. We were sitting
10 around the table on a month to month basis so as these things
11 were coming in, I was able to bring them up.

12 Q Okay. So in -- from 2001 when you started to 2018, you
13 never saw Mr. Phillips in person?

14 A I saw Woody three times a year during the budget
15 process.

16 Q And you never said anything to him about those concerns
17 at that time; right?

18 A The invoices, no.

19 Q When did you first meet Mr. Frazer over here?

20 A Probably when he became general counsel.

21 Q Which was in 2015; correct?

22 A I guess, yes.

23 Q Okay. And you testified on direct examination that 24 prior to the Audit Committee meeting in 2018, you talked with 25 him about the concerns that you had; correct?

KM

3867

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 A Correct.

2 Q You've never had any doubts about Mr. Frazer's
3 integrity, I take it.

4 A No.

5 Q Okay. Has he ever refused to hear you out on an issue?

6 A No.

7 Q You never went to him in 2015, 2016, 2017 about these 8 concerns that you say you had; isn't that correct?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Okay. And you could have done that; right?

11 A I could have.

12 Q You could have sent him an email even if he wasn't 13 personally available; right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q But you didn't do that.

16 A I did not.

17 Q I think you said that in 2018, you started to sort of 18 sit around the table with the group of other people in the 19 Finance Department that you described and sort of put things
20 together, engaged, and I think you used the word "group think."

21 Is that correct, sir?

22 A Yes, sir.

23 Q Okay. So when you engaged in that group think with 24 your colleagues, what was your salary at the time?

25 A I think 180,000.

KM

3868

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 Q Okay. What's your salary now, sir?

2 A 250,000.

3 Q And you have a higher position now; don't you?

4 A I do and more responsibility.

5 Q And Mr. Tedrick's job. Mr. Tedrick's job. You now
6 have the job that he used to have?

7 A No, sir, I do not. Mr. Tedrick is still there, and Mr.
8 Tedrick still does his job.

9 Q Are you above Mr. Tedrick?

10 A No.

11 Q You just have a higher salary?

12 A I have Sonya Rowling's old job.

13 Q I am mistaken. I apologize.

14 So you have Sonya Rowling's old job. And do you know
15 what her salary was at the time when you were all sitting around 16 talking?

17 A I do not at the moment, no.

18 Q And by the way, you said that Mr. Phillips had not
19 held -- that there were never any formal regularly scheduled
20 meetings prior to Mr. Spray being there; is that correct?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q But you did testify you would have ad hoc random
23 meetings; isn't that right?

24 A As it relates to the budget, yes.

25 Q There was nothing preventing you from talking to your

KM

3869

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 colleagues about these concerns that you had during that period?

2 A We did talk from time to time, but it was --

3 Q Nothing prevented you from doing this.

4 A Nothing prevented us from doing it.

5 Q Or take the concerns that emerged from those 6 discussions and going to Mr. Frazer as the general counsel of 7 the NRA and reporting to him that there was something that 8 bothered you; isn't that right?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Okay. So now you're still employed by the NRA today?

11 A Yes, I am.

12 Q Making your higher salary?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q Okay. Now, you were deposed in this case; isn't that
15 right?

16 A I was.

17 Q Okay. And you understand that Ms. Eisenberg who 18 questioned you earlier represents the NRA; right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Your employer.

21 A Correct.

22 A Yes.

23 Q She represented you at that deposition too; isn't that 24 what right?

25 A I believe so.

KM

1 Q Okay. And you testified earlier in this trial. It
2 seems like a while ago. Several weeks ago.

3 Do you recall that, sir?

4 A I do.

5 Q Okay. And between your testimony then and today, have 6 you talked with Ms. Eisenberg at all?

7 A I have.

8 Q And any other members of her firm?

9 A Yes.

10 Q You talked to them about what you're going to testify
11 about?

12 A Whatever documents, yes.

13 Q Well, you just went over documents? Is that all that 14 happened?

15 A That's what happened.

16 Q Did you talk about the subject that you were going to 17 testify about?

18 A We talked about the documents which is the subject of 19 the testimony that I'm doing today.

20 Q Did she ask you any questions?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And you answered and went over what you were 23 going to testify about today; isn't that right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q About how many times did you do that?

KM

3871

Erstling - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Farber

1 A Two.

2 Q Okay. And did you have any meetings like that before
3 you testified the first time?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. With Ms. Eisenberg or with others from the 6 Brewer Firm?

7 A Others from the firm.

8 Q Which ones?

9 A Susan Dillon.

10 Q And what's Susan Dillon's role at the Brewer Firm?

11 A You have to ask the Brewer Firm. I don't know exactly
12 what her role is.

13 Q Well, I'm asking if you know.

14 A I don't know.

15 Q Okay. Did you have any meeting with Mr. Brewer
16 himself?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And when were those?

19 A I had a meeting yesterday.

20 Q Oh, okay.

21 With Ms. Eisenberg?

22 A She was in the room, yes.

23 Q Okay. And to talk about the documents?

24 A Yes.

25 Q That you testified about today.

KM

1 A Yes.

2 MR. FARBER: Okay. Nothing further your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Redirect.

4 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MS. EISENBERG:

6 Q Mr. Erstling, when you and I met to prepare for your 7 testimony today, I didn't tell you what answers to give. Is 8 that fair?

9 A That's fair.

10 Q I didn't script out your answers for you; right?

11 A No, ma'am, you did not.

12 Q And neither did Ms. Dillon?

13 A No, she did not.

14 Q Nor Mr. Brewer right?

15 A Correct.

16 Q All the answers that you gave today are your answers;
17 fair?

18 A They are my answers.

19 Q You mentioned the word "group think" in your testimony
20 when I asked questions and then Mr. Farber brought it up again.
21 That tends to have different connotations.

22 Can you please explain to the members of the jury in 23 what sense you meant it here.

24 A I go to back to the puzzle. It's putting the pieces of 25 the puzzle together. Nobody had all of the pieces of the puzzle

KM

3873

Erstling - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 and so by sitting around, everybody was putting their piece into 2 this puzzle and you could start to see the picture that was
3 taking place.

4 It wasn't a, hey, let's all group together and pick one
5 route. That wasn't the purpose. It was just to get a clear
6 picture of what was going on.

7 Q And did the meetings that Mr. Spray organized serve as 8 a catalyst for being able to put those pieces of the puzzle
9 together?

10 A I would say yes, definitely.

11 Q Mr. Farber asked you about your promotion.
12 Congratulations.

13 A Thank you.

14 Q Please tell us if you don't mind how your 15 responsibilities have increased in connection with that 16 promotion?

17 A So prior to the promotion, I was responsible for the 18 budget and the annual budget and financial forecasting.

19 I am now responsible for all of accounting operations
20 which includes accounts payable, accounts receivable, general
21 ledger. I am also responsible for tax filings. So all of the 22 state, sales and use tax filings, all U.S. census bureau filings
23 and 990 preparation.

24 Q And by state filings, are you referring to filings in 25 pretty much every state in the United States?

KM

3874

Erstling - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A All 50 states and some states have counties so you have
2 to do those as well.

3 Q Mr. Thompson asked you about the timing of the PN3
4 software and you testified that that came in place in 2021.

5 Do you recall that testimony?

6 A I do.

7 Q Is there anything wrong within the NRA continuing to 8 improve its processes?

9 A No. It should always improve its processes.

10 Q I asked you about what changed after the July 30, 2018
11 presentation, and you gave a fairly long answer.

12 If you recall, some of the items that you specified
13 what was the timing of the other items there. So for example,
14 you mentioned information and education, and you mentioned the 15 seminars.

16 A So the compliance seminars started in the Summer of 17 2018 and have been every year, sometimes twice a year since that 18 time. The updating of the policies happened during that time.
19 It may have taken more time than, you know, 2018. I can't 20 remember exactly when the travel and expense reimbursement
21 policy was finally updated, but it wasn't -- I don't think it
22 was in 2018. I think it was a little bit further out.

23 Q What about the budgeting issue that you described in 24 connection with the NRA's own budget versus Ackerman's? Did
25 that stop being a problem at some point?

KM

3875

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A We no longer do business with Ackerman McQueen, so it's
2 not a problem.

3 Q Fair to say that that happened in 2019?

4 A Yes.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much. No further
6 questions.

7 THE COURT: Anything further from the Defense or 8 from the Government?

9 MR. THOMPSON: Nothing further, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. You're free to step
11 down.

12 MS. ROGERS: The NRA calls Sandra Froman.

13 S A N D R A F R O M A N, a witness called on
14 behalf of the Defendant, after having been first duly sworn,
15 took the witness stand and testified as follows:

16 THE CLERK: State your name.

17 THE WITNESS: Sandra Froman, F-R-O-M-A-N.

18 THE CLERK: Thank you. You may be seated.

19 DIRECT EXAMINATION

20 BY MS. ROGERS:

21 Q Good afternoon, Ms. Froman.

22 Can you tell the jury a little bit about your personal
23 background.

24 A My name is Sandy Froman. I was born an raised in the 25 San Francisco Bay area.

KM

3876

1 My dad originally grew up in the Bronx, but he married
2 my mother from San Francisco, and when they came east to live,
3 she didn't like the cold so we ended up moving back to
4 California and that's where I was raised.

5 My dad growing up in New York, mom and dad came from 6 Odessa, Russia, so it's kind of weird to be back here and seeing
7 a lot of places that I remember visiting as a child.

8 I went to school in the Bay area, grade school, high
9 school, had an unremarkable but happy childhood and ended up
10 going for my college to Stanford University, graduated with a
11 degree in Economics.

1 Q At Stanford, did you become involved in any student
2 activism or causes?

3 A I went to -- went as a volunteer to the Stanford radio
4 station, KZSU; and one of my assignments was to cover the 5 Oakland draft riots in the late sixties. And I went there with 6 a tape recorder trying to interview the police, trying to 7 interview the students. Ended up getting beat up and ended up
8 in the infirmary at Stanford because it was a mess. It was a
9 free for all. That was the end of my radio career.

10 Q After that, you decided to pick another adversarial
11 career and you went to law school; right?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q Tell the jury about that?

14 A When I graduated from Stanford, I applied to a number 15 of law schools. I got into Harvard, and the Dean of the 16 Stanford Law School advised me that I should go somewhere
17 different than Stanford, I should have a different kind of 18 experience.

19 So, I went back east to Harvard Law School, graduated
20 from law school. That was a great experience. It was very 21 different for me having grown up in California. Boston was a
22 great city, and I really enjoyed spending time there and kind of 23 being on my own.

24 Q Did you get involved in any activism at Harvard or had 25 you learned your lesson?

BP

3878

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A I hadn't learned my lesson. There were very few women
2 in my law school class. There were less than ten percent women,
3 and then there were no women bathrooms in Langdell Hall --
4 L-A-N-G-D-E-L-L. Sorry, my sister is a reporter.

5 So I, along with some other women, went to the law
6 school and said you have to change some of the mens rooms into
7 ladies rooms because we were having to run, like, ten minutes
8 all the way back to the dorms in between class to use the 9 restroom. And that was I guess my most important activist
10 experience while at law school.

11 And I don't know if this is being an activist or not,
12 we didn't eat very well at law school. The food in the dorms
13 wasn't very good. So a woman named Julia Child, the famous 14 French chef was on WGBH TV in Boston at the time, which was the 15 educational station and I wrote a letter asking her to come to 16 the law school and give a cooking demonstration.

17 And to my surprise, she did. She said yes, and she 18 came and I didn't expect there to be great attendance because 19 there were so few women in school. In fact, it was a sold out
20 crowd. We had mostly men coming to watch her cook and give her
21 demonstration. That's the end of my activist career.

22 Q So, you were successful at your activism to teach the 23 lawyers to cook for themselves.

24 A That's right.

25 Q What about the ladies bathrooms, did succeed at getting

BP

3879

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Harvard law school to create a bathroom for women?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And after you graduated law school, you went to a law
4 firm; is that right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And what firm?

7 A I went to a firm called Loeb & Loeb in Los Angeles. It
8 was at that time the third largest law firm in LA. My goal when 9 I left law school was to go to a major firm and do big time
10 litigation.

11 Q What kind of work did you end up doing at Loeb & Loeb?

12 A Pretty much everything, everything in commercial
13 litigation. I did securities work. I did banking litigation.
14 I did real estate litigation, bankruptcy litigation. We advised
15 corporate clients in different business areas. I took whatever
16 came to me.

17 I was really enthusiastic learning about every area of 18 the law I could.

19 Q Did you work on any major bankruptcies?

20 A I did. I was one of the lawyers who worked on -- baby
21 lawyer is what I used to call myself because I had a lot of 22 people older and more experienced than me to learn from. But we 23 worked on what was then the Equity Funding Corporation of 24 America bankruptcy which at the time was the largest bankruptcy
25 in the country.

BP

1 Q And how did your career at Loeb & Loeb progress?

2 A I did very well. I was made a partner in the shortest
3 amount of time and was, in fact, the first woman partner in the 4 50-year history of that firm.

5 Q Did they have a bathroom for you or did you have --

6 A Funny you ask, we had women's rooms on the even 7 numbered floors of the high rise and men's rooms on the odd
8 numbered floors.

9 Q A little better than Harvard.

10 A Definitely.

11 Q And after you made partner at Loeb & Loeb, did you
12 change careers at all?

13 A I took a leave of absence from Loeb & Loeb. I had 14 tried five cases in four months and was pretty tired, and I had 15 an offer to teach law school at the University of Santa Clara,
16 which is also in the Bay area, Silicone Valley. So I wanted to 17 do something different, so I accepted that offer and I went and 18 I taught as a visiting assistant professor of law for two years
19 at Santa Clara.

20 Q What law classes did you teach?

21 A I taught evidence. I taught criminal law. I taught
22 the civil side of the law clinic, which was about forty-five law
23 students who were actually practicing in the state court in 24 California representing clients, and I was, like, the advisor.

25 I used to joke it was like having forty-five lawyers

1 under your supervision trying to commit malpractice on a daily
2 basis and my job was to keep them out of trouble.

3 THE COURT: A little pressure on me getting my
4 evidence rulings right.

5 Q Ms. Stroman, how long have you been a member of the
6 NRA?

7 A Since the early eighties. I would say '82 or '83.

8 Q And how long have you been on the board of directors at
9 the NRA?

10 A Since 1992.

11 Q Why did you become a gun owner?

12 A Practicing law in Los Angeles, living alone in my 13 house, I was going through a separation and divorce at the time;
14 and in the middle of the night someone tried to break into my 15 house, woke me up. I was very frightened. I pounded on the 16 inside of the door. I could see through the peephole that there
17 was somebody there and he would not go away.

18 So, I finally called the police and they came and took 19 them fifteen minutes; and it was one of those things that 20 changes your life because I realized that I had to take
21 responsibility for my own safety and I went the next day to a
22 gun store and tried to buy a gun, and that's how I got involved
23 in the shooting sports.

24 Q Let's look at Tab 2 of your binder.

25 MS. ROGERS: These are the NRA's ByLaws, DX1-0754.

BP

1 There are other versions of the Bylaws that are in evidence.

2 I would like to admit this one. Is there any
3 objection.

4 MR. WANG: No objection.

5 THE COURT: Admitted.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0754 was
7 admitted and received into evidence.)

8 Q Look at page 13 of the Bylaws, and I'm referring to the 9 numbered page of the pamphlet, not the evidence -- yeah, the 10 numbered page of the pamphlet, not the exhibit page.

11 A I have it in front of me.

12 Q All right. And we see the Powers and Duties of the 13 board of directors to formulate the policies and governing 14 association and exercise general oversight of the affairs and 15 property.

16 Do you see that?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would you -- does that conform with your understanding
19 of your role and your job on the board?

20 A Absolutely.

21 Q Have you served on other board of directors?

22 A I have.

23 Q For profit and nonprofit?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Let's look now at page 1 of the same Bylaws, and it is

BP

1 page 1 of the pamphlet.

2 Those are the Purposes and Objectives of the NRA.

3 Ms. Froman, in your capacity as a member of the NRA
4 board, do you feel you have a duty to advance these purposes and 5 these objectives?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And do you feel the NRA does that?

8 A Yes, absolutely.

9 Q Can any one member of the board speak for the NRA?

10 A No.

11 Q You all have the right to free speech; right?

12 A Everyone on the board as an individual has a right to 13 free speech, but the NRA operates as a collective body. We make 14 decisions as a group. We debate issues before we make a 15 decision, before we vote on it; and then once we voted and we've 16 established a policy, every board member has a fiduciary duty to 17 carry out that policy and to abide by that policy that has been 18 reached through board discussion and deliberation.

19 Q I heard you use the word "fiduciary duty." You and I
20 are lawyers, but not everyone on the jury -- actually, I think 21 nobody on the jury is.

22 Can you explain in lay terms how you understand your 23 responsibilities as a board member?

24 A It is a responsibility --

1 THE COURT: Overruled. She's a board member. She
2 can give her take on what she thinks her responsibilities
3 are.

4 A My understanding as a board member of the NRA is that I
5 have a fiduciary duty to act in the best of the association, not
6 in my own best interest, not in the best interest of a third
7 party.

8 That I have an obligation to inform myself of the 9 matters that are put before the board for us to decide and 10 discuss. That I can't take advantage of that position for my 11 own personal benefit, and I've tried very hard throughout my 12 time on the board to adhere to those obligations and 13 responsibilities and to that duty.

14 Q Procedurally, how does the board make decisions?

15 A Well, the board is a very large board. We have 76
16 board members. And like a state legislature or even like 17 Congress, we do most of our work through committees. We have 18 over 30 committees, several more boards and trusts that are 19 affiliated with the NRA. And so we ask the committees to dig
20 deep into the subject matter of what they're being asked to look 21 at. It might be a rule change in an NRA competition. It might 22 be an outreach program that we have. It might be a training
23 program that we have. Let's say to train women in marksmanship
24 and the safe handling of firearms, whatever that subject matter
25 is we ask the committee whose responsibility is in that subject

BP

3885

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 matter to take a look at it and dig deep, debate the issues
2 within the committee and then bring any action items that they
3 might have, any motions that they might have to the entire board
4 of directors.

5 The committee chairman would stand up at the board
6 meeting, give a report. Make a motion for any action item, and 7 then the board would have an opportunity to debate that and,
8 ultimately, vote on whether to accept the recommendation of the 9 committee and put it into action.

10 Q You mentioned debate. Can you describe for the jury
11 the tenor and robustness of the debates that happen on the NRA
12 board?

13 A Some things are pretty much everybody agrees to. We 14 have rule committees that make up the rules and amend the rules
15 for different competitions, and those are people who are experts
16 in those competitions and I'm not.

17 So, if that committee makes a recommendation to me,
18 unless on its face it looks like something's wrong, I would 19 certainly object to it.

20 However, most of the other committees deal with issues
21 that many of us are as board members are familiar with and 22 there's many, many different points of views. The NRA board is 23 lucky to have people from different walks of life, from 24 different socioeconomic statuses, people with different
25 experience in their lives who come together; and we all share a

BP

3886

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 common purpose, which is to support the NRA and to support its
2 missions and objectives.

3 But when it comes to whether or not we should engage in 4 a particular activity, we sometimes have debates and we talk
5 about them at the board meetings. Very often those debates are 6 contentious I would say even. I think we strive to be
7 respectful. We like one another. We're all part of the same
8 family in the sense that we agree with the missions and goals of 9 the NRA. Otherwise, we wouldn't be on the board; but when it
10 comes to how to best carry out those missions and goals we 11 sometimes disagree, so we talk it out. And people who have 12 opposing views get a chance to express those and have those 13 views challenged.

14 Q You've been on the board for decades so both before and 15 after the rise of social media; right?

16 A Decades, yes.

17 Q How has -- how, if at all, has social media affected
18 the way that this vigorous contentious debate happens?

19 A When I first joined the NRA board, things were handled
20 and discussed mostly inside the board, at board meetings.

21 Sometimes during the social hour at dinnertime we would be
22 talking still in the restaurant about issues that had come up.

23 But now there's such a plethora of ways for people to 24 talk about these issues, to get information on the issues that 25 we discussed. Social media has changed the way we do business

BP

3887

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 because people want to debate this in social media as opposed to
2 win the confines of a board meeting.

3 Q Is there a set of rules that the board issues to 4 officers to direct the management of the NRA?

5 A Yes. We have -- we have elected volunteer officers and 6 we have elected paid officers, and they have different
7 responsibilities.

8 As a board member, my boss, if you will, is the 9 president of the association, and the president of the 10 association and the vice presidents and the board together then 11 direct the activities, if you will. We have oversight
12 responsibility over the activities of the paid elected officers,
13 including the executive vice president.

14 Q Is there a policy manual comprising the board's
15 director policies?

16 A Yes, a very thick policy manual. It was -- I don't 17 know exactly when it was started, but I know when I first came 18 on the board in 1992 it contained all of the accumulated
19 policies having been passed by the NRA directors, which one had 20 been amended, which one had been superseded by new policies.

21 It was sort of like a history of the policies, motions,
22 resolutions that the NRA had passed as a collective body; and 23 those were available in the office of the secretary and you
24 could look at those anytime you wanted. Quite often, I would 25 either go up to the secretary's office and look at the policy

BP

3888

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 book or I would ask someone in the secretary's office to tell me
2 if we had a particular policy on a matter we were being asked to 3 discuss at a board meeting.

4 Q As a director, do you expect the NRA executives and
5 staff to comply with the rules that the board sets?

6 A Absolutely.

7 Q And as a director, do you have a sense of whether those 8 rules are freely available to be consulted by staff and 9 executives?

10 A They are freely available. And, in fact, a number of 11 these policies have also been made available to employees at all 12 levels. We now have an NRA internal intranet so employees can 13 look up things that might affect their job, their position and 14 rely on those policies.

15 Q Is there training not just for employees, but for board
16 members on compliance and policy?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Can you describe what that's like?

19 A We have -- training is given at least once a year on 20 compliance to board members that I know about. It's been more
21 often when changes are made and how in our compliance policies
22 board members will be advised of those changes in, let's say,
23 the form that we have to report.

24 Employees are also given training. We, as a board, are 25 advised that employees received training, and we can ask

BP

3889

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 questions about that or what the training included.

2 So, it's done on an at least annual basis and sometimes
3 more than once. I know -- I can't remember what year it was,
4 but maybe 2022, 2023. There were two compliance trainings for
5 board members. I missed one of them. I was absent for illness
6 during that meeting and attended the other one.

7 Q Let's turn to page 1 of your binder.

8 MS. ROGERS: This is DX1-0521. Do you have any 9 objection to this document? I think I received none. This 10 is the NRA directory.

11 MR. WANG: No objection.

12 MS. ROGERS: I move to admit it.

13 THE COURT: Anyone? All right, it is admitted.

14 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0521 was
15 admitted and received into evidence.)

16 Q Ms. Froman, do you recognize this document?

17 A Yes. It is the NRA official directory from September
18 of 2022.

19 Q I'd like you to turn to the page that's marked 19 in 20 the pamphlet. It is going to be exhibit page 20.

21 Do you recognize the list of committees?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Can you describe -- and I know you touched on it a
24 little bit, but describe to the jury the role that committees
25 play with the governing of the NRA?

BP

3890

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A As I mentioned, the committees are made up of people
2 who have subject matter of expertise in the different areas.

3 The Black Powder Committee which is committee number
4 four --

5 Q Let's try to talk slower for the court reporter.

6 A I will. Thank you. The people who are appointed to 7 that committee are people who are black powder competitors who
8 are familiar with the rigor of black powder competitions.
9 Sports shooting have a lot of different ways that people
10 participate. You can be a shotgun shooter. You can be a pistol
11 shooter. You can be a long-range rifle shooter shooting at 12 targets like a thousand yards away. This is a precision sport,
13 much like archery, for example.

14 So, the people who are appointed to each of these 15 committees are people who can add value to the discussion of 16 those topics for NRA.

17 I've been on a number of these committees over the 18 years. Some shooting committees, some legislative committees.
19 I'm currently chair of the Legal Affairs Committee, for example.

20 So, I've served on a lot of these different committees
21 over the years and I'm familiar with what most of them do.

22 Q Let's talk about the Grassroots Development Committee.
23 Have you served on that committee?

24 A I served on that committee for a very long time, and I
25 am currently chair of that committee. The purpose of that

3891

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 committee is to deliver information about NRA's programs and 2 activities to the Grassroots. That is to our members in every
3 state, all across the country to let them know what's available
4 to them, what classes, activities, training are available to 5 them as NRA members and beyond.

6 We don't restrict our courses, our marksmanship courses
7 or our gun safety courses or our hunting safety courses to just 8 members. It is anyone who wants to take them. We encourage 9 people, of course, to become members, but they're available to 10 everyone.

11 Q What about the Legislative Policy Committee, were you
12 on that committee?

13 A Yes. I've been on the Legislative Policy Committee for 14 a number of years, and that deals with the legislative affairs
15 of the NRA. Probably what most people think about when they 16 hear NRA if they're not members, is they think about the 17 political part of the NRA, but it's -- the political part is 18 what we're known for. I think it's what we make the papers for, 19 but it's in many ways a relatively small part of what the 20 association does.

21 Our bigger general operations department and all of the 22 programs we have really account for the majority of employees at 23 NRA and for the majority of our budget.

24 Legislative Policy Committee deals with the political 25 and legislative aspects of the NRA.

BP

3892

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Have you served on the Nominating Committee?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And we'll talk in more detail later about the mechanics
4 of NRA elections, but can you tell the jury what the Nominating 5 Committee is?

6 A Every year a nominating committee is elected by the NRA
7 board of directors as a whole, and the job of the Nominating
8 Committee is to consider applicants for nomination as possible
9 directors, for their names to be included on the ballot that is 10 sent out every year to NRA voting members to vote on members of 11 the board of directors. The Nominating Committee also nominates
12 officers for the next term.

13 I've served on the Nominating Committee maybe three or 14 four times in my thirty years on the NRA board, and I chaired a
15 nominating committee about three years ago.

16 Q What's the Committee on Hearings?

17 A The Committee on Hearings hears complaints, often
18 ethical complaints about members, members who are not -- who do
19 things that are contrary to the NRA's purposes and objectives.

20 When a complaint is made, it usually comes in from 21 outside the NRA board, a complaint about a member doing
22 something that's contrary to the interest of the NRA. It has a
23 process that is followed and the Committee on Hearings is often
24 asked to deliberate and make a decision on whether that person
25 who is complained about -- the defendant if you will -- retains

BP

3893

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 their NRA membership.

2 Q Is that process different for different complaints or
3 is every NRA member entitled to file a complaint and have it
4 subjected to the same process?

5 A Every NRA member is entitled to file a complaint and 6 have it subjected to the same process.

7 Q And when a fellow NRA member is the target of an ethics
8 complaint, can you describe the due process that person
9 receives?

10 A I can't describe it in detail. It is prescribed in our 11 Bylaws, and I think due process is a big part of that because we 12 want to make sure that everybody has a fair opportunity to tell
13 their side of the story. There's an appeals process as well.

14 I served on that Hearings committee a very long time ago;
15 and I remember it was a -- it was a confidential matter. I
16 don't remember the name of the person anyway, but it was a
17 matter of them speaking out and saying untrue things about the 18 NRA; and the committee heard it, that person had an opportunity
19 to have their side of the story told. They wrote many letters.
20 They were considered by the Hearings committee and a decision
21 was ultimately reached.

22 Q What about the Public Affairs Committee, have you been
23 on that one?

24 A Yes, recently only. I have not served -- I did not 25 serve on the Public Affairs Committee for a long time; but in

BP

3894

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 the last three years, I've been a member of the Public Affairs
2 Committee. The job of that committee is to represent to the 3 outside world what the NRA is, what programs we provide, the 4 positions that we take, why the association exists.

5 Q You're chair of the Legal Affairs Committee; right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q What does that committee do?

8 A The Legal Affairs Committee has oversight
9 responsibility overall of the legal affairs of the association
10 unless they have been sent to another body or deliberative body
11 that is responsible for handling a particular legal affair.

12 But we meet three times a year at least, sometimes more
13 often and we will hear reports from our General Counsel. We 14 will hear reports from outside counsel. This is all done in 15 executive session and subject to the attorney-client privilege;
16 and if we have questions, we have an opportunity as a committee
17 to ask those questions, to get answers to those questions and 18 make sure that we feel as members of that committee that the 19 legal affairs of the NRA are being properly handled.

20 Q What about the Committee on Elections?

21 A The Committee on Elections oversees the handling of NRA
22 elections; and by that, I mean when the 76 board members who 23 serve on the NRA board are elected and take office. We have a
24 very large board. When you're elected, you serve for a
25 three-year term usually, and the elections including the

BP

3895

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 counting of the ballots by a certified public accounting firm,
2 that's the jurisdiction of the Committee on Elections.

3 We want to make sure those are full and  fair
4 elections. The members vote by mail, so the ballots are 5 collected by mail, counted. They're kept in a safe. It's the 6 job of the Committee on Elections to supervise the election
7 process and make sure that security measures are in place to 8 make sure the election is fair.

9 Q You served on the Committee on Elections?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what years did you serve on that committee?

12 A I don't remember.

13 Q More than one?

14 A I think I only served on that committee once.

15 Q Well, in your years of service on the board and 16 including when you were on the Elections Committee, did you ever
17 observe anything you would characterize as election rigging?

18 A No.

19 Q You mentioned that security procedures are used for 20 elections; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And an accounting firm is involved; right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Can you explain a little more about what that is and 25 what that means and why the NRA does that?

BP

3896

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Well, the ballots, we vote by mail. That's in
2 accordance with our Bylaws; and in order to be a voting member,
3 you need to be a member of the NRA for five continuous years or 4 more or to be a live member or above. And you get a ballot in
5 your magazine. They usually come around February. The election
6 results are usually available a week or two before our annual
7 meeting, which is in the spring, April or May, let's say.

8 So, when the ballots start to come in, they are 9 collected by the accounting firm. They are stored safely. They 10 are counted by that firm. I do remember a little bit of issues
11 about how quickly the accounting firm was actually counting the 12 ballots. We had to announce the results in our upcoming 13 meeting, and we needed to know what the count was.

14 So, the accounting firm then certifies the results of 15 that election, and the NRA secretary announces the results of 16 that election at the annual meeting of members, which is akin to 17 a corporate shareholders meeting.

18 Q Now, there's a 76th director that's elected at the 19 meeting; right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Can you describe that process?

22 A The 76th director is elected at the annual meeting.
23 The annual meeting moves around to different jurisdictions.
24 we might meet one year in Dallas. We might meet one year in 25 Indianapolis. We had a meeting in Tucson, Arizona, where I

BP

3897

Stroman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 live. We had a meeting in Charlotte.

2 Any NRA member who's present at the annual meeting,
3 they don't have to be five-year continuous member or better.
4 They can be any NRA member is entitled to vote for the 76th
5 director, and that person is elected to serve for one year until 6 the next annual meeting when we elect a 76th director again.

7 The important thing about that is the people who are 8 eligible to run for 76th director are those people who ran for 9 the board in the last election, but didn't make the cut off.
10 They didn't get elected to a spot, so they are the four or five 11 or sometimes eight or ten people who did the work to apply for 12 and run for the NRA board of directors, didn't get elected. Now 13 they can -- they're names are on the ballot for the 76th. They 14 don't have to do anything else. They're already on the ballot.

15 Q We heard testimony about board meetings where there's 16 about 76 people in the room, but the 76th director is elected by 17 members at the members meeting; correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Can you compare for the jury the size and scope of the 20 members meeting and who attends that versus the board meeting?

21 A Well, the board meeting we have 76 members of the 22 board, but any NRA member can attend the board meeting and the 23 committee meetings of the board except for executive sessions.

24 So, I, being an enthusiast for NRA, I've always invited
25 NRA members come to the meetings, see what goes on. Remember,

BP

3898

1 come to the committee meetings, come to the board meetings and
2 I've encouraged many NRA members who have been to those meetings
3 with me to run for the board of directors and many have gotten
4 on the board that way.

5 So, a board meeting is relatively small, especially the 6 meetings that we have that aren't -- we have three meetings a
7 year: One is in the winter, usually in January. One is at the 8 annual meeting, which is in the spring or early summer, and one
9 is in the fall, usually September.

10 The January and September meetings are held at a hotel
11 in usually in either DC or we've had them in Dallas, Texas; but 12 the main meeting, the annual meeting of members is always in the 13 spring or early summer and those meetings are very large because 14 we always have what we call the NRA annual meeting.

15 It is like a convention. We have different seminars
16 for our members to attend. We invite them to come. There's 17 usually a show with exhibitors. We have training that actually
18 occurs at that annual meeting. We have a lot of entertainment, 19 a lot of country western singers come and perform at that 20 meeting. There are lots of speakers. There are celebratory
21 events. There are fundraising events for NRA's programs. So we 22 might have, you know, 20 to 40 or 50,000 people at those 23 conventions, depending on what time of year it is and where 24 they're held.

1 Q And all of those people, if they are an NRA member can
2 vote for the 76th Director?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Who chooses who is on each Board committee?

5 A Under our Bylaws, the president chooses the committee
6 members and chooses the Chair and the Vice-Chair of these 7 committees.

8 Q You have been president of the NRA; right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q As president, did that process for committee assignment
11 make sense to you?

12 A Yes. I had worked with -- when I became president in 13 2005, I had worked with a number of people already on the Board
14 who had been on the Board for a long time. I knew them. I knew
15 the work they were capable of. I knew what their talents were,
16 and I wanted to make sure that the committees were staffed to 17 the best of my ability.

18 I wanted people in charge who would help me pick the 19 right members for that committee so the committee could 20 discharge their responsibilities to the Board and to our 21 members.

22 Q Have you ever wanted to be on a committee and not been 23 picked for it?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Did that upset you?

KM

3900

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A No. I -- I indicated we all get a chance as directors
2 to fill out a form indicating which committees we want to serve
3 on, but then it's up to the president to choose those people
4 that he or she wants to have serve on the committee and I know
5 I'm not going to always get what I pick.

6 Q All right. So now let's go back to the nominating 7 committee which you have served on.

8 Does Wayne LaPierre pick the nominating committee?

9 A No. The nominating committee is elected by the NRA
10 Board of Directors.

11 Q But isn't there some incentive to vote the way Wayne
12 wants you to vote?

13 A I don't know of any incentive.

14 I will tell you that when I was -- as a director, my 15 job is to pick the nine people I thought would best serve the 16 NRA on the nominating committee. There are rules. You can only 17 have six Board members on the nominating committee. Three 18 people have to be outsiders, people who aren't on the Board.
19 And most of the time because I have been on the Board so long, I
20 would know the six people who were being proposed.

21 We often had more than nine people nominated for the 22 nominating committee. Then the Board has to vote. So some 23 people have to be excluded.

24 When I didn't know one of the three people who was 25 being proposed for the Non-Board member slots, I would ask

KM

3901

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 questions. I would ask questions of the NRA president. I would
2 ask questions of Wayne LaPierre. I would ask questions of my
3 fellow Board members.

4 For example, if someone gets nominated from the State
5 of Delaware, we have a Delaware director on our Board, gentleman
6 by the name of John Sigler. I would go to John. Delaware's a
7 relatively small state. And I would say John, do you know this
8 person. They claim to be an active NRA member in Delaware.
9 They claim to have done all these things, put on these NRA
10 programs in Delaware. Do you know this person? And I would 11 trust that John would be honest with me and tell me I know this 12 person. He is a great guy or I don't know her. I have never 13 heard of her. She's not even a member of our State Association, 14 and that would kind of raise heckles on the back of my neck, and 15 I would ask more questions of more about why is this person
16 being proposed.

17 So I sought input from as many people as I could until 18 I was satisfied that this was someone that I could support.

19 Q Did anyone ever give you a crib sheet of who to vote
20 for?

21 A I never heard that term.

22 Q Did anyone ever make suggestions as to who we think
23 would be great for the nominating committee?

24 A Yes. I myself made suggestions when I was not on the 25 nominating committee. I would go to the Vice-Chair of the

KM

3902

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 nominating committee, and I would say, I think these people
2 ought to be considered for the Board.

3 Q When you received suggestions of who to vote for, did
4 you always vote consistently with those suggestions?

5 A No.

6 Q Now, when you vote for the nominating committee, do you
7 raise your hand or is it a secret ballot?

8 A It's a secret ballot.

9 Q So if you voted the way Wayne didn't want you to, he 10 would never know.

11 A Correct.

12 Q What would you say to the allegation that some part of 13 the Board is entrenched?

14 A I don't think that's true. I think that we as Board
15 members, we all get elected every three years. You run for 16 Board seat every three years. It's the members who vote for you
17 by mail ballot. So I have been elected every three years since
18 I first came on the Board in 1992.

19 We have a bio -- a little short bio in the magazine
20 next to the ballot. People read your bio. I have had hundreds 21 of phone calls from people who didn't know me personally but 22 called me up to say, I see you're running for the NRA Board, but 23 what do you feel about this issue or that issue, and I would try 24 to answer as many as I could.

25 The members elect the Board. Wayne doesn't elect the

KM

3903

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Board. I don't think Wayne would want to elect the Board. He
2 is busy doing other things and has been busy doing other things.

3 People who think that any one person runs the NRA, it's 4 just not true. It's -- it has not been true in my 30 years of 5 experience.

6 That doesn't mean that we don't ask one another for 7 advice or recommendations for help. It's a matter of judgment
8 how you vote for the Board of Directors, and I have had a lot of 9 people come to me and say I don't like this person. I don't
10 trust this person. I want to hear what they have to say.

11 I will ultimately make my own judgment to the best of 12 my ability, but the more information, the better as far as I'm 13 concerned.

14 Q Even though Wayne LaPierre can't control the nominating 15 committee, would it be fair to say sometimes people have wanted
16 to know his opinion about things?

17 MR. WANG: Objection. Leading.

18 A Of course.

19 I have asked -- when I didn't know someone myself
20 personally and a name was floated and someone might say, well,
21 Wayne thinks that's a good person for the nominating committee I
22 would go to Wayne and say who is this person. I don't know
23 them. Why do you think they would be good?

24 Sometimes he said it wasn't my idea. So people often
25 said it was Wayne's idea when Wayne said no, it wasn't my idea.

1 I think there were a lot of people on the Board from
2 time to time who would purport to speak for Wayne LaPierre and
3 maybe it wasn't really what Wayne LaPierre would have said if 4 you asked him yourself. So I took a lot of that with a grain of 5 salt. I tried to as I said gather information, make my own
6 decision to the best of my ability.

7 Q How long have you known Mr. LaPierre?

8 A Since I joined the Board in 1992.

9 THE COURT: Counsel, when we reach a time between 10 subjects for a break.

11 MS. ROGERS: Now is a good time actually.

12 THE COURT: We will take a short break, let the 13 jury stretch for little bit.

14 Just the common instructions during a break. You
15 are still on the stand, so you shouldn't discuss your 16 testimony with anyone including counsel.

17 THE WITNESS: Certainly, your Honor.

18 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
19 the courtroom.)

20 (Whereupon at this time there was a recess taken.)

21 (Witness resumed the witness stand.)

22 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

1 BY MS. ROGERS:

2 THE COURT: Thank very much. Please have a seat,
3 everyone.

4 All right, Ms. Rogers. You may continue.

5 MS. ROGERS: Thank you.

6 Q Welcome back, Ms. Froman.

7 So you described how the nominating committee is 8 picked.

9 Now, whom does the nominating committee pick?

10 A The nominating committee nominates people to run for 11 the Board of Directors.

12 Q If a nominating committee doesn't pick you to be on 13 that slate, that ballot, are you prevented from getting elected
14 to an officer position?

15 A No. Our Bylaws also provide that you can run by 16 petition. You gather petition signatures to support your 17 nomination, and you submit those petitions to the Office of the 18 Secretary, and if you meet the requirements of gathering enough
19 petition signatures, you are put on the ballot.

20 Q What are the leadership positions that -- the officer
21 positions on the board?

22 A Okay. The unpaid officers are the president, the first
23 vice-president and the second vice-president.

24 Q You described the president before as your boss. But 25 we have also heard testimony that sometimes the presidency is

KM

3906

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 ceremonial.

2 What do you think about that?

3 A The president certainly has a lot of ceremonial
4 functions appearing on behalf of the NRA as president. I
5 remember going to many events when I was president being 6 introduced in that capacity, but the president also has work to 7 do including the work of managing the committees and also work
8 in sometimes reviewing management documents.

9 I remember I had to review a lot of business documents
10 when I was president.

11 Q How did you become president?

12 A I came on the Board in 1992, and in approximately 1996,
13 I was asked if I would be interested in coming in as second
14 vice-president which is the lowest level of volunteer elected
15 office, and I was very humbled and kind of flattered to be 16 asked. And I said yes, I would be willing to do that, and I
17 would be willing to spend the time that was needed to serve in 18 that office. So I said yes.

19 The nominating committee nominated me, and I was 20 elected at that 1992 annual meeting. I'm sorry. The -- the 199
21 -- see I was -- I think it was the 1997 or 8. It was 1998
22 annual meeting of members. So I had to run for it in '97. I
23 was elected in '98. I'm going back a long way now.

24 Q We have been clarifying all the witnesses' time period
25 focus, so if this has varied over time, let me know. And if

KM

3907

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 not, you can just answer. But what is the compensation
2 committee and whose compensation do they determine?

3 A The compensation committee has changed over time. I
4 believe it's the -- currently the three volunteer officers of 5 the NRA which would be the president, the first vice-president
6 and the second vice-president. They determine the compensation
7 of the paid officers of the NRA which are the executive
8 vice-president, the secretary and the treasurer.

9 Q When you were president, how was compensation set?

10 A Compensation of the president -- I'm sorry.
11 Compensation of the executive vice-president who is functionally
12 the CEO of NRA was set by looking at comparison studies of other
13 CEO's of similarly sized non-profit organizations.

14 I asked for -- my time as president, I asked for 15 preparation of outside reports about what CEOs of similarly
16 sized non-profits were making, and as I recall, the compensation
17 of the executive vice-president then and still Wayne LaPierre
18 was set kind of in the middle. There were larger organizations
19 and smaller organizations, but -- and there were ones that paid
20 their CEOs more, and some paid their CEOs less, but ours was 21 pretty much squarely in the middle.

22 Q Before you were president, you were second
23 vice-president of the NRA; right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Who was the president that you came up under?

KM

3908

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A The year I was elected as second vice-president, 1998,
2 Charlton Heston was elected as president of the NRA.

3 Q Who is Charlton Heston?

4 A Charlton Heston was an incredibly well-known movie and 5 television actor from the 1950's, 1960's. He was Moses in the 6 Ten Commandments. He was Ben-Hur in the movie of the same name.
7 My favorite Charlton Heston role is when he was in the 8 Planet of the Apes, but he was extremely well known. He was my 9 mother's favorite actor of that time period, so I saw a lot of 10 Charlton Heston on TV before I met him at NRA, but he came to 11 NRA first as the 76th Director.

12 The process of getting elected for that one-year term,
13 the way I described it, he came in in 1997, became the 76th
14 Director and was elected as first vice-president in 1997 that 15 same year. Then the following year in 1998 he was elected as 16 president.

17 Q Did you develop a view of his performance as president?

18 A Yes. He was extraordinary. He made the NRA a 19 household name. He brought a lot of positive attention to the 20 NRA. He brought a lot of people who knew him as an actor and 21 knew him as the president of the Screen Actors Guild, not an 22 insignificant organization in and of itself.

23 He brought those people in the NRA and let them know
24 that the NRA was more than a political organization, that we had 25 a lot of good programs that we delivered to firearms owners and

KM

3909

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 people who didn't own firearms all over the country.

2 Q Were the NRA's Bylaws changed to allow Mr. Heston to
3 occupy an office for a particular period of time?

4 A Yes. So under our Bylaws, before Mr. Heston was 5 elected president, you could serve as long as you wanted as 6 second vice-president if the Board continued to elect you.

7 You could serve as long as you wanted as first
8 vice-president if you were reelected by the Board, but you could 9 only serve as president for two one-year terms. You had to be 10 elected each year. But after your second year of president, you
11 could no longer serve.

12 I think the Board realized pretty early on in Mr.
13 Heston's presidency he was an extraordinary person and 14 extraordinary value to the NRA and our mission, and the Board
15 amended the Bylaws to allow him to be reelected to succeed
16 himself for what ended up being a total of five years. So he 17 was five years as president of the NRA from 1992 to 2003.

18 Q And why did Mr. Heston leave the Board?

19 A Mr. Heston announced in 2002 that he had Alzheimer's,
20 and it was beginning to affect his ability to do his job as NRA
21 president, and I think if it hadn't been for that, he would have 22 continued to serve and would have continued to be reelected, but 23 that's why he ultimately did not run for any more terms as 24 president.

25 Q Can you describe some of the ways the NRA responded

KM

3910

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 when its prominent public advocate Charlton Heston became ill?

2 A It was tough because we got used to having a face and a
3 name out there that would draw attention to our organization and 4 speak for our organization, and we realized that we would lose
5 Mr. Heston's public appearance abilities, and we had to have our 6 executive vice-president Wayne LaPierre really step up and take 7 center stage. He had always been working. He had always been
8 out there often accompanying Mr. Heston in representing the NRA, 9 but now he was going to have to be that face, that name, and 10 those of us on the Board pushed him to do it and he was willing 11 to do it.

12 Q Did the public advocacy role of some other directors
13 like you change too?

14 A Yes. Now that Mr. Heston was not able to stay and 15 Wayne LaPierre was doing more and more of the work that Mr.
16 Heston had done in the past, many of us, especially former
17 presidents who had been in the Chairs, we knew what the NRA
18 stood for. We were articulate about it. We were asked to do
19 more speaking on behalf of NRA, and I was asked to do more
20 speaking on behalf of NRA.

21 Q We talked about how you became president. But just 22 very quickly, how did you get on the Board in the first place?

23 A I was a NRA member already from the early eighties when
24 I had that bad experience with the attempted break-in home
25 invasion. And I was speaking at a rally in Phoenix in 1991 and

KM

3911

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 was approached by a man by the name of Bob Corbin who was then
2 the Attorney General of the State of Arizona where I lived at 3 the time and he had been in office I think for 10 or 11 years.
4 He was a very long-standing Attorney General, and he asked me
5 after he heard me speak -- he said, have you ever thought of 6 running for the NRA Board of Directors. And I said no. And he
7 said, I think you should, and I would support you. And I was 8 also approached by a gun rights activist who also lived in 9 Arizona at the time, a man by the name of Neal Knox. I knew him
10 from his writing in a newspaper that he published, and he asked
11 me if I would run for the NRA Board of Directors, and I said
12 yes, I will, and he supported me also.

13 So I had these two pretty powerful activists urging me
14 to run for the Board. I talked to my husband at the time and he
15 said I think you should do it. And so I did. I filled out a
16 very lengthy questionnaire that's required for new Board members
17 and submitted that to the Office of the Secretary and the 18 nominating committee nominated me.

19 Mr. Knox also circulated petitions on my behalf to 20 enable me to run as a petition candidate in case the nominating 21 committee chose not to nominate me. And so I ran both as a
22 petition candidate and a nominating committee for the Board, and 23 I was elected to the Board that year in 1992.

24 Q You testified earlier that Board members sometimes
25 vigorously disagree with each other; right?

KM

3912

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Yes.

2 Q Did there come a time when Neal Knox who helped you get
3 on the Board was involved in one of those vigorous
4 disagreements?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Can you describe that?

7 A Well, Neal was working his way up through the Chairs of 8 the NRA, and I'm talking about the volunteer positions now to 9 become president of the NRA, but it all became apparent over the 10 years from 1992 until 1997 when I was just a Board member that 11 he wanted to become executive vice-president of the NRA and to 12 receive a salary for that, and he was complaining I guess is the 13 best way to say it or telling people that the NRA was in 14 trouble, that Wayne LaPierre was mismanaging the finances, that 15 the NRA was about to go bankrupt and that we should all vote for 16 him as president and eventually he would get rid of Wayne
17 LaPierre.

18 I was fairly new on the Board even though I had been 19 there for several years. When you have that many people on a 20 Board of Directors, it's hard to get to know everybody. It's 21 just a lot of people to meet and to get to know them especially 22 when you only meet three times a year.

23 So I went to Neal Knox who I considered a friend, and I
24 said why are you saying this. Show me the paperwork that says
25 we are about to go bankrupt, we are in trouble financially, that

3913

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Wayne's mismanaging the assets. And the response I got from 2 Neal at that time was, just do what you're told. Just vote for
3 me. You don't need to know anything else.

4 So I did the same thing with Mr. LaPierre. I went to 5 him, and I said this is what Mr. Knox is saying. Tell me why he
6 is wrong. Explain to me why we are fine financially and that I
7 should continue to support the people whom were in office at the 8 time.

9 He said, I think you should go see the financial office
10 at NRA, and he told them in my presence, show her anything she 11 wants to see. Explain to her what these documents are. The 12 drawers are open. You can look at anything you want. And I
13 didn't understand perhaps every single document I looked at 14 because I'm not an accountant, but what I did understand was Mr.
15 LaPierre was not afraid for me to look at anything and Mr. Knox
16 was not giving me any access to the information that he was 17 using to make his argument, and that's how I made my decision to 18 support Mr. LaPierre and not Mr. Knox.

19 Q Now you testified that Mr. Knox disagreed with how Mr.
20 LaPierre was managing the Association's financial assets; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Have you formed a view on whether if Mr. Knox had won,
23 the NRA would be financially better off?

24 A I think --

25 MR. WANG: Objection. Calls for speculation.

KM

3914

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 THE COURT: I am asking for her judgment as a Board
2 member.

3 THE COURT: Sustained.

4 Q Ms. Froman, what fight -- what did Mr. Knox disagree
5 about?

6 A Mr. Knox felt that we had to liquidate our assets
7 including our entire stock portfolio and that's what he was 8 urging. He was urging me to vote for him and put him in charge
9 so he could do that. This was in 1997.

10 Q And with the benefit of hindsight as a fiduciary of the 11 NRA, do you have a view on whether the NRA would have benefitted
12 from liquidating all its stock in 1997?

13 A It would have been a disaster.

14 MR. WANG: Objection. Same basis.

15 THE COURT: Overruled.

16 A It would be a disaster. Look at what's happened with 17 the stock since 1997.

18 Q Your term as president ended in spring of 2007;
19 correct?

20 A My term as president ended in 2007, yes.

21 Q And you mentioned that your role as an advocate
22 publically for the NRA increased after Mr. Heston got sick;
23 right?

24 A Yes, and -- but when I -- when I was an officer, I was 25 out there speaking on behalf of the NRA as an officer.

KM

3915

1 Q So after you left the presidency, you continued
2 speaking publically; right?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Who asked you to do this?

5 A Wayne LaPierre. The head of our fundraising department
6 asked me. Various members of the Board of Directors asked me.
7 NRA members out in the country who had met me at various
8 functions would ask me to come back and speak to their Clubs,
9 their Associations. I loved speaking. I was very enthusiastic
10 about it, and people wanted me to continue, but I wasn't sure
11 that was something I was supposed to be doing now that I was no
12 longer president.

13 Q Can you describe the work that you did in that role?

14 A Wow. I probably in the period of time from 2008 to 15 about 2018, I spoke to at least 50 law schools around the 16 country to the law students who would become lawyers, judges,
17 justices and probably an equal number of service groups like 18 Rotary or the Kiwanis. I spoke to political clubs. I spoke to 19 groups of lawyers -- practicing lawyers for their legal 20 continuing legal education requirements, professional
21 requirements.

22 I spoke at and actually helped a gentleman who was 23 putting together a 14-week course on guns in America for older
24 learners that was sponsored by the University of Arizona. He 25 was not a friend of guns, but he was somebody who wanted to

KM

3916

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 present both sides of the issue. And so he asked me if I would
2 come talk at his -- at one of his classes. And then after I
3 did, he had me serve on a panel. And then he asked for my help
4 on finding people to speak both for and against some of the 5 issues, like individual rights to own a gun, like concealed
6 carry, things that like that were kind of hot topics at the time
7 on gun ownership.

8 Q About how many times per year did you speak?

9 A At least a dozen times a year. Maybe more.

10 Q Were you paid for giving these speeches?

11 A No.

12 Q But you did receive some money; right?

13 A I did, yes.

14 Q Describe that arrangement.

15 A Well, when I was asked by Wayne LaPierre and the head
16 of the advancement office if I would continue to speak about NRA
17 and about the Second Amendment and the importance of the Second
18 Amendment to our Constitution and our freedom in our country, I
19 said, well, I'm happy to volunteer. I don't want to charge my 20 hourly rate that I was charging my clients for my work, but I
21 needed some support to cover the overhead of my law office
22 because I couldn't be gone to be doing this and not be able to 23 keep my law office open because that's how I made my living. I
24 was practicing. I had a solo practice at the time, and it
25 was -- it was something that I needed in order to be able to do

KM

3917

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 what NRA wanted me to do. So I sat down with someone in the 2 treasurer's office, and I said this is what I think it will cost
3 to be able to support my speaking engagements, and they said
4 that's fine. Send us an invoice, and I did.

5 Q And this was probably sometime before 2015; right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Was it closer to 2008 than 2015?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Was there ever a written contract for the NRA's
10 supporting your speaking work?

11 A No.

12 Q Could that kind of arrangement be made today to the
13 NRA?

14 A No because now we have a requirement that every 15 payment -- every arrangement like that has to be supported by a
16 written contract approved in accordance with the new controls,
17 procedures and purchasing policies.

18 Q How do you know that the NRA has new controls
19 preventing non-verbal contracts or -- I'm sorry -- unwritten
20 contracts like yours?

21 A Because the Board has been informed at Board meetings
22 that these new processes and procedures were being put in place
23 over a period of several years, and we were updated periodically
24 at Board meetings that we were changing the rules.

25 We were -- we were updating, strengthening the rules so

KM

3918

Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 that we would not be in a position that frankly got us here
2 today.

3 Q Did you report the speaking fees you received on your
4 financial disclosure questionnaires to the NRA?

5 A Not at first because I understood them to be 6 reimbursement of expenses, but they were reported on the 990s.

7 Q Did anyone at the NRA monitor your speaking activity to 8 make sure you were doing what you were being paid for?

9 A I don't know if they monitored, but I was constantly
10 reporting to them this is where I went to speak, this is how big 11 the audience was, this was the subject that I talked about.

12 I wanted feedback from the NRA as to whether I was 13 doing what they thought would be most valuable to the 14 Association, so I probably talked more than I should have trying 15 to let people know what I was doing, and I was saying -- I would 16 remember saying very often to Wayne LaPierre, if you think I'm 17 not doing what you want me to be doing for the NRA, let me know
18 and we will change it.

19 Q You stopped giving these speeches around 2018; right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Why?

22 A I was sort of powering down my speaking engagements. I
23 was getting ready to retire from my law practice which I did
24 retire at the end of December 2019, and there were other people
25 out there speaking, and I just figured it was time to move on to

KM

1 other things.

2 Q What was the atmosphere at the NRA like in 2017?

3 A It was tumultuous. We were starting to learn of 4 threats to the existence of the National Rifle Association.

5 When I say "we," we as a Board of Directors. There was 6 a lot of discussion about that, and we were starting to look at 7 what we needed to do to protect the Association.

1 Q And in 2021, the NRA filed for bankruptcy; right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q As a bankruptcy lawyer, what kind of considerations did
4 you evaluate when you decided to ratify that filing?

5 MR. WANG: Objection, your Honor. Calling for her
6 to make expert legal opinion on a bankruptcy.

7 THE COURT: No, she's asking about her reaction as 8 a board member.

9 MS. ROGERS: Yeah, I'll rephrase it.

10 Q So, you had been a lawyer working on sophisticated
11 bankruptcies at a big law firm; right?

12 A I worked on a lot of things, including bankruptcies,
13 very high level bankruptcies.

14 Q Did that inform your judgment as a board member?

15 A Of course.

16 Q In spring of 2021, you voted to ratify the NRA
17 bankruptcy filing; right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Why?

20 A Because I thought it was the right thing to do. I,
21 frankly, was not entirely pleased with how it came about, but I
22 was not part of that decision. I was, in fact, not in the room
23 when the contract with Mr. LaPierre was ratified. I had recuse
24 myself for other reasons.

25 But once the bankruptcy was filed and it was something

BP

3921

S. Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 that I thought could help protect the association, I voted to
2 ratify it.

3 Q You were friends with Ollie North; right?

4 A Professional colleagues, let's say. I mean, when
5 people say friends with, I think, you know, did they invite me
6 home to dinner with their family. No, I never got invited home
7 to dinner with Mr. North.

8 Q Did you know he raised concerns he thought outside
9 counsel fees were too high?

10 A He did with me yes.

11 Q Did you examine that issue?

12 A I did.

13 Q What did you conclude?

14 A Mr. North said to me -- I was in the building one day,
15 in the building at NRA Headquarters in Fairfax, Virginia, and 16 for a meeting having to do with something else. My plane wasn't 17 until the next day.

18 So, I had time walking around the building, seeing who
19 was in their office that I could say hello to. And I happened
20 to find Mr. North and he called me in and he was complaining
21 about the Brewer firm's fees being too high. I said, "What do
22 you mean too high?" He said, "Well, they're just too high."
23 So I said, "Well, do you think they're billing for work that 24 they're not doing?" And he said, "Well, no, I don't know that."
25 I said, "Well, litigation is very expensive." I had an

BP

3922

S. Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 experience as a litigation attorney and it's very expensive, and
2 he wasn't giving me any measurable way to evaluate his statement
3 that they were too high.

4 And, he kept repeating the same sentence which kind of 5 caused me to believe that somebody told him to say it. He was 6 repeating a part of a script, if you will, and I kept
7 questioning him about it. And I said, "Well, are you reviewing 8 the fees?" And he said, "No. I said, "Well, who is reviewing 9 the fees?" He said, "John Frazer," the corporate secretary at 10 the time. I said, "Well, do you have a problem with his 11 review?" He says, "well, I don't know. They're just too high."

12 He just kept saying that over and over again. So I did
13 follow that conversation up with investigating who was reviewing 14 the fees, the fact that the fees were being reviewed by the 15 appropriate people at NRA was what I was concerned about.

16 Q You've reviewed the legal filings including this one
17 that have come out; right? Did you look at the attorney 18 general's complaint?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you've read some of the bankruptcy testimony;
21 right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you still voted for Wayne LaPierre the last year he 24 ran before his resignation; right?

25 A Yes.

BP

3923

S. Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Why?

2 A Because I thought he was in a position to help see us
3 through this incredibly difficult time. He was the one who had
4 started the course correction that had led us to make changes
5 that were important to the future of the NRA.

6 He gave all of our employees, especially our Financial
7 Services Department full access to every piece of information
8 that they needed to make sure we strengthened our policies,
9 strengthened our control processes and he did that knowing that 10 he was probably going to be one of the people who would be found
11 out to engaged in misconduct, financial misconduct that was not 12 in the best interest of the NRA.

13 I thought that was -- brave may not be the right word,
14 but he knew that he was going to be one of the people who was 15 going to be told, You shouldn't be doing this and you're going
16 to have to pay this back which, in fact, did occur. But he, I
17 remember saying to me, he said "I don't care if I lose every 18 friend I have ever had, we will get to the bottom of this and we 19 will fix it and we will save the NRA."

20 And even though we went through a lot of issues from 21 2016 to the bankruptcy filing, I felt then and up until the time
22 he resigned or retired in January, I felt he was the person who 23 could help us steer the ship through the rough waters until we 24 came to the destination which we needed to arrive at.

25 MS. ROGERS: Thank you. Pass the witness.

1 THE COURT: Any other direct testimony?

2 MR. CORRELL: No, your Honor.

3 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

4 MR. FLEMING: Very brief.

5 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. FLEMING:

7 Q Hi, Ms. Froman?

8 A Hello.

9 Q I'm William Fleming. I represent Mr. Frazer. Just a
10 very quick question.

11 Have you had occasion to interact with Mr. Frazer
12 during your time and his time at the NRA?

13 A Overwhelmingly yes, a lot.

14 Q In what capacities does that happen?

15 A He -- John Frazer was -- worked for the Institute for 16 Legislative Action at NRA, which is the political arm of NRA
17 when I first came to the board so I dealt with him there.

18 And then when he became -- he went to law school while
19 he was also working for the NRA; and I don't know at what point
20 he actually became our General Counsel and the corporate
21 secretary, but I dealt with him in both those capacities, both
22 as the secretary who deals with the NRA board of directors.
23 He's responsible for the preparation of all the minutes and 24 other documents, notices of meetings. As a committee chair I
25 would have to ask him to notice meetings that I wanted my

BP

3925

S. Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 committee to hold.

2 And as the General Counsel of the NRA, it was my
3 responsibility as chairman of the Legal Affairs Committee to 4 obtain reports from him several times a year on what the legal 5 matters were that the NRA was handling through the office of 6 General Counsel.

7 Q And he would brief the Legal Affairs Committee?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And did you find his briefings helpful and informative?

10 A Helpful, informative and very thorough.

11 Q Did you have any kind of exposure to his work on
12 related-party transactions?

13 A Yes. I would ask him questions. If I had questions
14 about myself, should I be reporting something or not reporting
15 something, and he would answer.

16 And I remember him coming up to me and telling me, "You 17 need to be reporting this," so I started reporting it. He took 18 the initiative on that one.

19 Q And did you experience an expansion of the financial 20 disclosure questionnaire during Mr. Frazer's time in office?

21 A Yes, it changed.

22 Q So, from your observations, do you have any views on 23 Mr. Frazer's integrity?

24 A I felt then when he first came into that role and I
25 feel now that he has the highest integrity.

BP

3926

S. Froman - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q One last question for you. Do you have any view based
2 on your observations of his professional competence?

3 A Not as much because I didn't actually work with him on 4 the underlying matters that were being handled by the office of 5 General Counsel; but I do know that when I went to him with a
6 specific question about a specific matter, he would answer me
7 and he would say, Well, we've hired local counsel for that or 8 we've done something else for this.

9 So, I felt like he knew his limitations based on his
10 experience. I mean, I'm a lot older than him and I had a lot
11 more opportunities for experience, but I felt he was -- he had a 12 good handle on what he was capable of and that he would ask for 13 help from others if he felt he needed it.

14 Q Was he attentive to the NRA's issues?

15 A Yes, very attentive.

16 Q Did he act in the NRA's best interest in your view?

17 A In my opinion, yes.

18 MR. FLEMING: Thanks so much.

19 THE COURT: Okay, cross examination, Mr. Wang.

20 MR. WANG: Good afternoon. May I proceed your
21 Honor?

22 THE COURT: Yes, please.

2 BY MR. WANG:

3 Q Good afternoon, Ms. Froman.

4 A Good afternoon. And your name?

5 Q My name is William Wang, I'm an Assistant Attorney
6 General with the Attorney General's office.

7 How are you?

8 A Thank you, Mr. Wang.

9 Q You are a past president of the NRA; correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you're familiar with Ms. Marion Hammer; right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q She was also a past president of the NRA; correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And Ms. Hammer receives money from the NRA as a
16 consultant or lobbyist; correct?

17 A She has in the past. I don't know if she still does
18 now.

19 Q Mr. Keene is a past president of the NRA as well;
20 correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And Mr. Keene has received money from the NRA in the 23 past as well; correct?

24 MS. ROGERS: Objection, outside the scope.

25 THE COURT: Sustained.

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Wang

1 MR. WANG: Ms. Froman testified about her speaking
2 engagements.

3 THE COURT: Her own.

4 MR. WANG: These payments go to show the bias
5 within the testimony of the witness along with the fact that
6 other individuals on the board were paid for speaking
7 engagements, as well.

8 THE COURT: That may be true, but it is still not 9 within the scope of the direct.

10 MR. WANG: I'll move on, your Honor.

11 Q Ms. Froman, you received approximately $45,000 a year
12 from the NRA from 2008 to 2018; correct?

13 A I'm not sure about 2018. It might have been a little 14 less than that, but the answer is yes as to the other years
15 you've mentioned.

16 Q And that amount was paid by a flat fee; correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q But you thought that that amount was paid for the 19 reimbursement of expenses; correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q But that would mean that you would have incurred the 22 exact same amount of expenses every month for ten years if these 23 fees were actually for expenses; correct?

24 A I wouldn't agree with that. I think that's an 25 incorrect statement.

BP

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Wang

1 Q You were paid a flat amount, correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And you created invoices; correct?

4 A My office did.

5 Q And those invoices weren't reimbursements of expenses;
6 correct?

7 A In my mind, yes, they were.

8 Q Were these invoices including airfare, hotel and 9 meals?

10 A No.

11 Q And these payments that you received, you never 12 disclosed them on a financial disclosure form until 2019;
13 correct?

14 A I don't remember the year that I first started
15 disclosing them; but that was the time when Mr. Frazer said to 16 me "You need to start disclosing these."

17 They were disclosed in the 990. They were available
18 to all board members who reviewed the 990s from the time I
19 started receiving them and, indeed, available to members of the 20 public.

21 Q Ms. Froman, I'm just asking you a yes or no question.
22 You didn't disclose these payments until 2019 on a
23 financial disclosure form; correct?

24 A I don't know. If you ask me that question that I
25 didn't disclose them through 2017, I would say yes. I'm not

BP

3930

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Wang

1 sure about '18 and '19. If you want to show them to me, that
2 would be an easy way to find out.

3 Q There was no written contract for these payments;
4 right?

5 A Correct.

6 Q You said you know who Marian Hammer is; correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you've spoken with her about board elections,
9 correct?

10 A Many times.

11 Q I'm going to show you a document that has been marked
12 PX 1256 for identification.

13 MR. WANG: May I provide a document to the witness,
14 your Honor?

21 personal," this was how the document was produced to us and we
22 have -- we're redacting any personally identifying information.

23 A Okay, thank you.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit PX 1256 was

8 Q You replied to this e-mail and complimented Ms. Hammer
9 on her message entitled "The Enemy Within," correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And this is a long message from Ms. Hammer; but at the 12 end of the message starting at the bottom of page 3 and going on 13 to page 4, Ms. Hammer provides her opinions on which directors
14 she will be voting for; correct?

15 A That's right. It is an endorsement of that slate.

16 Q And she's encouraging other people to vote for those 17 same directors; correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q You testified that you served on the Nominating 20 Committee; correct?

21 A I served on the Nominating Committee on several 22 occasions.

23 Q And you've also testified that in fact you chaired the

2 A No, but it says Millie Hallow. I have no reason not to 5 during your time on the NRA board; correct?

6 A I texted with Ms. Hallow many, many times during my

9 A Yes, and about her family.

10 MR. WANG: I move to admit PX 6009.

6 correct?

7 A Apparently, yes.

8 Q What did you mean when you said "cheat sheet?"

9 A A list of suggested names for election to the 10 Nominating Committee.

11 Q But you didn't use the language "suggestions" here;
12 correct?

13 A You're right. I used the words "cheat sheet."

1 CROSS-EXAMINATION

2 BY MS. COUTU:

3 Q Good afternoon, Ms. Froman. My name is Lisa Coutu, and 4 I represent Woody Phillips in this action. Just a couple of 5 questions.

6 Earlier when you were testifying with Ms. Rogers, you
7 mentioned there were some questions regarding the NRA's finances
8 raised in the mid 1990s.

9 Do you recall that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And those questions were raised by Mr. Knox?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And in order to answer those questions, you went to 14 the finance office of the NRA to get access information; right?

15 A I don't know that I actually physically went to the 16 finance office, but I certainly went to employees in the finance
17 office.

18 Q To employees in the finance office, and did those 19 employees from the finance office provide you access to records?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And were you able to then review those records?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And were there any records that you asked for from 24 those finance employees that you weren't provided?

25 A No.

BP

3939

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Coutu

1 Q Were you able to ask them questions regarding your --
2 the questions raise about the NRA finances?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Did they answer them?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And based upon what you reviewed and their answers that 7 they provided, you felt comfortable with the NRA's finances in 8 the mid 1990s; right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And in the mid 1990s, Mr. Phillips was the CFO and 11 treasurer at the time; correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And the treasurer gets elected by the board of 14 directors every single year; right?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And from 1992 until currently, you've been on the board
17 of directors; right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q So, from 1992 until Mr. Phillips retired in 2018, you
20 elected through the board Mr. Phillips as treasurer of the NRA;
21 right?

22 A That's right.

23 Q And, also, I believe you had mentioned that there was 24 a stock portfolio that increased and was really beneficial for 25 the NRA as well; right?

BP

3940

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Coutu

1 A Yes.

2 Q And Mr. Phillips, as the CFO and treasurer, was in
3 charge of that stock portfolio; right?

4 A I believe so.

5 Q Now, switching topics just very briefly. You also
6 mentioned that you had an arrangement with the NRA where you
7 would do speaking engagements.

8 Do you recall that testimony?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And I know that there was not a written contract, but 11 I think you also testified that you were constantly updating and 12 reporting to the board regarding what was happening with your 13 speaking engagements; right?

14 A I was reporting to NRA management what I was doing.

15 Q And then I think you also said that the money that you
16 were paid as a result of those speaking engagements showed up on 17 the Form 990s; right?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And that those Form 990s were available to the board of 20 directors?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Now, was your flat fee available to Mr. Cotton to see
23 when he reviewed the 990s?

24 A I believe so.

25 Q Now, even if there wasn't a written contract, do you

BP

3941

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Coutu

1 believe those speaking engagements benefitted the NRA?

2 A Yes.

3 Q How?

4 A I was speaking about the NRA's mission and objectives.
5 I was speaking about the constitution of the United States,
6 especially with respect to the 2nd Amendment. I was talking
7 about training law enforcement members of the military and 8 citizens of good character in the safe and responsible use of 9 firearms.

10 I was talking to people about the many programs that 11 the NRA had, including the competitions programs. I mean, it
12 covered the gamut. I was speaking to women groups about the 13 importance of women being able to, if they wanted to choose to 14 own a gun to choose to own a gun.

15 And all of these things were things that I felt were my 16 duty as director of the association to do outreach about; and if 17 the NRA was willing to help support -- pay my expenses to help
18 support that speaking and the NRA wanted me to continue to do
19 it, I was enthusiastic about doing it. I loved doing it.

20 Q And do you think your speaking engagements led to 21 additional members joining the NRA?

22 A I know they did. I signed some of them up myself.

23 Q Fantastic. And do you think that those speaking
24 engagements also increased possible donations to the NRA?

25 A I believe they did, yes.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Correll.

3 CROSS-EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. CORRELL:

5 Q Ms. Froman, I'm Kent Correll. I represent Mr. Wayne
6 LaPierre. Nice to see you.

7 A Yes, hello.

8 Q In your mind is there a difference between a mistake
9 and misconduct?

10 A Yes, of course.

11 Q And if someone makes an innocent mistake, an honest
12 mistake do you view that as misconduct?

13 A No, not necessarily.

14 Q And mistakes can happen inadvertently; correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And mistakes can happen because you've been provided
17 with information that is either incomplete or inaccurate;
18 correct?

19 A Yes.

20 MR. WANG: Objection to the leading.

21 THE COURT: I think this is --

22 MR. CORRELL: It's cross.

23 THE COURT: Overruled.

24 Q For example, if you buy a car off a lease and you pay
25 the amount that you're asked to pay and you're unaware that the

BP

3943

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Correll

1 market has gone crazy for used cars, would that fall within the
2 category of misconduct for you or mistake?

3 A If you're unaware, that might be a mistake.

4 Q If you're unaware that there's a $25 limit on gifts you
5 can give to employees and you submit an expense report with a
6 $50 gift on it, unaware that there's a rule, is that misconduct
7 or a mistake?

8 A I think that would depend on what your obligations were 9 to inform yourself of the rules and whether or not you acted
10 diligently in informing yourself of what the rule was.

11 Q And if this is a rule that was generally unknown to 12 people within an organization, would that inform your decision
13 on that?

14 A Of course.

15 Q And if the organization has General Counsel, but 16 General Counsel hasn't informed you that there's such a rule;
17 then would that fall into the category of a mistake or
18 misconduct?

19 A Again, it would depend upon whether I have an 20 independent obligation to learn the rules myself separate and 21 apart from what General Counsel might tell me. It's hard to 22 answer the question in the abstract.

23 Q If -- if you're unaware that there's a rule that if you
24 are provided with wardrobe and you retain the wardrobe, that 25 wardrobe should be treated -- you should have to pay for that

BP

3944

S. Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Correll

1 wardrobe if your employer has paid for that; if you're unaware
2 of that rule, does that fall within the box of misconduct or 3 mistake?

4 MR. WANG: Objection to the hypothetical.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 MR. CORRELL: I'll ask it a different way.

7 Q If there's a rule that if you're employer pays for 8 wardrobe for you, you should reimburse the employer for that;
9 but you're not informed that your employer has paid for 10 wardrobe, does that fall within the category of mistake or 11 misconduct?

12 MR. WANG: Same objection.

13 THE COURT: Sustained, sustained. She's a fact
14 witness.

15 MR. CORRELL: I understand. I'll ask a fact
16 question.

17 Q As you sit here today, are you aware of the NRA having 18 paid for any wardrobe for Mr. LaPierre?

19 A I am not aware that NRA paid for any wardrobe for
20 Mr. LaPierre.

21 Q And are you aware of whether Mr. LaPierre has paid the 22 NRA for any wardrobe?

23 A I -- I am aware that Mr. LaPierre has paid a lot of 24 money to the NRA to compensate the NRA for expenses paid for by 25 the NRA that Mr. LaPierre had the benefit of.

BP

1 Q And are you aware that Mr. LaPierre went all the way
2 back to the year 2000 looking for any indication of wardrobe
3 that he received that the NRA might have been paid for and wrote
4 a check for to cover that?

5 A I'm not aware of the specific dates. I am aware that 6 a significant sum of money was repaid by Mr. LaPierre for 7 expenses that the NRA has since deemed should have been personal
8 expenses of him and not paid for by the association.

Froman - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Correll

1 Q And that's gone back all the way to the year 2000 for
2 that?

3 A I don't know how far back it went.

4 Q You eluded to a conversation you had with Mr. LaPierre
5 where he said I don't care if -- in words or substance, I don't
6 care if I lose every friend I've ever made, we are going to go
7 down the principle path and look under every rock and find 8 anything that needs to be fixing, and we are going to fix it, in 9 words or substance; right?

10 MR. WANG: Object to the mischaracterization of the 11 testimony.

12 Q Would you please tell me in your own words --

13 THE COURT: Objection is overruled.

14 Q You testified earlier about a conversation you had with 15 Mr. LaPierre; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Could you remind me of what, you know, the substance of 18 that conversation was in terms of what he said about his 19 commitment or his losing friends if he had to?

20 A When the NRA Board of Directors and the Audit Committee
21 was actively looking into allegations of mismanagement of NRA's
22 financial affairs and allegations that our vendors had stolen
23 from us, I remember Mr. LaPierre saying to me in a one on one
24 conversation, if I lose every friend I've ever had, I will do
25 what is right for the NRA and we will get to the bottom of this.

1 And he has done that.

2 MR. CORRELL: Thank you very much, Ms. Froman. I
3 appreciate it.

4 THE COURT: Thank you. Can we release Ms. Froman?
5 Any more questions?

6 MS. ROGERS: No redirect. She is free to go.

7 THE COURT: Thank you very much. You're free to go.

8 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: All right, folks. We are done for the 10 day. I will next see you on Tuesday. Monday is a court
11 holiday. So thank you very much for your attention. Please
12 remember your instructions, and I will see you bright and 13 early on Tuesday.

14 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

15 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
16 the courtroom.)

17 THE COURT: All right. The hours's late. I
18 just -- something to think about. I still believe that it
19 would be extremely helpful to have closing arguments
20 together on the last day without impinging on the days for 21 testimony which I have made pretty clear throughout. A
22 rough and ready way that I have looked at to do that would 23 be 45 minutes for each of the defendants and 60 for the 24 Government. That adds up to four hours. I am open to 25 looking at ways to squeeze a few more minutes out of the day

2 closer to five. But aside from that, I don't have a lot of
3 flexibility. So I would ask you to -- it's not what anybody
4 asked for or wanted in terms of their hours, but that's my
5 going in budgeting of it, and I would ask you to think about 6 it and start thinking about whether you can hone your
7 presentations down to that level. I will talk to you
8 tomorrow.

9 Yes, I will talk to you tomorrow.

10 MR. CORRELL: Could we get a time check, please?
11 Would you ask for a time check just to see --

12 THE COURT: Well, why don't we -- I rather have it
13 be up to date. So why don't we do a report on the time
14 check at 3:00 tomorrow when we meet to talk about jury
15 instructions.

16 MR. CORRELL: Perfect.

17 THE COURT: That will be in Room 208.

Proceedings

3950

1 THE COURT: All right, good afternoon everyone. A
2 couple things to accomplish today.

3 First, based on your letters, I have my ruling on
4 the statute of limitations issues; and then I have -- and I
5 appreciate the rapid efforts to provide comments on the jury
6 instructions. I don't propose to go page by page through
7 every line effort, but I would like to go to the more
8 substantive ones and to just hear what folks have to say
9 about sort of the thematic issues and I -- I don't think
10 there are sort of fundamental structural issues with the 11 instructions, although that may just be politeness on all of 12 your parts. But, hopefully, it's a relatively narrow
13 disagreements on certain things.

14 But, let me just talk briefly about the statute of 15 limitations, and I do appreciate the letters have been very 16 thoughtful and very good. And it is interesting that a case
17 this old has really not had -- we've had motions about 18 almost everything; but no motions even flagging, to my mind, 19 anyway, that there was a debate about the statute of 20 limitations.

21 So, I haven't really started thinking about it too
22 much until the letters started coming in. But, think about 23 it, I have. So, thank you for that.

24 So, let me go through where I am:

25 I start with the CPLR 214, which governs, among

BP

Proceedings

3951

1 other things, the statute of limitations for actions to
2 recover upon a liability, penalty or forfeiture created or 3 imposed by a statute except as provided in Sections 213 and 4 215. I don't think the exceptions for the most part apply.

5 "A provision does not automatically apply to all
6 causes of action in which a statutory remedy is sought, but 7 only where liability would not exist but for the statute."

8 It is a quote from the Aetna Life case from the 9 Court of Appeals, 67 N.Y.2d 169 (1986).

10 That section, CPLR 214(2), does not apply to 11 liabilities existing at common-law which have been 12 recognized or implemented by statute.

13 "When this is the case, the statute of limitations
14 for the statutory claim is that for the common-law cause of 15 action, which the statute codified or implemented."

16 That's a quote from The People versus Credit Suisse
17 case, 31 N.Y.2d 622 (2018).

18 In making this determination, courts look at the 19 liabilities imposed by the claims, themselves, not simply 20 the statutory authority allowing the attorney general to 21 bring suit.

22 The Court of Appeals in the Cortelle case,
23 C-O-R-T-E-L-L-E, 38 N.Y.2d 83 (1975), the court held that
24 the three-year statute of limitations period did not apply
25 to certain claims brought under the BCL, Business

BP

Proceedings

3952

1 Corporation Law, and the Executive Law because those
2 statutes, quote, did not make unlawful the alleged
3 fraudulent practices, but only provided standing in the 4 attorney general to seek redress and additional remedies for 5 recognized wrongs, which preexisted statutes. Statutory
6 provisions which apply only additional remedies or standing
7 do not create or impose new obligations.

8 So, then I think that has application here, as 9 well.

10 The contrast, which the defendants rely on for 11 several purposes is the Credit Suisse case which I
12 referenced above, where the court held that claims brought 13 under the Martin Act are governed by CPLR 214(2) and,
14 therefore, a three-year statute of limitations, because the 15 Martin Act was found to create liabilities, including
16 creating a broad definition of fraudulent practices
17 encompassing wrongs not cognizable under common-law and 18 dispensing with requirement to prove scienter or reliance
19 that did not exist at common-law within the meaning of CPLR
20 214(2) so the court found that those claims were governed by 21 a three-year statute of limitations.

22 So, the question is how do we apply all that to the 23 claims we have here?

24 Starting with the ones I think are simplest, I
25 think a three-year statute of limitations does apply under

BP

Proceedings

3953

1 CPLR 214(2) with respect to the attorney general's claims
2 under the N-PCL Section 715 for related-party transactions
3 as well as the claims under N-PCL 715(b) with respect to
4 whistleblower protections.

5 I think in both cases, starting with the 6 related-party transactions, the statute permits a finding of 7 a violation based solely or at least initially on whether 8 the board approved the transaction in advance. That's an 9 element of the fault, but it doesn't -- I think it is a
10 statutorily created scheme in which liability can be found
11 for failure to follow the statutory process. And since that 12 is a violation that is created by statute, it seems to me
13 that that claim is covered by CPLR 214 and, therefore, is 14 three years.

15 The claims alleging violations of the whistleblower
16 protections is similar in that there's a very specific laid
17 out set of criteria for violation. I have not found or I
18 don't think I've been pointed to any common-law claims.
19 While I suppose maltreatment of whistleblowers could have 20 always been a part of a fiduciary duty claim, I think that 21 the statute lays out elements that are unique to the 22 statute.

23 So, again, because the violation is created by the 24 statute and not a liability found in common-law, I think
25 that those claims or that claim -- I think it's only one --

BP

Proceedings

3954

1 is governed by the three-year statute of limitations.

2 And, finally, I think the false filing claims under
3 the Executive Law, Section 172 and 175, the statute creates
4 an obligation for every charitable organization which 5 intends to solicit contributions shall, prior to any 6 solicitation, register with the attorney general and make 7 various filings.

8 And, so, I think it's pretty straightforward that 9 the cause of action is created by statute and, therefore,
10 similarly is covered by the three-year statute of 11 limitations.

12 I think a different analysis applies to the 13 remaining claims in the case. The claims under both N-PCL
14 720 and 717, which refer to certain duties of officers and 15 directors as well as the claims under the EPTL which talks
16 about failure to properly administer trust assets are both
17 common-law claims going back a long time, which are codified
18 by statute and which give the attorney general standing
19 which as I mentioned before under Cortelle does not have any 20 separate meaning in terms of creating a new liability. And I
21 think both of those create or simply codify liabilities or 22 existing at common law and just provide some procedural
23 devices for bringing this case.

24 Unlike the Credit Suisse case which I mentioned
25 before under the Martin Act, I think the defendants have

BP

Proceedings

3955

1 been pretty forthright about that the -- this statute does
2 require a finding of failure to comply with duties. Whether
3 you want to call it fault or not which I think the Grasso
4 court referenced in a general way, but I think that's just a
5 reference to the fact that they're unlike, for example, a
6 common-law claim for unjust enrichment, there has to be some 7 fault on the part of the defendant, and violating a duty is 8 a classic example of that fault.

9 So, I don't think that the Credit Suisse case
10 applies here.

11 So, just going to the EPTL as well, the fact that 12 it creates additional obligations such as registration and 13 reporting obligations does not mean that it was -- that the 14 conduct alleged here was "made unlawful" what was before
15 lawful, which is a reference to the Cortelle case again.

16 So, in my view, Section 214 does not apply to 17 mandate a three-year statute of limitations. So that then 18 leads to, well, what is the statute of limitations for these 19 claims?

20 The general principle is if it's not governed by 21 214(2), you look to what the relevant statute of limitations
22 would be under the analogous common-law action.

23 I will pause for a second to say that the attorney
24 general makes the argument that these claims really fall
25 under CPLR 213(7) which applies to claims brought by or on

BP

Proceedings

3956

1 behalf of a corporation to recover damages for waste or for
2 an injury to property from corporate officers and directors.

3 I think there is an argument in favor of that and 4 there is some support for it; but my reading is that that is 5 a stronger argument if the attorney general is suing in,
6 essentially, a derivative capacity, explicitly on behalf of 7 a corporation. As was apparently the case in the Spitzer
8 versus Schussel, S-C-H-U-S-S-E-L, case upon which the 9 attorney general relies. That's 7 MISC3d 171, Supreme
10 Court, New York County (2005). That case was -- the caption 11 in fact was that it was brought by or on behalf of the 12 corporation.

13 I think this case is different. I think you'd have 14 to strain to fit this case into that mold. It is true that 15 the -- what the attorney general is seeking here is a
16 monetary recovery in part that would be paid to the NRA; but 17 the fact remains it is brought in a different way.

18 I'm not ruling definitively one way or the other on 19 this because I think there's a more clear way to resolve
20 this. Because the general principle is that if 214 doesn't 21 apply, then you turn either to 213(1), which is the default
22 rule if there's no other statute that applies, it's six 23 years. But, also, to the common-law analysis for breach of 24 fiduciary duty claims. There are various statements in the 25 Appellate courts about the statute of limitations for breach

BP

Proceedings

3957

1 of fiduciary duty claims. While there's not an entirely
2 straight line through all of them, the First Department has
3 noted that "New York law does not provide any single 4 limitations period for breach of fiduciary duty claims.
5 Generally, the applicable statute of limitations for breach
6 of fiduciary duty depends upon the substantive remedy
7 sought. Where the relief sought is equitable in nature, the 8 six-year limitations period of 213(1) applies."

9 "On the other hand, where suits alleging a breach 10 of duty seeking only money damages, courts have viewed such 11 damages as alleging injury to property to which a three-year
12 statute of limitations applies."

13 That's a quote from the Kaufman case from the First
14 Department, 307 AD2d 113, First Department (2003).

15 I am persuaded having looked at the wrath of cases
16 that have been cited to me that the six-year statute of 17 limitations applies here as to both the EPTL and the N-PCL
18 claims.

19 As to the NRA, for example, just to begin, the only
20 remedy sought with respect to the NRA is equitable, so
21 that's pretty straightforward. The remaining claims against 22 the individual defendants you have to dig a little deeper.
23 But the cases that I have read indicate that here we have a
24 combination of things.

25 The AG is seeking monetary relief, yes; but it is

BP

Proceedings

3958

1 not the traditional monetary compensatory damages by a
2 plaintiff. It is an action by the attorney general for 3 restitution to the corporate entity.

4 And the courts have applied and looked at that 5 situation in a number of cases, and it indicated that in 6 that situation the combination of equitable remedy and 7 restitutionary monetary awards is sufficiently equitable in 8 predominant nature, that the six-year statute of limitations
9 applies. That includes the Spitzer versus Schussel case.
10 That's the 7 MISC3d 171.

11 So, before the court there through Judge Richter
12 got into the analysis of CPLR 213(7) as to which there were 13 some subsequent criticisms before that, did look just at 14 the more traditional approach and found that "although the 15 relief sought in these claims is a mix of both equitable and 16 monetary remedies, the gravamen of the complaint is 17 equitable in nature and referred to the restitution in 18 nature of the claims."

19 And that has been cited in a number of cases, and I
20 would cite also the First Department case in Dibartolo,
21 D-I-B-A-R-T-O-L-O, 84 A.D.3d 474, First Department (2001)
22 where the court said:

23 "Whereas here, a suit alleging breach of fiduciary
24 duty seeks both equitable relief and money damages, a
25 six-year statute of limitations applied."

BP

Proceedings

3959

1 Same in the Homapour, H-O-M-A-P-O-U-R case, 182
2 A.D.3d, 426, First Department (2020). The People versus
3 Trump case, 62 MISC3d 500. That's Supreme Court 2018, and a
4 number of others.

5 So, I think the case law supports the notion that
6 where the attorney general is seeking restitutionary
7 monetary relief as well as related equitable relief
8 that satisfies the requirement for the six-year statute of 9 limitations, so I find that the six-year statute applies.

10 One technical point which hasn't been raised and 11 people forget quite often, by executive order statutes of 12 limitations were tolled in the wake of COVID from beginning
13 March 20th -- I think it was March 20th of 2020 through 14 November of 2020; and since this claim was brought in August
15 of 2020, I think the proper measuring point is the beginning
16 of the tolling period under COVID. So, it would be six 17 years backward from March 20, 2020. I think March 20th is 18 the triggering date. I'm looking at my law clerk, but 19 that's the date the announcement came out. I can't remember
20 what the exact date was, but we'll figure that out -- so, it
21 is six years back from March 20.

22 Subject to any tolling and the attorney general has 23 made a number of arguments about tolling, and to make a long
24 story short I'm not persuaded that it applies here or that 25 the evidence presented indicates that it applies here.

BP

Proceedings

3960

1 Having just said that this is restitution which has
2 an equitable tinge to it, the core behind equitable tolling
3 is really goes back to traditional equitable relief. If a
4 fiduciary is doing something that needs to be stopped, that 5 is the principle fact pattern where long-tail tolling has 6 been found to apply.

7 I think this is just a different kind of case, and
8 I haven't seen any indication that this is the kind of case
9 where the fiduciary duty and all of these monetary claims
10 which is really what the individuals are facing should be 11 subject to the open repudiation doctrine, which would mean
12 that the statute doesn't even apply until essentially after 13 they're removed, which in this case would be a pretty;
14 traumatic expansion.

15 So, I don't think that the authorities cited are on 16 point. And, I do think that the -- because the gravamen of 17 the complaint is equitable in nature tolling -- I'm sorry --
18 it's meant to protect the beneficiaries in the event of 19 ongoing breaches, such as estate administrators, trustees or 20 corporate officers. And, again, I view this as different,
21 both procedural and substantive setting.

22 So, I'm not applying tolling other than the 23 COVID-related tolling. That's my view.

24 I will say two things: One is a -- probably an 25 unnecessary comment. I think it would be legislature has a

BP

Proceedings

3961

1 lot more to do than listen to me. But I do see that in a
2 situation like this where lots of statutory causes of action
3 end up being subject to a three-year statute, when you build
4 in the fact that the attorney general has to investigate
5 and, you know, here investigation was a year or two; if the 6 legislature wants to give room and space for the attorney
7 general to investigate, it at least might consider whether 8 having an explicit statute of limitations in these 9 individual statutes to provide time for that because in many 10 cases -- and this one may not be one of them -- the fact 11 that the attorney general takes his or her time to bring the 12 action could in some cases eat up most of the statute of 13 limitations period. Anyway, that's just an editorial
14 comment, which caused me to forget my second comment.

15 Oh, while I think the answers to the statute of 16 limitations are pretty straightforward -- although, it took
17 a little bit of thought -- I am aware that my principal job
18 here is to make sure this is the first and only time this 19 case is tried. So, what I would like to do is in the -- 20 least with respect to the individual defendants where 21 there's monetary -- potentially monetary damages, I would 22 like the jury verdict form to ask for a damages where a
23 monetary, but then ask the jury to allocate that between 24 three years and six years.

25 So, the damages -- the money they find from

BP

Proceedings

3962

1 March 20, 2017, to I think the plaintiff is seeking through
2 2022 in the first case, and then also three years for the 3 back. The total number is the six years for those claims as 4 to which it applies, but I could be wrong; and if the 5 Appellate court decides that it should have been a
6 three-year statute, I'm trying to avoid a situation which 7 would require us to have to meet again and do a whole trial.

8 So, I think it makes sense to at least have an 9 alternative so that if they decide that it should be three 10 years, we have the jury's verdict for three years if we need
11 it.

12 All right, sorry for that long windup, but the 13 letters were very, very good, and I wanted to give this the 14 attention it deserved.

15 All right, let's turn to the instructions now.

16 One procedural thing, by the way, by the end of 17 this process I'm sure you're all going to want to make a 18 record of what arguments were made and what arguments were 19 accepted and rejected, so I think we will ultimately -- I
20 will want you to file on NYSCEF the various proposals going
21 back to the first proposals so that someone else can 22 commissurae with me with what the first proposals were, and 23 then we'll even include, obviously, my proposal and your 24 counterproposals so that we have the legislative history.

25 So, let's turn to the draft and I agree with

BP

Proceedings

3963

1 whoever said that you can work on the verdict sheet after
2 this. I felt like it would make sense to get the 3 instructions pretty tight before we spent too much time on 4 it; but I would get started on it right away because this at 5 least gives you the order in which it is going to be and the 6 basic framework.

7 So, I guess I will to some extent throw it over to 8 the floor to go through the draft to the first thing that 9 you would consider the substantive point as opposed to a
10 drafting suggestion that you'd like me to address.

11 MR. FARBER: Judge, could I address something that 12 came out of your Honor's decision that will impact jury
13 instructions?

14 THE COURT: Yes, you can.

15 MR. FARBER: So, I certainly understand the 16 incentive not to try this case a second time, but it seems 17 that there's some levels of complexity that are going to be 18 at least potentially inserting these instructions by asking
19 the jurors to do what you're suggesting; one of which is 20 that I think they're also asked to consider things like the 21 extent to which if they find certain wrongdoing, the NRA
22 receive value for that, offsets for that.

23 There's a lot of additional calculation they're 24 going to be have to be asked to do, and I suppose there also 25 needs to be some explanation to them. There is going to be

BP

1 an instruction on statute of limitations.

2 THE COURT: Yeah, I don't think it is going to be
3 too hard. I think -- what I'm hopeful, it will be wherever
4 it says, If you found liability, what are the damages and it
5 will be a hundred dollars. Of that amount, how much from 6 this date to the that date and how much this date to that 7 date.

8 So, I don't anticipate it being anymore complicated
9 than that. It may not be easy, but that's what I'd like 10 them to do.

11 Look, if people object to it, I'll certainly
12 listen, but I call it -- I would consider it a worthwhile
13 insurance policy.

14 What's the first page you want to turn to?

1 MR. FLEMING: Can I just be heard on one point.
2 The only aspect of your Honor's ruling that didn't seem to
3 be addressed was the N-PCL 714 removal claim. So I wasn't
4 sure. It seems to me that would not be a common-law
5 analysis and might be subjected to a three-year statute.

6 THE COURT: Yeah, but I view removal -- I think
7 there has to be a predicate violation of something else in 8 the N-PCL. So I think it's going to be -- at least the way
9 I view it, it would -- they can take into account anything
10 that's within the Statute of Limitations of the underlying
11 N-PCL violations.

12 MR. FLEMING: Understand. So the jury would 13 probably be well-advised to advise us what provision they 14 are hanging their hat on for any removal.

15 THE COURT: I'm going to defer on that for the 16 moment. I want to see how complicated it all gets. I don't 17 think it matters as long as they are aware of what they can 18 consider for each of the violations.

19 So you know, I guess I'm hopeful we can keep it as 20 simple as possible. I mean, as you can see, I tried to in 21 the instructions generally make them a little simpler, and 22 they would be shorter if they weren't 15 point type and 23 double spaced and all that.

24 So what's the first point that anyone would want to 25 argue is substantively enough to get into here?

1 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, if I may.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. CONNELL: Sure.

4 MR PETERS: Which one are you going to do?

5 MS. CONNELL: I was just going to say all the page
6 numbers, so we could decide that first.

7 Your Honor, for Plaintiff, I believe --

8 THE COURT: I don't have to have the whole list
9 first. Let's just go through it.

10 What's the first page somebody wants to turn to?

11 MS. CONNELL: Page 25 for Plaintiff. These are 12 pages from the Court's draft. I understand there was a
13 later draft circulated.

14 THE COURT: I only want to have in front of me the 15 ones with your comments on it.

16 MS. ROGERS: I think it's -- these microphones are 17 different. I think it's the same, Page 25.

18 THE COURT: Multiple Defendants Entity.

19 MS. ROGERS: The Rule of Law instructions.

20 MS. CONNELL: Overview Claims.

21 THE COURT: Okay. It's Page 24, but that's okay.

22 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, here, we would just ask,
23 and Plaintiff has asked for an instruction that the NRA is a
24 charitable not-for-profit, and we submitted a letter
25 addressing this. I believe it's NYSCEF 2384.

KM

Proceedings

3967

1 Under New York State Law, it's a charitable
2 non-profit, and we have heard some, I think --

3 THE COURT: This was the first substantive one that
4 I had on my list too.

5 As I read some of the points from the Defendants
6 and some of what I heard in court this week, they maybe take 7 the position that the only charitable assets that should be
8 considered at least for the EPTL claims are the NRA
9 Foundation assets. I don't know if that's what's driving
10 this. There is comments throughout here on the word
11 "charitable."

12 The Defendants struck "charitable" on almost every 13 page, and you added it in most cases. So is -- what's the 14 legal basis for the proposition that whatever "charitable"
15 means in common parlance for the proposition, that it is --
16 that the entirety of the NRA is a charitable not-for-profit
17 corporation? Where does that come from?

18 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, with the Court's
19 permission, I'm actually going to kick it to Mr. Shiffman
20 who is the charity expert here, but I wanted to see if this 21 was the first claim to address.

22 THE COURT: Okay. It's a good one because I think
23 it cuts through a lot of comments coming later on as well.

24 MR. SHIFFMAN: I think at the most basic, it comes 25 from the Statute.

KM

Proceedings

3968

1 THE COURT: Which Statute?

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: Well, first of all, the N-PCL 201(c)
3 provides that -- this is all on that letter brief that Ms.
4 Connell referred to, but in there, 201(c) refers to the 5 different types of charitable organizations. I'm sorry.
6 Different types of not-for-profit organizations under the 7 Statute, and there used to be different classifications
8 under New York Law of Type A, B, C and D.

9 And all Type B not-for-profit organizations at the 10 time that the Statute was realized in 2014, all of those 11 became charitable corporations by definition in the 12 Not-For-Profit Corporation Law and the NRA Certificate of 13 Incorporation, and it's -- at one point, it had to file a 14 certificate type where it had to declare what type it was.
15 It filed a Certificate of Incorporation and a certificate of 16 type that referred to it as a Type B.

17 Under New York Law, that is clear that that is a
18 charitable organization for all purposes under the Statute.

19 THE COURT: It's the entire entity regardless of 20 subsidiary.

21 MR. SHIFFMAN: Yes, because it refers to the NRA is 22 the one that's the Type B corporation.

23 201(c), and we refer to also to some regulations as 24 well that address the same issue. And also under New York
25 Law, besides the fact that it's just by the Type B, it also

KM

Proceedings

3969

1 -- New York has broader definition of what "charity" is than
2 the specific 501(c)(3) versus (c)(4).

3 Many of the NRA purposes all fit in --

4 THE COURT: Now, are you now shifting over to the 5 EPTL?

6 MR. SHIFFMAN: I am talking about the N-PCL.

7 THE COURT: I want to keep it separate.

8 Are you saying within the N-PCL there are 9 definitions of "charitable" besides the one you just 10 mentioned?

11 MR. SHIFFMAN: There is one in the definition
12 section that refers to the charitable corporate purposes of 13 what are charitable purposes.

14 THE COURT: What is the definition?

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: It includes many of the things that 16 the NRA does.

17 So the definition under 102-3-b, it says,
18 Charitable purpose of a corporation means one or more of the 19 following purposes: Charitable, educational, religious,
20 scientific, literary, cultural or for the prevention of 21 cruelty to children or animals.

22 So it's a little bit circular there, but that 23 definition in our papers --

24 THE COURT: Which of those do you say most clearly
25 describes the NRA at large?

KM

Proceedings

3970

1 MR. SHIFFMAN: A couple of them. One, charitable.
2 Two, educational.

3 THE COURT: Well, that's the one that's a circle.

4 MR. SHIFFMAN: That's the one that is a circle.
5 It's also educational.

6 If you look at their 990s, they talk about the 7 educational programs they provide.

8 It also -- that definition though, the reason we 9 cited it, that definition matches exactly or pretty close to 10 different types of -- the definition of what a Type B
11 corporation is, the one that they filed for under the 12 New York Statute.

13 THE COURT: Now, is that -- is it possible, and I
14 don't know what the significance of this would be is that if 15 you have an entity that has a subsidiary that is a
16 foundation, that the whole entity has to file, but it's 17 filing only because of the foundation?

18 MR. SHIFFMAN: Well, I don't think the foundation
19 is the subsidiary.

20 But no, the entity has to file because of its 21 purpose, and under the statute, it's considered a charitable 22 organization for all purposes when it files.

23 And some of the things that we go to in this letter
24 which I would refer your Honor to are some of the things
25 from the 990. So the NRA articulates charitable purpose as

KM

Proceedings

3971

1 firearms safety education and training. It also says that
2 it's to promote public safety, law and order, and it also
3 talks about defending the U.S. Constitution, and that's one
4 of the things we've heard a lot about.

5 And even on the IRS website, we have the cite to 6 some of those links in that letter. Even on the IRS
7 websites, those things are considered charitable, and
8 there's a difference as Mr. Tenenbaum testified between a
9 (c)(4) and a (c)(6).

10 Here, this is a (c)(4) organization, and it really 11 fits squarely not only within those charitable purposes but 12 under the very definitions under New York Law of what a 13 charitable organization is.

14 THE COURT: And again, the specific things on this
15 page is you want me to add a sentence that says, I am
16 instructing you that the NRA is a charitable not-for-profit
17 corporation under New York Law.

18 Now, your point is that as a statutory matter, it
19 says that. And so the question is I suppose, and let me
20 turn to the defendants for a moment here, that the 21 connotation of "charitable", they have certainly suggested
22 is going to confuse the jury.

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Just one other point. The (c)(4) is 24 a separately registered organization. I believe it's the 25 one that's the subject of this lawsuit in DC where it has --

KM

Proceedings

3972

1 MS. ROGERS: That's incorrect, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: One at a time.

3 MR. SHIFFMAN: The (c)(4) is a separate
4 organization.

5 THE COURT: What (c)(4)?

6 MR. SHIFFMAN: The (c)(3). I misspoke. The 7 (c)(3), the Foundation is a separate corporation from the 8 NRA. That's the --

9 THE COURT: So it's within the umbrella of the 10 National Rifle Organization. It is not wholly-owned 11 subsidiary of.

12 MS. STERN: In the not-for-profit context, right,
13 there is no such -- there is no such animal as a
14 wholly-owned subsidiary because nothing is owned.

15 So the (c)(3)s that the NRA has in the Foundation,
16 the civil rights organization, those are separate entities,
17 and they have to register if they are going to solicit in 18 New York separately.

19 The NRA (c)(4) just stands alone. Frankly --

20 THE COURT: So when they file the CHAR 500s or 21 whatever, do they have to provide information to you with 22 respect to the Foundation?

23 MS. STERN: The Foundation provides information to 24 us.

25 THE COURT: So it's a separate filing?

KM

Proceedings

3973

1 MS. STERN: Correct. Correct.

2 THE COURT: Let me hear from the Defendants. I have
3 your letter.

4 MR. SHIFFMAN: There is some other cites in the 5 letter too that deal with the nature of the objection.

6 THE COURT: I think I have only gotten through the 7 first 200 of your letters. I haven't gotten to the second
8 200.

9 MS. STERN: At the risk of you yelling at me, I
10 will just say one more thing.

11 Just for instance, in 715, there is a distinction
12 in the obligations between a not-for-profit corporation and 13 a charitable not-for-profit corporation.

14 THE COURT: There is a distinction where?

15 MS. STERN: In BCL 715. And of course, then there
16 is the issue of the EPTL which we haven't talked about yet.

17 THE COURT: I don't yell at anyone.

18 MS. ROGERS: So where we keep seeing references to 19 "charitable" throughout these instructions, and the NRA has 20 not struck most of them is the context of the EPTL claim.

21 So there's two ways to be a trustee under the EPTL.
22 One is the one that applies to the NRA. That's why we check
23 the box every year.

24 If you hold or administer property that's entrusted
25 under a trust or a will or similar instrument for charitable

KM

Proceedings

3974

1 purposes, that makes you a trustee.

2 And as your Honor probably knows, you know, there
3 are Wall Street banks that are trustees if I set up a trust
4 for my family there. That doesn't mean the AG has unbounded
5 ability to interfere in the governance of those 6 institutions.

7 The reason that language as a vague and proper
8 administration has survived for so long in trust and estates
9 law is because there's an inherent limiting clarifying
10 principle. That proper administration language applies to a
11 specific corpus of property. In the case of a trust, it's a 12 trust.

13 In the case of the EPTL, it's that property which 14 is entrusted for charitable purposes.

15 THE COURT: And charitable purposes is defined
16 pretty broadly; isn't it?

17 MS. ROGERS: It's defined pretty broadly but in a
18 way that's not broad enough encompassing lobbying which is a
19 lot of what these assets are for.

20 So "charitable purposes" is defined in the EPTL at 21 EPTL 8-1.9 to include I believe it is charitable,
22 educational, religious or benevolent purposes. And then
23 it's also charitable --

24 It's also defined in the N-PCL, Section 102. I
25 believe it's sub 3a, and this is the definition Mr. Shiffman

KM

Proceedings

3975

1 read out. Charitable, educational, religious or for
2 prevention of cruelty to children or animals. That language
3 is copied and pasted from IRC 501 (c)(3).

4 So to answer your Honor's question about whether
5 the NRA Foundation is a subsidiary of the NRA, it's not.
6 It's an affiliate, but there are charitable funds that flow
7 through the NRA.

8 So when the NRA funds -- for example, the Eddie
9 Eagle gun education program that your Honor has heard about.
10 There are grants from come from the (c)(3), and you heard
11 testimony about -- from Mr. Erstling about how those funds
12 are tracked to insure that every charitable dollar goes to 13 what it's supposed to go to.

14 You also heard testimony from Mr. Cox, one of the 15 Government's key witnesses about how the NRA's Lobbying
16 Division which is part of this (c)(4) part of the entity
17 that's been brought before this Court, the NRA's Lobbying
18 Division Bylaw has separate finances. And those are -- that 19 is the financial bucket out of which Mr. LaPierre's travel 20 and entertainment expenses, a major issue in this case were 21 paid.

22 There is no dispute I don't think under State Law,
23 certainly not under Federal Tax Law that those lobbying
24 funds are not charitable assets. Those are not the kind of 25 funds that the EPTL has ever been designed to regulate.

KM

Proceedings

3976

1 Calling them charitable assets is effectively
2 making the NRA's political activity illegal which I don't
3 know if that's the specific goal here, the ultimate goal of 4 the lawsuit, but that's -- those aren't charitable funds.

5 So within the NRA, there are buckets of money that
6 are clearly charitably entrusted. Those are the buckets
7 that make us a trustee. Those are the buckets that come in 8 through the foundation or sometimes from a will. We have 9 donors who left money in their will and are used for charity
10 purposes.

11 THE COURT: Now, the Statute as we talked about 12 define charitable -- well, it defines a charitable
13 beneficiary. The EPTL. The beneficiary of a disposition
14 for religious, charitable, educational or benevolent
15 purpose. That's -- I think you referenced that before. And 16 the commentary to the Statute makes the obvious point that 17 it's a pretty darn broad definition.

18 And do you have cases that say that sort of a 19 501(c)(4) is per se not a charitable organization under New 20 York Law?

21 MS. ROGERS: There are many cases for the 22 proposition that charitable and social welfare and lobbying
23 are distinct.

24 THE COURT: For what purpose?

25 MS. ROGERS: So certainly, for federal tax

KM

Proceedings

3977

1 purposes.

2 But even in New York, at the time the NRA was
3 incorporated, the statutory scheme that Mr. Shiffman cites,
4 Type A, Type B did not exist.

5 So in 1848, and we have a brief, and we filed reams
6 of them, so I'm sorry to direct your Honor back into that
7 pile of them, but if you go through the history of New York
8 charities law and corporation law and New York trust law,
9 when the NRA was created, there were a couple of different
10 statutes that could have been created under. One was for 11 charitable corporations which contained that predecessor to 12 the (c)(3) language. It talked about educational, literary 13 and charitable purposes. That's the definition. That's an 14 1848 New York statute.

15 The NRA was formed in 1871 under a different one
16 for social clubs, and its original purposes are to promote 17 marksmanship, defend the Second Amendment. These are social 18 welfare purposes.

19 So the NRA was not formed as a charitable 20 corporation. It was expressly formed under --

21 THE COURT: You're saying that there's a
22 distinction between social welfare and charity. But what's 23 the basis for saying that those are two distinct sets?

24 MS. ROGERS: Well, one basis is that if there is an 25 entity that actually is formed solely for charitable

KM

Proceedings

3978

1 purposes like the NRA Foundation, and they spend the money
2 on like 501 (c)(4) activities, they can get in trouble with
3 the Government.

4 THE COURT: Why isn't social welfare charitable?

5 MS. ROGERS: I don't know, your Honor, but this is 6 an archaic distinction of the law, and I think --

7 THE COURT: Well, let's make it less archaic.

8 I mean, I have a Statute that was revamped in 9 2014 --

10 MS. ROGERS: Correct.

11 THE COURT: -- that did away with these in a way
12 that your actual client is defined as a charitable
13 not-for-profit.

14 MS. ROGERS: So the NRA didn't reregister after the 15 Revitalization Act one way or the other, so it never filed a 16 certificate identifying itself as a charitable
17 not-for-profit.

18 The NRA has been around since 1871. It was formed
19 as a non-charitable not-for-profit.

20 THE COURT: Well, it wasn't formed as a
21 non-charitable not-for-profit.

22 MS. ROGERS: It was formed as a social club
23 technically in 1871, so it was not formed -- it was a
24 charitable corporation creature of existence in the law at 25 the time, and that's not what the NRA was.

KM

Proceedings

3979

1 THE COURT: Well, isn't the distinction at some
2 level charitable could be viewed as not-for-profit? Those 3 could be synonymous.

4 MS. ROGERS: In the vernacular, but in the federal 5 tax law which I understand is not what your Honor is 6 bringing up, but if we are looking how to interpret these 7 vague, squishy statutory words like "charitable," the fact
8 that the N-PCL language is copied from the Federal Tax Code,
9 and the fact that the Federal Tax Code uses that language in 10 a certain way should certainly --

11 THE COURT: Well, it's because there is an
12 important difference. Right. And it's a public policy
13 difference is whether -- and I have learned that through 14 this trial. It's the Government will subsidize donations to 15 certain things and maybe not others.

16 Now, that may be a definition that matters in terms
17 of how we spend our public money, and maybe that for that 18 purpose, they use "charitable" and "social welfare" to mean
19 different things, but it doesn't mean that they are not both
20 charitable. It means that there is some charitable things
21 that the Government is willing as a matter of federal tax
22 policy to subsidize and some things that are just tax
23 exempt.

24 For example, like the NRA, where its income is not 25 subject to taxation. Those are just different tax and

KM

Proceedings

3980

1 spending policies which to me don't really give me much
2 guidance on whether calling it charitable or not is very 3 meaningful.

4 MS. ROGERS: Well, it's meaningful because there
5 are dozens of places in the law where if there are 6 activities that (c)(4) undertakes which in under federal law
7 are forbidden to charities, for example.

8 THE COURT: Because we have decided as a country
9 not to permit a tax benefit to donate to those entities.

10 It doesn't make them more or less charitable. They 11 are just categorized differently for a very specific 12 purpose.

13 MS. ROGERS: Right; but I think the point is that 14 from a statutory interpretation perspective, and we are 15 asking what does "charitable" mean.

16 THE COURT: And we should be looking at the 17 statutes that matter here. Not the Federal Tax Law.

18 MS. ROGERS: Right. So if we look at the statutes
19 that matter here, one of them, the N-PCL as it's currently 20 drafted was intentionally drafted to align with Federal Tax
21 Law. That's why the language is identical to 501(c)(3).

22 THE COURT: You are going to have to walk me
23 through that.

24 MS. ROGERS: Sure. So let's pull up N-PCL 102.
25 That's the definition section.

KM

Proceedings

3981

1 THE COURT: When you say "let's pull up," you
2 mean --

3 MS. ROGERS: I don't have a copy of it.

4 THE COURT: I thought you were going to magically
5 make this appear on the screen.

6 MS. ROGERS: No. I'm accustomed to say that during 7 witness examination.

8 THE COURT: I know, but it doesn't work in real
9 life.

10 Which section are you looking for?

11 MS. ROGERS: So if we pull up N-CPL 102. This is 12 definitions. And if you scroll down.

13 THE COURT: Hold on one second. Not there yet.

14 MS. ROGERS: Sub A, and then it's sub -- under A,
15 3-b.

16 THE COURT: 102 a. Say again.

17 MS. ROGERS: And then under "a," there is 3-b where 18 it says "charitable purposes."

19 THE COURT: Yes. I got it.

20 MS. ROGERS: So that language is identical to 21 501(c)(3), and it was written at the time of the 22 Revitalization Act, and it was written to replace this 23 confusing A,B,C,D thing Mr. Shiffman is talking about.

24 They wanted a clear charitable purposes definition,
25 and they chose the one from 501(c)(3).

KM

Proceedings

3982

1 If you look up 501(c)(3), this is where it comes
2 from. They are contemporaneous commentaries that explain
3 one thing New York was doing in the Revitalization Act was 4 getting rid of this confusing Type A, Type B, Type C, Type D
5 typology.

6 That was actually calling the commentator to say
7 don't incorporate in New York. The non-profit
8 classifications are too confusing. A book club could be a
9 Type B corporation. So they replaced Type B with this. And 10 since this statute was enacted, the NRA has never amended
11 its certificate or ever updated its Certificate of 12 Incorporation to claim charitable purposes.

13 Obviously, we wouldn't because it's a 501(c)(4),
14 and it would be very confusing.

15 THE COURT: What else -- I -- I can't remember the 16 section that Mr. Shiffman cited.

17 MR. SHIFFMAN: 201(c).

18 THE COURT: So that's the one that defines former 19 Part B as charitable?

20 MR. SHIFFMAN: Yes. NRA, although it did not when 21 it was formed in 1870 or whenever it was was not a type B.

22 In 1973, it had to file a certificate type with the 23 State, and it then filed a certificate type that declared
24 that it was a Type B, and we -- that's in the record. I
25 think it's in the docket as I believe 121 and 123 in the

KM

Proceedings

3983

1 docket NYSCEF 121 and 123. We cite it in our letters.

2 They declared that they were Type B in the
3 seventies. In the 2000's when the types were eliminated, it
4 automatically became a charitable corporation because it was 5 a Type B corporation.

6 And one other thing, and under the EPTL --

7 THE COURT: So in other words, despite the 8 definitions -- I'm repeating this to myself.

9 Despite the fact that the definition in Section 102
10 as Ms. Rogers just pointed out seems to lean on the 11 501(c)(3) words, what 201(c) says, and I'll add the word
12 "notwithstanding." It says, A Type B or C not-for-profit
13 corporation prior -- formed prior to July 1, 2014 shall be 14 deemed --

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: Yes.

16 THE COURT: -- a charitable corporation for all
17 purposes under this chapter.

18 So I'll let you sit down. It's Ms. Rogers' turn.

19 MS. ROGERS: It says all purposes under this 20 chapter.

21 The EPTL is a law about property. That's why it
22 gets away with vague language like "improper
23 administration."

24 THE COURT: One thing at a time.

25 So for the N-PCL, regardless of what else there is,

KM

Proceedings

3984

1 this pretty much says that based on historical facts,
2 whatever else you might say, it seems to me anyway, it's 3 deemed a charitable corporation for all purposes under the 4 N-PCL. That's what this says to me.

5 MS. ROGERS: It says deemed under the N-PCL, but
6 that's not what the EPTL says.

7 THE COURT: Take them one at a time. I think you
8 started with the N-PCL being 501(c)(3).

9 So the legislature in its wisdom decided that 10 regardless of any of that, you're deemed to be a charitable 11 corporation under this statute if you were historically a B
12 or a C.

13 So now let me -- let me turn your attention to the 14 EPTL which is probably the most important to you.

15 MS. ROGERS: Correct, your Honor.

16 So the EPTL has a broad definition of charitable
17 purposes in it, but that definition, "charitable" -- I
18 believe it's charitable, religious or benevolent is much
19 closer to (c)(3), and that language, there's no Type B
20 legacy grandfathering mechanism in the EPTL.

21 THE COURT: Okay. I'll grant you that so far.

22 MS. ROGERS: The NRA has been around since 1871,
23 and in 1871, the distinction that existed in the law was 24 there are some corporations that are charitable like a
25 charitable trust. Those are educational, scientific and

KM

Proceedings

3985

1 literary. That's not what the NRA was.

2 The NRA was more like a social club or a fraternity
3 which the EPTL actually distinguishes. The EPTL 8-1.4
4 distinguishes.

5 THE COURT: And benevolent purposes, that's the 6 word that's the broadest in the EPTL.

7 At least I've seen commentary suggesting that it
8 covers a fairly broad swath of things.

9 MS. ROGERS: So I don't know --

10 THE COURT: You certainly wouldn't agree that from 11 your perspective the NRA's purposes are benevolent.

12 MS. ROGERS: Well, if you interpret "benevolent"
13 the way that a lot of commentators interpret "charitable,"
14 the core meaning would be something like handing out homes
15 to orphans which the NRA is not doing.

16 The NRA's inaugural purpose was to create a
17 shooting range and train its members in marksmanship. That 18 creates a social welfare benefit, but not the kind of 19 benefit that a charitable trust in 1848 was designed for.

20 And when the NRA was formed, it was formed as a
21 kind of entity that actually it was not able to inherit
22 property from a charitable bequest the way a charitable 23 corporation could have. That was another distinction that 24 existed.

25 THE COURT: Now, there is no question the NRA files

KM

Proceedings

3986

1 under the EPTL every single year.

2 MS. ROGERS: Because there are two ways.

3 THE COURT: You think it's just because they have
4 an association with the NRA Foundation?

5 MS. ROGERS: Not just because there is an
6 association, but because they actually do administer some of 7 that property.

8 So the way that the spending works -- so remember
9 in my opening statement I talked about these are the 10 educational programs the NRA does that benefit the public.

11 The way that happens -- there is a couple of ways
12 that happens, and the main way is that the Foundation which 13 receives those tax deductible dollars makes grants to the 14 NRA, and that money has to be carefully tracked to make sure
15 the charitable funds reach their charitable destination.

16 It is these mechanisms within the NRA -- you hear
17 about separate books for the Legislative Action Division.
18 You have these spreadsheets that Mr. Erstling --

19 THE COURT: So you think that if the NRA dispenses
20 with the Eddie Eagle and any other connections to the 21 Foundation's projects could stop -- could stop filing every 22 year with the AG?

23 MS. ROGERS: If it dispensed with the Foundation
24 and --

25 THE COURT: No, not with the Foundation.

KM

Proceedings

3987

1 MS. ROGERS: Sorry. I was speaking too quickly.

2 If it dispensed with those projects, and there are 3 a couple of other ways that charitable dollars can get in.
4 So there are trusts, there are wills and bequests and the 5 like, but those dollars are also tracked. Those are 6 donor-restricted assets.

7 If we did none of that, if we were just paying 8 overhead for the office plus, you know, lobbying, then we 9 would be a classic non-profit. We would be a classic --

10 THE COURT: Now, aside from your argument about the 11 words "benevolent" and anything else, is there any law
12 whatsoever to support what you just said?

13 MS. ROGERS: So there is -- it's in the federal tax
14 and regulatory context. This is a subject of some 15 controversy because the leading opinion, and we cite this.
16 We cite this. It's an article that we cite in one of our 17 briefs.

18 Essentially, the way -- the way charitable and 19 non-charitable classifications work is the NRA can currently 20 can spend up to 51 percent or 49 percent of its money on 21 purely lobbying and political action.

22 THE COURT: But if I told you you couldn't cite
23 federal tax authorities, what would you say?

24 MS. ROGERS: So if I can't cite federal tax
25 authorities, I would cite New York authority from the time

KM

Proceedings

3988

1 the NRA was created. And from the time -- because that's
2 obviously most informative as to what kind of entity the NRA
3 came into existence as. And law from that time specifically
4 restricts the NRA's ability to inherit charitably --

5 THE COURT: What about from when the EPTL was
6 created?

7 MS. ROGERS: So the EPTL is a renamed version of 8 the Decedent's Estate Law which was created in the late
9 nineteenth century. And when the Decedent Estate Law was 10 created, it inherited those old provisions of the trust law.

11 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor --

12 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, I guess before the NRA
13 can speak from both sides, maybe I can.

14 Can I just point your Honor to --

15 THE COURT: I want to -- we have a lot -- we do
16 have a lot more to cover.

17 MR. SHIFFMAN: This will be very focused, literally
18 two minutes.

19 One, the EPTL addresses the -- this question
20 directly. EPTL 8-1.4a2.

21 THE COURT: Hang on one second.

22 MR. SHIFFMAN: 8-1.4a2.

23 THE COURT: That just references again it's 24 organized for charitable purpose.

25 MR. SHIFFMAN: But it says, Any non-profit

KM

1 corporation organized under the laws of this State for
2 charitable purposes.

3 We're a not-for-profit organization under the
4 N-PCL.

5 THE COURT: You think that's the link from the
6 N-PCL?

7 MR. SHIFFMAN: Yes. That's not the only link.
8 I'll also refer your Honor to 13 NYCRR Section 90-1 which is 9 a regulation which provides that under the EPTL,
10 "charitable" means a number of things we said before but
11 also includes promoting social welfare and some other things
12 which are in our letter.

13 THE COURT: It's in your letter.

14 MR. SHIFFMAN: That's a direct link, your Honor, to 15 the N-PCL and the corporations that are covered by it.

16 THE COURT: Well, I'll take up Ms. Rogers' point
17 just for a moment. This is interesting language. I would 18 imagine that she will tell me this actually supports her 19 view because it was organized in 1871. That's when it was 20 organized. You were organized originally under the laws of 21 this State for charitable purposes; whereas, I guess she 22 would argue they have now been deemed to be for charitable
23 purposes.

24 MR. SHIFFMAN: Organized could mean when it first
25 happened, but it also could mean as it exists, and it

KM

1 declared in the 1970's that it was a Type B corporation.
2 And when it declared that, it declared that it's a Type B
3 corporation using those exact same words that fit the 4 definition of a charitable organization.

1 THE COURT: So, this is all in your letter. I
2 would -- I mean, I can't believe I'm actually saying it, but
3 if there's anything in that letter that you'd like to give 4 me specific opposition to, I do think it's -- I mean, it is
5 potentially important to the scope of the EPTL claims I
6 suppose. I don't -- it does seem clear to be a charitable 7 corporation under the N-PCL, but I'll certainly listen to 8 the argument.

9 Again, was this part of the motion to dismiss at 10 any point?

11 MS. ROGERS: I don't think it was part of the 12 initial motion to dismiss briefing. It was addressed at 13 some length because I had to go to library to get some 14 statutes from 1871.

15 THE COURT: It wouldn't probably be a dismissal
16 anyway because it depends on -- I mean, even under your 17 reading, there are assets within the NRA that are held for 18 charitable purposes.

19 You're just saying that the evidence that's come
20 in, the improper conduct doesn't go do those charitable 21 assets.

22 MS. ROGERS: Correct, your Honor. And I think the 23 EPTL charge has taken place and it's been informed by 24 property law. It's important that we focus on the property
25 that drives applicability of the EPTL. And their proposed

BP

Proceedings

3992

1 revisions they make to the charge say things like all of the
2 NRA's assets are charitable assets which if pronounced by a
3 court would be very problematic.

4 THE COURT: Just to round it out, there's no case
5 law that you cite for the proposition that 501(c)(4)
6 entities are not by definition charitable under the EPTL;
7 right?

8 MS. ROGERS: Under the EPTL I don't believe so, but 9 I'd be happy to put in a response to the letter.

10 MR. PETERS: I would just note that this use of the 11 EPTL is quite novel. So, there's only very few cases that 12 attempt to do anything resembling what's going on in this 13 case.

14 THE COURT: Well, I noted that in the online notes
15 of decisions, the main one is this one.

16 Anyway, so we've now thoughtfully considered the 17 first issue in this very long document.

18 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, as far as the plaintiff
19 goes and if we're moving on to other topics, Mr. Shiffman
20 is indicating there's something he'd like to say on this
21 if you want, but I think that's the point of the main
22 topic --

23 THE COURT: We need to move on.

24 MS. CONNELL: I think that's the plaintiff's main 25 topic. We made some other proposed changes to the -- to the

BP

Proceedings

3993

1 proposed charges, but I think --

2 THE COURT: It is mostly language stuff as I saw.

3 MS. CONNELL: Exactly. I think that was the 4 largest one for us.

5 THE COURT: So, let's turn to the defendants' list.

6 MR. FARBER: Your Honor, I just wanted to raise a
7 related point to this issue that comes up.

8 THE COURT: Oh, we're back to the charities again?

9 MR. FARBER: We're back to it because it comes up
10 in the EPTL claim for proper administration of charitable 11 assets, so there's a question of how you find charity.

12 The question of what charitable assets are is 13 related to that, and the assumption that the State is 14 making, it's implicit in this argument, is that every asset
15 of the NRA, it's deemed a charity is a charitable asset.

16 THE COURT: I think that is their position.

17 MR. FARBER: Right, and we put in a letter on
18 this --

19 THE COURT: I'm quite sure you did.

20 MR. FARBER: And I just wanted to point out what 21 the sort of statutory problem with that argument is, and 22 this is elaborated on our letter. But in EPTL 8-1.4(e)
23 which talks about the registration and reporting provisions
24 of the section.

25 And they say, "The registration and reporting

BP

Proceedings

3994

1 provisions of this section do not apply to --" and then
2 there are nine or -- there are a number of items, but if you
3 go down to item 9, it says "any person who in his or her
4 capacity as an officer, director of any corporation or 5 organization mentioned in this paragraph holds property for 6 the religious, educational or charitable purposes of such 7 corporation or organization..." blah-blah-blah.

8 THE COURT: Right.

9 MR. FARBER: That distinction, putting in that 10 language holds it for any of those purposes would be
11 entirely superfluous if all the property the organization
12 held were charitable asset property. So --

13 THE COURT: Well, we've seen in a number of 14 situations where in infinite wisdom people have defined
15 charitable things using the word charitable in the 16 definition. It's true, in several places in the statute.

17 If you look at the definition in 8-1.1, they do the 18 same thing; don't they?

19 MR. FARBER: In 8-1.1?

20 THE COURT: I think, maybe I have the wrong one in 21 mind, but I've seen at least one where the word "charity" is 22 in the definition of the word charity.

23 MR. FARBER: Well, my point is --

24 THE COURT: That doesn't mean the rest of the 25 things on the list are irrelevant.

BP

Proceedings

3995

1 MS. ROGERS: I'm not arguing if the rest of the
2 things are relevant, but it talks about any person who --
3 forget about the rest of the things.

4 THE COURT: Charitable beneficiary under 8-1.1"
5 "A charitable beneficiary shall mean the beneficiary of the 6 disposition for a religious charitable, educational or 7 benevolent purpose."

8 It's the way they write.

9 MR. FARBER: It's a different point, your Honor.
10 We can strike out the words religious, educational.

11 What this is saying s that reporting provisions
12 don't apply to any person who in their capacity as officer,
13 director, trustee of a charity holds property for charitable
14 purposes.

15 There's -- it's envisioned there's got to be some 16 subset of property --

17 THE COURT: You have a linguistic argument in favor
18 of that, but it is a little bit off to the side I think.

19 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

20 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I may?

21 THE COURT: Is it about the charity again?

22 MR. CORRELL: I have a citation for you.

23 THE COURT: Okay, good.

24 MR. CORRELL: It is Consumers Union of U.S., Inc.
25 versus State, 5 N.Y.3d 327. It says, "Empire was never a

BP

Proceedings

3996

1 501(c) charity. It was a -- it says, "Empire's former
2 federal tax exempt status was based on IRC, Section 501(c)
3 (4). That's social welfare organization. Empire was never
4 a Section 501(c)(3) charity, so the court was drawing a
5 clear distinction between the two entities.

6 THE COURT: For what purpose?

7 MR. CORRELL: I believe it was for cy pres
8 purposes.

9 THE COURT: Was it for purposes of analyzing the 10 statute?

11 MR. CORRELL: I believe it was for purposes of 12 analyzing N-PCL to determine what the correct standard 13 was -- whether assets can be distributed to a similar 14 organization. Let me see.

15 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, it was for a conversion
16 to a for-profit, and this case is addressed in that same
17 letter that I was mentioning.

18 THE COURT: I've read this case because you cited
19 it before.

20 All right, can we move on?

21 MR. PETERS: Yes, we can, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: What's the next section that the 23 defendants think is substantive?

24 MR. PETERS: Let's go to page 27 and talk about the 25 conduct for directors, officers and employees and the NRA's

BP

Proceedings

3997

1 responsibility.

2 THE COURT: Yes, that was my next one, too. You
3 want to add another quote from the case I cited.

4 MR. PETERS: That's correct, your Honor. We think
5 that the key distinction that Kirschner is getting at is 6 captured in the -- the sentence that begins, The crucial
7 distinction is between conduct that defrauds the NRA and 8 conduct that defrauds others for the NRA's benefits. In 9 other words, you may find that the adverse interest
10 exception applies with the NRA's agents who committed fraud
11 against the NRA, but you may not find the adverse interest
12 exception applies where others are defrauded for the NRA's
13 benefit and may be -- you know, so I think the distinction
14 is captured there which is that what Kirschner is talking
15 about in terms of, you know, things that incidentally help
16 the entity would be something like inflating the entity's
17 stock price or which was at issue in Kirschner which does
18 do -- does partially in some sense benefit the corporation,
19 right, because the value --

20 THE COURT: No, I get your point. I think there's 21 something to possibly explaining it that way, but you then
22 go on to strike the part that says that even if you have a
23 rogue officer; what we had included was even if that 24 applies. In a situation like this where the harm is not 25 really to third parties, that's not the -- they're not

BP

Proceedings

3998

1 saying that, you know, some unrelated third party was
2 harmed; but the cause of action here is that the members
3 were harmed. That's who the -- that's who the target, the 4 members and the donors are the ones who the EPTL and the 5 N-PCL are in these relevant circumstances here to protect.
6 It's not whether some unrelated third party was.

7 So, are you saying that, hypothetically, if you
8 have rogue officers doing things that harm the bottom line
9 of the NRA and let's say shareholders, if there were any, or 10 members or whoever wanted to sue and say this is wrong and 11 they wanted to enjoin the NRA to do something, that the --
12 you could not look at the conduct of the NRA board and say
13 they were asleep at the switch, they didn't do what they 14 were supposed to make them -- as Ms. Froman really
15 eloquently put it yesterday in her definition of fiduciary 16 duty, if you have an obligation to know, then you need to 17 find out.

18 Are you saying that if the jury finds that the --
19 obviously, if the board was complicit. But if the board, if 20 it had been complying with its obligations should have known
21 what was going on that, nevertheless, the NRA could escape
22 being found to have violated their of the statutes?

23 MR. PETERS: What we have proposed, I think we 24 don't object to the notion that the board oversees the NRA
25 and that there is a level of -- and that it is relevant and

BP

Proceedings

3999

1 should be and the jury should be instructed on the duty of
2 care that the board owed. I think our big --

3 THE COURT: Well, you just struck it. You didn't
4 replace it with anything.

5 MR. PETERS: I mean, we do -- there is another part
6 when you go to the EPTL.

7 THE COURT: I heard you argue before -- maybe this 8 is what you're talking about -- is that if the board makes 9 an affirmative decision, then you can bind the NRA to that
10 decision.

11 I'm looking at the board's failure to do something
12 as also a basis for a finding; and it is, I think, a basis
13 for finding liability, certainly as to the board.

14 MR. PETERS: Well, I think what we've spoken about 15 in previous briefs and I think what we put into this 16 combined jury charge is that the standard of culpability for 17 the board should be something like a gross negligence or a
18 care mark-like breakdown of a conscious failure to monitor
19 internal controls, something of that nature.

20 Even in states like -- even in, for example,
21 Delaware which is very persuasive in New York; it is usually 22 articulated -- the standard of culpability for the board is 23 usually articulated as being a gross negligent standard.

24 THE COURT: Now you want me though use common-law
25 principles instead of the statute? Because the duty of

BP

Proceedings

4000

1 directors under the N-PCL is the same duty as the duty of
2 officers. They have to discharge their respective positions
3 in good faith and with the care an ordinarily prudent person
4 in the like position would exercise under similar
5 circumstances.

6 So, why shouldn't that be the standard? That's 7 what I intended by this language.

8 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, can I make a quick point?

9 THE COURT: Sure.

10 MS. ROGERS: So, even in Delaware which Mr. Peters
11 is citing, the statutory codification of the business
12 judgment rule is similar. It talks about -- it uses
13 language sounding in negligence, good faith and reasonable
14 care. But all these commentaries on the business judgment
15 rule and the common-law articulation of it, nonetheless,
16 rises to gross negligence or bad faith.

17 So, to reconcile this, we looked up and submitted
18 to your Honor in one of the numerous letter submissions
19 examples of jury instructions in jurisdictions like this 20 that have the statutory codified business judgment rule like
21 ours, where the codification contains negligence language,
22 but the jury instructions contains gross negligence
23 language. So, that's one point I wanted to make.

24 The other point is that the business judgment rule 25 changes when you're talking about a board declining an

BP

Proceedings

4001

1 offer, making a discrete decision versus when the board is
2 being accused of a broad-brush application of its failure to
3 do or care about anything and the care mark line of cases
4 that Mr. Peters is citing represents Delaware's efforts at 5 articulating in what the standard for a board's abdication
6 should be, and it really does talk about almost conscious
7 failure to monitor. You don't care about internal controls
8 at all. You adopt none or you ignore them.

9 THE COURT: Willful blindness.

10 MS. ROGERS: Willful blindness, bad faith and we 11 cite in one of our letter submissions and would be happy to 12 provide to you there's a Southern District of New York case
13 involving a claim by a bankruptcy trustee of a nonprofit
14 that applies the care mark doctrine.

15 And so it's true that 710, 717 says this, and it is 16 attempting to just be clean and crisp and use the language
17 from the statute; but other jurisdictions with the same or 18 similar statutory language recognize that the way the 19 business judgment rule has evolved is to afford the more
20 corporate deference than that. And to instruct the jury is 21 when we do instruct the juries, using language that differs
22 from just the spare kind of negligence language we see here.

23 MR. PETERS: I think the impact of this is that 24 when you have misconduct that's hidden from the board of 25 directors, it becomes -- when you set up as a large

BP

Proceedings

4002

1 nonprofit like the NRA is required to do, when you set up a
2 system of internal controls and when people are, you know,
3 hide things and going outside of the internal controls,
4 there's -- it becomes extremely extraordinarily complex and
5 so that's why it's been our position and maybe it was a
6 little harsh to strike out this, the notion of the board
7 overseeing things, which we don't disagree with as 8 Ms. Rogers has said. But our view is that it should be 9 something like a care mark-like bad faith breakdown of 10 internal controls; but it becomes very difficult when you
11 have rogue agents within the NRA who are -- who are hiding
12 things, who are not -- who are not disclosing things to the 13 board so that the board can do its duty.

14 So, there's all sorts of complications which is why
15 we suggest that I think it should be something and, you
16 know, based on the fact that it generally is something more
17 such as a bad faith, you generally have to show bad faith in 18 circumstances like this.

19 THE COURT: Well, I put good and bad faith is in my 20 language.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I may? The definitive
22 statement on the business judgment rule from a unanimous
23 Court of Appeals speaking through Chief Judge Kaye is in 24 Grasso at page 71; and it basically says that the plain
25 language of these provisions reveals a legislative policy

BP

Proceedings

4003

1 decision to provide officers and directors of not-for-profit
2 corporations with the, quote, business judgment, unquote
3 protections afforded their for-profit counterparts. The 4 legislature specifically provided for the attorney general's 5 role as an overseer of not-for-profit corporations and 6 requires he prove an officer's fault to sustain these
7 claims.

8 So, we need a clear instruction to the jury that 9 the attorney general must prove fault.

10 THE COURT: There is a clear instruction to the 11 jury. That's what breach of duty is. That's what fault is.

12 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, evidently, it wasn't
13 that clear at this point with the statute because the Court
14 of Appeals in the First Department both had to clarify it
15 and it was a split decision.

16 THE COURT: I understand. Grasso is an important
17 case for lots of reasons. The holding in Grasso is that 18 unjust enrichment, which has no fault, can't be squared with 19 a statute which at that time had its own definition, and the 20 court used various words to describe it, but the statute is 21 what it is. It is not -- Grasso doesn't add words to it or 22 subtract words from it. In fact, the statute is different
23 now than under Grasso.

24 So, either way, I'm not going to use words that are 25 not in there like fault. We're already saying --

BP

Proceedings

4004

1 MR. CORRELL: Words "knowledge of unlawfulness" are
2 in there in Section 728-2 and we have a stealth 728-2 claim
3 here we're they're seeking a challenging of transfers of 4 assets, but without alleging there was knowledge of 5 unlawfulness on the part of the transferee. As the Court of 6 Appeals --

7 THE COURT: Look, I'm trying to keep it simple.
8 I've got your comments on that.

9 For the NRA, I would at least want to have as a
10 counterpoint to what I wrote, if you think that the 11 relevance of -- in this section which I think is an 12 important section to have in the instructions because one
13 juror already was a little confused about who was 14 representing who -- to have them understand who has 15 responsibility, there needs to be something in here because,
16 otherwise, it sounds like if you have a rogue officer, it is 17 per se immunity for the organization and that I don't think 18 is correct.

19 So, you, apparently, have something in mind to say
20 if the beginning of the sentence is "even if you find that 21 the exception applies, you may still find the NRA liable if 22 you find that --" and I wrote -- "the plaintiff has 23 established that the NRA through its board failed to 24 exercise ordinary care in good faith to oversee the conduct
25 of NRA employees and agents who abandon their interests."

BP

Proceedings

4005

1 If you have something different to offer that you
2 think is consistent with the statute, then somehow -- and
3 also with Kirschner and the like, let me know.

4 MR. PETERS: We certainly will. Thank you, your
5 Honor.

6 THE COURT: What's the State's view? I didn't ask
7 you on this.

8 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we agree with your 9 charge. We thought it walked line correctly. And we 10 addressed the adverse-interest argument that was made at the 11 beginning of this case and was quite an about-face by the 12 parties here. In -- I believe it is NYSCEF 2708, which was 13 a letter we filed on January 13th and at pages 3 to 4,
14 specifically and just to be clear.

15 THE COURT: I mean, I can't promise I can go back
16 through all of this.

17 MS. CONNELL: I don't want you to go back through 18 all of this, your Honor.

19 I would just say the language proposed by the NRA
20 uses terms like defraud. It uses rogue agents. It uses a
21 lot of terms that aren't applicable here, and we're talking
22 about the institutional liability.

23 THE COURT: I do want this to be balanced. I think 24 the -- this probably applies more to the EPTL claims because 25 the claims against the NRA under the N-PCL, I think it's

BP

Proceedings

4006

1 just the whistleblower and is it related-party?

2 MS. ROGERS: Whistleblower and related-party.

3 THE COURT: This is really about the EPTL.

4 MS. CONNELL: I think it speaks primarily to that.

5 THE COURT: I found based on our research that the 6 standard of good faith and ordinary care of a prudent person
7 is pretty much the standard that has been used for a long
8 time for proper administration. So, that's why I thought
9 that they kind of fit together.

10 So, it is an interesting question because what 11 we're really talk about now is when in the EPTL where they
12 define, let's assume, the NRA -- or not-for-profit
13 corporation for charitable purposes -- we'll not go back to 14 that -- to include the NRA, that can the NRA avoid liability
15 under that statute which, let's assume, applies to them.

16 Assume officers go rogue. Let's take their view of 17 it solely for their own purpose. If you get over that 18 hurdle, can the NRA avoid being found to have improperly
19 administered if the board operating according to its 20 fiduciary duties should have been overseeing this in a way
21 that would have or could have avoided the problem?

22 It seems to me pretty self-evident that there has 23 to be -- that has to be an obligation on a trustee under the 24 EPTL. Otherwise, now, again, is it willful blindness which 25 is the most extreme version of that where you kind of, you

BP

Proceedings

4007

1 know, you kind of know it but you don't want to ask? Or is
2 it the more general standard of good faith and ordinary
3 care.

4 I'm going to hear from the NRA and maybe the other
5 defendants, but you're okay with the ordinary care, good
6 faith?

7 MS. CONNELL: We're comfortable with it, your 8 Honor. I mean, would it be one hundred percent what we 9 planned for, no; but we think it is walking the line and we 10 accept it.

11 THE COURT: Well, I would be horrified if it was a
12 hundred percent of what you wanted.

13 All right, next, internal policies. Was that one
14 that you -- I don't know if there was a lot on that.

15 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, that was just a
16 linguistic change by the plaintiff because guidelines isn't
17 really a term that the jury has heard. We've been hearing
18 about internal controls, internal policies, that kind of 19 thing. This is really a language change.

20 THE COURT: I did see in addition it looks to be by 21 the defendants on the subsequent remedial measures, added a 22 phrase that said: "You may also consider subsequent 23 remedial or corrective actions undertaken by the NRA, and 24 the individual defendants in determining whether any 25 transactions or conduct impair the administration of the

BP

Proceedings

1 NRA's charitable assets.

2 So, that's just broadening that point to include
3 EPTL, I assume, which is I did intend.

4 MR. FARBER: I'm sorry, your Honor, what page are 5 we on?

6 THE COURT: 32 of the last markup.

7 MS. ROGERS: Right, it was just kind of integrating 8 what relevance to subsequent measures.

9 THE COURT: That's fine. I meant it to apply to 10 all claims.

11 What's the next big one?

12 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I just want to note
13 plaintiff's objection to that addition. I'm sorry, I didn't 14 realize we were up to that. I would say that this could 15 lead to confusion.

16 Your Honor already held at 2350 and at the 12/14
17 conference at pages 61 to 64, specifically, that the 18 plaintiff does not have to prove anything up to the date of 19 trial. That we're looking at a relevant period here. I
20 think this is confusing.

21 THE COURT: Well, yeah, look, I'll make the 22 language all work together. This whole section about 23 subsequent -- subsequent actions is very clear that the 24 relevant time period is what I'm calling the statute of 25 limitations period or something like that. The time of the

BP

1 violations.

2 So, all they're saying is that I think that they
3 can consider the subsequent remedial actions in the same
4 way.

5 So, I guess your point is it doesn't repeat that
6 point.

7 And now that I look at it, it may seem by where it
8 is added that it is not relating to at the time of the 9 alleged violations, but I'll take care of that.

1 MS. CONNELL: We want to make sure it's not related
2 to completed violations or it's not going to cure completed
3 violations.

4 THE COURT: Yeah. I'll see if I can fit that in,
5 but I -- now that I look at it, it looks like it's not
6 covered by that which is the whole point of the section.

7 So next, recognizing the time is marching on, maybe
8 there aren't -- maybe it's not anything that important. I
9 know there is a lengthy -- Mr. Correll, I think that your 10 comment has already been raised. There is a comment later
11 on about fault and Grasso, and I have read that carefully.

12 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: What's the next thing that anybody
14 wants to raise in person?

15 MR. FARBER: I just want to note my objection to 16 one thing the AG raised on Page 41.

17 THE COURT: Our page numbers are different.

18 What's the paragraph start with?

19 MR. FARBER: It's the carry-over paragraph under 20 Breach of Fiduciary Duty, N-PCL 717.

21 THE COURT: What's the first words of the 22 paragraph?

23 MR. FARBER: "To act in good faith requires 24 directors and officers."

25 THE COURT: Okay.

KM

Proceedings

4011

1 MR. FARBER: So there is some proposed additional
2 language. It says they also must insure the mission of the 3 organization, etc. I don't think that's consistent with the 4 law, and it applies an affirmative obligation to insure that
5 the organization is doing things, and this Statute applies
6 to their personal conduct. It's also inconsistent, your
7 Honor, with the instructions you have given that there is a
8 difference between complying with internal policies, bylaws,
9 etc. and complying with the Statute.

10 THE COURT: Yeah, I understand that. I understand
11 the point.

12 MS. CONNELL: Okay. Your Honor, we just wanted to 13 add it to make clear that the officers has to act in the 14 best interest and move forward in advance of the mission.

15 THE COURT: I think this sounds more like trying to 16 get back in The Duty OF Obedience. I just think it would be 17 terribly overbroad to suggest to the jury because they might 18 think this. If they find violation of Page 31 of X Bylaw,
19 that means it's a violation of law, and it doesn't. It may.
20 Nor does compliance with it mean that you didn't violate the 21 law. It's the law that matters.

22 I think I tried to balance all of this by saying
23 they can consider violations or compliance as relevant if 24 they want to.

25 This seems to suggest an independent violation of

KM

Proceedings

4012

1 duty if they don't insure compliance with, and I will, you
2 know, to make the point, ellipse out your list of things and
3 say the 5,000 pages of documents you've seen during this
4 trial showing rules and regulations.

5 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor --

6 THE COURT: Because that's what it says.

7 MS. CONNELL: I get that point, and I see the 8 wording could be overbroad when taken that way, but we 9 haven't been talking about 5,000 pages. And as we showed, a
10 lot of those policy books include superseded old policies.
11 We have been talking about I think four point policies.
12 That's all that's at issue.

13 THE COURT: I'm not trying to overcorrect, but it's 14 important that they, you know, really understand that the -- 15 or the policies and procedures can be used by either side to 16 make arguments, but they are not law.

17 And so I rather, if I'm going to overdo it in one
18 direction or another, hammer away at the legal obligations
19 and the legal requirements and then say that they have 20 flexibility to consider things like compliance with the 21 Bylaws and the like. You know, the Company can bring, you
22 know, maybe causes of action against a director for not 23 following Bylaws or shareholder might, but that's not what 24 this claim is.

25 Next.

KM

Proceedings

4013

1 MS. ROGERS: The NRA has one on Page 46, Wrongful
2 Related-Party Transactions.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Which paragraph?

4 MS. ROGERS: So we have inserted a paragraph, and I
5 believe Mr. Phillips has as well. There is an exception to 6 this in the Statute for di minimus and ordinary course
7 transactions.

8 THE COURT: I didn't have that in there?

9 MS. ROGERS: Perhaps the drafts got confused, but I
10 think perhaps ours, it didn't, and we added it.

11 THE COURT: Well, yeah. I mean, this should be a
12 -- I thought that I had -- I made a few cuts towards the 13 end. I did not intend to leave out the di minimus, and I'll 14 put that back in.

15 MR. FARBER: And Judge, that flows into --

16 THE COURT: I don't know if you have to have three 17 paragraphs about it, but you know --

18 MR. PETERS: Well, there is two aspects of the di
19 minimus defense. There is di minimus to the corporation,
20 and there is also di minimus to the related party, and so it
21 does require a couple of paragraphs. There is also --

22 THE COURT: Well, the Statute talks about both.

23 MR. PETERS: Yes. And then there is --

24 THE COURT: Why don't you use -- just use the 25 language from the Statute.

KM

Proceedings

4014

1 MR. PETERS: That's what we have done.

2 THE COURT: Okay. If it's in the Statute, I'll add
3 it.

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, can we -- can I finish?

5 THE COURT: Yep.

6 MR. FARBER: The -- this proposed addition here
7 that both we and the NRA suggested, it deals with both -- it
8 was something that dealt with the di minimus exception, but 9 also the fact that a transaction is not considered to be a
10 related-party transaction if it's the type of transaction
11 that would not ordinarily be approved by the Board in 12 ordinary course of business.

13 THE COURT: What does that mean? Is that in the 14 Statute?

15 MR. FARBER: Yes. It's definitional, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: A type of transaction that would not --
17 I see what you mean. If --

18 MR. FARBER: Something that would not ordinarily go
19 to the Board.

20 THE COURT: But is that relevant to any of the 21 actual transactions we have here?

22 MR. FARBER: Yes. I think there is an argument
23 that Mr. Phillips' post-employment consulting agreement is 24 not the sort of thing that a Board of Directors would 25 ordinarily consider.

KM

Proceedings

4015

1 THE COURT: Negotiated by the current sitting
2 treasurer?

3 MR. FARBER: I don't think Boards of Directors
4 routinely approved consulting agreements.

5 They can argue otherwise, your Honor, but I don't 6 think the jury ought to be instructed --

7 THE COURT: If that's what you're aiming at with 8 this, I would not include it.

9 I mean, I -- I think it couldn't be clearer that 10 that is exactly what the Statute is looking for.

11 I mean, let's take a worse example. You know, nest
12 feathering by a current senior executive to have on the way
13 out the door a lucrative contract post-employment I think is 14 absolutely what the Statute is looking at.

15 Now, you know -- so even if I were to add this if 16 you wanted me to, I would add that that transaction would be 17 something that the Board should look at.

18 MR. FARBER: But Judge, I think it was a factual
19 issue that the jury decides about whether you characterize a
20 particular agreement as nest feathering.

21 THE COURT: Well, what would they look at?

22 In other words, if a company recently ignores these 23 things; then therefore, it's not something they should look 24 at or it's what the law says they are supposed to look at.

25 MR. FARBER: I think it's whether a corporation

KM

Proceedings

4016

1 generally in the ordinary course --

2 THE COURT: I think what they are thinking about
3 that it's not something that would ordinarily be approved by 4 the Board is -- it is an off-shoot of di minimus. It's a
5 topic that they wouldn't, but I think it changes
6 fundamentally if it is a personal financial benefit to the 7 corporate treasurer.

8 MR. FARBER: It's an employment contract.

9 THE COURT: It's a post-employment contract
10 negotiated while he was still there. And now maybe if five 11 years after he retired, they wanted to go out and sign an 12 employment contract with him, it would not be something that 13 would rise to the level of the Board, but I just am not 14 buying it on this one.

15 MR. FARBER: I will just add this. The di minimus
16 exception is a separate statutory exception. This is --

17 THE COURT: Well, but I get it that this is a
18 separate statutory exception. What I am disagreeing with 19 you on is that as a matter of law, this could not be 20 considered a transaction that would not be ordinarily
21 approved by the Board unless what you think is that each 22 company gets to set it's own ordinary course of business on 23 which nest-feathering things it has to consider which I do
24 not think is the law.

25 MR. FARBER: Assume that it's not, your Honor.

KM

Proceedings

4017

1 There is still a factual issue as to whether or not
2 corporations generally would consider these things at a
3 Board level, and I would submit they don't.

4 I don't think -- I don't think Boards of Directors
5 sit around --

6 THE COURT: Well, look, like I said, if there was a
7 different related-party transaction that you had in mind
8 where, you know, an argument legally could be made that it's 9 not the kind of transaction that a Board would ordinarily
10 approve in the ordinary course, again, I don't think a 11 company can make it's own ordinary course of laxity and then
12 use it as a defense.

13 MR. FARBER: It's not a defense for the 14 corporation. It's a defense for the individual.

15 THE COURT: Well, either way.

16 So anyway, I get the point, but --

17 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, very, very quickly on 18 this.

19 I just wanted to -- well, what we are calling the 20 "di minimus" exception shorthand is actually like a
21 three-prong definitional exception in the N-PCL, and that's 22 why we have multiple paragraphs on it, but it's not just di
23 minimus small dollar. It's also transactions that would be 24 offered ordinarily to all NRA's members, for example.

25 THE COURT: Yeah. But what -- what's the point of

KM

Proceedings

4018

1 adding all of that ornamentation to this?

2 Is any of the transactions that we are talking
3 about things that are offered to all NRA members?

4 MR. PETERS: So yes, one of the things is that the 5 transaction constitutes a benefit provided to a
6 related-party solely as a member of the class of 7 beneficiaries of the corporation intended to benefit as an
8 accomplishment of it's mission.

9 So that would be something like a State Association
10 which the NRA is set up to support State --

11 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this.

12 If you have -- I don't know. I don't have the list
13 of related-party transactions. I don't know if I have seen
14 it yet or if I have -- it's buried in things.

15 If you have a specific -- I'm trying to keep these 16 instructions targeted. I think there is lots of parts of 17 this di minimus exception. Probably the reason I didn't put 18 it in is because I didn't think any of the transactions
19 could under any conceivable definition of the word being "di 20 minimus."

21 So what's the point of them hearing that there is a
22 di minimus exception if none of them are di minimus? Maybe
23 this is what happened to me on the last go around.

24 I will add parts of the di minimus exception if you
25 can demonstrate to me which related-party -- which

KM

Proceedings

4019

1 related-party transactions that are going to be on the
2 verdict sheet, they could -- that a reasonable jury could
3 conclude are di minimus. I'm not aware of them.

4 MS. ROGERS: So just as a housekeeping matter, we
5 had discussed this on the directed verdict motion, and it
6 came up on whistle blowers, but it's relevant here too.

7 There were a whole bunch of transactions and
8 persons that were listed in the contention interrogatory
9 responses which either no evidence was put in or we contend
10 not enough evidence was put in to require a response, and 11 the Attorney General was going to get back to us with a list
12 they were willing to pare down. If we could get that --

13 THE COURT: I heard a very small number, and I was 14 kind of surprised to hear that the HomeTelos one which 15 people spent a lot of time on is not on the list.

16 MS. ROGERS: It's not a related-party transaction.

17 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we agree with you that 18 it's under the definition of the Statute as opposed to the 19 NRA's policies.

20 HomeTelos does not meet the definition of 21 related-party transaction, so I think you could probably cut
22 maybe the portion talking about who is a family member from 23 the related-party transaction.

24 THE COURT: That was the only reason I put it in.

25 MS. CONNELL: I know. And when we saw that, we

KM

Proceedings

4020

1 thought if that's what it's talking about -- it's a
2 conflict-of-interest transaction.

3 THE COURT: So what I need from you then all to 4 determine, which of these statutory permutations are
5 relevant is -- I'm just listening to the evidence as it
6 comes in. I don't know what exactly at all it's about.

7 I heard that one and assumed it was going to be.
8 So give me the list of the related-party transactions and 9 the whistle blowers that you -- again, I'm just trying to 10 remember what the evidence was. But unless -- I guess on 11 this di minimus thing, this must have been my thinking.

12 Unless there is a reasonable argument that the jury
13 could conclude that the di minimus exception applies, I
14 don't see any need to waste their time with it.

15 MS. CONNELL: I agree with that, your Honor. We 16 have to list out the related-party transactions.

17 THE COURT: But if they want to argue that -- well,
18 if any one of them is did minimus, I'll add it.

19 MS. CONNELL: Okay.

20 THE COURT: Or that it was offered to everybody.
21 You know, that other part -- if the -- are the State
22 Association payments on the related-party transaction list?

23 MS. CONNELL: We have -- we have one that is a
24 payment to Mr. King.

25 Most heads of State -- the State affiliates are

KM

Proceedings

4021

1 unpaid.

2 THE COURT: Was Mr. King even part of -- for who?

3 MS. CONNELL: For the NRA.

4 THE COURT: But in your case in chief? No.

5 MS. CONNELL: He was not. But the minutes that are 6 admitted into evidence demonstrate that he was paid, and it
7 was a ratified -- allegedly ratified related-party
8 transaction.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Well, then if that one is one
10 that they want to at least argue is made available to 11 non-insiders on the same terms, then maybe I'll include that 12 one.

13 MS. CONNELL: Right. They would have to show that 14 there are others, and I think there is only one other, Scott
15 Bach, who got some. But just to talk about the di minimus
16 and the people who are intended recipients on benefits.
17 Usually, you're talking about something when you come to the 18 charity's event, you get a cup with a charity's name on it.

19 THE COURT: I know what it is.

20 MS. CONNELL: That's what we're talking about.

21 Your Honor, I just want to -- because I know it's 22 getting late. We do want to raise the clock and schedule
23 time, and we think it's really important.

24 THE COURT: Yeah. I had -- I had an amendment to 25 that myself.

KM

Proceedings

4022

1 Let me get Mr. Correll.

2 MR. CORRELL: This is an over-arching one, but it
3 appears at Page 43 of 81 which is in determining whether one
4 or more of the individual defendants violated their
5 fiduciary duty, you may, and it goes on throwing the word
6 "fiduciary" ahead of "duties."

7 THE COURT: Yeah.

8 MR. CORRELL: It's complicated.

9 THE COURT: You know what, I -- I kind of agree
10 with that. It's breach of duty under the N-PCL. It doesn't 11 use the word "fiduciary."

12 MR. CORRELL: It doesn't use the word "breach."
13 It's violation of duty.

14 THE COURT: Well, whatever.

15 MR. CORRELL: The closer we get to common-law, the 16 closer the camel gets under the tent.

17 THE COURT: I don't really think so because 18 whatever we call it -- I mean, it's an ironic thing that the 19 NRA could -- and at least based on some of the things they 20 have said, you wonder why they haven't, could bring a
21 common-law fiduciary duty claim against anyone they wanted
22 to and could have for however long they knew about it, but 23 the AG is limited to this.

24 And you know, I don't know -- it's not harmful
25 because the duty that they are talking about, you know,

KM

Proceedings

4023

1 isn't necessarily the fiduciary duty, but it is a statutory
2 duty. So I'm okay with that.

3 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor,

4 THE COURT: In terms of tweaking the time, look,
5 Ms. Connell, I know you weren't there when we went through
6 this.

7 MS. CONNELL: I was watching and sprinting to the 8 courthouse, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: What I had intended to at least think 10 about was trying to squeeze more time out of the day because 11 I'm still pretty focused on two things. That I think it
12 would be very helpful to have all the closings together on 13 the same day without impinging on the number of days that I
14 had indicated I would allocate for presentation of evidence
15 because I think inevitably if we do that, it impinges on the 16 defense's case which I'm very disinclined to do given that 17 the Plaintiff's case lasted until the fifth week, admittedly
18 partly because the Defendants put in a fair amount of stuff,
19 but I think what I was going to do, and this may not make 20 you all that thrilled is to say that instead of 60 minutes
21 because I do understand that the allocation that I came out
22 with would be three hours of Defense arguments and then one
23 hour for the Plaintiff. And on top of that, you know, the 24 Plaintiff has the burden of proof on 12 or 13 causes of 25 action, and they would have an hour for that. And a

KM

Proceedings

4024

1 defendant facing two causes of action has 45 minutes. It
2 does seem a little bit tilted, and I was again thinking that
3 75 minutes for the plaintiff after each of the defendants do
4 45 minutes means that we have to shorten our breaks and 5 extend our time and everything else. I don't know how many
6 other minutes in the day there are. I think giving less
7 than 45 minutes is going to be hard, but it's been a
8 six-week trial, and these guys have a right to defend
9 themselves.

10 MS. CONNELL: I agree that these guys have a right
11 to defend themselves, but I would like to share one thing
12 that I put together really quickly, if I may, and if I can
13 hand this up to the Court.

14 THE COURT: A demonstrative.

15 MS. CONNELL: A demonstrative. I just want to 16 point out that, and I have a number of them, but the 17 Defendants have used a tremendous amount of time on cross
18 during Plaintiff's case.

19 THE COURT: Well, we counted that.

20 MS. CONNELL: And we counted that.

21 See, when you say we took five weeks to put in our 22 case in chief, if you look at this chart, you will see that 23 a tremendous amount or I think I might have handed you the 24 wrong chart, but a tremendous amount of that time -- I'm 25 sorry. I don't want to --

KM

Proceedings

4025

1 THE COURT: Well, it's the total time through week
2 five in hours.

3 MR. SHIFFMAN: If there's -- if we or if the 4 Defendants take the next two days and put in three and three
5 quarter hours and the Plaintiff puts in 15 minutes, we will
6 be at equal amount of time by the end of next Wednesday.
7 And that means -- so if we then have Thursday, if we have
8 much less left on Thursday --

9 THE COURT: I never promised you entirely equal
10 time. It's just what it is. I can't fit the closing
11 argument in one day if I give everybody two hours. It
12 doesn't work. And then the only alternative is slopping
13 over into Friday which I'm trying to avoid, and I think an 14 hour and 15 minutes is a long time to talk to a jury.

15 MS. CONNELL: I understand it is, your Honor, but 16 this is a complex case with multiple claims against multiple
17 defendants; whereas, you yourself acknowledged the Defense
18 has large -- and the Plaintiff's case in chief have largely 19 been like ships passing in the night.

20 THE COURT: Well, but the difference is they each
21 have to come at it from a different point of view. You have 22 one point of view. And you know, candidly, I think I'm 23 confident you can.

24 So I don't mean this in a negative way, but if you
25 can't boil down your case to an hour and 15 minutes, I don't

KM

Proceedings

4026

1 know that the jury is going to absorb it any better in two
2 hours.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I don't think that we
4 have -- we have -- we have slavishly limited our crosses.
5 We have saved aside two hours because we thought it was 6 necessary. An hour and 45 minutes, fine. But 75 minutes to 7 cover what we need to cover is not sufficient and just to 8 avoid cutting in any time on Friday morning, we would submit
9 to you respectfully is prejudicial to the Plaintiff.

10 We truly have to go through a tremendous amount of 11 evidence and tie up the facts to the law here and some -- 12 and sum up, and we need that time, and we have allowed for 13 that time following your directions from the beginning of 14 this case.

15 THE COURT: Well, I did -- right.

16 MS. CONNELL: And your Honor --

17 THE COURT: But the amount wouldn't really quite 18 work.

19 You're saying if you just stopped cross-examining 20 everyone and just saved all of your time for a two-hour
21 argument meaning, what, I give the defendants 20 minutes a
22 piece?

23 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor. We -- we could start
24 on Wednesday and get done that way, and I'm not asking you
25 to cut off the defendants at all.

KM

Proceedings

4027

1 The defendants can use their time how they want,
2 and by the way --

3 THE COURT: These actually -- now, you're now
4 making a somewhat different point which may make sense.

5 In other words, if -- if the Defendants have run
6 out of time on Wednesday because you haven't done any cross,
7 then I'm not going to let them just go over their half just 8 to put more evidence in.

9 So if -- if that's the way it works and you're down
10 to the point where they have used half the trial subject to 11 the part they want to retain for closing arguments, I'm not
12 going to sort of increase their share of the time. But you
13 don't have a lot of wiggle room.

14 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we think we can fit -- we 15 think, first of all, we do have time left for cross. We 16 have been watching this.

17 THE COURT: You know, I'm sort of leaning toward 18 the hour and a half-ish thing, but if -- you would have to 19 get to the point where -- and so what that does, that means
20 so that the Defense would have to start their closing
21 Wednesday afternoon right after everything ends?

22 MS. CONNELL: If we want to not have any piece of 23 closing going on Friday morning, I think yes.

24 Your Honor, having all of these defendants and the 25 plaintiff close in one day when we have averaged about I

KM

4028

1 think four hours and ten minutes of actual effective court
2 time in a given time, that's what may have to happen.

3 So if it starts Wednesday afternoon, that's fine,
4 but if we are splitting time evenly, they should use their 5 time as they want.

6 But I just want to remind you Thursday afternoon
7 right after it was raised that time was running short for 8 Mr. LaPierre's case and that kind of thing, we heard at 9 length about Ms. Froman's childhood, her happy childhood,
10 the bathrooms at Harvard. They can use it as they want.

11 THE COURT: You have also put in hours of video 12 that seemed a little excessive to me, but --

13 MS. CONNELL: A lot of that was their cross.

14 THE COURT: I'm not criticizing anyone's use of 15 their time, but I'm also not -- you know, look, I think it's 16 fair if -- you know, the fact that you cross-examined less
17 doesn't mean they get more time for their case. I guess
18 that's true.

19 Look, there is things -- I will think about it.
20 So -- but the way you would do it I guess since you go last 21 is that any carry over over into Friday would be your 22 closing argument, part of your closing.

23 (Continued on the following page.)

1 MS. CONNELL: That's right, your Honor. And if we
2 have to break it into two days, that's what has to happen.

3 THE COURT: Look, I don't need to hear real
4 argument on this because I know what everybody's position
5 is. My goal is to be as fair as possible on the time to 6 present evidence.

7 I didn't mean to cause a substantive harm to either
8 side by my desire to have the closings all in one day.
9 There's something about the neatness of it that I find
10 pleasant and I think for the jury to come in fresh to hear
11 just instructions and get them up into the deliberation room
12 early morning. But, if we have still forty-five minutes of 13 closing to go the next morning, it just pushes it off.

14 Now, is that important enough to substantively harm
15 one of the parties? No.

16 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, one more thing I would 17 ask you to consider is that the AG gets the last word which 18 is very important and to give them a night to come back on 19 Friday and do the other part of their closing after they 20 have been able to analyze the other parties, would just be 21 horribly unfair and prejudicial.

22 THE COURT: That part I'm not -- look, everybody,
23 all litigators have thoughts about stuff like that. They're 24 going to do whatever good job they're going to do either
25 way. I'll think it over.

BP

Proceedings

1 So, my bid right now is still 75 minutes to do it
2 all in one day. I'll consider whether an hour and a half,
3 hour and forty-five or something like that, if you have 4 reserved enough time to reserve that.

5 MS. CONNELL: We have.

6 THE COURT: Whether there's a way to work that in 7 without -- I mean, my inclination is not to cut the time
8 that I've given to the defendants. Unless they use -- well,
9 I think forty-five minutes is pretty solid. I'll think it
10 over.

11 MR. FARBER: Judge, can I just add quickly?

12 I think there is -- if forty-five minutes per 13 defendant is three hours, seventy-five minutes is four and a
14 quarter. I know what we normally average during the time,
15 but there are more hours than that that the jury is here;
16 and even if that's extended a little bit, I think this can 17 amply be covered in a single --

18 THE COURT: I think we can mostly do it. Look,
19 what I have in mind -- and then I have to let everybody go
20 here -- is if we get started at 9:15 -- and we also have to 21 think about how much we're cramming into people's heads.
22 But, if we get started a 9:15, go really toward 1:00 for 23 lunch instead of 12:40 and we go toward now, that probably 24 builds in enough time, if nothing else goes wrong, to give 25 the State an hour and forty-five probably.

BP

1 MR. FARBER: Judge, even if you think about
2 starting at 9:30, one summation goes to 10:15. You take a
3 break. You're back at 10:30, do another summation. You can
4 get -- there's enough hours.

5 THE COURT: Count it out for me. Not right now.

6 MR. FARBER: 9:30 to 10:15 --

7 THE COURT: Counsel, I've done a lot of trials
8 here. I know how much time fits in our day. It's five 9 hours almost on the nose, maybe a little bit more of 10 actually human earth time, and that's not counting breaks.
11 So, I can't make or add time.

12 I'll even look into whether I can beg and plead for 13 us to stay a little bit later on Friday -- on Thursday,
14 which I've never been granted. So, I'll -- you're all
15 making reasonable points. I'll do the best I can.

16 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, can we have the witnesses
17 for the last two days or at least for Tuesday?

18 THE COURT: Well, they can share them with you
19 offline. I've got to let my team go here. Have a good 20 weekend.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: The jury will be almost all here. One
2 is running a little late, and they're going to let me know.
3 So I want to use our time efficiently because some of that
4 time was going to be me reading things which is going to be
5 complicated, but a few preliminary things.

6 I have some rulings that I am going to do later on 7 today during our break. I don't want to use the jury time
8 to do that, but some of the motions that have been lingering
9 and some of the letters back and forth have raised some 10 issues, but just some preliminary things.

11 First of all, just to confirm which I mentioned to 12 you I think on Friday. We are going to have an extended
13 trial day on Thursday till 5:30 to accommodate completing 14 the closing arguments on the same day. That will in my view
15 permit a more reasonable division of time between the 16 plaintiff and the defendants which as you recall I initially
17 scheduled as three hours for the defendants and only one
18 hour for the plaintiff.

19 Given that the plaintiff has the burden of proof and 20 has to address all of the claims in the case, that was 21 certainly not an ideal allocation from my perspective, but I
22 was trying to figure out how to make it work. But assuming 23 the plaintiff is conscientious in preserving its time based 24 on the cross-examination over the next two days which they 25 have assured me they will be, I will keep the defendants at

KM

4034

Proceedings

1 the three hours that I will allocate and use the extra time
2 that we have by extending the trial date till 5:30 to give
3 the AG as close to the two hours they had requested as we
4 can get, and it should work. I still have the defendants at 5 45 minutes each, but we will permit them to allocate that 6 differently if they agree to do so, but that's a lot of 7 time, you know, three hours in total, so I think that should
8 work. So that's my plan for Thursday assuming everything
9 goes right up until then.

10 Two issues for today. First I've seen a letter
11 writing back and forth about the audiotape of the purported
12 2019 meeting at Ackerman McQueen. I don't feel like I need
13 argument on that. I have the letters. I am not going to 14 permit that tape. I'm going to exclude that.

15 The NRA's proffering of an expert witness is both 16 too little and too late. The standard for admitting this 17 kind of evidence as we talked about when it first came up
18 where the providence of the tape can not be proven through 19 traditional means of interrogating the person who recorded
20 the conversation. The test is a stringent one as the Court
21 of Appeals has laid out in the People versus Ely case,
22 E-L-Y, 68 N.Y.2d 520.

23 The standard is it requires clear and convincing
24 proof that the tapes are genuine and that they have not been 25 altered. The Court did suggest that expert evidence can be

KM

4035

Proceedings

1 part of that showing, but here whether for logistics reasons
2 or whatever, the NRA had an expert seemingly a couple of 3 weeks ago, but the decision to hold off on disclosing the 4 expert until there is essentially no time for any other
5 defendant to prepare to depose that expert or to obtain an 6 opposing expert, in particular, Mr. Phillips, who raised the 7 objection forecloses the NRA from introducing that witness.
8 I might have been willing to make an exception from the 9 traditional rules of expert disclosure for late arriving 10 evidence like this.

11 I have seen some suggestion that the evidence was 12 available in October of 2023, but it may be more likely 13 January. But the onus in this situation was clearly on the 14 party seeking to admit this evidence to get all of that in 15 front of the Court and the other parties as soon as 16 possible, and I'm not even sure late January when the expert
17 report seems to have been done would have been sufficient,
18 but I'm certain that February 12, yesterday with the close
19 of evidence tomorrow is not. The prejudice to Mr. Phillips
20 a purported participant in the conversation is clear. He 21 has no meaningful opportunity to investigate this expert
22 testimony and prepare for cross, and let alone, obtain his
23 own expert. And frankly, the testimony from Mr. Winkler
24 does not add much to the case for admissibility. Although 25 he identified the voices, he himself had doubts about the

KM

4036

Proceedings

1 accuracy or providence of the tape and all of that is far
2 less substantive than the testimony that was considered not
3 to be as sufficient in the Ely case that was, you know, sort
4 of the leading case in this area.

5 In that case the defendant admitted several of the 6 statements made in the tape, and it was still found not to 7 be admissible. So for all these reasons, this late arriving
8 evidence with, you know, insufficient proof anyway but 9 certainly not sufficient time for the defendant who is the 10 most associated with at least the alleged conversation, I
11 think that the prejudice to that defendant is overwhelming.
12 So that's my ruling on that.

13 I received the expert slides for Mr. LaPierre. I
14 don't know whether there are objections to that or not. My 15 recollection is that way back in December or whenever we 16 talked about this, I indicated that, you know, a defendant
17 could spend some time at trial if it wanted to talking about 18 compensation. I think more as background than anything
19 else, but I would instruct the jury if you go down that path
20 and you decide this is how you want to spend part of the 21 last two days, but I would instruct the jury that there are 22 no claims in this case challenging Mr. LaPierre's salary
23 which seems to be the focus of the expert's analysis. And I
24 would also say that the analysis can not be -- the analysis
25 of the salary can not be used to argue that because he could

KM

4037

Proceedings

1 have been paid more theoretically that that is a defense or
2 a justification for any statutory violations that the jury
3 may find to have been committed independent of the salary.
4 So that's where I think I came out. That's my recollection,
5 and that's certainly what I think makes sense now having
6 heard the whole case.

7 So are there any objections to the slides other
8 than the one I just described?

9 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the State objects. We 10 haven't had the chance to go through the slides to give you
11 particularized objections, but we literally just got the 12 slides at seven in morning. We didn't get 24 hours notice
13 of this witness testifying as your Honor --

14 THE COURT: Is he testifying today or tomorrow?

15 MS. CONNELL: I don't know. I asked repeatedly for 16 clarification. We didn't even know he was on the slate
17 until like 4:00 yesterday afternoon.

18 I just think -- and then -- again, we asked for 19 clarification. I thought we got it from the NRA last night
20 of what today's witness lineup was, and that's what we 21 prepared for so.

22 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'd be happy to call him
23 tomorrow.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Look, I mean, if that's --
25 that's the way I'm going to position it with the jury. I

KM

4038

Proceedings

1 mean, it's -- I'm really not sure I understand what the
2 relevance is.

3 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the relevance is that
4 Letitia James made a statement in the press release the day
5 the action was filed that my client or the NRA paid my 6 client grossly excessive salaries and then they took this to 7 create this false narrative of greed and corruption and 8 exploitation of this corporation. A man who is paid below
9 market is not that man, and that's the relevance.

10 THE COURT: I haven't heard a word about grossly
11 excessive salary in this trial.

12 MR. CORRELL: The third word out of Monica
13 Connell's mouth was "corruption" in her opening statement.

14 Corruption implies exploitation of an organization
15 for personal benefit. There was none. It's a lie, and this 16 evidence tends to rebut that accusation and make the truth
17 of that accusation less likely.

18 THE COURT: Well, we had this long conversation I
19 remember when we argued it, but I assume you're -- would 20 your position be that if you paid an executive less than he 21 or she is worth or that maybe they could have gotten more,
22 that that's somehow a justification or a defense to what
23 would otherwise be unlawful? You know, I don't -- I know
24 you don't agree that that happened, but the whole case is is 25 about whether other benefits that are obtained were not

KM

4039

Proceedings

1 legitimate, were not approved. But you are not -- I don't
2 think you can argue that the fact that his salary may have
3 been lower than the -- than he possibly could have demanded
4 is a defense to any of that.

5 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, know intention of doing
6 that.

7 One of the main claims here is that in 2013 which
8 is outside the statutory period, Mr. LaPierre was presented
9 with a letter by the president of the organization asking
10 him to sign a letter to create a long-term relationship with 11 certain compensation so that the organization could have the 12 benefit of his name and likeness going forward. Those 13 amounts were reasonable according to my expert, and the 14 State is claiming that this was some sort of outrageous
15 self-dealing contract that was designed to benefit Mr.
16 LaPierre.

17 THE COURT: Well, my understanding is anyway,
18 they're focusing on the post-employment nature of that. Not
19 the -- I have not heard them ever say that the -- you know,
20 the Board approves salary was -- violated any statute.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, they are arguing -- they 22 put the $17 million figure in front of the jury and 23 suggesting that this $17 million aggregate figure was 24 evidence of gross corruption, and we have got to debunk
25 that. It wasn't. If he had left, he could have

KM

4040

Proceedings

1 theoretically made the same amount of money anywhere else,
2 and this was something that was presented to him as
3 something that was in the interest of the organization.

4 The letter states the NRA has determined that it's
5 in the best interest of the organization to enter into a
6 long-term relationship with you.

7 THE COURT: This expert is just talking about
8 salary while he was on the job; right?

9 MR. CORRELL: Correct. But what he is saying is 10 that if you look at his position, that a reasonable
11 compensation would be in this range or an amount would be 12 reasonable and that the amount that he was paid was less 13 than that.

14 THE COURT: All right. Well, look, like I said,
15 I'm going to cabin it at least and make sure they are not 16 confused by what they are hearing because -- and if you want
17 to use the dwindling sands of time that we have here to sort
18 of argue something that's not being challenged, I think I
19 have agreed that at a broad level, it's not unreasonable to 20 make the point that his salary was -- which is not
21 challenged was reasonable. That's just I guess a time
22 allocation question for you. So I don't -- I'm still not 23 going to exclude it, but I am going to make this clear to 24 them, you know, that it has -- that it's -- as I said,
25 it's -- by itself, the salary is not being challenged and

KM

4041

Proceedings

1 that it's -- it would, in any event, not be a defense to any
2 of the statutory violations that are being charged here
3 because I'm not familiar with that it would get to what this 4 expert is talking about.

5 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would have no objection
6 to the first instruction. I would have a strong objection
7 to the latter. It would amount to commenting on the 8 evidence and --

9 THE COURT: Why don't you explain to me how it's a
10 defense or justification to any of the actual claims?

11 MR. CORRELL: Not arguing that it is. What I'm 12 arguing is that it is a relevant fact that should be taken
13 into account in assessing whether this man discharged the 14 duties of his position in good faith and with the care an 15 ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise
16 under similar circumstances. It goes to did he do his job
17 and was he paid fairly. Did he ever ask for more? Was he 18 ever paid more than he should have been paid in salary? I
19 think it's a relevant fact that the jury can consider, and I
20 don't think that the Court should denigrate the evidence in 21 any way or to suggest to them that it is anything other than 22 what it is which is a datum which they can take into account
23 or disregard.

24 THE COURT: Take into account in deciding what?

25 MR. CORRELL: In deciding whether Mr. LaPierre

KM

4042

Proceedings

1 acted in good faith with respect to his job. Whether he did
2 his job honestly. And that's the critical question in this 3 case is did he -- is he an honest man or was he trying to 4 exploit this organization for his own?

5 THE COURT: There is no claim that the salary is 6 the part that was being challenged.

7 Again, I don't want to keep going on and on about
8 it, but I think the -- you know, it may be enough to say
9 that, look, there is no claim in this case about the salary.
10 The claim is about other benefits.

11 MR. CORRELL: That would be perfectly fine with me,
12 your Honor.

13 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor we would just note our 14 objection that it's irrelevant. There is no 515 claim, but 15 otherwise, thank you.

16 THE COURT: Yeah. All right. Those were the 17 logistical points. I have given my law clerk my rulings on 18 the couple of video clips which he will be communicating.
19 There weren't too many objections that were being dealt
20 with, so he will send those to you separately.

21 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, just one point. On 22 Friday at the end I had wanted to make a comment about the 23 jury charge. In particular, the Executive Law claim. I
24 don't know when the right opportunity would be. I don't 25 know if you prefer me to put in a letter. I just wasn't

KM

4043

Proceedings

1 sure.

2 THE COURT: I think either during a break or, you
3 know, a letter would probably be best because I want to make
4 sure we are using our court time with the jury, but you
5 know, we will have breaks and the like. I'm hoping to get 6 the revised instructions back around to you tonight. So if 7 it's possible to discuss it on the record, that might be 8 good.

9 MR. FLEMING: It's a short point, and I will be 10 happy to do that whenever is convenient.

11 THE COURT: All right.

12 Officers is the jury ready? Do we know? We are 13 still waiting.

14 Mr. Conley.

15 MR. CONLEY: Yes, your Honor. I just wanted to 16 flag we had sent an email last evening regarding objections
17 that we have to a number of exhibits that have been 18 identified by Mr. Correll that he will use with Mr. LaPierre
19 today.

20 THE COURT: You know, I thought I had gotten to 21 everything. I did not. I'm going to have to --

22 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, this is an easy one.
23 They are magazines which are self-authenticating as 24 periodicals under the CPLR. There can be no objection to 25 matters such as Time Magazine or GQ with articles featuring

KM

4044

Proceedings

1 Mr. LaPierre as a leading lobbyist.

2 THE COURT: Self-authenticating maybe. But what's
3 the relevance and why -- are you offering it for the truth
4 of what they say in the articles?

5 MR. CORRELL: No, I'm not, your Honor. What I am
6 offering them for is to see that Mr. LaPierre was on the 7 front cover of a lot of magazine which goes to the security
8 issue. It goes to the success issue. It goes to his 9 visibility.

10 THE COURT: The success issue meaning what?

11 MR. CORRELL: Successful in getting the NRA's name
12 and voice heard in this country.

13 THE COURT: Okay. But you are not going to have 14 dramatic readings from the articles.

15 MR. CORRELL: No. I am going to have a letter from 16 Oprah thanking him for appearing on the show. I am going to 17 have letters from Crossfire, a picture of Mr. Schumer
18 debating with Wayne LaPierre, things that put his job, his 19 life in perspective.

20 They are criticizing his entire life. They are 21 claiming that he ran this place like a scam foundation for 22 45 years. It's just not true. It's a bald face lie, and 23 they know it, and they don't want the stuff to come in 24 because they are afraid the jury will see it and understand
25 who this man really is.

KM

4045

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: What was the other objections?

2 MR. CONLEY: Aside from the --

3 THE COURT: So the Constitution and the Declaration
4 of Independence.

5 MR. CONLEY: Yes.

6 THE COURT: You're objecting on hearsay grounds.

7 MR. CONLEY: Relevance, your Honor, for those. But
8 the primary objection that we had actually relate to work
9 papers for expenses that Mr. LaPierre has paid back to the 10 NRA. These -- almost all of the work papers were produced
11 well after the close of discovery.

12 THE COURT: Work papers. They are his own work
13 papers or somebody else?

14 MR. CORRELL: I can address that, your Honor.
15 These were papers prepared at the direction of Mr. LaPierre
16 reflecting the documents he looked at, the numbers in the 17 documents and the descriptions that he gave from his 18 recollection refreshed by invoices and expense reports that 19 he used to identify invoices that he wanted to pay so that 20 no one could say that he had received a benefit that he 21 shouldn't have received.

22 THE COURT: Who were they -- who is -- who is the 23 scribe?

24 MR. CORRELL: The scribes were different. At one
25 point, it was Susan Dillon from the Brewer Firm. At one

KM

4046

Proceedings

1 point it was Lisa Correll a paralegal in my firm, and there
2 may have been -- I think at one point Vanessa Shahidi who
3 works at the NRA may have helped put a spreadsheet together
4 just to try to track the information that he was producing.
5 This was an ongoing process in which Mr. LaPierre was making
6 a good faith effort to go back all the way to 2000 to 7 identify anything that he -- anyone could say he received
8 that he shouldn't have received.

9 THE COURT: When were these prepared?

10 MR. CORRELL: Pardon me.

11 THE COURT: When were these prepared?

12 MR. CORRELL: Over a course of years, I believe. I
13 think they started -- I don't have them in phone of me, but 14 I believe the first one may have been before I was involved
15 in the case.

16 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, I can speak to that.

17 So these were prepared over the course of years
18 as -- Mr. Correll says and most were produced to the 19 Attorney General in 2022. So there is --

20 THE COURT: Most were?

21 MS. ROGERS: So the late production that they are 22 talking about is this is we have discussed this before. So
23 Sonya Rowling in November gathered up all of these 24 spreadsheets, some of which were a year old and did auditing
25 and forensic testing to make sure, you know, we said this

KM

Proceedings

1 flight was business and not personal. Let's see where his
2 calendar says he was on that day. That kind of testing.
3 And her testing memoranda with a supporting compilation of 4 these materials of various vintages was produced to the 5 Attorney General in December with an offer of a supplemental
6 deposition of Ms. Rowling. We litigated this when Ms.
7 Rowling testified. The document came in. These are 8 supporting papers.

9 THE COURT: These documents didn't come in then
10 though.

11 MR. CORRELL: I believe that all of the 12 spreadsheets were attached.

13 THE COURT: Spreadsheets. But the ones that you're 14 trying to introduce now were not. If I have already 15 admitted them then --

16 MR. CORRELL: Correct. And this is the underlying 17 foundation that I said I would lay in my case in chief which 18 is Mr. LaPierre telling the jury exactly --

19 THE COURT: The testimony is one thing, but there 20 are some additional notes that you're proving as new 21 exhibits that were not produced until December?

22 MR. CORRELL: I'm not sure of the answer to that.
23 I'll have to check and --

24 THE COURT: Well, that's -- if I have already 25 admitted something, you don't haven't to admit it again.

KM

4048

Proceedings

1 But if these are documents that were prepared a long time
2 ago, sounds like some of them might have even been prepared
3 before Mr. LaPierre was deposed. But in any event, I don't 4 really understand what the rationale would be for not 5 producing them sooner.

6 MR. CORRELL: In some cases, Mr. LaPierre did not
7 have control over whether they were produced or not.

8 THE COURT: Yeah. I was wondering about the 9 privilege issue around this.

10 Look, I am going to have to look at these in 11 context, and I don't want to spend what will be the next 12 15 minutes debating it while the jury waits. So I'm going
13 to defer ruling on those until -- I'll just have to deal
14 with it when it comes up.

15 MS. CONNELL: I just want to note that those items
16 that were admitted through Ms. Rowling, you admitted them
17 for a very, very limited purpose because it was hearsay on 18 top of hearsay on top of hearsay.

19 You specifically said this is to show that the NRA
20 engaged in some process in December.

21 THE COURT: That's a good reminder. Look, I'm 22 going to -- I'm a little skeptical about this coming in, but 23 I need to look at in context.

24 So jury is ready? Let's get -- what's the first 25 thing up?

KM

4049

Proceedings

1 MR. CORRELL: Mr. LaPierre.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Let's get the jury.

3 I will just make an evidentiary call when you
4 proffer the exhibits, and I will just look at them real
5 time. I understand the point they were not produced until 6 late, perhaps because of some back and forth with the NRA.
7 I don't know.

8 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

9 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
10 courtroom.)

11 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please have a
12 seat. I wanted you to know that I'm very impressed but not 13 surprised that you all braved the weather to get here
14 together today. I appreciate it.

15 One small scheduling thing for this week. As you
16 know, the plan is to have closing arguments on Thursday.
17 And given the number of people who have to do them and my 18 desire to have them all on one day so you can hear them all
19 consecutively, I have gotten permission to stay till 5:30 on 20 Thursday. So just an early heads up. We are going to have 21 sort of an extra half hour to 40 minutes on Thursday night
22 so we can complete the closing arguments and be ready for 23 Friday will just be instructions and then your 24 deliberations. Okay. Rather than breaking them up.

25 All right. Next witness for the Defense.

10 DIRECT EXAMINATION

11 BY MR. CORRELL:

12 Q Wayne, how are you feeling today?

13 A I'm doing okay.

14 Q Are you -- have you been taking any medication that 15 might affect your testimony today?

16 A I'm not taking it today. I have been taking 17 medication.

18 Q And what kind of medication?

19 A Amoxicillin, Cipro, Artemisia, Minocycline, a whole
20 bunch of drugs for late-stage Lyme Disease.

21 Q And what effect do those drugs have on you when you're 22 talking them?

23 A They make pain -- it's like there is an internal war
24 going on within your body, and it's also going to the 25 neurological receptors between my eyes and my brain which makes

KM

1 it difficult for me to see. And when the eyes work so hard to

1 Q And does it have any effect on your eyes and your
2 muscle control?

3 A It does. It looks like I'm squinting to see.

4 Q Is it sometimes hard to keep your eyes open?

5 A Yes.

6 Q So, we're going to try and go as long as we can this 7 morning, and the Court has accommodated you by allowing us to 8 start first thing. We're going to try and go as long as we can;
9 and then when we have to stop, we'll continue tomorrow morning,
10 first thing.

11 A Thank you.

12 Q Is there a time of day in which you feel better with 13 this condition?

14 A Yes, in the mornings.

15 Q So, let's start at the beginning. Where were you born?

16 A I was born in Schenectady, New York.

17 Q And how long did you live in Schenectady?

18 A For approximately, five years.

19 Q And where did you go after Schenectady?

20 A My parents moved to Roanoke, Virginia.

21 Q Had your father been employed in Schenectady?

22 A Yes, he had, by the General Electric Company.

23 Q And had your mother been employed in Schenectady?

24 A Yes, by General Electric.

25 Q And had you been employed in Schenectady?

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1

2 A Not at five years old.

3 Q When you got to Roanoke, what did you do there?

4 A I went to elementary school, junior high school and 5 high school.

6 Q And did you have any work experiences there?

7 A I worked -- I don't think it was paid -- handing out
8 campaign leaflets before I went to -- in high school.

9 Q And did you go on to college?

10 A I did.

11 Q Where did you go?

12 A Sienna College in Loudonville, New York.

13 Q Is there any reason you picked that college?

14 A I know it through my dad, and I was up there visiting 15 it and I liked it and I went there.

16 Q Had he gone there?

17 A Yes, he had.

18 Q When had that college be established?

19 A I think it was established in the mid thirties.

20 Q Would 1937 ring a bell?

21 A I think that would be about right.

22 Q When did your father attend?

23 A He attended before World War II. He went off to the 24 war, and then he came back and finished up at college.

25 Q So, he would have been one of the first students to

BP

2 A One of the earlier years, yes.

3 Q And it was a Franciscan college; correct?

4 A Yes, it was.

5 Q And the Franciscans are an order of the Catholic
6 church, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Was your father Catholic?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Was your mother Catholic?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Are you Catholic?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Are you a practicing Catholic?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Did you have any work experiences when you were in 17 college?

18 A Yes, I did. I unloaded banana boats down at the port
19 of Albany. I sold shoes for a while.

20 In the summers, I worked in the factory, General
21 Electric.

22 Q Were you proud to work in the company that your father
23 worked for?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And your mother worked for?

BP

4055

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Yes.

2 Q And were they proud to have their son working in the 3 same company?

4 A Yes, I believe so.

5 Q Tell us about unloading banana boats, what kind of work
6 was that?

7 A Well, the port of Albany was a nonunion port at that 8 point. So you go down and stand in line and if they -- if they 9 saw you out there, a whole bunch of people and they'd say you,
10 you, you; and I ended up getting picked and they got to know me,
11 so I got picked quite often.

12 Q And what time did you have to go up in the morning to 13 get in the line?

14 A About 6:45.

15 Q And how long were the work days?

16 A They were till five o'clock.

17 Q Was it cushy work?

18 A No. You'd be down in the hull of the ship lifting up
19 pallets and lifting up things to be lifted out of the ship.

20 Q What kinds of people were you working with on the ship?

21 A Just average working people that wanted the job like
22 me.

23 Q You said you sold shoes. Did you go door to door?

24 A No. I worked in a Florsheim store in Colony Center.

25 Q Did you do anything else in college, any other work

1 experiences?

2 A I -- as I said, I worked in the summers in the fact
3 /TOEUR at General Electric.

4 Q Did you have any political experience as you were
5 working -- while you were at Sienna?

6 A Yes, I did. I served as an internship for a year in 7 the offices of two state senators in the New York State
8 legislature.

9 Q What were their names?

10 A Senator Stewart and Senator Gallagher.

11 Q What districts did they represent?

12 A They represented Harlem and the Bronx.

13 Q Did you have any exposure to constitutional issues
14 while you were there?

15 A Yes, I did. They were both heavily involved in the 16 civil rights movement. A lot of the civil rights leaders use to 17 come into the office to say hello, Julian Bond. That's how I 18 met Roy Innes with the Congress of Racial Quality and we became 19 lifelong friends.

20 Q Anyone else that you ran into or that came by when you
21 were working as an intern?

22 A Vernon Jordan came by to say hello to the state
23 senators, and some of the boxers, too. Roy Innes was one of the 24 top amateur boxes in the country, also.

25 Q What kind of work did you do as an intern?

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Whatever they gave me to do, research, legislative
2 projects, answer mail, answer telephones. It was basically
3 whatever they were looking in turn to do.

4 Q What were you studying at Sienna College at the time?

5 A Political science and education.

6 Q And had you given any thought at that time what you
7 wanted to do when you grew up?

8 A I thought at that time I wanted to be a college
9 professor is what I was thinking.

10 Q And did you graduate from Sienna?

11 A Yes.

12 Q How did you do academically? Did you make the Dean's 13 list?

14 A Yes, I did.

15 Q Did you pursue any education after graduating from 16 Sienna College?

17 A Yes, I did. I went to Boston College for a Master's 18 degree.

19 Q And that is a Catholic college; correct?

20 A Yes, it is a Jesuit college.

21 Q And that's another order of the Catholic church;
22 correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What kind of course work did you do at Boston College?

25 A Urban affairs, political science, international

1 affairs, the whole spectrum.

2 Q Was there a formal title for what you did, a
3 concentration or a major, was it government or politics?

4 A It was government, government politics.

5 Q And how long did you spend there working on a Master's?

6 A I was there for a year doing my Master's degree.

7 Q Did you work during that time?

8 A I did some phone banks.

9 Q For whom?

10 A The police.

11 Q Is that an association of police officers?

12 A It is one of the police associations. It was raising
13 money for the officers.

14 Q And what did you do after -- did you get your Master's?

15 A I did.

16 Q And what did you do after that?

17 A I went back down -- well, before I went to Boston
18 College, when I graduated from college, I went down to Roanoke
19 and I worked on a democratic congressional campaign in the 6th
20 District of Virginia for a candidate named Willis Anderson --

21 Q Can I stop you there and just ask what you did on that 22 campaign?

23 A I was a campaign coordinator working on everything from 24 media to covering the district with mail, and direct mail, and 25 leaflets and working on 1.

BP

4059

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And did the candidate win?

2 A No, he lost.

3 Q What was your next experience in politics?

4 A Well, the campaign manager was a country store owner,
5 and he was named Vic Thomas and he was the -- his store was 6 almost like a social work agency. He helped so many people and 7 I kept saying to him, Vic, you ought to be the candidate. I'm,
8 like, you're better than anybody I've ever seen with people and 9 he's like I don't know. I'm like, you really ought to run; and 10 we went back and forth, and he ran for the state legislature and 11 I worked with him on that campaign.

12 Q How did you help him on that campaign?

13 A I basically did the advertising, the speech writing,
14 the brochures. I walked the entire city of Roanoke with him and 15 along with his wife and his kids going door to door, and he won 16 that race.

17 Q Did you know the city of Roanoke from having grown up
18 there?

19 A I did.

20 Q Did you focus your attention on any particular part of 21 the city or did you help all over the city?

22 A Well, we were all over the city, but we particularly 23 concentrated on the heavily democratic areas, make sure we got 24 on the phone.

25 Q What was the result of that election?

BP

4060

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A It was a multimember district. There were four
2 candidates, and Vic ended up surprising every one because they'd
3 say was going to finish last, and he led the ticket and he won.

4 Q Did you continue to work with him after he was elected?

5 A I did.

6 Q What kind of work did you do for him?

7 A I worked in the legislature doing legislative
8 assistant, as his legislative aide.

9 Q And this is the Virginia state legislature; correct?

10 A Yes, that's correct.

11 Q How long did you stay with him?

12 A Well, I thought I was -- I still what was intending to 13 be a college professor, so I was going to go to Emory. I went 14 down to Atlanta. I decided to go back to Boston College; but I
15 stayed there for a year, and I worked a number of odd jobs.

16 Q And did do you the course work for a Ph.D.?

17 A I did. I went back to Boston College, did the course
18 work for a Ph.D. while I was doing also political consulting
19 work.

20 Q And did you write a dissertation?

21 A I did not. I did not finish a dissertation.

22 Q Why not?

23 A I was doing political consulting. I was on the 24 democratic national committees, national consulting list. I was 25 in Washington. A candidate was interviewing me as to whether he

BP

4061

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 wanted to hire me or not, and I had known the NRA people through
2 the legislature with Vic Thomas, the State delegate who was an
3 NRA member.

4 And so I walked across the street from the DNC to say
5 hello to the folks at the NRA I knew, and they were looking for 6 a democrat to come work for them and they offered me a job.

7 Q And did you take it?

8 A I did. I thought about it for awhile because I didn't 9 know about lobbying. I mean, my love was the legislative 10 process, politics and all that; but I thought about it and I
11 took it.

12 Q What about the candidate that was interviewing you to 13 see whether he wanted you as a consultant for his campaign, did
14 you like that candidate?

15 A Yes, but I ended up -- I ended up going to work for the 16 NRA. He ended up going to winning the campaign and served for 17 Congress for a number of years, so I guess he did fine without 18 me.

19 Q What was the first position that you occupied at the 20 NRA, the title?

21 A It was a state liaison. I covered ten states in the 22 northeast part of the United States.

23 Q And who had held that job before you, do you recall?
24 I know it was a long time ago.

25 A I'm not sure because it was the only year before they

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 formed the Institute for Legislative Action, so I think I got in 2 on the ground floor.

3 Q And so was your position in the Institute for 4 Legislative Action as opposed to sort of the main NRA?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And could you explain to the jury the difference
7 between the main NRA and the Institute for Legislative Action?

8 A Well, the Institute for Legislative Action is part of 9 the NRA that was set up to do the political legislative 10 activities of the NRA.

11 The main part of the NRA does all the programs. It
12 does the magazines. It has the advancement office. It has the 13 whole general operations division which does the safety
14 training, education, instructors, hunter education, all of those 15 type of programs.

16 Q Where does the lobbying activity occur? Does it occur
17 in the main NRA or ILA?

18 A It occurs in ILA.

19 Q And so your position was director of -- would you tell
20 me again the title, please?

21 A No, not at first. It was state liaison. I was the 22 person that was delegated to work with the members in those ten 23 states, to also work with legislatures, legislatures on the 24 interaction between the members and the legislators and work on 25 the legislation and the politics.

2 A I did. I really enjoyed it because I got to work with 3 the members, which are the life and blood of that organization.
4 Without the members, it doesn't exist.

5 Q And was your performance recognized in that position?
6 Were you -- did you receive any performance reviews?

7 A I think I did and I -- yes, I believe I did.

8 Q Did you get any -- well, let me ask you this way.
9 Did you feel like you performed the duties of that
10 position?

11 A Yes, I did.

12 Q And how long were you in that position?

13 A One year.

14 Q And then what happened?

15 A I was promoted to director of state local affairs,
16 which was all 50 states in the legislatures.

17 Q And what were your duties in that position?

18 A To supervise the legislative and political activities
19 in all fifty of the states for the NRA working with the other
20 folks in the office that were doing what I used to do, which was 21 handling part of the country. And then also worked with the 22 membership in those 50 states, which as I said is the life,
23 blood of the organization.

24 Q And who did you report to?

25 A I reported to the director of the Institute for

BP

1 Legislative Action.

2 Q Who was that at the time?

3 A At that time, it was Neal Knox.

4 Q And did you have any direct line of reporting to anyone
5 else in the organization?

6 A Not a direct line, but I was also kept in very close
7 contact with Harlon Carter who was the EVP of the organization
8 and was very involved in overseeing the entire organization.

9 Q And what do the initials EVP stand for?

10 A Executive vice president.

11 Q How long had he been the executive vice president?

12 A Oh, I don't know. Going back some time in the I think
13 mid 70s. He was there when I arrived.

14 Q And what year was it when you arrived?

15 A January 1st, '78.

16 Q How long did you stay in that position?

17 A I stayed in that position a year.

18 Q Then what happened?

19 A I was appointed director of government affairs for the
20 NRA.

21 Q Is that a job you wanted?

22 A No, not really. I grew up doing the state
23 legislatures, as I said, the politics in the state legislatures.
24 I really enjoyed the states and I wanted to stay working the 25 states as opposed to working at the federal level. But, they

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 told me if you want a job tomorrow, it is in the federal
2 affairs, not state and local, so I took it.

3 Q What were your duties in the new job?

4 A It was to oversee the NRA legislative and political
5 operation on Capital Hill and with federal regulatory agencies
6 and all of that.

7 Q And what year was that?

8 A 1980.

9 Q 1980. Did you have any success in that position?

10 A I think so. I mean, I worked hard. I always thought I
11 just let my performance speak for itself, and I guess the two 12 biggest successes we had was I worked with Senator Hatch where 13 there was an issue whether the 2nd Amendment of the constitution
14 was an individual right or whether it applied only the 15 government.

16 So, I worked with Senator Hatch and Senator DeConcini
17 who was the minority democrat on the committee in charge to have 18 the subcommittee on constitution investigate an issue -- they,
19 ultimately, issued a report concluding that it was an individual 20 right, which helped lay the beginning of a scholarship for 21 the 2nd Amendment being an individual right, not a government
22 right.

23 Q Did you begin to receive any recognition for your work
24 on behalf of the NRA in terms of publicity or attention from the 25 press?

BP

4066

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A I did. It was particularly involved with a bill called
2 McClure-Volkmer bill, which it was a complete rewrite of the 3 1968 Gun Control Act, and I had worked with Senator Birch Bayh,
4 a democrat of the Judiciary Committee.

5 We held hearings because the bill was too broad.
6 Everything was a federal felony. If you made the most minor
7 mistake, it was federal felony. There were no misdemeanors.
8 The bill needed to be rewritten to be fair to normal people that 9 made an honest mistake.

10 I worked with the Treasury and Justice Department to 11 get the law enforcement amendments in the bill; and we,
12 ultimately, passed that bill and I received recognition for my 13 work on that bill in the media and the press.

14 Q Would you turn your attention, please, to Tab 60 in

1 Q "Taking on Congress the How-to's of Lobbying?"

2 A Yes.

3 Q Is that the article that you were featured in?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And was in else featured in the article?

6 A Yes. I was surprised I was even in the article. I
7 didn't know how I even got there because the other folks were,
8 like, legends in the lobby business. Tommy Boggs, Evelyn Dubrow
9 who represented the unions, and one of the top tax lobbyists in 10 the country.

11 Q If you could turn your exhibit to page 3. You see a
12 strip of photographs.

13 Can you identify the person in that photograph? Just 14 page 3 at the bottom.

15 So, 1, 2, 3 -- there you are. You're on the right page
16 now, left-hand side. It's a film strip excerpt?

17 A On the film strip, yeah, yes, that's a picture of me.

18 Q Okay, and the article here is listed as I believe in -- 19 I'm looking for it. The Features, page 23, it says "Thumping in 20 the special interests of John Jenkins talks to four top
21 lobbyists to find ut the tricks of taking on Congress,"
22 correct?

23 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor, to reading

1 of anything. It is just the fact that there's an article
2 that he's in about this topic.

3 So, overruled.

4 Q Then, lastly, I would just ask you to flip over to page
5 23.

6 A Yes.

7 Q Tell me -- I guess flip over, that's the beginning of 8 the article, "The Law Choreographers Tips from the Top."

9 And then flip over to page 28, there's another little
10 photograph.

11 Can you identify the person in that photograph?

12 A That's my photograph on that page.

13 Q And what follows underneath that is a little discussion
14 about -- it is an article about you; correct?

15 A Yes, and the legislative and lobbying work.

16 Q And did you sit for an interview for that article?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Have you ever sat for an interview before?

19 A Pretty early on. I had done interviews when I was a
20 state and local lobbyist, but I never sat for an interview like
21 this.

22 Q So, last request is to flip to page 30, and there are 23 other photographs there. Can you tell me who the person is in 24 those photographs?

25 A Yes, those are -- those are photographs of me.

1 Q So, I wanted to end on a better photograph. All right,
2 so let's close up --

3 THE COURT: I think it's generally true that there
4 are no good photographs in the 1970s of anyone.

5 MR. CORRELL: That is correct, your Honor. We'll
6 stipulate to that. You wouldn't want to see mine.

7 Q All right, if you could flip to the second tab, please.
8 Do you recognize this document?

9 A 61.

10 Q Tab 61, yes.

11 A Yes.

12 MR. CORRELL: And do we have an exhibit number for 13 that? 227, WLX 227.

14 Q Do you recognize this document?

15 A Yes, I do.

16 Q What is it?

17 A That is the report of the subcommittee on Constitution
18 of the United States Senate that I was talking about exploring 19 whether the 2nd Amendment was an individual right of citizens or 20 whether it was only the government's right.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move this into evidence
22 as a public record.

23 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Sustained.

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, there was testimony with

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Mr. Cox about whether he knew about this work that was done
2 by the NRA. He said he didn't.

3 This has Mr. LaPierre's handwritten notes on it,
4 and he has personal knowledge that he worked on this and was 5 actively involved in this. This is a public document that
6 is directly relevant to his qualifications to serve as EVP
7 and to the success of his work in this position.

8 THE COURT: There's been no challenge to the -- his
9 qualifications I don't believe.

10 MR. CORRELL: I'll move very quickly through this,
11 your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Sustained. The case is not about this 13 or his qualifications.

14 Q Mr. LaPierre, did you work with the Senate committee on 15 this project?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And was any -- was there any benefit to the NRA that 18 was derived from your work on this project?

19 A Well, I believe we were doing our -- one of our core
20 missions besides the programs and the education. It was 21 advocacy for the right of individual citizens to be able to own
22 a firearm under the constitution.

23 Q Did you receive any recognition for your work on this
24 project?

25 A Not particularly. I think NRA was very, very proud of

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 it, and I think it had an impact in terms of helping to lay the 2 scholarship which would later be used in court cases on this
3 issue.

4 Q Did the NRA firearms civil rights legal defense fund,
5 ultimately, reprint this report?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And why?

8 A Because it was a meaningful scholarship in terms of 9 laying the groundwork for, as I said, for research and -- and 10 could be cited in further court cases about the meaning of the 11 2nd Amendment.

12 Q Would you turn your attention to the document behind
13 Tab 62, please.

14 MR. CORRELL: Do you have an exhibit number,
15 please? 227 was marked for identification I believe, so
16 we'll go to the next, 228:

17 Q Do you recognize this document?

18 A I do.

19 Q What is it?

20 A It is a reprint of part of the Senate's subcommittee on 21 constitution report. It was done by the NRA firearms civil 22 rights legal defense fund.

23 Q Was this prepared at your direction?

24 A It wasn't prepared at my direction.

25 Q Who directed this be prepared?

BP

4073

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A I'm not sure.

2 Q Do you recall seeing this when it came out in 1982?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And do you remember using in connection with your
5 efforts to advance the mission of the NRA?

6 A Yes, I think the NRA used it as an advancement of the 7 2nd Amendment meaning to be an individual right. At that time,
8 a lot of the prevailing belief was the 2nd Amendment applied
9 only to the government, not individuals and there were supreme 10 court justices saying that. And we didn't believe that and this 11 was along with a lot of other things, part of the beginning of 12 really laying the legal scholarship for further Supreme -- later
13 Supreme Court cases.

14 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move this into evidence.

15 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 Q Did there come a time when you were involved in trying
18 to increase support for the U.S. Shooting team?

19 A Yes. I always tried to increase support for the U.S.
20 Olympic Shooting team.

21 Q Why was that?

22 A One, we were proud of them. They were representing the 23 United States of America. They were great young -- great group
24 of young men and women that needed support.

25 NRA at that time was actually the governing body for

BP

4074

1 the U.S. Olympic Shooting team and, and I think it, it -- I
2 mean, it reflected well on America. It reflected positively on 3 the NRA, the fact the NRA was supporting it.

1 Q And was there a -- back in those days, can -- you had
2 mentioned magazines before. Did the NRA have magazines that it
3 published back then?

4 A Yes, we did. We published the American Hunter, the 5 American Rifleman, and those were the two big ones back at that
6 time.

7 Q And who was president in 1984?

8 A President Reagan.

9 Q And did you hatch a scheme to try to get him to pose
10 for the cover of Hunter Magazine back then?

11 A We did. We wanted to do a magazine cover with 12 President Reagan, and there was a -- there was a constant battle
13 going on within the Reagan administration between certain people
14 that didn't -- President Reagan was in support of the NRA, but 15 there were certain people that didn't support the NRA or the 16 administration, and they didn't want a picture taken with 17 President Reagan that could be used on the cover. And the U.S.
18 Olympic Shooting Team happened to be coming to town, and there
19 were some folks in the Reagan administration that Faith
20 Whittlesey in particular who said, well, they can't deny a 21 president a picture with the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team, and if 22 that picture is taken, NRA could get a copy of that and you
23 could put that picture on the magazine which is what we did.

2 THE COURT: Sustained.

3 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, this is relevant to show
4 Mr. LaPierre's growing success in dealing with difficult
5 issues -- political issues on Capitol Hill. I think it's 6 directly relevant to the question of whether he has 7 discharged the duties of his position in good faith and with 8 appropriate care over the length of his 44-year career.

9 I think there is no prejudicial effect to the 10 Government from having this document put before the jury. I
11 think they are entitled to see it.

12 THE COURT: Sustained.

13 Q Would you turn to the third sheet of paper in this 14 document and tell me if you recognize the person in that 15 photograph.

16 A I'm sorry. You lost me. Where are you?

17 Q Wally Schirra.

18 A Yes. He was one of the astronauts that was in featured
19 in On The NRA campaign.

20 Q And what was he On The NRA campaign?

21 A The On The NRA campaign was a campaign that was devised
22 by I believe it was when Harlon Carter was still EVP of the NRA
23 to show that the NRA was normal people of every, as I've said
24 before, on every city block in America, of every race, of every 25 income level, of every occupation, and we -- and it covered the

KM

1 -- covered the whole spectrum of America.

2 Q Who came up with that idea?

3 A Ackerman McQueen which was the ad agency at that time
4 that Harlon Carter hired.

5 Q How long had Ackerman McQueen been the advertising
6 agency for the NRA?

7 A I believe Harlon hired him sometime in the 8 mid-seventies.

9 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move the admission of 10 this photograph as evidence of work done by Ackerman McQueen
11 who was a central character in this case.

12 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Worked on in 1982?

14 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, they continued to work
15 for the organization long after that. And one of the key
16 allegations here is that Ackerman McQueen was used to 17 conceal expenses.

18 THE COURT: I still don't see the relevance of a
19 1982 photograph. Sustained.

20 Q Mr. LaPierre, did there come a time when you were 21 recognized in your Roanoke Times and World News for your efforts
22 as a lobbyist on behalf of the NRA?

23 A Yes. They wrote an article on me about a local kid
24 that was doing that.

25 Q Would it be fair -- well, it was June 1, 1986 when that

KM

1 article appeared?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And at that point in your career, had you ever had a
4 death threat against you?

5 A I don't know that at that time I had had a death
6 threat. My profile was increasing, but I don't know that I had 7 had a death threat at that time.

8 Q And at that time did you travel by commercial aircraft
9 when you traveled?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And did you have a security detail back then?

12 A No.

13 Q And why was that? Was the issue that you were working 14 on as controversial then as it is now?

15 A It was not controversial.

16 Q Was there bipartisan support for appropriate
17 legislation addressing gun policy issues back then?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And did you work with people on both sides of the 20 aisle?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Ever work with Teddy Kennedy?

23 A I met him several times yes.

24 Q Ever work with Bob Dole?

1 Relevance.

2 THE COURT: Overruled. I'll let you continue doing
3 this background, but I assume we are going to segway into 4 our case.

5 MR. CORRELL: Yes, your Honor, we would move faster
6 if I could just do my show and tell, but I'll try to do it
7 through Mr. LaPierre himself. The jury can see it in 8 photographic form, and we could accelerate by a factor of 9 ten.

10 A My main interaction with Senator Kennedy is when I was 11 in Senator Dole's office one day, and we were trying to get
12 records put into the National Check Bill which is what they do a 13 check before you buy a firearm, and Senator Kennedy walks into 14 Senator Dole's office and says, I can't support this.

15 Q Did he give a reason for why he couldn't support it?

16 A Yes because of the HIPAA laws and the fact that mental 17 health records, he believed should be private and not put into 18 the system.

19 Q So turning to Tab 64 which is WLX 230. Do you
20 recognize that document?

21 A I'm sorry. 64.

22 Q Yes. Behind Tab 64. It says "Virginia" at the top.

23 A Yes. That, as I say, was an article from the city

25 kid that was doing this job.

5 Q Were they proud of their son?

6 A I think so.

7 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I could just move this 8 into evidence.

9 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance and hearsay.

10 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it shows the role this 11 man was playing early on which later grew into a much
12 broader role with him wearing many, many hats.

13 THE COURT: I don't think that there are any claims

15 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the claim is that he

6 that -- where he ended up delivering most of the speech to my 7 surprise.

8 Q Was he an environmentalist in terms of preserving land

4 primaries like New York, and he -- I got a call from the office
5 saying that they were going to change their position on the

22 Q Mr. LaPierre, would you -- did there ever come a time

24 A Yes. Numerous times.

25 Q What was the purpose of appearing on CBS on behalf of

KM

1 the NRA?

2 A To be the voice of our members. I always viewed one of
3 the roles of the organization -- as I've said, the life blood is 4 our membership and to be their voice and to amplify their voice.
5 I mean, it's one of the reasons people join any advocacy groups,
6 whether it's Sierra Club, the -- you name it. The NRA -- pick
7 your issue. They join those groups to be their voice.

8 Q Is this something you wanted to do?

9 A No. I've never really been a media guy, but I -- I --
10 it was something I really had no training in, but I understood
11 that if I was going to do my job, it was one of the things I
12 needed to learn and needed to do.

13 Q Did you appear on CNN in this -- I'm talking back in 14 the eighties.

15 A Yes.

16 Q And was there anyone else in the organization that was 17 willing to step up and appeared on TV and speak for the Second
18 Amendment?

19 A No. I was the first person to do media for the NRA,
20 and I continued for a long time to be the only person doing
21 media for the NRA.

22 Q And was that written in the Bylaws that it was your

5 Q And what was that cost?

6 A Well, as the issue got more controversial, I mean, I
7 gave up my anonymity. People would recognize you everywhere,
8 everywhere, based on the fact they had been watching TV or 9 reading their newspaper, and it -- as the issue got more
10 antagonistic, it became more -- it entailed more controversy.

13 Q When was that?

14 A Oh, my gosh. I can't -- I appeared I think twice on 5 Q So at this time you're head of ILA; correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And were you doing anything with celebrities at this
8 point to try to assist or to benefit the NRA?

9 A Yes, I was. I was working the Hollywood community.
10 There were folks out in Hollywood that was speaking out against 11 the NRA because people had different opinions. They didn't 12 agree with the NRA. I didn't want to concede Hollywood to the 13 other side. I thought they had a tremendous influence on 14 American cultures. I mean, it's wide -- as I have said, people
15 hire celebrities to do ads for them on all kind of commercials,
16 and there were tremendous amount of people in Hollywood that 17 owned firearms and enjoyed the shooting sports, and I wanted to 18 recruit them and also show that they were participating in the 19 shooting sports as a mainstream activity in American society and 20 also show their identification with the NRA to help keep the NRA
21 in the mainstream of American society which I always felt the

4 of movies in the fifties and sixties. Greatest Show On Earth,
5 he was on that and later on, he did a bunch of shows that

13 work with the NRA to present shoots for celebrities?

14 A Yes, he did. We started in the late eighties or mid to 15 late eighties with a Charlton Heston Celebrity Shootout in Los 16 Angeles. We invited all kind of celebrities down to it that -- 17 and it turned out to be a big success. It was a -- it was a

19 but it was a competition.

10 A Yes. They did a program, and they did a -- we did a

12 Q Was that used to benefit the NRA by increasing its 13 visibility in the Hollywood community?

14 A Yes, it was. It actually showed how many people -- I
15 mean, 40 million people at that time were engaged in the 16 shooting sports, and it -- and it showed -- Hollywood was no
17 different. There were tremendous amount of people out in 18 Hollywood that tended to enjoy the shooting sports.

8 organization.

9 Q And do you believe as you sit here today that that was 10 in part due to the efforts you had made on behalf of the NRA up
11 to that moment?

12 A Yes, I do because I actually didn't want the job. I
13 tried to- I wanted to stay in the legislative political area. I
14 really loved the legislative process. I loved the back and 15 forth, the give and take of all of it. I really enjoyed working 16 with all the people I had a chance to work with, and I tried to 17 recruit a number of people.

18 I actually had Congressman John Dingle agree to take
19 the job for one night till his wife talked him out of it, and I
20 talked to people that were high up in the Army, the Navy, tried
21 to get them to do it. People kept saying no, Wayne. Look, you
22 know out -- they know you. The members know you. You have been 23 out doing media. You have been out doing speeches for the 24 members. The membership really knows you. You ought to be the 25 guy, and we will support you, and that's how I ended up being

1 the candidate.

2 Q Did you have any reservations about stepping up to the 3 top position of EVP of the NRA?

4 A I did because it really wasn't -- it wasn't my 5 background. It really wasn't what I loved doing to tell you the 6 honest truth and -- but I also knew that there needed to be a
7 strong NRA in terms of membership. In terms of NRA had lost
8 about a half a million members. NRA was running at a deficit.

9 I knew that if the organization as a whole was to 10 succeed, it needed to have a strong NRA. And ultimately, as I
11 have said, even though I tried to recruit other people, that's 12 how I ended up running for the job.

13 Q So would it be fair to say that you put the interest of 14 the NRA ahead of your own interest with respect to that 15 decision?

16 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

17 THE COURT: I'll give you that one.

18 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: You can answer.

20 Q Did there come a time --

21 THE COURT: You can answer it.

22 A I mean, I did because I really wanted to stay director
23 of the Institute For Legislative Action because that was my 24 background. That was my expertise, and that's what I really
25 enjoyed doing.

1 Q Did there come a time when you -- when the duties --
2 well, let me ask you this.

3 When you took the job, what -- did you have any 4 understanding as to what the official duties of the job were?

5 A Well, before that, it had been basically just managing 6 the internal day-to-day affairs of the association, the 7 magazine, overseeing some of the marketing. It wasn't so much
8 outfacing. It -- when I got in there, I kind of changed the job
9 description.

10 Q And what was the new job description -- what did the 11 job description become?

12 A Well, I felt that as I've said many times before today,
13 the strength of the NRA was in its members. The strength of the 14 NRA was being the voice of its members. I felt that if we were 15 going to be successful and grow the organization, I needed to be 16 out there in front of America, whether it was TV, radio, whether 17 it was newspaper. I needed to be out there doing speeches all
18 over the country. I needed to be out through meeting with 19 donors. I needed to be directly involved with the fundraising,
20 the advertising, the marketing, just everything that involved
21 the outfacing responsibilities to celebrities to mainstream -- I
22 always felt the way the NRA would lose is if it got pushed to 23 the fringe. And I always felt that one of my major jobs at the 24 NRA was to keep the NRA as to what I always believed it was was 25 the mainstream of American Society that supported the right to

1 own a firearm under the Constitution and supported the programs
2 and the shooting sports. And so I expanded into things like
3 that had influence on the culture like NASCAR and the NFL

5 still worked Hollywood and all of that out-facing type stuff.

6 A I did. We debated numerous times.

7 Q Please turn your attention to the document that appears

9 Do you recognize that document?

10 A I do. That is a debate with Charles Schumer from "Meet

13 A Yeah, I believe he was a Congressman at the time. I

5 Q Your haircut has improved, but it is now the nineties.

6 All right, could you just very briefly tell us kind of 8 civil or was it angry people shouting at each other?

9 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevance.

10 THE COURT: I'll overrule for now. I'm not sure

11 where it is going. You can answer.

12 Q Please answer.

13 A It was civil. I mean, that was a time back in 14 Washington when people didn't all hate each other. I mean, it

15 was a time when democrats and republicans got along with each

16 other, even though they might have disagreed on issues.

17 It was debated where people would disagreed with -- I

18 worked with NRA. They disagreed with me. I could still be 19 friends with them.

20 I mean, I was friends with Sarah Brady. I mean, it was 21 just a different times. It was a better time in my opinion than 22 what it is now.

23 Q Did you work with Sarah Brady to try and find common

24 ground on the gun policy issue?

25 A We did.

BP

4095

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And did you have any success with that?

2 A The one we had the -- we ended up disagreeing on what
3 was so-called the Brady bill, which was a wait. It did not have 4 a check. We thought it ought to be with a check without the 5 wait because there were people walking through restraining
6 orders all the time and threatening people, and we thought some 7 people might need to buy a firearm for an immediate threat.

8 So, we put an amendment on that bill to -- when the 9 technology became available to do a check, if you walked into a
10 gun store and you wanted to buy a firearm, they would do an 11 immediate check on your background and if they got a yellow
12 flag, they got an additional three days.

13 Q Did you view as part of your duties as the executive
14 vice president reaching out to communities that were not 15 typically represented previously within the NRA?

16 A I did.

17 Q And what steps did you personally take with regard to 18 that outreach?

19 A Well, I always thought that if -- I mean, the truth is 20 NRA from its beginning was always one of the most diverse
21 organizations in America going back to its founding. I mean,
22 we had African American members going back to the very beginning
23 of the NRA. We probably had Hispanic members, but the media
24 kept trying to characterize the organization as an organization
25 of white men and which it wasn't.

BP

4096

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 I mean, it had a proud history with the African
2 American community going back forever, and I wanted to make it
3 more diverse in terms of women, in terms of Hispanics. I wanted
4 it to look like America.

5 Q Did there come a time when you were invited to attend a
6 dedication of a memorial to African Americans who had served in 7 the armed forces?

8 A I did. NRA, we -- some of our proud members were 9 Buffalo soldiers which were some of the original African 10 American regimens that were formed during the Civil War. They 11 were going to -- Colin Powell was working on dedicating a 12 monument in Leavenworth, Kansas, for the Buffalos, to honor the 13 Buffalo soldiers.

14 So, I got NRA involved with that. We contributed money
15 to that, and it was amazing to me. Some of the Buffalo soldiers
16 actually showed up. And I remember one in particular and I
17 named James Madison, pulled out his membership card. He was 18 94 years old, and he pulled out his membership card from 19 fifty years ago.

20 So, we were proud to be involved in that monument and 21 the dedication of it and proud of those -- to have those Buffalo
22 soldiers as NRA members.

23 Q Did you arrange for the NRA to publicize the dedication
24 ceremony and the group in your official publications?

25 A Yes.

5 riflemen from our magazines. It went in all of them, and
6 there's actually a picture of the James Madison I was talking
7 about. I said fifty years. It was forty years.

8 Q And the -- how many people received the magazines from 9 the NRA? What's the circulation, do you know? What was it back
10 then?

11 A Well, most of our members did. I think about this
12 time, which would have been -- I think you said it was '92. It
13 probably would have been about just under 3 million.

14 Q Did you see it as part of the mission of the NRA to 15 educate people about the history of the armed forces and their 16 use of firearms?

17 A Yes, that's in the Bylaws.

18 Q And did you see it as part of your mission to support
19 other charitable organizations who were doing good work that 20 shared common interests with the NRA and supported the mission?

3 The attorney general has taken the position that
4 there was something wrong with the NRA providing donations
5 to other organizations, and this is evidence that they did
6 it routinely for years.

7 THE COURT: I still don't see -- it's not that it
8 is uninteresting, but I don't see it having anything to do

10 I'll let you have the testimony for background, but

14 There's an picture of Charlton Heston in here who 15 became the president of the NRA, and this goes to the role
16 that the president -- I'm sorry -- became the president, to 17 the role that the president was asked to play and the 18 question of the scope of Mr. LaPierre's duties is at the 19 heart of this case. The question is, did he do his duty to 20 this organization.

21 And this is part of showing what the duty of the 23 THE COURT: Still sustained.

2 Q And did you have any involvement with working with
3 Louise Mandrel to further the mission of the NRA?

5 NRA worked with Louise Mandrel on a celebrity shoot that was
6 held in Nashville, which was primarily from the country music
7 community and benefitting the Boy Scouts of America.

8 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, * move the admission into 19

21

So, I'm going to run through two motions that are pending and one issue that the parties have been debating in connection with instructions.

22

24

The first is the NRA's motion to dismiss the EPTL claims based on vagueness.

25

4101

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 This was a pretrial motion to dismiss Motion
2 Sequence 86. We had a memorandum in support. I had
3 deferred the opposition briefing; although, I got briefing
4 on at least a procedural issue through letters and the 5 parties have continued to send me things on this issue, and 6 I think it is ripe for decision since I think I have the 7 NRA's position pretty clearly.

8 The motion is denied on two independent grounds:

9 First, it violates the single motion rule
10 contained in CPLR 3211(e), which states that "no more than 11 one such motion shall be permitted."

12 The NRA moved to dismiss the EPTL claim in 13 June 2022, having previously filed motions to dismiss prior 14 versions of the complaint. In that 2022 motion, the NRA
15 raised a number of challenges to the EPTL claim and the 16 proposed relief sought by the attorney general, but it did
17 not include any argument that the statute was 18 unconstitutionally vague.

19 I denied the motion on the merits, and that ruling
20 was recently affirmed on appeal.

21 That decision is at 222 A.D.3d 498, First
22 Department (2023).

23 The current motion is not based on new facts or a
24 change in the law, and the NRA's vagueness argument clearly 25 could have been asserted in one of its earlier motions to

BP

4102

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 dismiss or even for summary judgment, I suppose, but was
2 not.

3 I would cite the Landes case, L-A-N-D-E-S, from the
4 First Department, 137 A.D.3d 694, where the court said
5 "Given that defendants had the full opportunity to raise
6 their current CPLR 3211(a) arguments on their original CPLR
7 3211(a) motion to dismiss, the IAS court correctly denied
8 the motions as violative of the single motion rule of CPLR
9 3211(e)."

10 Instead, the motion was filed on the eve of trial.
11 This is, in my view, precisely the inefficiency that the 12 single motion rule was designed to prohibit. The NRA's
13 suggestion that this motion is a challenge to the court's 14 subject matter jurisdiction is both I think inaccurate and 15 irrelevant. I don't think it is a challenge to subject
16 matter jurisdiction.

17 In any event, the CPLR 3211 simply says that 18 certain kinds of motions don't have to be raised in the 19 answer at the answer stage. You can raise it later. It is 20 not an exception to the single motion rule.

21 In any event, so it doesn't mean that a successive 22 motion under 3211 would be the right vehicle to raise this 23 issue anyway.

24 So, it's procedurally improper first of all. Even 25 if it was not procedurally improper, the motion also fails

BP

4103

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 on substantive grounds. In a nutshell, the NRA argues that 2 because the phrase "proper administration" is not defined in 3 the statute, and that the attorney general has not 4 promulgated rules and regulations to elaborate on its
5 meaning, and therefore the statute fails to provide adequate
6 notice or guard against discriminatory enforcement and 7 therefore is unconstitutionally vague.

8 I disagree with that argument. The phrase "proper
9 administration" has been used for many years in the context
10 of trusts and estates, which is the context of the EPTL.

11 I have relied on authorities in that area
12 to develop jury instructions that apply a straightforward
13 standard that has been applied to trustees for many years.

14 By contrast, the cases on which the NRA relies,
15 principally, address the use of the phrase "proper
16 administration" in other statutes as a generic principle,
17 and in some of those situations courts have questioned
18 whether it was clear enough.

19 For example, in People versus Pickett, 19 NY2d 170
20 from 1967, the Court of Appeals addressed a statute that 21 criminalized a "wilful act designed to interfere with the 22 proper administration of public assistance" programs. And 23 even there, the court found that any concerns about 24 vagueness could be addressed by construing the statute
25 consistent with the legislative intent to prohibit only acts

BP

4104

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 motivated by fraud.

2 Very different in our case. Here, I think we can
3 apply traditional and well-established law imposing a duty
4 of good faith and ordinary care on trustees, and that 5 undermines any argument that the statute is 6 unconstitutionally vague. So, the motion is denied.

7 Next, moving to the motion by the individual
8 defendants for a directed verdict, or at least a portion of 9 that motion that is focused on the EPTL claims brought 10 against those defendants under -- and the motion is for a 11 directed verdict under CPLR 4401. The reminder of the 12 motion is deferred to posttrial, but that branch of the 13 motion is granted.

14 Unlike the NRA's successive motion to dismiss, this 15 motion was brought appropriately at the close of the 16 plaintiff's case at trial. And unlike the NRA's motion,
17 this one has merit as applied to the EPTL claims asserted
18 against the individual defendants, which are in any event
19 largely, if not entirely, duplicative of the remaining
20 claims against them under the N-PCL statute based on exactly
21 the same conduct.

22 Granting this portion of the directed verdict
23 motion will also serve a salutary effect of uncluttering the 24 claims and providing a clearer path for the jury to make its 25 decisions without having though grapple with a morass of

4105

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 similar claims against the same people for the same conduct
2 seeking the same damages, but based on statutes with
3 different names and somewhat different language but the same
4 basic standard of conduct. I'll go through that in a little 5 bit more detail.

6 First, as I mentioned when this motion was first
7 made, I listened intently during the attorney general's case
8 in chief at trial for any evidence that would support a 9 reasonable jury finding that the individual defendants are 10 trustees under the EPTL statute. And "trustees" is defined 11 in relevant part to include individuals "holding and 12 administering property for charitable purposes, whether 13 pursuant to any will, trust, or other instrument or 14 agreement, court appointment, or otherwise pursuant to law
15 over which the attorney general has enforcement or 16 supervisory powers." And I did not at the time and I have 17 not since found any such evidence having been introduced.

18 Obviously, there's no will, trust, other instrument
19 or agreement, or court appointment applicable here. So the 20 only source of a trustee designation would be the general
21 phrase "otherwise pursuant to law."

22 In that regard, the cases on which the attorney
23 general principally relies are readily distinguishable. The 24 first one Schneiderman versus Lower Esopus Riv. Watch, Inc.,
25 which has been sometimes abbreviated as ELRW, the individual

BP

4106

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 defendant there as reflected in the court opinion was sued
2 as an alter ego or that the entity was an alter ego of that
3 individual and he was essentially the sole decisionmaker of 4 the charitable foundation, which itself had failed to make
5 the required filings under the EPTL for years.

6 The AG also relies on People versus Trump, 62
7 Misc.3d 500, Supreme Court, New York County (2018).

8 In that case, the claims were asserted against the 9 named founder of the Trump Foundation and his children who
10 were essentially the board of directors and sole driving
11 forces of the Foundation. Those cases bear very little 12 resemblance to this case.

13 Here, the individual defendants are employees of 14 the NRA. To be sure, they're senior employees and corporate
15 officers even, but employees nonetheless with specified
16 spheres of operation and subject to the overarching
17 governance of the board of directors. While one can imagine
18 a situation which an officer or employee would be so clearly
19 tasked with "holding and administering" charitable assets so
20 as to satisfy the statutory definition, in my view listening
21 very carefully the evidence here does not support such a
22 finding as to these individuals.

23 The attorney general suggests without support in 24 the case law or statute that "each of the individual
25 defendants is a trustee because they played a substantial

4107

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 role in the administration of the NRA and were granted
2 substantial authority over the administration and
3 disbursement of its charitable assets" or because they 4 "manage the organization and administer or control its
5 finances." That's from a letter at NYSCEF 3021 at pages 2
6 to 3. But if the statutory phrase "holding and 7 administering property for a charitable purposes" were so
8 broadly defined it would apply to essentially every officer
9 and many senior employees, essentially, every charitable 10 not-for-profit corporation in the state, likely in the 11 thousands of people. I think it could apply just as easily,
12 for example, to all members of the Finance division of the 13 NRA who were charged with monitoring and overseeing accounts
14 payable and expense reimbursements.

15 Such a vague and boundless definition of "holding 16 and administering" in this context in my view would raise 17 legitimate due process concerns, with those thousands of 18 individuals having no effective notice of their obligations
19 under the statute, as that can be contrasted with the N-PCL
20 statute under which each of them knows or should know that 21 they are bound, what they are bound by when they accept a
22 position as an officer of a not-for-profit corporation.

23 I've read all of the trial court decisions cited by 24 the attorney general in which individuals were found to be 25 trustees based on their employment or association with

BP

4108

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 not-for-profit entities. They uniformly contain little, if
2 any, analysis of the issue; and most of them arose at the
3 motion to dismiss stage, rather than on a trial record as I
4 have.

5 I do want to make clear that this holding is 6 limited to the specific facts and evidence presented in this 7 case and does not suggest a broad restriction against 8 applying the EPTL to corporate officers or directors. Under 9 different circumstances and, more importantly with different
10 evidence, a different result might well be appropriate.

11 Second, and independently, the EPTL claims against 12 the individual defendants are duplicative of the N-PCL
13 claims against those same defendants. The basic factual
14 allegations are the same, the monetary damages are the same
15 and the standard of care based on the traditional definition
16 of proper administration in the estate context is 17 essentially the same as that contained in the N-PCL.

18 Although the attorney general suggests somewhat
19 broader injunctive remedies might be available only under 20 the EPTL, specifically a lifetime ban on working for other
21 charitable organizations doing business in New York, in my 22 view that is not a persuasive basis to retain it as a
23 separate claim.

24 Although all of the individual defendants deny that 25 the attorney general has the authority to seek a lifetime

BP

4109

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 ban on their employment under any of the statutes at issue,
2 Mr. Phillip's counsel makes the correct point that "there is
3 no relief that the plaintiff is seeking under EPTL Section
4 8-1.4 that would not also be recoverable under the court's
5 equitable powers as to the plaintiff's N-PCL claims."

6 That's from their letter at NYSCEF 2925.

7 Third, in looking at the overarching statutory
8 scheme governing charitable not-for-profit corporations, it
9 seems clear that the design is to subject individual
10 officers and directors to the statutory duty of care and 11 liability set forth clearly as to them in Section 717 and 12 720 of the N-PCL and various other sections of that statute.

13 The NRA, by contrast, is not subject to certain of 14 those positions, including 717; but instead is expressly
15 within the definition of trustees contained in the EPTL,
16 with the overarching obligation of properly administering
17 the entity's charitable assets. While again I am not making
18 a broad ruling that officers and employees cannot be 19 trustees, the statutory scheme provides to me a further
20 basis for narrowing the charges so that the individual
21 defendants in this case are answerable for their behavior
22 under the N-PCL and the NRA is answerable for its behavior
23 under the EPTL.

24 Fourth, and last, the winnowing or pruning of these 25 charges also reduces in my view the risk of jury confusion

BP

4110

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 that may arise from having multiple claims against the
2 individual defendants based on the same conduct, seeking the 3 same damages, under the same standards of care essentially
4 with different statutory language.

5 So, I think for all of those reasons, this is one
6 of those cases where the winnowing process I think is 7 appropriate at the directed verdict stage, and it will have 8 a beneficial effect on the case as a whole.

9 So, the directed verdict as to the individual
10 defendants is granted in that limited respect, and those -- 11 it's three claims in total, one against each of the 12 individual defendants under the EPTL, it is dismissed.

13 Next, there has been a lot of letter writing
14 recently about the NRA's objections to being labeled in the 15 jury instructions or elsewhere as a "charitable 16 not-for-profit corporation" under the N-PCL and as 17 administering "charitable assets" under the EPTL.

18 With the latter, the NRA's view is that they are 19 only administering charitable assets in the narrow respect
20 of when the NRA's general funds are used in support of NRA
21 Foundation related projects. I find those arguments
22 collectively to be unpersuasive. This late in the game
23 attempt to drastically narrow the scope of the EPTL claim is 24 akin to a belated and inappropriate motion for partial 25 summary judgment. I have several reasons that I'll go

BP

4111

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 through, hopefully, quickly and get the jury back here.

2 First, the N-PCL provides that "a Type B or C
3 not-for-profit corporation formed prior to July 1, 2014,
4 shall be deemed a charitable corporation for all purposes
5 under this chapter." That's from N-PCL Section 201(c).

6 It is undisputed that the NRA was a Type B
7 not-for-profit in New York since at least 1973 at its own
8 election. So, the answer under the N-PCL is clear. It is 9 in fact a charitable not-for-profit corporation under the 10 N-PCL. The attorney general's historical analysis of the 11 NRA's filings since 1973 -- that's captured in part at 12 NYSCEF 2834 -- supports the conclusion that this was a
13 conscious choice of the NRA not to opt for designation as a 14 social club or other type of entity not deemed to be 15 charitable in nature. And I'm not relying on individual
16 intent here, whether they intended one way or another. It's 17 what they did. They made the choice to, to deem themselves
18 a Type B. The NRA's attempt to minimize the effect of that 19 choice made fifty years ago and not changed since then is 20 unpersuasive.

21 Second, the EPTL broadly defines the phrase
22 "charitable beneficiary" to include "the beneficiary of a
23 disposition for a religious, charitable, educational or 24 benevolent purpose." It is one of several ways in which 25 this statute and others sometimes defines the word

BP

4112

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 "charitable" very broadly to include not only the word
2 charitable, but other things and in this one it's quite a
3 broad list. The NRA makes -- and that quote is from EPTL
4 Section 8-1.1(c)(ii).

5 The NRA makes creative arguments going back to its
6 founding argument in 1871 suggesting its original formation
7 as a social club, but the attorney general has the far
8 better argument that the EPTL incorporates the current
9 corporate law definition of the NRA as a charitable entity.

10 The EPTL defines a trustee, for example, to include
11 any nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of this
12 state for charitable purposes. That's from Section
13 8-1.4(a)(2). I see nothing in the EPTL language or history
14 to suggest that for each charitable not-for-profit
15 corporation the law requires us to go back to the original
16 founding documents, whether that be 1871 or whenever it
17 might be for each corporation, rather than the much more
18 obvious source which is the currently binding corporate law
19 which the entity itself chose to be organized.

20 I find support for that in the text of the EPTL
21 itself. There are numerous cross-references in the EPTL
22 statute to the N-PCL statute. Among others, 8-1.1(e) which 23 says "this paragraph shall not restrict in any manner the 24 ability to release or modify restrictions relating to 25 institutional funds under Section 555 of the not-for-profit

4113

W. LaPierre- by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 corporation law. Subparagraph (g) of the same section says
2 that "the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to
3 any corporation which is subject to Sections 509 through 511
4 of the not-for-profit corporation law." There are similar
5 kinds of cross references in Subsection (j) of that same
6 section.

7 Also, EPTL 8-1.7(2)(b) says that "this section
8 shall not restrict in any manner the appropriation for 9 expenditure or accumulation of the endowment funds as set
10 forth in Section 553 of the not-for-profit corporation law."

11 So, I cite these as examples that the legislature
12 clearly knew how to distinguish obligations under the N-PCL
13 when that was their intention.

14 As to the NRA's related argument that the EPTL
15 effectively adopts the Internal Revenue Code definitions of 16 501(c)(3) corporations, I would point out that the 17 legislature also knew how to incorporate federal tax law
18 definitions when it was their intention to do so in EPTL
19 itself. Section 8-1.8(a) says, for example, "for purposes
20 of this section, a trust means a private foundation as 21 defined in Section 509 of the United States Internal Revenue
22 Code of 1986." So, that's a specific definition of trust
23 for a specific section of the EPTL, and they specifically
24 called that an Internal Revenue Code section. They did not 25 do so in 8-1.4 which is the relevant provision here.

BP

1 Instead, they opted for incorporation -- they opted
2 to incorporate the state corporate law statute in 8-1.4
3 which for these purposes is the N-PCL under which the NRA
4 plainly is deemed to be a charitable not-for-profit
5 corporation, full stop.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: In sum, the NRA's argument that it can
2 only be considered a trustee with respect to that portion of
3 its operations in which it holds or administered NRA
4 foundation assets is not supported by the text of the EPTL
5 statute is not supported by any case law. Instead, the 6 definition looks to New York Corporate Law under which the 7 NRA definitively is a charitable corporation.

8 So that concludes my analysis of that. I do
9 appreciate the exceptionally well-written and thoughtful
10 letters. I might appreciate if there were fewer of them,
11 but in seriousness, the scholarship and the thought behind
12 them all was I think very, very good.

13 So I'm sure there are still some other rulings that 14 you're waiting on, but I wanted to get those out while the 15 jury was on a break. I will now give you your biological 16 break. So I ask you to come back as quickly as you can so
17 we can get the jury back.

18 (Whereupon, at this time there was a recess taken.)

19 (Witness resumed the witness stand.)

20 THE COURT: Just to be clear, all other aspects of 21 the motions for directed verdict that was not specifically
22 addressed in what I just said are preserved and deferred
23 until after trial.

24 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

25 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the

1 courtroom.)

2 THE COURT: Okay. Have a seat, please.

3 Okay. Mr. Correll, you may continue.

4 CONTINUED DIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. CORRELL:

6 Q Mr. LaPierre, did there come a time in the 1990's when 7 the IRS demanded a confidential list of members from the NRA?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what can you tell us about that?

10 A Well, about the mid-1990's there was a -- the most --
11 I'm not a accountant. I'm not a CPA, but from what I
12 understand, it was the most intensive audit the IRS does on an 13 organization where they came into our building. They -- I
14 believe they put 12 agents in our building for a period of four 15 years going over everything for a number of years, and that's 16 what happened. And was the -- was it necessary for the NRA to 17 budget funds to defend against this audit?

18 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Relevance.

19 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the AG has attacked the 20 spending of money to respond to government attacks on the 21 NRA. This was a government attack on the NRA politically
22 motivated to cause the NRA to spend money. It's part of the 23 playbook for the Government agencies. It's documented, and 24 it's part of their history.

25 It informs his business judgment in making

KM

4117

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 decisions to spend money defending this particular
2 Government attack.

3 THE COURT: Overruled.

4 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

5 Q Was there a budget item for spending in that case?

6 A Yes, there was. It was a large budget item. I believe
7 it was well over $1 million.

8 Q And did you come to learn of the circumstances under 9 which the audit was ordered?

10 A Yeah.

11 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

12 THE COURT: You can talk about it in principle, but 13 we are not going to have a trial within a trial about 14 whatever was going on back then. That's 30 years ago. So I
15 will sustain the objection that I saw was bubbling up on the 16 left side here.

17 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor. I will try to 18 do it a different way and more quickly.

19 Q Do you remember making a statement, "I think there has 20 been a tendency to politicize a lot of the federal agencies in 21 the Clinton administration."

22 Do you remember ever making that statement?

23 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

24 THE COURT: Sustained. It's a --

25 Q Let me ask you this.

KM

4118

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 THE COURT: Too far afield.

2 Q After the four-year ordeal, did you believe that --
3 well, what, if any, comfort did you derive from the NRA having
4 gone through that very close scrutiny by the IRS without the IRS
5 having found any substantial deficiencies?

6 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

7 MR. CORRELL: I'll do it another way, your Honor.

8 Q What was the result of the investigation? Was the NRA
9 required to pay the IRS anything?

10 A I believe that the -- Pricewaterhouse who was the 11 auditing firm told us that if NRA paid a -- some $200,000 tax --

12 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Hearsay.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 A -- on I believe it was some advertising item, they said
15 you'll probably be the only one ever to have paid this, that 16 will conclude the audit. So the NRA decided it was cheaper to 17 do that than to continue with the accounting and legal fees that 18 were falling on NRA with this audit.

19 Q And was that a business judgment that you made as the 20 executive vice-president?

21 A I did not make it. It was made by the -- I believe by 22 the fiscal directors and the Board of Directors and the finance
23 committee. I may have been consulted is. I just don't 24 remember.

25 Q Because you are not a tax lawyer; correct?

KM

4119

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Correct.

2 Q And you are not a tax accountant.

3 A Correct.

4 Q Do you recall debating then US Congressman Charles
5 Schumer again in 1997 at a national press club luncheon?

6 A Yes, I do.

7 Q Was that part of your sort of continuing Ali versus
8 Forman events that you would engage in with Mr. Schumer?

9 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

10 THE COURT: I will Ali fought Forman only once but 11 Frazer three times.

12 MR. CORRELL: Right. Ali Frazer. Thank you, your
13 Honor.

14 Q Was it kind of a match, rematch, rematch sort of 15 relationship you had with Mr. Schumer?

16 MR. CONLEY: Objection on relevance.

17 THE COURT: Overruled.

18 A Yes, it was part of my continuing role to be the 19 spokesperson, to be the voice of our membership that I -- as of 20 my job responsibilities.

21 Q Did you think you won those debates?

22 A I think you would -- I think I did a -- I -- I think I
23 represented the NRA and then the voice of our members.

24 I mean, I felt that was my job, and that's what I did.
25 I -- I'll leave it how people felt watching as to whether I won

KM

4120

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 or not. It probably depended on how they felt about the issue.

2 Q Let me turn your attention to other parts of the 3 mission of the NRA.

4 Does the NRA have a museum?

5 A Yes, we do.

6 Q And can you just tell us quickly what that museum is 7 and why the NRA has it?

8 A Yes. It's a wonderful museum. Virtually all the 9 firearms have been donated, and it basically tells the history
10 of firearms ownership in this country going back to a firearm
11 that came over on the Mayflower, and it goes all the way through 12 the various wars, the police firearms, the military firearms,
13 the firearms that were used in motion pictures, and just the 14 historical firearms in the history of the United States.

15 Q And how were those firearms acquired? Were they 16 purchased?

17 A Virtually all of them have been donated by people that 18 would like to have them displayed or by wills and estates that 19 would like them to be displayed.

20 Q One of the claims in this case is that you traveled
21 inappropriately to Budapest, Hungary.

22 Do you remember that question being raised?

23 A Yes, I do.

24 Q And is there a museum in Budapest, Hungary that also 25 collects firearms?

KM

4121

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Yes, there is a major museum -- firearms museum.

2 Q When you went to Budapest, was it your intention to 3 advance the interest of the NRA by arranging for an exchange of 4 exhibits between your museum and the other museum?

5 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

6 Q What, if any, purpose did you have in going to 7 Budapest?

8 A I met with the firearms and military museum there, and 9 we talked about an exchange of firearms that would be displayed.

10 Q And were you able to close that deal?

11 A They said they were interested. I brought back their 12 cards. I handed them to our museum people and told them that 13 they were interested in doing a display exchange.

14 Q Would you please direct your attention to the document
15 that appears behind Tab 76 of your first binder and tell me
16 whether you recognize that document.

17 A Yes, it is a -- it's a -- it's a promotional piece for 18 our magazine. I mean, for our museum.

19 Q Does that museum exist today?

20 A It does.

21 Q Has that museum's funding been cut?

22 A No.

23 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move this into evidence.

24 THE COURT: I'll admit it. It seems to be marked

25 WLX 211.

4122

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q Mr. LaPierre, let's turn our attention to the 2000's,
2 and thank you for your patience in the walk-through the eighties
3 and nineties.

4 There's been some talk in this case about the NRA
5 straying from its mission by getting involved with things like
6 the NASCAR or the NFL.

7 Can you tell the Court and the jury what your thinking
8 was about using your position as executive vice-president of the 9 NRA to try to cultivate relationships with let's start with 10 NASCAR?

11 A Yes. I mean, I -- as I said, I have always believed 12 that the NRA's strength is the fact it represents the mainstream 13 of this country, that it's the deepest part of the river, and 14 that -- that's been the strength of the organization.

15 I have also always believed that you can't just be a
16 political fighter. I mean, you've got to be culturally
17 relevant. And as part of showing that all of these institutions
18 have an impact on American culture, whether it's NASCAR, whether 19 it's the NFL, whether it's the NBA, whether it's country music, 20 whether it's celebrities, and they also participate in the 21 shooting sports, a lot of them do, and I felt that as part of 22 the showcasing -- part of the NRA mission is to showcase that 23 NRA is culturally relevant. We are part of the mainstream of 24 society, and here's examples of that.

25 So we hosted for years for the NFL alumni. We hosted a

KM

4123

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 sporting clay's tournament at the Super Bowl for them, and that
2 would be -- we actually used -- got to use the NRA -- the NFL
3 logo with the NFL alumni on it.

4 Q So were you -- you weren't going to the Super Bowl just 5 for fun; right?

6 A No. We were going to host the charity event that we 7 were running for them and also to participate in the other
8 activities that they had in terms of meeting donors and meeting
9 other people and make -- build relationships for the NRA.

10 Q Please turn your attention to the document that appears
11 behind Tab 77.

12 Do you recognize this document?

13 A Do.

14 Q Would you tell us what it is?

15 A It's the -- one of the programs for the NFL Super Bowl
16 events that went on during the Super Bowl for the NFL alumni.

17 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move this into 18 admission.

19 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance and hearsay.

20 THE COURT: Sustained. You can use this as 21 background, but I'm going to try to reserve the exhibits to 22 the events that are at issue in the case.

23 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, an issue has been raised
24 as to the proprietary of Mr. LaPierre flying to particular 25 locations for particular events.

KM

4124

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 THE COURT: But not this one. In 2000.

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'm not sure whether it's 3 generic. I think that there's a generic allegation that he
4 was using NRA funds to go places for personal reasons.

5 THE COURT: The jury is going to be instructed that 6 there is a relevant period of time for the claims and this 7 is before it.

8 MR. CORRELL: Fair enough.

9 Q There was a mention of NASCAR, and we -- I know that on 10 your -- in the Attorney General's case in chief, you were asked
11 a question about -- there was an issue raised about being in a
12 helicopter going to NASCAR, and I won't ask you to go over that 13 again. But can you tell us whether now as you sit here today
14 the NRA is continuing that relationship with NASCAR?

15 A As far as I know, we are. It would be through our 16 Office of Advancement. I know there was a continuing
17 relationship.

18 Q And is that --

19 A I'm not sure of the monetary level.

20 Q Is that something that you still believe is in the best
21 interests of the NRA to pursue?

22 A Yes, I do, on a number of levels.

23 One, a lot of the outdoor community, the shooting sport
24 community are involved in NASCAR.

25 An example that Bass Pro which is one of the major

KM

4125

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 outdoor stores in America. They sponsored not only drivers but
2 they sponsored numerous races. It was a chance to meet donors.
3 In fact, we met one of our largest donors at a NASCAR race at 4 random. He saw me and he wanted to talk, and that's how we
5 built the relationship. And we also were even featured on 6 national TV doing Gentlemen, Start Your Engines with the NRA,
7 and it just helped in terms -- they want to push NRA off to the 8 fringe and say NRA is a bunch of fringe people and you shouldn't 9 support them when it's really a mainstream organization of every 10 religion, every race, every income level, and that's what this 11 reflected again.

12 Q Focusing on the year 2000, what was the level of your 13 profile in 2000?

14 A It was starting to get really raised. Charlton Heston
15 was in the process of beginning to step down, and I was having 16 to take on a lot of that additional profile. I could never be 17 Charlton Heston, but I tried my best to take on what I could.

18 Q So those were some big shoes to fill; fair to say?

19 A Fair to say.

20 Q Did you ever appear on the cover of Washington Post
21 Magazine?

22 A I did.

23 Q What year was that?

24 A I'm not sure. Probably sometime in the early 2000's I
25 would say.

KM

4126

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q I direct your attention to the document that appears
2 behind Tab 78.

3 Do you recognize that document?

4 A I do.

5 Q And what is it?

6 A It's a cover of the Washington Post Magazine, and it --
7 it's a picture of me on the cover.

8 Q And the date is August 6, 2000.

9 Does that refresh your recollection?

10 A Yes, it does.

11 Q And the title of the article that appears is Eternal
12 Vigilance, Wayne LaPierre and the Revival of the National Rifle
13 Association by Michael Powell.

14 Do you see that?

15 A I do.

16 Q What was the revival that was being discussed? Had 17 there been a falling off of membership or revenue or anything
18 like that?

19 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. This is
20 hearsay. It's not admitted into evidence yet. He is being 21 asked to describe what the article --

22 MR. CORRELL: Move it into evidence, your Honor.

23 MR. CONLEY: We object on relevance and hearsay.

24 THE COURT: I'll admit it just for the fact there
25 was an article but not for the truth of any of the -- I

KM

4127

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 haven't read through the article, but I'm sure it has lots
2 of factual statements.

3 This is again just admitted to show that this
4 existed, and he is on the cover. So for that limited
5 purpose, it's admitted.

6 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor. May I publish
7 it to the jury?

8 THE COURT: You may. Focusing on, yes, the 9 picture.

10 Q Thank you. And could you tell the Court and Jury what 11 personal knowledge you have as to the status of the National 12 Rifle Association in the year 2000?

13 A Yes. The Board of Directors had fired the two former 14 executive vice-presidents, and the NRA had lost hundreds of 15 thousands of members.

16 The NRA was also running at a substantial deficit, and 17 one of the things that I worked very hard at and succeeded when 18 I came in was turning that around.

19 Q And how did you do that?

20 A I did it by -- in a lot of different -- well, in many 21 different ways.

22 I mean, I worked really hard. I got people that really 23 knew how to fundraise and how to raise members. We worked very 24 hard in terms of advertising and getting the right advertising
25 out there in terms of mainstreaming the NRA.

KM

4128

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 We -- I mean, all kinds of -- I got out there speaking
2 to our members all over the country, being the voice on TV or
3 being out walking everything from outdoor shows to you name it,
4 the invisible, but just -- just really making NRA what -- making
5 -- thanking people and making them feel part of this association
6 and rebuilding the core strength of the organization and the 7 mission, whether it was programs or whether it was advocacy.
8 You name it.

9 Q Is this when The Friends Program started around this
10 this?

11 A I did. I started the Friends of the NRA program which 12 was -- which was -- the idea was to showcase our strength in 13 individual communities.

14 I mean, I have always felt -- I said the strength of 15 the organization is people in these communities all over the 16 country that in their heart love the programs, whether it's 17 safety, training, education, hunter safety, but they also deeply
18 believe they have a right to own a firearm to protect
19 themselves.

20 I mean, most of the times, it's not even used but just 21 having one to be able to protect themselves. And we started
22 banquets all over the country to raise money for the NRA
23 Foundation which would go toward all of these charitable
24 activities, hunter safety, youth safety, Eddie Eagle. What do
25 you do if you see a gun? Stop. Don't touch it. Leave the

1 area. Call an adult. Our 135,000 safety training instructors.
2 But it went into all these type programs, and we ended up with
3 about I think 1,300 dinners in communities all over the country.
4 And you know, it's pretty hard to say this organization is on 5 the fringe and doesn't represent when you see a community in 6 Wichita, Kansas or Portland, Maine where you have 500 people in
7 a room that represent that city. I mean --

8 Q Was it part of your job to go out and attend these 9 dinners?

10 A I attended as many as I could fit into my schedule.

11 Q And how many was that in a typical year?

12 A I don't know. At some point, it was probably one a
13 week. At other times, I did a couple of week. Sometimes I
14 probably didn't do anything. My schedule varied so much. I
15 would do all kind of speeches, political, friends dinners.

16 Q And how did you get to all these places back then?

17 A Back then I was flying commercial.

18 Q And did there come a time when your threat profile,
19 your risk profile changed and you felt you were facing different
20 circumstances?

21 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

22 THE COURT: Sustained.

23 Q I'll come back to that in a moment. Let's go back to 24 the year 2000.

25 Were you personally involved in any fundraising meeting

KM

4130

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 with donors, stuff like that?

2 A Yes, I always was involved in that.

3 Q And back then was there a time where you met with 4 people from the Beretta family in an effort to raise funds for
5 the NRA?

6 A Yes, I did.

7 Q Could you just tell us quickly about that, if you
8 would?

9 A Well at that time Ugo Beretta who was the patriarch of 10 the family. I mean, he was -- that's a corporation that goes
11 back to 1538, and I -- he would come to the United States, and I
12 met with him when he was in the United States and he did a
13 substantial donation to the organization.

14 Q Would you turn your attention to the document that 15 appears behind Tab 79, please.

16 Do you recognize that document?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q What is it?

19 A I used to go out and speak at colleges all over the 20 country and sometimes do debates an college campuses. Sometimes 21 it was just an individual speech. There was a speech I did at 22 Mount Holyoke College.

23 Q And was this -- was any kind of a donation made in 24 connection with that appearance?

25 A No.

KM

1 Q I'm just looking at the -- there is a mention of
2 Beretta USA Benelli pledges $1 million to endowment.

3 Do you see that?

4 MR. CONLEY: This is hearsay. The exhibit is not
5 in evidence.

6 MR. CORRELL: I'm just trying to refresh his
7 recollection, your Honor?

8 A I'm sorry. I was on 80. Are you on 79? I'm sorry.
9 You are on 79. I'm sorry. Yes. It's a picture of Mr. Ugo
10 Benelli presenting a million dollars endowment check to the 11 National Rifle Association.

12 Q And was that part of your outreach to Italy and the 13 Beretta family?

14 A Yes, it was. Although at this point the -- I met with 15 him in the United States when he was over here.

16 I have since done interviews with him in Italy. He 17 wanted me -- everyone else had been over there. I hadn't been 18 over there, and they wanted me to come over there, and I worked 19 with Ackerman McQueen, and I did a week-long session with the 20 Berettas, and my wife did interviews with Monique Beretta.

21 Q And is that something that you believed to be in the 22 best interest of the NRA?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Why?

25 A Because the Berettas were big supporters of the

KM

1 organization. They continue to be big supporters of the
2 organization. It also got them on record with really historic
3 interviews in terms of Ugo Beretta, the founding of the company,
4 the history of the company. It put his wife with a historical
5 document talking about how she got involved and her involvement
6 with the company and all that. So it -- I mean, they were very
7 happy about it. They were happy we did it, and we were happy
8 about it too. I mean, it showed NRA's outreach with the 9 industry.

10 Q Back to Tab 80. Could you just -- do you recognize 11 this document?

12 A I do.

13 Q What is it?

14 A It is a -- it's a sweepstakes we did to raise money for 15 the NRA, and it was based on our relationship with NASCAR.

16 Q I'm sorry. I think I asked you to look at 80, the
17 document.

18 A 80. I'm sorry. Yes, that is the one I was looking at 19 before. I'm sorry. That's -- I used to do a lot of college
20 speeches. I -- I think it's harder to do them now because there
21 is so much -- the atmosphere has changed so much, but I used to 22 do a lot, and this was when I was invited to speak at Mount
23 Holyoke College.

24 Q What year was that?

25 A 2001.

3 THE WITNESS: No your Honor.

4 THE COURT: I didn't think so.

5 Q So speaking of cars, would you turn your attention to 6 the document that appears behind Tab 81.

7 Do you recognize that document?

8 A I do.

9 Q And what is it?

10 A It is a sweepstakes to attend six Winston cup race
11 weekends.

12 People would enter the sweepstakes. They could enter
13 without making a donation; although, most of them donated when 14 they would enter. So it was a -- it was a money raiser for the 15 National Rifle Association showcasing our relationship with 16 NASCAR.

17 Q And whose idea was that?

18 A It may have been mine. It may have been one of the 19 folks that work with us in the fundraising operation. I'm not 20 sure.

21 Q Did it work?

22 A It did. It did.

12 MR. FARBER: Can we get an exhibit number for the 14 Q Thank you. Now in 2000, did you continue to have 15 debates within 2000's? Did you continue to have debates with 16 Mr. Schumer, then Senator Schumer?

17 A I did.

18 Q Right. And do you recall when in or around October of 19 2002?

20 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Relevance, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 A I did many, many, many, many debates with Senator
23 Schumer. I don't recall off my head 2002, but we did a lot.

8 THE COURT: It's admitted.

9 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance and hearsay.

13 attention being drawn to you or let me put it another way.

14 At this point in your life, what was the threat level
15 like? Were you starting to get attention?

16 A The threat level was starting to get higher. I mean, I
17 think the first time we understood there was a threat level was 18 back during the Unabomber. The FBI came and briefed us that we 19 were targets, and they advised me to register in hotels under a
20 different name.

21 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. Hearsay.

7 THE COURT: So, overruled.

8 A If I was leaving, I'd try to go out a back door and 9 things like that; but in 2002 the threat levels were really
10 starting to go up.

11 Q Did that have any effect on your decision making with 12 respect on how you traveled?

13 A Yes, it did. I mean, it started -- I still travelled a
14 lot commercial; but if there was a threat level on a particular 15 period, the security people would advise me to travel private.

16 Q And that's a decision that you believed you had

18 A Yes, based on their advice.

19 Q Did there come a time when you were featured in

21 A Yes.

22 Q And can you -- what can you tell us about that?

23 A All I can tell you is Gary Trudeau did a cartoon and

23 NRA Sports?

24 A Yes.

25 Q What was that?

BP

4138

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A That was a labelling of a division of the NRA where we
2 did all our shooting programs, our training programs, our hunter
3 safety programs, our hunting education programs. We decided to 4 brand it NRA Sports.

5 Q And did you marry that up with your relationship with 6 the NFL alumni?

7 A We did. We branded that up with the relationship of 8 the NFL alumni NRA Sports brand.

9 Q Would you direct your attention to the document that
10 appears behind Tab 84.

11 Do you recognize this document?

12 A I do.

13 Q What is it?

14 A It is, again, in conjunction with the Superbowl where
15 we ran the Sporting Clays Tournament for the NFL. It is the NFL
16 alumni with the NRA Sports brand during that, during that event.

17 Q And did this help you with your celebrity outreach
18 program?

19 A Yes, it definitely did. I mean, we became very close
20 to a lot of the NFL alumni. We formed relationships with them.
21 We were on stage during their dinner, which has since been 22 changed to NFL Honors when the NFL took it over, which they run
23 during the Superbowl. And we -- we ran some on the NRA ads in 24 programs with Karl Malone and with Steve Largent, and it was -- 25 again, it was an integrated marketing of our brand with other

1 brands and showcasing the mainstream of the shooting sports that
2 we were a big part of the mainstream of American culture which
3 would make people more willing to join, more willing to donate
4 and showcase the shooting sports and what the NRA was about.

5 Q Who's Karl Malone?

6 A Karl Malone -- well, he was a second leading scorer in 7 NBA history. I think LeBron James is now past him, so I think
8 he's the third leading scorer in NFL history -- in NBA history.
9 I think I said NFL. He was a proud NRA member. I formed a
10 relationship with him. I asked him if he would do an on the NRA
11 ad for us and he said he would.

12 He ended up running and serving on our board of 13 directors for years. And we ran the ad with him in virtually 14 all college and pro preseason football magazines to showcase the
15 NRA.

16 Q And was that a successful campaign for the NRA?

17 A Extremely successful.

18 Q Did you view that as being in the interest of the NRA
19 to maintain that relationship?

20 A Absolutely. There were one or two newscasters who were 21 inappropriately trying to characterize the NRA as racist even,
22 and which is the last thing the NRA ever was going back to its 23 founding, and I wanted to showcase diversity, what we were 24 about, and that was part of our core DNA.

25 MR. CORRELL: So, your Honor, I'd like to move into

4 fine.

5 THE COURT: 2003?

6 MR. CORRELL: Yes, we're accelerating now. We're
7 approaching --

8 THE COURT: Not fast enough. Sustained.

9 Q Did you do anything with golf, the sport of golf? Did
10 the NRA do anything with golf?

11 A I don't think we did actually.

12 Q Would you direct your attention to the document that
13 appears behind Tab 85.

14 Do you see that document?

15 A I do.

16 Q What is it?

17 A The NFL Alumni Superbowl of Golf. They would have in 18 addition to their shooting event, they would have a golf
19 tournament; and NRA as part of that event had a team in that 20 golf tournament.

21 Q And are you a golfer?

22 A Not very good, but, yes, I've golfed. I don't play
23 very much.

24 Q And there's an allegation in this case that you belong
25 to a golf club. Do you remember hearing that?

BP

6 Q Did there come a time when you were told that the laws
7 had changed and that the organization could no longer pay for 8 golf clubs?

9 A Yes.

21 A Yes.

22 Q And before that, did you ever charge any dues to the 25 A No. But when our new treasurer came in, he told me the

2 MR. CONLEY: Objection, hearsay, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: There's no question pending, so...

4 Q Did there come a time when the NRA treasurer spoke to 5 you about the issue of golf club memberships?

6 A Yes.

7 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

8 THE COURT: Overruled on that. So, you're just 9 pursuing this as to what his understanding was?

10 MR. CORRELL: Correct.

11 THE COURT: Whether it is true or not is not the 12 issue. You're just saying from his personal -- this is -- .

13 MR. CORRELL: I can do it even more --

14 THE COURT: Okay, I think given the relevance
15 standard, I'll let you get his state of mind based on what 16 experts or advisors told him.

17 Q Did you receive information from an officer of the NRA
18 relating to the issue of whether it was appropriate for you to 19 charge dues for your golf club to the NRA?

20 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 A Yes.

23 Q And what was the information you received?

24 A He said that the law had changed and it was no longer
25 appropriate to charge social club dues to the organization; and

BP

4143

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 if you wanted to continue that, you needed to pay -- any of
2 that, you needed to pay it on your own.

3 Q And before that, had the fact that the NRA was allowing
4 or was providing social club memberships to certain executives
5 disclosed in the 990; do you know?

6 A I'm not sure, but I think it was well-known.

7 Q Thank you. So, let's talk about country music and that 8 outreach program. The -- if you could direct your attention to 9 the document behind Tab 86.

10 Could you tell us what that is?

11 A That is another NFL Alumni Superbowl Sporting Clay
12 Event or alumni weekend where we ran the Sporting Clay
13 Tournament for the NFL alumni. We attended the events the held 14 NFL alumni, and Hank Williams, Jr., was a performer at the 15 event.

16 Q And was that part of an effort to combine your contacts
17 in the country music industry with your contacts in the NFL to 18 advance the interest of the NRA and its mission?

19 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

20 Q Was the purpose of the NRA supporting this effort?

21 A Well, again, music has a tremendous influence on 22 American culture. I mean, all you have to do is look at Taylor
23 Swift right now as to what she's doing with American culture,
24 and there was a tremendous amount of people in the country music
25 community that enjoyed the shooting sports that support the 2nd

1 Amendment and we thought that it would be in NRA's interest to
2 develop a relationship with all of them.

3 We actually developed a brand called NRA Country where 4 we started working with artists, and they started to get
5 involved with us. They started to talk about many of them first 6 learned to shoot through an NRA training program, and it was 7 just a natural combination of brands that I think furthered the 8 NRA as part of the mainstream of American culture which 9 benefitted the NRA in terms of people willing to join, people
10 willing to donate and people willing to feel proud of their 11 membership.

12 Q Please direct your attention to Tab 86, the document
13 behind it and the -- can you flip through.

14 You had mentioned Karl Malone. Do you see a photograph
15 of Karl Malone in there?

16 A I do.

17 Q Can you tell us is this the -- the part of the campaign
18 you had talked about earlier that you had arranged, that you
19 managed to get Karl Malone to do for the NRA?

20 A Yes. I mean, it's part of Karl Malone speaking out
21 about the NRA's safety, training and education and he's worked 22 with groups like 4H and Boy Scouts and American Legion and how 23 he was proud of his involvement with us. Growing up in 24 Louisiana, and Karl loved to hunt and he was proud of his

3 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevance, hearsay.

4 THE COURT: Sustained.

5 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, this is highly relevant.

6 THE COURT: It is a 2007 promotion?

7 MR. CORRELL: Yes. Your Honor, this was part of a
8 continuing effort by Mr. LaPierre --

9 THE COURT: Continuing into the relevant period?

10 MR. CORRELL: Yes.

11 THE COURT: So then do something from the relevant
12 period.

13 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'd like to show
14 continuity. There are allegations in the case that 15 Mr. LaPierre was utilizing NRA funds for improper purposes,
16 like, traveling to the Superbowls and other sporting events.

17 This shows that this is an integral part of the 18 NRA's effort to reach out to all communities in order to 19 advance its mission. This is critically important evidence,
20 and it is not prejudicial to the Government.

21 THE COURT: I don't think it is prejudicial either,
22 but it's just -- there's a limit to how many documents we 23 can sort of include in the record. You could have one of 24 these for every year. So, you're saying this is just an

17 long did that ad campaign continue?

18 A I think that ad campaign with Karl probably continued
19 for about -- about ten years.

20 Q And did it become part of the centerpiece of your 21 outreach of -- in support of your mission?

22 A Yes, it did. I mean, he was very proud of the NRA. I
23 mean, he had one of his agents wasn't that crazy about him doing
24 it; but I called Karl and he's like, "Look, I want to do it.
25 I'm proud of this. This is part of what I'm about."

2 A He did not show up for board meetings.

3 Q Did he show up for events like Sporting Clays or any of 4 the other things you guys did?

5 A He used to do that. He used to show up at hunting
6 shows all the time, things like that.

7 He, he would do -- I remember when Gilbert Arenas who's
8 with the Washington Wizards did something really stupid with a
9 firearm. He took a firearm into the locker room and that was a
10 really negative bad thing, and I called Karl and said, Hey,
11 look, would you go on ESPN and talk about this is not what a
12 good, responsible American firearms owner does and please talk
13 about that because it is being portrayed; and he said,
14 Sure, I'll do it."

15 Q And did he do it?

16 A He did.

17 THE COURT: Just, the jury, you've heard me
18 reference relevant periods a couple of times. I don't want
19 that shrouded as a mystery. You'll hear about it in the 20 instructions. For some of the claims, it runs from early
21 2014 through roughly 2022; and for other claims, it starts
22 in early 2017 all the way through.

23 Now, you will also hear me say that I've allowed

9 A Yes, I was.

10 Q This is 2007. How was your risk profile in 2007?

18 circumstances that you were facing in terms of personal risk

20 president of the NRA?

21 A The personal risk part -- and I was thankful for the 22 work in the organization that had security in the building and 23 cared about security; but the higher profile I became, I mean,
24 people have strong feelings about this issue and I think I had a

18 President Bush.

19 Q Did you cultivate a relationship with Barbara Bush and 20 President Bush?

21 A I did.

22 Q Why did you do that?

23 A Because it was, it was -- it was good for the National 24 Rifle Association who I worked with to have a relationship with

1 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would move into
2 evidence the document, the photograph that appears behind
3 the tab.

4 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevance, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it is evidence --

7 THE COURT: Sustained.

8 Q Did you have a relationship with anyone else in the 9 Bush family?

10 A Yes, I did. The one I was actually closest to was Jeb
11 Bush.

12 Q And what was the nature of your relationship with Jeb
13 Bush?

14 A I saw him a lot more. He was very down-to-earth and 15 very nice, and I just developed a relationship with him and it
16 continued when he was governor.

17 Q Did you ever go out to the Bush family ranch?

18 A Yes, I did.

19 Q And where is that?

20 A It was in Texas.

21 Q Crawford, Texas?

22 A Yes.

23 Q How many times did you go out?

24 A I think I was there once.

25 Q Did you ever cultivate a relationship with Chuck

BP

4152

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Norris?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And just can you tell us quickly why and how?

4 A Chuck Norris used to come to some of our shooting
5 events. He had a charity called "Kick Drugs out of America,"
6 where he was trying to discourage drug usage and NRA had an 7 involvement in terms of that charity, also.

8 Q And what was the nature of the involvement?

9 A I think we attended it. We may have given a 10 contribution to the charity. Chuck Norris used to come to some 11 of our events.

12 Q Was the building of that relationship something that
13 you saw as in the best interest of the NRA?

14 A Yes. Again, I mean, he was a very identified celebrity
15 in an American culture; and as I said many times before, I mean,
16 celebrities have a big influence on American culture.

17 It would -- it would not only benefit the organization
18 with a relationship, but benefit what we stood for, the 19 shooting sports, the 2nd Amendment, the freedom to own and all
20 of that.

21 Q Did you pursue that relationship because you saw that 22 it was in your own personal interest to have a relationship with 23 Chuck Norris?

24 A No. It was in the NRA's interest.

25 Q Did you ever go out drinking with Chuck Norris?

BP

4153

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A No, I didn't.

2 Q Because you don't drink, right?

3 A I don't drink.

4 Q Please direct your attention to the document that
5 appears behind Tab 93.

6 Do you see that document?

7 A Yes, I do.

8 Q What is it?

9 A It's -- it is the NRA 500. It is a sponsorship of 10 NASCAR race that the NRA was involved with.

11 Q Is that one of the -- the date on this is 2013. Do you 12 see that?

13 A I do.

14 Q Is this one of the events that you would helicopter to 15 in order to get around the backed up traffic?

16 A Yes, it was.

17 Q Why did you do that? Why didn't you just go by car?

18 A Because cars were backed up for miles, and it would 19 take you hours to get out there at that point. I mean, NASCAR,
20 this was at the height of the NASCAR popularity; and it was just 21 the most convenient way to get there. I also at times we drove,
22 too. We didn't helicopter every time.

23 Q When you helicoptered, did you view that as an 24 appropriate expense given the time constraints and the need to 25 get in and get out safely?

1 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

2 THE COURT: I'll overrule this one. Go ahead.

3 A Yes, many people did get in that way. This was the one
4 where we also had Karl Malone as the -- I don't know the master
5 of ceremonies, but he dropped the green flag and did "Gentlemen
6 Start Your Engines."

7 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move admission of this
8 document into evidence.

9 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevance.

10 MR. CORRELL: It is evidence of the NRA's
11 relationship with the NRA -- sorry -- with the NASCAR and 12 with the benefit to the NRA that came from Wayne's efforts
13 to get Karl Malone involved and working with the NRA on its 14 mission.

15 THE COURT: Overruled. What exhibit number?

16 THE TECHNICIAN: WLX 255.

17 THE COURT: WLX 255.

19 received into evidence.)

20 MR. CORRELL: May I publish it to the jury, your

22 THE COURT: Sure.

2 Q Who's the person in the picture with Karl Malone? You

4 Do you recognize that person?

5 A I don't based on the -- I don't.

6 MR. CORRELL: Okay, could you please scroll on.

7 (Scrolling)

8 Q Just stop there for a moment. Does this refresh your 9 recollection as to what you were doing at that race or at that 10 event? Is this one you attended?

11 A Yes, I attended. They would -- we would come out on 12 stage before the crowd. We would present a check to the charity
13 that the organization would do. We would invite many, many of 14 our donors to the race to come and build relationships with
15 them.

16 Governor Perry would -- came to this one, and it was 17 just a very positive thing in terms of NRA being involved in 18 the -- another example of NRA being involved in the mainstream
19 of American culture with all of these cultural activities that 20 have an impact on America.

21 Q So this was in 2013, correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And was this one of the circumstances that caused you
24 to start to think about whether the NRA might be better off with 25 a home in Texas?

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

2 THE COURT: Overruled.

3 A I don't know that this was. I mean, Texas is one of 4 our big membership states. So is New York, actually, along with 5 California; but we have a tremendous amount of our donors are in 6 Texas. I think we have 400,000 members in Texas or more, and 7 it's a very welcoming state to the NRA.

8 MR. CONLEY: Objection to a friendly environment to 9 the NRA, your Honor.

10 A It's a very friendly environment to the NRA. I mean,
11 politically it's also a friendly environment.

12 THE COURT: We're going to take our lunch break.
13 We'll reconvene at 2:15.

17 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I think that after lunch,
18 we're going to proceed with other witnesses and then we'll
19 presume with Mr. LaPierre tomorrow morning, first thing.

20 MS. CONNELL: Are we going to go with Mr. Frazer
21 and then Mr. Phillips, I'm sorry, just to confirm?

22 MS. ROGERS: We're going to go with Mr. Frazer and 24 we'll update you after lunch on Mr. Phillips.

25 MS. CONNELL: Can you let us know as soon as

2 MS. ROGERS: Yes.

3 MS. CONNELL: And then after Phillips or no
4 Phillips, the audiotapes? I mean the depositions?

5 MS. ROGERS: Likely, yes. I'll let you know. I'll 6 confirm that after lunch.

7 MS. CONNELL: And who's calling Mr. Frazer?

2 * * * * *

3 THE COURT: So I had one logistical issue to raise
4 about Mr. LaPierre's dividing up his testimony the way we 5 are doing it.

6 Given that tomorrow is scheduled to be the last day
7 for evidence to come in, we need to operate so that there is 8 a fair opportunity to do cross-examination and so that --
9 you know, we have spent this morning, and we got to 2013.
10 And so I just don't want us to end up in a situation where 11 there is not sufficient time for all the other things. I
12 don't know what you all have ready to do, but I don't want
13 to be faced with something at the end of when he can testify
14 and he hasn't had a chance to do cross, and there is no
15 other day for it to happen. Because if that happens, that's 16 a problem, and it could lead to striking of his direct.

17 MR. CORRELL: I understand, your Honor, and I'm 18 going to try to accelerate and tighten the timeframe
19 tomorrow.

20 THE COURT: And the other defendants are -- because 21 I don't know how you have all divided this up, but this 22 -- at this pace this is going to be a lot of time that's 23 left is this one witness.

24 MR. CORRELL: It will be a faster pace, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Well, for you, but there is a lot of

KM

4159

Proceedings

1 other folks who I don't know who is asking questions at the
2 end of this, but I just want to flag that.

3 All right. So what's next?

4 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor taking your comments to 5 heart, I have decided not to call Mr. Graham the 6 compensation expert and that will provide some greater
7 flexibility.

8 THE COURT: Okay. So what's the next witness going
9 to be? Mr. Frazer?

10 MS. CONNELL: If I can just raise something.

11 While we were at lunch, the NRA's counsel let me
12 know that they had switched some of the witnesses around.
13 We had an objection to one of the switching. I think we 14 have reached an agreement, but I just wanted to let the 15 Court know I believe we are going to go with Mr. Frazer and 16 then perhaps Mr. Spray's videotape. And then if the Court
17 would like to begin with John Commerford, they have a
18 witness they have, and we would cross him tomorrow after Mr.
19 LaPierre, I guess.

20 MS. ROGERS: So we object to the characterization
21 of switching witnesses around. Mr. Commerford travel from 22 out of town. He was disclosed yesterday at 3:41 p.m. We 23 intended to call him after Mr. Frazer. There were some 24 additional documents that were disclosed later and as an 25 accommodation to the AG, we were willing to not use those

KM

4160

Proceedings

1 documents today.

2 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, yesterday -- not to put a
3 fine point on it, but the defendants have had dozens and
4 dozens of witnesses on their list, something like 60
5 witnesses on their list. I think at one point it was up to 6 90, and we have been asking them just to let us know who is 7 coming.

8 Yesterday we were sent multiple videos. We got 9 different witnesses -- multiple emails. We got different
10 witnesses and different orders. It makes us scurry around
11 trying to prepare for them.

12 Then after asking clarification on when people
13 would be closing their cases, what witnesses would be going,
14 was there an agreed upon order, Mr. Peters sent an email to 15 the Court yesterday afternoon laying out of order, and we 16 prepared for that order which made it seem like Mr.
17 Commerford had no shot of going today.

18 At 7:10 last night we got a bunch more documents
19 from Mr. Commerford, and I will note one of the documents
20 from Mr. Commerford is a document that's hotly contested.
21 It's the December 2023 risk assignment COSO situation that 22 Ms. Rowling performed, and we had no prior notice of Mr.
23 Commerford coming until he was put on the witness list in 24 mid-December. No notice he has any connection to that.

25 We are entitled to at least 24 hours to prepare,

KM

4161

Proceedings

1 and this is not a fair opportunity. So even as of last
2 night and this morning, we were left with the view that
3 after Mr. Frazer, Mr. Arulanandam would go, and then we 4 would be basically at the end of the day.

5 So your Honor, we would just ask that the plaintiff
6 not have to cross-examine Mr. Commerford today, that it's 7 not fair, that it's not in the spirit of the 24-hour rule.

8 We gave the defendants as much time as we possibly 9 could, often more than 24 hours. We understand everyone is 10 working hard, but this is too much, and we have videos ready
11 to go. We should begin with the video.

12 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, respectfully, these are 13 mischaracterizations. 24 hours was given. It's more notice
14 than we received at many junctures during plaintiff's case.

15 We have multiple defendants jostling there to put 16 in cases in a much shorter period of time. We have already 17 agreed not to use any of the documents disclosed yesterday
18 evening which plaintiff had less than 24 hours notice, so
19 this hotly contested document that Ms. Connell just 20 described, she knew before she described it that it wasn't
21 on the table. It wasn't going to be used.

22 We should be able to present our case in the order
23 and the sequence that we think is best for us, and this is a
24 witness with two documents who was disclosed the day before.
25 He's is traveled from out of town. We would like to get him

KM

4162

Proceedings

1 up and down today if we can. We may not be able to, but we
2 would at least like to take a shot.

3 THE COURT: It's a little unfortunate you all
4 haven't been quite as kind to each other as I would have 5 liked and partly I'm sure that's just because everybody is 6 working hard, and it's a little more chaotic on the defense
7 side because you are not all rowing in necessarily the same
8 direction. So I know this. I think by the time we get 9 through -- so it's Mr. Frazer and then straight into this 10 next guy or is it something else?

11 MS. ROGERS: That's the plan. And it's Mr.
12 Fleming's case, but I expect Mr. Frazer to be substantial,
13 so we would probably not get to Mr. Commerford until the 14 second half of the second half of the day.

15 THE COURT: And then may not be able to get to 16 cross either.

17 MS. ROGERS: Correct.

18 THE COURT: Your Honor.

19 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, then it seems fair enough
20 to play with the deposition of Spray and he raises that 21 question or that problem.

22 THE COURT: Well, look, I'm inclined not to --
23 well, what I really don't want to do is spend so much time
24 talking about it that we can't actually do it, so I'm going
25 to let them proceed in the order they have. This doesn't

KM

4163

Proceedings

1 sound like a seismic witness really.

2 MS. ROGERS: Not seismic. He just traveled in the 3 snow.

4 THE COURT: This is -- it is a little -- the grating
5 thing is having 80 people on your witness list and narrowing
6 them 24 hours really is not cricket in my opinion, but I'm
7 just, you know -- I'm not going to start shifting people
8 around and telling some -- who is he? Is he an employee?

9 MS. ROGERS: He is an NRA employee. He works under 10 Mr. Cox, and he remains in that deficient. Just -- we dealt 11 with 5,200 exhibits which is the same principle.

12 THE COURT: Yeah. That was the -- that was the 13 evil on the other side. Look, I --

14 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, just --

15 THE COURT: I'm not going to change the order. I
16 -- if I get the feeling that -- so is what you're saying to 17 me, Ms. Connell, that now you are going to be prepared to 18 cross-examine this guy?

19 MS. CONNELL: If I just heard that the risk
20 assessment is out and he is not going to be questioned on 21 that, that makes it easier. But yes, essentially, your 22 Honor, we are going to be having to kind of take it with 23 less preparation than we had wanted to which is unfortunate
24 and unfair, and I just want to say, you know, we gave a list
25 of witnesses we intended to call in order. We tried to let

KM

4164

Proceedings

1 them know as soon as possible if there was any change.
2 Often days ahead. We tried to follow that order well in
3 advance. And while we had 5,000 documents on a document
4 list, the defendants have collectively I think over 3,000,
5 and we have given them as much notice as possible and where 6 they have asked for an accommodation, we have tried to make
7 it.

8 THE COURT: My bone to pick is among the 5,000 are 9 a bunch of documents that you then later objected to. So
10 there is -- it hasn't been perfect. No trial is perfect.

11 Let's proceed with, you know, who you told them at 12 3:00 yesterday, and we will take that document out and we 13 will move on. So let's get the jury.

14 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, to be clear, so we are 15 going to proceed with the documents we disclosed at 16 3:00 p.m. yesterday, and whatever documents she is 17 contesting, that was contested later is out.

18 MS. CONNELL: That includes the risk assessment?

19 MS. ROGERS: It was disclosed at three.

20 MS. CONNELL: 3:41 p.m.

21 THE COURT: I'm going to let them call the witness.

22 MS. ROGERS: Thank you, your Honor.

23 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
24 courtroom.)

25 THE COURT: Please have a seat. As we have done a

3 And so the next witness is going to be who for the 4 defense?

5 MR. FLEMING: I call Mr. Frazer.

6 J O H N F R A Z E R, a witness called on behalf of
7 the Defendant, after having been first duly sworn, took the

13 DIRECT EXAMINATION

14 BY MR. FLEMING:

15 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Frazer.

16 A Good afternoon.

17 Q So it's February, and we have never gotten a chance to 18 meet you.

19 So where do you live currently?

20 A I live in Virginia.

21 Q And who do you live with?

22 A My wife and kids.

23 Q Where did you -- where were you born?

24 A In Manhattan.

25 Q And did you grow up in Manhattan?

KM

4166

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I did.

2 Q For how long?

3 A 17 years till I went away to college.

4 Q Until college?

5 A Right.

6 Q Can you just take us briefly through your education
7 starting with actually out of curiosity where you were educated
8 in Manhattan?

9 A Sure. So I went to a couple of the local public
10 schools. I grew up on the Lower East Side right off the FDR
11 Drive, grew up, went to a couple of the local public schools.
12 They have been renumbered, at least one of them, and then went 13 to Hunter College High School. That's when I used to take --
14 change buses out here on the corner. And then I went to Bowdoin
15 College and on to graduate school.

16 Q Did you happen to coincide with Lin-Manuel Miranda when 17 you were at Hunter?

18 A I was after Justice Kagan and before Lin-Manuel.

19 Q Too bad.

20 So after college, can you take us through your work
21 history before you began working at the NRA?

22 A Sure. So after college, my initial plan coincidence
23 like Mr. LaPierre, I was going to be a political science
24 professor. So I went to the University of Virginia graduate 25 program. I got a master degree, left there, decided that the

4167

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 academic research wasn't really my thing. I spent about two and
2 a half years working for remodeling companies mostly in Northern
3 Virginia, briefly in Oregon. That was kind of a formative
4 experience because I got to know a lot of experience that hadn't
5 been in the graduate school public, a lot of NRA members, and 6 that kind of set me on that path and eventually answered an ad
7 in the Washington Post.

8 Q Well, before you get there, can you just describe what 9 remodeling is?

10 A We did kitchens, bathrooms, additions, basically.

11 Q So you developed skills at being handy?

12 A I. Was a carpenter's helper. Yes, I still have my 13 tools.

14 Q Now, we have heard a lot or at least some about your 15 history -- early history first 20 years at ILA; right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. I would like to just have you explain just 18 aspects of that portion of your career and that is how you came 19 to go to law school.

20 A Sure. So after working in an entry-level job and then 21 kind of working my way up in a couple of different roles, I was 22 working in the Federal Affairs Division on Capitol Hill and 23 doing a lot of legislative drafting and analysis and obviously 24 advocacy. That was the job. And one can day while I was -- I
25 was walking with the Executive Director of ILA at the time and a

KM

4168

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 man named James Baker, we were walking back from a meeting on
2 Capitol Hill, and he -- and he said, you ought to go to law
3 school. You're actually better at it than most of these lawyers
4 we just met with. So I took that as a compliment, but it took 5 me a couple of years to really -- for it to really sink in, and 6 I started law school in Fall of 2004.

7 Q And did the NRA pay some portion of that?

8 A The NRA is a tuition-reimbursement program. There is 9 an IRS limit on it, but it covered about half of my tuition.

10 Q Did you go to law school during the day or night?

11 A I went to a night program at George Mason in Virginia.

12 Q How long did it take to go graduate from a night law
13 program?

14 A Four years.

15 Q During that four-year period, did you continue working?

16 A I did.

17 Q Where were you working?

18 A I was by that time -- well, first semester, I was still 19 at Federal Affairs, the end of the first semester. So beginning
20 of '05 roughly, Chris Cox had asked me to come back in a 21 management role at headquarters. I was the deputy director of 22 the research and information division. And about halfway
23 through law school, the director retired, and I became -- I was 24 promoted to be director.

25 Q Did any other important event of your life happen

KM

4169

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 during this period of time that you were in law school and
2 dealing with the new job?

3 A I got married.

4 Q Okay. So I'd like to now turn from your personal
5 history. Well, let me ask you. So can you take the jury
6 briefly through leaving the NRA and then coming back?

7 A Sure. So in end of 2012, early 2013, a former NRA
8 lawyer who had gone into pretty successful private practice was 9 appointed as a judge -- state judge in Fairfax, Virginia where 10 NRA headquarters is, and that opened up spaces in an 11 office-sharing arrangement with a couple of people who were 12 practicing in the Second Amendment and Firearms Law field, and 13 an opportunity to pick up some of the now Judge Gardner's
14 clients potentially. So it was kind of a once in a lifetime
15 opportunity. I decided to take it.

16 Q So before you move on, before you left for private
17 practice, were you offered any incentive to stay at ILA?

18 A Sure. Yeah, I met with Chris Cox and told him my 19 decision, and he said, give me a couple of weeks to try to 20 change your mind, and I met with him and his deputy, a man named 21 David Layman, and couple of weeks later, I came back and they 22 offered me about a 30 percent raise and a promotion title was I
23 think Director of Legal Affairs.

24 Q Had that position or that title existed before that 25 moment?

KM

4170

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A No. It would have been a newly-created position.

2 Q All right. So back to private practice.

3 Did there come a time when you left private practice?
4 And if so, why?

5 A There was. The -- you know, I had a great time
6 representing my clients. I liked my client. I enjoyed the 7 experience, but Jim Porter was the president of the NRA at the 8 time, and as you heard previously, he asked me to consider
9 running for secretary of the association when Major Land
10 announced that he would be retiring.

11 Q Okay. And at or about that time, can you tell us were 12 you approached about another position as well?

13 A Sure. So in the initial conversation with Mr. Porter
14 in late Summer of 2015 or -- 2014 -- excuse me, he -- you know,
15 he is a long-time attorney, and he noted that in the corporate 16 world, it's pretty common for the general counsel of an 17 organization to also be the corporate secretary or vice versa
18 which wasn't something the NRA had had, but it was something
19 that was apparently being considered. And as the discussions
20 continued, and I met -- I talked with Mr. Phillips at one point
21 and with Mr. LaPierre on a couple of occasions, the idea came 22 about that I would be hired initially as general counsel and 23 then later elected secretary.

24 Q And that's what happened?

25 A That's exactly what happened.

KM

4171

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q All right. So we have covered a lot of territory with 2 you after plaintiff called you. So I'm going to address certain
3 discrete topics.

4 Do you recall that the NRA entered into an agreement
5 subsequently with the Allegiance Creative Group?

6 A I do.

7 Q What precipitated the renegotiation of that contract?

8 A What precipitated the renegotiation of the contract was 9 that it was going to expire, and we took that as an opportunity
10 to also address other issues that surrounded that, like the fact
11 that there had been contracts with three different business
12 entities, MMP, Allegiance and Concord Social was the third. And 13 to also get a substantial decrease in the overall fees.

14 Q Okay. Who negotiated that contract?

15 A It was an arm's-length negotiation so a little bit of a
16 legal term, but it was a negotiation between our outside lawyers
17 and their outside lawyers primarily with some involvement by NRA
18 staff and presumably staff on their end, but I don't know that.

19 Q And can you place the timeframe when those negotiations
20 occurred?

21 A It was really throughout the Summer of 2022, Spring and 22 Summer, I would say.

23 Q Now, do you recall testimony from Ms. Rowling in this 24 case that Mr. LaPierre was walled off from those negotiations?

25 A I do.

KM

4172

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q To your knowledge, was he in fact walled off?

2 A Yes.

3 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor. Lack of
4 foundation.

5 Q I'm going to get to that?

6 MS. STERN: Well, he previously testified that it
7 was handled by outside counsel.

8 MR. FLEMING: I asked him -- well, your Honor, I
9 asked him to his knowledge was Mr. LaPierre walled off.

10 THE COURT: Well, maybe you can ask the fact 11 questions building up to that and we can see whether it's 12 his knowledge or hearsay.

13 MR. FLEMING: Okay.

14 Q What's the basis of that knowledge?

15 A Yeah. So there was a widespread understanding in the 16 executive -- among the executives who were involved in that that 17 Mr. LaPierre because of all of the allegations in this case, in 18 particular, about his relationship with the McKenzies, that he 19 shouldn't be involved in this transaction or this negotiation.
20 And from my observation, he wasn't.

21 Occasionally, I would be in his office meeting with him
22 about, you know, some other issue, and he would say, how are 23 things going on the MMP negotiations. And I would give him very 24 limited answers like it's still going or still -- they are still 25 talking. You know, they are meeting Tuesday. That kind of

KM

4173

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 thing.

2 MR. FLEMING: Okay. So can we call up PX 2426 which 3 is at Tab 20 in your binder, and this is in evidence so the 4 jury can see it.

5 Q So Mr. Frazer, do you see PX 2426?

6 A I do.

7 Q My question to you is why is Mr. LaPierre named as the 8 responsible officer at the top?

9 A I think the reason for that is that -- is that this
10 sheet -- on the sheet you need to list a responsible --

11 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor. Lack of 12 foundation again.

13 THE COURT: Yeah. It's -- you have to kind of 14 figure out why he -- did he put his name on there or have --
15 you know, that kind of foundation to be helpful.

16 Q Well, Mr. Frazer, do you have an understanding of why
17 he is on there?

18 A I can speak to our general understanding and practice
19 of filling out these forms after doing a bunch of them.

20 Q Please do.

21 A You know, calls for listing a responsible officer. So
22 generally, the practice is to list an NRA officer within whose 23 chain of command this contract would fall. So the membership
24 division reports directly to Mr. LaPierre. So Mr. LaPierre
25 would be the responsible officer that falls under;

KM

4174

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q And do you recall testimony about invoices and owners
2 of invoices?

3 A I do.

4 Q Okay. Would that responsible officer fit into that 5 owner concept?

6 A Yeah. I mean, it could be or it could be the 7 membership division, for example.

8 Q Okay. We can take that down.

9 So Mr. Frazer, can you describe what role your general
10 counsel's office plays in the review and/or authorization of the 11 NRA's contracts?

12 A Sure. So basically, we are supposed to review any 13 contract that any division of the NRA enters into, and it can be 14 anything from, you know, a multi-million dollar membership or 15 fundraising solicitation type of contract like you just saw to 16 a, you know, motor scooters at our show. That was one of the 17 first ones I saw when I came back on board.

18 Q So what generally do you look for and do when contracts
19 come to your office for review?

20 A Basically, my office manager functions as a traffic cop
21 for them, basically making sure that everything that comes in 22 gets referred to an appropriate attorney for review and 23 shepherding through the process and making sure that it's 24 tracked.

25 Q How many attorneys are in the general counsel's office?

KM

4175

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Five currently I believe.

2 Q All right. Now is the role that you just described
3 different for contracts that are in excess of $100,000?

4 A No. It can be big or small. They are all supposed to 5 be reviewed and the process is basically the same.

6 Q Okay. And when you review a contract, do you
7 personally do anything different if it's over $100,000?

8 A I'm usually -- you know, I'm usually more likely to be 9 looking at the bigger ones, but if I happen to look at a smaller
10 one, it's not really different. It's just -- it may require a
11 little closer attention because it's typically going to be for a 12 more sophisticated services or higher risk involved, but we are 13 going to look at things like whether the -- whether -- making
14 sure that the NRA interests are protected in whatever way is 15 relevant to the contract.

16 Q So you divided up in the general counsel's office the 17 review of contracts equally among you and your staff or is it
18 different?

19 A It's primarily the staff because, I'm managing and 20 delegating, but the -- but -- and staff handles things according 21 to their areas of expertise.

22 Some people have more experience with financial 23 transactions. Some people have more experience with 24 intellectual property, copyright and trademark issues.

25 Q How experienced is your staff in the OGC?

KM

4176

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I tried to add it up from memory, and at the time that
2 I came in, I had -- on the staff I think I had about 85 years
3 worth of total experience not counting myself and not counting
4 our former general counsel Bob Dowlut who had retired, but he
5 was still on retainer. He had 35 plus years of experience.

6 Q And can you describe what that arrangement was with Mr.
7 Dowlut?

8 A When he retired at the end of 2014, he got an annual 9 retainer contract with the NRA which I think he made pretty full 10 use of with a lot of significant projects.

11 Q And did he help you early on in 2015 with anything in 12 particular?

13 A Sure. He helped me really from day one, but he -- but 14 in -- in early to mid-2015 he started working on projects to 15 help address some recent changes in New York Law.

16 Q And we talked about that earlier with respect to the 17 conflict of interest policy.

18 A That was one significant project he worked on.

19 Q Okay. Now, when you started in 2015 as general
20 counsel, did you rely on the experience of your staff?

21 A Oh, absolutely.

22 Q So let's discuss payment of invoices. There's been 23 some -- a lot of testimony on this, and I just want to be as 24 clear as we can.

25 A Sure.

KM

4177

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q So you heard Mr. Erstling describe the process?

2 A I did.

3 Q All right. In your words, tell us what you understand
4 the process to be?

5 A Sure. So not surprisingly, given his job, Mr. Erstling
6 and the fact that he is a really diligent guy, Mr. Erstling gave 7 an excellent description of how the invoice approval process
8 works right now, but the mechanics have been and the substance
9 is the same in terms of who receives invoices and what their 10 responsibilities are. The mechanics have been -- have changed a 11 lot.

12 Pre-Covid, they were piles of paper. And one of the 13 accounts payable accountants would come to my office with his 14 blue plastic folder. I still remember it. And it would have 15 a -- like a couple of inch stack of invoices and supporting 16 documents, and they would be -- there could be typically two
17 rubber stamps on them. One would say, and I think you have seen
18 these on a couple of exhibits. One would say "goods and have 19 been received," and that would be signed by the person who -- we 20 use the term contract owner. That would be signed by somebody
21 who actually has the responsibility of using the goods or 22 services or who is involved in the dealings directly with the 23 vendor.

24 And then the second stamp would have two lines and 25 that's for approval by two officers. If it's a contract over

KM

1 50 -- not a contract. Excuse me. An invoice for payment of
2 over 50,000.

1 Q Okay, and if there was an invoice for less than 50,
2 would it have those two officers' signature lines?

3 A No, no.

4 Q Now, do invoices generally come to you for approval
5 ever?

6 A Invoices for services that are contracted through the 7 office of General Counsel or the secretary's office. So, for 8 example, if there's an invoice for a hotel bill for a board
9 meeting that falls under the secretary's office and I would see
10 that anyway.

11 Legal bills for law firms that are used by the office
12 of General Counsel would come to me whether they're for 500
13 bucks or 5,000 bucks or 500,000 bucks.

14 Q And is it fair to say that those invoices that you just 15 described are the invoices where your office is the owner of 16 them?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Do any other invoices come to you?

19 A Yeah, the other ones that come to me are the ones that 20 come to us under that financial control policy requiring two 21 officers' signatures for an invoice over 50,000.

22 Q And are those --

23 A Excuse me -- yeah, I'm sorry, invoice. I wanted to 24 make sure I didn't say contract.

25 Q Are those invoices for which your office is the owner?

BP

4180

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A No, most of them aren't.

2 Q Well, if one of them was and it was over 50,000 and it
3 originated in the General Counsel's office, let's say, would you
4 sign it twice both as owner and officer?

5 A No, I think the original signature would be enough.

6 Q So, I want to talk about the second category where it
7 comes to you for officer signature where you're not the owner.

8 What, if anything, do you do to satisfy yourself that 9 it is appropriate to approve payment?

10 A Sure. I look at the invoice. I make sure I have some 11 understanding of what the -- who the vendor is and what the 12 nature of the goods or services are and look at -- and then make 13 sure that it has all the necessary approvals; and if it doesn't
14 on the face appear strange or unusual, I'll sign off on it.

15 Q Now, if it does not have all the signoffs, what do you
16 do?

17 A If it doesn't have all the signoffs, I would send it
18 back.

19 Q If it has all the signoffs, is that an automatic for 20 you that you would sign it as an officer?

21 A No. I would still ask questions if I thought there was 22 something that needed to be asked about.

23 Q Can you give the jury an example of one where there is 24 nothing odd about it and another where there might be something
25 odd about it?

BP

4181

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Sure. I'll give you an example of one I looked at 2 yesterday, just to show you the routine type of practice.

3 While I was on the train up here I logged on to the 4 invoice approval system, PN 3 that Mr. Erstling mentioned. And 5 I think the first invoice in the list in my inbox there was for 6 printing of books. There were student handbooks for the basic 7 pistol class. It is their most popular class in education and 8 training division. Every student gets a helpful book that 9 covers all the basics of pistol safety and shooting and so on.

10 And from time to time, we need to restock the 11 inventory, so we ordered 14,000 books and it was about $99,000
12 so it is in the over-50 category and it comes to me.

13 As I looked at the routing information. I see that it
14 has a signoff from a -- actually, it has a note attached in the 15 system from a purchasing assistant who's verified that the 16 shipment was actually received at the warehouse. And then it
17 goes to the director of the purchasing division, Lisa George,
18 and she signed off on it. And I can't remember if that went to 19 Ms. Rowling first or me first. We're usually the two doing the 20 signoffs.

21 But, in any event, I've got an invoice. The purchasing
22 division is responsible for buying the books. It said that the 23 books have been received, and so I signed off on it.

24 Q When you say Ms. Rowling and you usually are the two,
25 you're talking about the two officer signoffs?

BP

4182

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Correct, correct.

2 Q Because it is greater than 50,000?

3 A Correct.

4 Q We've seen invoices in this case that relate to 5 Ackerman McQueen out-of-pocket invoices or OOP invoices. Do you
6 see that?

7 A I do.

8 Q Did it ever happen that an Ackerman OOP invoice came to 9 you for officer approval?

10 A Probably.

11 Q Let me ask you a preliminary question. Were you ever
12 the owner of an Ackerman OOP invoice?

13 A No.

14 Q Who's the owner of the Ackerman OOP invoices?

15 A When I saw these come through -- and, remember, the 16 Ackerman relationship dissolved before we had any electronic 17 approval system. So those were coming through in usually a
18 stack of other Ackerman invoices, but they would typically be 19 signed off on by either Woody Phillips -- I'm sorry -- on the 20 goods and services have been received section, they have been 21 signed off either by Woody Phillips or by one of the staff on 22 his behalf.

23 Q And is that because the treasurer department was the 24 owner of that relationship?

25 A They were the business liaison with Ackerman in those

BP

4183

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 terms.

2 Q And when you saw that say Mr. Tedrick had signed, did
3 that give you assurance this was okay for approval?

4 A It did. Because I had an understanding that that was a
5 task that had been delegated by Mr. Phillips. Similarly, if
6 Ms. Supernaugh signed off, she would usually write something
7 like "LS per tel-con with WHP."

8 So it's indicating she had talked with Mr. Phillips.

9 Q So, I'd like to switch topics and talk about
10 related-party transactions.

11 Is there a committee at the NRA that is authorized to 12 approve related-party transactions?

13 A Yes.

14 Q What committee is that?

15 A The Audit Committee.

16 Q When did that happen?

17 A In January -- in January 2016 when the new 18 conflict-of-interest policy was adopted.

19 Q Is that this conflict-of-interest policy we spent time
20 talking about in this case?

21 A Yes.

22 Q That you and Mr. Galla put together?

23 A Correct.

24 Q How -- so, can you describe how that document is 25 authorized by the Audit Committee?

BP

4184

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I don't have it right in front of me at this moment;
2 but, basically, it says that substantial -- the related-party
3 transactions are conflict-of-interest transactions that should
4 be reviewed by the Committee.

5 Q Well, let's turn to Tab 21, PX 421, which is in 6 evidence, and if we could turn to page 26 of 300.

7 A Okay. I'm there.

8 Q Okay. So, could you describe in response to my last 9 question of how it happened that the Audit Committee became 10 authorized to address related-party transactions?

11 A Yeah, so our understanding after reviewing New York law
12 as we worked through this policy was that this was a function
13 that could be delegated to a committee, and so it was delegated 14 to a committee.

15 And, and as the policy indicates material facts about
16 conflict of interest need to be disclosed to the Audit
17 Committee, it is in the middle of the page. And then at the 18 bottom of the page it notes that the -- and goes into some 19 further detail about the mechanics of that disclosure on the 20 disclosure form that we talked about, and then at the bottom of 21 the page it says "Audit Committee will review the transactions
22 and determine whether to approve or ratify them."

23 Q Okay. And this policy was adopted when by the board?

24 A January 2016.

25 Q And since January 2016, has, to your knowledge, the

BP

4185

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 board and the NRA as a whole followed the procedures set forth
2 in this policy?

3 A Yes.

4 Q So after this -- the passage or the adoption by the
5 board of this policy, did you take any steps to get the Audit
6 Committee to consider related-party transactions?

7 A I did. At the first audit since this was adopted in 8 January '16, the first Audit Committee after that the March 2016
9 meeting, I discussed with the committee about how setting up a
10 framework for reviewing these transactions and how to handle
11 certain types of issues.

12 Q And do you remember when that Audit Committee meeting
13 occurred?

14 A That was the March 2016 meeting.

15 Q And do you recall what the Audit Committee did at that
16 meeting?

17 A Well, I remember there was specifically discussion
18 that's mentioned in the committee report I think about how to 19 deal with something that we -- a little bit off beat that we had 20 fairly often, which kind of two categories:

21 One were transactions where the NRA pays a director in 22 the ordinary course of NRA business to -- at a very small
23 amount, like, you know some of our directors not surprisingly 24 have a lot of experience in competitive shooting and so go to 25 our rifle and pistol matches and referee matches for -- I don't

BP

4186

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 know -- 15, 20 bucks an hour and for a few days. They're hired
2 on the same terms as anyone else, and that's kind of minimal.

3 And then the other category we have, which I don't 4 really see that much in other nonprofits, but I hear about is 5 situations where the board members are paying us. And that's,
6 that happens because we have -- we, historically, have had some
7 board members who are in the firearms or ammunition or outdoors
8 industry who want to exhibit their products at annual meetings
9 so they're buying booth space or they want to advertise in our 10 magazines so they buying ads. So, they're paying us and they're 11 paying the same rate as anyone else would. So, the committee
12 said it's not a conflict, that it's helping the association.

13 Q The two examples you just gave, are those exceptions to 14 the what qualifies for related-party transactions?

15 A Yeah, they are -- I believe that they are.

16 Q Can you go to your binder and point to the jury by 17 section where, if at all, those are discussed, those exceptions?

18 A Sure. I would point to page 27 of 300, and it is right
19 in the middle of the page.

20 Q The paragraph beginning "Approval is usually?"

21 A Correct.

22 MR. FLEMING: Can we highlight that paragraph.

23 Q Can you just describe, you know, briefly for the jury
24 what this paragraph is talking about?

25 A Sure. So, what it is saying is that the Audit

BP

4187

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Committee doesn't need to look at certain types of transactions
2 and then it lists some of those types. One of them is de
3 minimis transactions, I think that's a term that was used in the 4 opening arguments.

5 Q Let me stop you. These are the minimal payments you
6 just talked about?

7 A Right, the ones I just talked about would be an 8 example, yeah.

9 The second is these transactions or activities
10 undertaken in the ordinary course of business, and that's kind
11 of a flexible category; but, basically, saying that if staff
12 would normally hire something to be done, they -- that there's 13 not necessarily an obstacle to having a board member do it.

14 Q Let me stop you there. So, we've seen transactions in 15 quotes with rifle and pistol associations.

16 Do you recall those?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Is that an example of ordinary course type of
19 transaction?

20 A It could be. I mean, the NRA, historically, has given
21 what are called state assistance grants to state -- affiliated 22 organizations in states to help carry out the mission.

23 Q And where the Audit Committee considers and evaluates
24 and either approves or disapproves of a transaction with, for 25 instance, a state rifle and pistol association, is that

BP

4188

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 necessarily an indication that it's a related-party transaction?

2 A Not necessarily.

3 Q So why would the Audit Committee do that?

4 A Just out of an abundance of caution in a lot of cases.

5 Q Okay, so I interrupted you. Can you continue to take
6 the jury through this.

7 A Sure. So, class C is benefits provided to a related 8 party solely as a member of a class that the NRA intends to 9 benefit as part of the accomplishment of its mission.

10 So to put it in shorter terms, we call that the class
11 of beneficiaries exception. What that means is, for example,
12 I'm a member of a gun club in northern Virginia. It's got 13 shooting ranges and fishing ponds and stuff like that.

14 And I go -- when I go there, there is a banner up that 15 says that the chapter has received grants from the NRA
16 Foundation. So, it is a related organization so it falls under 17 the Audit Committee policy. It just happens that an NRA officer
18 and probably a bunch of employees are all members there, but 19 that doesn't mean that the club got a special deal because 20 the Foundation gives thousands of these grants all over the 21 country.

22 Q Okay. And are (d) and (e) sort of related exceptions?

23 A They are. I would call them actually kind of --
24 they're similar to the ordinary course of business exception.

25 So, (d) is transactions related to compensation of

BP

4189

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 employees or reimbursement of expenses.

2 So, if a board member drives to a board meeting and
3 puts in an expense report for mileage and meals, and, you know,
4 other check baggage fees and other routine stuff, that's not a
5 conflict of interest. That doesn't need to go to the Audit
6 Committee. It's just a normal practice.

7 Q So --

8 A And then the last one is officer compensation because 9 approval of compensation of the elected officer is covered in 10 the Bylaws, which are higher level than this.

11 Q Okay. And all of this was a detour from your 12 discussion about the March Audit Committee meeting, so I'd like 13 to direct your attention back to there.

14 You were describing what had happened at that meeting?

15 A I did.

16 Q Can you continue with that.

17 A So, we discussed some of the de minimis and ordinary
18 course type of activities and non-conflict activities, but then
19 we -- and then we, also, discussed the need to do a more
20 comprehensive review, gather information on more significant 21 transactions that were out there and do a comprehensive look at 22 them later in the year.

23 Q So, I'd like to show you tab 17 in your binder, PX 2586
24 in evidence so the jury can see it.

25 (Displayed)

BP

4190

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q Mr. Frazer, I'm going to direct your attention to the 2 final two pages of this exhibit.

3 A Okay.

4 Q Do you recall what the final two pages reflect?

5 A Yeah, this is -- this is an attachment as part of the 6 minutes that reflects the board -- excuse me -- the Audit
7 Committee's September 2016 consideration of related-party
8 transactions.

9 Q And were you present for that meeting?

10 A I was.

11 Q What, if anything, did you do at that meeting?

12 A I had prepared -- I had prepared a version of this, of 13 this attachment to guide the discussion; and I just went through 14 it, and the committee discussed each of the -- each of the 15 individuals or transactions on the list and at the end voted 16 that they were fair, reasonable and in the best interest of the
17 NRA.

18 Q So, let me ask you specifically about three of them.

19 Did the transactions considered include those -- well,
20 withdrawn.

21 Did the transactions not only considered, but approved
22 include those for Dave Butz, Sandra Froman and Marion Hammer in 23 September of 2016?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Now, what did the Audit Committee do with respect to

4191

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 those three transactions?

2 A Yeah, so all three -- what all three of them had in 3 common was that they all had been -- these relationships with 4 these board members had all been in place for a number of years.
5 So, they -- to my recollection, all predated the change in New
6 York law in -- that took effect in 2014.

7 And, so, the -- so to my mind, there wasn't a problem
8 with them having existed before; and what the committee was 9 doing was ratifying what had happened in the past and then
10 approving them to go forward in the future.

11 Q When you say "ratify," explain what you mean?

12 A Ratification is a legal term for approval after the 13 fact.

14 Q Okay. And your understanding was -- well, withdrawn.

15 Was your intent -- your intent that the Audit Committee
16 not only ratify, but approve in advance, as you just said?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Now, do you have any understanding of when Mr. Butz's
19 arrangement had originated?

20 A At least 2008, I think.

21 Q Okay.

22 A I may be wrong.

23 Q How about Ms. Froman and then same question for 24 Ms. Hammer?

25 A Ms. Froman, I think a little earlier; and Ms. Hammer,

BP

4192

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 for Unified Sportsmen of Florida at least, much earlier.

2 Q And all that predated the revitalization law in 2014?

3 A To the best of my recollection, yes.

4 Q So, we could take that down, and I would direct your
5 attention to Tab 6 in your binder.

6 MR. FLEMING: This is for identification, so the 7 jury should not see this.

8 THE COURT: You're just going to use the binder for
9 this one?

10 MR. FLEMING: Yes, good idea.

11 THE COURT: As long as the other lawyers have it.
12 I don't know if they have a binder?

13 MS. STERN: I do. Sorry?

14 MR. FLEMING: You have a binder?

15 MS. STERN: Yes, I have a binder.

16 Q So, Mr. Frazer, do you recognize the document that's 17 been marked for identification as JFX 66A?

18 A I do.

19 Q What is it?

20 A It is the minutes of the December 7, 2017, Audit
21 Committee meeting.

22 Q And were you present for this meeting?

23 A I was.

24 Q Did you make any presentation at this meeting?

25 A I did.

BP

4193

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q Have you seen this document before?

2 A I have.

3 Q Was it -- to your knowledge, was it created at or about
4 the time of that meeting?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Was it the ordinary practice of the NRA's audit
7 secretary to make minutes of this sort?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And are these minutes kept in the ordinary course of 10 business at the NRA?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. FLEMING: I move its admission, your Honor.

13 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor. He hasn't 14 established who created this document. His questions were 15 in broad generalities.

16 MR. FLEMING: It's a business record.

17 THE COURT: All right, is your argument that as 18 General Counsel he's not in a position to know the ordinary
19 course of business in creating these records?

20 MS. STERN: He did not establish that -- I'm sorry.

21 He did not establish what the ordinary course of 22 business was in creating records at this period of time, and 23 there's been a fair amount of testimony in this case and an 24 awful lot of documents, different versions of the same types
25 of documents and so it is quite unclear.

BP

4194

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 THE COURT: Well, look, since he didn't sign this
2 one, I mean, can you establish whether he has enough
3 involvement in this particular process given his job that he
4 can testify as to how these were created?

5 MR. FLEMING: I can, very similar to the other
6 document we talked about, but...

7 Q Mr. Frazer, do you know how this document came to be
8 created?

9 A Sure. Like the September -- it was very similar to the 10 September 2016 minutes. The format is a little bit different;
11 but, basically, I helped Mr. Tedrick write the section on 12 related-party transactions, and then he, I believe, inserted it
13 into a standard format of meeting minutes.

14 Q And did he, to your understanding, edit the document if 15 at all based on what happened at the meeting, or did you help
16 him write it after the meeting?

17 MS. STERN: Objection, compound.

18 MR. FLEMING: I'll ask it different.

19 Q When you testified that you helped Mr. Tedrick write
20 this, did you help him write it before or after the December 7th
21 meeting?

22 A I don't remember if it was before or after. I may have 23 had some of the material about the related-party transactions in 24 advance.

25 Q And did you have discussions with Mr. Tedrick about its

BP

4195

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 contents at anytime?

2 A I did.

3 Q And did you have discussions with him prior to him
4 signing it?

5 A Yes.

6 THE COURT: I'll admit it. I think he's in a
7 position based on prior testimony to be able to testify as 8 to how these kinds of records are made and created.

9 It is admitted as JFX 66A.

10 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit JFX 66A was
11 admitted and received into evidence.)

12 MR. FLEMING: We can publish it.

13 (Displayed)

14 Q So, Mr. Frazer, first question I have for you is were 15 the transactions reflected in JFX 66A in fact addressed by the 16 Audit Committee at the December 7, 2017, meeting?

17 THE COURT: Based on his attendance.

18 MR. FLEMING: Based on his attendance independent
19 of the document, except to the extent reflects the 20 transactions recorded.

21 A Yes.

22 Q And that's based on your personal knowledge and 23 recollection; right?

24 A Correct, yes.

25 Q And now do you see the entry for David Keene?

BP

4196

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I do.

2 Q Who is David Keene?

3 A David Keene then and now is an NRA board member and 4 past president.

5 Q And what happened at the December 7, 2017, Audit
6 Committee meeting with respect to Mr. Keene?

7 A So, at some point before this meeting, I became aware
8 that Mr. Keene had been paid $4,000 a month in support of these 9 speaking engagements, which I think we heard testimony about 10 before and -- and the, you know, gathered information about that 11 and discussed it with the committee and the committee asked what 12 I took to be intended as an approval -- as a ratification of 13 the -- this had been going on since March so it was, you know,
14 roughly eight months worth of transactions, and then approval of 15 it to continue.

16 Q Now, when was it disclosed to you that Mr. Keene had 17 this arrangement?

18 A I don't remember the exact date. It was some time --
19 this was December, so it was sometime fairly soon before the 20 meeting. Late, late fall.

21 Q Okay, and what, if anything, did you do upon receiving 22 disclosure that a transaction had been entered into without 23 pre-approval?

24 A I gathered more information about, about the amount of 25 the payments, the nature of the speaking engagements. I think

BP

4197

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 by this time I had actually attended one of his speeches.
2 The -- but and then I reminded the appropriate parties that
3 transactions like this in the future would need approval in 4 advance rather than ratification after the fact.

5 Q Okay, changing topic.

6 Do you oversee the Audit Committee?

7 A No.

8 Q Do you have any responsibility with respect to ensuring 9 that a related-party transaction is fair, reasonable and in the 10 best interest of the NRA?

11 A That's a determination that's made by the committee.
12 All that we on the staff can do is bring the information to the 13 committee; and in some cases, maybe advocate for the transaction
14 if it's important to whoever is the operational person in that 15 business area.

16 Q Do you have a vote on these transactions?

17 A No.

18 Q Who has the vote on these transactions?

19 A The committee members.

20 Q And how many committee members are there?

21 A Five.

22 Q Does the committee, the Audit Committee have any 23 responsibility to oversee you?

24 A They're all board members. So they all, ultimately,
25 vote on reelecting me as secretary. They elect to set my

BP

4198

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 compensation. Currently, two of them are the president and one
2 of the vice presidents.

3 Q So, they're your bosses; right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q It's not the other way around?

6 A Absolutely.

7 Q All right. Now, once you were provided the Audit
8 Committee with notice of the transaction or conflict, what 9 further responsibility do you have at that point with respect to 10 that transaction or that conflict?

11 A I would assist them in whatever way they see fit,
12 whether that's to help bring in someone else to explain the 13 situation, to help look for additional documents as I did with 14 Lieutenant Colonel North; but it is really -- it's really their 15 job once they have that.

16 Q Let me ask you a related question, you mentioned
17 Lieutenant Colonel North.

18 Do you have any authority or power to prevent the Audit
19 Committee from considering a transaction?

20 A No, they can consider -- I mean, the whole point of the 21 way that the Audit Committee is set up and appointed is that 22 there's supposed to be an independent committee of the board and 23 have a lot of independent power to oversee NRA policies.

24 Q Now, it's been raised that the Audit Committee
25 considered Lieutenant Colonel North's employment agreement with

4199

1 Ackerman McQueen. Do you recall that?

2 A I do.

3 Q And there's been a question raised about whether it was
4 appropriate for the Audit Committee to consider that arrangement
5 with only a contract summary.

6 Do you remember that?

7 A I do.

8 Q Can you describe for the jury what I'm talking about
9 when I say "contract summary?"

10 A Sure. So, basically, going into the September 2018
11 meeting, the -- several people, including me, had been trying to 12 get the actual contract or details about the contract so that 13 the committee and the NRA board could fully understand it, and 14 hadn't met with much success, but we did -- our outside counsel,
15 Steve Hart, did get from Ackerman a short summary of some key
16 points of the contract which the committee -- the committee
17 considered.

18 The conflict-of-interest policy says that the committee
19 has to evaluate the material facts, material terms and that was 20 what we understood to be the -- what the committee understood to 21 be the material terms as best we could get them at the time.

1 Q Now, if you thought it was prudent for the Audit
2 Committee to hold off on considering a transaction waiting to 3 get some further information, you could advise them of that;
4 right?

5 A Sure.

6 MS. STERN: Objection. Leading.

7 THE COURT: Overruled.

8 Q But I want to be clear. Do you have any power to stop
9 them from considering, if they want to?

10 A I can only -- you know, Major Land always used to --
11 used to come, and wanted to put lawyers in our place that 12 lawyers should be advisors, not deciders. And if they -- you
13 know, they -- once they have -- once the committee has the 14 information, they can proceed as they see fit.

15 Q So I want to change topics again.

16 Do you recall there coming a time in the Spring of 2019
17 when the NRA was the subject of unfavorable news stories?

18 A I remember it well.

19 Q Okay. What, if anything, did you do when those stories 20 came out?

21 A So really in early 2018 into 2019 and ever since when 22 there have been any kind of unfavorable stories that -- not just 23 that normal type of unfavorable stories, but the unfavorable
24 stories about legal or governance issue, I would try to address
25 them and evaluate whether, you know, is this something that's

KM

4201

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 new. Is this something that we know anything about? Is this
2 something that requires further investigation? If it needs
3 further investigation, who is in the best position to do it?
4 Should it be done in-house? Should it be delegated to outside
5 counsel? Where does it fit in the big picture?

6 Q And in this period --

7 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I just want to raise the 8 fact that during the course of discovery, Mr. Frazer
9 repeatedly asserted privilege over his role with respect to 10 investigation development being allegations of wrongdoing.
11 And so in the interest of being consistent with that, I'm 12 just raising and flagging the issue as we proceed down this 13 path of inquiry.

14 MS. ROGERS: We object to this objection. This 15 question is one that he can answer without raising any sword
16 and shield issues. We have -- he's answered so many 17 questions within the scope of this question over the four 18 years of being dragged through investigative and then 19 litigation discovery that the objection is frivolous and 20 it's a frivolous speaking objection designed to disrupt the 21 testimony.

22 MS. STERN: Actually, your Honor, I think that we 23 can point to even a document that's in the binder of 24 documents that Mr. Frazer's counsel identified to us which I
25 believe a week ago the NRA objected to on privilege grounds.

KM

4202

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 So I'm just flagging it for the Court and in all good faith.

2 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, may I be heard?

3 The point of this is not so much to get into
4 privilege but just to show Mr. Frazer's responsiveness.
5 That's it.

6 THE COURT: Overruled.

7 Q So in this period of time, in the Spring of 2019 when
8 these unfavorable news articles are coming out -- well,
9 withdrawn. I believe I asked the question.

10 So can I have you turn to Tab 3, and this is just for 11 your binder. Don't put it up yet. This is PX 1801 for 12 identification, and it is absent of the spreadsheet that Ms.
13 Stern was just talking about.

14 But I would ask you if this refreshes any memory or can 15 help you tell us what, if anything, you were doing around this 16 timeframe.

17 MS. STERN: Excuse me, Mr. Frazer.

18 Mr. Fleming, I just didn't hear what you said. Did
19 you say it was absent the spreadsheet?

20 MR. FLEMING: Yes. I have left the spreadsheet out
21 because there was an objection.

22 MS. STERN: You're offering only the covering
23 email?

24 MS. ROGERS: The NRA has no objection to the cover
25 email, and we have no objection to Mr. Frazer testifying to

KM

4203

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 what he did. Only about legal advice.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 Q Did you understand the question?

4 A Could I have the question again.

5 Q Yeah. Well, I'll paraphrase it.

6 So this email -- does the content of this email help
7 you tell us what, if anything, you were doing in Spring of 2019
8 with respect to investigating these news articles?

9 A Yes, it does.

10 Q Can you tell us what that was?

11 A Sure. So just in general --

12 MS. STERN: Noting our objection for the record.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 A Just in general terms, what this reminded me of is that 15 in April 2019 at the Board meeting in Indianapolis, Mr. Cotton
16 who at the time was the Chairman of the Audit Committee still as 17 he had been for several years but he wasn't yet an NRA officer,
18 so he was a rank and file Board member and committee chairman
19 came to me and said we have had all these negative articles.
20 Can you put together a list of the allegations that are out
21 there and just at a high level what we are doing about them or 22 what we know about them just to make sure we are on top of 23 everything essentially.

24 Q With respect to that list, were you doing anything
25 about them to figure out what these issues were?

KM

4204

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Yeah. I worked with my executive assistant at the time
2 to develop a spreadsheet that listed some of the key allegations
3 that were out there in the media and described, you know, status
4 of investigation or whether we had already determined something
5 to be incorrect or, you know, whatever according to the 6 situation.

7 Q Okay. And do you recall there coming a time in or 8 about the Summer of 2019 when Esther Schneider approached you
9 about issues that had been raised in unfavorable news articles?

10 A I do.

11 Q Okay. And do you recall testifying that you actually 12 had spent 40 minutes talking to her?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Were these the same issues that -- the ones you had 15 been investigating that you're speaking to Ms. Schneider about 16 in that call?

17 A A lot of them, yes.

18 Q So changing topics. Do you recall a question during 19 the plaintiff's redirect of their expert Mr. Hines?

20 THE COURT: Counsel, can we -- now that you're 21 moving on to a new thing, can we take our short break for 22 the afternoon.

23 MR. FLEMING: Yes.

24 THE COURT: We are going to take a short break. We 25 will come back in a few minutes.

KM

4205

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

2 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
3 the courtroom.)

4 THE COURT: I just want -- have a seat. Just a
5 couple of things I wanted to talk about. And Mr. Fleming, I
6 know you wanted to raise some things, but before we get to 7 that, logistics for tomorrow.

8 We have had a couple of days where there is a
9 little bit of a chaos and miscommunications and none of that 10 can happen tomorrow. Okay. There is no rain date. So you 11 need to be very tightly coordinated on which witness is 12 coming next.

13 I also don't want us to start a witness that we 14 can't finish. So I just need you all to really focus on 15 insuring that we have a -- you know, a smooth end of day
16 where the defendants can rest and get us going to the next
17 day. So I don't know how that's going to work, but you have 18 all had plenty of time to think about it. So it's very much
19 incumbent upon the defendants to plan out what they are 20 going to do and how long they are going to take and how many 21 hours everybody has left before the bell rings.

22 The plaintiff hasn't stood up yet today, so their 23 hours haven't been used yet today. So I'm just -- I don't 24 have a particularly constructive advice about how to do it.
25 I just don't want to hear people yelling at each other about

KM

4206

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 tomorrow, well, they didn't tell me this or I didn't get
2 enough notice. We are at the end.

3 I got a letter with the related-party transaction
4 list, and I wanted to ask just a couple of questions, and 5 I'm trying to figure out how logistically to do this.

6 MS. STERN: Before we turn to the related-party
7 transaction list, just very quickly, if we can just -- we 8 got an email at 2:18 from Mr. Peters with the roster for 9 tomorrow. I just wanted to see if this is agreed upon by 10 the defendants.

11 THE COURT: I don't want to do this in front of me.

12 MS. STERN: Okay.

13 THE COURT: Whatever that is, I saw that and I took 14 that as the -- that's what prompted me to ask.

15 I don't know how to put this politely. I don't 16 want to hear about about this. I want you to all make this
17 work. I can't really micromanage, especially toward the end
18 when there is no maneuverability about moving somebody to 19 the next day. So I'm sure you will be able to work it out.

20 I just wanted to ask a couple of questions about 21 the related-party list. The one that I had a question about
22 was the one that had been just listed as Member Marketing
23 Partners. And so I see the description here, and I'm just 24 trying to see how this fits within the statutory definition
25 of a related-party transaction.

KM

4207

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Does anybody on the State side -- can you explain
2 that to me? Because it's -- it has to be a transaction, and 3 the transactions I assume you're talking about here are the 4 contracts between the NRA and these vendors.

5 Now, I can see how the conflict-of-interest policy
6 might be implicated in general. But what's the -- are you
7 saying because there were these separate spreadsheets -- I
8 mean, the McKenzies are not related parties. They are not 9 relatives. So you seem to be arguing that Mr. LaPierre is 10 financially interested in the vendor relationship because of 11 some other things that are going on where they go on yacht
12 trips and all that.

13 Is there any law that says that that falls within a
14 related-party transaction? Because that's not the usual
15 party set up for a related-party transaction.

16 MS. STERN: I think that in the enforcement of the 17 715, as you well know, there is not a lot of developed case
18 law under the N-PCL 715 but in other enforcement actions,
19 the office has brought 715 violations and obtained assurance
20 of discontinuance where the arrangement is essentially a --
21 a benefit called a kickback from the vendor and that creates 22 the financial interest. And I would be happy to provide the 23 Court with that assurance of discontinuance involving a 24 similar --

25 THE COURT: Well, that's not really law. I mean,

KM

4208

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 let's start with language of the statute; right.

2 Where do you get -- where does that come from?

3 Does that authority come from -- you know, kickback -- I get
4 a kickback.

5 In other words, if there was a -- and I view a
6 kickback as, you know, under the contracts with the NRA,
7 there was a separate and secret contract where every million
8 dollars the vendor gets, Mr. LaPierre gets $100. That's not 9 what you have here. That would be a transaction in which he 10 is interested because he is getting a seemingly direct
11 benefit. I'm having some trouble understanding how this 12 fits into that definition.

13 So you're just saying -- well, I'll just leave it
14 at that. I don't really see how this fits within the 15 statutory definition of a transaction in which they have a
16 financial interest. I get it. I mean, there could be -- 17 there is a separate conflict-of-interest policy section of 18 the statute, but that's not what this is. Right?

19 So you're just saying in the past, you have 20 enforced it, but that, you know, we are now on trial here.
21 And so I have to have a legal rationale for it, and I don't 22 really understand the argument for that one.

23 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I guess I would just --

24 THE COURT: Doesn't company -- the way the 25 related-party transaction process works is you have a

KM

4209

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 transaction and then you should know based on the four
2 corners of the -- I think it's transaction or other
3 arrangement. You should know from the arrangement that this 4 is -- there is a related-party who has an interest in it.

5 This one is one where the only interest that you're
6 raising is that separately they have this friendly
7 relationship where they get all these fancy perks.

8 So I'm just trying to figure out how that's one
9 contractual arrangement.

10 MS. STERN: Well, I mean, I think as we explain in 11 the letter and that there is a relationship between the 12 contracts and the receipt of these substantial --

13 THE COURT: You haven't -- there's been no evidence
14 that -- this may sound ridiculous, but there is no
15 contractual term vis a vis the NRA that says among other
16 things you have to give these benefits to our CEO. That's 17 not part of the arrangement with the NRA. Just separately
18 they do these things which you have sort of suggested is a
19 conflict of interest, but the conflict of interest is more,
20 you know, selecting them.

21 Now, you make this point in your chart that you
22 sent me that while there seems to be a relationship between 23 when these boat trips happened and the increase in the fees.

24 MS. STERN: Correct.

25 THE COURT: So is that the evidence that it's all

KM

4210

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 part of one deal in that it's a quid pro quo that they only
2 got the next transaction because of the boat trip?

3 MS. STERN: It's all part of the same scheme, yeah.

4 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor --

5 MS. STERN: I think in Mr. Connell, his 6 examination, he showed the relationships between --

7 THE COURT: I remember that.

8 MS. STERN: -- the changes in the financial terms
9 of the transaction.

10 THE COURT: Isn't that sort of post hoc ergo
11 proctor hoc?

12 MR. CORRELL: Yes, it is, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Definition of related-transaction --
14 related-party transaction is as I think Mr. Farber pointed 15 out to me the other day, is that it's a transaction that 16 would not be customarily reviewed by the Board or Boards of 17 similar organizations. And I noticed in your list were 18 things like, you know, Ms. LaPierre's hair and makeup.

19 Is it your position that that is the kind of thing
20 that would normally be reviewed by the Board of Directors.

21 MS. STERN: Under their policy, it would be.

22 THE COURT: Because it's a related-party
23 transaction or because --

24 MS. STERN: And raises a conflict of interest. The 25 very policy that we were just going through with Mr. Frazer.

KM

4211

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 THE COURT: So it's a related -- so the statute
2 says that it's not a related-party transaction if it's not a
3 transaction that would customarily be reviewed by the Board.

4 I assumed what that means is if it was an unrelated
5 party transaction, we wouldn't review it. In other words,
6 it's the kind of -- whether it's di minimus or something
7 else that, you know, people are not going to the Board for 8 review of. You view it more as it's customarily reviewed by 9 the Board because the internal guidelines here provide that 10 all related-party transactions get reviewed by the Board.

11 MS. STERN: Yeah, because that's their own
12 internal. That's the standards that they have set.

13 MS. ROGERS: Let me be heard briefly.

14 THE COURT: Let me just finish with them.

15 Now, another one that I just was looking at.
16 Millie Hallow's son doing music service. Is that something 17 that rises to the level of a related-party transaction under 18 this definition?

19 MS. STERN: It was in fact reviewed by the Board,
20 your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Well, that's a different question;
22 right.

23 The statutory definition which is what I have to 24 apply, you know, has a carve out which at least it seems to 25 me is designed to incorporate a couple of different things.

KM

4212

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 One, if it's not customarily reviewed and also if
2 it's di minimus. So is the financial impact of these music
3 services more than di minimus?

4 MS. STERN: I hate to sort of punt on the question,
5 but I'm the wrong person to answer that question --

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MS. STERN: -- right now, but -- so I'm sorry about
8 that.

9 THE COURT: Yeah. I mean, I understood the rest of 10 the list.

11 There is a bunch of Board member transactions.
12 They are not enormously large, but I think -- and I also 13 view transactions with current officers for post-employment
14 as sort of inherently the kind of things that Boards do look
15 at, but those few seemed a little odd for the list.

16 So I mean, I'm going to think about it.

17 MS. STERN: I would just sort of point out how are 18 the parties that are involved in these transactions and that 19 they are -- for instance, Millie Hallow, her role in the 20 organization being Mr. LaPierre's long-time advisor and 21 confidant and the idea of getting special treatment is sort
22 of -- that's really at the heart of --

23 THE COURT: Well, but that's circular; right? In 24 other words, it's a related-party transaction because it's a 25 related-party transaction. That sort of takes away those

KM

4213

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 sub-paragraphs about things that are specifically defined as 2 not being.

3 So by definition, the way the statute is written,
4 at least as I read it, you start with the idea that it
5 otherwise meets definition of related-party transaction, but
6 the statute says, however, it's not a related-party
7 transaction if one of these four things is true.

8 So you seem to be saying that, well, the fact that 9 it's a related-party is why it's subject to review, but that 10 would make those exceptions meaningless.

11 MS. STERN: Well, it's also the nature of the -- 12 what are they contracting them for.

13 So if it's something that looks like it's a, you
14 know, gimme to somebody's son or daughter, that's what 15 raises the regularly of it.

16 THE COURT: I understand that it's -- it may be 17 troubling or it may be sort of odd, but I have to kind of 18 understand. The legislature carved certain things out. So
19 something that would otherwise be a related-party
20 transaction. So it has all of those problems. They are 21 saying to me or to all of us that it's not -- it says except 22 that a transaction shall not be a related-party transaction
23 if any one of these four things is true. One of which is 24 that it's di minimus. Two of which is that it would not 25 customarily be reviewed by the Board or the Boards of

4214

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 similar organizations in the ordinary course of business.
2 And this is the part or -- that carve out is -- and is
3 available to others on the same or similar terms. So that
4 carve out has to have both things. So even if it's -- you
5 know, the hair stuff would not be ordinarily reviewed. It's 6 not in the exception unless it's that and also offered to 7 others. So I get that.

8 So anyway, I'm. I don't -- some of these ones on 9 the list didn't get a lot of air time during your case, so
10 I'm not familiar with what they are, but I am now certainly 11 going to include all the exceptions in the instructions that 12 Mr. Farber was urging me to include because some of these 13 clearly raise at least a potential for falling within one of 14 them because you now have a couple in here that are not the 15 big dollar ones and -- but I am still interested -- I
16 don't -- I'm not looking for more letters, but I'd like to 17 get a little better understanding for the big one which was 18 the MMP.

19 MS. STERN: Okay.

20 THE COURT: How that's a related-party transaction
21 is a little unclear to me. So let me just get -- I know we 22 are wasting time here, but let me let the people who are 23 standing up -- Ms. Rogers wanted to talk first.

24 MS. ROGERS: Very just briefly.

25 The extent that they are alleging MMP is a

KM

4215

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 related-party transaction, all the evidence they have put in
2 is that boat trips happened, and Mr. -- and the contract was 3 amended in the same or subsequent year, and there were
4 frequent boat trips and frequent contract amendments. So
5 that's the sum of the evidence. Then we think we should get 6 a directed verdict on that.

7 Even assuming -- even if MMP, the type of financial
8 interest that the statute contemplates is sort of elucidated
9 by the definition of related-party which talks about owning
10 35 percent of the company. That's the type of interest that 11 the framework of the N-PCL had in mind. That's in N-PCL 102
12 sub A sub 24.

13 THE COURT: Well, definition of related party is 14 23. Definition of related-party transaction is 24.

15 MS. ROGERS: So they don't match up exactly, but 16 they clearly interlock. And so what type of financial 17 interest creates this related-party relationship, it's 35,
18 and that's the type of financial interest that the statute
19 seems attentive too. So it doesn't seem -- it doesn't seem 20 sufficient.

21 THE COURT: Well, no. I mean nobody is saying MMP
22 is a related party.

23 MS. ROGERS: We understand, your Honor, but I think
24 it's sort of indirectly --

25 THE COURT: No. Their point here is they are

KM

4216

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 saying that effectively the NRA's contract with MMP includes
2 a payment to Mr. LaPierre, an implicit one.

3 MS. ROGERS: And they put in no evidence of that is 4 the only response.

5 Separately, I believe that the record will show
6 that the hair and makeup services were offered to others so
7 that Ms. LaPierre was one of several ladies on the Women's 8 Leadership Forum who received that service.

9 Finally, with respect to Millie Hallow. We 10 discussed how the son's music services might not be 11 customarily reviewed by the Board. It's also important to 12 note that Millie Hallow does not meet the statutory 13 definition of a key person; and therefore, does not meet the 14 statutory definition of a related party.

15 What they've established at best is that she was a
16 trusted and favored secretary who received a low six figure
17 salary, but the type of stake in the organization that makes 18 you a key person, the type of control with the statute says
19 you have to be on par with the director or officer. A very 20 connected secretary just simply doesn't meet the standard.

21 THE COURT: Okay. I want to move this fast because 22 I need to get them back in here, and I need to hear from Mr.
23 Fleming.

24 MR. CORRELL: Well, I agreed with her arguments,
25 and there are other points which is they didn't assert this

KM

4217

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 against Mr. LaPierre in their complaint.

2 THE COURT: This may be one -- is it asserted
3 against Mr. LaPierre or just against the NRA? This one.
4 This one may be both.

5 MR. CORRELL: And your Honor, they asserted one
6 claim, the tenth cause of action under 715. Now they are 7 trying to add more that they didn't allege, they didn't give
8 us discovery of. They have complained over and over
9 again --

10 THE COURT: They don't have discovery to give you.
11 These are all discovery from the NRA and from you. They 12 don't -- they weren't parties to the transactions.

13 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, we could have moved to 14 dismiss these at the threshold.

15 THE COURT: Your point is it's not in the 16 complaint.

17 MR. CORRELL: It's not in the complaint, and it's 18 not a related-party transaction. This is --

19 THE COURT: The yacht trips aren't in the 20 complaint?

21 MR. CORRELL: They are in the complaint, but they 22 are not alleged as a cause of action under 715.

23 THE COURT: Doesn't the -- doesn't the -- that 24 section of the complaint incorporate all the factual
25 allegations?

KM

4218

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 MR. CORRELL: Yes, but it doesn't assert them as a
2 cause of action against him. It says it's a conflict of 3 interest, but it doesn't say it's a related-party
4 transaction. They don't seek any damages.

5 THE COURT: I'm going to think about the list and 6 see whether there is any on there that I don't think should 7 be.

8 MS. ROGERS: Can I say really --

9 THE COURT: His is a whole different thing, and we 10 may not have time to do it.

11 MR. FLEMING: So there is two things.

12 In the Executive Law charge in particular on 13 Page 64 of 81 which relates to the false filings against 14 Frazer, I had included additional language adding basically 15 at the end, and I wrote in haste "knew or should have 16 known." It struck me later, and what I wanted to raise on 17 Friday was that I think the more appropriate language would 18 be if your Honor was inclined to add a scienter requirement
19 is "knew or believed," and the reason for that is that's the 20 certification that Mr. Frazer --

21 THE COURT: The problem is that there is no
22 reference to a scienter requirement in the statute, and I
23 don't think that anybody has cited to me any case law that 24 would impose one.

25 MR. FLEMING: Well --

THE COURT: It's false filing.

If you were the one, and there is something about you are the one who either makes the statement or whatever -- I noticed that nobody had cited any cases. I thought about it. But is there a -- some sort of intent requirement or negligence requirement? And I didn't see any basis for including one.

4220

Proceedings

1 MR. FLEMING: I would say this. There's the false
2 filing charges against two defendants, the NRA and Frazer.

3 With respect to Frazer, the complaint is absolutely
4 crystal clear that the basis for including him is his 5 certification in the CHAR500, that he knew or to the best of 6 his knowledge and belief the attachments were true, correct
7 and complete.

8 THE COURT: So, it would have to be the 9 certification is false because --

10 MR. FLEMING: Right, and I know that there's,
11 there's a -- in the statute, it talks about being 12 responsible for the statement and your Honor had written --
13 and I think correctly so -- that responsible means cause and 14 maybe that takes care of the scienter part. Causing the 15 false statement, maybe that takes care of it, but it is --
16 there is this tension there with respect to the charge
17 against the individual.

18 THE COURT: All right, I'll think it over.

19 All right, I'm sorry to burn our whole break there,
20 but let's get the jury.

21 MS. STERN: Your Honor, could we have the briefest

23 THE COURT: Yes, give them a two-minute warning,
24 Officer. Thank you.

MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would just say a couple of things. That Susan LaPierre who is not a defendant and no claims were asserted against her, so it would be a little late to try to join her as a party after the trial.

5

6

THE COURT: Well, again, I don't know whether that is included as against Mr. LaPierre or is it against the NRA?

7

10

MR. CORRELL: They are making it quite clear that they're asserting these claims against Mr. LaPierre even though they didn't put it in the complaint. It is just wrong.

DIRECT-EXAMINATION

12

BY MR. FLEMING: (Continuing)

13

Q So, Mr. Frazer, I'll go back to my last question.

14

Do you recall a question that the plaintiff on their 15 redirect of their expert witness, Mr. Hines, asked regarding 16

Question 28A of Part 4 of the 2016 Form 990?

17

A I think I do, yes.

18

Q I turn your attention to Tab 23.

19

MR. FLEMING: And I and call up the 2016 990, which 20 is in evidence.

21

(Displayed)

22

Q Before we turn the page, Mr. Frazer, who signed this

23

990?

24

A It was signed by Woody Phillips as an NRA officer and 25

Jim Sweeney, our paid preparer.

BP

4223

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q And that's the same Mr. Sweeney we've talked about
2 before?

3 A It is.

4 Q If I could direct your attention to Part 4 of the form
5 and Question 28A.

6 A I see it.

7 Q What is asked by Question 28A of Part 4?

8 A So, Question 28 asks "If the organization was a party
9 to a business transaction with one of the following parties;"
10 and then, "A, is a current or former officer, director, trustee
11 or key employee."

12 Q And what did the NRA check in response to that
13 question?

14 A The NRA said "no."

15 Q We just finished looking you'll recall at the 2016
16 related-party transactions minutes.

17 Do you recall that?

18 A I do.

19 Q And certain transactions with directors, in fact,
20 occurred in 2016?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Should the NRA have checked that box "yes?"

23 A You know, I think we would have relied on the advice of 24 Mr. Sweeney on that and Emily Cummins in house who worked on the 25 990s at the time. But I think, also, if you look at the -- at

4224

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 the instructions for the form itself and for Schedule L, Part 4
2 it, the answer kind of makes sense.

3 Q I'm going to ask you to turn to your binder, Tab 24,
4 which is an Exhibit JFX 59A marked for identification.

5 I just ask you what that document is?

6 A It is the IRS Instructions for Form 990, the core form
7 itself.

8 Q And if you could just generally describe for the jury
9 what these instructions are?

10 A It is a fairly long document, which the IRS gives 11 definitions of terms and then it goes really section by 12 section and line by line trying to explain how to answer each
13 question.

14 Q And could you leaf through that and see if you believe
15 the NRA should have answered that box "yes" or whether they were 16 correct in answering it "no?"

17 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor. I think we're 18 asking him to provide his legal advice on interpreting the 19 tax law requirements here.

20 MR. FLEMING: I can establish he's not a tax
21 lawyer. This is part of his diligence when he reviews
22 990s.

23 THE COURT: Well, that's a different question. If 24 you were going to ask him when you reviewed the 990 and 25 certified it, did you look at this and this and this, that's

BP

4225

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 a fact question.

2 You're asking -- what you're asking him to do is
3 look at it and tell us now what he thinks.

4 MR. FLEMING: Poor question.

5 THE COURT: Which one of those are you doing?

6 MS. STERN: The witness just testified somebody
7 else did the tax preparation.

8 THE COURT: Well, this witness is also responsible
9 for other things he may have done.

10 So, go ahead.

11 Q Mr. Frazer, do you review the 990 after it is created
12 by the internal and outside accountants?

13 A It's been different from year to year, but currently, I
14 review usually several drafts of it.

15 Q And how about in 2016, what was your practice?

16 A In 2016, I relied as I think everyone did on Emily
17 Cummins and on the outside preparers, but I would review
18 whatever I was asked to review or if I was looking through it
19 and thought I had a question.

20 Q Generally, do you refer to the IRS instructions when 21 you're doing your review?

22 A Constantly.

23 Q Now, do you have any understanding from your general
24 practice now whether there's sort of a guiding principle for 25 what gets disclosed on Schedule L of the Form 990?

BP

4226

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Sure. So the Schedule L has to do with several
2 different distinct categories of dealings with officers,
3 directors and key employees. They're known as disqualified
4 persons in the Federal Tax Code.

5 Q Does the IRS in its instructions to your recollection
6 give instructions about what, if anything, should be put on 7 Schedule L and if not, why not?

8 A Sure. There's a whole separate instruction booklet for 9 Schedule L.

10 Q Before we get to the Schedule L instruction, is there
11 any profit to be gained by looking at the, in your view, the IRS
12 general instructions with respect to Question 28A or is it
13 better to go to Schedule L instruction?

14 A I mean, I think if you're trying to answer a question
15 about something that might or might not be on Schedule L, you
16 have to look at both.

17 Q Well, if I could turn your attention the Tab 25 and ask
18 you what that document is.

19 A It's the 2016 Schedule L instructions.

20 Q And so, can you -- I mean, I don't know what you would 21 do, but what would you do to try to figure out whether a
22 question was correctly answered or not answered?

23 A I would go to the instructions for that question.

24 Q So, can you do that for the jury and explain kind of 25 what you're doing while you're doing it?

BP

4227

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Sure. So, the core form instructions on Question 28
2 say this might or might not be on Schedule L, Part 4, so --

3 MS. STERN: Objection to reading from the document,
4 which is not in evidence at this point.

5 THE COURT: Overruled. First of all, I'm not sure
6 we know -- we now have two exhibits open. Which one are you
7 talking about?

8 Q Can you explain which one you're looking at?

9 A I'm in Tab 25, the Schedule L instructions.

10 THE COURT: You haven't introduced these. Do you
11 want to?

12 MR. FLEMING: Can I, yes? They are public
13 documents.

14 THE COURT: They are admitted. 25 which is the 15 Schedule L instructions and JFX 59B; and 24, which are the 16 instructions for Form 990 are JFX 59A and they are both
17 admitted.

18 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit JFX 59A and JFX
19 59B were admitted and received into evidence.)

20 Q So, you're looking at JFX 59B right now; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And so just continue, can you tell us what you're 23 looking at and what your thoughts are on this question?

24 A So, I'm looking at the Part 4 instructions which talk
25 about what you have to report regarding business transactions

BP

4228

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 involving interested persons -- I'm sorry, I said disqualified
2 persons. It was interested persons, and then there are also 3 some exceptions.

4 Q Okay, and take us through kind of what you think are
5 the salient points in these exceptions.

6 A So, generally speaking, in the -- what needs to be
7 reported is there's a whole list; but, basically, business
8 transactions with officers, directors, key employees and their
9 relatives, where the total payments exceeded a hundred thousand
10 dollars or there's a lot of others.

11 Q Okay.

12 A So a hundred thousand is basically the threshold.

13 MR. FLEMING: Can we publish JFX 59B on the screen,
14 please.

15 Q What page are you on?

16 A Page 4, bottom of the page.

17 Q On page 4, bottom of the page.

18 (Displayed)

19 Now, in the "Exceptions" paragraph right in the middle 20 column, do you see that?

21 A I do.

22 Q Does it say anything about where these types of 23 transactions should be disclosed?

24 A It says don't report -- you go down to the boldface
25 compensations. "Don't report the following in Part 4." And one

BP

4229

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 of the things you don't report is compensation that's reported
2 on Form 990, Part 7, Section A unless it is to a family member
3 of another person in that section.

4 Q And did you have an understanding of whether the 5 transactions that were greater than a hundred thousand dollars
6 were disclosed in Part 7, Section A?

7 A I believe they were.

8 Q If we could go back to Tab 23, which is the 2016 990,
9 and go to page 9 of 55.

10 A Okay.

11 Q Mr. Frazer, do you see that, do you see the entry for 12 Mr. Butz?

13 A I do.

14 Q And what does that disclose?

15 A It reports that he received $150,000 in reportable
16 compensation in 2016.

17 Q And if you could turn to page 14 of 55, please.

18 And what does that disclose that's over a hundred
19 thousand dollars?

20 A It discloses that Ms. Hammer received $206,000 in 21 reportable compensation.

22 Q Okay, and you could take that down.

23 If I could turn you -- your attention to Tab 12. This 24 is a 2011 Form 990.

25 A Okay.

BP

4230

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q And we can pull it up, please, and turn to page 5 of
2 69, please.

3 A Okay.

4 Q Mr. Frazer, how did the NRA answer Question 28A in 5 2011?

6 A It checked "no."

7 Q And have you had occasion -- I don't want to belabor
8 the jury's time. Have you had occasion to look through the 2011
9 990 to see if there were transactions over a hundred thousand
10 dollars in that year?

11 A I believe there were.

12 Q And were they disclosed in Part 7, Section A?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And have you had occasion to look at the same questions
15 for the 990 in 2012?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Same answers?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And '13?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And '14?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And '15?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And who signed the tax returns in those years?

BP

4231

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I believe it was always Woody Phillips and Jim 2 Sweeney.

3 Q And did you -- do you know if the organization -- do
4 you know from personal knowledge whether the organization relied
5 on Mr. Sweeney's expertise on these questions?

6 MS. STERN: Objection.

7 THE COURT: Overruled.

8 A I know that Emily Cummins who I worked -- who was the 9 person in the treasurer's office who I worked directly with, had 10 very high praise for Mr. Sweeney's skills; and he died sadly
11 after first came back to the NRA and she was just devastated.

12 Q I have a couple more topics for you.

13 What department at the NRA is responsible for 14 solicitation of funds?

15 A The larger part of that would be the membership
16 division, which raises membership dues and additional 17 contributions on top of dues, like membership upgrades and just 18 add-on contributions, you know, roundup your dues, that kind of 19 thing.

20 And then the other division that has a major
21 fundraising role is the Office of Advancement, which is 22 responsible for the higher dollar -- higher donor net worth
23 individuals and then the Institute for Legislative Action does a
24 lot of its own fundraising.

25 Q Have you ever worked for the Membership Division?

BP

4232

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A No.

2 Q Have you ever worked for the Advancement Division?

3 A No.

4 Q Now, you did work in ILA; right?

5 A I did.

6 Q Did you ever solicit funds for ILA?

7 A I reviewed fundraising letters as to factual accuracy
8 and make sure they were expressing our legislative and political 9 positions, but I never actually signed them or asked for money.

10 Q So, another topic.

11 Do you recall discussing earlier when you first were 12 here receipt of a directors and officers insurance policy in 13 August of 2021?

14 A I do.

15 Q And you testified you received that policy in 16 August 2021; right?

17 A I did.

18 Q Was that testimony correct?

19 A No, I misremembered the month.

20 Q When did you actually receive the D&O policy?

21 A Late September, on or around September 28th.

22 Q Do you recall whether September 28th was after 23 Mr. Marshall had filed an ethics complaint against you?

24 A Yes, it was about a week after he filed the complaint.

25 Q So, to be clear, at the time he filed the ethics

BP

4233

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 complaint, you did not even have the insurance policies at that
2 time?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q Another topic, last topic.

5 Did the New York Attorney General ever speak to you
6 during its investigation of this case?

7 A No.

8 Q Now, they filed this case on August 6th, 2020. Is that
9 right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Can you describe for the jury how you found out that 12 you were named as a defendant in this case?

13 A Yeah, while I was driving into work, I got -- to the 14 office that day, I got a call giving me a heads-up that the 15 attorney general may -- was having a press conference and that 16 it might be announcing some action against the NRA. There was 17 another issue that it might have been as well.

18 So at the -- at the scheduled time, I found it
19 streaming online somewhere, and I watched the news conference
20 and learned I was being named as a defendant.

21 Q Did you hear anything else during that press conference
22 that pertained to you?

23 A The attorney general referred to me and the other 24 then -- the other three defendants -- Mr. Powell was still in 25 it -- as using the NRA as our personal piggybank.

BP

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 Q Did you come to understand that those comments at the
2 press conference were reduced to news articles?

3 A It's been quoted in numerous articles.

4 Q How has that event affected personal and work
5 relationships in your life?

6 A It's very stressful personally, obviously. It's also 7 something that my family, my wife and kids worry about. And 8 beyond that, it's been very painful, frankly, to see friends and 9 people that I respect, see social media posts quoting, posting
10 approving of this article, these articles; and saying, Oh, this 11 is terrible. These people all need to be thrown out or 12 whatever, and these people in some cases that I have known for 13 years.

14 Q Let me ask you a direct question about your benefits
15 received from the organization.

16 Apart from your employment compensation, have you
17 gotten a penny from the NRA?

18 A No, just salary and approved benefits.

19 Q How is your employment compensation determined?

20 A The Office of Compensation Committee makes a
21 recommendation to the board every fall for the upcoming year,
22 and then the board votes on it at the same meeting in,
23 typically, September.

24 Q Are you forbidden from having any involvement in that
25 process?

BP

4235

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A Yes.

2 Q And do you comply with that prohibition?

3 A Yes. Wayne and I and the treasurer, Ms. Rowling now
4 and Ms. Spray and Mr. Phillips before all step out of the room
5 when that discussion is happening.

6 Q Now, you serve on two positions at the NRA; correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Secretary and General Counsel?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Prior to 2015, can you describe for the jury whether 11 those two positions were staffed by separate people?

12 A Always.

13 Q And were they compensated separately?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And is your compensation at the NRA equivalent to a
16 combination of those two persons salaries?

17 A No, it's probably less than half of what the two 18 combined were in 2014.

19 Q So, are you talking about when you first started in 20 2015 or now?

21 A Then and now. My salary has actually gone down since I
22 started.

23 Q Now, can I call up for identification -- actually, I'll 24 just turn you to Tab 4, and ask you if you recognize this 25 e-mail?

BP

4236

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 A I do.

2 Q Is that your e-mail at the top?

3 A It is.

4 Q And is this something you wrote?

5 A It is.

6 MR. FLEMING: I move its admission, your Honor.

7 MS. STERN: No objection.

8 THE COURT: It is admitted, PX 2231.

9 Q Ms. Frazer, what is going on in this e-mail?

10 A This is an e-mail from early January of 2021. It is a 11 few days before the board meeting that was held that month that 12 you've heard some other testimony about; and what was going on 13 was that I had become aware from talking to Mr. LaPierre and 14 Mr. Spray that the Office of Compensation Committee would be 15 meeting again. And this is the winter meeting which is not 16 where they would usually consider compensation, so to back up a
17 second, I'll explain.

18 This is 2021. In 2020, when COVID hit, we were all
19 worried about the financial impact of the NRA; and so the NRA
20 imposed an across-the-board 20-percent pay cut on all levels of 21 employees. And those people whose compensation was set by the 22 board or who had employment contracts all signed voluntary
23 amendments or agreements to agree to that reduction. And 24 Mr. LaPierre actually took a 30-percent cut.

25 But, then as things kind of started to normalize and we

BP

4237

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Fleming

1 had -- we figured we were going to be okay, we started restoring
2 salary to pre-COVID levels, and they gave the managers
3 discretion about how to do that.

4 My position was to give -- was to restore it from the 5 bottom up, so the lowest paid employees would get their pay
6 restored first. So, I was still at the 20-percent reduction.
7 When I found out that they were talking about basically a
8 full -- I think it was a full restoration at this time and I
9 think they were also talking about the retention bonuses that 10 were discussed earlier; I said, Well, wait a minute. If the 11 staff isn't getting everything back quite yet, I want to put a 12 cap on what restoration I get. And so I sent this e-mail to 13 Carolyn Meadows as the Chairman of the Office of Compensation
14 Committee and also to Craig Spray because he would be 15 responsible for managing any funds.

16 Q In speaking to the retention bonus that was testified
17 about earlier, did that ever happen?

18 A There was never any -- never a retention bonus was 19 never paid to me, and there was never a pay restoration.

20 Q Mr. Frazer, have you ever asked for a raise from the 21 NRA?

22 A No.

23 MR. FLEMING: I have nothing further.

24 THE COURT: Okay, any other parties have any direct

BY MS. ROGERS:

6

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Frazer.

7

MS. ROGERS: Can the jury hear me? Okay.

8

A Good afternoon.

9

Q Mr. Frazer, you testified earlier that to your understanding, Mr. LaPierre was walled off from the renegotiation of the MMP contract; right?

12

A Yes.

13

Q But you also testified that from a business perspective, his -- he oversaw the division that owned that contract; right?

16

17

Q Can you just explain to the jury to your understanding the distinction between those two things?

19

A Sure. So -- so Mr. LaPierre was, ultimately, in the chain of command above MMP or Allegiance or any of those companies and was a primary user of their services. You know they're writing speeches for him. They're working with him on direct mails, strategies, digital fundraising and so on; but that doesn't mean that he was necessarily involved in negotiating the contract. In fact, he specifically wasn't

25

4239

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 involved in negotiating the contract.

2 Q So, would Mr. LaPierre have been involved in deciding
3 how much MMP got paid?

4 A Not in the course of that contract negotiation or 5 after.

6 Q You also testified a moment ago with your counsel that
7 your compensation and other compensation started to be restored
8 after COVID; right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q But yours was never restored to pre-COVID level right?

11 A That's right.

12 Q Do you have an understanding as to whether other
13 officers' compensation was restored to pre-COVID level?

14 A Some of them were restored, at least partly; but I
15 don't know if any of them were ever restored fully.

16 Q Mr. Frazer --

17 MS. ROGERS: Actually, can we bring up for 18 identification DX1-0241.

19 I only have one hardcopy of this document, but I
20 don't expect it to be controversial.

21 Q Let me know when it is on your screen.

22 THE COURT: You have to turn the screens off, I
23 guess.

24 MS. ROGERS: Any objection?

25 MS. STERN: No objection.

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Mr. Frazer --

2 THE COURT: You can turn it back on. It is
3 admitted.

4 (Whereupon, at this time Exhibit DX1-0241 was
5 admitted and received into evidence.)

6 Q Mr. Frazer -- well, we'll put it up.

7 (Displayed)

8 Can you describe for the jury what this document is?

9 A It is a sign-in sheet for one of the compliance
10 training seminars.

11 Q About how many compliance training seminars would you
12 estimate the NRA has had for staff only, not counting the 13 board?

14 A I've lost count over the last five years.

15 Two or three a year, I must have -- I must have done
16 six to eight, eight of them just for the staff.

17 Q Do you have an understanding as to roughly what 18 percentage of the senior staff have been compliance trained?

19 A At this point, I would say it is a hundred percent of 20 the senior staff.

21 Q Would you say they have been trained once or many 22 times?

23 A Most of them many times.

24 Q So, we heard that the NRA implemented compliance
25 training. We heard Mr. Phillips testify that the NRA is looking

BP

4241

1 at things and directing at things and correcting things and we
2 heard the term course correction --

3 MS. STERN: I object to the attorney --

4 THE COURT: Yes, sustained.

5 Q But we've also seen, would it be fair to say, that
6 there were still some loose ends going into 2020; right?

7 A Oh, sure.

8 Q Does that surprise you?

9 A In -- in a big organization with four to five million
10 members and several hundred staff, seventy-six board members,
11 numerous non-board committee members and a lot -- and hundreds
12 of vendors, no. There's a lot of moving parts.

1 Q All right. I want to talk more about related-party
2 transactions. And you reviewed with your lawyer the NRA's
3 related-party transaction policy that was in Tab 21 of your
4 binder which is PX 421, and I believe the policy starts on 5 Page 17 of 300. If you can turn there for ease of reference.

6 A We are in Tab 21?

7 Q I am looking for the first page of the policy, and my
8 pagination was different than yours.

9 MS. STERN: 24 of 300, I believe.

10 Q 24 of 300.

11 Mr. Frazer, can you explain to the jury within the 12 meaning of the NRA's policy the difference between a conflict
13 and a related party?

14 A Sure. A related-party transaction I think you have as 15 a subset of a conflict. So you draw a big circle. Conflicts of 16 interest would be anything where there might be some reason to 17 judge -- to question a relationship.

18 You know, is there an independent -- a loss of 19 independence, something like that. And then a related-party
20 transaction is a much narrower category where there is a direct
21 financial or business interest at stake.

22 Q All right. I want to walk through a few transactions
23 and I don't want you to testify about legal advice you gave the 24 NRA, but I would like you to testify about how you analyzed each 25 of these transactions and whether you considered them to be

KM

4243

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 related-party transactions under this policy or not. Okay?

2 A Right.

3 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I object. The witness just
4 previously testified that this is a function for the Audit
5 Committee, and in fact, said that that's not his role.

6 MS. ROGERS: He testified that his role is not to 7 determine ultimately whether the transaction is fair,
8 reasonable and in the best interest of the National Rifle
9 Association.

10 THE COURT: How do you distinguish the testimony
11 you're asking for from him as the general counsel giving his 12 legal view?

13 MS. ROGERS: Well, I think he can give his 14 interpretation of the policy without giving advice about the 15 law.

16 THE COURT: Even though the policy --

17 MS. ROGERS: Well, the policy, we argue was drafted
18 to fit the law, but the witness can testify we would argue
19 about how he understood this policy, and he did have a gate
20 keeping function for bringing it to the Audit Committee for 21 them to evaluate.

22 MS. STERN: I think they also just elicited
23 testimony that sending something to the Audit Committee does
24 not indicate that there is -- but the distance between him
25 as general counsel providing his interpretation of this

KM

4244

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 policy which they say is equivalent to the legal standard.

2 THE COURT: Well, let me just ask.

3 MS. STERN: There is no light between those two
4 things.

5 THE COURT: Was he permitted to testify about this
6 question that you're asking now in discovery.

7 MS. ROGERS: I can't recall an instance in discovery
8 where they asked Mr. Frazer do you consider this contract a
9 related-party transaction. Maybe they can recall one.

10 MS. STERN: I don't remember the particulars of the 11 testimony in that regard so.

12 THE COURT: I'm just having trouble figuring out
13 why this isn't him giving his legal opinion because this is 14 effectively the -- this is the statutory definition.

15 MS. ROGERS: I would say it's his policy opinion,
16 and the jury -- the jury can obviously be instructed that he 17 is not telling them what the law is or whether each
18 transaction is legal, but he gathers up these 19 questionnaires, brings them to the Audit Committee. He 20 drafted this policy.

21 THE COURT: I just -- I think that internally,
22 wouldn't he be giving legal advice to people about what the 23 policy means?

24 MS. ROGERS: Right. So I'm certainly not asking
25 him -- I'm not asking him to testify, for example, I told

KM

4245

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 the Audit Committee they don't have to worry about this one
2 or I explained why this one complied with the New York Law.

3 I'm instructing him not to testify to that end, but 4 I am hoping to elicit testimony about how he interpreted the 5 application of the policy he drafted to specific
6 transactions that came across his desk that the NRA's
7 accused of mishandling and the NRA relied on this executive
8 to help it handle.

9 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I just don't see how that 10 could be squared with the testimony that his counsel just 11 elicited.

12 THE COURT: That's a different question.

13 MS. STERN: Otherwise, he is just giving a legal 14 opinion.

15 THE COURT: No, I don't think that's necessarily
16 true.

17 MR. FARBER: Judge, I mean, there is also a
18 question of whether the relevance -- if this is all that he 19 is doing, the question for this jury on these things is 20 going to be whether they violate statutes or what this 21 means. But his sort of looking at this --

22 THE COURT: I don't think I can separate this from 23 his legal opinion. So sustained.

24 Q All right. Well, I'll ask you this.

25 Mr. Frazer, do you recall hearing testimony about a

KM

4246

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 post-employment contract that was in effect for Mr. LaPierre
2 back in 2018?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Can you explain to the jury whether that contract was 5 rescinded?

6 A It was.

7 Q What about Ackerman's out-of-pocket expenses? To your
8 knowledge, did the NRA treat those as related-party
9 transactions?

10 A No.

11 Q What did the NRA do in 2018 when information surfaced
12 about Ackerman's out-of-pocket expenses?

13 A We started trying to get more information about it,
14 demanding information from Ackerman and asking to audit their 15 books.

16 MS. ROGERS: Let's pull up for identification PX
17 2333.

18 THE COURT: It's not in any book?

19 MS. ROGERS: It's not in a book. It's a
20 spreadsheet.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Pull it up.

22 Q Mr. Frazer, do you recognize this spreadsheet?

23 A I do.

24 Q And let's go to the key observations tab.

25 Mr. Frazer, what is this spreadsheet?

KM

4247

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A This is a spreadsheet prepared by the forensic
2 accounting firm Forensic Risk Alliance that we retained a couple
3 of times, but this one was to review the Ackerman's
4 out-of-pocket expenses.

5 Q Did you rely on this spreadsheet in the ordinary course
6 of your work?

7 A Yes.

8 Q What -- without revealing legal advice you gave, what 9 did you use the spreadsheet for?

10 A It was part of the process that we went through that 11 ultimately resulted in litigation against Ackerman.

12 MS. ROGERS: I offer its admission?

13 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor. This is
14 hearsay.

15 THE COURT: Seems right to me.

16 MS. ROGERS: The witness relied on this document in 17 commencing litigation.

18 THE COURT: It's not a business record of the NRA.
19 So in relying in the ordinary course is not what makes it
20 admissible. It's a drafter preparing it, and they were in 21 the ordinary course which this wouldn't be. This was an 22 assignment they were working on, and it has all sorts of the 23 factual findings.

24 MS. ROGERS: But we would argue, your Honor, the 25 fact that this work was done, the fact that the NRA hired

KM

4248

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 forensic accountants to create this exhaustive analysis of
2 the expenses being paid goes to the NRA's diligence as to 3 these expenses.

4 THE COURT: There's been testimony about their
5 retention of these guys, and that's fine; but this --
6 admitting this is admitting their findings which is hearsay.
7 So sustained.

8 Q Mr. Frazer, after you hired forensic accountants to 9 review the Ackerman out-of-pocket expenses, what did the NRA do?

10 A We further -- well, first we sued them to demand their 11 books and records, and I was actually -- there was actually two 12 suits. One in Virginia and one in Texas. And then it was also 13 used in some later investigations.

14 Q Were the particular findings by the forensic
15 accountant -- strike that. What's McKenna?

16 A McKenna Associates. McKenna and Associates is a
17 fundraising consulting firm in Virginia.

18 Q To your knowledge, how far back did the NRA's
19 relationship with McKenna go?

20 A I want to say 2013 or 2014. Something like that.

21 Q Before Josh Powell joined the NRA?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q But the NRA started paying McKenna more in 2018 than it
24 had previously; right?

25 A Yes, we did.

KM

4249

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Do you know of any reasons why the NRA might have paid
2 McKenna more in 2018 than before?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Can you explain those to the jury?

5 A Sure. So McKenna was originally retained at a fairly
6 low rate to do identification of high net worth donors or 7 potential donors and donor networks that we could work with to 8 raise funds for the association; and -- but -- but because of 9 the relationships that they had developed during 2018 when we 10 started facing loss of financial -- financial relationships like 11 banking and insurance due to government investigations and 12 litigation and potential litigation, we -- we started using 13 McKenna -- McKenna's contact for their contacts in that type of 14 area to start rebuilding some operations or developing new 15 options in terms of how to structure our membership insurance
16 programs.

17 Q Now, eventually it came to light that Josh Powell's
18 wife had been hired as a contractor by McKenna; right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you were present at the Audit Committee meeting
21 when the Audit Committee reviewed that transaction; right?

22 A I was.

23 Q Can you describe for the jury what the NRA did about
24 that?

25 A Yeah. The NRA -- I'd have to look at the Audit

KM

4250

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Committee minutes to remember all of the details, but basically
2 the Audit Committee reminded Mr. Powell and anyone else that 3 they needed to make timely disclosure of that type of 4 relationship, and I think they demanded a further review of the 5 relationship.

6 Q To your knowledge, was the relationship subsequently
7 limited?

8 A It was. It was -- we reached an agreement with them to 9 resolve some outstanding billing that we had concerns about.
10 Basically, reviewed their bills for reasonableness and not to --
11 to make sure they weren't duplicative, made a discounted
12 payment, and then eventually reduced them to their original
13 fundraising role, and finally terminated them all together.

14 Q What is Jim Powell Photography?

15 A Jim Powell is Josh Powell's father, and he is a
16 professional photographer.

17 Q And in 2018, you learned that Mr. Powell had been hired
18 originally through Ackerman McQueen to photograph an NRA
19 shooting competition; right?

20 A I'm not sure if that was the original thing. I think
21 Ackerman had hired him to shoot some NRA event, but then the NRA
22 also hired him directly.

23 Q Did you assist the Audit Committee in evaluating
24 whether those transactions were fair and reasonable?

25 A I did.

KM

4251

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Can you describe for the jury the diligence you
2 performed to insure that those transactions were fair and 3 reasonable?

4 A I got information and presented it to the Audit
5 Committee regarding the rates that Ackerman billed for Mr.
6 Powell and for another photographer or photographers that they
7 had used for NRA events, figured out how many hours they had 8 worked and what the hourly rate worked out to.

9 I don't remember the numbers, but I remember them being
10 comparable, and that was presented to the committee.

11 Q Did your office ever determine to treat Millie Hallow
12 as a related party of the NRA?

13 A No.

14 Q Why?

15 A Because there are definitions in New York Law and in --
16 she wasn't an NRA officer or director ever.

17 Q And Mr. Frazer, I'm going to tell you to testify about 18 your policy, not about New York Law.

19 A Sure. But then there was also a definition of key 20 employee in the policy, and Ms. Hallow just didn't meet the 21 definition.

22 Q But she was a pretty influential secretary; right?

23 A She was an important assistant to Mr. LaPierre, no
24 doubt.

25 Q So why didn't she meet the threshold?

KM

4252

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 A Because the threshold is basically that the person is
2 controlling a substantial part of the organization in terms of 3 revenue or expenses or employee head count.

4 Q Marion Hammer is a gun lobbyist; right?

5 A She is.

6 Q She is also a related party of the NRA because she is 7 on the Board; right?

8 A That's correct.

9 MS. STERN: Objection to leading.

10 THE COURT: I'll let you go for one more.

11 Q Mr. Frazer, can you describe for the jury your 12 understanding as to whether or not the NRA in addition to Ms.
13 Hammer pays other gun lobbyists who are not on its Board?

14 A Sure. The NRA from my experience in ILA, I can tell
15 you the NRA hires contract lobbyists at the federal and state
16 level depending on whether a person has an important
17 relationship that we might want to take -- make use of.

18 Q So the -- would it be fair to say the NRA makes 19 payments to many gun lobbyists in the course of its business?

20 A I don't know how many at any given time. It goes up 21 and down, but it's definitely ordinary course of business from 22 where I stand.

23 Q Mr. Frazer, of your job as secretary is to oversee 24 procedurally the NRA's Board elections; right?

25 A It is.

KM

4253

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 Q Can you describe for the jury the processes that are
2 followed to insure that NRA elections are free and fair?

3 A Sure, and I'll keep it brief because it is a
4 significant amount of time that we spend on it. But basically,
5 you start with a nominating process. That starts with each year
6 with the election of the nominating committee. The nominating
7 committee consists of six directors and three outside people
8 just to make sure that we have a fresh perspective.

9 The nominating committee gets suggestions based on a
10 two-page magazine spread that runs every July to ask people to 11 suggest -- suggest potential nominees, and people suggest their 12 friends. They suggest themselves. They suggest celebrities.
13 They suggest, you know, whoever they want. And then any of 14 those people who are eligible are forwarded to the nominating 15 committee when it meets in late summer, typically. And then --
16 and then -- but that's not -- and the nominating committee votes
17 on a slate of people to put on the ballot, but that's not the 18 only way to run because you can also run by petition.

19 So if you are passed over by the nominating committee
20 or if you also want to say if you are also a choice of the 21 members, you can circulate petitions, and the number of 22 signatures you need to get varies, but it was 382 this year. So
23 you get a few hundred signatures from your fellow members saying
24 that you should be on the ballot and you are also qualified.
25 You are on the ballot, and you run side by side with the

KM

4254

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 nominating committee candidates.

2 We go through a whole process of ballot tabulation by 3 an outside auditing accounting firm, and the results are 4 announced to the members.

5 Q But how can the election be free and fair if we have 6 seen text messages referring to a crib sheet of whom the 7 directors might want to vote for?

8 A For the nominating committee that is? Yeah, they can 9 talk about who they want on the nominating committee, and they 10 can suggest their preferred candidates, but there is also 11 nothing to prevent anyone else from making nominations from the 12 floor, and I've seen that happen actually. And you know, you
13 have a competitive election -- actually, the time I recall
14 Marion Hammer was the one that didn't get elected.

15 Q And so you've seen those nominations from the floor
16 succeed?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would it be fair to say that critics of the NRA's
19 leadership have successfully run on the floor and been elected?

20 A For the nominating committee?

21 Q Or for the Board.

22 A Not for -- not -- for the Board, absolutely, yes.

23 Q MS. ROGERS: Nothing further.

24 THE COURT: We have a few more minutes, but if you
25 want to use it.

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Is this direct?

2 MR. CORRELL: Yes.

3 DIRECT EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. CORRELL:

5 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Frazer.

6 A Good afternoon.

7 Q First question, was -- did Wayne LaPierre receive
8 anything under the 2018 contract you referred to before?

9 A Not that I know of.

10 Q It's actually not a 2018 contract. It was an amendment
11 to a contract that was originally signed in 2013; correct?

12 A That's right.

13 Q And then it was amended again in 2015; correct?

14 A I believe that's right.

15 Q And amended again in 2016; correct?

16 A I don't remember the specific dates, but sounds right.

17 Q And then superseded in January of 2021; correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And was there any loss of corporate assets due
20 to that contract?

21 A Nothing was ever paid under the contract.

22 Q And that's because it didn't become effective unless 23 and until he left the organization; correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And he never left.

KM

4256

Frazer - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Right. Until recently.

2 Q Until recently.

3 And there was never any loss to the -- of corporate
4 assets due to that contract; correct?

5 A No.

6 Q Did Mr. LaPierre -- was his salary every restored to 7 the full pre-Covid level?

8 A I don't know if it was. I don't know what restoration
9 he received, but my understanding is he was still at a reduced
10 salary.

11 Q And he actually took a pay cut like you did to make
12 sure other people subordinates could get paid?

13 A Right. It was across the board or more.

14 Q And whose decision was that?

15 A His.

16 Q And your decision was independent to also take a --

17 A I mean, it was a collective decision of the leadership
18 that everyone would take at least 20 percent top to bottom.

19 MR. CORRELL: Thank you.

20 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

21 MR. FARBER: No questions, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Will you need more than five 23 minutes which I'm not suggesting you don't. Do you want to 24 do that tomorrow?

25 MS. STERN: I think so, your Honor.

KM

4257

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: All right. We will break tonight and
2 we will meet tomorrow at 9:30. See you all. Travel safely.

3 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise.

4 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
5 the courtroom.)

6 MR. FARBER: Judge, can I raise something briefly?

7 THE COURT: Yes. I just wanted to note that today
8 was an exhibit of how things can be slower than they are 9 anticipated to go. Things can go more slowly than 10 anticipated, and that's what I was trying to signal for 11 tomorrow that you have to be conservative in what you plan
12 to introduce because we certainly didn't get to this third
13 witness that we were talking about, and we are not even done
14 with this one, and the AG hasn't even asked any questions
15 yet.

16 So you need to -- I guess I'll say particularly on 17 the defense side -- just get yourself organized so that 18 you're not -- that you can finish the witnesses who are 19 already up and that you don't start a witness that can't be 20 finished. And you probably know by now how much time the AG
21 has left. If it wants to preserve two hours or so, it's 22 probably not that much, but a little bit.

23 MS. STERN: It's an hour.

24 THE COURT: Well, if it's an hour, then you have to 25 make sure that all your directs are -- leave at least an

KM

4258

Proceedings

1 hour in combination. So plan for at most three hours of 2 direct testimony. Three hours of direct and defense cross.

3 So anyway, I'm just doing math for you, but I'm
4 just -- I watched today go more slowly than you all
5 anticipated.

6 What was the issue?

7 MR. FARBER: It's another organizational issue,
8 Judge.

9 So tomorrow, testimony is going to end and then
10 closings are going to be on Thursday.

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MR. FARBER: I would ask that the Court direct that 13 if there are any -- if any party is going to use
14 demonstratives -- I'm not talking about, you know, admitted
15 exhibits but something that hasn't been admitted, that they 16 should be exchanged by say 6:00 tomorrow so that we are not 17 getting them, you know, at midnight or at 7:00 a.m. the 18 morning that we are doing summations.

19 THE COURT: Yeah. Well, look, I'm going to caution
20 folks that everything that's in these demonstratives at this
21 point now should be tied to an admitted exhibit. Right.
22 So -- and I would recommend having the citation on the -- on 23 there which, you know, in my experience, there should not be 24 objections because at the beginning of the trial, you don't 25 know exactly what's going to be admitted. Now you do.

KM

4259

Proceedings

1 MR. FARBER: I'm not talking about -- and I don't
2 have any need to see if they are going to use --

3 THE COURT: Well, what else could an objection be
4 if it's not based on inadmissible evidence?

5 MR. FARBER: Well, I mean, there can be -- they 6 used a whole slide deck in their opening that had -- none of 7 it had things that were going to be admissible evidence, and 8 it was argument that they were making. So there is argument
9 that gets put into demonstratives so --

10 THE COURT: Argument is okay at this level; isn't
11 it?

12 MR. FARBER: Well, yes, some argument is. Some 13 arguments is objectionable.

14 What I am saying is if there is content that's 15 going to be -- that they are proposing to display to the 16 jury that's not exhibits or transcript cites that are in 17 evidence, I think it ought to be shown to us in advance.

18 THE COURT: Well, look, I think you should be 19 sharing these because it's just good hygiene so that nobody 20 wants to be surprised with -- look, I will be very 21 disappointed if there are objections during closing. That 22 just should not happen. I don't recall a lot of that 23 happening during the openings. Maybe my memory is just 24 faulty, but I really don't want -- for this to work,
25 Thursday has to be clean. It has to be done in a

KM

4260

Proceedings

1 professional way where nobody is jumping up and down. There
2 is no ambiguity about what's admissible. Fair argument
3 based on the admissible evidence. I really don't expect
4 objections.

5 And even, you know, the related-party transaction
6 we were talking about before, you know, it's -- you should 7 expect in the next iteration of the jury instructions that 8 all that stuff about assuming illegality or assuming that 9 these are related-party transactions, that's gone.

10 It's going to say the jury has to determine for 11 each one on the list is it a related-party transaction. If 12 it was it -- if if it was a related-party transaction, was 13 it approved. And if it wasn't approved, was it ratified.
14 So there is -- each step. So for each one of those -- and 15 again, just -- I like the verdict form to be revised. I
16 don't know whether we have the wherewithal to do it so that 17 instead those descriptions that are in there, it has to have 18 a little more to tell them exactly who the alleged related
19 party is. But anyway, that's just what was on my mind as I
20 was trying to do three things at once here.

21 So yeah. Look, exchange them. But if you do it
22 the right way, there should be no objections, and I really 23 -- I'm hoping not to have to have intermediate something as 24 straightforward as this. You know, everybody knows what's 25 been admitted and what hasn't been. So just don't do it.

KM

4261

Proceedings

1 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: The short answer to your question is it
3 should be 24 hours, and the only way to do that is to be --
4 you know, ideally, it would be tonight; right. That's --
5 otherwise, it's not going to be 24 hours.

6 MS. ROGERS: I think the difficulty, all the 7 testimony isn't in yet. So I had discussed with Ms. Connell
8 exchanging demonstratives sometime tomorrow night.

9 THE COURT: That's fine. You're saying do it.
10 Everybody's working on them is going to be doing trial, so
11 it's going to be late. It's just like another crummy night.

12 MR. FARBER: Ms. Connell is not here. Excuse me.
13 I don't need to see their exhibits. It's demonstratives
14 that I was concerned about. I'm not going to object to any 15 exhibits that they put into evidence. It's all designed to 16 avoid making objections during summation, but that's the 17 only reason I bring it up.

18 THE COURT: I guess I'll say again. Maybe and 19 hopefully you just to be do unto others as you would have 20 them do unto you. You are both facing the same thing.
21 There is not a lot of time. So it's going to be exchanged
22 the night before, and you're going to have to make a quick
23 decision. You can't assume I'm going to be sitting at home
24 waiting until two in the morning or at all to mediate
25 disputes because there shouldn't be any. If there are, then

KM

4262

1 somebody is doing something sort of odd which I don't
2 expect.

3 All right. I'm going to now try to get you the 4 jury instructions, at least Version 2.0, and hopefully final
5 or near final, and I don't know what's going on with the 6 verdict forms because my team has been working on them, and 7 I haven't really seen a draft yet, so I'm going to try to 8 see how far I can get on that as well.

9 All right. See you tomorrow.

4264

1

2

THE COURT: Mr. Farber, you wanted to raise something?

3

5

6

7

8

10

MR. FARBER: Yes, your Honor. So, Question 2A in the draft verdict sheet which relates to the breach of duty claim against Mr. Phillips asks whether the plaintiff prove by a preponderance of the evidence that at anytime between March 20, 2014, and May 2, 2022, Mr. Phillips failed to discharge the duty of his office; and that's what the Court is finding as the relevant period.

11

13

14

15

17

The issue with Mr. Phillips is it is undisputed that he retired from the NRA at the end of 2018; and so asking the jury to make a finding about that for a period beyond that and having scrutinized his conduct for a period beyond that when he had no duties to the NRA after December -- at least December 31, 2018. The actual date may be a little earlier because, I believe, he --

18

20

THE COURT: Yeah, I understand that point. I don't have a particular problem with changing that.

21

23

24

MR. FARBER: Thank you. THE COURT: I mean, I think where we would put in is that date paren., the date his retirement, just so the --

25

MR. FARBER: I think that's the right way to do it,

BP

4265

Proceedings

1 your Honor.

2 THE COURT: The other?

3 MR. FARBER: The second point is on the
4 related-party transaction. There's a provision saying that
5 if the jury -- asks the jury to find if Mr. Phillips'
6 conduct was willful, there's a basis for awarding additional
7 damages.

8 As, your Honor, the draft instructions provide that
9 to find willfulness, they have to find that he did something
10 with knowledge that it was unlawful; and I submit there's no
11 evidence in the record that would support such a finding 12 with respect to Mr. Phillips on that transaction.

13 So, I -- I think that should be stricken from the 14 charge as to him.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, I -- that one, there's been a lot
16 of in evidence this case and --

17 MR. FARBER: Well, if the State can point to some,
18 then we might have a basis for it; but I'm aware of none.

19 THE COURT: The State went through all of the 20 Bylaws and procedures and policies and, yet, they weren't
21 followed. So, I mean, it is not that heavy a lift to show
22 that, you know, it was a transaction that was covered by the 23 policy and by law. He is the treasurer, and the fact that
24 the policy and the procedures weren't followed, that -- I
25 don't think that instruction requires somebody to know

BP

4266

Proceedings

1 anything more than what they were doing when intentional and
2 whether they complied with the law or not is something the 3 jury can I think -- if they find there was a violation at 4 all -- which who knows -- but if there was 5 one, and it wasn't -- he didn't accidentally sign the 6 agreement.

7 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor's instruction goes
8 beyond that. It says it has to be knowledge that his 9 conduct was wrongful. So, it's not just that it is 10 intentional, not just that he consciously entered into it;
11 but did so knowing it was wrongful and I don't think there's 12 any evidence of that.

13 THE COURT: Well, the statutory violation of 14 wrongful includes not getting the appropriate approvals, and 15 whether it was fair to the NRA. I -- I think that one is 16 more fair game.

17 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: I am -- I did go back and look at the 19 complaint, however; and I think Mr. Correll makes a fair
20 point that the complaint -- and I know there were 21 interrogatories later -- is very broad in terms of the 22 related-party claim against the NRA and it sort of creates
23 sort of everything that came before it.

24 But, the related-party claims -- related-party
25 transaction claims against Mr. LaPierre and Mr. Phillips are

BP

4267

Proceedings

1 actually sort of narrow in the complaint, and they talk
2 about just the post-employment agreements.

3 So, I'm not sure what the -- now, again, the MMP
4 relationship, that's all fair game for the case at large,
5 both for the improper administration as well as the breach
6 of duty claims because there's a lot in that relationship;
7 but it is not pled as part of the related-party transaction
8 claim against Mr. LaPierre.

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, we will be putting in a
10 letter on this very shortly this morning. It was identified 11 in the contention interrogatories.

12 THE COURT: Well, the contention interrogatories, I
13 guess there was notice that it could be part of the claim
14 against the NRA. It still leaves the substantive question
15 of whether it is related-party transaction at all.

16 MR. SHIFFMAN: Well, the letter will address that.

17 THE COURT: Well, anyway, I'm a little wary of
18 that.

19 MR. SHIFFMAN: I think the Trump case, again, is on 20 point on that one there. There was a financial interest
21 that was a result of Mr. Trump directing his Foundation to 22 make donations on behalf -- grants on behalf of his
23 campaign, and Judge Scarpulla found --

24 THE COURT: That's a little more direct than this.

25 MR. SHIFFMAN: Not really, your Honor. There was

BP

4268

Proceedings

1 no -- he benefitted his campaign by having his foundation
2 make grants to veterans charities without the money ever
3 touching the campaign's --

4 THE COURT: His personal -- yeah, I mean, this one
5 is at least another step removed.

6 In other words, it's -- there's no -- I think the 7 evidence is is that there was this relationship and then
8 there were these personal relationships where, certainly,
9 benefits were provided by MMP and maybe that's a conflict of 10 interest under a different provision and maybe it has 11 something to do with violation of duty.

12 MR. SHIFFMAN: I think, your Honor, there's also 13 evidence that Mr. LaPierre was involved in the arranging for 14 the contracts and that there's temporal relationships
15 between amendments and the times of the gifts. I think
16 Mr. Conley took him through some of those transactions.

17 THE COURT: But there is still the matter of the 18 complaint, right? I mean, the complaint wasn't amended, and 19 the complaint wasn't -- I expected it to sort of -- I
20 remember reading the NRA part and it was sort of everything,
21 and then I was struck I think that that particular claim is 22 pretty narrow.

23 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, it is only a claim
24 that -- it's just a different legal theory. It is 25 identified in the contention interrogatories. There's clear

BP

4269

Proceedings

1 law that the pleadings can be amended to conform to the 2 evidence; and when there's just a legal theory that there's
3 no real prejudice, no discovery that would be needed here.
4 It is Mr. LaPierre's own conduct. This was identified
5 in the contention interrogatories as related-party
6 transaction.

7 THE COURT: As to him? Because, again, from a
8 pleading perspective, it is part of the claim against the 9 NRA, I guess, because that loops in everything; and then you
10 can, in your contention interrogatories, give life to what
11 you pled against the NRA. Again, whether it substantively
12 is a related-party transaction is a different question; but 13 did you specifically say, oh, and this -- in words or 14 substance, this also amends our claim against LaPierre?

15 MR. CORRELL: It did not, your Honor, and we did
16 not take it that way.

17 THE COURT: I'll wait for the letter, but the 18 related-party transaction in the NRA letter I saw came in at 19 whatever, four in the morning or the usual time, makes the 20 point. It is a statutory claim. It has very specifics,
21 series of definitions and everything else; and, again, you
22 can make the claim under different parts of the N-PCL that 23 are broader because it is in the complaint. The facts are 24 in the complaint.

25 It just seems a bit of a stretch to, also,

BP

4270

Proceedings

1 separately as a related-party transaction.

2 MR. SHIFFMAN: Your Honor, the legislative intent
3 when it amended the statute in particular was to broaden and
4 make it apply -- I think that's as Justice Scarpulla found
5 -- to also all self-dealing.

6 Financial interest is a very broad term. It
7 doesn't talk only about a counterparty to a transaction. He 8 has an interest in any transaction -- the language is 9 transaction or other arrangement. It is very broad
10 language.

11 The legislative history -- which Justice Scarpulla
12 cites -- makes it clear it was intended to be very, very 13 broad language.

14 THE COURT: With all respect, I don't find the 15 Trump case a very good analogy to what's going on here.

16 Is the jury here? Let's get on with our last day.
17 I know the NRA has arguments you want to make on this point.
18 Let's hold on to those.

19 MS. ROGERS: There was a small administrative item,
20 too, and I think Mr. Fleming might have a related point.

21 There were Forms 990 and board minutes that were on 22 the exhibit list that haven't come in. We were hoping to 23 stipulate to put them in at the end of our case. They're 24 tax returns and board minutes. They don't seem 25 controversial.

BP

4271

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: That makes sense.

2 MR. FLEMING: In fact, your Honor, I did reach a
3 stipulation with the Government last week about the 990s.

4 THE COURT: It is hard to believe there are 990s
5 that aren't in, yet, but that's fine.

6 MR. FLEMING: I forgot to put them in officially
7 yesterday.

8 THE COURT: Your case hasn't closed. Look, I
9 strongly encourage for things like 990s and official board
10 minutes, but I'd like to introduce them in the jury's
11 presence.

12 MS. ROGERS: We understand.

13 THE COURT: So, you can gather those together; and,
14 hopefully, if there's agreement, then I'll be happy to 15 introduce them in mass. I don't know if you're going to use
16 them for anything?

17 MS. ROGERS: Just wanted a complete record.
18 They're board minutes and --

19 THE COURT: You want to be able to reference them
20 in closing?

21 MS. ROGERS: Yes, yes. And people have testified
22 things that happened at board meetings, and they were on the 23 exhibit list and just didn't get used with witnesses.

24 THE COURT: Yeah, I kind of vaguely remember doing
25 something similar with the State.

BP

4272

Proceedings

1 MS. ROGERS: Correct.

2 THE COURT: So, we're not --

3 MS. STERN: Sorry, I wanted to just respond to 4 Ms. Rogers' point.

5 I think we got this list very late last night. We 6 responded if you could focus us on what you really need to 7 get in. It is a very long list.

8 THE COURT: Oh, is it?

9 MS. STERN: Yes, it is quite lengthy. I think we 10 would like to at least eyeball them and not wholesale put in 11 every board meeting.

12 THE COURT: Look, so you're saying these things
13 have been mentioned or referenced?

14 MS. ROGERS: Well, board meetings over the years
15 have been referenced sometimes specifically and sometimes 16 people say we had a board meeting, everyone was in the room.
17 We had elections, they were free and fair.

18 THE COURT: The only concern I have is putting 19 things into the trial record that the jury and I never see
20 other than to hear their numbers; and then sort of say
21 however many years in the future, well, this was in the 22 record and it supports X, Y or Z is a little much if the 23 jury is not hearing anything about them.

24 But, given what these are, which are 990s as a
25 group, seem to be controversial. Anyway, I'm hoping can you

BP

4273

Proceedings

1 work it out.

2 What's the length of this?

3 MS. ROGERS: The list is lengthy because each board
4 book is voluminous, so we've produced them as Part 1, Part
5 2, Part 3 covering the relevant period -- relevant statutory
6 period.

7 THE COURT: Well, how I do determine in mass
8 whether these are relevant to anything?

9 MS. ROGERS: To the extent this is a lawsuit about 10 NRA's corporate governance that has an evidentiary record
11 spanning decades --

12 THE COURT: Look, if the jury is not hearing it,
13 this is all kind of a meaningless exercise.

14 MS. ROGERS: Let us get you a winnowed list this 15 morning. I do think for completeness the board minutes at 16 least from the board meetings that were discussed should be 17 in.

18 THE COURT: That was a very important last piece,
19 that if, if things have been discussed in front of the jury
20 and just there was, you know, we forgot to sort of say, Oh,
21 by the way, this is the board minutes that were referred to,
22 that's fine. But, bringing in things that nobody has ever
23 heard about and just having me dump it into the trial record
24 seems not --

25 MR. FARBER: And, Judge --

BP

4274

Proceedings

1 MS. STERN: Sorry, Judge --

2 MR. FARBER: Can I please?

3 MR. STERN: I'm sorry, Mr. Farber.

4 MR. FARBER: Judge, I had a similar objection to 5 the State's in the similar position. I've not had a chance
6 to review this massive stuff; but while I recognize the 7 business records exception to the hearsay rule for board
8 minutes. Generally, my concern is not knowing what's in 9 them, there might be hearsay within hearsay, things are 10 that, you know, prejudicial and improper for other reasons.

11 So, for that reason --

12 THE COURT: It would have to be something that was 13 discussed in the trial for it to just -- for it to come in.
14 I don't think that because the trial is about governance we 15 can admit in mass all board books for all meetings during 16 the relevant period.

17 If there's something you wanted the jury and me --
18 because this is a dual trial, I mean, you're also trying 19 this to me. I've always sort of rejected that in bench
20 trials where people sort of dump stuff in at the end and 21 say, We didn't mention any of this to you. By the way,
22 here's this other 10,000 pages that we need you to consider
23 in your decision.

24 I don't think that's really appropriate.

25 MS. ROGERS: All I would say, your Honor, is that

BP

4275

Proceedings

1 there have been discussions during trial about how board
2 meetings are conducted, how things happen, people run from 3 the floor, does the nominating committee always vote the 4 same way; and not all of these discussions have been
5 anchored to the transcript, the board meeting on May 5,
6 2011, right?

7 So these are going to be -- a lot of these are
8 going to be relevant in a way that isn't pin-cited to a 9 meeting on a date, but is still --

10 THE COURT: Let's continue this conversation at the 11 first break. I want to get to the jury because we have a 12 lot to do.

13 I'll think about it, but I think there has to be 14 more of a tether than that for me to -- look, if it's by 15 consent I suppose, but it doesn't seem to be; I'm fine with 16 filling in things that, Oh, we meant to put this in during 17 X and so transcript testimony, but we forgot. This is 18 something different.

19 All right, shall we get the jury?

20 MR. FARBER: Judge, do you want the witness on the 21 stand?

22 THE COURT: Sure, that will help.

23 We're going to move with alacrity today, yes?

24 MR. CORRELL: Yes, we are, your Honor.

2 Wayne LaPierre, having been previously duly sworn/affirmed
3 by the Clerk of the Court, resumed the witness stand and
4 testified as follows:)

5 THE COURT: Good morning.

6 THE WITNESS: Good morning, your Honor.

7 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, may we have the court
8 officer deliver the binders to the witness? Then, your 9 Honor, may I approach with your set?

10 (Handed to the witness)

11 THE COURT: There's more?

12 MR. CORRELL: Yes, your Honor. We're not going to 13 use all of them.

14 (Handed up to the Court)

15 THE COURT: You got your lifting in today.
16 This is not the same two from yesterday?

17 MR. CORRELL: Pardon me?

18 THE COURT: This is not the same binders from 19 yesterday?

20 MR. CORRELL: There's one binder from yesterday
21 right at the end, and then there are two new ones which 22 we're going to use a few documents from there.

23 THE COURT: Okay. So, I have four now?

24 MR. CORRELL: You should have four.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 MR. CORRELL: And we should be on the last five
2 tabs of the Volume 2 of yesterday.

3 THE COURT: There's no requirement to use each tab,
4 by the way.

5 MR. CORRELL: I have skipped many.

6 THE COURT: We still haven't gotten to the 2014
7 yet.

8 MR. CORRELL: We're almost there.

9 THE COURT: Am I correct that the Government still 10 has roughly an hour before the closing?

11 MS. STERN: My understanding is that we believe
12 that we have more than an hour; but the other side thinks
13 we have an hour, so we're not going to fight to the bitter
14 end.

15 THE COURT: All right, we'll call it an hour.

16 Proving again that gas expands to fill the size of 17 whatever container you put it in. If I had given you
18 twelve weeks, I'm sure the last day of the 12th week we'd be 19 scrambling to finish.

20 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would point out that 21 Mr. LaPierre has consumed a grand total of seven hours to 22 the AG's forty hours.

23 THE COURT: I'm not criticizing anyone.

24 COURT OFFICER: Is the Court ready to receive the
25 jury?

5 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please have a

7 Okay, we're going to toggle back to finish
8 Mr. LaPierre's testimony.

9 So, Mr. Correll, I think you're still up.

10 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

11 BY MR. CORRELL: (Continuing)

12 Q Good morning, Mr. LaPierre.

13 A Good morning.

14 Q How are you feeling today?

15 A I'm fine, thank you.

16 Q I'd like to move quickly through this last binder that 17 we had yesterday, the second binder.

18 If you could direct your attention to Tab 94 and the 19 document that appears behind that.

20 Do you recognize that document?

21 A I'm sorry?

22 Q Tab 94.

23 A I'm going to it right now. Yes, I do.

24 Q What is it?

25 A It is a -- it is one of the NASCAR races that NRA

BP

4279

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 sponsored with a -- with Tony Stewart and, obviously, wanted
2 Johnny Bass of Bass Pro Shops in there in the winner's circle.

3 Q And was Bass Pro Shops an organization that has a
4 relationship with the NRA?

5 A Yes, they were. They let us recruit members in their 6 stores. We actually have a museum in their store in 7 Springfield, Illinois, and we have displays in their National 8 Wild Life Museum in Springfield.

9 Q Do you believe that maintaining that relationship is in 10 the interest of the NRA?

11 A Absolutely. It is an important relationship, and it's 12 been official to the NRA.

13 MR. CORRELL: Move its admission in evidence, your 14 Honor. I just want to publish it. It is a one-page photo.

15 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevancy, hearsay.

16 THE COURT: I don't really understand the 17 evidentiary value of just a picture like this.

18 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the AG has raised an 19 issue as to whether Mr. LaPierre breached his duty by going 20 to NASCAR events in a helicopter.

21 THE COURT: So, this is just a picture of a NASCAR
22 event. How does that --

23 MS. ROGERS: It is a picture of Mr. LaPierre at a
24 NASCAR event with one of the major supporters of the NRA
25 documenting the fact that his time spent on relationships is

BP

4280

1 developing benefits to the NRA, and he's not just going to
2 raise this for fun.

3 THE COURT: If you want one as an exemplar, that's 4 fine; but I'm not going to just move them all in.

5 MR. CORRELL: Just one, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Overruled. Put it up there, if you
7 want.

8 (Displayed)

9 Q Mr. LaPierre, please direct your attention to Tab 95
10 and the document that appears behind that. Do you recognize 11 that document?

12 A Yes, I do. It is an another Texas Motor Speedway
13 NASCAR event that NRA participated in with a -- we had a
14 sporting clay shoot for their charity, and we -- we took donors
15 there and we -- we were visible in front of everyone.

16 Q And did you use that opportunity to communicate with 17 prospective members of the NRA through a letter contained in the 18 magazine or program that was distributed in connection with that 19 race?

20 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

21 THE COURT: Overruled.

22 Q I direct your attention to page --

23 A Yes, I see it. We did. We had a letter in the 24 program.

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move the admission of

1 this document and the letter demonstrating its relevance to 2 show that Mr. LaPierre was communicating through NASCAR with 3 members and prospective members.

4 MR. CONLEY: Objection on relevance and hearsay.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it also --

7 THE COURT: Sustained.

8 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, there's another reason
9 why it is relevant.

10 Mr. LaPierre was photographed for the purpose and 11 he was -- his image was featured in this magazine, and one
12 of the issues in this case is whether he violated his duty
13 by signing -- to the NRA by signing a letter that gave the 14 NRA the right to use his image and likeness and 15 communicating with members.

16 This is an exemplar of how the NRA used his image
17 in soliciting members and donors.

18 MR. CONLEY: And, your Honor, I also object to 19 Mr. Correll testifying. I think --

20 THE COURT: Sustained. Let's just keep moving.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I take exception.

22 THE COURT: Fine.

23 MR. CORRELL: And I will move through the rest of 24 these exhibits. I object to the apparent effort by the 25 AG to delay and obstruct this examination.

1 THE COURT: I disagree that's what they're doing.

2 Go ahead.

3 Q Turn to the next tab, Tab 96, please. Do you recognize
4 that document?

5 A I do. It is "Time Magazine" where they recognize -- 6 I'm reading the cover -- "The Hundred Most Influential People in 7 The World."

8 Q Were you listed as one of the hundred most influential
9 people in the world?

10 A I don't think anybody really believes that, but somehow
11 I was. It just shows you how crazy some of these things are.

12 Q Direct your attention to page 12 of this document. Do
13 you see that?

14 A Yes, I do see it.

15 Q And you see where it says "Leaders?"

16 A Yes.

17 Q And there are eleven people listed there. Do you see
18 that?

19 A I do.

20 Q And this lists you as one of the eleven leaders,
21 correct, of the hundred most influential people in the world;
22 correct?

23 A Yes, it does.

24 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move this into evidence.

25 It is "Time Magazine." It is evidence that he's perceived

BP

1 as a leader nationally.

2 THE COURT: Can we just limit to the part rather
3 than having the entire magazine as an exhibit?

4 MR. CORRELL: Yes, your Honor. I would also say
5 there are three pages that are relevant pages; the cover,
6 page 12 and page 62.

7 THE COURT: The article?

8 MR. CORRELL: Yes.

9 THE COURT: I'll admit it.

10 MR. CONLEY: Object on relevance.

11 THE COURT: Overruled. If you just limit it to the 12 relevant pages.

13 (Whereupon, at this time the Exhibit WLX 258 was
14 admitted and received into evidence.)

15 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor. May we

5 A I do.

6 Q Kamala Harris?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Elena Kagan?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Joe Biden?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And Pope Francis?

13 A Yes, I do.

19 crazy things in terms of making up these lists.

20 Q And it says by Ted Nugent. So does that indicate that 21 Ted Nugent did a little piece on you for this?

22 A Honestly, I have no idea.

23 Q Okay. Who is Ted Nugent, by the way?

24 A He is a performer and a singer.

25 Q And does he have an affiliation with the NRA?

KM

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A There was a time when he was on the NRA Board. He no
2 longer is.

3 Q Directing your attention to the Tab 97, the document
4 behind Tab 97. Actually, let me go back to the -- just the date
5 of the Time Magazine. It's May 8, 2013.

6 Do you see that?

7 A Yes, I do.

8 Q And what was the threat level to you at this time, if 9 you can recall?

10 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. Vague.

11 THE COURT: He can answer his perception.

12 A It was -- it was horrible. I had -- that was the week
13 or two after I had been swatted at the house where somebody
14 co-opted our phone number and called in and told the police that 15 I had killed my wife and she was bleeding out and I would shoot 16 the first police officer that showed up at the house, and it was 17 -- it was horrible.

18 The police called me, and as I said, Turn on all the 19 lights and come out with your hands up, and I didn't know what 20 was going on. My wife was running around crying and upset, and 21 I finally -- I finally honestly decided I -- just whatever, and 22 I said, I'm going to come out with my hands up out the front
23 door, and I did that, and the police were all running toward me
24 with their guns drawn, and it was -- it was -- I mean, those are 25 the most dangerous situations not only for the citizen but for

KM

4286

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 the police because they don't know what they are walking into,
2 and it was the Fire Department was there too, and -- and it
3 was -- and then the docking starting of stealing all our 4 financial information and putting it back on the black web.

5 Q Did you have any security at your home at the time?

6 A That's -- yes. NRA had started security. No, there
7 wasn't security at the home. I believe NRA had cameras at the 8 home at that point.

9 Q And did that affect your view as to the level of 10 security that you needed to have going forward?

11 A Yes, it did. That was the beginning of the harassment
12 that started, not only on the street or restaurant or airports,
13 but it started at the house.

14 Q And who was the head of security at NRA at that time?

15 A Russell Gordon.

16 Q Did people call him Russ?

17 A They did.

18 Q And did he -- did you get any information from him
19 about how you needed to change things to address this new 20 development?

21 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Calls for hearsay.

22 MR. CORRELL: Just notice of what he was told. Just
23 information.

24 THE COURT: Overruled. That's what they started to 25 say, that threat level and the harassment level was so high

KM

4287

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 that I needed to travel private.

2 They were also worried about if I got in an
3 airplane and some -- like what's happening on the street.
4 Somebody started harassing me or threw a cup of coffee at me
5 on the plane or started screaming at me, everybody would
6 pull out their cell phone and start taking pictures of it,
7 and it would end up on the evening news with one hundred
8 million dollars of negative publicity against the
9 organization.

10 Q Did you make a decision at that point to act on the 11 recommendation and start flying private exclusively or almost 12 exclusively?

13 A Yes, I did. I trusted the security people. I had no
14 reason to not to trust them, and I didn't think there was 15 anything inappropriate about it given what I was going through 16 personally, my family with the threat level.

17 Q Did you believe that you had the authority to make that
18 decision?

19 A I did on the recommendation of our security director.

20 Q And did you believe that you had any obligation to seek 21 a resolution from the Board authorizing you to travel in that 22 manner?

23 A I did not.

24 Q Did you later learn that questions had been raised
25 about your authority to travel private?

KM

4288

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A I learned when the Attorney General of New York filed
2 their suit, that they raised that, that there was apparently a
3 regulation that I had no idea about, and yes, that's when I
4 learned it.

5 Q And after you learned that, what, if any, steps did you
6 take to address the issue and resolve it?

7 A NRA security director started -- did a survey in 2019
8 and then they presented it to the Board of Directors in 2020.

9 Q And did the AG raise any issues about your wife
10 traveling with you on the plane sometimes?

11 A Yes. My wife was involved for the Women's Leadership
12 Forum. She was a volunteer -- well, she actually started it I
13 think around 2005 as a volunteer, and they raised -- they raised
14 issues about her traveling with me.

15 Q And did Women's Leadership Forum events usually get 16 scheduled at or around the time of conventions?

17 A There was a big lunch at the convention that my wife
18 hosted as a volunteer. Colleen, our family member actually 19 worked for the NRA, was involved working with her on that as 20 were several other women.

21 In a period of ten years which is why I didn't think a
22 big deal about either my wife or Colleen moving around to places
23 in terms of traveling, they raised $59 million in cash and about 24 112 in planned giving.

25 Q Did there come a time when you decided to go back

KM

4289

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 through expense reports and travel records to identify any
2 flights that you thought or that you wanted to pay for in order
3 to respond to the AG criticism that you should have been paying
4 for some of those flights or part of these flights?

5 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Leading.

6 THE COURT: Overruled.

7 A Well, it started even before the AG. When I -- after I
8 received that call from Tom King about the Attorney General of 9 New York Schneiderman, I decided to -- wanted to do a complete
10 review of the entire NRA to make sure we were in compliance with 11 all the policies, procedures and Board of Directors. Also, with 12 the New York Non-Profit Law, and I said at the very beginning of 13 that -- I said, look, if there is any accounting, any 14 calculation, any mistake, anything I didn't do right, I want to 15 pay it back. So that's when I -- we -- we started a review
16 of -- all of that took several years to finish it up, but I
17 ended up paying back anything that was an accounting error or a
18 calculation, a mistake I made. Anything like that we found, I
19 paid back.

20 Q What was the process you followed to identify charges
21 that you wanted to pay back?

22 A It was a long -- I went through all the CAA invoices
23 which were the airline invoices. I went through -- I hired an 24 accounting firm with a tax attorney that worked on the process,
25 particularly in terms of the 4720 forms. I went through all my

KM

4290

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 expense accounts, each one expense account by expense account
2 matching each trip with CAA invoices with business purpose of
3 the trip or whether it was something personal to it and matched
4 everything up together, and then turned it all over to the 5 treasurer's office. They did their own calculations with their 6 own tax attorney, and they made their analysis of it.

7 Q And in following that process, were you relying on your 8 recollection as to the purposes of trips as well as the 9 indications reflected in the expense reports?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And at the conclusion of that process, were you
12 confident that you had done all you reasonably could to identify 13 items that you wanted to pay back in order to square things up
14 with the NRA?

15 A Yes, I was confident that we had covered everything,
16 anything that could possibly be an issue and that I could look
17 in the mirror and actually facing God saying I have done
18 everything I can to make this right and square it up.

19 I mean, when I started down this process, I said to 20 myself not only in relation to this, but I said of reviewing 21 everything -- reviewing everything with the NRA, every person,
22 myself, every vendor, if I lose every friend I ever made, if I
23 lose every relationship I've ever made, I don't care. This is 24 what we're going to do because I'm going right down this path
25 and nothing is going to stop me.

KM

4291

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q Did you end up writing a series of checks to the NRA to
2 cover these expenses?

3 A Yes, I did. I couldn't believe it, but if you added
4 everything up, it came over a million dollars.

5 Q Was some portion of that interest?

6 A I paid -- I paid all the interest on it, and I paid all
7 the federal taxes on it. It -- I mean, all of it ended up being 8 in relation to things I was doing with the NRA that there was an 9 accounting mistake, a calculation, a mistake I made, something I
10 didn't know about. But regardless of what it was, I squared it
11 up.

12 Q And did you follow this process with respect to things
13 other than flights?

14 A Yes. I followed -- again, I had no idea, but my wife
15 in -- particularly, in building the Women's Leadership Forum,
16 she would send out gifts to prospective donors, to donors, baby
17 gifts, holiday gifts, birthday gifts to keep in touch with them,
18 to build the relationship.

19 I would send out gifts to donors also. We would -- I
20 would send gifts to employees during the holidays just as good
21 will, and I didn't realize that I actually had put them on all
22 my expense reports and turned them into the NRA, but there was a
23 $25 limit on what you could give as a gift, and I wasn't aware 24 there was a $25 limit. So we went -- I went through every 25 expense report going back to 2011 and any gift that was over

KM

4292

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 $25, I paid the entire thing back to the NRA.

2 Q Did you follow this same process with car services?

3 A Yes, I did. I went through -- with the help of a
4 paralegal, I went through every single expense report. I went 5 through the car invoices in terms of transportation, and if 6 there was any stop that I took that might not be related to the 7 NRA while I was doing the trip, I ended up paying the whole
8 thing. I just said I'll pay the whole thing back, and I paid it
9 back.

10 Q Anything else that you went looking for?

11 A Well, there were things that I were completely unaware
12 of that came to the attention in terms of the New York AG's
13 suit, like there was hair and makeup for the Women's Leadership
14 Forum.

15 My wife who was the volunteer chair as I said, hosted 16 the big women -- women's lunch at the national convention where 17 there were 6, 7, 800, 900 people in the room. She was hosting
18 it. It was filmed, and there was hair and makeup for not only
19 for her but some other women used it also, and then they did
20 summits where they would invite the women donors at various 21 times of the year. There was hair and makeup for that as well 22 as.

23 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. Foundation.

24 Mr. LaPierre testified he wasn't aware of this.

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, that's an improper

KM

4293

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 objection.

2 THE COURT: Well, I guess I just caution that in
3 answering, if you can focus on your personal knowledge. I
4 mean, if there are certain things you learned either from 5 your wife or others, if you can distinguish between those
6 and things that you observed and did yourself. But aside
7 from that, you can proceed.

8 THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor.

9 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

10 A Yes, I knew that there was hair and makeup services
11 being provided for those Women's Leadership events. I also saw
12 it again when the Attorney General's Office filed the complaint
13 against the NRA, and I just decided to take it off the table and 14 pay it all back.

15 Q And were these services -- were the women that attended
16 these events, did they include members of the NRA?

17 A They did.

18 Q And were these services made available to other women
19 who were members of the NRA?

20 A Other women that were on stage at the event ended up
21 using those services also. I don't know how many. I know some 22 did.

23 Q How about men who had to appear on stage?

24 A The men had their own hair and makeup over at -- it was 25 mostly at the forum or at the members' meeting. Those were the

KM

4294

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 other two big events, and NRA provided hair and makeup services
2 for all of those events. They involved women too, but most of 3 the -- not all, but most of the people, speakers at those events
4 were men, but not all.

5 Q And so did you pay for all of that as well?

6 A I did not. That was never raised by anyone or no one
7 ever seemed to have a concern about it. It didn't make any 8 sense to me but --

9 Q So you concluded that the AG was not asking you to pay
10 for the mens' makeup on the theory that your wife had used that 11 makeup; is that fair to say?

12 A My wife did not speak at those other events, but that's 13 true.

14 Q Okay. How about wardrobe? Did you go looking for any 15 expenses relating to wardrobe?

16 A I did. It came to my attention as we were doing the 17 review of anything going back, that back in 2000, 2001, 2002 and 18 2003 when Charlton Heston was getting out of the role as 19 spokesperson and I was stepping into the role, that there
20 were -- there was wardrobe that the advertising agency suggested
21 I go get, and I didn't realize it at the time, but it was billed
22 back to the National Rifle Association and NRA paid for it. So
23 I reimbursed the NRA for that also including interest on it
24 and --

25 Q Do you recall how much the amount was for the suits

KM

4295

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 themselves approximately?

2 A It -- over 4 or 5 years, it was like 90,000.

3 Q And what was the interest going back to 2000 or 4 wherever it was?

5 A I believe if you added in the interest, the entire
6 figure came to $251,000.

7 Q Was there anything else that you wrote checks for to
8 the NRA?

9 A Yes, I did. There were -- I had purchased, and I think
10 maybe one or two other people did, cars off of lease.

11 If I had a lease car and the lease was coming up, I --
12 I was interested in purchasing the vehicle. So I -- I called 13 the NRA or Lisa George, the person in the purchasing that was 14 responsible and said, what does it cost to buy the car off
15 lease, and I was provided the figure, and I bought the car off
16 lease.

17 Q And when you did that, did you believe that that figure
18 was correct?

19 A I did. I asked what does it cost to buy this car off
20 lease, and she -- she gave me a figure, and that's the check
21 that I wrote.

22 Q Did you later learn that that -- that that figure might 23 not have been correct?

24 A Yes, I did. I was -- totally to my surprise because I
25 ended up buying two vehicles over a period of 8 or 9 years off

KM

4296

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 lease, and I later learned that apparently there was some
2 negotiation struck by the treasurer's office with a car
3 dealership where the car dealership -- where somebody had 4 been -- bought a car off lease. It was at a -- at a lower
5 price, and I didn't realize that when I bought the car off
6 lease.

7 In fact, I might have not even bought it off lease had
8 I known that, but when I found that out, what I -- I did, and I
9 think what at least one other person did is we squared it up and 10 I paid the higher figure on what it would have cost originally 11 to buy the car off lease at the higher figure. I paid that back
12 on both -- both of the vehicles I bought off lease.

13 Q Did you also look for lodging that was reflected on 14 invoices or business expense reports to see whether there was 15 anything you wanted to repay to square things up with the NRA?

16 A I did. If there was any lodging on there that said --
17 ended up on someone else's card, if they went in and put their 18 card down because they were trying to protect me in terms of 19 security and that ended up being billed back to the NRA, I
20 squared that up.

21 There was a hotel bill at one of the conventions where 22 I originally saw the invoice. A lot of it wasn't mine, but
23 on -- when I saw the NRA, it just said WLP. So even though I
24 thought about -- I thought at least half of it wasn't mine, I
25 just -- I didn't have any proof that it wasn't -- WLP because no

KM

4297

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 one could find that invoice that I saw. So what I ended up
2 doing was just paying that entire charge.

3 Q As you went through this process, did you have any
4 default rule as to if you weren't certain as to the business
5 purpose, you know, what you would do with that particular
6 invoice or expense?

7 A I wanted to completely be -- do the right thing. I
8 wanted to be completely squared up. I didn't want there to be 9 any doubt about it. So if there was any doubt, I was -- I was 10 over-inclusive. I paid -- I erred on the NRA's side.

11 Q Did you identify any small items, things like phones or 12 like something like that that you tripped across as you were 13 going through this process?

14 A Yes. Anything like that also, cell phone, something
15 like that, I squared up also.

16 Q And I think there was some reference earlier to Apple
17 TV or something like that.

18 Do you recall that?

19 A I do, and I -- still looking at those now and thinking
20 about them, I don't think they had anything to do with us.

21 I think that -- it obviously said WLP. I don't think 22 they had anything to do with us. I think they were 23 inappropriately put on there by somebody.

24 Q So that could have been a mistake or as far as you
25 know, you don't know how that happened; is that fair to say?

KM

4298

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A I don't know how that happened, and I don't think we
2 were -- I or my wife received that.

3 If I had, I would have repaid it. If I did, I would 4 have repaid it.

5 Q Is there anything else you can think of that you paid
6 for through this process?

7 A Well, as I said, I mean, my -- my wife was working with
8 the Women's Leadership Forum. She was never, as I said, paid a
9 penny for it. It was all volunteer, but my -- my wife's 10 sister's daughter was working as an employee. So there were 11 times when I wanted to get her to a place, and I didn't see 12 it -- think it was inappropriate at the time given what they 13 were doing, how much -- how much money they were raising. What 14 I know now is that shouldn't have been done, and I paid the 15 entire charge of the airplane.

16 There was another about three times where I wanted to 17 move my wife to get to a place on this, and I -- she was the 18 only one on the plane, and I paid the entire charge of the plane
19 back to the organization.

20 There was one time where I didn't realize -- I mean,
21 they thought I had lung cancer. It turned out to be a false
22 diagnosis, but I was out in California, and they moved -- they 23 -- they booked my wife's sister's daughter and her daughter to 24 come out there and see me, and I ended up paying that entire 25 charge for the plane and the hotel. I didn't even realize they

1 were coming.

2 Q You didn't authorize that?

3 A I did not authorize that, and I didn't know about it.
4 My wife didn't know about it.

5 Q Who made that arrangement?

6 A Gayle Stanford.

7 Q And did she call you first?

8 A No.

9 Q Did she call you afterwards?

10 A No.

11 Q Did there come a time when you appeared before the 12 Audit Committee of the NRA to talk about the process you had 13 went through to identify these expenses that you wanted to 14 cover?

15 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. Outside the 16 scope of discovery.

17 THE COURT: I think the testifying about the 18 process analysis is okay. I think there is some meeting no
19 information was provided about.

20 MR. CORRELL: I had said in my case in chief I would 21 lay -- Mr. LaPierre would come and say what he said at the 22 meeting, and that is what he is doing.

23 THE COURT: Right. I just -- there may be some 24 areas where for whatever reason discovery wasn't given as to 25 the meeting minutes, and so there's been no obligations for

1 anyone to probe what at least was recorded, so I may not
2 permit you to go all the way through to that level of 3 detail, but you can continue.

4 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

5 Q Can you tell the jury in sum and substance what you
6 said to the Audit Committee at that meeting?

7 A I told the Audit Committee that -- I went in. I had a
8 meeting with the Audit Committee. I told them that -- what I've 9 said here when I started down this process. I wanted to -- if 10 there was any mistake, accounting error, calculation that I made
11 where I received some benefit I shouldn't have received, I
12 wanted to pay it back.

13 I told him I had gone through this process of looking 14 at everything that I talked about here including hiring an 15 accounting firm. I had turned all of that calculations over to 16 the treasurer's office. The treasurer's office had done their 17 own analysis with their own tax accountants, and I had my 18 analysis. They had their analysis. The treasurer's office did,
19 and I told the Audit Committee this was everything that I wanted
20 to square up with the NRA to the point where I got-- I received
21 no advantage even if -- even if I was unaware of it, but I did
22 receive an advantage.

23 MR. CONLEY: I am going to object again. Referring 24 to documents that were produced late and that we haven't had 25 a chance to have discovery on it.

KM

4301

1 THE COURT: Overruled. I would just ask maybe
2 after this, you can put the timeframe around when this
3 occurred because just for my benefit and maybe the jury's.

4 Q When did this occur, Mr. LaPierre?

5 A It was in December of 2023. There was one last
6 calculation that I presented to him that just been discovered
7 recently by the Institution for Legislative Action which was 8 some old expense reports that they had misplaced that they had 9 just discovered, and I went through those. And if there were 10 any gifts on there, I -- I added those up and repaid them. That 11 was the last payment.

3 sure to tell you the truth. May have been less.

4 Q I'd like you to direct your attention to Tab 16 in

10 THE COURT: You're the pilot.

11 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

12 Q Please turn your attention to Tab 98 in Volume 2 of 2
13 from yesterday.

14 Do you recognize this document? It's been marked for 15 identification as WLX 260.

16 A Yes, I do.

17 Q What is it?

18 A It is an article that was prepared for the magazines
19 which went through legislative accomplishments of the 20 organization over the years, political accomplishments.

21 Q Did you have any involvement in the preparation of this
22 document?

23 A I did. When I went down, I went down to publication
24 and they had a writer there with me; and I went through it off
25 the top of my head with him because I had lived it and I

2 what happened; this year, that's what happened; this year,
3 that's what happened. Went through it year by year.

4 Q Is this a fair representation of words you spoke to 5 this writer and asked to record in this document for use by the
6 NRA?

7 A Yes, it is. He probably made it a little bit more
8 eloquent than what I said, but he's a good writer; but, yes,
9 this is a fair representation of what I --

4 A I think -- I think that is the answer that I went

6 we ended up with.

7 Q And you believe this is a fair representation of what
8 you said in sum and substance?

9 A Yes, I do.

10 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, move it into evidence
11 please. I'd like to publish it to the jury.

12 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevance, hearsay.

13 THE COURT: It is clearly hearsay.

14 MR. CORRELL: Pardon me?

15 THE COURT: It is clearly hearsay. If you wanted
16 to, you can ask him all these fact questions, but there's no
17 hearsay exception for something like this.

18 So, sustained.

19 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'd like to offer it on 20 another theory of relevance, which it is relevant to show an 21 exemplar of the work product he created on behalf of NRA and 22 sent to members with regard to the truth.

23 It shows the breadth of his responsibility and 24 shows the scope of his duties.

25 THE COURT: Sustained still.

BP

4305

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 MR. CORRELL: Exception.

2 Q Please turn your attention to Tab 99. Do you recognize
3 this document?

4 A I do. It is a -- it is a book that the NRA put 5 together about the accomplishments of the organization and the 6 programs with the association and all that.

7 Q Did you have any involvement in the preparation of this
8 publication?

9 A I knew they were doing it. I may have talked with 10 them. I did not have a lot of involvement with this one.

11 Q Is this an example of a communication that the NRA made
12 with members and donors and prospective donors to advance the 13 interest of the NRA and the mission of the NRA?

14 A Yes, it is. This was prepared not only for our 15 members, but also who are the bread and butter -- bread and 16 butter of the association. I mean, they make it work everyday,
17 as folks would send in $40 for a membership or $30; but this 18 book was also prepared to send anyone that might be a high donor
19 or prospect to show the accomplishments of the organization.
20 It --

21 Q Can you explain to the jury your view as to the 22 importance of finding high donors for the NRA?

23 A Well, as I've said, I mean, the real bread and butter
24 of our association -- I mean, I always say whenever I meet
25 anybody on the road, people would say thanks to me; and I'd go,

BP

4306

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 no, it is not me. It is you. I mean, they'd run me out of town
2 in five minutes if it weren't for you.

3 I mean, the power of the organization is not that
4 building in Washington. It is people around the country, but it
5 is important to find higher donors as other organizations have 6 because it -- it takes money to pay for all the programs, all
7 the magazines, the legislative advocacy, everything the 8 organization does. And if you find some higher donors, that 9 takes some pressure off of the folks that are constantly, you
10 know, because they believe in it sending in 5, 10, 15, 30, 45
11 dollar checks.

12 So, it is important for an organization to be strong to 13 have those high donors, particularly when it comes under 14 financial pressure. The finances of the NRA tend to waiver
15 depending on the atmosphere, depending on what the organization
16 is going through.

17 Q Does it also depend on politics, who's in office?

18 A It does. I mean, it is the same with every 19 organization in the country. I mean, I think that if -- apart
20 from the program stuff that goes on day to day, the safety
21 training, education that stuff; the political stuff varies by 22 the threat and by -- by who's in office.

23 So, if somebody is in office that's opposed to what an 24 organization stands for, people tend to give more. If someone 25 is in office that supports what an organization stands for,

BP

4307

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 people tend to give less.

2 So, what the high donors do is they tend to round it
3 out when you're in one of those low periods.

4 Q Does the economy also have an effect on the importance
5 of a high donor for an organization like yours?

6 A It has a big effect on the -- on the 5, 10, 20, 35, 40
7 dollar donors, yes.

8 Q And what effect is that?

9 A Well, they're going on in their day-to-day lives and 10 they're trying to pay their gas bills, and they're trying to buy
11 food and take the family to dinner; and that probably is more
12 important than sending a check to some organization, whatever 13 the organization stands for.

14 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move into evidence the 15 document that's been marked WLX 261, that appears behind Tab
16 99.

17 It is the last one in the book, and I promise I
18 will not offer anymore of these exemplars into evidence.

19 MR. CONLEY: Objection, relevancy, hearsay.

20 THE COURT: I don't understand the relevance.

21 MR. CORRELL: Again, it represents a compendium of 22 work that's put together for the organization in connection
23 with members and high donors. It is relevant to 24 Mr. LaPierre's efforts to find high donors, including by 25 traveling with the McKenzies and going to Hollywood and

BP

4308

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 doing these shoots and things.

2 It is part and parcel of what he does. It
3 represents part of the performance of his duty, which is an 4 issue in this case.

5 THE COURT: Yeah, I just don't think the document
6 itself -- I mean, I've allowed him to testify about all he
7 does and all of that; but as I flip through this, there's 8 all sorts of -- I mean, it is hearsay.

9 I know you're putting it in not for hearsay
10 purpose. You're putting it in, I guess, just to show that 11 it was done; but there's no real dispute that all this kind
12 of work gets done. It doesn't mean that all of them become 13 trial exhibits, so I can't see any relevance to this.

14 So --

15 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I may make one last 16 attempt. It shows the breadth of his duties. He 17 occupies -- well, one question in this case is whether he's 18 discharged the duties of his position appropriately. One
19 question is what was his position? What were his duties?
20 And I think this is evidence of the breadth of his duties
21 and the success, with which he has --

22 THE COURT: This is an example of exercise of 23 duties that nobody is questioning. I mean, this is just --
24 I understand the point, but sustained.

25 MR. CORRELL: May I have at least the cover sheet?

BP

14 when I said I wanted to make good on everything even if it was 15 the accounting, calculation, a mistake, whatever; I wanted to 16 make it square with the NRA and I think that's the first check I
17 wrote.

18 Q And what is the date on that check?

19 A November 12th -- November 16, 2020.

20 Q It says "20" there, but you meant 2020; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And the bank cashed it anyway; correct?

9 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move the admission of 10 this document into evidence, DX1-0798.

11 THE COURT: It is admitted.

12 MR. CORRELL: Thank you.

13 (Whereupon, at this time the Exhibit DX1-0798 was
14 admitted and received into evidence.)

15 Q Mr. LaPierre, if you could now direct your attention to 16 Tab 44 --

17 THE COURT: Do you want --

18 Q The document that appears behind it as Ali publishes 19 the last one on the screen.

20 THE COURT: She did.

21 Q Do you recognize that document?

22 A Yes, I do.

23 Q What is it?

24 A It is the final check that I talked about that when --
25 when the Institute for Legislative Action found that some

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 expense reports that they -- they misplaced and they discovered
2 them in -- well, shortly before that, and I went through those
3 to see if there was anything on there that -- under what I've 4 been going through should have, should have been paid to the 5 NRA, and it was for -- it was for some of those gifts that were 6 over $25 that went to donors and -- or, or maybe a vendor that I
7 wanted to keep good relationships with or employees during the 8 holiday season.

9 Q Did you believe that these gifts were in the interest
10 of the NRA?

11 A Yes, I did.

12 Q And was the purpose to help build or maintain
13 relationships with people who were valuable to the NRA?

14 A Yes, it was. I felt and my wife felt that they were 15 the glue that kind of held things together. And in terms of 16 relationships, I mean, you're not going to get a donation if you
17 don't have a relationship with a person; and it helps solidify
18 the relationships and it also helps I thought solidify
19 relationship with staff that I gave gifts to. And if I did one
20 with a vendor, I thought it helped solidify a relationship.

21 Q Do you have a secretary or assistant?

22 A I do.

23 Q What's her name?

24 A Andre Fisher.

25 Q How long has she been with you?

BP

4317

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Oh, gosh. She started with the NRA out of high school
2 working for Harlin Carter who was the EVP back in the seventies.
3 She's just retired. I think she's been with me for 4 twenty-five years maybe.

5 Q And did you believe it was important to the NRA to 6 provide continuity in relationships with employees who were 7 providing assistance to executives?

8 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

9 THE COURT: Overruled.

10 A Yes, I did. I thought that -- that continuity was 11 important. I thought that, yes.

12 Q Her father is a marine correct? Andre's father is a 13 former marine?

14 A He was.

15 Q Was he a member of the NRA, as well?

16 A I'm not sure.

17 Q Is she a member of the NRA?

18 A Yes.

19 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I can't recall whether I
20 moved this one into evidence.

21 THE COURT: Which one?

22 MR. CORRELL: This is Tab 44, DX1-0845.

23 THE COURT: I don't know that you did, but I'll
24 admit it.

25 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

BP

4318

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And now --

2 (Whereupon, at this time the Exhibit DX1-0845 was
3 admitted and received into evidence.)

4 MR. CORRELL: Will you publish it, please.

5 THE COURT: DX1-0845.

6 Q Would you direct your attention the Tab 47, please.

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you recognize this document? You had said that was 9 the last check, the previous one; but do you want to revise that 10 answer.

11 A Yes. Obviously, this is the last one that covered --
12 covered those last invoices that ILA found.

13 Q And this was to cover a recalculation -- recalculated
14 interest rate --

15 A I'm sorry, you're right. It was -- what this was was 16 when our treasurer, Sonya Rowling, testified to that on that 17 wardrobe going back to 2000, 2001, 2002, she initially did the 18 wrong interest calculation. She did, I guess, a short-term
19 interest calculation and she came back and said that she 20 had made an error; that it should have been the long-term
21 interest calculation, which raised the amount of interest by 22 this amount.

23 Q Now, you had engaged the firm, an accountant named Drew
24 Cheney, an accountant and lawyer Drew Cheney to assist you in 25 making sure you were all squared up with the IRS; correct?

BP

4319

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

2 THE COURT: Overruled.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And they had performed a calculation and you had
5 provided that to Sonya Rowling; correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And it was Sonya Rowling who noted that -- who
8 requested that a long-term rate be used rather than a short-term
9 rate; correct?

10 MR. CONLEY: Objection, hearsay.

11 Q Does that refresh your recollection as to whose error
12 that was?

13 A That is correct. Sonya said and told me and she 14 told -- she explained to the Audit Committee that initially she 15 had made the calculation based on a short-term interest rate and 16 it should have been based on a long-term interest rate, and this 17 was the additional amount that it should have been.

18 Q And she was using the calculation that had been 19 provided by the accountant mistakenly; correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And when she identified the error, did you resist the 22 recalculation in any way?

23 A No, I didn't.

24 Q I want to change topics.

25 MR. CORRELL: Did we move that into evidence? I

BP

4320

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 don't think we did. Please, may we have that admitted into
2 evidence?

3 THE COURT: It is admitted. DX1-0504.

4 MR. CORRELL: Would this be a good time to take a
5 morning break? I can go longer if you'd like. I'm going
6 to be changing topics and it's going to go for a little 7 bit.

8 THE COURT: If it's a good time for the morning
9 break. All right, we'll take a short break.

10 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

11 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
12 courtroom.)

13 (Whereupon, at this time the witness stepped down.)

14 THE COURT: You can have a seat.

15 Were we in the midst of a discussion we were 16 supposed to continue at the break? I don't recall.

17 MR. FARBER: I'm sorry, your Honor, I didn't hear
18 the question.

19 THE COURT: I remember cutting off a conversation
20 before the jury came in and said we would continue it at the 21 break.

22 MS. ROGERS: So, your Honor, there were board books
23 that we wanted to offer into evidence, and I think we've 24 narrowed these to a shorter period of 2017 to present; and 25 almost all of these board books correspond to relevant

BP

4321

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 events because of the density of relevant transactions and
2 events during these years.

3 So, we will have -- we can introduce them through 4 Mr. Frazer. He can identify them. He's the secretary, or 5 we can just stipulate to put them in if they're willing to 6 stipulate or the Court is willing to let us put them in.

7 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I just -- I'm not sure that
8 you've seen these board books.

9 THE COURT: I'm sure that I haven't.

10 MS. STERN: There are hundreds and hundreds of 11 pages, and they have reports from every committee,
12 thirty-some-odd committees. I mean, there's a ton of 13 stuff --

14 THE COURT: I think the board books -- I thought
15 about it. There's been testimony about whether the board
16 members are receiving information and the process has been 17 part of. And so I, I think there is -- if it's during the 18 relevant period at least, there's some relevance to the 19 process; and having said that, I don't know what I'm biting
20 off by just accepting them. But, you all are the ones who 21 are supposed to take a look at it and let me know if there's 22 something in there that is either prejudicial or to either a
23 defendant or to the plaintiff or whoever. I have no way of 24 knowing that.

25 So, I think I would agree that there's a base level

BP

4322

1 of relevance to showing if it does the kinds of documents
2 board members receive, and so then the only question about
3 admissibility is whether somehow it is outweighed by some 4 other concern.

1 MS. STERN: Could we at least have the opportunity
2 to look at the sort of reduced list that Ms. Rogers referred
3 to, and I'll ask one of my colleagues --

4 THE COURT: Yeah. Absolutely. I think it needs to 5 be done by the end of the day because they have to put it in 6 at the end of their case.

7 MS. STERN: We certainly can do that.

8 MS. ROGERS: That's all on the DX list, and the 9 plaintiff has copies, and we sent them a chart with the 10 dates.

11 THE COURT: Your codefendants also might want to 12 take a look at them.

13 MR. FARBER: That's correct, your Honor, and there
14 are thousands of exhibits that have been noticed in this 15 case. We got this list -- I forget whether it was late last 16 night or this morning that has a lot of stuff on it.

17 So telling me that we have had them already doesn't
18 mean that I can sit here and intelligently -- first of all,
19 I haven't reviewed them because they are not part of 20 anything that was narrowed to the extent we can call it was 21 done last night narrowing until then.

22 THE COURT: Let me put it this way. The formal way
23 this gets done is you have a witness. They go through it,
24 you know, and I admit it in the normal course. I can't 25 admit it by stipulation unless people have had a chance to

KM

4324

1 look at it. So we will have to do it one way or the other.
2 You know, I -- I'm not going to admit it sight unseen unless
3 the parties have had a chance to look at it and sense any
4 objections.

5 MR. FARBER: And I'm open to a stipulation if I am
6 given something narrower that I can actually look and access
7 in this short time.

8 THE COURT: I get it. I don't know whether it was 9 hundreds or thousands of pages. It's a lot to swallow on 10 the last day of evidence. So I'll see how you all can do.
11 I don't know what else I can say. I mean, it's coming in 12 the last day without a lot of notice. But typically, this 13 kind of thing is done when, oh, you know, we talked about 14 this, and I forgot to put it in.

15 So I think, Ms. Rogers, you're going to have to 16 count on the good will of your fellow litigants here.

17 MS. ROGERS: I place great faith in the good will 18 of my fellow counsel.

19 THE COURT: I do know during the lunch break you
20 guys are going to be busy doing other things that are 21 important to me including the jury verdict sheet which is 22 mission critical.

23 All right. I'll see you in a minute.

24 (Whereupon at this time there was a recess taken.)

25 MS. STERN: Your Honor, may I raise something

KM

4325

1 please?

2 So we've just gotten notice from the NRA that they
3 have again changed their list of witnesses for today from 4 what we last heard and what the Attorney General's team
5 prepared for today, and we are having just a constant
6 switching of witnesses.

7 THE COURT: Well, it's all in one day. Do you mean
8 just different parts of the day or are they putting 9 witnesses on that wasn't on the list before?

10 MS. STERN: They are putting back on witnesses that 11 they had taken off.

12 MS. EISENBERG: That's incorrect, your Honor. We 13 are talking about Mr. Commerford. He was going to go last 14 night, and we just didn't get to him.

15 THE COURT: Okay

16 So they are all people who have been on the list.
17 They are just -- everybody I am sure is streamlining to try
18 to get through this.

19 Now we are all being -- a little positive thinking
20 is good, I guess, but you know, we are still in the middle 21 of the direct of Mr. LaPierre. We haven't finished Mr.
22 Frazer who has to not only finish direct but get -- go
23 through cross, and you are now lining up people behind them
24 who have to go through direct and cross. You're just going 25 to have to keep in mind that however long this goes on,

KM

4326

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 that's less time available for all of that.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Understood, your Honor.

3 For what it's worth, Mr. Commerford will be less
4 than 20 minutes.

5 THE COURT: It just has to also have time for 6 cross. I mean, I don't know how much it's going to be, but 7 you're going to have to regroup all of you at lunchtime and 8 figure out how this is all going to play out because the 9 afternoon, as you know, is two hours and change, and it's 10 11:15, and we are not done with direct. So you can tell
11 time as well as I can.

12 All right. Let's let the jury come back. The 13 witness, Mr. LaPierre.

14 (Witness resumed the witness stand.)

15 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

16 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
17 courtroom.)

18 THE COURT: Welcome back. Have a seat, everyone.

19 MR. CORRELL: May I proceed, your Honor?

20 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

21 CONTINUED DIRECT EXAMINATION

22 BY MR. CORRELL:

23 Q Mr. LaPierre, before the break I had asked you a
24 question about who calculated the -- recalculated the interest
25 using a long-term rate versus a short-term rate, and I was a

KM

4327

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 little unclear in your answer.

2 Has your recollection of who did the calculation -- was
3 it Nick Porto or was it Sonya Rowling?

4 A It was the treasurer of the NRA Sonya Rowling.

5 Q And do you know whether she had done that after Nick
6 Porter had calculated it according to that -- that long-term
7 formula or whether she did it independently of his?

8 A In all honestly, I'm not sure.

9 Q Okay. But as far as you know, the calculation was done
10 appropriately and to the satisfaction of Sonya Rowling. Is that 11 a fair statement?

12 A Yes, that's what she said.

13 Q Thank you. Just quickly, before we move on to the new 14 topic, did anyone ever tell you that there was anything wrong
15 with any of your expense reports?

16 A No.

17 Q And how long have you been working for the NRA?

18 A I worked there 45 years.

19 Q And when was the first time anyone suggested that there
20 might be something wrong with your expense reports?

21 A When we started to go through the 360 analysis, they 22 started talking about the gifts that were on there that were --
23 should have been paid for by me.

24 Q And I know we don't have a lot of time, but I wanted to 25 ask you briefly because there's been some discussion before

KM

4328

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 about a conversation you had with Tom King. That was one of the 2 things that kicked off the 360-degree review.

3 Can you give us your recollection of that conversation
4 with Tom King about his conversation with Attorney General
5 Schneiderman?

6 A Yes. I mean, Tom called me at the office and told me
7 that he had been called by the Attorney General of New York
8 General Schneiderman who told him that there was a lot of 9 pressure being put on the Attorney General's Office and the 10 Government in New York State to target the NRA, and that he 11 suggested that -- I remember him saying that particularly 12 New York Non-Profit Law has been changed. It's very detailed, 13 and you'd be wise to take a good look at it to make sure you're 14 in compliance because if -- you want to be in compliance if 15 you're looking at --

16 THE COURT: Just a caution for the jury. This has 17 multiple levels of hearsay in it. The only part that I'm 18 admitting it for its communication to Mr. LaPierre so that 19 he heard this from someone and then whatever he -- however 20 it affected him, but whether Mr. King in fact heard it from 21 somebody else and whether that other person in fact said
22 what Mr. King heard him say, you don't have any of those 23 people here right now anyway. So this is just for the fact
24 that Mr. LaPierre heard it or is testifying that he heard
25 it.

4329

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q Mr. LaPierre, how did that affect you?

2 A Well, I listened to Tom, and I particularly heard the
3 word "compliance," and as I said, I mean, I concentrate on all
4 the outward facing stuff for the organization, what I do, and I
5 have gone through a whole list before and I thought that, well,
6 it makes a good sense to go through the organization and take a
7 complete look at whether NRA's in compliance with the policies
8 and procedures of the Board and also whether it's in compliance
9 with New York Non-Profit Law. I didn't know whether there was 10 investigation coming or not, but it just made good sense to me.
11 So I called our attorney Steve Hart who was the attorney of the 12 Board.

13 MS. ROGERS: Objection. Just going to caution the 14 witness not to testify about privileged conversation with 15 lawyers.

16 Q You can testify about calling him and what you did
17 after you called him, but you can't testify as to what you said
18 to him or what he said to you.

19 A What I did is we hired Morgan Lewis which was one of 20 the top non-profit law firms in the country to start looking at 21 NRA in terms of its procedures and its governance and state and 22 local and national law.

23 Q And I will leave this subject for my colleague Sarah
24 Rogers to explore on her direct.

25 I would like to move on to another subject which is the

KM

4330

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 question of the so-called LaPierre post-employment agreement
2 that you signed in 2013.

3 So I'd like to first just ask you what, if anything,
4 you can recall about an agreement that you signed in 2013.

5 A President Jim Porter came to me and along with the 6 counsel Steve Hart to the Board, and -- but it was President
7 Porter that talked to me in particular and said we would like to 8 present you with -- with this employment agreement, and if you
9 agree, we'd like you to sign it and --

10 Q And was Jim Porter a lawyer at the time?

11 A Yes, he was.

12 Q And was he chairman of the Board at the time?

13 A He was president of the organization.

14 Q Doesn't that make you also the chairman of the Board?

15 A Yes, I guess.

16 Q Is that the terminology?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Do you use different terminology?

19 A I think they use "President."

20 Q Was he also a member of the officers' compensation
21 committee?

22 A Yes, he was.

23 Q And was he the chairman of the officers' chairman
24 compensation committee?

25 A Yes, he was.

KM

4331

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And what, if anything, did he say to you about the --
2 this proposed agreement?

3 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Hearsay.

4 THE COURT: Overruled.

5 A He said we'd like to present you with this. We -- we 6 think it's in the interest of the organization, and we'd like
7 you to sign it, and it -- I signed it.

8 Q Let me direct your attention to Tab 5 and the document
9 that appears behind that. Tab 5 is Volume 1 of 2 of the new 10 binders. Tab 5, and it's Defendant's Exhibit WLX 15.

11 Would you take a moment to look at that and tell me if 12 you recognize it.

13 A Yes, I do. That's the employment agreement that you're 14 talking about.

15 THE COURT: This has been introduced under another
16 number; right?

17 MR. CONLEY: Yes, your Honor. This has been 18 admitted as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2500.

19 MR. CORRELL: Yes.

20 THE COURT: So at least we have a cross-reference
21 for it.

22 Q Please take a moment. It's a 1, 2, 3, 4-page letter;
23 correct?

24 THE COURT: Is there a way to use the PX, whatever
25 it is, 2500. I rather not have another one introduced as

KM

4332

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 the same because --

2 MR. CORRELL: Okay. Absolutely. I will refer to 3 this as PX 2500.

4 THE COURT: Thank you.

5 Q It's now published before the jury.

6 Would you direct your attention to, first of all, the 7 letterhead.

8 This is -- do you recognize that letterhead?

9 A Yes, I do. It's NRA letterhead.

10 Q That's the official letterhead of the National Rifle
11 Association of America at the time; correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And that's James Porter's name in the upper-right-hand
14 corner?

15 A Yes, it is.

16 Q And you see the date?

17 A I do. It's December 1, 2013.

18 Q And does that refresh your recollection as to when this 19 was presented to you?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And it is addressed to you at the National Rifle
22 Association, 11250 Waples Mill Road.

23 Is that the address of the headquarters?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Could you please read the first sentence of this letter

KM

4333

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 starting with, "Dear Wayne."

2 A The National Rifle Association NRA or association has 3 determined that it is in the best interest of the association to 4 enter into a long-term contractual relationship with you.

5 Q Did you take that statement at face value?

6 A Yes, I did.

7 Q And after reading that statement, did you rely on that
8 statement in deciding whether or not to sign this agreement?

9 A Yes. Yes, I did.

10 Q And did you view Mr. Porter as reliable?

11 A Yes, he was president of the organization.

12 Q And did you review -- did you view him as competent?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And did you understand that he was member of the 15 officers' compensation committee, and in fact, the chairman of 16 the committee?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And did you have any knowledge that would cause you to 19 -- cause your reliance on that statement to be unwarranted?

20 A No.

21 Q And did you read the statement -- read this letter,
22 when it was -- I'm sorry -- presented to you?

23 A Yes, I did.

24 Q Could you read the next sentence, please.

25 A "It is with great delight that I am writing to extend

KM

4334

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 to you an offer of employment with the National Rifle
2 Association once your term as an officer has ended."

3 Q And did you rely on that statement as well?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And did your term of office end -- well, let me
6 ask you this.

7 Has your term as an officer ended?

8 A My term as an officer ended at the January Board
9 meeting in 2024. I retired for health reasons.

10 Q And these were the health reasons you described to the 11 jury earlier at the beginning of your testimony?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q The -- does it say, and I will read this for you just 14 to make it faster.

15 "It can be said that you are exactly the kind of 16 intelligent and enthusiastic individual who will contribute
17 significantly to the NRA over the next five years. The NRA
18 recognizes your essential role in the leadership and continuing 19 growth of this organization and takes this action to assure that 20 your talents will remain available to the NRA and focused on our 21 mission."

22 Do you see that?

23 A I do.

24 Q Did you read that at the time?

25 A Yes.

KM

4335

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And did you believe that this was the reason you were
2 being offered this employment contract?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And this came on the heels of -- closely on the heels
5 of you being recognized as one of the top 50 -- I forget the 6 language -- Most Influential People in the World in Time
7 Magazine; correct?

8 A Yes; although the -- the reason I believed that they 9 were doing it was the fact that I had spent so much -- the years
10 -- the years out there with our membership. I spent so many 11 years doing television in terms of with our -- in front of the 12 country, and I believe they particularly were interested in the 13 value I brought to the organization in terms of all of that 14 identification with the membership and with supporters of.

15 Q And did you have any understanding as to whether this 16 would benefit the NRA by allowing the NRA to use your image and 17 signature and name in going forward in the event that you were 18 to leave the NRA to raise -- for purposes of raising money?

19 A Yes. That's why I believed actually that they were 20 offering me this contract.

21 Q And what, if any, understanding did you have at this 22 point as to how valuable your signature was on letters to 23 members for fundraising purposes?

24 A Well, I knew -- I knew that it -- it's all integrated 25 in a way -- it's all integrated marketing together, and I knew

KM

4336

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 that the fact that I -- ever since Heston by now for 13 years,
2 he's been the voice of the organization in front of the country
3 and was out there doing speeches, doing speeches all over the 4 country, doing friends' dinners all over the country, thanking
5 our membership, staying in close contact with them and doing all
6 kinds of debates and that were put in front of our membership.

10 we were having in raising money based on -- based on those 11 -- those signatures.

12 Q And what kind of success was that?

13 A We -- we had tremendous success. Over between just 14 2011 and 2023, we raised $1.7 billion off of -- off of direct 15 mail and digital.

16 MR. CONLEY: Objection. Lack of foundation.

17 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, he was the EVP of the 18 organization raising the funds. It was within his duty to 19 understand.

20 THE COURT: Overruled.

21 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

22 Q And did most of those letters go out under your 23 signature?

24 A They did. Some of the ILA letters -- in fact, most of 25 the ILA letters went out under the signature, the ILA director.

3 Q Did a letter ever go out under the signature of Oliver
4 North?

5 A Yes.

6 Q How did those letters do compared to the other letters
7 that were sent out?

8 A It did not work.

9 Q What do you mean by it didn't work?

10 A It didn't -- it didn't provide a return on the 11 investment which surprised me to tell you the truth. I thought
12 it would have worked.

13 Q And did you spend more money on the letter than you got 14 back in terms of return?

15 A I don't think we broke even on it.

16 Q Okay. If you could just take a moment and look at the 17 first term. It says "compensation."

18 Do you see that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q At the time did you believe that that was fair,
21 reasonable compensation for -- or would be -- if you left for 22 the use of your image and likeness and signature in connection
23 with fundraising?

24 A Yes, I did.

25 Q And take a look at -- if you would flip through to the

3 Do you see that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And I'll read it. It says, Job description. You will 6 be an employee. Your employees will include fundraising for and 7 promoting the NRA generally. You may promote or solicit funds
8 for other Second Amendment organizations with excess -- with 9 express approval of the executive vice-president or officers of 10 the Board. Solely during the term of this agreement and upon 11 your approval, the NRA may use your image and name for 12 fundraising purposes; and it goes on to say, however, nothing in 13 this employment agreement shall be construed to bar you from 14 protecting your right to the exclusive use of your name or image
15 against infringement by any party or parties.

16 So did you understand from this agreement that you
17 would also be required to continue to do things other than just 18 allowing the NRA to use your image?

19 A Yes, I did. I mean, basically I would be still working 20 as a full-time employee raising money for the organization. Not 21 only with fundraising letters and things like that but going on 22 the road and meeting with donors and building relationships and 23 trying to bring them into the NRA as members and as donors.

24 Q Is this something you asked for, this agreement?

25 A No.

1 Q Whose idea was it?

2 A I assume it was President Porters's. I didn't ask for
3 it. They presented it to me.

4 Q Was anyone else involved in presenting this to you?

5 A As I remember, it was -- it was simply Jim Porter and 6 the general counsel of the Board Steve Hart.

7 Q And I see that there is a signature on there for Wilson
8 Phillips.

9 Do you see that?

10 A Yes, I do.

11 Q And does that refresh your recollection as to whether
12 or not Mr. Phillips was involved?

13 A I don't remember Mr. Phillips being involved when they 14 presented it to me; although, he -- he -- he at some point
15 signed it. He might have -- I just don't remember.

16 Q Does that appear to be his signature?

17 A Yes, it looks like it.

18 Q Did there come a time when that agreement was amended?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And when was that?

21 A I believe when Allan Cors was president of the 22 organization.

23 Q I'd like to direct your attention to Tab 6 in your

25 Do you recognize this document?

1 A I do. It is another extension of this agreement that I

3 President Porter.

4 Q And was it your understanding that it was still -- that
5 the determination that it was in the best interest -- let me
6 read the exact language -- that the determination that it was in 7 the best interest of the association for the association to 8 enter into a long-term contractual relationship with you was 9 still a valid determination?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And did you sign this?

12 A I did.

13 Q And did Mr. Phillips sign this?

14 A Yes, he did.

15 Q And was Mr. Porter still both the president and the 16 chairman of the compensation committee at the time?

17 A Yes, he was.

18 Q At the time did you believe that any further approvals
19 were necessary in order to -- for this agreement to be properly
20 documented?

21 A I didn't.

22 Q And the original back in 2013, did you believe that any 23 approval beyond that was necessary for it to be properly
24 documented?

25 A I didn't. It was presented to me by the president of

KM

4341

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 the organization and the chief counsel of the Board, so I
2 didn't.

3 Q Did you believe it was fair and reasonable and in the 4 best interests of the NRA to enter into this agreement with you?

5 A Yes, I did. I had so many years, as I said, of being
6 out there on the road, speaking with the membership, building
7 relationships with the membership, being the TV spokesperson,
8 literally being everywhere with our membership to the point they 9 all called me Wayne. No one called me Mr. LaPierre. I mean, it
10 was Wayne, Wayne, Wayne, and I kind of had this -- I never 11 intended to have it, but I ended up kind of in this unusual
12 role.

13 Q Did you ever view it as a quote "poison pill?"

14 A No.

15 Q Do you know what the term "poison pill" means?

16 A I did not until the Attorney General's Office started
17 to refer to it in terms of their complaint.

18 Q Do you know now what a poison pill is?

19 A I assume it's some type of agreement that the person,
20 in this case being me, could hold over the head of the 21 association. That's the way I interpret it now.

22 Q Did you -- was that your intent in entering into this
23 agreement?

24 A No, not at all.

25 Q Did you ever hold it over the head of anyone in the

KM

2 A I never did. I never even asked for it.

3 Q Did the words "poison pill" ever emerge from the mouth
4 of Mr. Porter at any point?

5 A No.

6 Q Did they ever emerge from your mouth?

7 A No, I never even heard the term before.

8 Q Did they ever emerge from Woody Phillips's mouth?

9 A No.

10 Q So this is something that emerged from the mouth of 11 some lawyer working for the Attorney General of the State of New 12 York; correct?

13 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

14 THE COURT: Sustained. Only because I don't 15 remember where it came from or when.

16 It wasn't during this trial; was it?

17 MR. CORRELL: It's in the complaint, your Honor, I
18 believe.

19 Q So it emerged from the pen of the person who or from 20 the keyboard of whoever drafted the complaint. Would that be a 21 fair supposition?

22 A That -- that's correct.

23 Q Stating more simply, you hadn't seen the word anywhere
24 until it appeared in the complaint; correct?

25 A I had not.

KM

1 Q And hadn't heard the term?

2 A I had not.

3 Q Could you direct your attention to Tab 8. Do you
4 recognize that document?

5 A I do.

6 Q What is it?

7 A This is another extension that the president of the NRA
8 and the chief counsel to the Board came to me with -- to extend 9 that agreement for many more years.

10 Q And this extended the terms of the original agreement;
11 correct? It extended the original agreement; correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And so did you have any understanding as to whether the 14 NRA still believed that it was in the best interest of the 15 association to enter into this with you?

16 A Yes. That's why I believed they presented it to me.

17 Q And at the time you signed this, did you believe it was 18 in the best interest of the association for you to sign it?

19 A Yes, I did, given -- given the close bond I had with 20 the membership and how that translated into memberships and 21 donors and all that.

22 Q Please take a look at the document behind Tab 9.

23 Do you recognize that document? It's admitted as PX

25 A I do.

1 Q So, that's a typographical error?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And was it your intention by signing this agreement to 4 supersede the agreement that was signed in 2013?

5 A Yes, it was. I had told Mr. Cotton that in thinking
6 about it, I felt that this agreement that was signed on 7 April 30, 2018, really in looking at it and thinking about it
8 was a burden on the association; and I told Mr. Cotton in 2019
9 that I thought they ought to -- they ought to tear it up and 10 that's the way I felt about it. It had become a burden on the 11 association.

12 Q Is this something that was prepared at your request to 13 effectuate that desire to essentially cancel and rescind this
14 contract?

15 A I did. In fact, when I did my deposition with the 16 attorney general's office in June of 2020, I thought this had 17 already been torn up. I was surprised it was still in effect.

18 But, then, I worked with my counsel in terms of coming
19 up with this new agreement that was ratified by the board and 20 superseded any other agreements in January 2021.

21 Q And in this agreement, you did agree to give the NRA a
22 one-way option to use your image and likeness going forward if 23 they chose to; correct?

24 A If they chose to.

25 Q But there was in obligation on the NRA to do that,

BP

2 A No.

3 Q And they said --

4 A No.

5 Q They said if they chose to do that, they would pay you
6 $500,000 a year; correct?

7 A If they chose to do it.

8 Q Right, so at that point the board valued the use of 9 your image and likeness in name for fundraising purposes at 10 $500,000 a year; correct?

11 MR. CONLEY: Objection, leading.

12 MR. CORRELL: It's reflected in the contract, your
13 Honor.

14 THE COURT: You can answer.

15 A If they chose to do it.

16 Q And that didn't require you to perform any of the other
17 services that you would have had to perform as an employee;
18 correct?

19 A No. They would -- it would -- it would be used in 20 terms of fundraising for the association.

21 Q And did you ever receive a penny under this agreement,
22 under the prior agreement?

23 A I never received a penny under any of the agreements.

24 Q And did -- was any -- were any assets of the NRA
25 transferred to anyone else other than you in connection with

BP

1 that agreement?

2 A No.

3 Q Was there any loss to the NRA due to that agreement?

4 A No.

5 Q Was there any waste of corporate assets due to that
6 agreement?

7 A No.

8 Q So, that agreement was -- had zero impact on the NRA;
9 is that correct?

10 A It had zero impact because none of them went into
11 effect.

12 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor. Pass the 9 consultants to make sure that what it was paying its executives

12 the timeframe is unclear.

13 Q During the time period relevant to this case from the

1 Q All right. Let's talk a little bit more about David
2 McKenzie and specifically a company called ATI, Associated 3 Television International.

4 We heard testimony yesterday, do you recall, that for 5 every -- for contract management purposes at the NRA, every 6 contract has an owner.

7 Do you recall that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Do you agree with that testimony?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Would it be fair to say for those purposes you were the 12 owner of the ATI relationship?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Did ATI tell you that it kept billing the NRA for the 15 Crime Strike show years after Crime Strike stopped being filmed?

16 A No, they didn't.

17 Q Now, I know you're not a lawyer, but do you have an 18 understanding of what fraud is?

19 A I have a general understanding of that.

20 Q Do you generally understand that this was a fraud on
21 the NRA?

22 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Overruled.

24 A Yeah, I found out during the 360 that they were 25 distributing it, but they weren't making new episodes; and I was

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 shocked when I saw bills still coming in and I worked with our
2 treasurer, Craig. He terminated the relationship. I encouraged
3 him to do that and wound it down and terminated it.

4 Q The NRA was the victim of that fraud; right?

5 A NRA paid -- paid invoices that I can't explain that
6 looked like they took advantage of the NRA.

7 Q And when that fraudulent scheme came out during your 8 360 review, it was terminated; right?

9 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

10 THE COURT: Yeah, I'll let the leading work, but --

11 MS. ROGERS: I'll stop if that helps.

12 THE COURT: Let's try to reel it back a little bit.

13 Q Mr. LaPierre, when that scheme came out, what
14 happened?

15 A I -- I was working with our treasurer, Craig Spray.
16 I -- Craig Spray wound down the relationship and terminated it.

17 Q So, would it be fair to say that when that billing came 18 to light, it was ended?

19 A Yes.

20 Q All right, Ackerman out-of-pocket expenses, that's what 21 you hired the forensic accountant to look at; right?

22 A Yes, our treasurer, our secretary and our General
23 Counsel hired FRA.

24 Q Right. Now, do you have an understanding as to whether 25 Ackerman under its contract was supposed to bill the NRA for

BP

1 anything that you had not approved in writing?

2 A Not under the contract.

3 Q And you were an owner of that contract; right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q But Ackerman didn't tell that you it was billing the 6 NRA for the expenses you described; right?

7 A They did not.

8 Q Would it be fair to say that the NRA was the victim of 9 that fraud?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Would it be fair to say when that fraud was revealed in 12 2018, the relationship ended?

13 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

14 A Yes.

15 THE COURT: You have a continuing objection. If 16 there's something different that happens, I'll be there.

17 MR. CONLEY: Thank you, your Honor.

18 A It ended in 2019.

19 Q After the audit started in 2018?

20 A Yes.

21 Q We talked about the travel agent, Gayle Stanford. Did
22 you authorize her to charge the NRA an extra ten percent on each
23 of your flights?

24 A No.

25 Q Would it be fair to say that that was a fraud on the

BP

4353

1 NRA?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And what happened when the NRA's board learned about
4 that fraud?

5 A NRA, initially, it put that out to bid, and
6 Ms. Stanford was terminated.

7 Q You also talked this morning about a time when you
8 thought you had cancer and you went to the Mayo Clinic; right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And Tony Makris of Ackerman who was then one of your 11 best friends went with you; right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q While you were laying on the gurney in the cancer
14 clinic, Tony Makris asked you to sign extensions to two Under 15 Wild Skies contracts; right?

16 MR. CONLEY: Objection, your Honor. Counsel is

18 Q Well, all right, Mr. LaPierre tell -- tell the jury
19 about the circumstances you were in when Tony Makris asked you
20 to sign those two contracts?

21 A They -- they thought I had lung cancer. I -- it was 22 the morning I was going to have the needle biopsy, and it was 23 actually on the stairs that Tony presented me with the contract.

24 Q Now, when you signed the contract that he gave you at 25 the cancer clinic, there was not a business case analysis;

BP

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Rogers

1 right?

2 A There was not.

3 Q And it would be fair to say that while you were busy
4 getting a needle stuck in you because you had cancer, you didn't
5 tell the board what was going on; right?

6 A I did not. I thought it would end up going through the
7 process.

8 Q You testified at a deposition that that was a fraud
9 against the NRA; right?

10 A I'm sorry?

11 Q I'll ask it this way. Would you agree with me that 12 Tony Makris committed fraud against the NRA?

13 A Yes, Tony -- not -- in relation to the show, I thought
14 it was a good show. I thought Ackerman McQueen thought it was a 15 good show. We thought it would provide viewers to the NRA TV
16 network.

17 It turns out what he ended up doing was we had an 18 agreement with Tony could do sponsorship events to promote the 19 show, to promote NRA's hunting brand. He did those at numerous 20 shows for week long with people that attended the shows.

21 He could also take donors and take celebrities on 22 hunts, and it -- and he had -- he had supplementals to do that.

23 When we started to do the 360, we asked for backup on 24 all of the supplementals, backup because they were supposed to 25 be for actual costs; and what he had ended up doing was suing

BP

2 relationship ended.

3 Q You would agree with me that the NRA was the victim of

5 A Yes, I would.

6 Q And you would agree with me that when that came to 7 light as part of the 360, the relationship ended; right?

8 A It ended.

9 Q The last conversation you and I had in front of this 10 jury, I asked you about some things that were mistakes that 11 shouldn't have happened.

12 Do you recall that?

13 A Yes.

14 Q I asked you about some flights and some gifts; right?

15 A Yes.

18 when you did it; right?

19 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

20 Q Do you recall that testimony?

21 A Yes, I, I -- and I have repaid the association for all

8 A The complaint said that.

5 A I'm -- that may be. I'm not exactly sure when the 6 first check was written as I sit here.

7 MR. CONLEY: Could we pull up DX1-0514.

8 THE COURT: Is somebody doing that?

9 (Displayed)

10 A I just found it. You're correct.

11 Q And this was your first repayment, correct,
12 Mr. LaPierre?

13 A Yes, it was.

14 Q And this was three months after the enforcement action
15 was commenced against you; correct?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q And it is three months after the complaint was lodged
18 against you detailing all the allegations that we just went 19 through; right?

20 A Yes, that's correct.

21 Q And this first repayment was for private flights,
22 correct?

23 A Yes, that's correct.

24 Q But you don't know how the amount of your repayment was 25 calculated; correct?

BP

4359

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A No, that's not -- I went through all the CAA invoices.
2 I went through the expense reports in terms of the trips. I
3 worked with the accounting firm that I had hired, and then the 4 treasurer's office also looked at it. They worked with a Arif
5 in terms of their office in terms of calculating the interest
6 and they looked at it, also.

7 Q Isn't it true you don't know what expenses the NRA
8 reviewed in coming up with this repayment amount?

9 A I know what I reviewed. I don't know everything the 10 NRA looked at. I assume they looked at everything.

11 Q In coming up with this figure?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You testified in this action, correct?

14 THE COURT: The deposition, you mean?

15 MR. CONLEY: Yes.

16 Q You were deposed in this action; right?

17 A Yes, I was.

18 Q And you swore an oath to tell the truth?

19 A I did.

20 MR. CONLEY: Jesse, could you pull up LaPierre's
21 litigation deposition at 322, lines 9 to 16.

22 (Video played)

23 Q You had no role in calculating the amount that would be 24 repaid to the NRA; correct?

25 A I went through the business -- the purposes of the

BP

4360

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 trips. I went through all my expense reports. I also worked
2 with the accounting firm that I had hired. This final figure
3 was -- was the NRA looking at the interest figure and looking at 4 their calculation of all that.

5 Q Your role in looking at the business purpose was to sit
6 in a room with Susan Dillon at the Brewer firm and go through 7 what the purposes of what various flights were; correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And what date range were the flights that you walked
10 through?

11 A I apologize, what do you mean by the term date range?

12 Q What period of time did the flights cover that you
13 reviewed?

14 A Initially, it was from 2015 through 2019, and we did
15 it --

16 Q You went through this process of reviewing the flights
17 in 2020; correct?

18 A I probably -- I'm not sure.

19 Q And you flew private for several years before 2015;
20 correct?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And in determining what charges to include in the first
23 $300,000 repayment to the NRA, no flights were considered before
24 June of 2015; correct?

25 A In the first batch. In the second batch, we went back

BP

4361

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 to flights beginning in -- beginning January 1st, 2012.

2 Q In the second batch?

3 A Yes, that's correct.

4 MR. CONLEY: Could you please pull up the 5 Defendants' Exhibit 508.

6 THE COURT: Is that 1-508?

7 MR. CONLEY: Yes, I'm sorry, DX1-508.

8 A I'm sorry, which tab is that?

9 THE COURT: That's on the screen.

10 (Displayed)

11 THE WITNESS: I see, your Honor.

12 Q And, Mr. LaPierre, is this the repayment that you're 13 referring to with other flights?

14 A Yes, I believe so.

15 Q You're aware that the NRA has paid close to $13 million
16 for private flights from 2012 to 2019, correct?

17 A I don't know the exact figure. I know they required me
18 to fly private whether it was personal or business.

19 Q And when you say they required you to fly private,
20 you're referring to the verbal direction that you received from 21 Russ Gordon; is that right?

22 A Russ Gordon and then Jim Staples and then our current 23 security director, right.

24 Q And this other repayment here, this was in November of 25 2021; is that right?

BP

4362

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A Yes, that's correct.

2 Q And that would be four years into your course
3 correction; correct?

4 A Yes, it would be.

5 Q And if we could turn to Defendant Exhibit 505, which I
6 believe is Tab 30 in your book.

7 A Okay.

8 THE COURT: It may be a different book, but. Is it
9 on the screen?

10 MR. CONLEY: Yes. That might be easier,
11 Mr. LaPierre.

12 THE COURT: Look at the one on the screen.

13 THE WITNESS: Yes, it is a big book.

14 Q So, this is another repayment that you made to the NRA;
15 is that right?

16 A Yes, it is.

17 Q In September of 2022?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And what was this repayment for?

20 A I think this one was for a combination of the -- the 21 hair, the makeup. We talked about maybe some of the lodging,
22 some of the gifts, things like that.

23 Q And these are all various expense categories that were 24 alleged against you in the attorney general's complaint;
25 correct?

BP

4363

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A Yes, they were.

2 Q And this is five years into your course correction;
3 correct?

4 A That would be correct.

5 Q And if we could turn to Defendants' Exhibit 796, which 6 I think is Tab 38, but the screen might be easier.

7 (Displayed)

8 A I see it.

9 Q This is another repayment that you made to the NRA,
10 correct?

11 A Yes, it is.

12 Q And what was this repayment for?

13 A This, I believe, was for the transportation services.

14 Q For the black car services?

15 A Yes, that would be correct.

16 Q And you're aware that the NRA has paid millions in 17 black car services since 2012; correct?

18 A I'm not aware of what they paid.

19 Q You also have repaid the NRA for suits that were --
20 billed the NRA through Ackerman McQueen; correct?

21 A Yes, I did.

22 Q And you repaid this in September of last year;
23 correct?

24 A Yes, I did.

25 Q And that's a few months before this trial started, is

BP

4364

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 that right?

2 A Yes, it is.

3 Q You were aware before last September that the NRA had 4 been billed for these suits, right?

5 A I did not find that out until we were doing the course
6 correction at some time about the middle of the course
7 correction that came up. I didn't find that out at the 8 beginning. I found that out some time later.

9 Q You recall -- I'm sorry. When did you find out?

10 A I'm not sure when I found out. It was something that I
11 didn't know about, and I was surprised when I was told about it.
12 It was later on.

13 Q Right, and in 2019 you testified that the NRA had paid
14 for these suits; correct?

15 A Not that I remember.

16 Q Do you recall being deposed in the Ackerman litigation?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you were deposed in 2019, correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you swore to tell the truth in that testimony?

21 A Yes.

22 MR. CONLEY: Jesse, could you pull up LaPierre's
23 Ackerman deposition September 24, 2019.

24 THE COURT: Any particular page?

25 MR. CONLEY: Page 211 to 212.

BP

4365

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 (Displayed)

2 Lines 24 to page 212, line 14.

3 Q So the question:

4 "QUESTION: Okay, so the bill -- then your
5 understanding is that the arrangement that you had worked
6 out with Ackerman McQueen is that once they received the 7 bills from Zegna, they would transmit those bills to the NRA
8 for reimbursement?

9 "ANSWER: That's what I -- that's what I believe
10 happened.

11 "QUESTION: Okay. When the NRA got the bill from 12 Ackerman McQueen for those Zegna expenses, so the NRA was 13 aware that these were for your clothing attire; correct?

14 "ANSWER: I'm sure that our treasurer was aware of 15 that."

16 And you repaid the NRA for suits that the NRA had 17 paid for through Ackerman McQueen a few months ago, right?

18 A Yes, I did. But, counselor, what you're talking about 19 here is completely different from that other payment.

20 These -- this deposition here is in reference to -- I
21 was doing all the television for the NRA at that point. Angus
22 McQueen didn't like the clothes I wore. I always wore a blue
23 suit. He wanted me to get other suits, all different colors,
24 all different styles. They had me go on something they set up
25 with Zegna, that store to pick out wardrobe. The bills went

BP

4366

1 directly to Ackerman McQueen.

2 I thought at that point they might have gone to the 3 NRA. It turns out they testified in the bankruptcy under oath
4 that they never charged the NRA for any of that. They were 5 simply part of their advertising role in terms of it being the 6 person who worked -- Leon Grand (phonetic).

7 What we later found out was that there were some suits
8 going back to 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003 that they did bill the 9 NRA for and those are the ones that I repaid.

1 Q So you repaid the NRA for other suits that Ackerman had
2 billed the NRA for; is that right?

3 A Yes, going back to 2000 to 2004, I believe.

4 Q You testified earlier about some of the gifts that you
5 had reimbursed for; correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q You did an expense, among other things, a gift for your
8 niece's husband; correct?

9 A I'm not sure if I did. I repaid it. I've repaid all
10 the gifts.

11 Q And you were -- you repaid gifts for -- purchased for 12 Millie Hallow; correct?

13 A Yes, I have repaid every single gift.

14 Q And gifts that you purchased for Gayle Stanford?

15 A Yes. I repaid all those.

16 Q And Tony Makris?

17 A Yes.

18 MR. CONLEY: Pass the witness.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Any other defendants? First the 20 other defendants who haven't asked any questions yet for 21 cross.

22 MR. WERBNER: No.

23 THE COURT: Any redirect?

24 MR. CORRELL: Are we now talking cross?

25 THE COURT: We are talking redirect.

1 MS. ROGERS: I have a bit more redirect.

2 MR. CORRELL: I am passing the witness

3 THE COURT: Okay. No redirect for Mr. Correll and 4 redirect for Ms. Rogers.

5 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MS. ROGERS:

7 Q Mr. LaPierre, you testified just now with the Attorney
8 General that you didn't start repaying flights until either 2019
9 or 2020; right?

10 A I believe that's correct.

11 Q And you testified also that you repaid those flights
12 using invoices from CAA, the jet charter vendor; right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Do you have any understanding as to how the NRA got its 15 hand on those invoices and how long it took?

16 A I know they were trying to get them for quite a while.
17 I'm not sure exactly how long it took, but I know it wasn't an 18 easy process from what I heard.

19 Q Now, we also talked about your expense reports.

20 A Yes.

21 Q Did the NRA refuse to pay any of your expense reports?

22 A Yes, they did.

23 Q About how much money do you recall if you recall did
24 the NRA just refuse and you had to eat?

25 A I think they were late. They were several years, and

KM

4369

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Rogers

1 it was -- I believe it was close to $200,000.

2 Q There was some -- there was some different testimony
3 earlier about these Zegna suits that Angus McQueen told you to 4 buy, whether you paid for them or not.

5 Do you recall that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Or whether the NRA paid for them or not. Do you recall
8 that; right?

9 A NRA did not pay for the ones that the Attorney
10 General's counsel put on the screen.

11 Q And they asked you about their complaint and 12 allegations in their complaint about suits.

13 Do you recall that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So have you formed a view sitting here today having 16 gone through all these records about whether the allegations in 17 their complaint concerning suits were true or false?

18 A They were false.

19 Q Now, how did you form the view originally that the NRA
20 had not paid for the suits?

21 A Bill Winkler the treasurer of Ackerman McQueen during 22 the bankruptcy testified under oath that they did not charge NRA
23 for the suits.

24 Q And later you discovered there was some other subset of 25 suits that had been charged for; is that right?

KM

4370

W. LaPierre - by Defendant - Recross/Mr. Conley

1 A I found out later on.

2 Q That's when you made the repayment?

3 A Yes, as part of the 360, we were looking at everything
4 we could possibly find to look; and yes, found that going back
5 to 2000.

6 Q Now in the earlier year before the 360, your expenses
7 were paid out of ILA; is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q That's the NRA's lobbying division; right?

10 A Yes. That's the (c)(4) lobbying division.

11 MS. ROGERS: Thank you. No further questions.

12 THE COURT: Anything further from the State?

13 MR. CONLEY: Just one question. I don't want to 14 say that.

15 THE COURT: I was going to say careful.

16 RECROSS EXAMINATION

17 BY MR. CONLEY:

18 Q Mr. LaPierre, did you prep for your testimony today
19 with Ms. Rogers?

20 A No.

21 Q Did you prep for your testimony today with anyone from 22 the Brewer Firm?

23 A I talked -- well, not since I started testifying, but
24 over last weekend, I talked with -- I talked with Bill Brewer
25 and I talked with my counsel Kent Correll.

KM

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 MR. CONLEY: That's all, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, sir. You can step
3 down.

4 Mr. LaPierre, you're all set.

5 (Witness excused.)

6 THE COURT: Okay. Do we have another witness we 7 can start?

8 Oh, Mr. Frazer. Mr. Frazer, if you would.

9 So just to remind myself, you finished with your
10 direct and now we are on to other testimony?

11 MR. FLEMING: I think all the defendants' table
12 finished with Mr. Frazer's direct.

13 THE COURT: Oh, okay. And so it's just for cross
14 now.

15 MR. FLEMING: That's right.

16 THE COURT: So Mr. Frazer, just a reminder. You
17 are still under oath from yesterday. Yes?

18 THE WITNESS: Absolutely, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Ms. Stern, you may continue.

20 MS. STERN: Thank you, your Honor.

21 CROSS-EXAMINATION

22 BY MS. STERN:

23 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Frazer.

24 A Good afternoon.

25 Q So we meet again. So between the last time we did this

KM

4372

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 and today, did you prepare for your testimony?

2 A I did.

3 Q Did you prepare for your testimony with anyone other
4 than your own attorney Mr. Fleming?

5 A Yes, I did.

6 Q And who was that?

7 A I met with Ms. Rogers.

8 Q Okay. And did you discuss the testimony that you've 9 given in this latest juncture of the trial?

10 A I did.

11 Q And did you discuss -- tell me what you discussed.

12 A We reviewed documents and potential lines of questions
13 and answers.

14 Q And you discussed your answers?

15 A We discussed some answers, but of course, my answers
16 are my own.

17 Q Okay. So yesterday you testified about attending Audit
18 Committee's meetings in 2016 and 2017.

19 Do you remember that?

20 A I do.

21 Q Okay. Can we turn to Tab 35 in the binder that has my 22 handwriting on it or -- and to JFX52 which is in evidence. And 23 can we turn to the Audit Committee report for September 10 to 24 11, 2016, please.

25 MS. STERN: Jesse, that's the got the number 219 at

KM

4373

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 the bottom of the page.

2 THE COURT: It's up there.

3 Q Okay. Are we all in the same place. Okay.

4 So Mr. Frazer, this is the Audit Committee report for 5 meetings -- for a meeting on September 8, 2016; right?

6 A Yes, it is.

7 Q Okay; and turn to -- at the bottom of the page, it's 8 signed by Mr. Cotton; right?

9 A It is.

10 Q And he was the Chair of the Audit Committee; right?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q So you testified yesterday that this meeting
13 September 8, 2016 which is recorded and reported in this report,
14 that there were certain transactions with Board members that 15 were considered by the Audit Committee; right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And your testimony is that they were approved both 18 retroactively ratified and in advance; right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And just looking at this report though, this is the 21 report that is given to the whole Board; right?

22 A I believe it was.

23 Q That's the purpose of this report; right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. At the bottom of the page, it talks about

KM

4374

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 disclosure of financial interest related-party transactions.

2 Do you see that?

3 A I do.

4 Q Okay. And it states, "The committee reviewed financial 5 disclosures regarding transactions between the NRA and its 6 officers, directors and other related parties;" right?

7 A I do. Yes.

8 Q There is nothing there that says anything about any 9 transactions being ratified; right?

10 A That's correct 4.

11 Q And nothing about any transactions being approved going
12 forward?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q No mention of Sandy Froman?

15 A Right.

16 Q No mention of Dave Butz; right?

17 A Right.

18 Q Okay. No mention of Marion Hammer; right?

19 A That's right.

20 Q Okay. And you testified that the basis for your 21 knowledge that those transactions with Board members Marion
22 Hammer, Ms. Froman, Dave Butz, that they were both ratified and 23 also approved going forward is because you were at the meeting;
24 right?

25 A Because I was at the meeting and participated in that

KM

4375

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 discussion, yes.

2 Q Okay. So just looking at the top of the Audit
3 Committee report, you are not noted as being at that meeting;
4 are you?

5 A No, I'm not.

6 Q Okay. So Steve Hart though, he was there; right?

7 A My recollection is that he was, yes.

8 Q Okay. But you're not even noted; right?

9 A That's correct.

10 MS. STERN: Okay. You can take that down, Jesse.

11 Q Well, we are actually going -- yep. Okay. Can we take 12 a look at PX 2586 which you -- which is put into evidence
13 yesterday, I believe. It is in evidence. I know that. It's 14 Tab 17 in the binder that Mr. Fleming gave you. But we can also 15 put it up on the screen. Okay. And can you bring that up. Oh,
16 that's it.

17 Okay. So in PX 2586, we are looking at a document
18 that's also the report of the Audit Committee; right? Do you 19 see that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And it has the same date, September 10 through 11,
22 2016; right?

23 A It does.

24 Q And also reports on the September 8, 2016, Audit
25 Committee meeting; right?

KM

4376

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A Correct.

2 MS. STERN: Okay. So let's look down to the bottom
3 of the page.

4 Jesse, if you can go to the next page. Before we
5 get to that. Okay. Jesse, below that. I just want to get 6 to the signature block.

7 Q Not signed; right?

8 A That's right.

9 Q Right. Okay. And then Jesse's done a side by side
10 here.

11 Have you done that? See if we can do that.

12 So we have JFX52 and -- sorry. This is not the right
13 page. We want to go to the September 10 to 11, 2016 report.

14 Okay. Signed by Mr. Cotton. And we just discussed the 15 discussion of related-party transactions.

16 And now let's look at the one that you discussed, the 17 exhibit that you discussed with the jury yesterday, PX 2586.
18 And we can turn to the next -- okay.

19 So Page 1 of this one at the bottom of the page, there
20 is a discussion of a variety of transactions; right?

21 A There is.

22 Q Okay; and then if we go to the next page, Jesse, on 23 2586, there is discussion of transactions that you testified
24 about --

25 A Yes.

KM

4377

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q -- at this meeting where you're not noted as being
2 there. And you testified that these transactions were approved,
3 and this is a version of the report that's not signed; right?

4 A That's correct; although, looking at this --

5 Q No. That was my question. The version of the report
6 is not signed; right?

7 A That's what we are looking at.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Thank you. We can take that down.

10 So the documents that you talked about yesterday, 2586
11 -- PX2586 which has a version of the Audit Committee report that 12 you and I just looked through; right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Is it your testimony that that document -- and you have 15 it in front of you -- is the record of what the Audit Committee
16 considered when it was according to you approving transactions
17 for Sandra Froman, Marion Hammer, Dave Butz, Lance Olson,
18 Mercedes Schlapp, Mark Skelton? Those are all Board members;
19 right?

20 A They are, and -- I'm sorry, but I'm not sure I followed
21 your entire question. Excuse me.

22 Did your ask me if the -- if what is the record of what
23 the committee looked at?

24 Q The content of the documents that are attached to the 25 email that's 2586, PX 2586.

4378

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A Okay, but that's not in front of me right now.

2 Q I'm sorry. It's right in your binder. We were just
3 looking at it. It's Tab 17 of Mr. Fleming's binder.

4 THE COURT: He doesn't have Mr. Fleming's binder
5 and neither do I.

6 MS. STERN: He does.

7 A I see it now. Thank you for helping clarify that.

8 Q Sorry. So that's my question.

9 Is that the record --

10 A It is.

11 Q -- of what they considered?

12 A It is.

13 Q Okay; and that is the record of what they considered to 14 ratify those transactions?

15 A It is a record of -- of what the committee found with 16 respect to those transactions after going through all of them in 17 person.

18 Q Okay. So my question is is the record of what they 19 considered in coming to that conclusion --

20 A I'm sorry. I'm not sure I follow your question.

21 Q Does this document, the Audit Committee report and this
22 document that you called the Audit Committee Related-Party
23 Transaction Review September 26 Language For Minutes, does this 24 document reflect what the Audit Committee considered in coming
25 to the determination that you said was made at that meeting?

KM

4379

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A This is what the committee considered, but of course,
2 the committee members bring their own perspective, information,
3 experience with the individuals, and I know there were 4 discussions about some of these transactions beyond what's on 5 the page.

6 Q This is the -- this is the record though that the NRA's
7 maintained; right? That's according to you.

8 A That's correct.

9 MS. STERN: Okay. Thank you. We can take it down,
10 Jesse.

11 Q So the secretary of the Audit Committee is the person
12 that's responsible for maintaining the records of the Audit
13 Committee; right?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Again, and that was Mr. Tedrick during the period that 16 we have been talking about 2016, 2017?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q Okay. Mr. Tedrick was the secretary for -- until when?

19 A Until September of 2018.

20 Q Okay. So where does Mr. Tedrick maintain the records?

21 A In his own files.

22 Q And what kind of files?

23 A I'm not sure exactly how Mr. Tedrick maintains;
24 maintained his files electronically, paper or both.

25 Q So how do you know that he maintains them in his files?

KM

4380

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A Because when I have a -- well, actually, yesterday, we
2 saw an exhibit where I asked him to send me something back to
3 me, and he did.

4 Q So if you need something from the Audit Committee's
5 records, their minutes, their reports, you would go to Mr.
6 Tedrick?

7 A Unless I already have a copy in my own files, I would,
8 yes.

9 Q So during this period of time, he had the files; right?

10 A He had his own files of it, yes.

11 Q Okay. But you don't flow if they are hard copy; right?

12 A That's right.

13 Q You don't know if they are electronic?

14 A That's right.

15 Q Do you know if he takes --

16 A Well, actually correct. I know some of them are 17 electronic because he's emailed them to me.

18 Q Do you know -- does he take the copy that's been signed
19 and scan it in and put it in a folder? Like tell me what you
20 know about that.

21 A I don't know exactly how he does it; but of course, the 22 signed copy is also scanned in the secretary's office for 23 inclusion in the final Board minutes.

24 Q And did Mr. Tedrick put his electric -- you said now
25 you remembered he has them electronically because you have asked

KM

4381

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 for them.

2 A Right.

3 Q So are those available on a central NRA network that
4 somebody else could access?

5 A Yes, they could be accessed through the Information
6 Services Division, and I have also given instruction to all
7 committee secretaries more recently than this that all of their 8 records need to be stored on a shared drive rather than a local 9 hard drive so that they would be accessible to others.

10 Q When did that direction occur?

11 A I don't remember exactly. Within the last couple of 12 years.

13 Q After our lawsuit was commenced?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. And is there any kind of like index of what are 16 the records of the Audit Committee?

17 A I don't know what -- again, I don't know if Mr. Tedrick
18 has created anything like that or if Mr. Tedrick created 19 anything like that when he was the committee secretary.

20 Q So you are the secretary of the NRA; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And you are responsible for -- we talked about this
23 before -- maintaining the policies of the NRA; right?

24 A That's right.

25 Q And so it's very important to have an official record

KM

4382

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 of what policies exist; right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And it's very important to have an official record of 4 what the Audit Committee did; right?

5 A That's right.

6 Q The Audit Committee is a very important committee in 7 the oversight and management of the operations of the NRA;
8 right?

9 A Sure.

10 Q Okay. And who is the current secretary of the Audit
11 Committee?

12 A David Warren.

13 Q Do you have any personal knowledge as to whether Mr.
14 Warren has a repository of the audit committees's records?

15 A Mr. Warren keeps his own records; but whenever I have 16 asked him for anything, he's readily provided them.

17 Q And my question is does he have a repository of the 18 Audit Committee's records, not just Mr. Warren's own records?

19 A I mean, when I say "his records," I mean his records of 20 the Audit Committee. He certainly has records. He has a lot of 21 responsibility, so he has records of other stuff, but that's not 22 what we're talking about.

23 Q Okay. So I think you have already said that from time
24 to time you have had to go to Mr. Tedrick to go get copies of 25 historical records from the Audit Committee; right?

KM

4383

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A I can recall one occasion at least.

2 Q Okay. And you've done that to also track down whether
3 transactions were actually reviewed and approved by the Audit
4 Committee; right?

5 A No. Usually, it's to confirm my own recollection or I
6 think in one case, it was to -- I think I was out of the office
7 and didn't have access to the network. And so I was asking for 8 something to be sent to me to double check.

9 Q So it's your testimony that you have never gone back to 10 go Mr. Tedrick to get a copy of a record to determine whether or 11 not a transaction had been acted upon by the Audit Committee?

12 A I don't think so because I don't think there was ever
13 any doubt in my mind about one.

14 Q Okay. Can we turn to I think this is Tab 1 in your 15 binder. Tab 1 in Mr. Fleming's binder, PX 1916, and it's not 16 yet in evidence.

17 Mr. Frazer, so this is an -- there is an email here to 18 you from Rick Tedrick.

19 Do you recognize this email?

20 A I do.

21 MS. STERN: I offer to admit it.

22 THE COURT: I'm sorry. Which binder are we in now?

23 MS. STERN: I'm sorry. We are in Mr. Fleming's
24 binder, and it's the first Tab, and it's PX 1916.

25 Can we bring in up on the screen for the judge.

KM

4384

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 THE COURT: I gave back that binder. I forgot that
2 we weren't done with all that stuff.

3 MS. STERN: I only have the one copy.

4 THE COURT: I can look on the screen. Is there any 5 objection to this?

6 MS. EISENBERG: No objection, your Honor.

7 MR. FLEMING: No objection.

8 THE COURT: All right. It's admitted.

9 Q So Mr. Frazer, this is an occasion where Mr. Tedrick is 10 sending you copies of some minutes; right?

11 A Correct. And I think this is what I was thinking of 12 earlier. I thought we had seen it yesterday.

13 Q Oh, okay.

14 So in 2021, he sent -- in November 2021, he is sending 15 you a copy of minutes from 2017; right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And so we turn to the next page. This is what 18 he sends you; right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q This is an unsigned copy of minutes; right?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Okay; and this is what he says are the minutes; right?

23 A That is why I asked him -- apparently asked him for the 24 minutes, and that's what he sent me.

25 Q In 2021, this is what he says are the minutes; right?

KM

4385

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A Right.

2 Q Okay. And you are going back to Mr. Tedrick who is no
3 longer the secretary at this point; right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q But you are going back to him to get what you're asking
6 for the official minutes.

7 A I did because -- because he was the secretary at that
8 time and I knew he would have it electronically.

9 Q Okay. And so if we can turn to -- sorry, your Honor --
10 in the binder that you don't have, JFX 66A, but that was 11 admitted into evidence yesterday.

12 THE COURT: It was. I remember that.

13 Q Can we bring that up? Okay. And so this is a copy of 14 minutes that you offered yesterday.

15 These -- where did these come from?

16 A These are -- are -- could I see the whole document?

17 Q Sure. And you have it right there. It's Tab 6 in your 18 binder from your counsel.

19 A Okay. Okay. Yeah, this is the signed copy. I just 20 want to make sure.

21 Q Right. So where did this come from?

22 A I'm not sure where that -- I know it was collected in 23 this litigation. I just don't know exactly where it -- where it 24 was collected from.

25 Q Well, actually, you said it was collected in this

KM

4386

1 litigation. But there is no Bates numbers on this document; are
2 there?

3 A I mean, I assumed it was collected in this litigation,
4 but I don't know exactly how that happened.

1 Q So, you actually don't know where this document came
2 from. You just know that it has Mr. Tedrick's signature on it;
3 right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And you don't know when he signed this document?

6 A No, I don't.

7 Q Could have printed it out in 2021 when he sent you it
8 and signed it and scanned it; right?

9 A I'm not going to speculate.

10 Q Right, but you don't know?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Okay.

13 MS. STERN: Turning to JFX 52 in evidence. I think
14 we can just pop that one up. If we can turn to the Audit
15 Committee report for January 13 to 14 of 2018.

16 (Displayed)

17 Q So, we're just talking about this December 7, 2017,
18 Audit Committee meeting; right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q So, Mr. Frazer, this is a copy of the report of the 21 Audit Committee that reflects that meeting; right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you see that in the second paragraph, the Audit
24 Committee met in Fairfax on December 7, 2017; right?

25 A Right, via conference call, yes.

BP

4388

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q And this is another meeting where you said there were 2 transactions that were reviewed and approved, right, by the
3 Audit Committee?

4 A That's right.

5 Q And you know that because you were there; right?

6 A That's right.

7 Q Okay, but you're not noted as being at that meeting;
8 are you?

9 A Actually, I am.

10 Q No, let's take a look at the second paragraph.

11 (Displayed)

12 Right?

13 A Oh, I'm sorry. I was looking at the first paragraph;
14 but, no. Although, like the September meeting it says other
15 members were in attendance.

16 Q As you just pointed out in the January 11, 2018,
17 meeting, they did note your presence; didn't they?

18 A They did.

19 Q But not at the meeting that you testified about; right?

20 A I can't account for Mr. Tedrick's drafting.

21 Q This is the official Audit Committee report; right?

22 A It is.

23 Q And it is signed by Mr. Cotton at the bottom of the 24 page; right?

25 A That's correct.

BP

4389

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q And there's nowhere in this report which goes to the 2 full board that says anything about any transactions being
3 reviewed and approved by the Audit Committee, any related-party
4 transactions; right?

5 A Well, if we take down the call out, let me see the 6 whole document.

7 Q I think you have a hardcopy there if you wanted to look
8 through it.

9 A Well, it does say -- it does say that I provided an 10 update on related-party transactions. It is not clear which 11 date it is referring to there.

12 Q Doesn't say anything about any transactions being 13 reviewed and approved, right?

14 A No, it doesn't.

15 Q Or any transactions being reviewed and ratified;
16 right?

17 A That's right.

18 Q Okay, thanks.

19 Oh, actually, going back -- we can go back to it, but 20 JFX 66A, the document that we looked at that you say are the 21 minutes of the meeting; is that the record of what was 22 considered by the --

23 A I'm sorry, can we have that again or point me to the 24 tab?

25 Q Sure, okay. We can pull it up, as well. It is behind

BP

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Tab 6.

2 A Oh, okay. Got it.

3 Q Okay. So, my question is is this the record according 4 to you of what the Audit Committee considered when it took
5 the actions that you say occurred at this December 7, 2017,
6 meeting?

7 A It's what the Committee recorded. Again, my
8 recollection is that there was discussion that went beyond
9 what's laid out on these pages.

10 Q This is the report that exists according to you in the 11 NRA's records?

12 A Correct.

13 Q Okay, thank you.

14 So, just change of subjects. You've had a lot of 15 questions about the MMP --

16 THE COURT: Counsel, we're just about -- we're 17 going to -- are you nearly done or?

18 MS. STERN: No, I'm going to be ten more minutes.
19 Do you want me to try? I know we're very tried on time.

20 THE COURT: If you can finish in ten, we'll push 21 the time toward closer to one than we usually have just to 22 try to get today done.

23 MS. STERN: I'll do my best.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 Q So, we -- we heard about a renegotiation of the MMP

BP

4391

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 contract, right?

2 A Right.

3 Q And that renegotiation occurred after Mr. LaPierre had 4 disclosed that he was receiving yachting trips and vacations
5 with the McKenzies; right?

6 A That's right.

7 Q And you weren't personally involved in those 8 negotiations; right?

9 A I wasn't involved in negotiating with directly with MMP
10 or with MMP counsel. Those were counsel-to-counsel discussions
11 as I testified, but I did speak with our counsel and other staff
12 on our end about it.

13 Q Okay. And Mr. LaPierre -- your understanding of 14 Mr. LaPierre's supposed recusal from that process was by virtue
15 of what Mr. LaPierre told you, right?

16 A It was based on my personal observation of the process
17 and the occasional discussions of it that came up with
18 Mr. LaPierre.

19 Q Your personal observation was also through other
20 people?

21 A Was -- was that everyone who discussed it all expressed
22 an understanding that Mr. LaPierre couldn't be involved, wasn't 23 involved and we were all trying to keep it that way.

24 Q But within the NRA's own internal review process,
25 Mr. LaPierre continued to be considered the responsible officer

BP

4392

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 for the transaction; right?

2 A That's right.

3 Q And he was still in the chain of command on that 4 relationship, right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. The Audit Committee never reviewed that 7 renegotiated contract, did it?

8 A I thought they did, but as sitting here, I'm not a
9 hundred percent sure.

10 Q What's the basis for your belief that they did?

11 A I think I remember an Audit Committee meeting around
12 that time, but I --

13 Q An Audit Committee meaning around what time?

14 A Around -- around or during the renegotiation.

15 Q So, you testified as the corporate representative of 16 the NRA in this litigation, right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And when you testified as the corporate representative, 19 you swore to tell the truth, right? Took an oath to tell the 20 truth?

21 A I did.

22 Q And you did, right?

23 A Yes.

24 MS. STERN: Jesse, can we bring that up.

25 (Video played.)

BP

4393

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q Thank you.

2 MS. STERN: And just, your Honor, for the record
3 because I understand these aren't transcribed, I just wanted
4 to put in the pages.

5 It is Mr. Frazer's corporate representative
6 deposition, page 955, line 15, to 956, line 13.

7 Q Yesterday, Mr. Frazer, you were asked about financial 8 transactions with McKenna.

9 Do you remember that?

10 A I do.

11 Q So, at some point the McKenna relationship you
12 testified expanded from doing primarily consulting on 13 fundraising to include also other kinds of business consulting;
14 is that right?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And Josh Powell was the point person at the NRA
17 overseeing that business relationship; wasn't he?

18 A Largely, yes.

19 Q And, particularly, the expansion of it to do the 20 business consulting work; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And his wife, Colleen Gallagher, was hired by McKenna
23 to be a subcontractor to McKenna and senior advisor to McKenna
24 while doing that work; right?

25 A Yes.

BP

4394

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q And you're aware that Ms. Gallagher was Mr. Powell's
2 wife; right?

3 A At some point, I was introduced to her as his wife,
4 yes.

5 Q And you didn't raise any issues about the related-party
6 transaction; right?

7 A I don't remember exactly when I met her first in 8 relation to when that work was occurring.

9 Q But you didn't bring it to the Audit Committee when you
10 learned that, right?

11 A When -- after Mr. Powell disclosed that his wife was 12 working for McKenna, he did disclose it and we did bring it to 13 the Audit Committee.

14 Q But my question, Mr. Frazer, was did you bring it to 15 the Audit Committee when you discovered that relationship?

16 A Um, I don't remember who exactly brought it up at the 17 Audit Committee meeting, but it was thoroughly discussed.

18 Q Mr. Frazer, do you recall, yourself, bringing it to the 19 Audit Committee? Not Mr. Powell. I'm asking about you.

20 A As I just said, I don't remember exactly who brought it
21 up at the committee meeting.

22 Q The cost of the services that were being paid to the --
23 the amount being paid to McKenna during the period July 2016 to 24 fall 2018 was, approximately, close to two and a half million
25 dollars; right?

BP

4395

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 A I don't know the dollar amount.

2 Q It was a sizable contract; right?

3 A It was a sizable amount of business, but not all of the 4 contract, no.

5 Q Sorry?

6 A I said it was a sizable amount of business. I'm not 7 sure the size of the contract.

8 Q The transaction was, ultimately, ratified by the Audit
9 Committee, right?

10 A It was with the caveat that it should be re-reviewed
11 and dealt with.

12 Q But it was ratified by the Audit Committee, right?

13 A Yes, yes.

14 Q And the Audit Committee records on that would 15 accurately reflect what the amount of the contract fees were, at 16 least at that time; right?

17 A They should. I just don't have personal knowledge.

18 Q There was no written contract for a big portion of what 19 McKenna was providing; right?

20 A That's right, and that was one of the concerns that the 21 whistleblowers had raised.

22 Q But it was ratified even though there was no written
23 contract; right?

24 A Well, the Committee's report would explain what was 25 ratified.

BP

4396

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 Q My question was it was ratified despite that there was
2 no written contract, right?

3 A What was ratified to my recollection was the -- the use
4 of McKenna's services during Ms. Gallagher's employment. I
5 don't recall that the Committee looked at the amounts.

6 Q So, the Committee didn't address the fact that there
7 was no contract; right?

8 A I don't remember.

9 Q Sorry, no written contract?

10 A I'm sorry, Ms. Stern, I just don't remember one way or 11 the other.

12 Q Okay. There was no written contract with David Keene,
13 board member who was being paid; right?

14 A Well, there -- there was at some point, yes.

15 Q At what point?

16 A In, I believe, 2019.

17 Q In 2019 there was a written contract?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And Sandra Froman, she had no written contract
20 either; right?

21 A Not that I'm aware of.

22 Q And David Butz, he was operating without a written
23 contract for a period of time; right?

24 A I'm not sure about that. I know at one point he had a
25 contract that had an automatic renewal provision, and I'm not

BP

4397

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 sure when that went in or out. And, actually, later there was
2 definitely a written contract after we renegotiated it to a
3 daily rate rather than annual or monthly fee.

4 Q And that was later -- that was after the attorney
5 general's investigation began; right?

6 A I don't think so.

7 Q You think it was before the investigation began?

8 A I thought it was in 2019 -- I thought it was 2019.

9 Q You were asked --

10 A Maybe beginning 2020, but it was before the -- it
11 was -- I'm sorry, it was before the lawsuit began, and I'm not 12 sure in relation to the investigation.

13 MS. STERN: Your Honor, I'm feeling very -- a lot
14 of pressure for the jury to have lunch, and so I had hoped 15 to --

* * * * *

THE COURT: I got a quick report from my law clerks which is not entirely encouraging, but the end is near. So we need to get your comments condensed and to us as soon as you can.

For what it's worth in my view, the related-party transaction part of the verdict sheet is where most of the convoluted and hard to organize things came in. I don't think it is substantively that hard. It is just kind of tricky to figure out how to describe it in a way that won't confuse them. Anyway, comments as soon as you can.

One thing I wanted to have you at least be thinking about, logistically, because this has happened in almost every jury trial I've had, the jury goes to deliberate. The first thing they do is send a note down asking for fifty documents. And more times than I care to admit, the lawyers then begin scrambling to go find them.

But, in the last few I've told the lawyers in advance get hardcopies of at least the exhibits that got a lot of attention. Just have at least two copies here on Friday so that you don't have to go back to your office, you don't have to do all sorts of things; and we can at least get them quickly the documents that they're likely to ask

BP

4400

Proceedings

1 for.

2 So, I know that's, logistically, takes a lot of
3 copying, getting things ready. I would suggest two copies
4 so they don't all have to look at the same one.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, may I raise a quick
6 issue in connection with the closing?

7 THE COURT: Yes.

8 MS. EISENBERG: The NRA requested that the NYAG
9 identify the alleged misstatements for the 15th claim
10 because we don't know which specific statements they will 11 argue in their closing; and we need to know that because 12 they go last. Because there are eight different alleged 13 misstatements that have been featured in testimony, but in 14 the complaint they feature over twenty.

15 THE COURT: And there were no contentious
16 interrogatories to flush that out?

17 MS. EISENBERG: There were, but as the 18 related-party transaction experience shows just because they 19 listed them in contentious interrogatories doesn't mean
20 they're actually going to ask the jury to return a verdict
21 on.

22 THE COURT: Oh, you mean they may not use all of 23 them?

24 MS. EISENBERG: Exactly, and we only have 25 forty-five minutes for our closing and don't want to be

BP

4401

Proceedings

1 focussing on the misstatements --

2 THE COURT: Why don't we do it this way; it is all
3 of them in the contentious interrogatories, unless they're
4 telling you they're withdrawing some? That's the way I
5 would do it because if they wanted to add one that's not in 6 the contentious interrogatories, I'd have a problem with 7 that for lack of notice.

8 But if they haven't -- I mean, I did ask that with 9 the related-party transactions and it turned out there were
10 a bunch that they're not pursuing, whistleblowers, there's a 11 bunch they're not pursuing. I think it would be helpful to 12 me to know, you know -- I guess I would say you need to tell
13 the other side if there are any misstatements for claim 15
14 that you identified that you're not pursuing, I think it is 15 reasonable for me to know that and, certainly, the other
16 side.

17 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor. And then we 18 have the same request with regard to the first cause of 19 action where they claim that property was improperly
20 administered that subsumes conflict of interest and the like 21 and, again, we have no understanding what they will be 22 arguing in closing.

23 THE COURT: Well, look -- I think that's arguably
24 the broadest claim, and I think any evidence that came in 25 during the trial would be fair game for that; unlike the

BP

4402

Proceedings

1 related-party transaction where it is a specific event or
2 the misstatements where it is a discrete thing, I mean
3 that's what discovery was supposed to be for, to tell you
4 what the claims are.

5 So, I think, you know, they opened, they explained
6 what their claims were going to be. I think my main concern
7 is that you not be surprised by things that have never been 8 disclosed as opposed to being over prepared.

9 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, thank you for 10 considering my request.

11 Just to be clear, conflicts of interest are very
12 much like related-party transactions. In fact, they listed
13 them on the same contentious interrogatories.

14 For example, HomeTelos, your question was was that 15 a related-party transaction; and they said, no, it violates
16 the conflict-of-interest policy, but not the law.

17 And, so they're quite capable of identifying 18 specific transactions that they allege were tainted by 19 conflicts of interest even if they were not related-party
20 transactions under 715.

21 So, we would request given that we only have 22 forty-five minutes and given that they go last and we don't 23 have rebuttal, that they identify specific transactions that 24 they intend to feature in their closing argument as 25 violative of that policy.

BP

Proceedings

1 MS. STERN: Your Honor, as you said, this is --
2 we're in trial. This is not discovery. There's not a basis
3 for asking us to lay out a roadmap. We've all been sitting
4 here for six weeks. They know what the evidence is, and we
5 want to focus on getting the rest of today done and getting
6 ready for proper process --

7 THE COURT: The roadmap has been laid out in the 8 openings. You can only use admissible evidence, so I'm not 9 going to create some new rule of procedure that requires
10 them to map out their closing in advance.

11 But I do think that it is a fair request on where 12 you have specifically listed out in contentious
13 interrogatories ten things. If you know now that you're not 14 going to pursue them, I'd like to know that for purposes of 15 my instructions because as you've heard during your lunch
16 meeting, I mean some of these things, like the post
17 employment agreement, it seems pretty clear from the 18 testimony that there's probably no damages so I don't -- I
19 need to know whether I need an instruction in advance on 20 which depends on what the claim is going to be.

21 Now, that's more acute with transactions specific
22 claims, but I don't think it is unfair that if you know now
23 you're not pursuing certain of the statements you said you
24 were pursuing before, you should let them know.

25 MS. STERN: Certainly, your Honor.

BP

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: All right --

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I wasn't able to get a
3 consensus of where we are on the clock. I think if you ask
4 that question, you might get that information.

5 THE COURT: All right, where are we on the clock?
6 I saw -- it seemed to me it was not that far from an hour
7 because Mr. Conley started just about at twelve and there
8 were some breaks while Mr. Frazer finished and then we 9 finished at one.

10 So, it's I would imagine something like
11 forty minutes, to something like forty minutes or so that 12 you used this morning?

13 MS. STERN: I think so.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Fifty-two minutes, your Honor.
15 Fifty-two minutes today.

16 THE COURT: That's your count?

17 MS. EISENBERG: That's correct, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: I thought it was somewhere in the 19 forty, forty-five range.

20 All right, so you still have a little bit to go and 21 we should stop talking then.

22 Let's get the jury, please.

(Whereupon, at this time the witness, John Frazer, having been first duly sworn/affirmed by the Clerk of the Court, resumed the witness stand and testified as follows:)

3

5

THE COURT: My caution about not calling a witness that we can't finish.

6

8

MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, that's my concern. I have one more witness to call, my expert, and I'm afraid of getting bumped. I have a very low time count compared to the NRA and Frazer and --

9

11

THE COURT: Well, who gets to choose because the State only has a few minutes, I guess, left.

12

I don't know, have you all talked about who the next witness is?

14

15

MR. CORRELL: We have.

16

THE COURT: Is it yours?

17

MR. CORRELL: Well, no, it is not.

18

19

MR. PETERS: We've discussed the schedule with the other side and with Mr. Correll. We are going to try as hard as we can to get through Mr. Commerford, the Spray video and Mr. Lapham. That's the order of operations right now.

20

23

So, the sooner we get to it, the more likely I think it is to happen.

24

25

MR. CORRELL: My preference, your Honor, would be

BP

4406

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 to have Mr. Lapham go next and for me to call my expert, who
2 I expect will be fifteen minutes.

3 THE COURT: Which expert is that?

4 MR. CORRELL: It is an expert on custom and 5 practice with respect to reliance by corporate executives on 6 treasurers and other people and, also, he's a damages
7 expert.

8 THE COURT: And who is Lapham is he the security
9 one?

10 MR. PETERS: So, Mr. Lapham is head of security in 11 the NRA, and he is awaiting -- we sent the order to the 12 other side and to the Court, and we've always said, included
13 Mr. Commerford and Mr. Lapham --

14 THE COURT: This is not you versus the plaintiff
15 issue. This is an intra-defendant issue.

16 MR. CORRELL: Mr. Lapham is critical to us --

17 THE COURT: Sure, everyone is critical, and the NRA
18 I would imagine has had a lot more of the time on the 19 defense side.

20 MR. CORRELL: Yes, they have.

21 THE COURT: I think you get priority for your next
22 witness.

23 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, your Honor.

24 MS. STERN: Your Honor, one thing, that is on his 25 is the expert that Mr. Correll referred to, we did not get

BP

4407

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 24-hours notice that he was putting him back on the list.

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, there's some confusion
3 around that. The NRA purported to be communicating for me,
4 and I didn't see the communication. As soon as I learned
5 that that hadn't been disclosed, I disclosed it. I think
6 they got 22-hours notice instead of 24. He has no
7 demonstratives and no documents.

8 THE COURT: Raise your hand if you remember me
9 saying I didn't want chaos today.

10 MR. CORRELL: This isn't chaos, yet, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: I look forward to when that occurs
12 then.

13 Let's get started with getting this finish and then 14 move on from there. Then you have one small witness for the 15 NRA, and the next one is going to be --

16 MR. PETERS: We have three things that we're trying 17 to get accomplished, and I'm confident that we can get all
18 three of them accomplished, which is Commerford, Lapham and 19 Mr. Spray. We have to do all three. I think we're all in 20 agreement.

21 I understand --

22 THE COURT: The clock is ticking, so let's go.
23 Let's get the jury in.

24 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

2 THE COURT: All right, please have a seat.

3 MS. STERN: May I continue, your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Yes, please.

5 CROSS-EXAMINATION

6 BY MS. STERN: (Continuing)

7 Q Mr. Frazer, yesterday you testified about some 8 financial transactions with Marion Hammer; right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you referred to Marion Hammer as a gun lobbyist?

11 A I don't know if I used that term.

12 Q Did you refer to her as a lobbyist?

13 A She is a lobbyist.

14 Q So Marion Hammer, she was getting paid by the NRA, she 15 had three different streams of revenue from the NRA; right?

16 A At one time, yes.

17 Q And she was being paid for consulting services, right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q And the consulting services contract was something that 20 had to be ratified; right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And she was being paid anywhere between $160,000 a year
23 to about $220,000 a year; right?

24 A I don't remember the low end, but I do recall the high
25 end, 220.

BP

1 MS. STERN: Can we pull up JFX 52, page 27 of the
2 PDF and we're at the September 8th to 9th, 2018 Audit
3 Committee report.

4 Q Pretty familiar with this document, right?

5 A I do see it.

6 Q Okay. And we're looking at the paragraph in the report
7 that's addressing Marion Hammer.

8 Are you with me?

9 A I see it.

10 Q And does this accurately reflect what the Audit
11 Committee considered in addressing Marion Hammer's consulting
12 services agreement?

13 A As with the others, this is what the committee put on 14 the record, but there were, obviously, other discussions in the 15 meeting.

16 Q And there's no discussion in this document about
17 considering any alternative transactions; right?

18 A No, because it refers to her unique experience.

19 Q Okay, we can move on from that. Thank you.

20 MS. STERN: Can we turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 421,
21 which is the policy manual.

22 Q I think it is 21 in your -- Tab 21 in your binder.

23 A It is.

24 Q I fear that this is not the binder that the Judge has.
25 This is in evidence. We looked at it many times.

BP

4410

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 I just wanted to ask you about the related party and
2 conflicts-of-interest policy at page 27 of 300 I believe it is.

3 A Okay, I'm there.

4 Q And we're looking at the policy that you took a hand in 5 drafting, right?

6 A Yes, ma'am.

7 Q And this -- let's see. On the bottom of the number
8 page 20, the next page. Okay, where are we?

9 Can you turn to the paragraph that says "In the event?"
10 Do you see where I am?

11 A I see it, yes.

12 Q Okay. And so "In the event the NRA or a covered person
13 in error enters into or otherwise participates in a
14 conflict-of-interest transactions that requires pre-approval by 15 the NRA Audit Committee pursuant to this policy, such 16 transaction shall promptly upon discovery of such error be 17 presented to the NRA Audit Committee for its review."

18 That's what you decided that the policy should require;
19 right?

20 A That's the policy the board adopted, yes.

21 Q And then the Audit Committee has some options of what 22 it can also do, right? It can review it, but then there is some 23 other options, right?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And one of those options is take a disciplinary action,

BP

4411

J. Frazer - by Defendant - Cross/Ms. Stern

1 right?

2 A That's right.

3 Q And no disciplinary action was ever taken with respect
4 to Mr. LaPierre; right?

5 A That's correct. I mean, obviously, he agreed to repay
6 various items, but no disciplinary action in a personnel sense.

7 Q Just repaying what he misused is not a disciplinary
8 action, right? That you would just expect in the ordinary
9 course just to make the NRA whole; right?

10 A I would.

11 Q Okay. You were asked some questions yesterday about 12 your compensation. Do you recall that?

13 A Yes.

14 Q So, your compensation has to be reported on the NRA's
15 Form 990 each year; right?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q By virtue of your role as General Counsel and 18 secretary; correct?

19 A As secretary for sure.

20 Q And if somebody wanted to see what your compensation
21 was in any given year, they could go to Schedule J in the Form
22 990; right?

23 A That's correct.

24 MR. STERN: Can we pull up PX 225.

25 THE COURT: Counselor, you have your thoughts on

BP

4412

1 the time; right?

2 MS. STERN: Yes, I do.

3 THE COURT: I would just ask the defendants to 4 start thinking about allocating the remaining time in the 5 afternoon for hard stops for each of the witnesses that you
6 want to do. I mean hard stops, because there's not going to 7 be a lot of cross. So you should start writing those down
8 and I will enforce them.

9 Go ahead.

10 MS. STERN: PX 225, which is in evidence, and if we 11 can go, Jesse, to page 45 of 102.

12 Q And that's Schedule A that we're looking at; right?

13 A It is.

14 Q And this is for 2021?

15 A Yes, that's correct.

16 Q In 2021, your total comp with all of your benefits,
17 right, nontaxable benefits retirement is $348,924; right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q And that's the reduced comp that you said that you took 20 during the COVID period; right?

21 A That's the reduced salary. And then other things,
22 like, employer paid health insurance and 401k matches and other
23 fringe benefits, yes.

12 Q Mr. Frazer, how long have you been at the NRA?

13 A Well, I originally started in 1993, so 31 years minus

15 Q During your tenure has it been the practice of the NRA
16 to punish people for honest mistakes?

17 A No.

9 MS. STERN: Objection.

10 MR. FARBER: Objection.

11 THE COURT: Sustained.

9 A It does. June 3, 2019.

11 this in evidence?

12 MR. FARBER: No objection.

13 THE COURT: Yes, it's relevant to the ratification.

20 THE COURT: There was no second page?

21 MS. EISENBERG: That's correct.

25 Mr. Frazer, does this refer to a teleconference audit

KM

1 committee on a particular date?

2 A It does. It refers to July 30, 2022.

3 Q And in the paragraph which is the second from the 4 bottom where it says "moved," can you please read that into the 5 record?

6 A It says, "Moved, the committee unanimously approves the 7 memorandum of understanding between the National Rifle
8 Association and the MMP companies as presented."

9 Q Do you recall Ms. Stern asking you whether or not the 10 Audit Committee was involved in the approval of the new MMP

12 A I do.

13 Q Does this document show that it was?

14 A It does.

15 Q Let's take a look at DX 1-0506.

16 THE COURT: Is this also for identification or is 17 this already in?

18 MS. EISENBERG: Actually, I'm not sure. Let's set
19 that aside. My colleagues can look it up for us, and we can 20 just move on for the moment.

21 Q Let's take a look at DX 1-0432 for identification.

22 Mr. Frazer, just to orient you, this is an email thread

24 Do you recognize this family of documents?

25 A I do.

KM

Frazer - By Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q What are they?

2 A They are a set of documents related to the -- to an
3 Audit Committee action in September -- in or around
4 September 2016 in which the committee as an alternative to a
5 meeting gave unanimous written consent to a related-party
6 transaction.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, at this point the NRA

9 MR. FARBER: Could we have a copy to review?

10 THE COURT: Any objection on the Plaintiff side?

11 MS. STERN: No objection, your Honor.

12 MR. FARBER: No objection, your Honor.

13 No objection.

14 THE COURT: It's admitted.

15 Q So we can publish it for the members of the jury, and 16 if you can just walk the members of the jury through the top
17 page.

18 A Sure. So what this reflects from what you can see on 19 the screen is that in the message at the bottom, I'm writing to 20 Rick Tedrick to check on the status of the written approval
21 request on this contract with Bart Skelton. Bart Skelton sadly
22 passed away a few months ago was an NRA Board member for several 23 years, and there was a proposed contract for him to write
24 articles for the NRA publications.

25 Q Thank you, Mr. Frazer.

KM

4419

Frazer - By Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Let's take a look at the second page of the exhibit.

2 Who is this email from and to whom is it addressed?

3 A The email is from Rick Tedrick who was the secretary of 4 the Audit Committee at the time, and he is addressing it to the 5 members of the Audit Committee at the time with copies to me,
6 Mr. Phillips, Ms. Cummins who was in the treasurer's office and
7 himself.

8 He sends it through a secure email portal that we use
9 from time to time, and it requests the -- as you can see, it
10 says that in the discussion shortly before this about 11 related-party transactions, the committee had inadvertently left 12 out a pending issue, and we pointed out that the committee could 13 approve it by unanimous consents and asked for that consent or 14 if people had any questions.

15 Q Is it fair to say that Mr. Tedrick states that this was 16 accidentally left out?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q While presenting the transactions with Board members
19 for committee approval; right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Do you remember Ms. Stern asking you whether or not you
22 in fact attended the September 2016 meeting?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Do you remember her implying that in fact you did not?

25 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor.

KM

Frazer - By Defendant - Redirect/Ms. Eisenberg

1 THE COURT: Overruled.

2 A No. I had attended that meeting.

3 Q Do you recall her questioning imply?

4 A Yes. Her implication that I didn't attend.

5 Q How does that document that we are looking at right now
6 relate to her question?

7 A It relates to the fact that I was at the committee. I
8 went through the list of transactions with the committee. In 9 the course of doing that, we missed -- missed one that was on 10 the list. It was actually advance approval as I recall rather 11 than ratification, and we wanted to go back and make sure that 12 we had corrected that error.

13 Q Ms. Stern was provided with a copy of this document in 14 discovery; correct?

15 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 Q Did the defendants list this document on their exhibits
18 list?

19 MS. STERN: Objection, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Also sustained. This is a fact

7 Q What is this family of documents?

8 A It's a contract and a transmission email contract with

10 outreach between the NRA and Mr. Keene, and there is the cover
11 memo, if we can go back to that -- is an email in which I think

15 Well, I'm sorry. It wouldn't be that far down. Sorry.
16 There is some long attachments to this.

17 THE COURT: It was the agreement raised on cross?

18 MS. EISENBERG: I'm sorry.

21 MS. EISENBERG: Yes. They asked specifically isn't
22 it true that there was no contract wasn't reached with Mr.

24 A Thank you for your patience. I just want to make sure

1 This is an email where I'm sending Mr. Keene a
2 fully-signed copy of the agreement with him it looks like
3 September 2019.

4 MS. EISENBERG: At this point the NRA moves to 5 admit PX 438 in evidence.

6 THE COURT: It's admitted.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Let's show the members of the jury
8 the signature page which is on Page 8 or maybe 9 of 15. And 9 let's scroll to the second page of the exhibit which is the 10 first page of the consulting agreement.

11 Mr. Frazer, thank you very much.

12 Your Honor, I'll pass the witness subject to our 13 discussion about those Board books. I think we are still 14 discussing that with our colleagues.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. FLEMING: Very briefly.

17 As we spoke about this morning, I have reached a
18 stipulation with the Plaintiffs for the admission of four 19 990s.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. FLEMING: And so those would be JFX30, JFX31,
22 PX 222 and PX -- I'm sorry. JFX 33.

23 THE COURT: Without objection, those are all
24 admitted.

25 MR. FLEMING: I would also call up PX 2249, please.

KM

1 THE COURT: That's in evidence.

2 MR. FLEMING: Well, there is a duplicate of a
3 document that Ms. Eisenberg just brought up.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. FLEMING: And I have one question on it and 6 literally one question. Well, after identifying it.

7 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. FLEMING:

9 Q Mr. Frazer, is this document a replica of what you were 10 just shown by Ms. Eisenberg?

11 A It is.

12 Q And if we can scroll down to the exhibit number,
13 please. You see a PX 2249?

14 A I do.

15 Q Do you understand that to be a Plaintiff's Exhibit?

16 A I do.

17 MR. FLEMING: Thank you.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further?

19 MR. PETERS: No, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right. So you're free to step
21 down.

22 MR. PETERS: We have the time allocations for you.

23 THE COURT: Why don't you hand them up.

24 You're doing it this way. Okay. I'm not sure what 25 that means.

KM

1 MR. PETERS: These are our time calculations. We
2 are going to have Mr. Commerford go on at 3:00 p.m., and we
3 anticipate he will finish at 3:20. Then we will have the 4 Spray deposition clip. That will start 3:20 and end at 5 3:55. Then we will have the Meadows clip. That will begin
6 at 3:55, end approximately 4:10. Then we will have two more
7 witnesses. We will have Mr. Lapham. We expect him to 8 finish at 4:25 and then we will have 20 minutes for Mr.
9 Rabin.

10 THE COURT: So you're assuming zero minutes of 11 cross across the board which is maybe a little aggressive,
12 but 4:25 gives us still a little bit of wiggle room.

13 That also means the jury has to be comfortable.

14 Let's just see how we do.

15 Which one is your witness.

16 MR. CORRELL: Rabin.

17 THE COURT: I would suggest putting -- you can do
18 the same scrambling of numbers, but I don't want to leave
19 yours till last.

20 MR. CORRELL: Thank you, but I also need Mr.
21 Lapham, so I would prefer to keep this order and just hue to 22 it if we could.

23 THE COURT: Well, all of these numbers assume no
24 cross at all which is not reasonable.

25 MR. PETERS: How about -- we can't cut time off the

2 THE COURT: How about we not talk anymore and we
3 will just do -- it's 3:00.

4 Call your next witness.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the NRA calls John
6 Commerford, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Is he in the room or is somebody going
8 to get him?

9 MS. EISENBERG: He is right outside the courtroom.
10 I would suggest that if possible you end a little sooner on 11 each of these and just preserve flexibility.

12 MR. PETERS: Understood, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Remember this is still trial and not 14 speed dating.

15 MR. CORRELL: I can call Mr. Rambin right now while 16 we wait for Mr. Commerford.

17 THE COURT: I thought you needed to wait for 18 Lapham.

19 MR. CORRELL: That was my preference.

20 THE COURT: I am the catcher. You guys are the 21 pitchers.

22 MR. PETERS: We are going to call Mr. Commerford.

13 DIRECT EXAMINATION

14 BY MS. EISENBERG:

15 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Commerford.

16 A Good afternoon.

17 Q And what do you do at the NRA?

18 A I am the chief of operations for the NRA Institute for 19 Legislative Action.

20 Q How long have you been in that position?

21 A I started in that role in November of 2019.

22 Q And how long have you worked at the NRA?

23 A I started originally in August of 2007 as an intern.

24 Q Where did you go to college?

25 A I went to Hofstra University.

KM

4428

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q How did it come about that you became an intern at the
2 NRA?

3 A I took part in a State University of New York
4 internship program in conjunction with Hofstra University on my 5 final semester at college.

6 Q Is the Institute of Legislative Action a part of the
7 NRA?

8 A Yes, it is.

9 Q Is it fair to refer to ILA as a division of the NRA?

10 A Yes, it is.

11 Q And what is the mission of ILA?

12 A We inform our members and give them a voice on 13 legislative, informational issues and in legal issues in the 14 courts.

15 Q As you became the chief of operations in 2019, did
16 there come a time that you undertook certain steps to insure 17 that the NRA complies with laws, regulations and internal 18 policies?

19 A Yes, I did.

20 Immediately after Jason Ouimet took over as executive 21 director of NRA/ILA, he tasked me with this role in the Fall and 22 Winter of 2019.

23 Q Jason Ouimet replaced Mr. Cox; is that fair?

24 A Yes, he did.

25 Q After Mr. Cox left?

KM

4429

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 A That's correct.

2 Q Did you do as Mr. Ouimet requested?

3 A Yes, I did.

4 Q Please describe the process.

5 A I did a complete review on all of our existing
6 contracts and vendors including whether we were in compliance
7 with existing NRA procedures, whether the vendors were 8 performing their duties as expected or whether they just needed
9 to continue from a business need.

10 Q With regard to those that you decided that you needed
11 to continue, what, if anything, else did you do?

12 A We processed each and every contract at the end of 2019
13 and make sure they were in compliance with our signature
14 process. Especially for contracts over $100,000 requires quite 15 a few signatures.

16 We actually made sure that we had the maximum
17 signatures on each of these contracts.

18 Q And to the extent you decided to eliminate certain
19 vendors, did that help realize certain savings?

20 A It did. We were able to save our members approximately 21 a little more than $4 million a year on an annualized basis.

22 Q While Mr. Cox was the head of ILA, is it fair to say
23 that he used ILA money to purchase sports tickets?

24 A Yes. NRA/ILA did have season sports tickets to the 25 Washington Nationals, Washington Wizards and Washington

KM

4430

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Capitals.

2 Q Once Jason Ouimet replaced Jason Cox and you became
3 chief of operations, what happened to those tickets?

4 A At the end of those contracts, they were not renewed.

5 Q They were not renewed?

6 A They were not.

7 Q What, if anything, did you do to insure that the 8 employees of the NRA, specifically ILA in your instance are 9 aware of the mechanism for reporting concerns through the 10 whistleblower hotline?

11 A We provide something as simple as a QR code that's 12 placed in high traffic areas within our Institute for 13 Legislative Action office floor at NRA headquarters and our 14 federal affairs office.

15 Q Did you personally take part in insuring that that 16 information is readily available?

17 A Yes, I did. I literally was the one that taped the 18 signs up in the high traffic areas?

19 Q As the chief of operations at ILA, are you familiar
20 with ILA's reimbursement policies?

21 A I am.

22 Q What if someone submits a reimbursement request that is 23 late?

24 A If it's longer than 30 days which is stricter than 25 standard NRA policy, it's rejected.

KM

4431

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Q What if it is timely but the employee fails to provide
2 information that justifies the business purpose of the request?

3 A Through our digitized system, there is an ability for 4 them to appeal, but it would be rejected.

5 Q After Mr. Cox left the NRA, has anyone at ILA used
6 private jets to travel for business?

7 A They have not.

8 Q How do you travel?

9 A Coach.

10 Q And what's your preferred hotel?

11 A Prefer Marriott chain hotels.

12 Q And from time to time, do you also review and revise 13 policies to insure compliance with laws and regulations?

14 A Yes, we do.

15 Q Can you give us an example of a recent policy update?

16 A Compliance is a huge factor at what we do at the 17 institute involving federal elections communication, compliance.
18 We've outsourced that program to a professional firm to make 19 sure we are 110 percent in compliance on everything we do.

20 We also make sure our staff in ILA attend the 21 compliance training seminars offered by NRA's Office of General
22 Counsel, and if they miss those, we make sure they have the 23 opportunity to do a makeup class.

24 Q Let's go back to your discussion about the mission of 25 ILA. I believe you said that it consists of legislative, legal

KM

4432

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 and fundraising activities. Did I get that right?

2 A And informational as well.

3 Q To the extent you engage in informational activities,
4 is that in support of the legal and legislative activities?

5 A Yes. We communicate to our members so they are better
6 aware and able to take part in the legislative and political 7 process to support our mission.

8 Q Please describe what you are referring to when you say
9 legislative.

10 A We provide representation and voice for our members at 11 the state and local level as well as on Capitol Hill.

12 Q Please describe what you mean when you refer to 13 political activities.

14 A We also provide a voice for our members and inform them
15 on issues related to endorsements for political candidates but 16 mainly to inform them on which lawmakers or candidates support
17 the reasons that they joined NRA which is their Second Amendment
18 rights.

19 Q Are you familiar with whether or not ILA has separate
20 bank accounts from the rest of the NRA?

21 A I am.

22 Q And what is the answer?

23 A We are financially segregated from the NRA with 24 separate accounts as required by our Bylaws.

25 Q Has that been the case since 2013 when you returned to

KM

4433

Commerford - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 the NRA?

2 A Yes, it is.

3 Q And how are you confident that that's the case?

4 A I have personally been involved with fundraising issues
5 through our expense reimbursement policies. I directly see the 6 checks to see that they are a separate account.

7 Q Where does the money in ILA's bank account come from?

8 A There is a few main sources of revenue for the 9 institute. One is direct mail fundraising. Another is through
10 individual donors. Another is through estate gifts and wills
11 and also from the NRA itself.

12 Q Sometimes money goes out of ILA accounts to the rest of 13 the NRA; is that fair?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And sometimes money comes from the NRA to ILA; right;

16 A That's also correct.

17 Q Setting that aside and focusing on the donors part.
18 When donors donate money to ILA, for what purpose do they donate 19 money?

20 A To support our main issues, legislative issues, legal 21 issues and helping us inform our members.

22 Q We have heard during this trial about certain programs
23 run out of the General Operations Department such as Eddie
24 Eagle, Refuse To Be A Victim.

25 Is ILA in any way involved with Eddie Eagle?

KM

4434

Commerford - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Wang

1 A We are not.

2 Q Is ILA involved in any way with the Refuse To Be A
3 Victim program?

4 A It is not.

5 Q Hunters For The Hungry?

6 A We are not.

7 Q Is ILA involved in any of the programs run out of the 8 General Operations Department?

9 A We are not.

10 Q And what is your mission again -- focus of your mission
11 again?

12 A Legislative issues, legal issues and informing our 13 members, especially on the political arena.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you very much, Mr.

DIRECT-EXAMINATION

6

BY MS. EISENBERG:

7

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Lapham.

8

A Good afternoon.

9

Q What do you do at the NRA?

10

A I am the managing director of security.

11

MS. EISENBERG: Can the members of the jury hear the witness? Perfect.

12

13

Q How long have you been the managing director of 14 security?

15

A Since May of 2023.

16

Q And previous to that, did you ever provide executive

17

security detail to Mr. LaPierre?

18

A Yes.

19

Q In what capacity was that?

20

A I was a contractor that provided executive protection

21 for the NRA executives of the NRA, in particular, Mr. LaPierre since 2011.

23

Q So, that was between 2011 and 2023; right?

24

A Yes.

25

Q Who during the 2011 through 2023 time period was your

BP

4439

C. Lapham - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 contact at the NRA?

2 A My contacts at the NRA were Gordon Russell, Linda
3 Bradford and Jim Staples.

4 Q Fair to say those gentlemen are your predecessors?

5 A Yes.

6 Q When you provided executive security protection for 7 Mr. LaPierre in the years between 2011 and 2023, how frequently
8 did you work for the NRA then?

9 A It would differ. So, there were years that I could 10 have done about 80 days a year, other days could have been about 11 50 days a year.

12 Q When you helped with the executive protection for 13 Mr. LaPierre during those years, was it important for you to 14 assess the threat that Mr. LaPierre faced in order to carry out 15 your job?

16 A Yes.

17 MS. STERN: Objection, leading.

18 THE COURT: Overruled.

19 Q Did you say yes?

20 A Yes.

21 Q What did you do in order to assess the threat that 22 Mr. LaPierre faced?

23 A To do my job well, I would have to be familiar with the 24 threats that would come in towards any employee of the NRA, 25 which would include Mr. LaPierre. I was made aware of those,

BP

4440

C. Lapham - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 those threats which were coming in via internet, social media
2 postings, telephone calls, voice mails, United States postal
3 mailings, and the like. And through those years and still today
4 I still keep up with the -- those threats and monitoring those 5 threats that come in.

6 Q Without getting into any graphic language, can you just 7 give us a sense of the intensity and the frequency of the 8 threats?

9 A They are pretty intense. We're not going to hide
10 anything. The NRA, you know, they're pretty polarizing. So
11 with that, you're going to get feedback from people that don't 12 agree with it. And in today's age and date of social media and 13 the like and, you know, people are pretty nasty. So, the 14 threats that come in are pretty intense and they are pretty 15 frequent.

16 Q Based on your assessment of that information, what did
17 you determine to be the level of threat faced by Mr. LaPierre
18 since you started providing executive protection for him?

19 MS. KANDEL: Objection, timeframe.

20 THE COURT: Have we established that timeframe?

21 MS. EISENBERG: Yes. 2011, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Continue.

23 A Can you repeat that now?

24 Q I'd be happy to. Since 2011, did you form a view as to 25 the level or the degree of threat that Mr. LaPierre faced based

BP

4441

C. Lapham - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 on your review of the various types of information that you just
2 described?

3 A Absolutely, yes.

4 Q What was your conclusion?

5 A With an objective assessment on that, absolutely the 6 threats were pretty serious; and I feel especially in my role
7 today it is my responsibility -- not only my responsibility, but 8 the responsibility of the NRA to keep Mr. LaPierre and his 9 family safe.

10 Q You would agree that not every executive vice president
11 of every not-for-profit corporation needs to travel by private 12 charter; right?

13 A Yes.

14 MS. KANDEL: Objection.

15 THE COURT: Overruled.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

17 Q Is there anything about the security threat faced by 18 Mr. LaPierre that makes it highly advisable or necessary for him
19 to fly private?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Please explain.

22 A On a public flight, even if I put Mr. LaPierre in first 23 class, front seat surrounding him by security, everybody is 24 going to be sitting facing forward. You're not going to see any 25 threat that comes up to you.

BP

C. Lapham - by Defendant - Direct/Ms. Eisenberg

1 Me, personally, if that was me doing executive
2 protection, if they said, hey, this is what you're going to do,
3 I wouldn't do it. I don't want to get hurt. This is a very
4 polarizing company. It's a very polarizing person.

5 Nobody saw the, you know, from the 911 flights, the 6 attacks that happened there and people got killed on those 7 flights. It would be disastrous. I would never do that.

8 Q Throughout the time that you provided security detail
9 to Mr. LaPierre, did you believe that flying private was a
10 necessary way to mitigate the risk that he faced?

11 MS. KANDEL: Objection, your Honor, foundation.

12 THE COURT: I'm allowing leading more today just 13 because we're trying to get through a few things, so
14 overruled.

15 Q Was your answer yes?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Have you done any executive protection work for any 18 other not-for-profit corporations?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And are you familiar with any other not-for-profit
21 corporations that permitted their executives to fly private?

22 A Yes.

16 A Correct.

17 Q And you were hired as the managing director of

19 A Yes.

20 Q And prior to that time, you were not an NRA employee;
21 is that correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q You were a contractor as you testified, right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you testified that you worked about 80 days a year

6 Q And you testified that you worked about at most 80 days
7 a year when you were working as a contractor, is that right?

8 A Correct, give or take.

9 Q And while you worked as a contractor, you didn't have 10 any decision-making authority with respect to NRA's security
11 policies; is that right?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And --

14 MS. KANDEL: Actually, no further questions. Thank
15 you.

18 All right, sir, thank you very much. You can step

22 THE COURT: Mr. Correll, do you have your next
23 witness?

24 MR. CORRELL: Yes, I do, your Honor. Your Honor, I
25 call Mark Ramin.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Can we get Mr. Rabin, court officer,
2 please.

3 MR. CONLEY: I wanted to briefly raise one issue
4 with respect to Mr. Rabin.

5 Mr. Correll disclosed a supplemental report for 6 Mr. Rabin on his exhibit list for trial, which we received
7 a hardcopy of a few days before trial; and that supplemental 8 report contains a couple opinions that is analyzing and 9 summarizing Form 990 data. And both because of the timing
10 and also because with respect to one of the opinions, it's 11 of similar character to what was precluded with respect to 12 Dr. Harris.

13 We'd ask that Mr. Rabin not be permitted to 14 testify on those issues.

15 THE COURT: Well, two things. First of all, the 16 report, itself, I assume, is not being offered into 17 evidence.

18 MR. CORRELL: That's correct, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: That's generally not admissible.

20 I don't really know what you're talking about, so
21 I'm going to have to just assess it when I see it; but if 22 it's sort of a statistical analysis based on how many people
23 in the world report things, I certainly found that to be 24 not -- I mean, I kept out certain expert evidence. If this 25 is the same thing, then I would obviously keep it out. But

4 called as a witness in behalf of the Defendant,
5 and after having been first duly sworn/affirmed by the 6 Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as 7 follows:

8 THE CLERK: State your name.

9 THE WITNESS: Mark Ramin, R-A-M-B-I-N.

10 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Good afternoon. Step
11 close to the mike because it is a little soft.

12 THE WITNESS: Okay, how's that?

13 DIRECT-EXAMINATION

14 Q Mr. Ramin, would you please introduce yourself to the 15 jury.

16 A Sure. My name is Mark Ramin. I'm a CPA. I'm from 17 Texas. I have kind of a specialized practice in financial 18 investigations, litigation matters, damages assessments.

19 Q And what are you an expert in?

20 A I would say you know, obviously, business, accounting
21 and what I said in terms of my specialty in the litigation
22 matters.

23 Q What is your background?

24 A I -- I'm a graduate of the University of Texas. I got 25 a Bachelor's degree in accounting.

BP

4447

M. Ramin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q Did you study business administration, as well?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And what work experience have you had?

4 A So, after I got out of college, I sat for the CPA exam,
5 got my license and then I worked for large public accounting
6 firms in the auditing practice. And then over time, I moved
7 more into doing this type of financial investigation, litigation
8 matters.

9 Q And were you engaged to conduct a review in this case
10 and to offer opinions?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And were you -- could you tell us what work you did in 13 order to form a basis for those opinions?

14 A Sure. I looked at a lot of the information that was in 15 production in this matter and also read testimony from 16 depositions and, and then a lot of the -- a lot of my focus was 17 on financial information, the 990s, the audited financial 18 statements, the management letters issued by the independent
19 auditors.

20 Q And have you been following this trial?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Have you read the transcript of this trial to date?

23 A Yes, I've -- and then I've been here the last two days;
24 but, yeah, I've followed the trial pretty closely.

25 Q And what opinions are you prepared to offer if the

BP

4448

M. Rambin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 judge qualifies you as an expert?

2 THE COURT: Well, just the topics at this point.

3 Q What topics?

4 A The topics would be business organizations, the role of 5 a CEO in that. And then, also, about economic damages sought
6 against Mr. LaPierre.

7 Q How many business organizations have you worked with?

8 A Hundreds.

9 Q Have you had an opportunity to observe the CEOs in 10 those corporations interact with other officers or employees?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Have you been in a position to observe them interacting
13 with accountants?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Outside auditors?

16 A Yes, other experts. Outside, you know, things like 17 attorneys, compensation specialists.

18 Q And so the -- is one of the topics that you would offer
19 an opinion on the reasonableness of a CEO relying on 20 information, statements, opinions, reports, financial statements
21 prepared or presented by others?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And is -- are the other topic that you would opine on 24 is whether based on what you've seen in this case there's a
25 reasonable basis for calculation of damages?

BP

4449

M. Rambin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A That's correct.

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I move his admission --
3 his qualifications as an expert.

4 THE COURT: One question. On the reasonableness, I
5 think I permitted the other experts to talk about best
6 practices and not give an opinion on was the driver
7 negligent going through the red light, kind of thing.

8 MR. CORRELL: Fair enough. It would be on custom
9 and practice and based on his review, the conduct he's seen
10 is consistent with custom and practice.

11 THE COURT: Okay, any objection?

12 MR. CONLEY: Your Honor, we do not object to 13 Mr. Rambin's qualification as an accountant. We do object
14 to qualifications speaking on industry standards in a
15 non-sector.

16 THE COURT: I'll permit it and leave it for cross,
17 brief as though it may be.

18 You can proceed.

19 Q Mr. Rambin, would you give us a summary of your 20 opinions, please?

21 A My, my -- on the first point it's my opinion that it is 22 a standard practice. That's why organizations have -- have an 23 organization chart and have various areas of responsibility
24 because the CEO can't do everything. It is just physically 25 impossible.

BP

4450

M. Rambin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 And as we've heard from Mr. LaPierre and a lot of
2 people, he didn't spend a lot of time in the building. He was 3 out on the road doing public affairs and being the face of that
4 organization. So, that's -- that's especially, I think,
5 important in this situation.

6 Q And what evidence did you see in the record that led
7 you to that conclusion?

8 A Just seeing the overall structure of the organization,
9 the fact that you have a CFO, General Counsel. You've got a lot
10 of different heads of different divisions of the organization;
11 and then seeing that they're using outside auditors that they --
12 you know, outside counsel, outside professionals on 13 compensation.

14 You see all those things. So there's a reason that,
15 you know, one person can't do everything.

16 Q And is in your experience have you observed executives
17 hire people that they believe are reliable and then trust them
18 to do their jobs?

19 A Sure.

20 Q And is it to take a baseball analogy, is it like you
21 hire first baseman to play first base; you hire second baseman
22 to play second base and so on?

23 A Yeah, that's a good analogy.

24 Q And you don't necessarily want to have a pitcher
25 playing in the outfield, right, or vice versa?

BP

4451

M. Ramin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 A Unique player.

2 Q Let's go to the question of damages. Did you take a
3 look at the record to inform your opinion as to whether there's 4 a basis for calculation of damages in this case with respect to
5 Mr. LaPierre?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And what did you do?

8 A Well, I looked at all the information that's been made
9 available to me, and I see nothing that has specifically 10 identified damages that resulted from any act or inaction of
11 Mr. LaPierre.

12 Q And did you take into account the fact that 13 Mr. LaPierre had identified certain things that had been 14 accounted for in one way that where issues arose as to whether 15 they should be accounted for a different way? Did you look at 16 any of that?

17 A Certainly. I assume, you're referring to the amounts
18 that were repaid?

19 Q Yes.

20 A And, yeah, I've looked through that. I heard his 21 testimony about it and -- excuse me -- Ms. Rowling's testimony
22 was important to me. She went through it with fine tooth comb.
23 She probably shouldn't didn't use that term, but she did a memo
24 about it and testified about it. So, I felt pretty confident
25 that, that had been well addressed.

BP

4452

M. Ramin - by Defendant - Direct/Mr. Correll

1 Q And in your opinion, based on your background, did you
2 think that was an appropriate process that Mr. LaPierre followed
3 to, to identify things that he wanted to pay back and to make
4 sure those were paid back with interest calculated
5 appropriately?

6 A Sure. You know the fact that he went back, he had an 7 outside accountant do it. I think that that's real helpful; and 8 then the fact that he had the CFO look at it closely as well and 9 to the extent that she had other people assist as well.

10 Q Is there anything else you think you could tell the 11 jury to help understand the evidence in this case and reach a
12 just result in this case?

13 MR. CONLEY: Objection.

14 THE COURT: Maybe we can target it a bit.

15 Q Anything else that you can tell based on your 16 experience that you think might be helpful to the jury?

17 MR. FARBER: Objection. You just can't ask a 18 witness to tell the jury what it thinks it is going to be 19 helpful.

20 THE COURT: Yeah, I mean, is there a way to make it
21 a little more targeted than that?

22 MR. CORRELL: Yes, I can, your Honor.

23 Q Is there anything else you would like to say to the 24 jury?

25 MR. FARBER: Objection.

4 may know what's coming next. Maybe you can target it.

5 MR. CORRELL: I honestly don't, your Honor. I
6 think we can leave it there.

7 Thank you very much, Mr. Ramin. Thank you for

19 correct?

20 A My firm is getting compensated for my time.

21 Q And what is your hourly rate?

22 A 525.

23 Q And how much has your firm been paid for this
24 engagement?

25 A Probably a little over a hundred thousand.

M. Ramin - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 Q When you were deposed in this action, you testified
2 that the money that Mr. LaPierre had repaid to the NRA was a
3 receivable; right?

4 A Yeah, ultimately, that's right.

5 Q And as a receivable, you believe that it didn't cause
6 harm to the NRA; correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And --

9 A Let me -- with the fact that there was interest paid,
10 as well.

11 Q Right, but you believe that the NRA -- the money that 12 Mr. LaPierre repaid the NRA was just a receivable even before he 13 paid the money back; correct?

14 A Well, there was -- at the time I was testifying about 15 it, there was a demonstrated -- that was a demonstrated pattern.

16 Q This is a yes or no, Mr. Ramin. You believe that the 17 money that Mr. LaPierre repaid the NRA was just a receivable
18 even before he paid the money back to the NRA; correct?

19 A That's the way it worked out.

20 Q And you believed that it was a receivable regardless
21 whether Mr. LaPierre intended to pay the money back at the time
22 that he spent it; correct?

23 A I'm more -- his later intent was more important to me.

24 Q If Mr. LaPierre didn't intend to pay the money back,
25 that would have caused damage to the NRA?

BP

4455

M. Ramin - by Defendant - Cross/Mr. Conley

1 A Potentially.

2 Q And you'd agree that when an executive at a
3 not-for-profit diverts money away from the not-for-profit's
4 mission, that harms the nonprofit; right?

5 A It depends on the materiality. I don't think the 6 numbers we're talking about here are the type that had an
7 overall impact on the mission of the NRA.

8 MR. CONLEY: No further questions.

9 THE COURT: Okay, anything else?

10 MR. CORRELL: No, your Honor.

11 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: I believe that's the final witness.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor there is certain Board
3 books that we move to admit in evidence. And in the event
4 anyone objects, we'd like to get them in through Mr. Frazer
5 as previously noted.

6 THE COURT: Yeah. I have seen some email traffic
7 saying that the Attorney General objects on the grounds of 8 authenticity and foundation.

9 MS. EISENBERG: Right. So we would call Mr. Frazer
10 just to get that in, if that's the objection.

11 MS. STERN: Your Honor, they have already called 12 Mr. Frazer. All of the parties have already called him.

13 MR. PETERS: No. Mr. Frazer called Mr. Frazer.

14 MS. STERN: No. There was direct examination of 15 Mr. Frazer and a redirect by Ms. Eisenberg this afternoon.

16 THE COURT: I'm not really going to stand on 17 ceremony about something like this. The documents you want
18 to get in are all, Ms. Eisenberg, Board materials?

19 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, they are all Board books.

20 THE COURT: And the sole purpose of calling Mr.
21 Frazer, if you can, is to identify them as authentic and 22 business records?

23 MS. EISENBERG: That is correct.

24 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would call him if 25 necessary.

KM

4458

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Look, I'm -- I have discretion to let
2 you call him again. I assume this is really necessary, but
3 -- and it will be very short or you know -- I mean, just --
4 are these -- these are long documents.

5 Are you going to just look at the ones that are in 6 green on your email that the other defendants don't object
7 to or are you going to do the entire list?

8 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I was going to do
9 certain ones because I feel like I have to do them one by 10 one to get in at least some before we run out of time.

11 THE COURT: Well, the email you sent me, there were 12 five that you said that the defendants had no objections to.
13 Are those the five you wanted to get in?

14 MS. EISENBERG: So there are five that defendants
15 don't object to, but the NYAG does, and then the overall
16 list contains around 20 because the Board meets three times
17 a year, so we have three sets of Board books for every year,
18 and there are certain ones --

19 THE COURT: Your plan is to submit the entirety of 20 all Board books for the whole period?

21 MS. EISENBERG: My plan is to move to have -- admit
22 the ones that I have time to authenticate with Mr. Frazer or 23 I can just show him the first page of each one and have him
24 ask him whether he recognizes it to be a Board book for the 25 particular --

KM

4459

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: And what -- what's -- by listing these
2 in green, that means that one or more of the others object
3 to the rest of them?

4 MS. EISENBERG: Mr. Farber wasn't comfortable
5 consenting to them coming in because he wanted additional 6 time to review them.

7 MR. FARBER: Well, Judge, I -- during court today,
8 I reviewed the ones that the NRA gave me, and I gave back
9 them and told them I had no objections the ones I reviewed.
10 I think that's more than five. I didn't keep a record of 11 which ones I reviewed.

12 I have no objection to any of the ones that I
13 reviewed which is what I told them, but I do object to any 14 ones that I haven't had a chance to review.

15 THE COURT: The only issue I have is, look, the 16 purpose as I understand is at least in part to show the
17 process.

18 MS. EISENBERG: Correct, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: And I'm wondering whether there is a
20 way to do that without, you know, essentially sight unseen
21 just tons of documents just moving into evidence which then,
22 you know, is part of the trial record, and there is no real
23 limitation on it, and none of us -- at least, I don't, and 24 several of the parties don't know what's actually in them
25 substantively. So if all we are doing is -- it's designed

KM

4460

Proceedings

1 in part to show the jury that the Board members received
2 lots of information as opposed to going through each one
3 saying, well, this document says this, this document says
4 that.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor. I think it's a
6 little bit of each.

7 There are specific ones that are approvals or 8 and/or ratifications of related-party transactions with the 9 Audit Committee reporting that to the Board.

10 There is also the rescision of Oliver North's
11 contract with Ackerman. There is also a report of the 12 Security Operations Committee. So there are certain 13 features of some of these Board books.

14 THE COURT: But none of these were used with 15 witnesses when those topics came up; right?

16 MS. EISENBERG: That's correct, your Honor.

17 I mean, they may have been used for iterations.

18 THE COURT: Look, I mean we can discuss it a little 19 bit more, but I'm not comfortable with them coming in for 20 substantive purposes without some sort of a vetting as to 21 what's in them because I have no idea whether there could be 22 hearsay embedded within some of them. So that's why I was 23 really pressing for stipulation because then I have some 24 objective indication that there is nothing in there that's 25 objectionable on some other grounds. So I don't think that

KM

4461

Proceedings

1 just having a foundational, a broad level would be enough
2 for me to admit them.

3 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, if I may. Would it be 4 possible to have -- agree that they are not coming for the 5 truth of the matter asserted, only to evidence the legal act
6 of approval or ratification or only to evidence that a
7 report was made?

8 THE COURT: Well, I mean, the ones that you're 9 using to show validation and approval, that is a substantive
10 use. That's -- and you know, we have seen a lot of Board
11 minutes and Audit Committee minutes on these approvals, so I
12 think that whatever you intended to use with witnesses
13 you've used, and I don't know that -- I mean, it's not 14 intended as a document dump, but I don't have the ability to 15 assess all of that as one lump.

16 MS. EISENBERG: What about just four documents?
17 May I try to ask Mr. Frazer about just four of those?

18 MS. STERN: Your Honor, can I be heard before we 19 get to a witness in the last few minutes which we believe
20 that they are already out of time if they want their three 21 hours for their closing, but this is highly prejudicial.

22 They have had a long time to put in documents that 23 show what the Board did or didn't do. There have been 24 extensive reports from the Audit Committee. They are in the 25 record. They had an opportunity to do that. And to load

KM

4462

Proceedings

1 the record -- these are hundreds of pages. There is all
2 sorts of --

3 THE COURT: I agree. I agree. I just -- I think
4 if this was sort of an easy thing, I would be willing or if
5 it had been documents that came up and that just we forgot
6 to move them in, but they were shown or I would -- I would
7 as a courtesy allow them to come in in sort of a shortcut
8 way, but you know, it's -- there's honestly been plenty of 9 time to get in anything that's important, and I don't think 10 anything of utility is going to be given to the jury to just 11 say, well, all right. I have now admitted this hundreds of 12 pages here without any context or explanation.

13 I -- you know, I don't see how making that part of 14 the trial record does anybody any good. So I think, you
15 know, unfortunately there has to be an end, and the end of 16 introduction of evidence I think has come. So in the 17 absence of -- you know, frankly, it seems like a lot of 18 people are objecting to this procedure. I'm not comfortable
19 doing it just based on foundation and authenticity, so I'm 20 going to deny the request.

21 All right. With that, anything further from the
22 defendants?

23 MR. WERBNER: No, not -- your Honor, not from Mr.
24 Phillips.

25 THE COURT: Meaning?

KM

4463

Proceedings

1 MR. FARBER: Mr. Phillips rests.

2 MR. PETERS: The NRA rests.

3 MR. CORRELL: Mr. LaPierre rests.

4 MR. FLEMING: And finally, Mr. Frazer rests.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Well, that was very restful.

6 So we are going to try to maximize our time
7 tomorrow as best we can. We are going to do the closing
8 arguments as I mentioned. We have leeway if we need it, and 9 I suspect we might go till 5:30.

10 I would like to even potentially get started at a
11 tiny little bit earlier than we usually do. I don't know --
12 is it possible to get here -- I'm not sure when they let you
13 in the building so that we could start 9:15, 9:20 as opposed
14 to 9:30.

15 When do you usually get to the jury room?

16 VOICES FROM THE JURY BOX: Nine.

17 THE COURT: All right. So we will -- we will try
18 to get started as close to 9:15 as we can.

19 Does that work for everybody?

20 MR. FARBER: I think 9:30 is a safer bet just on 21 experience getting into the building for everybody, your
22 Honor.

23 MR. PETERS: Line can be very long.

24 THE COURT: I'm telling you what I'm thinking.

25 Usually we say we start at 9:30, and I usually

KM

1 don't get you out here until 9:45. So if I say 9:15, I'm
2 hoping to start at 9:30. I'm revealing State secrets here.
3 So we are going to shoot for 9:15, and I'm just trying to 4 accelerate everyone's time clock so that we can start as 5 close to somewhere between 9:15 and 9:30 as possible.

6 Okay. Look forward to seeing you all bright and 7 early.

8 Have a good night.

9 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

10 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
11 the courtroom.)

12 THE COURT: Okay. Can we just -- okay. Have a
13 seat.

14 So please, get me your comments as quickly as you
15 can on the verdict sheets and the instructions.

16 One thing I have been mulling. I talked to my law
17 clerks, and I have heard there was at least one strenuous
18 view in favor of this, and I think there is some sense to 19 it. The order of the claims that I listed in the 20 instructions and then followed in the verdict sheet didn't 21 really have any magic to it. It was just the way it came 22 out. I can see the logic which I think somebody suggested
23 to -- you know, claim one is the EPTL claim, so I'm fine
24 reordering the instructions and the jury verdict form so
25 that it follows the order that the complaint follows

KM

4465

Proceedings

1 starting with the EPTL. I think N-PCL is next.

2 MR. CORRELL: It is. The second claim is the
3 second cause of action 717, 720 against Wayne LaPierre.

4 THE COURT: And then the third would be the 5 Executive Law; right?

6 MR. CORRELL: That's correct, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right. I don't see any --

8 MS. STERN: I don't remember the order exactly, but 9 715 claims I think are in there and then Executive Law
10 claims.

11 THE COURT: Yeah. I'll -- but anyway, EPTL first.
12 N-PCL second. Then Executive Law third. I'm fine with
13 that.

14 I have seen that the government has taken a few of 15 the related-party transactions off the list. You know, my 16 inclination at this point now is the one that I had been 17 looking at was the MMP one, and while I think the argument
18 is strained and the burden obviously is on the State to 19 prove that there was some sort of connection between 20 benefits given to individuals and the transaction itself,
21 I -- I don't think I can say that it's irrational for 22 someone to conclude that given the timing of some of the 23 things, what happened, and the magnitude, you know so --

24 MR. CORRELL: May I be heard on that? I think
25 that's a mistrial, your Honor. The -- the claim was not

KM

4466

Proceedings

1 asserted against Mr. LaPierre. It was slipped in on the 2 last day of trial that he was deprived of notice.

3 THE COURT: I'm sorry. You know what, I was 4 thinking on the merits of that.

5 Has the State responded in any way as to why I
6 should permit it if it's not in the complaint?

7 I was focusing on the merits.

8 MS. STERN: We have put in a letter this morning on
9 that.

10 THE COURT: All right. Well, I will look at that 11 issue again because that did -- I'm sorry for jumping the 12 gun on that. The -- I think that is an issue I want to take 13 a look at because that does go more to notice than to the 14 merits.

15 And again, I think that the -- it's a somewhat
16 tenuous connection, but I -- you're right, Mr. Correll. I
17 was -- so many issues are coming at me at so many different
18 ways that I forgot the number of different arguments you had 19 on that one.

20 MR. CORRELL: Thank you.

21 THE COURT: I'll take another look at that, and we 22 will have time -- we don't have time to affect the closing
23 argument, I don't think. I'll try to give you an answer
24 before they start.

25 MR. FARBER: Judge, one thing that we did discuss

KM

4467

Proceedings

1 before, but just as a reminder, we raised with the Court and
2 I believe your Honor was going to inform the jury before
3 closing argument about the counts that had been dismissed or 4 that were no longer part of the case.

5 THE COURT: That's on my list.

6 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

7 MR. PETERS: And we also have put in our letter
8 that we don't believe that there's been anything close to 9 evidence showing that Millie Hallow was a key person within 10 the meaning of the statute. So you know, with all issues
11 back on the table, we hope -- we don't think there is any 12 basis for the kind of MMP ownership theory or financial 13 interest theory or Ms. Hallow.

14 MS. STERN: That's also addressed in our letter
15 this morning, and we withdrew it. Just to be clear though,
16 we withdrew the Hallow from the list because of the Statute
17 of Limitations issue. So it's in the letter that we sent 18 this morning.

19 MR. PETERS: Oh, okay. Thank you.

20 THE COURT: Makes me feel better is somebody else
21 is missing these letters.

22 MS. STERN: I'm going to raise an issue that I
23 think maybe the other side won't object to is that we would 24 like to propose to bring in coffee for the jurors tomorrow
25 and lunch on Friday.

KM

4468

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: I actually don't know whether there is
2 any policy regarding bringing sort of more food products
3 that are not water to the jurors. I'll find out.

4 I mean, I think it's nice, but I -- I just don't 5 know the answer to that.

6 MR. PETERS: Will they know the origin of the gift
7 they are receiving?

8 MR. CORRELL: On a mere serious note, the 9 allegation that hair and makeup is somehow a related-party
10 transaction was not in the complaint here, so my same
11 objection holds to that.

12 THE COURT: Right. Well, I'll read the letters and 13 let you know. I mean, it's not ideal for us to be working 14 on the verdict form during the closing argument, but it's 15 not unheard of. I don't think any of these issues
16 fundamentally affect the instructions because the 17 instructions are not going to list the related-party
18 transactions.

19 MR. CORRELL: There was one final issue that came 20 up in the conference which was my request that we stick as 21 close to -- closely as possible to the text of the statute
22 and rather than paraphrasing and transposing terms.

23 I know that instead of -- it may seem
24 insignificant, but instead of duty of care and good faith,
25 it should be --

KM

4469

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: The report that I got was that you
2 preferred the language before I monkeyed around with it this
3 morning. So that's --

4 MR. CORRELL: I'm not sure what I was looking at 5 because things are flying at me pretty fast too.

6 THE COURT: Yeah. I was -- actually, the only
7 reason I made the change this morning is because by 8 referring to whatever the duty is, I wanted to make sure the 9 language was broad enough to encompass the business judgment
10 rule part of the statute as well which is why I just said
11 violating the statute was really the overarching message,
12 but it appeared to get bad reviews; although, not to my face
13 which I appreciate.

14 I'll look -- I'll talk to the team upstairs who I
15 appreciate. And look, not that I -- you know, we may have 16 to have another little conclave over lunch where we hammer
17 out the last pieces of it, and that one I will go to, and I
18 hope not because I want to just be able to have everybody
19 focus on the closing.

20 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, just if I may be heard, I
21 believe I'm going first in the morning. And so the issue
22 that I raised with your law clerks about the Executive Law
23 and the removal of the portion of the statute that says for 24 removal of a person for violation of that law, they have to 25 be responsible for the statement. And then also --

KM

4470

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: The point I wanted to make to you and I
2 think I made this before is I haven't found any law anywhere
3 in the statute or cases that would give me anything to hang 4 on to to graft a -- some sort of an intent element to that
5 claim, and I'm happy to see any and review any cases you
6 have, but right now, it's just a -- if your responsible for 7 the statement and the statement's inaccurate, that's all you
8 need.

9 MR. FLEMING: Well, I was -- I understand from your 10 clerks that your Honor considered my request for scienter
11 element, and that's fine.

12 I was talking about a portion of what was in your
13 original charge which quoted from the statute which says
14 that a person to be removed from office needs to be 15 responsible for the statement, and that's no longer in your 16 charge.

17 THE COURT: You mean, the removal part? The removal
18 statute or the Executive Law?

19 MR. FLEMING: Well, it's the Executive Law, and the 20 penalty is, and I'm paraphrasing here, but that the Attorney
21 General can sue to seek removal of a person of an officer,
22 director, person responsible for the statement for the false
23 statement.

24 THE COURT: This is in the Executive Law?

25 MR. FLEMING: It's in the statute.

KM

1 THE COURT: Which statute?

2 MR. FLEMING: Section 175 of the Executive Law.

3 THE COURT: I thought they were only seeking
4 removal under the section of the N-PCL.

5 MR. FLEMING: No. No, they are seeking banning Mr.
6 Frazer.

7 THE COURT: If it's in the statute, I'll take a
8 look at that with my team. I need to let the court staff
9 go. I'll see you all tomorrow.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: All right. Good morning, everyone. I
2 know we have a lot to accomplish today, so I have a few
3 decisions to give you resolving things that we have been 4 battling back and forth both on the record and through
5 subsequent letters.

6 We -- before I get to that, I have all your
7 comments on the jury instructions and the verdict form.
8 Last night and early this morning, I have input all the ones
9 that I'm accepting, making changes. My team is upstairs
10 getting those all ready to circulate. I'll highlight a
11 couple of things though substantively now.

12 So first of all, related-party transactions. I
13 have read with great interest the letters and the statutes
14 and just as an aside, right now what I am giving you are 15 decisions. I'm not asking for argument. I've gotten the 16 argument. I promise you I have read everything you've 17 written, and no, I didn't forget that really great footnote
18 that had a reference to some case from 1860.

19 But having reviewed all of that, my first
20 conclusion is that the MMP vendor arrangement did not morph
21 into a related-party transaction simply because the owners
22 gave subsequent gifts or benefits. I don't think -- well
23 anyway, the conduct might give rise to other violations of 24 the N-PCL in connection with the relationship specifically
25 under the breach of duty claims but not under the specific

KM

4474

Proceedings

1 terms of the related-party transaction provisions of the
2 statute.

3 The question here boils down to whether a
4 reasonable jury could conclude that Mr. LaPierre had a
5 financial interest in the agreement or broader arrangements
6 between the NRA and the MMP entities.

7 First observation is certainly not in the 8 traditional sense of a direct financial stake which is the 9 normal situation. The question here is whether it can be 10 construed as indirect financial stake sufficient to trigger
11 the specific provisions of the statute as opposed to simply 12 the over-arching provisions relating to the duty of officers
13 or even the conflict-of-interest rules.

14 In thinking through it, I have tried to imagine
15 where the line would be crossed if things like gifts or 16 benefits provided by the vendor to the company to an 17 employee rendered a vendor contract a related-party
18 transaction. So vendors do lots of nice things for clients.
19 You know, is a really nice dinner enough. Two? Three?
20 Ten? I don't know when you would find that at some point
21 the relationship is sufficiently generous that you cross
22 over from a transaction that might involve breach of duties
23 somewhere along the line to an actual related-party
24 transaction triggering all sorts of corporate requirements
25 of Board approval and the like. I think it is quite a

KM

4475

Proceedings

1 slippery slope the way the Government is arguing it here.

2 You know, the rest of the related-party
3 transactions are, you know, much more straightforward by 4 contrast.

5 To give due respect to the statutory language, I
6 think it has to be more than what is asserted here with 7 respect to MMP so that the company and the individual has
8 some objective basis to determine whether Board approval
9 must be sought for the vendor agreement itself.

10 The Trump case which the Attorney General makes 11 quite a lot of is to me quite different. There, involved a 12 foundation question which made a specific bequest chosen by 13 the campaign and for which the campaign claimed credit. And 14 again the Trump case is to me a poor analogy generally
15 because the Foundation really there is essentially viewed as 16 a personal asset of the individual. It's much more akin to 17 an alterego than a vendor/client relationship. There is no
18 suggestion of that kind of a relationship between Mr.
19 LaPierre and the MMP people. They are friends. They 20 obviously -- there is all sorts of, you know, allegedly 21 lavish benefits that came along with it, but I just do not
22 see how it squares with the statutory language where you
23 look for a financial interest in the vendor arrangement.

24 And separately, even if I thought this would be a
25 related-party transaction, I would not exercise my

KM

4476

Proceedings

1 discretion to permit amendment at this late stage to add
2 this as a related-party transaction against Mr. LaPierre.
3 It could be against the NRA if it was -- otherwise met the 4 standard, but the Court has discretion as to whether to 5 permit amendments to conform to the evidence. They are 6 permitted for sure, but the Court always has discretion and 7 especially when it's being done at trial.

8 In my view, the related-party transaction claims
9 were pled very seemingly, specifically that the NRA there
10 was a long incorporated by reference list of all sorts of 11 transactions, and then the claims against Mr. LaPierre and 12 Mr. Phillips were very targeted to the post-employment 13 agreements.

14 So in any event -- so this transaction, the MMP is 15 out both for the NRA and Mr. Phillips. It's just not a
16 related-party transaction. I don't think a reasonable jury
17 could conclude otherwise.

18 The other one that was on the list I believe for 19 Mr. LaPierre was the hairstyling expenses. That one, you
20 know, I think arguably is a related-party transaction.
21 The -- although, Mr. LaPierre is not a party to it, I think
22 there is at least reasonable inference that he gets a
23 financial benefit out of certain expenses being paid for.
24 The -- there is certainly an argument that it's not a board
25 level kind of transaction and that the service was made

KM

4477

Proceedings

1 available to others, but I don't think the evidence is
2 conclusive on that, and both sides can argue it to the jury.
3 But again, as I said before, only as to the claim against
4 the NRA, I'm not granting an amendment at trial to add this
5 to the seemingly carefully pled allegations against Mr.
6 LaPierre personally. So I'm amending the verdict sheet to 7 move the -- that claim to the chart describing the NRA
8 claim.

9 And so the only related-party transaction I think I
10 have left for Mr. LaPierre is the post-employment agreement,
11 that 2018 amendment I think is what you've pled, and so
12 that's that issue.

13 Next is Mr. Frazer's arguments with respect to the 14 Executive Law. I have continued to mull this over reviewing 15 the arguments, the documents, the statute, and Mr. Frazer
16 through counsel has argued several times that there should 17 be some sort of a mens rea element to the claim. I have 18 pushed back pointing out that there is no precedent
19 supporting it, but as I've looked, I think that what's --
20 what's really going to on is -- is that it's just a 21 reflection that that claim doesn't come up, and there is 22 just not a lot of law one way or the other as to how to do
23 it. So I think a deeper dive was required.

24 I conclude when you put everything together that 25 the proper standard for finding an individual responsible

KM

4478

Proceedings

1 for an incorrect corporate filing is whether he knew or
2 should have known that the filing contained material
3 misstatements.

4 First of all, I did note that the complaint itself
5 makes that allegation. The complaint says that Mr. Frazer
6 is named in this claim which I think is the 15th cause of 7 action based on his certification and pleads specifically
8 that he knew or should have known that there were 9 misstatements in the filing. So the AG presumably believed 10 that was a relevant consideration. But beyond that, the 11 certification which is really the crux of the claim and is 12 part of the filing materials attest that the filing is 13 accurate to the best of his knowledge.

14 So I think when you put all that together, it
15 provides support that if you're going to hold an individual
16 certifier liable under the Executive Law which can lead to 17 things like removal, although not in front of this jury, I
18 think it's not a strict liability kind of a standard. I
19 think it has to be that the certification essentially is 20 also false, and I think the most rational way to apply that 21 and have some sort of the personal obligation there is to 22 use the words that the Attorney General used in the 23 complaint.

24 So I have added a "knew or should have known"
25 element to the claim against Mr. Frazer in my soon-to-be

KM

4479

Proceedings

1 revised instructions.

2 I do note that Mr. Frazer has mentioned Section 175
3 of the Executive Law which references potential injunctive
4 relief, that is, removal if the individual is "responsible"
5 for causing the violation. I actually don't think that part
6 is relevant to the instructions here. The only for-cause
7 removal claim that the jury is going to be considering based 8 and all of our pretrial work in my opinion is under the 9 Not-For-Profit Corporation Law. 706, I think it is. And 10 that's the only one that's in the instructions.

11 This jury is not going to be asked whether there is 12 cause for removal. I think that is a phase two issue. If 13 the jury finds that he violated 172, then I think it would 14 be up to me to determine whether that remedy which is a
15 non-monetary remedy applies.

16 So the third thing I wanted to tell you -- so
17 that's that. I -- after hearing the testimony yesterday and 18 then also doing some cross checks to make sure that the 19 instructions and the verdict form were consistent, I noticed
20 that we didn't have an instruction about how to provide a 21 credit for repayments made by Mr. LaPierre as part of the 22 damages analysis.

23 The first thing I did in the damages analysis, by 24 the way, is include the traditional language which I didn't
25 have it in there. The fact that I'm giving them a damages

KM

4480

Proceedings

1 instruction doesn't mean they should find damages. That's
2 sort of standard language. But as to the credit here, what
3 I have drafted in substance, and I just wanted to give you
4 notice since it's not something you've seen before, and I
5 think you'll see why based on the testimony yesterday I feel
6 like it's worth explaining. Here's what I have.

7 During the course of the trial, you have seen and
8 heard evidence regarding payments made by Mr. LaPierre to 9 the NRA with respect to prior transactions or events.

10 If you find Mr. LaPierre liable for damages on any 11 claim, you must determine whether and to what extent he is 12 entitled to a credit for amounts he has previously repaid to 13 the NRA to compensate for such damages.

14 Mr. LaPierre bears the burden of proving
15 entitlement to such a credit. To be entitled to a credit
16 against damages awarded in this case, Mr. LaPierre must 17 prove first that a payment was made; second, Mr. LaPierre
18 must prove that the payment compensated the NRA for some or 19 all of the damages for which you found him to be liable.

20 For example, if you found Mr. LaPierre liable with 21 respect to a transaction occurring on January 1, 2018,
22 payment made by Mr. LaPierre to compensate the NRA for
23 losses sustained in connection with that very transaction
24 can be subtracted from your damages award in this case.
25 That would avoid the NRA obtaining a double recovery.

KM

4481

Proceedings

1 On the other hand, if Mr. LaPierre's previous
2 payment was made to compensate the NRA for a different
3 transaction occurring on say January 1, 2013, that is prior 4 to the relevant period and not part of your verdict in this
5 case, he would not be entitled to a credit for that payment
6 against damages sustained in the 2018 transaction.

7 In that situation, awarding full damages for the
8 2018 transaction would not be a double recovery by the NRA.
9 That's the end of that.

10 I have already had instructions saying that, you
11 know, you can consider prior repayments and the like as part
12 of the good faith and all of that, but this is just in terms
13 of damage calculation. It just seems to me they need to 14 understand it's not -- you know, let's say it's a million
15 dollars. You just don't lop a million dollars off of what 16 they award. There has to be a connection between the 17 damages awarded and the amount repaid. So I thought that 18 was a missing piece that I added.

19 Final thing, I received a formal request for jury
20 instruction from Mr. LaPierre's counsel this morning, and I
21 think as required, I need to give you an answer before the 22 closing arguments.

23 I'm denying the request for this jury instruction
24 which again to be clear, I understand why you did it in 25 writing because that's what the statute talks about. These

KM

4482

Proceedings

1 are all consents that I have seen in comments to the 2 instructions. I'm going to continue to adhere to the --
3 with respect to describing what the duty is under the 4 statute, I think my proposed instructions just faithfully go
5 through what the statute requires, and I think the 6 references to other concepts that are not in the statute
7 really would not be appropriate to add.

8 So you've made your record. You have asked for 9 that instruction. I'm going to adhere to the instruction
10 that I have now circulated a few times and will circulate
11 again this morning.

12 Okay. I think those are the preliminaries I had.
13 And as I said, hopefully, we will circulate to you what I
14 consider the final instructions. I will certainly listen if 15 somebody has a comment or objection with respect to 16 something new that has been added. I do not need to hear
17 the same comments that were made. If I didn't accept them,
18 don't assume that it's that I didn't know about it. I
19 considered it and I rejected it or I accepted many of them
20 including for the NRA's benefit. There was a -- I took out
21 the parenthetical reference to members, and I think I added
22 that and hadn't really thought it was controversial, but 23 since it is, I took it out. But there are all sorts of 24 other things that you'll see, but I took a lot, and I didn't
25 accept all of them.

KM

4483

Proceedings

1 So I assume in terms of the allocation of time,
2 first of all, have you all agreed who is going first, second
3 third and fourth. I don't need to to mediate that.

4 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I don't know that there's 5 been agreement, but I think we should follow in reverse
6 order. That's how I am planning to present.

7 THE COURT: Well, look, I don't think there is a
8 rule. I just -- I don't want to scrum running up to the 9 microphone so.

10 MR. CORRELL: There is a rule.

11 THE COURT: Well, the rule is plaintiff and 12 defendant inverted. It doesn't talk about within
13 defendants.

14 MR. CORRELL: It actually does, your Honor.

15 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor --

16 MR. CORRELL: It says in the reverse order of the 17 presentation, and it says each party shall have the right,
18 so it really turns it over on its head.

19 THE COURT: All right. Well, that's fine with me.

20 MS. ROGERS: If I may suggest something. I think 21 the only two parties with significant demonstratives are the 22 NRA and the Attorney General.

23 We had discussed exchanging those last night, but 24 we weren't able to reach an agreement on when so we still 25 have not, and we need to both update them I suspect to

4484

Proceedings

1 reflect the verdict form changes. So the NRA would be happy
2 to go last among the defendants which would give us time to 3 exchange.

4 THE COURT: That would happen under Mr. Correll's
5 thinking also.

6 Look, I guess it makes sense if you want to do it
7 that way. In terms of the allocation, I put 45 across the 8 board for each. I said I was -- if the parties wanted to 9 have it divided up differently, I would do that. But are 10 you keeping with 45 each?

11 MR. CORRELL: I'd like my 45, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. CORRELL: I may not use it all.

14 THE COURT: Then what was the order then? It's 15 going to be -- is it Frazer first? Is it the way you're 16 sitting; Frazer than Phillips?

17 MR. FLEMING: It appears that way.

18 THE COURT: Frazer, Phillips, LaPierre, NRA and 19 then AG.

20 All right. I assume you'll be keeping track of 21 your time. I will be doing it too. We have -- you know, I
22 don't know if you want a five-minute warning from me or not.
23 I don't know if you have some other way of keeping track of 24 what you're doing.

25 MR. FLEMING: I would like a five-minute warning in

KM

4485

Proceedings

1 case I lose track.

2 THE COURT: I will do my best. If I don't, somebody
3 from the side can throw something at you.

4 All right. Everyone else ready to go?

5 All right let's get the jury. I will mention the 6 fact there are three claims that have been narrowed.

7 MS. CONNELL: With regard to the removal claim, I
8 think this is not in the charges or the instruction; but 9 would it be okay if the State made reference to the fact
10 that the scope and length of any removal will be determined
11 by the Court?

12 MS. ROGERS: I think if we utilize that, then the 13 NRA would want the ability to suggest that this is not just 14 a finding of their cause. This is a finding of these people
15 being kicked out of their jobs.

16 THE COURT: I think it's better not to leave it to 17 them to speculate as to what's happening next. We haven't
18 really talked about them having a second phase. Nobody knew 19 about that. I think it's clear enough the way it is 20 recommending cause removal is accurate.

21 MR. CORRELL: I object to the inclusion of a
22 determination of whether there was cause for removal of Mr.
23 LaPierre. He's gone. I think the element of -- one element
24 of that cause of action is that you actually be an officer.

25 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the other thing, and I'm

KM

4486

1 sorry to bother you, the last thing. There's been a lot of
2 talk about dissolution in the NRA.

3 Could the Court make clear that that's not an issue
4 in this trial?

5 THE COURT: That's -- I had planned on saying that.
6 I'll make that as part of the same discussion with 7 narrowing, but I'll just say that you have heard about that.
8 It was in the case originally. It's no longer in front of 9 you. It's no longer in the case.

10 MR. CORRELL: Yes, but your Honor, Mr. LaPierre --
11 I'm entitled to talk about it as one of the circumstances.

12 THE COURT: Yes. The reason I let that stuff come
13 in is because it's -- it became relevant to decisions that 14 were made at a time when it was in the case. So it was just 15 part of the factual story. But I think they may not know
16 that it's no longer in the case.

17 All right. Let's bring them in.

18 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

19 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
20 courtroom.)

1 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

2 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
3 courtroom.)

4 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please have a
5 seat. We got here almost about when I thought we would get
6 started.

7 So, starting this morning and throughout the day
8 you're going to be hearing closing arguments. As I
9 mentioned during opening instructions, just remember closing
10 arguments are not evidence, the arguments of counsel. All
11 the evidence is in now and admitted and in front of the you.

12 A couple of the notes on the scope of the case. It
13 happens a lot during trials and cases, frankly, that claims
14 start narrowing, and there's a couple claims that were --
15 have been narrowed and are no longer in front of you.

16 There were claims against the individual defendants
17 under two different statutes. One was the -- is the 18 Not-For-Profit Corporation Law and one is the Estates,
19 Powers and Trusts law. And at this point now, since 20 essentially they were charging the same conduct and seeking 21 mostly the same things, I've concluded that it can just be 22 the claim under the Not-For-Profit Corporation Law; and the 23 claim under the EPTL as to the individual defendants no
24 longer is going to be in front of you. From your 25 perspective, all that does is make the jury verdict form

BP

4488

Proceedings

1 shorter. And, so, since you heard about that, those claims
2 in the openings, I didn't want you to be confused when you
3 didn't hear about them in the closings.

4 The EPTL claims still exist as to the NRA, but not
5 as to the individual defendants; and the individual
6 defendants still have claims under the Not-For-Profit
7 Corporation Law, and then there's one claim under the 8 Executive Law, which we'll get to when we do the 9 instructions.

10 Another thing, during the course of the trial there
11 was reference to a dissolution claim to dissolve the NRA.
12 That was in the original complaint back in 2020. It no
13 longer is. So, that is not in the case. It is nothing for 14 you to -- nothing for you currently to think about. It is 15 part of the story. So some people have brought it up during 16 the course of the trial to explain various things that were 17 done, but it is not in the case.

18 So, you know the claims that are in the case and 19 that is not one of them.

20 All right, and, again, just a reminder that we 21 have the flexibility to go past five today to five-thirty or 22 so. I suspect we'll need to do that.

23 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I just may request
24 that you also instruct as to the other claims that are no
25 longer in the case that went out with the dissolution

BP

4489

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 claims; in particular, the unjust enrichment claim?

2 THE COURT: The only reason I'm meaning the
3 dissolution is because it came up, and the other claims did
4 not. During the course of a lawsuit claims come and go, and 5 so all you need to worry about is what's in the case now.

6 All right, we're going to -- with closing arguments
7 as I mentioned, we're going to do it in reverse order of 8 what you heard in the beginning of the trial.

9 So, we're going to start this time with Mr. Frazer.

10 THE COURT: All set. Mr. Fleming, you may start.

11 SUMMATION BY

12 MR. FLEMING:

13 MR. FLEMING: Good morning. I guess it is true
14 that the last shall be first after all.

15 As you know, I'm standing up for John Frazer. I
16 don't know that there's anymore to say that hasn't already 17 been said. I, also, don't know whether you want to hear,
18 quite frankly, anything further.

19 You've heard it all. I've watched you listen
20 attentively, impressively. For this, speaking for John and 21 myself, I can only express our sincere thanks. You're doing
22 a great thing. You're sitting to judge a person in a
23 critical moment of his life.

24 In the beginning of the case I ventured a
25 prediction. I said I recognized how annoying and what an

BP

4490

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 imposition this is, an extraordinary one, six weeks,
2 six weeks; but I said -- and I may be wrong, I may be
3 presumptuous -- but I said that you would grow to value this 4 experience. You'll remember it. It will be important to 5 you because a great thing has been requested of you.

6 It is incredibly important to John Frazer and his
7 family. You've sacrificed six weeks of your life to listen
8 to a case brought by the Attorney General of the State of 9 New York against John. So, what you're being asked to do is 10 bigger than yourselves and that makes it great.

11 Now is the time for the case to be yours. I have 12 tried my best to show you John Frazer's unrelenting good
13 faith in the affairs pertaining to the National Rifle
14 Association. I've tried to clarify issues for you. I hope
15 you think that that's true. I've tried to explain why
16 plaintiff's case has no merit against him and why you should 17 return a verdict in John's favor.

18 But now the case is being given to you at last, and 19 I ask and I know that you will give it the great care it
20 deserves.

21 So, this is the last time I will get to speak on 22 behalf of John. The plaintiff gets to go last here. Those 23 are the rules and they may raise things I have no
24 opportunity to speak to or rebut, so I need you to do me a
25 favor. I need you to keep our invoice in your head. I need

4491

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 you to make them explain things to you. I believe we had a
2 factual response to everything they raised, but now we won't
3 have that opportunity to do that anymore.

4 So, I need you to carry us with you; and when or if 5 they raise something, okay, think what we would say, think
6 how we would respond to it because every time they raise 7 something, there was an answer.

8 Now, I told you in the opening to use your common
9 sense, your other natural gifts, your experiences to 10 analyze, think, scrutinize everything. Judge the facts of 11 this case using your gifts is all we need. It's all we 12 need. Use your natural reason and your judgment and that 13 will be plenty for us.

14 Now, plaintiff -- I think you know this, but I'm 15 emphasizing this -- they have the burden of proof. Ask
16 yourselves have they proven their allegations? I told you
17 in the beginning of this case, six weeks ago, there's one
18 issue in this case we believe: Good faith.

19 Did John Frazer act in good faith and use
20 appropriate care? More precisely, the plaintiff has the 21 burden of proving to you, proving to you that John Frazer
22 has failed to discharge the duties of his office in good
23 faith with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like 24 position would exercise under similar circumstances; have 25 they proved that? Have they come even remotely close to

BP

4492

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 proving that?

2 I submit that the evidence in this case establishes
3 that John has acted at all times, at all times in the best
4 interest of the organization he serves. I submit there is 5 no evidence that he has acted in his own interest and that 6 he has subordinated the interest of the organization to his 7 personal interest.

8 You've heard this evidence, everything. You've
9 seen John. John Frazer is the walking embodiment of good
10 faith; and, yet, we're still here fighting an adversary that 11 you heard publicly alleged that he used the NRA for his 12 personal gain without any evidence and, indeed, contrary to 13 fact and in the process destroyed valuable relationships, 14 personal and work relationships and still now wants you to 15 remove him from his job and livelihood and take away every 16 penny that he richly earned.

17 I was struck yesterday, yesterday, that we still 18 see this instinct, this opposition to what seems clear to 19 me.

20 It was in the questioning yesterday, which you all
21 heard, where the plaintiff seemed to be challenging
22 Mr. Frazer that whether he was telling the truth about his 23 attendance at the September 2016 Audit Committee meeting.
24 He was there. He testified. Ms. Rowling testified that 25 way. Mr. Cotton said that these transactions were all

BP

4493

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 approved in 2016. John, of course, was an eyewitness
2 present there and, yet, he was being questioned as if he's
3 just making it up and this was all because his name wasn't
4 recorded on a document having been there that someone else
5 had written. Even though, as you know, he had orchestrated
6 the very policy, the conflict-of-interest policy that was
7 passed in January 2016, which enabled these Audit Committee
8 considerations of related-party transactions; and even 9 though the testimony was clear that he presented to the 10 Audit Committee all of these related-party transactions; and 11 even though Ms. Rowling said she was present, and even 12 though she said and John said and Mr. Cotton said they took 13 place and that she, Ms. Rowling, finalized the minutes that 14 Mr. Frazer had put together.

15 This was uncontroversial testimony. It had already 16 been established and, yet, there was this pushback.

17 Now, if it was to suggest that Mr. Frazer doesn't 18 deserve credit for his work in helping these related-party
19 transactions to be considered by the Audit Committee, that's 20 fine. John is not interested in credit. He doesn't even 21 want credit. If you asked him, he'd probably deflect
22 credit; but fairly all he wants is not to be accused of not 23 acting in the best interest of the NRA because that would 24 not be true.

25 So, if plaintiff wants to give credit to someone

BP

4494

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 else for this undoubtedly positive development, so be it,
2 fine. Let them have that.

3 The important point is that it happened. It was a
4 positive development for the organization and that
5 Mr. Frazer supported it and worked to help make it happen.
6 He told you the Audit Committee's intent at that time was to 7 ratify old contracts. You heard this. These were contracts
8 created 2008 or earlier, well before the law changed that 9 occurred and to approve them going forward.

10 And you'll remember, I sat up here and struck out
11 time after time after time trying to get this document into 12 evidence so that you, the factfinders, would have a fact
13 that you could consider and should consider. I was opposed
14 every step of the way.

15 Meanwhile, while they're fighting me to keep this
16 document out, there is this counterfactual, non-reality
17 suggestions taking place that these transactions weren't 18 approved until 2017 at the earliest from Ms. Froman. That 19 Mr. Butz had not been approved in advance until 2019. And 20 there's even one time when I was asking Mr. Hines trying to 21 get the document in through him and was unsuccessful, they 22 got up and said -- I'll tell you they said, disclosing
23 amounts someplace else within this 990 was not the same as 24 having the NRA's Audit Committee approve a related-party
25 transaction in advance; and, meanwhile, they had all the

BP

4495

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 documents showing that that's exactly what had happened.

2 So, yesterday, I was struck with this question.
3 What does this say about their case? They brought a case
4 seeking the corporate death penalty, and they included John
5 Frazer sight unseen -- never spoken to before -- in a
6 massive filing; and now it appears they're fighting to keep
7 facts from you, the factfinders, the sole reason you're here
8 for six weeks is to find the facts and they're trying to 9 keep facts away.

10 Is this now their case who? Has the good faith
11 here?

12 I don't want to bore you, so I'm going to go
13 quickly through stuff I think you know so well by now.

14 In 2014, the new law was passed. In 2015, John was 15 hired. In 2015, that first year he worked to create a new 16 policy which would bring the organization in compliance with 17 the law, he did so. It was passed by the board in 18 January 2016.

19 The plaintiff, themselves, say that the policy is 20 comprehensive, and it covers conflicts of interest more
21 broadly than were required by New York law.

22 Those are unchallenged facts.

23 He also in 2015 started to enhance the 24 questionnaire for the self-disclosures that is required by 25 directors and others to disclose potential conflicts of

BP

4496

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 interest that can then be considered by the Audit Committee
2 and the board.

3 He, also, in that year began working with the 4 accountants, the internal accountants -- if you'll recall --
5 to develop this crosschecking system because the accountants
6 knew whoever was paid money out of the organization and if 7 they recognized the name of a director, let's say, who
8 hadn't disclosed on the financial disclosure questionnaire
9 that he had a transaction, the accountants knew him, would 10 say, John, look Director X got a payment you might want to 11 look into it. He worked to do these things. Good faith.

12 We saw after the January 2016 policy was adopted by 13 the board immediately. At the March 2016 Audit Committee
14 meeting, the Audit Committee for the first time considered
15 these related-party transactions.

16 There's an Audit Committee report at JFX 52. I'm 17 just going to give you numbers. I just can't burden you
18 with too many documents. You've seen them all already. I
19 trust you'll remember these. That said in March that they 20 cleared the underbrush. They got rid of those transactions
21 that qualified for exceptions; and they deferred, if you
22 remember, the more substantial transactions to our next
23 Audit Committee meeting in September. That's what it said.

24 That in September, not surprisingly, this is the 25 document we preferred to get in, they considered these

BP

4497

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 transactions; and they voted to approve them as fair,
2 reasonable and in the best interest of the NRA in compliance
3 with the legal requirement. That Document was PX 2586.

4 They also met in December 2017 which I showed you.
5 That's document JFX 66A. That's where there was a 2017
6 transaction that had been entered into by Mr. Keene. You
7 may remember David Keene. Mr. Frazer found out about it in 8 the late fall, brought it immediately to the Audit Committee
9 and they voted to ratify that transaction.

10 Quick footnote: Mr. Frazer also explained that in 11 the early years because of his reading of this -- the bible
12 for parliamentary procedure called Robert's Rules of order.
13 He interpreted that a committee of the board should decide
14 what it decides. It can keep minutes of the details of what 15 they do, but they need not burden the record for the board
16 with all the detail. Robert's Rules said that. It says --
17 what he testified to is that it said tell the board what was 18 done, not what was said. And that's what they did.

19 So, for two years they had minutes and a report.
20 The Audit Committee had Audit Committee minutes and an Audit
21 Committee report, and the report would go to the board and 22 it didn't include the detail that was in the minutes.

23 That in 2018, as you all saw, it changed. They 24 decided to merge the two documents. No longer were there
25 minutes and a report. It was one document, a report that

BP

4498

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 had the detail, straightforward.

2 Now, I just talked about the early years, 2015,
3 2016, Mr. Frazer's first two years in this position. This
4 was before the 360-degree review that you've heard about
5 that Mr. LaPierre ordered when he found out that the organs
6 of New York State Government were aimed at the NRA. He said
7 he wanted a full evaluation of the organization's policies
8 and procedures, turning over every rock.

9 But even though what I've told you about of the 10 earlier years, which may not even come into consideration
11 with you with the work you need to do for some of these 12 claims, they're still important. Because they're important
13 to an evaluation of John Frazer's good faith. They're 14 important to his reputation, to his good name. It matters
15 to who he is as a person. It does, because he does things 16 the right way and always has. That's why these charges are 17 so unfair.

18 You've heard the expression, no doubt, that
19 character is what you do when no one is looking. I say it
20 is no less true that good faith is what you show about your 21 priorities when no one is looking; and in 2015 and 2016, the 22 man was doing his job and doing it well.

23 In -- it wasn't until 2017 that all of a sudden it
24 was a concern that outsiders are looking at this
25 organization.

BP

4499

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 In those early years, and in those later years, as
2 always was, John's priority -- singular -- priority was the
3 best interest of the National Rifle Association. There's no
4 evidence to the contrary. Proved it over and over and over
5 again.

6 Again, I'll go quickly. Compliance training
7 seminars, they instituted those. In his own words, he 8 hammered, quote/unquote, people to improve responsiveness
9 and timeliness. Before, people weren't always disclosing,
10 okay.

11 The plaintiff says to Mr. Cotton when he testified,
12 "You were getting this through John Frazer." Mr. Cotton
13 says, "No, you've got it wrong. John didn't know about it
14 because people weren't disclosing."

15 So, they did these seminars, hammered people. They 16 are hat a hundred percent now and have been for awhile.

17 Ms. Rowling testified. I asked her, Are these 18 compliance seminars helpful? She said they have resulted in 19 getting, quote, a lot more questions now from people based 20 on those seminars of what's appropriate or what's not,
21 including from board members. They call me directly. Good
22 faith.

23 You may have noticed all the plaintiff's objections
24 to introduction of evidence. Hopefully, you noticed how few 25 objections came from us. What does this say about the --

BP

4500

Defendant Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 their confidence in their case? You're the factfinders.

2 You need the facts. We welcomed the evidence.

3 Innocent men are calm. Innocent men are not tense. We have 4 nothing to hide. Do they? It is a fair question.

5 So, I'll move on. 2017, Mr. LaPierre orders his 6 360-degree review. The new treasurer, you remember
7 Mr. Spray, you've heard him a couple of times -- testified
8 that Mr. Frazer was a good partner whose work on the 9 360-degree review was, quote, a big help in getting us
10 forward.

11 In July, 2018, you heard about a group of 12 whistleblowers from the NRA Financial Services Division,
13 internal accountants coming forward with issues that they 14 called their Top Concerns. Let's look at evidence of this.

15 You saw Mr. Frazer met with those whistleblowers.
16 The whistleblowers were going to an Audit Committee meeting
17 on July 30th. They were nervous about it. They made their 18 presentation formally to the Audit Committee on July 30,
19 2018. Mr. Frazer met with them beforehand.

20 You saw a document, JFX 13. You saw the Document.
21 One of the relationships they listed in their Top Concerns
22 was called an arrangement called Grassroots Behavioral. At 23 that meeting before July 30th, John Frazer said, Don't make 24 anymore payments to Grassroots Behavioral. You saw the 25 document.

BP

4501

1 After the July 30th Audit Committee meeting,
2 immediately after, that night two of the Audit Committee
3 members, as you recall, had to leave early because they had 4 flights. John was the one gathered up the notes, gathered
5 up the key information, put it in a FedEx package, sent it
6 out that night to both of them, followed up with phone calls
7 with them to brief them on what had happened.

8 Ms. Rowling and Mr. Erstling, who you'll remember,
9 both of the whistleblowers testified Mr. Frazer was active
10 and attentive to their concerns. As you heard in abundance,
11 Mr. Frazer played a supportive, if not instrumental and 12 central role, in the followup to that whistleblower event.

13 He worked with Craig Spray who as I said called 14 him a great help. He did not call him a great hindrance.
15 He did not call him an obstacle. He said nothing of that 16 sort.

17 The point I'm making is that John Frazer is not 18 acting in bad faith. He's not opposing improvements of the 19 organization. He's not protecting the status quo. He's 20 helping. I'm not here to argue that John should be put on a 21 pedestal, that he should be given a medal for any of that 22 that he's responsible for all this, I'm not arguing that.

24
25

4502

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 MR. FLEMING: I am arguing that the man has acted
2 his whole life in good faith, and it's true in this case
3 because there is no evidence to the contrary.

4 Whistleblower Mike Erstling testified that Mr.
5 Frazer spearheaded compliance and related-party
6 transactions. You heard the testimony. He characterized 7 John's role in the improvements at the organization as 8 "pretty significant". He said "I believe Mr. Frazer has 9 been a great partner for me. You know, I've worked with 10 him. I've conducted compliance seminars with him. He's 11 helped me tremendously on the 990 and the 990T which I've 12 just taken over. So his review on these matters has been 13 excellent." That's a whistleblower talking.

14 There's is been evidence of Mr. Frazer helping 15 investigate Ackerman McQueen. You have heard about all
16 this. Okay. I don't know what we want to call it. That 17 was the cancer that needed to be cut out. And who was 18 helping? John Frazer was helping to do it. Again, playing 19 a key role. He hired a forensic accounting firm FRA to look
20 into the out-of-pocket expenses that you've heard so much
21 about.

22 As we saw with Mr. Hines, I stood there and took 23 you through the graph. The MMP expenses began to be
24 controlled almost immediately after that July 2018
25 whistleblowers meeting. And ultimately in 2022 when they

KM

4503

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 were able finally to renegotiate a new contract, those
2 expenses started to decrease.

3 Mr. Hines admitted in 2019 when unfavorable
4 articles began to be released about the NRA, probably from 5 Ackerman McQueen, but it doesn't matter, the testimony and 6 the evidence is that John began immediately to investigate
7 all of the issues raised in these articles, that he was 8 working with the Audit Committee chairman Mr. Cotton on 9 this, that he kept a list of investigations and their status
10 and spoke to him about it. Good faith. Good faith.

11 So you've also heard about his treatment of 12 internal complaints because the NRA -- and you heard it from 13 Mr. Cox was going through a change, a very chaotic change.
14 There was a lot going on.

15 So first, Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North; okay.
16 You saw him testify. You've heard so much about this, and 17 mention of Mr. North should be -- should include a man named 18 Richard Childress because they basically signed all the 19 letters together.

20 Okay. So though president of the NRA, Mr. North
21 had an undeniable conflict of interest. No question about 22 it. He was employed by Ackerman McQueen, the NRA's biggest 23 vendor, and the NRA and John were trying to get to the 24 bottom of that to find out what his relationship -- what his 25 contract really was all about, and you heard so much about

KM

4504

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 it. It took like nine months to get the contract, and it
2 was John who was pursuing it. He was trying to satisfy his
3 duty to determine the extent of a conflict of interest.
4 Even though this was the NRA president. I don't think that
5 point could be emphasized enough. Okay. It doesn't matter
6 that it was the NRA president. He had a conflict, and John
7 was pursuing it. Good faith.

8 So the evidence establishes irrefutably that the 9 very day that John was finally going to see this contract,
10 February 26, 2019, as seen in the email between John and 11 Ackerman McQueen's lawyer, okay, which is JFX 118 -- you'll 12 remember the testimony. Ackerman wouldn't show the contract
13 to NRA without Mr. North's approval. North wouldn't show
14 the contract to the NRA without Ackerman's approval. It
15 went like that for nine months. You remember this.

16 So on February 26, finally is the day he is going
17 to get the contract. On that day within hours of John 18 seeing this contract, Mr. North issues a complaint that the 19 Brewer Law Firm had not been properly engaged by the NRA
20 because the NRA had not followed to the letter its 21 procurement policy. Okay. Didn't get signatures and things
22 of that nature.

23 So what does John Frazer do? Putting all
24 reasonable suspicions aside that maybe Mr. North is not 25 being genuine in his complaint given the timing, puts that

KM

4505

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 all aside, treats it like any other complaint immediately
2 with seriousness. That day or maybe the next day he engages
3 a law firm to give an opinion about whether the NRA's in 4 violation of its policy. Taking it seriously. Responding
5 immediately.

6 Do we recognize a pattern yet? Within 23 days, the 7 outside law firm specialist issued its legal opinion which
8 resolved the issue. It confirmed that the Board had in fact
9 approved the engagement because it knew about it. It had 10 paid under it. It had essentially ratified and waived any 11 -- any violation of the policy. So that issue was resolved.

12 Now, this is important. The law firm also in its 13 opinion provided guidance to Mr. North. You want to get rid 14 of the Brewer Firm? Here's how you do it. You go to a
15 committee of the Board which you are the president. You can 16 call on 48-hours notice and you can get it done. He never 17 did it.

18 Instead of taking that principle path, he starts to 19 complain about the size of the Brewer bills. And you
20 remember Ms. Froman. She spoke to Mr. North and she said he 21 was like a robot. He just kept saying, they are too high,
22 they are too high. And she kept saying, well, why do you
23 say that? He said, they are just too high. So she started
24 to discount him.

25 Now, lastly, I will tell you that same February 26,

KM

4506

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 2019 date, John Frazer did something else. He sent an email
2 to Mr. North, and he said, you want to see the bills? Here
3 are the bills. They are in my office. The ones you don't 4 have a conflict on, come see them any time. Guess what?
5 Those bills are still there. He never came.

6 Now, maybe Mr. North was enlisted by Ackerman to do
7 its bidding. John learned when he saw the contract that 8 North had a superior obligation of loyalty to Ackerman than 9 he did to the NRA. And Ackerman was certainly incentivized
10 to salvage this lucrative relationship, and you may find
11 they were nasty enough to do it in the way that they did it.
12 Whatever the reason, Mr. North's behavior shows it was never 13 a serious complaint. And even if it was, John Frazer
14 responded as he would to any real complaint the same way as 15 he does with all things. It's good faith.

16 Now, you heard Mr. Cox. He explained all that, and 17 it's really sort of simple. Ackerman was unhealthy in his 18 words. They were untouchable in his words, and the Brewer
19 firm was clearly at odds with Ackerman. So there was this 20 tension. And as I asked him, the untouchable, the unhealthy
21 was finally being touched and helped and brought back to 22 health. The cancer was being cut out, and it's really that 23 simple. But there is a lot of fallout from things like that 24 including this case because this is what engendered all of 25 the news articles. This is what engendered the

KM

4507

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 investigation. All of it.

2 Anyway, I'm getting off this topic in a second.
3 The Brewer invoices were a non-issue anyway because even
4 though Mr. North was complaining about it, John knew and had 5 already orchestrated a way that these things be reviewed.
6 He was reviewing the bills for reasonableness. Craig Spray
7 was reviewing the bills for reasonableness, and there was 8 even the insurance company that was reimbursing a portion of 9 these legal bills that hired -- the insurance company hired
10 their own lawyers to look into this. The insurance company
11 which we all know -- we all know insurance companies. You
12 pay them. You make a claim and then they are nowhere to be 13 found. Right. Same thing here. They have every incentive
14 not to pay. They even went to the expense of hiring a law
15 firm to review these bills. No doubt to try to cut them.
16 Even they reimbursed them almost in their entirety.

17 You heard about how this whole story ended with Mr.
18 North's extortionist demand, and he declined again to run
19 for president of the NRA. So there were other complaints.

20 Plaintiff likes to call them whistleblower
21 complaints. I don't think they are whistleblower
22 complaints. Within weeks of these newspaper publications
23 which John was already investigating, as I told you, and as 24 the documents said and as the witnesses said, directors
25 started raising this stale information. These news article

KM

4508

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 come out in or around April.

2 In June or July, directors are raising questions
3 about what is in these news articles. This is public
4 information. This is not new. And you heard about all
5 these things.

6 You saw Ms. Schneider get up here. You know, she 7 represented apparently a group of directors that were trying 8 to find out what this information or, you know, about the 9 allegations made in these newspaper articles. John, she 10 said, we're being stifled. Our information is being 11 stifled. It's not being sent to where it needs to go. John 12 takes it and sends it to the highest level of the 13 organization, to the president and two vice-presidents.

14 In fact, she admitted that. She also says, Can I
15 talk to you. John calls her. They speak for 40 minutes.
16 He explains to her that he is looking into all these things,
17 that there is a process, that they are undergoing it. She 18 didn't want to hear it. She wanted to be argumentative.
19 That's his testimony. But is this stifling of information
20 or is this responsiveness by a person who acts the same way
21 all the time? All the time.

22 So in the end, Ms. Schneider conceded that Mr.
23 Frazer was a lovely man and admitted that she voted for him
24 every time. And so I don't know. You guys are the fact
25 finders. I will leave that one to you to try to figure out.

KM

4509

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 Okay. You remember Mr. Rocky Marshall. This is
2 Mr. Marshall who, you know, is a very sure-of-himself
3 person. He would figure it out. He would fix the NRA after 4 a quick review of boxes and boxes of data which guess who
5 sent it to him on request. John.

6 Then later -- and by the way, Mr. Marshall was a
7 director for all of about nine months. But later when John 8 delivers news to the directors, the happy news that they 9 have secured directors' and officers' insurance even in the 10 face of this case, Mr. Marshall is impatient. He wants to 11 review that document right away. And John tells him two 12 things.

13 He says, first, our internal policy and direction
14 from above, from his bosses, the directors is that you've 15 got to come to headquarters to view financially sensitive
16 documents. And as John testified, Mr. Cotton had told him
17 that this is a financially sensitive document, and you have 18 got to make sure that people come and view it. That's point
19 one. Point two, he tells Mr. Marshall I don't have the 20 policy yet. Nevertheless, there is an email. Mr. Marshall
21 writes back, and you can see it. That's unacceptable. Let 22 me move quickly.

23 So you know, long story short. Mr. Marshall files
24 a ethic complaint against John before he's even gotten that 25 insurance policy to show it to him. John it brings to the

KM

4510

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 Audit Committee meeting in Charlotte. Mr. Marshall who says
2 that he was horrified that in an age of Covid he would have
3 to fly to Virginia to see that document, he flies to 4 Charlotte to the attend the Board meeting. John brings the 5 document with him to show him. He never asked for it.

6 Look, you know, I'm running out of time. So let me
7 just be really quick. There is a false statements charge.
8 Okay. This is the worst charge of all. There is one person
9 charged with false statements in this case. One person.
10 John Frazer. He is not an accountant. He is not -- he is 11 just a lawyer; and the 990, we went through the painstaking
12 explanation of how it's put together. Internal accountants.
13 Outside accountants. Experts.

14 You remember Mr. Sweeney. You remember Steve 15 Schulman. You remember all of these legends as they are 16 called who put it together. And Plaintiffs made an 17 accusation of certain falsities in the 990. I think what we 18 tried to show you is historically, you know, before John
19 even got there, it was all treated a certain way. Tax
20 returns are arcane and these instructions are very 21 complicated. We took you through the instructions. Like I
22 said, we have got nothing to hide. We kept showing you why
23 there were reasons for this business judgment. Okay. And 24 yet, they charge him, a non-accountant with false statements
25 in these 990s. It's just not right.

KM

4511

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 So look, I am cutting through a lot, but let me say
2 this. I'll just close. Plaintiff says that they represent
3 the People of the State of New York, and I submit to you
4 that's not right because the people of the State of New York
5 are you. Okay. You are the people of the State of New
6 York, and I ask you to be great for this moment. Forgive
7 me.

8 The proper discharge of your duties is justice. It
9 sounds highfalutin, but it's not, and justice matters to me
10 a lot. It matters to John, and I believe and suspect and 11 trust, it matters to all of you too. So we have asked you
12 to be just in this cause and I'm touched because I have full 13 confidence from my observations of your attention to which 14 as I said was so impressive to me. I have confidence that 15 that's what you'll do.

16 So I thank you on behalf of John Frazer who has 17 been my honor to represent. I ask you send him home with 18 his good name and reputation which he richly earned. Do not
19 send him home in disgrace because he doesn't deserve it. I
20 ask you to return a verdict in his favor against Plaintiff
21 because these claims against him are not warranted.

22 Thank you.

23 THE COURT: Thank you, Counsel. What I suggest we 24 do is maybe a stretch break. We will do two of these.
25 These are each 45 minutes. Then we will take a full break

KM

4512

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 after the next one, and then we will do two more.

2 So why don't you maybe get organized for Mr.
3 Phillips.

4 (Whereupon, at this time there was a pause in the
5 proceedings.)

6 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Farber, are you all set?

7 MR. FARBER: One moment.

8 MR. FARBER: Ladies and gentlemen, on behalf of Mr.
9 Phillips who is sitting right there as he's been for almost 10 the entire trial, on behalf of my colleagues Ms. Coutu and 11 Mr. Werbner, thank you for your time and attention over 12 these past six weeks.

13 What we thought would make sense this morning would 14 be for me to begin by explaining to you why the evidence
15 shows that Mr. Phillips did not violate either of the New 16 York State laws that the New York Attorney General claims he 17 did, and Mr. Werbner is then going to outline for you why
18 none of the conduct by Mr. Phillips that the State is 19 challenging even caused any damage to the NRA. We have 20 limited time to speak to you as you have seen, so we are not 21 going to be able to go through every single piece of 22 evidence or discuss every witness in this long trial.

23 In fact, many of them have little or nothing to do
24 with Mr. Phillips who as you know retired from the NRA back
25 in 2018 before much of what is at issue here even occurred.

KM

4513

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 And instead, what we are going to do and what I am going to
2 start by doing is to focus on the key points so that you can
3 see why the State's claims against Mr. Phillips both fail.
4 And to do that, I want to start by focusing you on what Mr.
5 Phillips is actually accused of. And there's been a lot of 6 testimony in this case. And although Judge Cohen will
7 describe a number of claims against the various defendants
8 here, there are only two claims left in this case against 9 Mr. Phillips, and the primary one is that Mr. Phillips
10 violated a -- allegedly violated his duties to the NRA of 11 care and good faith.

12 In addition, the State also claims that Mr.
13 Phillips caused the NRA to enter into what they say is an 14 illegal related-party transaction by executing a
15 post-employment contract with him. I'll come back to that 16 claim later, but I -- first I want to address the breach of 17 duty claim that I discussed a moment ago. And to start
18 with, ladies and gentlemen, let me just be clear, and I
19 think the evidence here has been clear.

20 Mr. Phillips did not breach any duties to the NRA
21 at any time. He devoted more than 25 years of his life to 22 that organization helping Mr. LaPierre to build that 23 organization into what it had never been and whether one
24 likes its politics or not, it became a far larger, far more
25 impactful organization when Mr. Phillips left it in 2018

KM

4514

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 than when he started there in the early 1990's.

2 Now, I said the same thing to you during my opening
3 but now you've seen the evidence, and I want to go through 4 that evidence with you and talk about what it shows.

5 And first, I'd like to look at the key transactions
6 that the State is basing its case on. The first of those 7 involves MMP. And as to Mr. Phillips, the criticism against 8 him is that he approved increases in fees beyond what the 9 MMP contract provided for, and that he did not get all the 10 proper approvals for those increases. But the evidence is 11 clear, ladies and gentlemen. From Mr. Phillips' standpoint,
12 these increases were well worth it. The scope of MMP's
13 services grew enormously over the years, and I'm going to go
14 through with you briefly some of the exhibits you have even 15 seen in this case. You have seen them already, so I'm not 16 going to spend a lot of time on them. I'm just putting 17 these up here primarily as reminders. And you will hear you
18 will have the opportunity to look at any of the exhibits you
19 want with you during your deliberations, but this is the 20 memo that was prepared describing the scope of the increase
21 in services, how MMP's responsibilities grew over time. And 22 you'll see at the top, the MMP entities now were arranging 23 all digital marketing for the NRA membership. You see they 24 expanded. And the third one there, membership acquisition
25 efforts. It goes on to talk about marketing efforts for the

4515

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Fleming

1 NRA Office of Advancement's planned giving programs.

2 The second bullet from the bottom talks about
3 managing the NRA's email list, it's extensive work that 4 never took place when this relationship began. And the 5 evidence also showed, ladies and gentlemen -- the undisputed
6 evidence showed the tremendous value that the NRA got from 7 those expanded services, the huge fundraising dollars that 8 MMP brought to the NRA. As Mr. LaPierre testified, in some 9 years MMP raised more than $200 million for the 10 organization. And remember, it wasn't just Mr. Phillips's
11 view that those increased fees to MMP were justified. You
12 heard testimony from both Mr. Spray by video and from Ms.
13 Rowling from that witness stand about how they each reviewed
14 those increases after the fact, and they also concluded that 15 they were justified.

16 Now, beyond that, it's important to remember that 17 Mr. Phillips was not some rogue employee off doing things on 18 his own in any respect. He approved those increases in 19 scope and payment for MMP at the direction of his boss Mr.
20 LaPierre, and Mr. LaPierre himself testified about that, and 21 this is just an example of the -- from the transcript.

22 You'll see he was asked on several occasions, you
23 have approved increases in the scope of work for the MMP
24 entities. Correct? Mr. LaPierre said, yes, we did. And he 25 said, and when you approved increases in the scope of work

KM

1 for MMP, that would increase the fees that MMP would charge.
2 Right? And Mr. LaPierre said, correct. I would have 3 discussions with them regarding the additional scope of 4 their duties, and then they would talk to our treasurer's
5 office. In those days that was Mr. Phillips about the --
6 about how that would increase fees, and Mr. Phillips carried 7 out what he was asked to do.

2 But, finally, and perhaps most significantly,
3 Mr. Phillips got nothing out of this relationship
4 personally. I mean, there's been a lot of testimony about
5 free yacht trips that Mr. LaPierre and his family took on 6 Mr. McKenzie's yacht; but that was Mr. LaPierre, not
7 Mr. Phillips.

8 The evidence is undisputed that the only trip that 9 Mr. Phillips took on a yacht of Mr. McKenzie's was this one
10 here that you're seeing. The one that he paid for with his 11 own money, this $25,000 check that he wrote for the race to 12 erase MS for a yacht trip that Mr. McKenzie donated to that 13 charity. That's MMP.

14 Let me talk about the second issue for a moment
15 that the AG's office has criticized, these out-of-pocket
16 expenses that were billed by Ackerman McQueen. And, here,
17 the criticism of Mr. Phillips is that he had Ackerman
18 McQueen bill certain expenses, including some of 19 Mr. LaPierre's travel as a single line item without 20 supporting detail. Well, you heard why that was done, too.
21 There was serious concerns for Mr. LaPierre's safety and the 22 need for confidentiality about his travel plans.

23 Now, you know, you've heard multiple witnesses talk
24 about how the NRA's controversial political positions have 25 created a lot of enemies; and Mr. Supernaugh, when she

BP

4518

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 testified, told you that it was an organization with
2 hundreds of employees and there was a legitimate concern
3 that someone with -- and these were her words -- wandering
4 eyes would leak sensitive internal information.

5 And she, also, told you in her testimony that the 6 lack of detail or backup on that invoice wasn't a problem
7 for the NRA or its Financial Services division because
8 Ackerman retained all the backup and the NRA could and did
9 audit it; and you know that that happened because 10 Mr. Winkler explained to you Mr. Phillips and Mr. Tedrick,
11 who was acting in Mr. Phillips direction and in later years
12 NRA lawyer, Steve Hart, all did that, all went and audited
13 those records, themselves.

14 On top of it, here, too, there was nothing in this 15 for Mr. Phillips personally, nothing for him in this 16 out-of-pocket billing arrangement. And the testimony of 17 their expert, Mr. Hines, brought that out.

18 So, I want to remind you this is one of these 19 charts that they put into evidence that shows all these 20 various expenses on the out-of-pocket expenses, and 21 Mr. Hines was asked, Well, do any of these relate in any way
22 to Mr. Phillips? And he talked about parking fees to 23 Mercury Group, and here's the slide that he used and I know
24 it is a little hard to read on this, but you'll see it is 25 parking.

BP

4519

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 (Displayed)

2 And this part of parking which he said was about 2
3 to 3,000 dollars in parking expenses which as you heard the 4 testimony related to times when Mr. Phillips would go and 5 park at Ackerman McQueen's headquarters on business for the 6 NRA. That's the only line item that relates to him.

7 Next, they talked to you about Gayle Stanford and 8 the private flights that she arranged for Mr. LaPierre.
9 Well, Mr. LaPierre needed to fly privately for security.
10 You've heard multiple witnesses talk to -- I think as 11 recently as yesterday you heard one of the witnesses,
12 Mr. LaPierre's expert explain the need for that. There were 13 legitimate security reasons to keep his itineraries and 14 destinations confidential. And, yes, Ms. Supernaugh would 15 and did modify the invoices that Ms. Stanford sent before
16 sending it through the payment process system because the 17 same concern for leaks that we were talking about a moment
18 ago.

19 But, again, Ms. Supernaugh explained to you that 20 the actual invoices, the ones that she got from 21 Ms. Stanford, she always retained them and they were always 22 available for outside auditors or anyone else who needed to 23 review those to see the underlying detail.

24 Now, there was certainly plenty of testimony in 25 this case and some other evidence about the fact that

4520

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 Mr. LaPierre may have taken advantage of this system for
2 private travel to arrange flights for friends and family.
3 But, ladies and gentlemen, those are not Mr. Phillips'
4 trips, okay; and there's no evidence that Mr. Phillips knew
5 at the time that Mr. LaPierre was doing any of that, if in 6 fact he was. That was the third thing.

7 What's the fourth? Well, you heard evidence and 8 the attorney general's office criticizes him for the 9 supplemental invoices relating to Under Wild Skies, and you
10 heard, ladies and gentlemen, what those were for. This was 11 the additional payments that went to Tony Makris's company
12 in connection with the TV shows and having to do with 13 hunting that he put on for the NRA.

14 Well, you also heard why these supplemental 15 invoices, what services they were for. Mr. Makris, in 16 addition to putting on these programs, would arrange for 17 high-net rally donors, prospective donors to come on these 18 hunts; and this was a vehicle for attracting high net-worth
19 individuals to be potential donors to the NRA. And that 20 benefitted the NRA and they chose Mr. Makris for this 21 because of the extensive connections that he had in his 22 network of people who would be able to do that and 23 Mr. Phillips gave you a prominent example of this.

24 Okay, he talked to you about a wealthy donor named
25 Robert Petersen who gave a $50 million gun collection to the

BP

4521

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 NRA, and that's now housed in the National Firearms Museum.
2 And when Mr. LaPierre testified, Mr. Correll introduced this
3 exhibit. This is a brochure from the National Firearms
4 Museum, and you'll see on this next one the Robert Petersen
5 Gallery. Robert A. Petersen is the individual that
6 Mr. Phillips testified to about who gave this $50 million
7 gun collection, and that's what the NRA was getting out of 8 these -- this work that Mr. Makris was doing on top of 9 simply the television productions.

10 And, again, once more, there was nothing in this
11 for Mr. Phillips. He didn't go on these hunts with Tony 12 Makris; and while, yes, Mr. Makris was like a brother to 13 Mr. LaPierre -- those were the words Mr. LaPierre used -- he 14 was just a business acquaintance to Mr. Phillips.

15 Finally, there's been evidence and the attorney
16 general's office criticizes Mr. Phillips for his role in 17 payments on consulting contracts. Okay, on all of these the 18 NRA got value for them. I don't have the time to go
19 through each every individual one that they criticize, but 20 I'm going to give you two examples just so you can see what 21 I mean.

22 They talked about Dave Butz. You remember Dave
23 Butz. He's the former NFL player. He got paid to serve as 24 a shooting instructor, a roving ambassador, essentially, for 25 the NRA. Ms. Supernaugh testified about him, and I think

BP

4522

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 about how he even instructed her on how to shoot firearms.

2 They, also, criticized the consulting arrangement
3 with Grassroots Behavioral Science. This was Brad O'Leary's
4 company. Mr. O'Leary was the predecessor to MMP in the 5 membership marketing business.

6 Well, you heard both Ms. Supernaugh and 7 Mr. Phillips explain to you how Mr. O'Leary was,
8 essentially, a marketing genius, an extremely talented
9 individual; and he continued to do research for the NRA and 10 continued to do fundraising for the NRA even after that 11 business was transitioned.

12 So, I've talked to you about these issues at the 13 heart of the case that they criticize Mr. Phillips for, and 14 point out how Mr. Phillips isn't benefitting personally from 15 any of them.

16 So, what do they say he benefitted from personally?
17 Well, really two things they criticize him for:

18 First, is the contract that the NRA entered into 19 with a company called HomeTelos, and this is the company you
20 see on the slide. If you can't, it is hard to read; but 21 this was for a contract for software development for the 22 NRA's website to support a program called NRA Outdoors
23 Outfitters that they were bringing in house. It had been 24 done by an outside service.

25 Ladies and gentlemen, this was a legitimate

BP

4523

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 contract, okay, that the NRA received value for. If you go
2 look, there's a contract review sheet. It has all the
3 required approvals, legal review from the office of General
4 Counsel, the Executive Vice President, Mr. LaPierre signed
5 it. The President at the time, I think that was Mr. Porter,
6 he signed it. Alan Cors, who was the First Vice President
7 signed it.

8 And, ladies and gentlemen, the testimony that 9 you've heard, the evidence you've seen is that the head of 10 IT at the NRA, Tony Hayes, chose HomeTelos on the merits.
11 It had nothing to do with the fact that Ms. Richards, one of 12 the principals, was a former girlfriend of Mr. Phillips.
13 There's no evidence of that.

14 And take a look, ladies and gentlemen, you saw 15 this, what the Audit Committee found when it went back and 16 examined the contract, okay.

17 The conclusion that the Audit Committee came to 18 when they went back and looked at this was that they 19 determined that the engagement was fair, reasonable, it was 20 in the best interest of the NRA when undertaken.

21 And they also reported here that you see at the 22 top, the NRA's managing director information services, Tony 23 Hayes, advised that he interviewed HomeTelos before engaging 24 it, determined that the vendor's proposal was satisfactory
25 and its pricing was reasonable, relative to pricing of

BP

4524

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 similar services.

2 And he did that when he was unaware of the 3 relationship between Mr. Phillips's friend and HomeTelos.
4 He wasn't influenced by that at all.

5 And, then, in item five, he reports:

6 That HomeTelos satisfactorily performed the 7 services for which it was engaged. And based on all of 8 that, the Audit Committee came to a determination that it's 9 fair and reasonable in the best interest of the NRA to 10 ratify and approve the HomeTelos engagement.

11 That was the Audit Committee shared by Mr. Cotton
12 who's sitting there in the audience. You remember the poor
13 man had to testify, I think, over a course of a week, three 14 or four different days; but he's been nice enough -- welcome
15 back, Mr. Cotton -- to and join us here this morning. And 16 this was the Audit Committee meeting back in the days when 17 he was chairing the Audit Committee, and that was the 18 conclusion that he and his committee reached after looking
19 at this. And that wasn't something that Mr. Phillips needed
20 to disclose to the Audit Committee, by the way, or get 21 special approval for.

22 The NRA has a related-party transaction policy. I
23 reviewed that with you -- in fact, I think it was maybe when 24 Mr. Cotton was testifying -- and it is clear that this 25 policy doesn't include former girlfriends or current ones,

BP

4525

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 for that matter; and it was perfectly reasonable for
2 Mr. Phillips to rely on that policy to mean what it said.

3 The Audit Committee only reviewed that policy later
4 on and approved it at an abundance of caution because of the 5 hypersensitivity that the resulted from the warning that
6 Tom King, remember the board member from New York testified
7 that he received from then attorney general, Eric
8 Schneiderman.

9 The fact that Mr. Phillips embraced that effort and 10 disclosed it in an abundance of caution, which is -- which 11 is what's reflected on these minutes, that doesn't mean that 12 he needed to get approval in the first place.

13 So, what's the second thing that they criticize him
14 for? Mr. Phillips post-employment consulting agreement,
15 okay. That's what they claim is an improper related-party
16 transaction. They claim that Mr. Phillips caused the NRA --
17 that he caused the NRA to enter into it.

18 But, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Phillips did not 19 represent the NRA when he signed this agreement. It is 20 undisputed that he acted at arms length. He had his own
21 lawyer, Mark Dycio. The NRA had a lawyer. Not Ms. Rogers
22 or her firm, but Steven Hart who you've heard testimony
23 about, and Mr. Phillips signed on his own behalf there on 24 the right, and the National Rifle Association executed -- it
25 was executed by Pete Brownell there down at the bottom and

BP

4526

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 Mr. Brownell at the time was the President of the NRA and
2 was also signed by Carolyn Meadows who you heard testify a
3 couple different times by video who was then the First Vice
4 President and has been an Audit Committee member, claiming
5 that this transaction, there's something wrong about this.
6 That Mr. Phillips caused the NRA to enter into a
7 related-party transaction, that's somehow improper because 8 he may not have gotten the right approval for it is the 9 ultimate nitpicking by the attorney general's office.

10 They criticize him for not presenting this contract
11 to the board for approval in advance. That wasn't for him
12 to do. It would have been wholly inappropriate for 13 Mr. Phillips to be the person to present this contract to 14 Mr. Cotton and ask for him to be acting on behalf of the NRA
15 to approve a contract that he was a counterparty to. That 16 was for Mr. Brownell, as President, or Ms. Meadows, as First 17 Vice President or Steve heart as their lawyer to do. Had he 18 done that himself, you would have been hearing them complain
19 about the conflict of interest he had in presenting and 20 asking for approval for a contract with himself.

21 None of this is to say that Mr. Phillips was 22 perfect or didn't make mistakes. I told you that, also, in 23 my opening. And, and Mr. Phillips himself candidly admitted
24 to you during his testimony that there were payments that he 25 signed off on that did not have all the necessary approvals,

BP

4527

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 contracts that were entered into orally instead of in
2 writing. And he was open with you about the fact that some
3 of those, yes, they did violate internal NRA policies and
4 procedures; but there's a big difference, a huge difference
5 between violating a NRA policy and violating the law.

6 Now, tomorrow, Judge Cohen is going to instruct you
7 on the law and it's his instructions and not my statements
8 that govern, but listen closely and I expect that in his 9 instructions you will hear him tell you that a finding that 10 individual defendant's conduct or a transaction violated an 11 NRA Bylaw, rule, guidance or policy does not necessarily 12 mean that the conduct or the transaction violated the 13 statute. And, Mr. Phillips's conduct did not.

14 Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Phillips was focused on 15 the big picture. That's what he was doing to fulfill his 16 duties to the NRA, what he needed to do to fulfill his 17 duties to the NRA. He had broad, wide-ranging 18 responsibilities. Again, Mr. Cotton, among others, went 19 through these with you. As treasurer and CFO, he had 20 responsibilities that included not just overseeing payments,
21 but all financial reporting, tax, budgeting. He had to 22 report at regular board meetings, Audit Committee meetings,
23 Finance Committee presentations.

24 And what that meant, ladies and gentlemen, is that 25 Mr. Philips, himself, could not and did not do a detailed

BP

4528

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 review of every contract or invoice; and that's not a CFO's
2 or treasurer's job. What he did do was he built a
3 well-qualified team basically from scratch that he relied 4 upon: CPAs, trained CPAs like himself, people like Rick
5 Tedrick, Sonya Rowling, Michael Erstling whose job it was to 6 be the first line of defense. And that system, that 7 management system worked during his 25-year run as CFO and 8 treasurer, the NRA grew enormously.

9 Now, look, Mr. LaPierre, obviously, deserves the 10 lion's share of credit for that growth and development;
11 but Mr. Phillip's work with him was instrumental to it, as 12 well. And, and I'm -- I wanted to call up this slide for a 13 minute.

14 You'll remember I -- it came up during
15 Mr. Phillip's testimony, and this is the slide that shows
16 the changes in the NRA from 1991 when he started to 2018
17 when he left. And at the top, you see how, for example,
18 cash and cash equivalents grew from only about $194,000 to 19 over $30 million. The bottom total assets increased by 20 $202 million.

21 You see at the bottom there, net assets -- the 22 bottom of the first block I should say increased by over
23 $140 million.

24 Total grants, go down to the second block, total
25 grants which were nonexistent had exceeded $398,000,000.

BP

4529

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 There were 22 million in 2018 alone.

2 You'll see at the very bottom under assets not in
3 financials, the documented plan gifts which was something
4 that the NRA didn't even have in 1991, a program that 5 started under Mr. Phillips and under Mr. LaPierre, that that 6 came to over $300 million.

7 And then finally at the bottom, what's perhaps the 8 most important metric for a membership organization, look at 9 how the membership grew. It more than doubled over the 10 course of those years.

11 Now, when Mr. Phillips retired in 2018, his 12 successor did things differently. Okay, Mr. Spray, the 13 ex-navy officer testified by video, was much more
14 detail-oriented, much more procedurally focused. You heard
15 Mr. Erstling testify about how he preferred that style to 16 Mr. Phillips. He didn't like the fact that Mr. Phillips
17 rarely met with him personally, or that Mr. Phillips in 18 later years was often working from Dallas instead of from 19 NRA headquarters in Fairfax.

20 And that may be Mr. Erstling's preference, but I
21 think we've all seen over the past few years that jobs can
22 often be done, particularly office jobs, can often be done
23 remotely every bit effectively as they can be done in 24 person.

25 Look, I'm not here to tell you that Mr. Spray's

BP

4530

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 approach or Mr. Phillips' approach, that one was better or
2 worse than the other. They were different. Okay, but that
3 doesn't make one right or one wrong. And Mr. Phillips'
4 style, his management system as CFO and treasurer worked for 5 the NRA when he was there. It furthered the NRA's mission,
6 which is precisely what Mr. Phillips' fiduciary duty
7 required him to do.

8 His focus on the big picture, building donors,
9 building revenue, building memberships, enabling programs,
10 allowed the NRA to thrive in an era of growth.

11 But when circumstances changed, ladies and
12 gentlemen, they did change when the NRA faced the prospect
13 of regulatory assault and recognized the need to be 14 hyper-attentive to procedure, Mr. Phillips embraced that 15 change. As Mr. LaPierre and Ms. Supernaugh both explained
16 that effort, so-called 360 review or course correction that 17 you've heard a lot about, that began in 2017 when 18 Mr. Phillips was CFO and treasurer. Mr. Spray was not hired 19 until several months into 2018. In fact, Mr. Phillips was 20 instrumental in his hire. It began in 2017 on his watch.

21 And, later, in 2018, it was Mr. Phillips who sent 22 out the letters to vendors demanding information. This is 23 an example of the one to MMP, about auditing files, books
24 and records from August of 2018; and you'll see, here's a
25 second letter to MMP. And I haven't highlighted this part,

BP

4531

Defendant Summation/Mr. Farber

1 but you'll see, this is in the first sentence talking about
2 how the NRA intends to strengthen its position for
3 documentation and verification of compliance of vendor
4 assets. These were letters that came from Mr. Phillips who 5 jumped into this effort with both feet.

6 Those efforts, okay, that willingness to embrace a
7 new way of doing things is just further proof of how
8 Mr. Phillips always put the NRA first and was willing to do
9 whatever he needed to do in order to advance its mission.

10 Now, I should probably stop there; but before I do,
11 I want to address one thing that Ms. Connell brought up in 12 her examination of Mr. Phillips: His declining to answer
13 questions at his bankruptcy deposition based on his rights
14 under the Fifth Amendment of the constitution because I
15 think it underscores just how empty the State's case is of 16 actual evidence.

17 They can't prove that Mr. Phillips, in fact,
18 violated the law. So, instead, they want to suggest to you
19 that his exercising that constitutional right is evidence
20 that he did something wrong. That's simply not true, okay,
21 and you heard from multiple witnesses about the threats that 22 the attorney general, herself, Letitia James had made, how 23 she referred to the NRA as a terrorist, criminal
24 organization.

25 Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Phillips was not a party

BP

4532

Defendant Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 to that bankruptcy case in which he was deposed so he had no
2 reason to do anything at all; and what he did, he did what
3 anyone would do in those circumstances. He followed his
4 lawyer's advice and he took the Fifth.

5 And you also heard him testify that when he was 6 fully deposed in this case, by all of them, you heard him
7 answer he gave testimony; and you also heard him answer all
8 of Ms. Connell's questions and everyone else's for all the 9 other lawyers on that witness stand in open court in front
10 of you. He did that, ladies and gentlemen, because he did
11 nothing at all wrong.

12 With that, thank you for allowing me the privilege
13 of addressing you. Thank you for giving me your attention,
14 and I'm going to turn the podium over now to Mr. Werbner.

15 SUMMATION BY

16 MR. WERBNER:

17 MR. WERBNER: Your Honor, I don't think I'll need
18 it, but could I have a one-minute warning if I get that 19 far?

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. WERBNER: May it please the Court.

22 THE COURT: It sure does.

23 MR. WERBNER: Good morning, folks.

24 I want to start at the outset because I'm talking 25 about damages, I want to make something very clear. The

BP

4533

Defendant Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 fact that I'm talking about damages in no way suggests a
2 that there was liability in this case. I have a duty to 3 cover all the questions that you might be asked, and you're
4 going to be asked about three things I think when you hear
5 from the judge tomorrow. They're going to sort of be 6 numbered A, B and C. I don't know if it is 2A, or 2B or 2C.
7 That will be determined by the judge in the instructions in 8 what's called the verdict sheet.

9 But 2A or 3A, whatever it is called in the papers
10 in series, A is going to ask has the plaintiff proven by the 11 preponderance of the evidence that Woody Phillips violated
12 his duty of good faith and care?

13 I believe you're going to answer that no, they have 14 not proved that he violated his duty of good faith; and if 15 you do, you will not answer questions B and C that ask about 16 whether there was harm and what amount of damages, if any,
17 there was.

18 But, I want to address with you the questions about 19 harm and damages.

20 I think that there's a fatal, fundamental flaw in 21 the plaintiff's case about damages. They say that there was 22 millions and millions and millions of dollars of harm caused
23 to the NRA by Mr. Phillips' actions and that's just not 24 true.

25 They made a fundamental mistake because they called

BP

4534

Defendant Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 only one witness, their million-dollar man, Mr. Hines. He
2 got over a million dollars to testify in this case; but all
3 he did was tabulate from the general ledger and from the 4 bank statements various sums of money. He never analyzed
5 whether Mr. Phillips had caused any damages to the
6 organization.

7 And I have the transcript from page 3162. I asked
8 this million dollar man when I questioned him, he danced
9 around a little bit and I had to be a little aggressive in 10 my questioning. I apologize for that. Hold that against 11 me, not Mr. Phillips.

12 But, I had to ask him:

13 "Sir, can you tell us what damages, if any, were 14 caused by Woody Phillips; yes or no?"

15 He said, "I have not calculated damages."

16 And then I said, "And, therefore, you can't say
17 what damages, if any, Woody Phillips caused the NRA;
18 correct?"

19 "Again, I haven't calculated," he said. "I can't 20 say because I haven't performed that analysis."

21 So, they have not brought you any evidence in the 22 case to show what the damages, if any, were caused by Woody
23 Phillips. They made a mistake by not doing that. Probably,
24 because there were no damages.

25 Mr. Phillips acted in good faith, but they

BP

4535

1 wanted -- if they wanted to, they should have brought a
2 witness to say I've looked at all the numbers, I've done all
3 the tabulations and the damages caused by Mr. Phillips
4 were X. They never did that, and I think the reason is 5 clear is because there aren't damages that were caused by 6 Woody Phillips.

7 Ladies and gentlemen, Woody Phillips always acted
8 in good faith. That's essentially undisputed. You saw from 9 Lisa Supernaugh who worked with him for twenty-one years
10 when she testified about a list and an e-mail of 11 transactions without a written contract. She was very 12 convincing and compelling when she looked at you and told 13 you that he always acted in good faith. That he always 14 served the mission of the NRA.

15 (Continued on next page)

BP

4536

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 MR. WERBNER: It's essentially undisputed. Not one
2 witness came to tell you and say that Woody Phillips acted
3 in bad faith. Not one witness did that. And not one
4 witness showed that it -- he was the cause of any damages.

5 Ladies and gentlemen, Woody Phillips acted loyally
6 to the NRA. That's almost undisputed as well. He was loyal
7 to the NRA throughout his 25-year career, and he never
8 intended to do any harm to the NRA. There is no proof that 9 he ever wanted to harm the NRA, and he didn't harm the NRA,
10 and he didn't profit in any way.

11 Does that make any sense?

12 They want -- the Plaintiff wants you to award
13 millions, maybe ten of millions of dollars against Woody
14 Phillips. They say it's restitution, but he never took any 15 money. The money they want from him is not going to go to 16 the Attorney General or to the Plaintiff or the State of New 17 York. It's money they want him to pay to the NRA. Millions
18 of dollars. But he never took any money.

19 The only indication in his 25-year career what he 20 did was get a salary for those 25 years, and then he had a
21 legitimate consulting agreement so that he would be 22 available to answer any questions and to do whatever he 23 needed to do to aid in the transition to Mr. Spray.

24 Folks, Woody Phillips is a good man, and Woody
25 Phillips acted honorably throughout his career at the NRA.

KM

4537

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 The State wants to put him in bankruptcy, ladies and
2 gentlemen, and he doesn't deserve it. Please don't do that.
3 Woody Phillips doesn't deserve to be made penniless. The 4 evidence doesn't support that, and that's what the Plaintiff
5 is going to ask you to do. Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. We are going to take a
7 break now.

8 For my master plan of the day to work, we need to 9 restart before 11:30 so maybe a ten-minute break if we can 10 do it.

11 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

12 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
13 the courtroom.)

14 THE COURT: One logistical thing I wanted to let 15 you know. There is a -- you can sit. There is a -- one of 16 the regs permit me either on my own motion or to have a copy 17 of the instructions -- the written instructions go to the 18 jury as long as I certify that it's correct, and I'll do my 19 best to read it the way it's written. Sometimes I can't 20 help myself. But even if I do that, it just says -- and 21 this is 22 NYCRR 220.11. It says if it's not the transcript
22 that we are giving them, I have to certify that it's a
23 correct copy of the instructions, but also says that I
24 should afford the parties an opportunity to be heard about 25 whether they have an issue with that.

KM

4538

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 Does anybody care one way or the other? I just 2 feel like if we are going to give it to them, it would be
3 handy for them to be able to refer to it in the jury room.

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, Plaintiff agrees that the 5 instructions should go back with the jury, and we trust the 6 Court with regard to the certification. It's fine.

7 THE COURT: Anyone on the defense side have a
8 problem? I mean, look --

9 MR. FARBER: No objection.

10 THE COURT: They can ask for the transcript.

11 MR. CORRELL: No objection.

12 MS. ROGERS: No objection.

13 MR. FLEMING: No objection.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Great. Let's be back here in 15 five minutes.

16 (Whereupon at this time there was a recess taken.)

17 THE COURT: Counsel, before we get the jury, I had a
18 brief chat with the juror who has the plan -- the travel
19 plans next week, and I told her that we'd check in with her
20 tomorrow, but that my rule is if whoever is going to be in 21 the jury and deliberating, has to stay through the entirety
22 of the entire thing even if it goes into next week. And so
23 I asked her to think about it. And if her position is she 24 can not do that or will not do that, I would chat with you
25 all and we would decide whether it makes more sense to just

KM

4539

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 excuse her before deliberations start and just have her be
2 one of the extras. I don't want to be in a situation where 3 we have six, and we know already there is a risk of her not
4 coming. So I made it very clear that she will -- if she is
5 in the group of six, she will not be excused to travel. So
6 I need to know before that happens. And so I said that I
7 would address it with you initially, but that I would talk
8 to the juror tomorrow. So I think we discussed this. My 9 view is that's not a risk that's worth taking. So we will 10 talk about it.

11 You know, I assume you don't mind me checking in 12 with her tomorrow and see just one on one what her position
13 is going to be.

14 MR. FARBER: No objection.

15 MS. ROGERS: No objection.

16 MS. CONNELL: No objection.

17 THE COURT: If anybody has a different view as to 18 what we should do if the response is, well, look, I'm 19 leaving on X day whether you want me to or not, you know, my 20 view is that's an unavailable juror. If anybody has a
21 different view, I'd like to know it. Okay.

22 MR. FARBER: Our view is the same.

23 MS. ROGERS: Likewise.

24 MS. CONNELL: Agree, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: I wanted to keep everybody around at

KM

4540

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 least till today because, well, what would we do if somehow
2 we lost four other jurors and we needed all six, but we
3 thankfully at this point are in a position where we have 4 extras.

5 All right. Let's get the jury.

6 If things go well, we will have both closings at 7 1:00, and we might not even next need the extra time.

8 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury entering.

9 (Whereupon, at this time the jury entered the
10 courtroom.)

11 THE COURT: Okay. Welcome back. Have a seat.
12 Please have a seat. All right. Next up is Mr. Correll for
13 Mr. LaPierre.

14 MR. CORRELL: Good afternoon. Good morning, I
15 guess. I'm speaking for Mr. LaPierre. You've met Mr.
16 LaPierre.

17 When I spoke to you for the first time at the 18 beginning of the case, I said that I would introduce you to 19 Mr. LaPierre. You would meet him, and he would tell you
20 what he knew and when he knew it, what he did and why he did
21 it and what he did to fix the mistakes that he made.

22 Mr. LaPierre built the NRA. Not single handedly.
23 He had the help of others. He had the help of Woody
24 Phillips who was there from almost the beginning. John 25 Frazer came in and helped, and he trusted them. He relied

KM

4541

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 on them. He believed they were competent, and he received
2 information from them periodically that led him to believe
3 that all is well, that everything was running as it should 4 be running. Sadly, he never received notice of some of the 5 things that became an issue with the Attorney General's
6 Office, things like how to handle payments on car leases,
7 how to deal with gift -- gifts to employees, whether or not
8 wardrobe was an expense that he should cover or that the 9 association should cover.

10 He was focused on the big picture. He was on the 11 road. He was focused on building relationships because he 12 knew that that was what he was good at. He was not an 13 accountant. He was not a lawyer, but he knew people and he 14 enjoyed being with people. He enjoyed meeting members. He 15 enjoyed listening to them. He enjoyed speaking for them.
16 That's what he was really interested in. He wasn't 17 interested in building a big pile of money for himself. He 18 wasn't interested in trying to get money secretly through 19 some back-door arrangement with the association.

20 He probably could have made a lot more money doing
21 something else as a high-priced consultant in Washington.
22 He was at a very early age one of the top lobbyists in 23 Washington. If he had wanted to make a fortune, he could 24 have. He could have bought a yacht if he wanted one.
25 Probably could have bought a plane if he wanted one, but

KM

4542

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 what he did was he devoted himself to a cause, and that
2 cause was freedom, one element of freedom which was the 3 Second Amendment, the right to protect yourself against
4 aggressors and even the Government, if necessary.

5 So this may be the most important case in the 6 country right now, and I do not exaggerate. Its been
7 followed in the press. You haven't been able to read it,
8 but when you're finished, you will be able to read it. It's 9 testing the limits of Government's power to intrude in 10 private lives, and that's a fight that Wayne LaPierre has 11 been fighting since he was out of college and since he was 12 -- since he came to work for the NRA. It's really about 13 fighting for everyone who feels that there should be limits
14 to what the Government can do to private citizens, and he's 15 paid an incredible price for that.

16 You've heard that Letitia James called the 17 organization he works for or worked for and helped build a
18 terrorist organization. A terrorist organization. Four 19 million of her fellow Americans, she called terrorists. And 20 she promised to destroy it. She said to people, if you give 21 me money and you give me votes and you give me power, I will 22 use that power to destroy this organization, and she set out
23 to do that. She got elected. They gave her money. They 24 gave her votes. They gave her power, and this is how she 25 used it.

KM

4543

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 Mr. LaPierre had to fight back. He had to fight
2 back not for himself because he didn't think he had done
3 anything wrong. He had to fight back for the four million
4 members who trusted him, to fight for them, to speak for 5 them, to be their voice in Washington and elsewhere. That's 6 the fight that he's been engaged in. Its been the fight of 7 his life, and he has engaged in it despite a debilitating
8 physical condition that has plagued him for the last four 9 years, but he was not willing to step down and leave and 10 leave this organization undefended against this attack.

11 Now, you heard the testimony. A call from Tom King
12 who said he got a call from Eric Schneiderman who said I
13 don't like what I'm seeing, and I'm summarizing. Sum or 14 substance. But that pressure is building for an attack by 15 the State of New York on the NRA, and I don't think it's 16 right. You need to prepare for it. The law has changed.
17 Probably no one's in compliance. You need to make sure that 18 you're doing everything right because this has been 19 identified as a vulnerability, and they are going to come
20 for you. He didn't know whether that was right or wrong,
21 when it would come -- when the attack would go come, if it
22 came, but he did exactly the right thing. He hung up the 23 phone. He called -- I guess he picked up the phone and 24 called a lawyer and said -- told them what happened, and 25 then hired a firm that was known for its non-profit practice

KM

4544

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 to look into the matter.

2 What do we need to do to comply? Are we in 3 compliance? If not, what do we need to do to get in 4 compliance. He understood he had to build a bull-work
5 against a government intrusion. It wasn't the first time he
6 had had to fight for the association and its members. There
7 had been an attack before from the federal government in an 8 administration that was hostile to the organization and that 9 was upset that -- that -- at the success that the 10 organization was having in elections. So this was nothing 11 new.

12 He did the right thing. He gave instructions. He 13 gave directions to look at everything, turn over every stone
14 and to look at him because he wanted to know whether there
15 was anything he might have done that needed to be fixed that 16 should have been done a different way.

17 You heard about the efforts that he went to 18 identify things that he had done. You heard about the 19 process. You heard about how long it took to get documents
20 to figure out what needed to be paid or what he wanted to 21 pay. You also heard about the threat level that he was 22 facing throughout the more recently but beginning early on 23 in his career, actually beginning in the the 2000's. And 24 you heard about the security people telling him that he 25 needed to travel private.

KM

4545

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 The Attorney General has taken a position that as
2 if the law prohibited private jet travel by people who work
3 for not-for-profit corporations. It doesn't. It's not in 4 the not-for-profit corporation law. It doesn't say people
5 who work for not-for-profit corporations can not fly
6 private.

7 You heard an expert -- the Attorney General's
8 expert admit that the PGA Tour requires their top executives
9 office to fly private for security reasons, for efficiency
10 reasons, for privacy reasons, and you saw the 990. I think
11 I put it up for you that showed that -- that they require 12 their executives to travel that way. It was perfectly
13 reasonable for Mr. LaPierre to rely on the information from 14 security experts or when they told him you need to start
15 flying private. Whether it's business, whether it's 16 personal, you need to do that.

17 Now, did he think that if he was flying to a
18 convention and his wife accompanied him sitting in an empty
19 seat so that she could do an event for the Women's 20 Leadership Forum that that had some tax consequence that he 21 needed to be aware of? He just didn't know. It never 22 crossed his mind.

23 When the review started and the issue came up, he 24 promptly performed appropriate calculations and started
25 writing checks to cover that piece of that travel.

KM

4546

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 The Attorney General has suggested to you that
2 every private flight that was taken was somehow a personal
3 flight. It wasn't. The evidence shows that he was 4 traveling all over the country legitimately on NRA business.
5 It was in the interest of the NRA for him to do that.

6 You heard testimony from Craig Spray that he was 7 raising $10 million a month. When it looked like the NRA
8 might have to close its doors, you heard Craig Spray say he
9 pulled a rabbit out of the hat. He gave them the freedom
10 they needed to keep functioning while they got their house
11 in order and they got through the choppy water.

12 The Attorney General doesn't want you to think 13 about the benefits Mr. LaPierre has brought to the NRA. The 14 Attorney General doesn't want you to think about the money
15 he's raised for the NRA. They don't want you to think about 16 the relationships he has built for the NRA. They want to 17 put a picture of a yacht up on the screen and tell you that 18 there is something wrong with his sending an invitation, to 19 accompany the McKenzies on a cruise in the Mediterranean
20 where he knew he was going to be introduced to people that 21 were in a position to advance the interests of the NRA.

22 They want you to think that flying out to Hollywood
23 to meet with celebrities was something he was doing for his
24 own private benefit to benefit himself not, the NRA, but you
25 saw the results of the effort that he made. He was in a way

KM

4547

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 a visionary. He was -- he understood influencers before
2 "influencers" was a word. He was dealing with influencers
3 in Hollywood and elsewhere before there was an internet,
4 before there was TikTok, before there was anything. He got 5 it. He was a genius not only from a political science and 6 government standpoint, but from a marketing and messaging
7 and relationships standpoint.

8 The organization was lucky to have him, and he is a
9 one-of-a-kind individual. You met him. He is not the 10 arrogant, greedy, exploitive person that the AG has tried to 11 make him out to be. You can see that for yourself. He sat
12 here for day after day after day struggling with illness to 13 tell you the story, to tell you the truth, and I think you
14 heard it.

15 All the AG can do is criticize and bring in a
16 million dollar man Mr. Hindsight Mr. Hines who sat in a arm
17 chair critiquing the quarterback on the field when he's 18 never played football. The man has never been on the field.
19 He has never been in LaPierre's shoes. He has probably 20 never had a death threat. He's probably never had someone 21 throw a couple of coffee at him. He's probably never had to 22 deal with that kind of psychological stress really and stand
23 in there and continue to fight.

24 So the AG doesn't want you to look at the heroism.
25 They don't want you to look at the freedom he's put forth.

KM

4548

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 They don't want you to look at the four million Americans
2 that he has represented and spoken for.

3 Letitia James wants to take their right to select
4 their leader away from them. In fact, even though he is no
5 longer the executive vice-president of the NRA, they are 6 going to ask you to find whether there is cause to remove
7 him or whether there was cause to remove him. It's vicious.
8 It's inappropriate. But you're going to be asked to do
9 that.

10 The fact is that Letitia James set out to destroy
11 the organization, and she knew the best way to do that was 12 to try to destroy Wayne LaPierre because he was head of the 13 organization. It was critical to the organization. She 14 wanted to decapitate the organization, and that was for 15 political reasons.

16 So when you look at the evidence, look at it
17 through the lens of a government official who has made
18 promises to people who gave her money for her campaign, who 19 gave her votes, who gave her political support and send this 20 team of lawyers out looking for something, anything they 21 could use to try to discredit him, to try to embarrass him,
22 to try to humiliate him, and they joined forces with a
23 powerful organization that was a vendor that was stealing
24 from the organization. Stealing from the NRA. And she 25 would have you believe that she cares about the NRA and that

KM

4549

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 she wants to get money for the NRA so it could go back to
2 the NRA.

3 Does that make any sense to you? She called it a
4 terrorist organization. Why is she using public resources
5 to try to get money to put into a terrorist organization?
6 It doesn't fit. It doesn't make sense. What's happening
7 here is a travesty, and I'm sorry for becoming passionate
8 and maybe I don't want to overstate it, but you have to 9 understand the context in which this investigation was 10 opened, the context in which this action was brought. And I
11 say that for a reason. They are criticizing Mr. LaPierre
12 for exercising his business judgement to try to get some 13 protection from the federal government, from a federal judge
14 by instructing bankruptcy counsel to take appropriate steps
15 to seek any protection he could get for the organization
16 from the federal government from an impartial federal judge
17 knowing that the bankruptcy process is the most transparent
18 and open process in the world. You have to open all of your 19 books to the world to the bankruptcy court. Anyone can come
20 in and ask questions, and it's the -- it's the ultimate 21 transparency because nothing can be hidden. Nothing can be 22 hidden. So the suggestion is that there was some benefit to 23 Mr. LaPierre that he was trying to achieve personally by 24 talking to bankruptcy counsel, consulting with a Special
25 Litigation Committee, and after doing that, making a hard

KM

4550

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 decision to try to get whatever protection he could get for
2 his organization from this State that was attacking him.
3 They fault him for that are.

4 They are going to ask you to hold him liable for a
5 violation of law on the theory that he was not acting in the 6 best interest of the organization. They may try to take the 7 word "lack of good faith" out of the judge's opinion in the 8 bankruptcy and try to tell you that that somehow meets the 9 standard for imposing liability on him under the 10 not-for-profit corporation law. It doesn't. You have to 11 make your own decision.

12 Was Mr. LaPierre acting in good faith when he did
13 that? Was he acting honestly? Was he acting with sincerity
14 of intention? Was he acting to try to protect the 15 organization he had helped build?

16 He was born in 1949. He's 74 years old. That's 17 half as old as the NRA which is 150 years old. He's been 18 with it for a third of its life, and it was under attack by 19 the State of New York.

20 It would have been a dereliction of duty for him
21 not to make the hard decision knowing that he would take the 22 heat, and he made that decision by himself after seeking 23 information from appropriate professionals, from counsel,
24 particularly highly qualified bankruptcy counsel and from 25 the Special Litigation Committee who were disinterested and

KM

4551

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 approved of the path, the course of action that he was
2 thinking about taking.

3 So when they talk to you about that, keep that in 4 mind. Why was he doing that? What possible benefit could
5 he have achieved from that? He didn't believe that this
6 action would stop. It wouldn't. Not with respect to him.
7 Not with respect to the NRA.

8 What he thought was that he could lay the 9 foundation for moving the organization to Texas where it
10 would be in a friendly environment.

11 The change in the law that has been discussed in 12 this case, the Non-Profit Revitalization Act of 2013 was 13 designed to create a friendly environment for not-for-profit
14 corporations in this country, in this State.

15 The AG is using that law in exactly the opposite
16 way to create a hostile environment for organizations that 17 she doesn't like that support candidates that are opposed to 18 candidates from her party. It's a pervasion of the statute.
19 It's a pervasion of justice, and that's what we are seeing
20 here.

21 So I'd like you to think of the evidence in the 22 following light. Is it -- is the evidence really supporting 23 the theory -- this narrative that the Attorney General is 24 trying to sell to you, that Mr. LaPierre was in this for his 25 own benefit, that he was in it for the money, that he was

KM

4552

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 greedy? Or was he in this for the right reasons; to fight
2 for the members, to fight for freedom, to fight for the 3 Second Amendment. And now more and more, to fight for the 4 First Amendment, to fight for the right to speak freely, to 5 fight for the right to associate freely.

6 Let's talk about some facts in the case. The -- we
7 went through the 2013 agreement that he's been criticized
8 for signing. You heard evidence that he didn't receive a
9 penny from that, and over time he got uncomfortable with it
10 and said, look, I think it's a burden. Let's tear it up.
11 It was torn up.

12 So in talking to you about that deal which forms
13 the basis for one of their claims, ask yourself was there
14 any harm to the association as a result of this agreement.
15 Did he get a penny out of it. Did he get any benefit out of 16 it? I think you'll conclude that the answer is no.

17 You heard Mr. Fleming speak eloquently about John 18 Frazer. Mr. LaPierre had been criticized for hiring John 19 Frazer. They said Frazer -- Mr. Frazer was incompetent. He 20 was inexperienced, that this was an attempt by Mr. LaPierre
21 to get someone he could control and manipulate.

22 Ask yourself if that makes sense. You have met Mr.
23 Frazer. You have heard from him. Is he that person? And 24 is Wayne the person who were would hire someone to be 25 incompetent and then rely on that person to cover that

KM

4553

Defendant's Summation/Mr. Werbner

1 important base?

2 Same thing with Mr. Phillips. Mr. LaPierre relied
3 on information from Mr. Phillips, and the evidence is that 4 Mr. Phillips was functioning as a treasurer and CFO without 5 any indication of any problem.

6 You heard Mr. Erstling say that he never spoke to 7 be Mr. LaPierre. You heard others say that they didn't
8 speak to Mr. LaPierre. It appeared that the treasury
9 function and the CFO function was being performed well.

10 And when the Top Concerns memo surfaced, when 11 people came forward, what did Mr. LaPierre do? He gave 12 direction to run it down. It doesn't matter who -- who they 13 were looking at. They needed to look at everyone. The 14 testimony is clear on that. Everyone says that. Mr. Spray
15 said the 360 review couldn't have been done without Wayne
16 LaPierre. Of course, it couldn't. He was the EVP. He gave 17 the direction. He set the tone. He said go for it. Look
18 at everything. Look at me.

19 The AG, their basic claim is that Wayne LaPierre
20 failed to discharge the duty of his position in good faith
21 and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like
22 position would exercise under similar circumstances.

23 Let's talk about a like position. Is there a
24 position like this that you can think of in this country?
25 It is unparalleled. It is unique, and that is no

KM

4554

1 exaggeration. There's never been a position like this given
2 the number of roles he's had to play, TV, radio, speeches,
3 debates, politics, interacting with influencers all over the 4 world.

5 They fault him for accepting an invitation to 6 travel with the McKenzies. They fault him for accepting an
7 invitation to stay on a boat in a time when the threat level
8 was so high he couldn't go home.

2 He couldn't go anywhere. A friend said, Look, my
3 boat is down in the Bahamas. If you want to go down there,
4 you'll be safe. He says, yes. He was not thinking for a
5 minute that this was something that he needed to disclose,
6 to tell people where he was going and when he was going to 7 be there. He went.

8 In retrospect, you heard him. He's acknowledged
9 that that was a mistake, that he shouldn't have done it and 10 he hasn't done it since. But, there's no evidence that that 11 had any effect on his judgment, in his dealings with David
12 McKenzie or the company. You've heard that many people
13 looked at that arrangement and concluded that it was a good
14 arrangement, it was good for the NRA.

15 Even the fee increases were appropriate fee
16 increases. They were justified. And they don't want to 17 talk about how much money MMP brought in for the NRA. Over 18 a hundred million dollars in some years. And when they 19 stopped bringing in that much money because the economy
20 changed in COVID, the fee was adjusted. They brought no one
21 in to tell you to testify that in their view the NRA could 22 have gotten a better deal elsewhere, that they could have 23 shopped it around and gotten it for less at the same level
24 of quality. There's no testimony to that effect because it
25 is not true. It is not true.

BP

4556

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 So, it's about criticism. It's about criticism of 2 a man who is actually in the arena, and it is about --
3 excuse me -- it is about an attempt -- it is about an 4 attempt to get that man out of the arena and that is really
5 the purpose of this action.

6 They're asking to ban the man for life from
7 nonprofit service. What they're asking is that they want a
8 ban so that he cannot work for any nonprofit anywhere in the 9 country, if he conducts any activities in New York. Why
10 would you do that to a 74-year-old man who has retired and 11 is ill? They want to take him off the field because he 12 succeeded to too much. So, it is not a lack of success in 13 leading this organization.

14 It is the success in leading the organization that 15 has caused Letitia James to bring this action. Now, where 16 is Letitia James? I don't see her. We've been here for six 17 weeks. If case were so important to her, why wouldn't she 18 be here? I'll tell you why. I would have called her as a 19 witness and asked her why she did this, what she had in 20 mind, what were her purposes? She didn't show up.

21 So, I can't think at this point of what else might
22 be -- you might want to know, but I will echo Mr. Fleming's
23 remarks that this is my last time to talk to you and when 24 we're done, the attorney general is going to be able to 25 stand up and she's going to be able to say a lot of stuff

BP

4557

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 knowing that I won't be able to respond.

2 So, just like Mr. Fleming, think it through, be
3 skeptical. Ask yourself if I were standing here or 4 Mr. Fleming were standing here, what the response would be
5 when they say the evidence shows this or the evidence shows
6 that? In your mind, hold them to a high standard of proof.
7 They brought this case. They have accused Mr. LaPierre and 8 others of misconduct.

9 Ask the hard question, have they made their case?
10 Have they proved this case? Have they carried their burden?

11 I submit to you that they haven't, not with respect
12 to Mr. LaPierre. I submit to you that they have concocted
13 this story of greed and selfishness that is just not borne
14 out by the proof.

15 You should return a verdict in Mr. LaPierre's favor
16 of no liability. He acted in good faith with honesty and 17 with sincere intention. He acted with care. He selected
18 people carefully. He trusted them. And if he's at fault,
19 it's for trusting, perhaps trusting people too much,
20 trusting Angus McQueen, trusting Tony Makris who he thought
21 of as a friend. He is -- he's a trusting individual because 22 he looks for the best in people. He believes the best about 23 people and he -- and he gives people free reign to do their 24 jobs.

25 You heard him say that his philosophy was to work

BP

4558

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 hard and let his performance speak for itself. His
2 performance speaks for itself. This organization survived
3 and thrived for many years under his leadership. When
4 concerns were raised, he addressed them. He addressed them
5 appropriately and timely, turning things over to lawyers
6 and professionals.

7 He received reports from Woody Phillips every year
8 about audits. He asked him, How are the audits going? And 9 the answer was always fine. And when he said, How did the 10 audit turn out? The answer was always, It turned out great,
11 no material deficiencies, clean audit.

12 When a CFO with no accounting background hears
13 that, that's not a red flag. That's a green flag. That 14 says all's well; and it means I can get back on the plane,
15 back in a car, out on the road and get back to meeting with 16 members and doing my job, which is raising the money to fund
17 all these programs.

18 Relationships is the word I will leave you with 19 because that's in his view -- that was in his view the key
20 to building this organization, brick by brick over a long
21 period of time; and those relationships take time to mature.
22 Genuine close relationships don't happen immediately. You
23 may meet someone. You may circle back a year later and 24 fifteen years later, someone may give you $50 million worth
25 of firearms for your museum. That's how it works.

BP

4559

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 Mr. LaPierre was always out looking for a big
2 donor, a big donor like Michael Bloomberg who could support
3 the organization as he said in a way that would take some
4 have the burden off the smaller donors. It was a smart
5 idea. It was -- it was a reasonable strategy.

6 His business judgment was good on the big things.
7 His judgment failed him on some of the little things. When
8 he realized on how it would look to people and they thought
9 that the NRA was paying for a flight for someone in his 10 family, he paid it. You saw the checks, a million dollars.
11 And went back to the year 2000, which is beyond the period
12 that's even at issue in this case. He didn't have to go
13 back that far. He did it because he wanted to. He wanted
14 to square it all up.

15 So, I'll 11 you with this thought: That as with 16 Mr. Frazer, you're here to judge a man and his life and to 17 decide whether he's the man that the AG says he is, which 18 he's not; or whether he's the man you saw on the stand and 19 whether he's the man that you see through the evidence,
20 through the eyes of other people who knew him and worked
21 with him.

22 This is a story made up by someone with an agenda,
23 someone who wanted him out of the game, out of the arena,
24 off the field, out of the league, banned for life.

25 Who in the world seeks a judgment banning someone

BP

4560

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 for life from nonprofit service? It is unheard of. It is
2 un-American and it is just wrong.

3 So, when you pull out that verdict sheet, I'm -- I
4 will ask you to deliberate, talk about it; but I hope when 5 you get through that process, you will check the box "no" on 6 liability and stop there.

7 If you get past that -- and I'm not suggesting you
8 should -- ask yourself the same question that Mr. Werbner
9 suggested you ask, which is has Wayne LaPierre caused any 10 harm to this organization? Has he received any money that 11 he hasn't already paid back? Is there anything he got that 12 he hasn't squared up? The answer to that is clearly no.
13 They haven't put on any evidence that he received any 14 benefit that he was not entitled to.

15 There are big focuses on the airplanes. Well,
16 remember Mr. Cox said, well, he flies by prop planes as 17 if you could get from here to LA on a prop plane. It would 18 take you two days.

19 It was a cost benefit analysis and security was the 20 biggest benefit. There was also productivity and efficiency
21 and privacy that allowed Mr. LaPierre to accept the 22 corporation's provision of this charter travel, which was 23 disclosed in the 990s every year with a description of why.
24 So, the idea that he was trying to hide this from anyone
25 is -- should be rejected. The Internal Revenue Service knew

BP

4561

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 it, the AG knew it and these reports were placed before the
2 board.

3 So, when they talk to you about flights, just 4 understand the law doesn't prohibit it. The board of 5 directors were informed of it through the 990s. The AG
6 knew about it since 2009 and never called up and said, hey,
7 we see that you've checked the box for charter travel.
8 Who's traveling? Where? How much? They never did it.

9 It never happened until Letitia James made a
10 promise to use her office to come after the NRA. That's 11 when the AG suddenly got interested in whether the -- the 12 NRA was providing charter travel to Mr. LaPierre.

13 It is the first time they got interested in car
14 service. How do you get from point A to B without car
15 service? And does the law require that it be a white car or 16 a blue car or a red car? No. People travel. They use
17 whatever ground transportation is available. If you have a 18 security detail, you cannot ride in 19 a smart car. You would have to have a little fleet of smart
20 cars to get people where they're going.

21 That's not how the real world works. So I ask you
22 to think, use your common judgment, use your common sense,
23 use your collective intelligence to ask the question how 24 could he do the job he did without traveling a lot and 25 without being conscious of the security issue and making

BP

4562

Defendant Summation/Mr. Correll

1 sure that he was safe and he got there on time and was
2 productive?

3 So, thank you for your patience. Six weeks, this
4 has been a long trial; and I just hope that -- when I walked
5 in the courthouse today, I looked up and it says "The True
6 Administration of Justice is the Firmest Pillar of Good
7 Government," and I try to look at it every time I come in to 8 the courthouse because I say that's why I'm here.

9 George Washington wrote that and right now, you are 10 the firmest pillar of good government. You are going to 11 decide how far government can intrude into the life of a
12 private individual because of what that individual said on 13 behalf of others, because of who he has associated with and 14 you will be the bull work against government intrusion. You
15 will have to decide on the facts of this case what the facts
16 are, what the truth is and whether you are going to allow 17 the government to make you a part of this.

18 Thank you.

4 MS. ROGERS:

5 MS. ROGERS: All right, ladies and gentlemen, good
6 morning. Can you hear me okay? This will be the last time
7 I have to ask you that.

8 It's been a long six weeks and a short six weeks
9 for all of us. It's been long for you because you had to 10 pause your normal lives and trudge through the snow to be 11 here with us to get justice done. My client and I are so
12 grateful to you for that.

13 And it's been short, it actually flew by for me
14 because it turns out that six weeks is a really short
15 capsule in which to condense a story that lasts six years.
16 It's been six years since 2018 when the NRA whistleblowers
17 who you met on that witness stand, Sonya Rowling and Mike
18 Erstling, came forward whether their colleagues, the NRA
19 Audit Committee, and raised concerns. It's been six years
20 since the NRA heard from the Government that there was 21 political pressure to leverage recent changes in nonprofit
22 law to hurt the NRA.

23 It has been six years since that Audit Committee
24 listened to those whistleblowers, leaned in, sent letters,
25 fired vendors, hired forensic accountants, got rid of old

1 executives, brought in new ones, filed some lawsuits,
2 settled some and set things right.

3 I showed you the slide on the first day we met.
4 You are the sole judges of the facts in this case, and so
5 you have the power and the responsibility to separate facts
6 from fiction. You heard some true stories and you heard
7 some false narratives, and it is now your power and your job
8 to tell those apart.

9 So now that all the evidence is in, let's look at 10 what the facts show and what they don't.

11 I stole this PowerPoint slide from the attorney
12 general. This is from the PowerPoint presentation they 13 showed you on the first day of our case. This is a list of 14 things they said they were going to prove.

15 Yesterday on screen and today on screen, actually,
16 you've seen some images of some checks written to the NRA by 17 Mr. LaPierre. But on the very first day of this case, the 18 Government wrote some checks they could not cash, and here
19 they are.

20 The Government promised to prove that the NRA
21 failed to properly administer itself and its charitable 22 assets. Now, the Judge will tell you tomorrow what that 23 means; but I expect that as part of what the Judge tells you
24 will be two important things:

25 First, I expect that you'll be asked to consider

BP

4565

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 whether the NRA and all these transactions and all these
2 disputes and all these facts you've heard where the NRA was
3 trying to pursue the legitimate purposes of its nonprofit;
4 and I expect that you'll be asked to consider whether in 5 trying to pursue those legitimate purposes, the NRA board of 6 directors, which is the seats of the NRA's corporate
7 governance, acted in good faith and with ordinary care.

8 And I expect the Court to tell you that to win on 9 this claim, to cash that check, the Government will have to 10 show not just that the NRA made some business decisions that 11 you might make differently with 20/20 hindsight; but that 12 the NRA failed as a trustee of its mission, its purposes and 13 its donations, and that is a high burden and they can't meet
14 it.

15 Now, the second thing they promised to prove to you
16 is that the individuals sitting over there breached certain 17 duties to the NRA. Now, that's not a claim against my 18 client, so I won't spend too much time on it; but I want to 19 point something out.

20 In bringing that claim, the Government admits that 21 the NRA is the victim of quite a bit of a misconduct against 22 the NRA, which the Government alleges; and that's a phrase I
23 want you to keep in your minds.

24 As they get up this afternoon after lunch and talk
25 about misconduct they've alleged, which they think they can

BP

4566

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 prove; ask yourself whether it is misconduct against the
2 Government, against a third party, ask yourself whether
3 Ackerman McQueen who they like so much is really the victim
4 here or ask whether it is misconduct against the NRA?

5 The fact that they have sued for breaches of duty
6 to the NRA and want you to award money damages payable to 7 the NRA tells you all you need to know about what the 8 Government deep down admits concerning who's the victim and 9 who's the perpetrator in this case.

10 When the jury writes a note to the judge, the judge
11 shares them with the lawyers. So, knowing at the earliest
12 days of this case one of the jurors wrote a note asking why
13 the NRA's lawyer -- that's me -- sometimes seems to be going
14 against her own company?

15 The truth is that in this case, in these six years
16 the years and some of the years preceding them, there was 17 misconduct against the company, against my client, against 18 the NRA; and as an advocate for the company, it is my job to 19 be honest with you about that. But, misconduct against the 20 NRA is not an offense by the NRA.

21 Now, the third thing that they promised to prove 22 that they must prove, that they can't prove, is that the 23 NRA engaged in something called related-party transactions.

24 You heard me ask Mr. Frazer yesterday -- and the 25 judge will instruct you tomorrow -- concerning the

BP

4567

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 difference between a conflict of interest and a
2 related-party transaction, and the short answer is that a
3 conflict of interest is a really broad category; and 4 sometimes a corporation has to act on it, and sometimes they 5 don't. Sometimes it is enough to be aware of it and 6 disclose it.

7 A related-party transaction is a much narrower
8 technical category where certain criteria needs to be met.

9 So, it is not illegal, the Judge will advise you --
10 and you should listen to him and I'm predicting what he 11 might say -- it is not illegal for a nonprofit to do
12 business that someone who's close to it. In fact, that 13 happens a lot in a nonprofit world.

14 But if the person close to the nonprofit is the 15 person participating in a business deal that's large, that's 16 not in the ordinary course of business, not something the 17 company does all the time. And that it involves a
18 sufficient amount of money and it meets certain other 19 criteria, than the board has to evaluate that transaction to 20 ensure that it is fair. And if the board evaluates it after 21 the fact, they have to also evaluate why it happened in the 22 first place.

23 You will hear that for the very small number of 24 transactions they have thrown at you that actually meet the 25 related-party transaction definition, the NRA board acted

BP

4568

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 perfectly appropriately as Mr. Frazer's counsel discussed
2 earlier with respect to all those transactions that were
3 approved in 2016 properly any document they tried to keep 4 from you.

5 All right, the fourth claim on the slide, the 6 fourth check they can't cash is the one that personally
7 offends me the most. It is the claim that the NRA
8 mistreated whistleblowers.

9 In fact, you met real whistleblowers, people who
10 came forward who said it was scary and they did it any ways
11 and they spoke out with respect to misconduct involving 12 people who had more power than they did, and they were 13 listened to.

14 The attorney general tried to undermine the 15 credibility of one whistleblower by asking on cross whether 16 he was promoted, received a promotion after blowing the 17 whistle. You're damn right he did. So did Sonya Rowling
18 who sits now in the chair that Mr. Phillips use to occupy.

19 Finally, the NRA and Mr. Frazer are accused of 20 making materially false statements in regulatory filings.
21 The evidence doesn't support that claim either. What the 22 evidence actually shows and what you've heard and what we'll 23 go back over briefly today is that there were 24 inconsistencies in some tax returns where the box wasn't 25 checked for a compensation paid to a board member. But if

BP

4569

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 you flip the page, there's a list of compensation paid to
2 board members. And you heard from several outside
3 accountants about how the NRA fixed that. They bought
4 software that checked to make sure that the schedule and the 5 check box lined up.

6 That is not an example of someone telling a
7 materially important lie on a government document that would
8 affect how a serious stakeholder, like a donor via fund,
9 which Mr. Tenenbaum mentioned or like a donor or a member
10 would receive that document.

11 That is an inconsistency and, certainly, not the 12 kind of inconsistency, by the way, that anyone would 13 knowingly or intentionally put in a document because if 14 you're going to lie in governance or your donors about 15 whether you're doing these kinds of transactions, you
16 wouldn't list them all in detail and then forget to check
17 the box.

18 All right, so did they prove any of these claims
19 against the NRA? Obviously, no. But since they want to 20 talk about how the NRA is administered, let's talk about
21 it.

22 You saw during trial evidence about the NRA's
23 corporate governance which is robust and extensive. There
24 are 76 elected directors who represent NRA members. They 25 come from all walks of life. I introduced you on the first

4570

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 day of trial to Kim Rhode, an olympic athlete, who's NRA
2 inducted. He's been a sheriff. He has been a lawyer. He
3 has been a CPA. He's another NRA director. He's with us
4 now. You, also, met Ms. Froman on the stand, a Stanford and
5 Harvard lawyer who brings those skills to bear on the NRA
6 board.

7 These are diverse -- this is a diverse and highly
8 accomplished group. You have an Audit Committee in charge
9 of overseeing internal controls that meets almost monthly
10 and you have 39 committees total.

11 We cited a lot of documents on the bottom of this
12 slide. Everything I show you today is annotated with proof
13 you saw. When you're in the jury room, if want to see any 14 of these documents again, any of the testimony again, you
15 can ask the Court for it. As Mr. Frazer's lawyer told you,
16 we're not afraid of the facts. We didn't try to keep 17 documents out of the record because the documents tell the 18 story that is true.

19 All right, I expect to hear and I already heard a
20 combination of two things from the Government. When we talk
21 about what the NRA did when this information came to light,
22 I have already heard and I expect to hear a combination of 23 the refrain "too little too late" and "too much too soon."
24 You either spent too much money on lawyers and filed too
25 many lawsuits and separated from too many people, you didn't

BP

4571

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 give Chris Cox his golden parachutes. That's one of their
2 accusations. And then out of the other side of their mouth
3 they accuse us of waiting too long, not acting enough, not
4 going to scorch earth enough. Why didn't you sue
5 Mr. Phillips? Why didn't you sue Mr. LaPierre?

6 Those are the questions I expect to hear from them
7 during closing. If you hear it, don't fall for it. I'm
8 going to tell you what we actually did. I'm going to review
9 what the evidence shows you we actually did and when and how 10 and why.

11 The truth is that a story that lasted six years
12 began in the sprint of 120 days.

13 I'm going to try to make this laser -- it is not
14 working. I'm going to do this again.

15 So, summer 2018, Ms. Rowling and Mr. Erstling, whom 16 you met on that witness stand, come forward to the Audit
17 Committee with their concerns list. They -- the speaking
18 out was facilitated by the new CFO the NRA hired, that's the 19 Top Concerns Memo. The Audit Committee members are 20 flabbergasted and they act immediately. Letters go out to 21 hundreds, hundreds of NRA vendors which are the focus of the 22 Audit Committee concerns.

23 Now, you heard Ms. Rowling say that although she 24 was ultimately supported and affirmed by the NRA, speaking
25 out was scary at first and one reason is that one target of

BP

4572

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 that Top Concerns list was Ackerman McQueen. The,
2 advertising agency whom -- who you saw Mr. Cox e-mailing
3 with his friends, saying I have too much control over the 4 NRA, right, the deep state of the NRA, these were
5 accountants working the Finance Department who probably 6 thought they had much less power than Ackerman McQueen, and 7 they came forward any ways. And Ackerman McQueen, along
8 with MMP, this other fundraising vendor you've heard about,
9 were primary targets of these letters.

10 The NRA demanded information; and when they didn't 11 receive enough, they sent in auditors and hired forensic 12 accountants. So from that point forward -- this is 13 Mr. Sullivan's demonstrative that he showed you his 14 timeline. From that point forward, the compliance efforts
15 which had always existed in some form of the NRA really 16 kicked into gear.

17 And, by the way, another refrain I expect you to 18 hear from the Government is that the NRA's compliance
19 efforts were sort of a death bed conversion, that the former 20 attorney general had warned us we were about to face a
21 political prosecution; and so we made a show of tightening
22 things up. But, the Government doesn't start investigating
23 the NRA until the middle of 2019. All of these efforts
24 really start with the whistleblowers coming forward in 2018.

25 That's the catalyst. That's the spark, and from

BP

4573

1 that point on, employees start paying things back or getting
2 fired. You're either part of the problem or you're part of
3 the solution. That was the message from the Audit
4 Committee. The message was delivered, and it was acted
5 upon.

6 Now, the NRA decided that Mr. Frazer was part of 7 the solution. We think the Government's claims against him
8 are unfair. The false filing claims are unfair, and a lot
9 of what Mr. Fleming said regarding this allegation that 10 Mr. Frazer used the NRA as a personal piggybank is unfair
11 and wrong. The NRA trusted Mr. Frazer, and he remains part 12 of our family.

13 Mr. LaPierre at certain points had been part of the 14 problem, and he remained part of the family because he 15 committed in some senses more than anyone to be part of the 16 solution.

BP

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 MS. ROGERS: You heard Ms. Froman testify. She was
2 a sophisticated lawyer that was brought into the NRA by Neal
3 Knox who hated Mr. LaPierre, by one of this dissident
4 directors. She was brought into the NRA by one of those
5 anti-establishment factions. She voted to keep Mr. LaPierre
6 in power, and she said, and I'm paraphrasing slightly that 7 he knew -- he knew if we fearlessly investigated all the 8 misconduct against the association, we might find some 9 things implicating him, and he ordered it anyway.

10 He committed to put the interests of the NRA before
11 his own, and that is what being part of the solution meant,
12 and that is why the Board kept Mr. LaPierre in power until 13 it was time to transition.

14 All right. We only looked at this document
15 together briefly during the early part of this case, but I
16 want to remind you of it. It is one of the most important
17 documents in this case.

18 So after the Audit Committee hears from the 19 whistleblowers and leans in in the Summer of 2018, as I've 20 just narrated, letters go out to all these vendors including 21 one of the most powerful vendors, Ackerman McQueen, and 22 Ackerman McQueen responds with a letter sent from outside
23 counsel to outside counsel because they don't want the 24 accountant seeing it that says, look, everything at Ackerman
25 is legal. All these documents are fine, but you should stop

KM

4575

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 asking for them because you might create a paper trail that
2 New York State might see.

3 You have heard a metaphor used in a couple of other
4 closing statements that the NRA was turning over rocks to 5 find problems and fix them. That the NRA was turning over
6 rocks to find problems and fix them.

7 To mix metaphors for a moment, this letter is 8 Ackerman saying there are bodies buried under these rocks,
9 and you should leave those bodies and these document here
10 with us in Oklahoma where New York can't get them because if 11 you persist with your demands for transparency, if you
12 demand that we give you all the receipts for all the money
13 we spent, you are going to find some things that might hurt,
14 that might hurt some of your executives, and the NRA.

15 If the NRA fit the caricature they are going to 16 draw for you of a corrupt charity that does business in 17 smoke-filled back rooms at cigar bars handing out sweetheart
18 deals to insiders that isn't really committed to compliance,
19 the NRA could have stopped right there. Because if you look
20 at this letter in the jury room, you'll see that it gives 21 the NRA all the superficial assurances it could have, and 22 this letter says everything is fine. All the expenses
23 comply. Don't create a paper trail. Don't dig.

24 Because the NRA was committed to doing the right
25 thing, because the NRA Board was committed to properly

KM

4576

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 administering this charity's assets in furtherance of its
2 mission, the NRA dug.

3 All right. You heard a little bit about this from 4 Mr. Phillips, but I want to talk briefly about what happened
5 in the years leading up to this, the six years that brought 6 us here. The truth is in the six years leading up to the 7 whistleblower outcry in the Summer of 2018, the NRA
8 flourished. The NRA did spectacularly well. The NRA
9 membership more than doubled.

10 You heard that the NRA's payments to one of its 11 membership servicing vendors, MMP, that does mass mailing to 12 the members increased during this time. Well, the number of 13 members increased steeply too.

14 In the six years leading up to the Government
15 targeting the NRA for political reasons, the NRA became a 16 formidable political force. And you might not like the 17 NRA's politics. I told you the first day we met that for 18 many years of my life, I did not like the NRA's politics.
19 But when you're asked to evaluate whether the NRA was 20 behaving consistently with its legitimate purposes or 21 whether it was a proper trustee of that charitable purpose,
22 the answer is yes. The answer is that the NRA's members and 23 donors got what they paid for, and this is not a scam,
24 fly-by-night charity, but this is a very successful and 25 formidable non-profit.

KM

4577

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 All right. You've heard the phrase "tone at the 2 top." The tone at the top has changed because personnel have 3 changed.

4 Josh Powell is a name you heard from both me and
5 Ms. Connell on the first day of this case. They originally 6 had said they were going to call him as a witness. They 7 originally sued him, but they let him off the night
8 before -- well, two days before trial, so he is not part of 9 this case. But Josh Powell is part of the problem. The NRA
10 demanded money back from him, and he's gone.

11 John Frazer's still with us. Mr. Phillips retired.
12 Mr. LaPierre stuck out the course correction that he 13 ordered -- that he ordered knowing it would hurt him and 14 then resigned. And we have a new interim EVP now about whom 15 they presented you no evidence whatsoever about any 16 misconduct, any spending, any use of private jets. Mr.
17 Arulanandam is in that chair until the Board finds a
18 professional CEO.

19 We have Bob Mensinger. He didn't testify to you,
20 but he is the new managing director of compliance. You
21 heard about who is going to be -- who is in the process of 22 becoming a compliance officer who reports independently to 23 the Audit Committee which is exactly what their corporate
24 governance said was the best possible practice.

25 All right. You met Mr. Cotton and Mr. Coy. Both

KM

4578

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 are accountants who serve on the Audit Committee. Both
2 received high marks from the outside accountants who are
3 paid to be independent in evaluating the transparency of 4 their communication, and they were transparent with you on 5 the witness stand. I hope that you were able to see that.
6 These are honest men.

7 All right. On this slide, I'm showing you some 8 documents from the case. I'm also showing you a picture of 9 the son rising over the Roman Colosseum and showing you that 10 for a reason.

11 The Colosseum like the NRA is old. The Colosseum
12 is just a little bit older. NRA is about 150 years old.

13 You heard me ask Mr. Frazer the other day if the 14 NRA was so committed to fixing things -- starting in 2018,
15 if the NRA was so committed to redressing the misconduct
16 against the company, then why were there still some loose
17 ends in subsequent years. And Mr. Frazer told you, this is 18 an old large organization, and it's true. The NRA is more
19 than a century old. The NRA has 76 directors. The NRA has 20 millions of members. The NRA has reams of policies and 21 procedures. Each one of these tax returns that the NRA had 22 to scrutinize and perfect is hundreds of pages long. So
23 change takes time, and that's the sun rise element of this
24 picture. Change takes time which means that a course
25 correction is much more like a sunrise than like a light

KM

4579

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 switch. And as you sit in the jury room and review this
2 evidence, I think you will see the sun rising starting in 3 2018.

4 I want to talk briefly about what's on this slide.
5 We've got the letters to vendors, Ackerman McQueen,
6 Associated Television, Under Wild Skies. These were 7 powerful vendors. These were -- all the invective they'll 8 throw at you about vendors ruling the NRA, about vendors
9 being over paid.

10 In that whistleblower concerns' memo, there's a
11 phrase in there, the whistleblowers are concerned that 12 management is subordinating judgment to vendors, letting 13 them call the shots too much.

14 With Mr. Cox, I showed you an email that led to him
15 testify that it was unhealthy for the vendor Ackerman to 16 have so much control. These vendors that had too much
17 control over the NRA are the ones that the NRA pretty 18 fearlessly pursued and severed in 2018.

19 Associated Television owned by David McKenzie owns 20 the yacht you heard about or at least indirectly owns the 21 yacht you heard about. They were cut off at 2018.

22 And you heard Mr. LaPierre testify that Associated 23 Television committed a fraud against the NRA that was 24 concealed from the NRA that did not benefit but only hurt
25 the NRA, and it was put to an end as soon as the Board

KM

4580

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 learned.

2 Another thing the Board did as soon as it learned,
3 and you'll see in those September, 2018 Audit Committee
4 minutes is the Board ordered compliance seminars.

5 So when the Board ratified related-party
6 transactions, when it says, this deal is fair, but it should 7 have been documented more, and here's what we're going to do
8 to make sure that doesn't happen again without proper
9 advance documentation is when the Board does that, it also 10 sits down and says here are the procedures we're going to 11 implement.

12 And one procedure the Board committed to implement
13 were these compliance trainings which it already started and 14 they continued.

15 I showed you with Mr. Frazer yesterday that long
16 list of names of people who signed and attended those. Mr.
17 Frazer testified that to his knowledge all senior staff have 18 been trained at least once, and most of them, many times.

19 All right. Let's talk about who you heard from. I
20 don't know if you remember it, but I remember it from the 21 first day of this case. I told you in my opening statement,
22 Watch who the government sides with and watch who they 23 expect you to believe.

24 So the Government put up two witnesses from 25 Ackerman McQueen, this vendor that even their own other

KM

4581

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 witnesses called corrupt, that Mr. Cox, subordinate in an
2 email called as "chosen," who wanted to run everything.
3 They give you Mr. Winkler; right.

4 Mr. Winkler who sent all those out-of-pocket
5 expenses invoices to the NRA who testified under oath that
6 the Zegna suits were never billed to the NRA and then it
7 turns out they were, that's who's testifying for the 8 New York Attorney General.

9 Lieutenant Colonel North testified for the New York
10 Attorney General. He signed a contract worth $7 million
11 with Ackerman McQueen.

12 Now the most important piece of Mr. North's
13 testimony -- I'll get to the rest of it in a moment, but the 14 piece that lingers for me the most is when I asked him,
15 Isn't it true, Lieutenant Colonel -- I asked him -- I was 16 standing right over here -- that the NRA asked you to 17 choose. Once the NRA and Ackerman were at war, the NRA
18 asked you to choose Team Ackerman or Team NRA, and you
19 refused, and he said yes.

20 That was the breaking point ultimately with 21 Lieutenant Colonel North. He's on Team Ackerman, and it
22 turns out that Team Ackerman is Team New York Attorney
23 General.

24 All right. We also heard from Rocky Marshall and 25 Esther Schneider. I'll get to both of them later.

KM

4582

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 We also heard from Phillip Journey. Phillip
2 Journey who ran a website professionally raising money for
3 NRA, getting members to pay him to oppose the Attorney
4 General, and when he collected all their money, he flipped
5 and testified for the Attorney General. And he gave that 6 money to a 505 (c)(3) that he borrowed from a friend he said
7 he knew well, but on the witness stand indicated -- on the 8 witness stand claimed not to know whether that friend had in 9 fact been convicted of a felony tax fraud. That's who he 10 was giving NRA's members money to. That's who they put in 11 front of you.

12 Who did we put in front of you? We put in front of 13 you Mr. Cotton, the sheriff, the accountant, the cop, the 14 lawyer who sits on the Audit Committee whose never been 15 accused of taking a penny from the NRA who is independent.

16 We put in front of you Ms. Froman. Ms. Froman who 17 from her time at Harvard Law School has been the kind of 18 person who speaks when something is wrong. Ms. Froman who 19 was friends with Judge Journey, who was friends with Neal
20 Knox, who was friends with many critics of the NRA
21 leadership, but said that she too chose to support Mr.
22 LaPierre for a few years in this instance because Mr.
23 LaPierre had committed to do what was right even if it hurt
24 him.

25 We gave you Mr. Coy. Mr. Coy whose been on the

KM

4583

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Audit Committee for decades. Mr. Coy who said he forced
2 himself to take seriously the allegations of an anonymous
3 whistleblower even when that whistleblower made painful,
4 antigay comments against an NRA employee. He had to do his
5 duty to investigate that letter, and he did.

6 We put in front of you Congressman Bob Barr.
7 Again, not accused of taking any money. We put in front of 8 you Mr. King who was friends with the former Attorney
9 General who comes from the era that Mr. LaPierre described
10 where Democrats and Republicans could be friends.

11 Mr. King, they faulted for receiving a $90,000
12 salary which is not very much in New York as some of you
13 know to run the New York affiliate of the NRA, a New York
14 affiliate that's been spectacularly successful including at 15 the Supreme Court.

16 We put in front of you two real live whistleblowers
17 whom the NRA listened to and protected and promoted, Sonya
18 Rowling and Mike Erstling.

19 No whistleblowers -- no real whistleblowers
20 testified for the Government in this case. All right.

21 So what did you hear from the whistleblowers.

22 You heard some concerns in the Summer of 2018 that
23 were pretty significant. All of these concerns you heard
24 were investigated and addressed. So senior -- all right.
25 You heard about senior management overrides of internal

4584

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 controls.

2 Senior management has now changed, and the managers
3 who remained had to commit to get on board with the 4 compliance review or get out of the way.

5 Josh Powell is gone. Mr. Frazer is still there.
6 That's a good thing. All right.

7 You heard a concern from whistleblowers about
8 judgment being subordinated to vendors. Those vendors were 9 put through the ringer. Ackerman McQueen eventually
10 declared a blood feud against the NRA. The NRA fearlessly
11 dug into Ackerman's documents and today NRA and Ackerman are 12 no longer in business together. All right.

13 And you heard a concern about vague and deceptive
14 billing. That's another thing the whistleblowers brought 15 up, and that's another think the Audit Committee when they 16 learned of it immediately acted upon with demand for more
17 detailed billing.

18 All right. And what do you hear from the same
19 whistleblowers today?

20 You hear from Ms. Rowling who came forward even 21 though it was scary to raise concerns about overrides of 22 internal controls. You hear from her that after she came 23 forward, the NRA which is properly administered by its 24 careful Board acting in good faith, the NRA appropriately
25 fixed that situation. There are no internal overrides.

KM

4585

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Mr. Erstling, another whistleblower, asked if he
2 experienced any reprisals or retaliation. No. He's moved
3 up within the organization.

4 All right. And what you heard from the top cops in 5 the Audit Committee, you heard that they apply their
6 training as professors of accounting, ethics and as law
7 enforcement officers to supervise controls of the NRA, and 8 they've done that very energetically and effectively. There
9 were reams of Audit Committee reports and minutes in the 10 evidence that you will be allowed to request in the jury
11 room. Request any one of those Audit Committee reports and 12 you'll see the committee acting diligently.

13 All right. I told you to remember the phrase
14 "misconduct against the NRA."

15 The truth is, the reason that some instances of 16 misconduct against the NRA persisted for a few years before 17 they were addressed starting in 2018 is because they were 18 concealed from the NRA.

19 Now you heard Mr. LaPierre testify right there
20 yesterday that billings by Associated Television, that
21 entity that was cut in November of 2018, that out-of-pocket
22 expenses by Ackerman, that the ten percent surcharge and 23 other improperly private jet-related expenses billed by a
24 travel agent, that all of these were fraudulent schemes
25 against the NRA.

KM

4586

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Well, the essence of fraud is that it's a lie. The 2 victim doesn't know about it, and if you're trying to
3 judge -- if you're trying to judge whether the NRA was in on 4 any of these schemes, whether the NRA wanted to be fleeced
5 by Ackerman McQueen, if you're looking at the NRA's good
6 faith, one of the best ways to look at that is to look at 7 what the NRA did when they discovered the fraud, and that 8 timeline I've laid out for you starting in 2018, and all of 9 the documents we're footnoting on these slides answers that 10 for you.

11 What the NRA did when it discovered the fraud was 12 it dug in. It turned over even the rocks it was warned not 13 to touch. It did this at tremendous cost. It took risks
14 for the benefit of the association and its mission. And Mr.
15 LaPierre for his part repaid millions of dollars with 16 penalties and interests to the NRA.

17 All right. Mr. Phillips. You have heard from his 18 counsel. It's up to you to judge Mr. Phillips' good faith.
19 I'm not asking you to do that.

20 The reason I'm talking to you today about Mr.
21 Phillips is that for years Mr. Phillips who was hired from a
22 a reputable accounting firm and had a duty to tell the NRA
23 if anything was wrong did not report to the Board. He went 24 before the Board on numerous instances. He was before the 25 Audit Committee and the Finance Committee all the time but

KM

4587

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 did so without mentioning any of these issues of which he
2 was aware.

3 Mr. Phillips suffered a brain injury and was
4 working remotely part of the time. So again, it's up to you
5 to judge his good faith, but it was up to the NRA, and it
6 was the NRA's prerogative, and it was the NRA's right to 7 rely in good faith on what its top accountant was telling
8 it. And at the minute those whistleblowers came forward,
9 the minute the NRA saw a single red flag, a single 10 indication that the reports being delivered by Mr. Phillips
11 might be leaving important things out, the NRA left no stone 12 unturned.

13 All right. Oh, one more thing. The Government has 14 insinuated in some of their cross that the NRA should be 15 faulted for not suing Mr. Phillips.

16 One difference between Mr. Phillips and some of the 17 -- and Chris Cox who they offer as their witness and some 18 other former employees is when the NRA stopped paying Mr.
19 Phillips, right, he had a post-employment contract, that the 20 NRA stopped paying and cut off. When the NRA cut that off,
21 Mr. Phillips didn't sue the NRA.

22 So that's -- that's the reason that the NRA --
23 that's one reason the NRA has not engaged in a court battle
24 with Mr. Phillips the way we were with some of these 25 witnesses the AG has sponsored for you as trustworthy.

KM

4588

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 All right. We talked a little bit about Lieutenant
2 Colonel North.

3 Lieutenant Colonel North. It's incredible. They
4 put forward a high expert commenting to you on related-party
5 transactions, and his job was to add up lots of big numbers
6 and put it on the screen to make the NRA look bad. And he
7 left off the biggest number of all which is Lieutenant
8 Colonel North's contract with the ad agency, the "Ass Clowns 9 For Anything" according to Mr. Cox, his contract with 10 Ackerman McQueen.

11 Ackerman McQueen the same ad agency that sent that 12 letter warning the NRA not to create a paper trail by 13 getting justification for its expenses.

14 All right. You heard Colonel North take the 15 witness stand and tell you that he was a whistleblower who 16 had been retaliated against because he asked to see the 17 legal invoices for my firm, the outside firm that was 18 looking into Ackerman, and Mr. Frazer wouldn't give them to 19 him. He faulted Mr. Frazer. He accused him of hiding
20 documents.

21 And then I put this email up on the screen where 22 Mr. Frazer says, Hey, Lieutenant North, you can come look at 23 the invoices any time. They are in my office. You can't 24 look at the ones that are about you, but that's only three 25 of a whole bunch. You can look at all of the others.

KM

4589

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Colonel North claimed to have no recollection of
2 that email. I don't know if he was actually surprised by it
3 or if he just left it out of his testimony because it was 4 inconvenient for him.

5 All right. You heard from Chris Cox. This is --
6 this was a great underrated moment of this trial. So Chris
7 Cox on direct with the Government because they sponsor him
8 as their witness, right, he testified that he flies coach
9 and favored hotel is Marriott. And then we see the email
10 he's been sending the NRA as part of his salary
11 negotiations; right. And I asked him, Mr. Cox, did you ever
12 ask the NRA to pay travel expense relating to activities
13 involving you and Eric Trump and Don Junior, and he said no.
14 No. No. No. And then I showed him this, and it says
15 travel including Shikar for Don and Eric. I said who are 16 Don and Eric? And he said, oh, those are the president's 17 sons. Right. So I don't know if there's a difference
18 between Eric Trump and Don, Junior and the president's son.
19 I'm just a lawyer. Not a lobbyist. Maybe someone can
20 explain that distinction to me, but I would submit to you
21 that Mr. Cox while a talented beltway lobbyist is not a
22 credible witness.

23 We also heard Mr. Cox say that the private flights
24 he requested were very different than the ones he was 25 faulting Mr. LaPierre for taking because these were smaller

KM

4590

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 planes, and you the jury are the judges of each witness'
2 credibility, so I will let you decide for yourself how much
3 credibility you give that.

4 Mr. Cox testified for two days. And on the first
5 day I asked him, are you sure -- are you sure that as a part
6 of your salary negotiation, you never asked to be fired.
7 And he said, oh, no, I never asked to be fired. And then he 8 takes the witness stand the second day knowing he's going to 9 be crossed, and he said I want to correct something. I
10 actually ask to be fired. That's Mr. Cox. He was asking --
11 he was asking for it.

12 Oh, no. Here we go, all right. This was really 13 fun. Mr. Tenenbaum. So he was the Government's best 14 practices expert, and there were two moments of his 15 testimony that I want to remind you guys about. The first
16 related to purported whistleblower Esther Schneider.

17 So when Mr. Tenenbaum on the stand testifying about 18 whistleblower policies and practices, I walked over here to 19 my colleague Ms. Eisenberg, and I acted out a piece of 20 testimony we had just seen about a conversation between a
21 Board member Carolyn Meadows and Esther Schneider, their 22 whistleblower that happened around the time Ms. Meadows
23 declined to pick Ms. Schneider for a committee. I replayed
24 this with Ms. Eisenberg, and I said to Ms. Eisenberg what 25 their whistleblower said to her colleague which is, You're a

KM

4591

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 stupid fucking bitch. And the most candid moment of
2 testimony we saw from Mr. Tenenbaum was his disgusted
3 reaction to it. He almost sputtered. He turned and said,
4 well, that's not blowing the whistle. And you know what? I
5 agree with the Government's expert on that. That's not 6 blowing the whistle.

7 But there was another really fun moment in the 8 cross-examination of their expert, and that's when I read
9 aloud to him some text relating to whistleblower policy. So
10 I read these words, and I suspect you will see the same
11 words in the instruction the judge gives you.

12 I asked him, Mr. Tenenbaum, a whistleblower is 13 someone who reports actions that is illegal, fraudulent or 14 violation of a policy, right?

15 Now, Mr. Tenenbaum was paid to be a witness for the 16 Government, and he thought I was reading from an NRA policy.
17 So he gave the answer he was paid to give which is, Oh, no.
18 That's not an adequate whistleblower policy. I would want
19 much more.

20 I asked him, you know, well, isn't that the exact
21 same text as New York Law that my client is supposed to be 22 abiding by? And he said, oh, I don't know.

23 All right. Let's talk about their other expert.
24 So they put a forensic accountant in front of you who adds
25 up a bunch of dollar amounts he finds on invoices, but

KM

4592

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 didn't check to see if any of those invoices were actually
2 paid or whether they were refunded, and he doesn't check
3 until the night before he testifies whether any of them are
4 duplicates. Right. So he admitted on cross that he had a
5 spreadsheet of six pages of flights he thought were wrong or 6 he had included in his damages figure, and that spreadsheet
7 shrunk from six to three. It got cut in half as soon as 8 opposing counsel pointed out a basic error in it.

9 Mr. Hines admitted that forensic accountants are 10 paid to be careful. He was not careful because he was not 11 paid to be careful in this case. He was paid to generate
12 numbers that would make the NRA look bad.

13 Well, who looks bad now?

14 All right. Mr. Hines also put a graph in front of 15 you showing how much payments to MMP the membership vendor
16 increased. I have overlaid those payments where the blue
17 bars with the NRA's own revenue growth which Mr. Phillips
18 showed you in one of his exhibits. So again, ask yourself,
19 is the NRA paying -- ask yourself is the NRA paying more to 20 fundraise from an email its members because Mr. LaPierre
21 went on the boat or because the membership doubled in size?
22 Both of those are fair inferences. They have the burden to 23 prove that it's the insidious one. I would submit to you
24 that it's the obvious one.

25 Okay. So let's talk about the other experts.

KM

4593

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Remember I told you, you can hear -- you will hear one of 2 two, possibly both of these from the Government.

3 You will hear that we did too little too late or 4 too much too soon too expensive.

5 We hired four different finance and accounting
6 experts who come and provided opinions to you in this case
7 and we're glad we did. Each of them was important.

8 Ryan Sullivan is a business analytics economist.
9 He is paid by businesses to help them make complicated high
10 stakes decisions. Like he was paid by the NBA to help to 11 figure out how to structure a contract with the players'
12 union, and he talked to you about reasonableness and 13 prudence and materiality, how -- you know, what kind of 14 factors should you think about when you're putting yourself
15 in the shoes of a business decision-maker. He evaluated the 16 NRA's compliance efforts and endorsed them firmly.

17 You heard from Amish Mehta. He is an outside
18 auditor. He is paid to be independent and even a little bit
19 adversarial, not to be management's friend. He is paid to 20 look at the books and insure they are in order.

21 He testified that the NRA's conflict of interest
22 controls and seminars were more robust than many of his 23 other clients.

24 Then you heard from Matthew Lerner. Matthew Lerner
25 is an internal auditor. He is not like Mr. Mehta. He is

KM

4594

Defendant's Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 not paid to come in and be an independent third party. He
2 is paid to work inside a company and design internal
3 controls for it to help to make its compliance environment
4 better. He thought -- he thought the NRA's control
5 environment was effective.

6 Then you heard from Bruce Blacker. He is a
7 forensic accountant like Mr. Hines. I asked him, Mr.
8 Blacker, would you ever in your work as a forensic
9 accountant do what Mr. Hines did and add up numbers on a
10 bunch of invoices without checking to see if they were 11 actually paid or whether they were duplicates or not. And 12 he said no, I would never do that in the real world.

13 He also testified to something that I would submit
14 applies to every single professional who works for the NRA.
15 Certainly, it applies to me.

16 When you work for a controversial organization, an 17 organization that is so despised by the regulator that they 18 try to impose the death penalty on it and take all of its 19 money, that's a very -- that's a very high-stakes business
20 decision.

21 And you heard both Mr. Plotts and Mr. Blacker, two 22 different independent accountants testify that they vetted
23 the NRA more strictly -- more strictly than another charity
24 like say if the Red Cross had tried to hire them because 25 they knew that any opinions or books they produced for the

KM

1 NRA would be attacked as inaccurate. They knew they would
2 be scrutinized.

2 (BY MS. ROGERS)

3 MS. ROGERS: All right, and you heard from Ms.
4 Cullen. She is an expert at tax accounting, and she
5 testified to the steps the NRA takes to review its tax
6 filings to ensure they are not false, but that they are 7 actually true and accurate.

8 Can the jury still hear me? Okay, great.

9 Mr. Plotts was a very important witness.

10 There were two documents you looked at from him,
11 and one was completed in 2019 which is on the screen, and 12 another was completed in 2020 right after they filed their 13 lawsuit.

14 So, the NRA is hiring an auditor to look at its 15 books and sign off on its audit financial statements and put 16 yourself in a position of an auditor that's being hired, you
17 know, you know that the client trying to hire you to sign
18 its financials is going to be attacked and is going to be 19 accused of corruption whether they're innocent or guilty.
20 You know that accusation is coming. So, you have to vet
21 that client very carefully, and Mr. Plotts did. Mr. Plotts
22 interviewed accountants at the NRA, not just the higher ups.
23 He interviewed front line employees in what he called fraud
24 interviews. Mr. Plotts reviewed the attorney general's 25 allegations in 2020. Mr. Plotts found the NRA to be very

BP

4597

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 transparent understanding the issues and making all the 2 right efforts.

3 And if you ask for this document in the jury room,
4 you will see a long list of what he called special
5 procedures, special testing that Mr. Plotts performed to 6 make sure, for example, the travel invoices had proper
7 support, that related-party transactions were being handled
8 appropriately.

9 He looked at every allegation in that complaint,
10 including specific vendors they made allegations about and 11 tested it because he wanted to be confident, right. That he 12 wouldn't end up like Mr. Hines' former firm, Arthur
13 Andersen, which was the accountant for Enron, that he 14 wouldn't end up being dragged into something like that,
15 having signed off on financials that weren't true.

16 THE COURT: Just a head's up, we're closing in on 17 the end. I'm giving you some of Mr. --

18 MS. ROGERS: I was going to take the nine minutes
19 that Mr. Phillips had.

20 THE COURT: Well, I had already been counting
21 that.

22 MS. ROGERS: I was going to go to one, if that's 23 okay?

24 THE COURT: Just short of one, yeah.

25 MS. ROGERS: Let's talk about what you're actually

BP

4598

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 going to be deciding in the jury, room and I don't have a
2 copy of the -- oh, one more thing.

3 Related-party transactions, they first ask for 4 information about them in June 2019. That would become 5 important when you see the charge.

6 All right. So, I don't know for sure what your
7 jury verdict form will look like, but I have a feeling it
8 will look a little bit like this; and this is how the NRA
9 would like you to fill it out.

10 So, these related-party transactions are simply not 11 grounds for liability on the part of the NRA. Most of these 12 transaction, Mr. Butz, Ms. Froman, Ms. Hammer, these were in 13 place years, years before New York enacted legal 14 requirements about them; and once New York did enact legal 15 requirements as Mr. Frazer's counsel told you, the NRA met
16 in 2016 and reviewed and approved these, then ratified them
17 in more detail later.

18 Marion Hammer, you've heard a lot about her. Their 19 witnesses and our witnesses call her a legendary gun
20 lobbyist. She's very effective. You heard testimony that 21 the NRA pays lots of gun lobbyists, not just Ms. Hammer.
22 You heard no evidence, none, that she's paid more than 23 anybody else or she's overpaid for any of the work she 24 does.

25 All right, Oliver North, this was a transaction

BP

4599

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 that had a lot of problems with it. The Audit Committee
2 ratified it based on a disclosure of what they thought were
3 the material terms. As soon as they learned that there
4 were additional and different terms of this transaction,
5 that the deal wasn't what it seemed, they rescinded it which
6 is exactly what the related-party transaction law
7 contemplates. Okay, and that's the document you saw showing 8 that they rescind it, rescinded in full.

9 Josh Powell, a disgraced departed executive. There
10 were two related-party transactions involving him.

11 Mr. Frazer testified about how he personally
12 researched a few thousand dollars that were paid to 13 Mr. Powell's father to photograph a shooting event. He 14 researched it and made sure it was the same that was paid to 15 other photographers.

16 There was, also, a vendor camped McKenna that hired
17 Mr. Powell's wife; but the NRA had been paying McKenna for 18 years before Mr. Powell came into the picture, and it put 19 very careful limits on the McKenna relationship after the 20 Powell situation was discovered and then Powell was gone.

21 All right, whistleblowers. I'm going to ask you to 22 find, first, if the NRA had -- had a compliant whistleblower
23 policy.

24 So, the Court will tell you tomorrow that under
25 New York law, any nonprofit is required to have a

BP

4600

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 whistleblower policy with certain provisions and the policy
2 doesn't have to match those verbatim; but it has to be
3 substantially equivalent.

4 This is in general what your whistleblower policy
5 has to do, and this is, in general, what the NRA
6 whistleblower did. And how do we know that? Because the 7 NRA whistleblower policy worked. Whistleblowers came
8 forward and they were listened to. Even an anonymous
9 whistleblower complaint by a deranged homophobe, was taken
10 serious enough for the Audit Committee to investigate and 11 confirm that the numbers in it were false.

12 So, the whistleblower policy complied with the law
13 and we know that because it served its purpose.

14 Whistleblowers were treated very well at the NRA.
15 You met two of them. This is -- Colonel North was probably 16 the most powerful person at the NRA at the time that he 17 styled himself as a whistleblower in a disingenuous way; but 18 Sonya Rowling and Mike Erstling weren't, but they took a
19 risk, and they were protected.

20 There's someone named Richard Childress whose name
21 you've heard more in the closing arguments than any other
22 time in this trial because the AG put no evidence about him.
23 He's also not a whistleblower. He was a director who 24 cosigned some of Colonel North's letters; and when Colonel
25 North did not winning his battle for control of the NRA, so

BP

4601

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Mr. Childress resigned.

2 We talked about Mr. Journey. Mr. Journey made a
3 disingenuous accusations in the bankruptcy that the NRA was 4 a non-compliant charity, and then he policed money from NRA
5 and directed it to a convicted felon.

6 Mr. Knight, no evidence on him. Not even sure if
7 you will see him on the verdict sheet, but he's not a
8 whistleblower. Same with Mr. Malone. No evidence at trial.
9 He resigned from the NRA on his own terms, not someone who 10 was retaliated against, not someone who was treated
11 adversely.

12 Now, in order to cover that evidentiary gap, I
13 expect you to hear from the Government this afternoon that 14 even if these NRA directors who they're saying were 15 whistleblowers, they weren't fired. They weren't punished.
16 They weren't silenced, but people were mean to them on 17 Facebook, all right. That's not the kind of adverse action
18 that the judge will instruct you that a whistleblower
19 violation contemplates.

20 The truth is and the truth you heard from the 21 witness stand is that the NRA board vigorously disagrees all
22 the time. Ms. Froman testified they had disagreements at 23 meetings going late into the night, more like a parliament,
24 a traditional corporate board. These are fiery opinionated
25 gun right advocates and sometimes they disagree; but

BP

4602

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 ordinary disagreements about people who have the same amount
2 of power in an organization who are both directors is not
3 whistleblower retaliation.

4 Whistleblower retaliation is much closer to what
5 Colonel North tried to do, which was shut down the 6 investigation into the corrupt advertising agency that was 7 paying him $7 million.

8 Rocky Marshall was never denied information. He 9 tried to throw Mr. Frazer under the bus and claim that 10 Mr. Frazer would not provide him with a copy of the NRA
11 insurance policy. In fact, the testimony and documents show
12 that Mr. Frazer bent over backwards to give this man every 13 document he wanted, and this man never bothered to come and 14 look at them. He made no effort to rejoin the board, and 15 the board didn't reelect and he could have tried to run
16 again and he didn't.

17 We talked board Colonel North, talked about 18 Ms. Schneider.

19 All right, Mr. Spray. Mr. Spray was the CFO of the 20 NRA who came after Mr. Phillips and before Ms. Rowling. You
21 saw video testimony from both sides on Mr. Spray. You saw 22 that Mr. Spray left the NRA. That it wasn't his decision to 23 leave when he did, but that he had been thinking of leaving 24 and that he asked the NRA to say he was leaving for health
25 reasons.

BP

4603

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 Mr. Spray had serious health reasons to leave the
2 NRA; and even after he left the NRA, you heard, you heard
3 the NRA's accountant, Mr. Plotts, testify after Mr. Spray
4 left he called him up because he thought this is someone I
5 want to talk to. He was in a senior financial role and he
6 just left. What might he know that I should know to guard
7 my findings on the NRA? And he heard from Mr. Spray what 8 you heard from Mr. Spray, which is that Mr. Spray was 9 supported by upper management in the compliance reform he
10 implemented and he thought the NRA was on the right track,
11 and we've given you all the citations to that because that's 12 what's in the record and that's what the facts show.

13 All right, Mr. Frazer's counsel talked to you a bit
14 about the allegedly false filings that we made, so I won't 15 belabor it.

16 Inconsistencies are not lies. The fact that you
17 could fix this issue by having software checked to make sure
18 that every page is attached is exactly the same. Shows that 19 a serious audience reviewing that filing to get information
20 about the nonprofit would know there was something in there
21 relating, for example, to compensation for board members and 22 that's the test for materiality.

23 All right, and you'll be asked about the 24 administration of the NRA's charitable assets. I expect
25 this to be a long several paragraphs; and the parts of it I

BP

4604

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 want to highlight for you is that you will be considering
2 whether the NRA in doing what it did was pursuing its
3 legitimate purposes, was trying to advance the mission.

4 You will be asked whether the NRA board acted in 5 good faith, whether they wanted what was best for their 6 association and whether they exercised care.

7 And, remember, ordinary care is not looking back
8 with 20/20 hindsight. One thing Mr. Tenenbaum, their 9 government expert said that I really credit, is he called it
10 the in-their-shoes test.

11 When you're evaluating ordinary care, you have to 12 imagine that you stand in the shoes of the NRA's board of 13 directors when it is making these decisions with whatever
14 limited information and whatever incentive it had.

15 And the part of good faith and ordinary, the Court
16 will tell you they can rely on outside experts. And you
17 heard Mr. LaPierre testify yesterday, gave you lists tax
18 lawyers, regular lawyers, tax accountants, auditors,
19 forensic accountants, a list of experts that were hired by 20 the NRA because it was willing to go every mile to get it
21 right.

22 And you will be asked to consider in the jury
23 charge whether misconduct that happened was by the NRA or 24 against the NRA, and I think the testimony is unequivocal on
25 that.

All right, first day we met, we heard hours of opening statements; and then at the very end, I talked to you for about ten seconds about self-defense and about my experience in self-defense. And the Attorney General objected all over the place. They didn't want you to hear that stuff or think about it; and the reason is and it is true, this has not been a case about the rights to buy a gun. That's not what this case is about, but this was very much a case about self-defense, about the right to defend yourself and the choice to do it, because that's what the NRA did.

The NRA was told by whistleblowers that it faced threats, threats from corrupt vendors and negligent executives who are taking advantage of it. The NRA was told by the attorney general's predecessor that there was mounting political pressure to attack the NRA even if it hadn't really done anything wrong; and the NRA leaned in and double-downed and that board defended itself. They left no stone unturned. They hired lawyers and during this trial you heard them faulted for doing that. They shouldn't have spent money on lawyers to fix the organization or to defend themselves from us. That's what the government is telling you.

And another thing the Government is telling you

BP

4606

Defendant Summation/Ms. Rogers

1 today, they're going to ask to you find cause for removal
2 of executives. They're asking you to tell the NRA, You
3 don't get to choose your own leaders. You don't even get to 4 choose your own lawyers. The Government gets to choose for
5 you.

6 I talked to you the first day of this case about 7 the differences between a scam charity, the kind that we
8 want the government to protect us from, the kind that holds
9 out its hand collecting alms for the poor and then
10 improperly administers that money by spending it, private 11 benefits for themselves.

12 We talked about differences between that kind of 13 scam and the nonprofit like NRA that pursues its legitimate
14 purposes and confronts the real risks of fraud and abuse
15 that every large organization does. What matters what's 16 dispositive isn't whether that risk existed. It was how the 17 NRA acted when it came to light.

18 The first words you heard from the attorney
19 general, the first day we met she said this is a case about 20 corruption. But I ask you, if this is a case about 21 corruption, why would the attorney general seek to impose
22 the corporate death penalty on a nonprofit that an
23 independent and public accountant found was governed better
24 than 75 percent of other charities? Why? If this is a case
25 about corruption, it wasn't corruption by the NRA.

THE COURT: Ms. Connell, you may proceed.

MS. CONNELL: Thank you very much, your Honor.

SUMMATION BY

MS. CONNELL:

MS. CONNELL: Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, what happens when someone is caught in the act, when someone is caught with their hand in the proverbial cookie jar? When they are caught literally with their hand in the cookie jar with crumbs on their face, on their clothing, what are they going to do?

What does our common sense and life experience tell us they're going to do?

Well, first, they're going to deny about where there's evidence that they have been caught in the act. That won't work.

So, what are they going to do next? They're going to deflect. They're going to try and get you to think about anything but what happened to those cookies, what was going on when those cookies were being eaten. They're going to blame it on others. They're going to point the finger at other people and blame anyone but themselves.

They're also going to decide that a good offense is the best defense. They might say why are you even watching this cookie jar? What difference does it make? Why are you looking at me? Leave me alone. They might try and minimize what they did. That's natural. We've seen this in our everyday life when people do something wrong. They will say, well, it wasn't that big a deal. It was a few cookies. What's the harm? It is a small harmless violation. It's a foot fault, right.

And then when none of these work, they're going to come to the final step. They're going to say, you know what, I get it. What I did was wrong. I understand. I won't do it again. You don't have to keep watching me. Everything is fine.

But, ladies and gentlemen, when you're caught in the act, when you're being watched by a government regulator, when you've been found in the middle of committing illegal conduct; saying you're sorry now, saying maybe you'll put back a couple of those cookies doesn't mean you didn't take the cookies.

If a burglar took something from someone's home, got caught, got arrested and said, Hey, I'm sorry I'll, return some of the stuff, maybe. I won't do it again. Okay, that's a positive step, that's good; but that doesn't

BP

4610

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 mean they're not responsible for the burglary.

2 What you have seen in this case, in this trial and
3 I think we've seen that at times the cases are talking past
4 each other, is exactly this. Although, the defendants are 5 not kids and we're not talking about a cookie jar. We're
6 talking about something much more serious. We're talking
7 about hard-earned funds donated to a charity. We're talking
8 about the trust of NRA donors and members, and the trust of 9 people in general in charities.

10 Even though that's what we're talking about, like
11 the kid in this metaphor, like somebody putting their hand
12 in a cookie jar, the defendants have done each of the steps
13 that I talked about. They have deflected. They have blamed
14 each other. They have said that their violations are true;
15 but now they understand. Again, stopping illegal conduct 16 after you're caught, after you're being watched does not 17 make your conduct disappear.

18 Please keep your eye on that ball.

19 Again, we're not saying that efforts to reform are 20 unimportant. We're not -- they are important. The need for 21 reform is important in that they follow through, that's 22 important. It doesn't mean illegal conduct didn't occur,
23 and I'm going to talk to you about that reform, that course
24 correction.

25 Think about whether the evidence the defendants

BP

4611

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 have put on in this case disproves the illegal conduct that
2 plaintiff has shown, and I'm going to walk you through some
3 of that illegal conduct.

4 Think about whether when defendants told the same
5 story when it was convenient for them and when they pointed 6 the finger at each other when that was more convenient for
7 them.

8 Instead of disproving most of the allegations
9 alleged by plaintiff; for example, instead of disproving
10 that the defendants illegally approved conflict-of-interest
11 payments to the MMP entities without contracts that support
12 those payments, without necessary approvals, without 13 ensuring that they're getting good services -- and we'll 14 talk about that in a second -- in support of those payments.
15 They didn't focus on that.

16 What did they do? They went on the offense.
17 That's what a lot of the closings you've heard about today
18 were. The closings were about how this is a witch hunt.
19 That the attorney general said that they're terrorist
20 organizations, the same attorney general who's trying to get 21 money back that was wrongfully taken from the NRA to give 22 back to the NRA. How does that make sense that this is 23 wrong?

24 They are a charity regulated in New York and even 25 by their own admission they have done things wrong. This

BP

4612

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 witch hunt defense is not a defense. When we said, Hey,
2 you've been paying insiders and you need to make sure that
3 you're doing the right thing, you need to make sure you're 4 approving that; they looked at their records, they are 5 paying insiders, they have been.

6 When we said you have sweetheart deals to vendors,
7 they're a conflict of interest, turns out we were right.

8 When we said you're hiding your payment by passing
9 them through a vendor so people can't see that you're paying
10 for thousand-dollar-a-night hotels, permanent electronics
11 for executives and their families.

12 That turned out to be true. That's not a witch
13 hunt. That's the truth. And this witch hunt narrative
14 that's not a defense, I just want to take that off the table
15 right at the beginning.

16 The defendants whole defense of this course
17 correction starts not because of an internal driving
18 commitment to compliance. It starts by their own admission
19 with a 2017 call from the former Attorney General of the 20 State of New York, Eric Schneiderman, telling them,
21 essentially, you better put your house in order.

22 If that call hadn't been made, if this
23 investigation hadn't been commenced, if we weren't on trial
24 now do you believe that much of the reforms that they're 25 touting now would even have taken place? I would suggest to

4613

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 you the answer is no.

2 Finally, we heard a lot of talk about witnesses in
3 this case; but the State's case -- and that means the people
4 the State puts on, with the exception of two experts whose 5 qualifications were not doubted and two witnesses for 6 long-time vendors of the NRA were entirely current and 7 former NRA directors and employees.

8 These are the people who care about the NRA's
9 mission, who care about its success; and they came in here
10 to tell you about what they saw that was wrong and what was 11 truly going on in the NRA. And I would point out that our 12 witnesses that we called include John Frazer, Sonya Rowling,
13 Michael Erstling, Craig Spray and others.

14 And to the extent that counsel tries to imply that 15 Ackerman is Team NYAG, we didn't pick Ackerman. We don't 16 support Ackerman engaging what the NRA now says is 17 fraudulent conduct.

18 The contracts with Under Wild Skies were
19 fraudulent. The payments to Tony Makris were fraudulent.
20 The payments to Ackerman were fraudulent. The NRA wants to 21 pretend that's something that happened to them, somehow,
22 someday. That's not an accident.

23 We're going to walk you through the timeline.
24 That's conduct they chose. Those are vendors they chose.
25 They chose to engage in the out-of-pocket expense

BP

4614

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 reimbursement process. They chose to engage in these type
2 of conduct. So, when we call in a witness from Ackerman to 3 testify, that's the witness that the NRA chose to do
4 business with for two decades.

5 That's not team NYAG. That's their -- that's their 6 vendor. That's the people they stood behind for years until 7 it got to be inconvenient for them.

8 In sum, the documents for the most part, the bulk
9 of it, 99 percent of this case is proven by the NRA's own
10 documents, by their own witnesses, by the documents of the 11 vendors they chose to do business with. That's where this 12 evidence comes from.

13 So the non-defense of this is a witch hunt should 14 be taken off the table right now.

15 Now, let's go back to something we heard a lot
16 about in these openings.

17 When I stood before you six weeks ago, I started
18 out and the first sentence I said to you was, "This case is 19 about corruption."

20 Well, let me tell you something, this case is about 21 corruption. It is. It is about the misuse of charitable 22 funds that we've proven were spent for things, like, private
23 jets -- and we'll talk about why that was wrong --
24 limousines and black cars, Glam Squad, meaning hair and 25 makeup expenses, up to see $60,000 expenses that we can

2 dollars of suits from a store in Beverly Hills, million
3 dollar deals to insiders, payments to loyal board members
4 and pervasive violations of internal controls.

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 MS. CONNELL: The Defendants in this case are the
2 NRA, and let me stop for one second because we have had a
3 little slight of hand here.

4 A corporation, the NRA, any company, Apple, any
5 company, it's an idea. It's a legal concept. A corporation
6 acts only through its people. It is liable for the actions
7 of those people.

8 The judge will explain the law to you, but the NRA
9 will have to prove that it is not liable for the actions of 10 Wayne LaPierre, Wilson Phillips, John Frazer and other
11 executives whom it allowed to violate the law. It can not 12 walk away and say the NRA didn't know about what they were 13 doing or the NRA is not responsible for it.

14 Wayne LaPierre was the EVP of the NRA until 15 February 1, 2024. He left with no discipline, no
16 suspension, under his own steam. They can not walk away
17 from his conduct. He was the man who led and controlled the 18 NRA with the band of loyal insiders for over 30 years.

19 The other defendants are, of course, Wayne
20 LaPierre, John Frazer and Wilson Phillips, and they helped 21 create this culture of corruption. They helped carry out
22 this corruption. They didn't do it by themselves. They had 23 help. There were key loyal and entrenched Board members at 24 the NRA who have been there for decades, at times who have 25 supported, covered for and insured Wayne LaPierre's

KM

4617

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 continued control and dominance. And now that he's gone,
2 they are still in control. Every one of them is still with
3 the NRA, every single one of them, and you have seen a lot
4 of names. You have seen Mr. Cotton. You have seen Ms.
5 Froman. And let's talk about this for one second. I just 6 want to step aside -- step out of this for one second.

7 I said a corporation acts through its people, and 8 that's true. People are complicated. People are not always 9 just one thing. They are not -- you can be someone who 10 cares about the NRA and still wrongfully takes its money and 11 spends it at the same time. You can be someone who is a 12 good or nice person but fails in their fiduciary duties at 13 the same time. You can be someone who is smart,
14 accomplished, well-meaning like Ms. Froman who came up and 15 testified, who is impressive by any standard, but who still 16 does things that maybe she shouldn't.

17 Remember when she was questioned about the cheat
18 sheet -- about the cheat sheet that helped keep Wayne
19 LaPierre in control? We heard so much testimony about the 20 free and independent nominating committee, but you saw that 21 she was told -- she was given a cheat sheet, told who to put 22 on that nominating committee. That's who ended up being on 23 the nominating committee, and you will see -- you saw 24 evidence. I will go through some of it, that that 25 nominating committee controls the Board of the NRA.

KM

4618

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 So these key loyal Board members helped and cover
2 for LaPierre. They helped and covered for the entrenched
3 leadership. I mean, they are the entrenched leadership.
4 They help and cover for the misconduct. They have taken
5 part in some of the reforms.

6 Again, we are going to talk about those reforms,
7 but they have also taken part in steps that have allowed the 8 NRA to get to the point that it's at.

9 Remember discussing safeguards in place to protect 10 charities and assets? You have seen evidence that each of 11 the first four of these have been pervasively violated or 12 violated or breached by the defendants. You've seen
13 breaches of fiduciary duties. You've seen rampant
14 violations of internal controls. They have been referred to 15 as nitpicking.

16 I would suggest to you that not getting required
17 approvals for contracts under which say a treasurer could 18 get paid millions of dollars is more than nitpicking. It's 19 more than just a little mistake. It's in violation of the 20 trust that the NRA and its member should be able to put in 21 the treasurer.

22 You've seen whistleblowers violations, and we're
23 going to talk about those. We're going to talk about false
24 statements on the NRA's regulatory tax filings.

25 At the beginning of this case I talked to you about

KM

4619

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 the import of each of these. I'm not going to go through
2 all of that again, but I'm going to say that as we talk
3 about the evidence in this case, keep in mind how each of 4 these safeguards has been overridden by the defendants.

5 Plaintiff has presented evidence that tens of 6 millions of dollars in payments that Wayne LaPierre has 7 approved to his friends, supporters and loyalists without 8 written contracts, without necessary approvals, without
9 deliverables, without any clear indication of what services
10 and goods the NRA is supposed to get in response, and I want
11 to stop there again for a second and say this.

12 You have heard a lot of conclusory statements.
13 David Keene made speeches. He's a great speaker. He may be 14 a great speaker. Why is he paid a flat rate? How many 15 speeches did he make in any given year? Did he make a 16 speech every year? Should he have been paid the amount he 17 was paid by the NRA or would a better practice have been 18 that he actually delivers goods and services and the NRA
19 gets the value of its bargain? That's not what happened
20 here. He is a supporter and a friend of Wayne LaPierre, a 21 former president of the NRA, and he was paid a flat rate for 22 years. As was Sandy Froman. I'm sure she's an excellent
23 speaker. I'm sure she knows a lot about Second Amendment
24 law, but she was paid a flat rate as a portion of the 25 expenses of her law office business, and we don't know --

KM

4620

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 you didn't hear one witness say how many speeches did she
2 give. Who else could they have gotten for less money?
3 Those were not reimbursable for cost. They were average
4 monthly rate.

5 She testified, yeah, I got about $3,700 a month.
6 We don't even know if she did a speech in some years. She
7 got paid that because she was a loyalist. A LaPierre
8 loyalist.

9 And the violation of internal controls stopped us
10 and stopped the NRA of what was delivered, what was supposed
11 to be delivered and what they are paying for.

12 In fact, you heard from Mr. LaPierre yesterday that 13 the NRA was defrauded -- those were the NRA's words. Those 14 are his words -- under some of the agreement he and Mr.
15 Phillips got the NRA involved in. These are some of the 16 arrangements to which Mr. Frazer turned a blind eye, and 17 we'll talk about that.

18 You have seen evidence that is sometimes shocking,
19 sometimes lurid, I think, but I suggest to you that most of 20 it is sad. Most of it is sad.

21 This is not a case as Mr. Correll said in his 22 opening statement about Government intrusion into personal
23 lives. This is a case about whether when people donate
24 money to a charity, that money should go to the mission of 25 the charity or if it should go to buy -- I don't know --

KM

4621

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 very expensive hair and makeup services for Susan LaPierre
2 or should it go to pay for Mr. Phillips to commute without
3 Board approval from Dallas where he is working as CFO and 4 treasurer of the NRA or should it go to pay for Tyler
5 Schropp the head of advancement to stay in hotels that cost
6 a fortune in violation of NRA travel and approval processes.

7 The NRA let all of this happen for years. That was 8 a failure to safeguard charitable assets in their care.
9 They allowed the Defendants' conduct to continue, and that's 10 what this case is about.

11 When we first started talking weeks ago, in my 12 opening statement I talked about how could somebody like
13 LaPierre and his entrenched leadership, his friends maintain 14 control. How can they get away with this for decades? And 15 I talked about the four S's, self-serving management,
16 spending, secrecy and suppression.

17 You have seen evidence of all of them. We don't 18 have time to walk through all of the examples, but I'd like
19 to talk about one that was one that came up in other
20 counsels' closing statements. This is Oliver North.

21 Oliver North and the NRA engaged in an illegal
22 related-party transaction. Let's be clear about that. They 23 did.

24 Now, let's look at who helped that transaction
25 along because it is a textbook example of how Wayne LaPierre

KM

4622

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 maintained control of the NRA using people he hand-picked
2 and put into their position because they would help him out,
3 how he used suppression, secrecy and spending to get what he
4 wanted and maintain control.

5 Oliver North -- and by the way, when we talk about 6 this one example where there is a -- where there are
7 contested facts, I am going to use Defendants' facts, and I
8 am going to show you that Plaintiffs still should win in 9 this case.

10 So Oliver North was a long-time Board member,
11 friend of LaPierre. He was in Wayne LaPierre's wedding.

12 Remember, according to Tom King in late 2017, the 13 NRA had been warned that it may be subject to Government
14 scrutiny.

15 You heard Colonel North and others testify that in 16 late 2017, early 2018, then NRA president Pete Brownell
17 decides he will not run for a second term. Wayne LaPierre
18 is in trouble. He knows the NRA is being looked at. He 19 knows the NRA is in trouble. North and others said the NRA
20 was being looked at for possibly ties or even appropriate
21 ties to Russia. Brownell is stepping in. LaPierre could 22 step back and just let this whoever the normal election
23 process turns out to be the next NRA president, he could let 24 that play out. That's not what he does because he can't 25 risk that lack of control. He goes to his playbook, and he

KM

4623

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 does what he's done when he's backed into a corner.

2 If you remember in the late nineties, he was facing
3 a challenge to his power, and he went and got Charlton
4 Heston to be the president of the NRA. This time he turns
5 and looks around. He finds Oliver North. He's successful
6 especially in the conservative circles on television. He
7 has a successful career. He's making a lot of money at Fox
8 News, and he gets a lot of votes for the Board when he runs
9 for the Board. He is high profile.

10 What does Wayne LaPierre say to Oliver North? He
11 says, I need you as president. You have to be president. I
12 need you as my next president. We need somebody like you,
13 and there's nobody else like you.

14 Oliver North testified to this that he was 15 solicited by Wayne LaPierre. You didn't hear anyone deny
16 it. It wasn't denied. It's an admitted fact.

17 You heard Oliver North for good or for ill be 18 upfront with Wayne LaPierre, and he knew it was a volunteer
19 position and he wouldn't do it as a volunteer. He wasn't 20 going to leave his high-paying job to take a volunteer
21 position, and he needed health insurance for his wife who 22 was suffering from a really serious and terminal illness at 23 the time. And he said, I can't take it without a job. I
24 can't take it. Nobody contested that.

25 And what happened? Wayne LaPierre said, I'll take

KM

4624

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 care of that. I'll take care of it. And Wayne did. Wayne
2 said, I've got to have you as the next president of the NRA,
3 and I can make that happen, and at the end of it, Wayne did
4 take care of it. Again, North was clear. I need to be 5 employed. I couldn't be an outside contractor. I have to 6 be an employee to get health insurance. And LaPierre made
7 sure he did.

8 Let's think about that for a second. The head of a
9 charity is going to go dictate who is going to be the next
10 Board president of that charity. He is going to use a
11 vendor, Ackerman McQueen, to secure multi-million dollar
12 employment for that new president, and he's going to have 13 the NRA pay for that. He's going to back door it. He's 14 going to pass through those costs. Why? It's secrecy.
15 It's hiding. It's hiding that payment through the NRA by 16 the NRA through Ackerman McQueen.

17 The next thing you know, and by the way, notice
18 about this employment agreement, there is something that 19 should jump right out at you. It says "Employment
20 Agreement" right across the top. Okay. This is important
21 because if you remember a year later, Josh Frazer is going 22 to say, well, we didn't understand he was an employee. We 23 thought he was an independent contractor, and that makes all
24 the difference. We will talk about that in a second.

25 So the next thing you know without preparing a

KM

4625

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 nomination packet, without going to the nominating
2 committee, without being interviewed, without campaigning,
3 North is made the next president of the NRA. Wayne said he
4 would take care of it, and he took care of it. He was 5 installed.

6 The NRA says it was somehow tricked. Again,
7 because they thought he was an independent contractor. But 8 even if we take the uncontested evidence here, right; even 9 if we take Josh Frazer's testimony that he didn't get a copy
10 of the employment agreement and the Audit Committee didn't
11 get a copy of the employment agreement, we have uncontested
12 testimony from Oliver North, and he said that he gave Wayne
13 a copy of the employment contract. Wayne was in the room
14 when it was signed. Wayne got a copy.

15 Guess who else got a copy? Wilson Phillips. He 16 said Melanie Montgomery of Ackerman handed him an envelope
17 that had the employment agreement in it. He assumed it was 18 the executed version. So they both had a copy of an 19 agreement that said "Employment Agreement" across the top.

20 LaPierre knew about the agreement and the nature of 21 the agreement. He was at the meeting where it was signed.
22 Phillips knew about the agreement. It was executed in May 23 of 2018, and it was a related-party transaction. It was not 24 approved in advance. This is during the course correction.

25 The course correction has begun. The 360-degree

KM

4626

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 review has begun, and Wayne LaPierre just got his friend a
2 multi-million dollar deal.

3 In September 2018, the Audit Committee meets to 4 retroactively ratify that transaction. The judge is going
5 to explain the law to you, but when the Audit Committee
6 wants to retroactively ratify something, it has to meet some 7 fairly stringent requirements.

8 It has to look at whether the agreement is fair and 9 reasonable. It has to consider alternative transactions.
10 It has to document and look at where was the failure, why
11 wasn't this approved in advance. You are going to see that 12 none of that was done here.

13 The Audit Committee didn't call Oliver North and 14 ask him the questions. They didn't call Wayne LaPierre and 15 ask any questions. John Frazer testified they did not have 16 a copy of the contract but only a summary. But taking 17 Frazer's version as the truth, if having that contract was 18 so important, wouldn't you expect the general counsel, the 19 highest legal officer of a corporation and the secretary of 20 the Board to raise a concern about it; to raise an issue; to 21 say, Hey, I need to know what this contract says. We need
22 to look at its terms. We need to be clear.

23 He doesn't do -- he didn't do that. Does he take 24 any steps to try and block the ratification? No.

25 You saw those minutes at PX 2983. You can ask for

KM

4627

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 them. It does not indicate that this is a provisional
2 approval. It does not indicate it's a provisional based
3 upon meeting North's contract. And you can take a look on 4 the first page of PX -- of this document, PX 2983, and you
5 will see that there were no less than three attorneys
6 present. Steve Hart, outside counsel; John Frazer and Sarah
7 Rogers of the Brewer Firm.

8 You heard that Frazer has input and feedback into 9 the minutes of the Audit Committee at times, and a lot of 10 counsel made reference to attempts by the Attorney General
11 to object to certain minutes or documents going into 12 evidence. You're right we did.

13 When there's evidence that a document might not be 14 the genuine article, where it might not be authentic, where 15 it is not what it says it is, where it's a self-serving 16 document that is not reflected in what was reported to the 17 Board, you bet we're going to object to that. There is 18 nothing wrong with that. And I want to point out to you
19 that the evidence that you should consider in making your 20 decision is the evidence that's admitted in this case that 21 you find believable. It's not the argument of attorneys,
22 you and me. It's not the objections or discussions about 23 the evidence. It's the evidence put in this case, the 24 testimony and exhibits you find believable.

25 Again, Mr. Frazer said that he could not get a copy

KM

4628

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 of the North contract. Again, taking this as true, taking
2 Mr. Frazer's testimony as true that he asked for it and he
3 couldn't get it, why didn't he do something? Why was he so
4 passive? Why acquiesce?

5 Again, if you look at that exhibit, you will see
6 that he was actually the secretary of the Audit Committee at 7 that meeting. Why didn't he note that failure in the 8 minutes? In the report. Excuse me. Because he acquiesced
9 and enabled LaPierre's friend to get a lucrative
10 related-party contract.

11 Ask yourself was the GC an officer who's holding 12 the NRA to the law, who's trying to stop inside baseball or 13 who is showing undivided loyalty to the NRA? No. No, it's 14 not.

15 And by the way, to breach a fiduciary duty doesn't 16 mean you have to take money from the charity and put it in 17 your own pocket. You can also fail to object or fail to try
18 and stop obvious breaches. You can fail to stop or take 19 action when you see someone harming the organization you're 20 supposed to have undivided loyalty to.

21 After that, Lieutenant Colonel North talked about 22 serving as president. He talked about showing up. He 23 talked about doing the job. You heard about him starting to 24 have concerns. He talked about members complaining about 25 cuts to mission services. We will talk about evidence that

KM

4629

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 shows that.

2 He talked about members worrying about spiraling
3 costs at the NRA. He ultimately asked Craig Spray for some 4 breakdowns of that cost and he was flabbergasted by the 5 legal spend.

6 He asked to see invoices. He -- and there is 7 documents in front of you. He found that the spending on 8 legal was $19 million in one year for the Brewer Firm alone.

9 Now, no one is saying the NRA can not defend
10 itself. No one is saying the NRA can not spend money as it
11 sees fit. But when a Board officer says that's a lot of 12 money, I have legitimate concerns about it, and you can read
13 the exhibits I'll list for you that outline his concerns,
14 he's allowed to ask to see those invoices, and he's allowed
15 to ask for an outside independent audit which is what he and 16 Richard Childress and at a time Carolyn Meadows do.

17 Please ask to see PX 390, PX 334 and PX 4942 and PX
18 1683.

19 When Oliver North would not drop asking about the 20 legal spending, and Defendants try and say, well, he 21 couldn't see it because there is a conflict of interest, he 22 couldn't see it because there was a -- he worked for 23 Ackerman, so there was a problem. That's not really
24 conflict that would prevent the president of an organization
25 from looking at legal invoices. But even if it were, he was

KM

4630

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 asking for an outside independent audit. They could have
2 just proceeded with that and avoided the conflict. That was
3 not done, and you heard evidence, you have heard people say
4 a forensic audit was performed. The Brewer bills were 5 audited.

6 Have you seen any evidence of that? You haven't
7 because it wasn't done.

8 You heard Mr. Cotton testify that in one case one
9 insurance company looked at a couple of bills before they 10 paid them. That is not an independent audit of the 11 $19 million in spending that Colonel North was concerned
12 about.

13 Colonel North also complained with Richard
14 Childress about other things, like allegations of corruption
15 that were being launched in the newspapers, in news articles
16 and in material that was being released by Ackerman McQueen.
17 And he asked for formation of a committee, and he asked that 18 that be looked into. His requests were ignored.

19 At this point Oliver North is a whistleblower.
20 It's uncontested. So what happens? He's ignored. He's 21 ignored.

22 It's true the NRA did look into the first complaint
23 they had which is whether the Brewer Firm and Richard 24 Childress and Carolyn Meadows had which is whether the 25 Brewer Firm was properly retained. You can look at the memo

KM

4631

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 that was prepared on that, and it was found that they were 2 not, but his request for an outside audit were ignored, and
3 he told you why, and this also was uncontested, and it's 4 pretty shocking.

5 Colonel North said that Wayne LaPierre told him
6 only Brewer could keep him out of an orange jumpsuit. Only
7 Brewer could keep him out of jail. So leave him alone.
8 Stay in your lane. That's a salaried officer of a charity
9 speaking to the Board president saying, stay in your line.
10 Mind your business. Don't ask questions about the guy who 11 is going to keep me out of jail for my conduct within this 12 charity. And you didn't hear that contested.

13 When he refused to let up, that's when the 14 suppression and the whistleblower retaliation began. I
15 would urge you again to look at PX 1313A and 1789.

16 At the member meeting in Indianapolis in 2019,
17 North learned for the first time that LaPierre would not 18 support his and Richard Childress' renomination as Board
19 officers.

20 He talked about how Childress actually yelled at 21 LaPierre about it. He said not only are you not supporting 22 it, you have spoken to every member of the nominating 23 committee. We're not going to be renominated. They know
24 they're out. They can't get reelected on a petition at the 25 last minute. They are gone. LaPierre's control worked.

KM

4632

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 North is out. And this shows the suppression. This is how
2 LaPierre and his circle of supporters maintained control
3 within the NRA. LaPierre did not deny any of this. He 4 couched it as a failed "coupe attempt" quote unquote, but 5 there was no evidence that anyone was coming for his job.
6 There is no evidence that North was trying to become EVP.
7 LaPierre -- I mean, North was perceived as disloyal to 8 LaPierre, and his days were numbered.

9 And then what happens? North says he returns to 10 his home. He starts to live life as normal. He is still a 11 Board member. In May 2019, just about a year after the 12 contract went into effect, suddenly the Audit Committee
13 springs into action and looks at the contract again, the 14 same one it had ratified in September 2018. You can see 15 this exhibit. They revisit it again, and this time, they 16 find it is a conflict of interest. The same arrangement,
17 the same contract set up by Wayne LaPierre.

18 And this time -- and you can see -- by the way,
19 that's PX 517. You can ask to review it. That's not where 20 the retaliation, where the intimidation, the harassment and 21 retaliation stop.

22 And by the way, I think counsel pejoratively said,
23 Well, just because you get yelled at in a spirited debate,
24 that's not retaliation.

25 The law prevents intimidation, harassment and

KM

4633

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 retaliation, and I would submit to you that what happened to
2 Colonel North, even though he engaged in illegal
3 related-party transaction was clearly whistleblower
4 retaliation.

5 First, his contract was revised and not ratified.
6 Then he faced an ethics complaint by no other than Tom King,
7 one of the NRA witnesses loyal to LaPierre who appeared
8 here.

9 And you saw some of Tom King's texts talking about 10 members of the floor wanted reform. Remember he said, get 11 me their names. Get me their names. There are ways to 12 neutralize people. That's the Tom King you heard from.

13 In any case, Tom King files an ethics complaint
14 against North. North has to hire an attorney. He has to 15 fight against that. That takes time.

16 What follows is two separate lawsuits brought by 17 the NRA against North. The first one is before he even 18 asked for payment of attorney fees, he let the NRA know,
19 hey, I've incurred attorneys' fees responding to a subpoena
20 in congressional matters. I might ask for payment. They 21 bring an action for declaration.

22 The second one is for a declaration that they can
23 oust him as a member. That's what we heard North testify.
24 So he's subject to two lawsuits. North was retaliated
25 against a whistleblower. I'm sorry I spent a long time

KM

4634

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 talking about this example. I'm not going to spend as much
2 time speaking about other pieces of evidence, but this is a
3 textbook example of how NRA leadership is willing to shell
4 out the millions, using vendors to hide it, that these 5 elections are under the control of LaPierre and his
6 entrenched leadership, that they're willing to use
7 suppression, intimidation, harassment and retaliation to 8 quiet those who would threaten them and that they took part
9 in the efforts to spread NRA money to friends of Wayne
10 LaPierre. And that's all in the space of one year. And 11 this is while the course correction is underway that this 12 takes -- this takes place.

13 So we spent some time on the story of Colonel
14 North. I want to move on from there and talk about a little 15 bit about the corruption. I'm not going to go through 16 everything again, but I'd like to go through some of the 17 things just to make sure you see that what we told you we 18 would show, we showed.

19 Let's talk about travel expenses. You know the NRA
20 has a travel policy that prohibits charter travel without 21 prior written authorization. It requires that travel on 22 behalf of the NRA be in the most cost-effective manner
23 necessary. It's uncontested that LaPierre violated this
24 policy for years. It is uncontested. You didn't see a 25 Board authorization letting him fly by private jet. It is

KM

4635

1 uncontested that that is not the most cost-effective way for
2 LaPierre to travel. Did that stop LaPierre? Not at all.

3 We put in evidence about his use of private jets
4 for both business and personal reasons. And by the way, I
5 wanted -- I want to avoid a little bit of gaslighting that's 6 going on here.

7 Whether LaPierre was using private jets for
8 business or personal reasons does not matter. He violated
9 the travel policy. Could he be entitled to a credit for the 10 cost of a plane -- of a commercial plane ticket? Maybe.
11 But he can't take NRA funds, take private jets and fly all 12 around to wherever he wants. That's a violation of the 13 NRA's policy. I submit to you it's a misuse of the NRA's
14 charitable assets. You don't have to believe me. You can 15 look at his conduct. You can look at his conduct.

16 If he had a security need for those flights, what
17 could he have done? He could have talked to the Board.

2 Could have talked to the board, could have asked
3 for the formation of a security committee. He could have 4 said let's address the best way to keep me safe and let me
5 do my job. He could have said let's cost out the best and 6 most secure travel. Let's see how we can get this done and 7 keep the record safe.

8 Did he do that and get a board resolution approving
9 that? He did not.

10 What did he do? He booked travel through his 11 private travel agent verbally, not in e-mail. Not using the 12 NRA's travel agent, right?

13 Woody Phillips asked her to split the billing into 14 two companies. So, she billed for the same services, same
15 person, same location. She billed through two companies,
16 GS2 and I.I. and I.S. and she sent those invoices to three
17 different cost centers. She sent them to the NRA, the NRA
18 ILA and Ackerman McQueen.

19 And at LaPierre's request she removed some 20 information from them. What information did she remove from 21 her invoices? All of the travel details? No. She removed 22 information about trips to Nebraska where LaPierre's niece
23 lives and trips to the Bahamas. Why? Woody Phillips told
24 you. He said, yeah, he was worried about water cooler
25 gossip. He was worried about people at the NRA seeing how

BP

4637

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 money's spending.

2 So, let's go back, I'm sorry if we can, to slide
3 37. I'm sorry, about that Jen, I was jumping around a
4 little bit.

5 Mr. LaPierre spent millions of the NRA -- I'm
6 sorry, I'd like to go back to the jet trips, too.

7 Mr. LaPierre spent millions of NRA funds on private
8 jet travel. We showed he spent over a million dollars on 9 flights he wasn't even on. We showed you he spent over 10 $600,000 in private jet travel to the Bahamas alone. We 11 showed that this went on year after year after year.

12 And there are a couple of other things that 13 undercut the security detail, and I'm not poo-pooing that 14 Mr. LaPierre might be subject to threats, not at all; but 15 there's a way to handle it secretly flying you and your 16 friend around to Bahamas while using charitable funds was 17 not the way to do it. It was a violation of the charity's
18 own rules.

19 But, if it was for security, why didn't 20 Mr. LaPierre tell his security detail when he was flying to 21 the Bahamas? He didn't. He testified that he didn't.

22 If we can have Slide 49, if that's okay. Actually,
23 48, I'm sorry.

24 He said he didn't get board approval, and he didn't
25 tell his director of security about his trips on the yachts

BP

4638

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 in the Bahamas.

2 And we heard from Chris Cox, the head of the NRA
3 ILA, who is subject to security threats and he flew
4 commercial. There were some jokes or something about him
5 suggesting prop planes. He did say that he considered when 6 those private flights were needed, what would be an 7 economical way to do it; but Chris Cox sat here and 8 testified that he continued to fly commercial.

9 And I want to say something about Chris Cox's
10 testimony. Counsel made some representations about 11 Mr. Cox's testimony about him asking to get fired, about 12 some hunting trips or something with the President's son.

13 Please go back and look at Chris Cox's testimony
14 and judge for yourself if what counsel represented he said
15 is what he really said.

16 If for security he had to fly private, why was 17 Mr. LaPierre okay flying commercial when he went on his paid 18 luxury vacations with the McKenzies, which he did over and 19 over and over again?

20 Again, legitimate security needs could have been 21 properly handled, not through the secrecy and obfuscation he 22 promoted.

23 Another example of how LaPierre created this 24 culture of corruption within the NRA is with regard to the 25 MMP entities. We are so familiar with them, I'm sure; but I

BP

4639

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 think it bears repeating that it involved deception, lying
2 to the NRA in violation of his duties and will also show
3 that this arrangement demonstrates a breach of both
4 Mr. Phillips' and Mr. Frazer's duties.

5 LaPierre year and year after year filled out his 6 financial disclosure form. The disclosure forms that
7 Mr. Frazer is so proud of, Mr. Frazer beefed up these forms,
8 right? That's a good thing. Mr. Frazer distributed these 9 forms. That's a good thing. Mr. Frazer collected these 10 forms and recorded so he got a hundred percent return in 11 some years. That's a great thing.

12 But, year after year after year, Mr. LaPierre lied.
13 This is a simple question. Have you gotten a gift
14 gratuitously, personal favor of entertainment with a retail
15 price of fair market value, it makes sense, of $250
16 essentially from any member? Year after year he answered
17 that question no.

18 It wasn't until 2021 on the day he was testifying
19 in the bankruptcy proceeding that he had commenced for the 20 NRA, that he partially disclosed his conflict of interest
21 with McKenzies; and his disclosure opened up the fact that 22 he had been accepting gifts from them for years.

23 So, what happened? As part of the course
24 correction, of course you'd expect that they'd investigate
25 it, the NRA's sprang into action. It immediately looked at

BP

4640

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 why wasn't this disclosed sooner? What effect had this on
2 business relationships? What are we going to do about
3 setting the Tone from the Top, about the blatant violation
4 of our conflict-of-interest policy?

5 What does Mr. Frazer do? He doesn't recall. You
6 know, we asked him if he even talked to Mr. LaPierre about 7 it. No, he didn't. He just -- that's the NRA's top lawyer.
8 What does he do about it? Nothing.

9 Back to Mr. LaPierre were there trips worth more
10 than $250? Yes, and it wasn't just a trip where he flew
11 down for business purposes with Mr. McKenzie to talk
12 business. It was Susan LaPierre's girls week that you heard
13 testimony about. It was vacations. It was Colleen
14 Sterner's wedding, Mr. LaPierre's niece.

15 And what was Mr. McKenzie getting in return? We 16 submit to you that you can -- I'm sorry, you passed the 17 pictures of the yacht, which you can look at. I think we 18 can agree can be pretty luxurious, a very nice gift to get.

19 What was Mr. McKenzie getting in return? Well,
20 let's take a look. For example, in May 2015, May 27th to 21 the 30th, LaPierre visited the McKenzies. Earlier that 22 month, Susan LaPierre had spent some time on their yacht.

23 The next business day after LaPierre's visit to 24 California with the McKenzies, there's an increase to the --
25 in the fees paid to MMP and Concord by a hundred thousand

BP

4641

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 dollars a month. This was not an isolated instance. It
2 continued. The next instance was in January 2016. LaPierre
3 spent time with the McKenzies in December and in 4 January 2016 there was another $100,000 increase. It
5 happened in August and September of 2016. There was a
6 visit, and it is followed by 190,000 dollar a month
7 increase. This timing is undeniable.

8 If we look in a timeline in 2013, the LaPierre's
9 niece's wedding is on the Yacht Illusions. And the meetings
10 continue. They're on the lower half of this timeline, and 11 the increases in the monthly rates paid to the MMP entities
12 are in the top, and they both go in one direction. They 13 increase.

14 Of course, LaPierre could not engage in these 15 arrangements with MMP on his own. You saw evidence,
16 Mr. Hines walked you through it. We admitted the documents
17 that the MMP contracts were approved after they had already 18 been executed, after they had already been signed that the 19 approvals were based on false terms.

20 The approvals indicated there was a ten percent cap
21 in the monthly payments. There was not. The approvals
22 contained multiple fraud risk indicators; and, yet, MMP was 23 paid millions of dollars, the entity MMP, millions of 24 dollars above the contract rate year after year. How? With 25 the help of Mr. Phillips. He carried out Mr. LaPierre's

BP

4642

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 intention. He paid these invoices without contractual
2 support.

3 You heard from Mr. Hines again how these -- the 4 fraud risk indicators that were present here, the overly
5 complex transactions. I want to take you back and remind 6 you the MMP entities were three companies operating in the 7 same office space, with the same management, same employees,
8 same owners, inside the NRA headquarters; but they're paid
9 through three different companies. That's a fraud risk
10 indicator you heard Mr. Hines explain it.

11 So, I won't walk you through the fraud risk
12 indicators and the violations of internal controls that were 13 rampant in this arrangement.

14 I would like to say one thing. You heard Ms.
15 Rogers comment MMP and say that the NRA was paying for good
16 services. That the NRA got services from NRA. Well, it
17 should from MMP. It should. It's a vendor. The NRA,
18 hopefully, is getting something, right?

19 But let's take a look at whether the NRA was 20 getting what it should. It wasn't until 2022 -- I'm not 21 great at math, but I think that's about five years after the 22 course correction began that the NRA actually renegotiated
23 its deal with MMP, that it actually did something that was 24 an attempt at least at arm's length negotiation.

25 And what happened? It ended up with a 46 percent

BP

4643

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 decrease in the amount it was paying MMP for the same
2 services, with more favorable terms. Ask to see the 3 agreement that approved it. By the way, one of which was 4 signed by Mr. LaPierre; but ask to see the agreement that
5 approved it. They support that. Same services, more
6 favorable terms, 46 percent decrease.

7 It is fair to say that had LaPierre hadn't been 8 friendly with the McKenzies, if he had not been receiving
9 these lucrative gifts, the NRA could have gotten the benefit
10 of that bargain much, much sooner.

11 Let's go on to just a few other examples of the 12 corruption, the out-of-pocket expenses or OOPs. This is an 13 arrangement made with Ackerman McQueen. The NRA calls Bill
14 Winkler, the representative from Ackerman, who testified
15 briefly Team AAG. Again, we used him largely to admit
16 documents; but it was LaPierre, Phillips and the NRA who set
17 this process up and kept it going year after year. Was it
18 for security? More gas lighting. That's flat gas lighting.

19 We saw through Eric Hines, an accountant and the 20 only accountant in this case who actually opened the NRA's
21 books, actually looked through these invoices, actually did 22 any kind of forensic accounting work. One mistake of his is 23 was pointed out; but he actually looked at this. He 24 actually looked at what was going on and he said millions of 25 dollars of these OOP expenses had no support for them

BP

4644

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 whatsoever, no paperwork, of the two something million
2 dollars of OOP expenses for which he could find some
3 support. They showed lots of expenditures that had nothing
4 to do with OOP -- with security, excuse me.

5 Six weeks ago Mr. Tenenbaum, Plaintiff's expert on 6 governance told you he had never seen an arrangement where
7 nonprofit has employees expenses passed back through a
8 vendor.

9 What's the purpose of that? The purpose of that is 10 to hide the expenditures. The purpose is that so that the 11 expensive hotels, the limousines, the $900 dinners, the 12 clothing stylists, the makeup don't have to go through the 13 normal NRA expense approval process.

14 You heard about audits that are done by 15 Mr. Phillips or Mr. Tedrick or Mr. Hart. You could ask to 16 see some of those audits and judge for yourselves how 17 thorough they are. They did notice some problems from year
18 to year, but you also heard Mr. Phillips testify the last 19 audit he recalled performing or being performed by Mr.
20 Tedrick was 2014.

21 Again, the NRA paid $4.3 million in OOP expenses
22 between 2015 and 2019. These were evidenced only by 23 invoices that say out-of-pocket expenses. No support, month
24 after month the NRA pays them.

25 Again, they paid for limousine and black car

BP

4645

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 services. They paid for other luxury services and this was
2 done through -- with Mr. Phillips' assistance and consent.

3 This is an expense -- this is an example, this
4 slide, of one expense that was paid for by Ackerman McQueen.

5 It shows $98,000 for two weeks -- for a two-week
6 period for two chauffeured SUVs, run through OOP. Maybe
7 there was a justification for that, but why run it through?
8 Okay.

9 I would urge you to ask for and look at PX 5116 and 10 PX 5129 and all of the intervening exhibits that were 11 admitted. PX 5137, PX 5140 and 5143, take a look at 12 out-of-pocket expenses.

13 Again, you can call for the Hines testimony, as 14 well, that runs through the types of things these were spent 15 on.

16 I'd like to move on to the idea of entrenched
17 leadership. You've seen from examples we just walked 18 through -- by the way, I want you to also look at some of 19 those exhibits because you'll see Mr. Frazer's signature
20 approving some of those payments. He was aware of them. He 21 didn't ask to see the contract that supported them. He 22 didn't ask to try to enforce NRA policies.

23 So, moving on to entrenched leadership. You've 24 seen how important leaders like Mr. Frazer, Mr. Phillips,
25 Mr. Cotton, Mr. King, Ms. Meadows were to maintaining

BP

4646

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 LaPierre's control.

2 Again, the first thing to know is that the people
3 currently running the NRA, even with Mr. LaPierre gone.
4 And, by the way, remember, Mr. King said there's nothing
5 stopping him from returning tomorrow if he wanted. There's 6 nothing structurally within the NRA that would stop him from 7 returning working there.

8 The fact is that the people leading the NRA
9 during -- this is a quote from the NRA board member, Willes
10 Lee, that you heard from.

11 "The people leading the NRA during admitted abuse
12 endorsed and reelected people watching the coup during the 13 alleged corruption and admitted abuse." Got it, okay.

14 He's pointing out an obvious problem. When you 15 don't look back at the history, when you don't look back at 16 how did all this occur, whose fault is it? Whose 17 responsibility is it? Do they understand that? Then you
18 are leaving the same people in charge who got you in trouble
19 in the first place, and there's a problem with that.

20 You heard Mr. Marshall testify about what he and 21 called and others called cabal loyalist. By 22 Ms. Hammer, Ms. Froman, Mr. Robinson, Mr. Keene, who's the 23 real decision makers on the 76-member board. You heard
24 Mr. Cox talk about the board leadership and how all 76
25 members are not really active.

BP

4647

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 And what about the executive level? At the
2 beginning we promised to show you that Mr. LaPierre
3 surrounded himself with unqualified, but loyal executives.

4 Well, you haven't heard anyone question that
5 Ms. Hallow, who has a prior conviction that should have
6 disqualified her from employment who was loyal to LaPierre
7 above all, that she was a qualified employee.

8 You've seen -- you'll see that the 2003 Frankel
9 report, which documented her loss and waste in taking of NRA
10 funds. You've seen evidence that she acted to advance 11 Mr. LaPierre's interest. You've seen evidence that she took 12 NRA monies for her own use.

13 She couldn't have gotten anyplace else. She 14 couldn't have gotten a position like that anywhere else or a
15 salary like she received anywhere else.

16 Joshua Powell, no one is contesting that he was not 17 the right man for the job, to say the least. He was 18 appointed by LaPierre, and he was put in charge of 19 compliance for awhile or the compliance seminars, and he was 20 fired for taking NRA money for personal expenses.

21 Mr. Phillips, the NRA's own counsel pointed a 22 finger at Mr. Phillips today. Mr. Erstling pointed the 23 finger at Mr. Phillips and Mr. LaPierre as violating 24 internal controls and not following NRA rules.

25 And then we have Mr. Frazer. Remember when I said

BP

4648

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 people are not all one thing? There's no doubt by all
2 accounts that we've heard Mr. Frazer is a nice man. He's a
3 kind man. He worked -- he went to law school at night. He
4 worked hard. That's admirable.

5 Those don't mean that he was qualified to be the 6 GC and secretary of a large complex organization. And I
7 would submit to you that time after time the evidence has 8 shown he had the opportunity to step up, to speak up, to 9 stop illegal conduct, to stop conduct in violation of NRA's
10 policies, and he largely failed to do so. Not in every 11 case. There are instances where he did. Like, when he told
12 them to stop paying the Grassroots contract. He did
13 sometimes; but time after time he didn't, particularly in 14 regard to whistleblowers where he was instrumental in 15 suppressing them.

16 These executives helped Mr. LaPierre manage the 17 board and were called and referred to by some, like there
18 are --

19 THE COURT: Do you want -- we're about at the 20 halfway point? Do you want to go a little bit further and 21 take a break?

22 MS. CONNELL: Why don't we take a break? I have to 23 do some cutting and jump ahead.

24 THE COURT: That's what I thought. All right,
25 let's take a short break.

Let's shoot for ten minutes.

16 MS. CONNELL: (Continuing)

17 MS. CONNELL: I'm going to try and move a little 18 faster. At times rather than walking you through specific 19 facts, I may refer to pages of testimony or particular 20 documents that State feels you should look at.

21 In regard to Wayne's domination of the board with 22 the help of board members, I would suggest that you look at 23 PX 609, 813 and 1607.

24 Now, I would like to move on to the course
25 correction.

BP

4651

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 In the verdict sheet and in the jury instructions,
2 the judge is going to talk to you about what period of time
3 is relevant for your review, what period of time accounts
4 for each of the claims; and that includes the failure to 5 properly administer. That period of time is a six-year
6 period that ended in 2022; but I think that a lot of the 7 discussion and the evidence in this case has been given to 8 you in a disconnected way and free from a timeline, and I
9 thought it might be helpful to you to have a timeline of the 10 events that we think are important to both show the 11 defendants had notice and a lack of good faith with regard
12 to their illegal conduct and in regard to what happened
13 before, during and after the course correction.

14 So, first, you know, Woody Phillips and Wayne
15 LaPierre started in their positions at the top of the NRA
16 triangle in 1991 and 1992. In 1996, not long after, there
17 is something called the Board Variance Report. I urge you
18 to request this. It is PX 5018.

19 This was a report prepared by members of the NRA
20 board's Finance Committee and it highlighted concerns about 21 the very types of conduct we complain about today. It takes 22 away any allegation that Wayne LaPierre or Wilson Phillips
23 acted in good faith, or that the NRA didn't know about the 24 illegal conduct that was occurring.

25 It references verbal approvals. It references some

BP

4652

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 of these same vendors that the NRA is now telling you are
2 fraudulent, that they didn't get services for. These are
3 arrangements that were set up by Wayne, and Wayne LaPierre
4 and Wilson Phillips and that were the subject of a board
5 report noting concerns in 1996.

6 Again, they talk about verbal approvals. They talk
7 about a lack of receiving any demonstrable product in 8 response to contracts. They talk about laxed business
9 practices and almost a contempt for board policies.

10 If we can go on to the next slide, please, Jesse.
11 That would be great.

12 They also talk about the dollar value involved.
13 The response to this by Wayne LaPierre was to claim that
14 members who prepared the Board Variance Report were staging
15 a coup. Sound familiar? Sound like it comes from a
16 playbook of someone trying to maintain control?

17 And, by the way, again, just talking about people
18 for a second. Mr. LaPierre talked to you about being a
19 people person, liking people and thinking of the NRA as a
20 family. That may all be true, but what the evidence in this 21 case has shown you is that acting behind the scenes, using 22 others, verbally conveying instructions to others and 23 manipulating and using secrecy and suppression, he can 24 control people.

25 So, in 1997, he takes the people who are

BP

4653

1 challenging his control, the people he feels are behind the
2 Board Variance Report; and he accuses them of a coup attempt
3 and he ousts them about that time Charlton Heston or soon
4 thereafter comes in as president.

5 Just to move on, there was in 1999 the NRA
6 served -- excuse me -- signed a services agreement with 7 Ackerman McQueen. That was signed by LaPierre. It was not
8 properly approved. That's when that contract began. Those 9 are the people that the NRA are saying defrauded the NRA.
10 It was under Wayne LaPierre's control. If you remember the 11 services agreement, any changes to payments, any changes to 12 services had to be approved by him or his designee. You
13 heard and saw that Wilson Phillips worked closely with them
14 for years.

15 That began in '99. We know the out-of-pocket
16 expense report, expense process was in place as of the early 17 2000s because we heard testimony of an audit as early as 18 2004.

25

4654

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 MS. CONNELL: Let's long at something else that
2 should have given Mr. Phillips, Mr. LaPierre and the NRA
3 pause.

4 In 2003, the Frenkel report that's PX 2467. That's 5 an investigation into Millie Hallow's conduct and her use of 6 NRA money to pay for purely personal expense, her
7 expenditures of over $500,000 in NRA credit cards, some of 8 which is business related, much of which was not. That was 9 a very friendly report.

10 You heard the -- Mr. Coy cross-examined on that,
11 and it was said, well, she didn't violate any criminal law.
12 She didn't make -- she didn't violate any law. Look at the 13 report. They only look at wire fraud under the federal 14 statute. Look at the report and see what it says about 15 leadership. Read the report when it says there aren't 16 sufficient internal controls within the NRA. Look at that 17 report and look at Mr. LaPierre supporting her despite 18 taking NRA money. Why? Because she was his go-to person.
19 She arranged the elections for him. She did the crib sheet,
20 the cheat sheet. He kept her in place despite conduct like 21 this. They were on notice from 2003 of a lack of internal 22 control and more on Millie Hallow's misconduct.

23 Continuing onwards. So I would just suggest to you
24 that any -- any claim that the NRA that Mr. Phillips and Mr.
25 LaPierre were unaware of insufficient internal controls, of

KM

4655

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 violations of internal controls, that doesn't stand -- that
2 doesn't hold water because as of 1997 and as of 2003,
3 they're on notice of these problems.

4 Moving on. In 2004, the NRA begins paying Ms.
5 Hammer. She is a lobbyist. Chris Cox talked to you and 6 said, yeah, she's a legend in her field. He didn't think
7 she was worth the money at the time that he took over ILA.
8 He didn't think that she was worth the amount the NRA was 9 paying her. He didn't think that she was really active in 10 lobbying anymore, but she was paid by the NRA, by NRA/ILA,
11 and then through her organization Unified Sportsmen of 12 Florida, through three different routes. And we suggest 13 that if you look at the Audit Committee reports and the 14 evidence submitted through Eric Hines, you will see that the 15 Audit Committee never properly approved or ratified all of 16 those payment streams.

17 And remember, during the course correction, Mr.
18 LaPierre signed a ten-year contract where Ms. Hammer who was 19 I believe 79 at the time, but I would have to double check
20 the record on that.

21 Just to give you some more context, in 2011,
22 Phillips and LaPierre execute contracts with MMP and the MMP
23 entities. Again, without complying with internal controls
24 and in the presence of the fraud risk indicators that Eric
25 Hines identified. You haven't -- that Eric Hines

KM

4656

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 identified, and they continued to pay under that
2 agreement -- those agreements for years and to overpay above
3 the contract amounts.

4 In 2013 at the latest, LaPierre and his family
5 begins to accept valuable gifts from MMP owners.

6 In 2013, 2015 and 2018, LaPierre executes
7 employment contracts with the NRA without Board approval.
8 This is really significant, and it shouldn't be downplayed.
9 Mr. LaPierre I think said he didn't even want them. But if 10 you take a look at the terms of these employment agreements,
11 what you will see is that they were extremely beneficial.
12 They bound the NRA to pay millions of dollars to him for up
13 to ten years after he left the NRA for any reason.

14 Allegedly, the last one, the 2018 is no longer in 15 place, but the fact that he would feel free to execute such 16 an agreement calling for the NRA to pay him that amount of 17 money demonstrates the contempt that the Board Variance
18 Report found all the way back in 1997.

19 Then in the Fall of 2017, the Schneiderman call
20 comes in, and the NRA believes they are going to face
21 regulatory scrutiny and then begin the course correction.

22 Just after that, LaPierre executes and arranges the 23 North contract with Ackerman. In the same month LaPierre
24 signs his 2018 post-employment contract. On the same day at 25 the same place, they execute Wilson Phillips'

KM

4657

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 post-employment contract. Again, without board approval.
2 Again, without approval by the Audit Committee. Again, a
3 lucrative flat-rate fee -- flat-rate agreement under which 4 there are no deliverables and no required work specified.
5 Those were executed after the course correction began. And 6 they demonstrated again that the course correction didn't 7 reach to the top. And we heard about how important tone at 8 the top is.

9 Later that year in 2018, we heard that the Wall
10 Street Journal published a story that had a great effect on 11 some Board members. You can see an email related to that at 12 PX 705, and that began some Board members asking questions.

13 You've heard the Board members whom raised
14 questions dismissed as raising stale questions or concerns
15 that were already being addressed or already being looked 16 at.

17 Well, when a Board member whose supposed to run an 18 organization says what is this about, why are we seeing 19 these press reports about corruption within our 20 organization, they deserve answers. They don't deserve to 21 be blown off, and that's what they were.

22 In 2018, in early 2019, we have heard that Mr.
23 North or Lieutenant Colonel North, Mr. Childress and Ms.
24 Meadows at times begin raising concerns, and we know what
25 happens after that. They are subject to whistleblower

KM

4658

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 retaliation or at least Lieutenant Colonel North and Mr.
2 Childress is.

3 That's just to give you some bit of timeline for 4 what we are talking about. The misconduct that's at issue
5 in this case dates back at least to the 1990's in some case.
6 There was notice. There were contracts going on and 7 continued through the 2000's. It didn't start in 2018 or 8 2019 or 2020, and you can not ignore that history. It
9 informs the NRA's response.

10 So -- and let's just talk for a second about the 11 Defendants' experts that they put on, their auditor and 12 their experts.

13 If we can going to slide 130, Jesse, please and 14 Jenny.

15 You have heard from an auditor that the NRA on the 16 New York Law has to have an independent financial statement
17 auditor. You heard him testify and Plaintiff's expert
18 testify about the difference between a financial statement
19 audit and an internal controls audit.

20 A financial statement audit is narrow in scope. It
21 looks at the NRA's financial statements and says do those 22 seem to be true as far as we can tell. Yes or no. Okay.
23 That's what those are. Those are not an internal control
24 audits. Mr. Plotts did not perform an internal control
25 audit. You saw no evidence of the same.

KM

4659

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 Furthermore, as he conceded and as Mr. Tenenbaum
2 explained, a quote unquote "clean financial audit" does not
3 mean an organization is healthy or compliant with the law.

4 Next, the NRA brought in a series of experts
5 including -- well, actually just to continue on with 6 Aronson. If you take a look at the Aronson documents
7 including DX 1810, you know, Aronson explicitly states that 8 it is not providing an assurance on internal controls or 9 identifying deficiencies in internal controls, and that
10 they're limiting their opinion and don't express any opinion
11 on the effectiveness of internal controls.

12 And the NRA experts acknowledge that having the 13 best written policies, the best -- you can have the best
14 policies in the world, but if they are overridden, ignored
15 or violated by executives or leadership within the 16 organization, they don't count for anything. And that's 17 what happened here with the exception the NRA did not have a
18 good whistleblower policy which we'll talk about in a
19 second.

20 These experts, none of the -- the NRA's experts
21 acknowledged -- I'm sorry. Strike that. None of the NRA's
22 experts opine on whether or not any allegation in the 23 Attorney General's complaint was true or not. That's where 24 the lack of talking about time is really significant.

25 Remember when you ask them or when we pressed them

KM

4660

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 what time period did you look at, it was as of December 31,
2 2020 moving forward. Did you look at the allegations? Did
3 you test whether they were true? No, I looked at whether I
4 saw evidence of them being ongoing in 2020 performing what I
5 would suggest to you are narrow tests.

6 You can ask for the relevant documents.

7 They didn't perform internal control audits. They
8 didn't perform forensic audits. They largely were not 9 experts in non-profits.

10 For example, Mr. Mehta didn't look at any 11 information before 2019, reviewed no transactions himself,
12 and offered no opinion about any allegation in the complaint
13 or the accuracy of any allegation in the complaint. This is 14 largely true for the Defendants' experts. You can ask to 15 see their testimony and we can provide you with the 16 citations if you would like to see that.

17 Moving on, I would like to talk about another
18 really crucial aspect of the course correction, and that's a
19 really human aspect.

20 Craig Spray. Both sides point to Craig Spray, and 21 I think agree that he was an important change agent within 22 the NRA. He was hired not by being hand-picked by Wayne
23 LaPierre, but he was hired after a formal executive search.
24 He was qualified for his position, and he was described by 25 Mike Erstling as a catalyst for reform efforts within the

KM

4661

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 NRA. That's at slide 138, Jesse.

2 You heard evidence that Mr. Spray sometimes stood
3 up to the "Wayne says" environment within the -- within the 4 NRA. At slide 139. He stopped Wayne's payments or the 5 NRA's payments for Wayne's membership in a golf club. He 6 stopped and questioned other payments for golf or social
7 clubs.

8 You heard Mr. Phillips admit the NRA had no policy
9 permitting such payments. Spray came in and actually said,
10 Hey, guys, what are we doing here. This has to stop.
11 That's what you need from an executive, someone who is going 12 to follow the rules, someone who is going to enforce the 13 law, someone who is going to guard and properly administered
14 those charitable assets. That's what the NRA lacked.
15 That's what it lacked.

16 Mr. Spray came in, and he started to change things.
17 And did they like him? They did. I think the timeline is 18 important here.

19 In April of 2020, the NRA found Spray to be a
20 valued leader. It signed an employment agreement with him
21 even after he had already been employed and wanting to keep 22 him on. It was an 18-month employment agreement. Then on 23 October 29, 2020, Mr. LaPierre said you're such a valued
24 leader. We prize you so much, we want to give you a
25 $250,000 retention bonus. So in October 2020, Mr. Spray's

KM

4662

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 performance is great. Remember that.

2 Okay. Then Spray did the unthinkable. He asked
3 NRA leaders and those involved in the preparation of the 4 990, the IRS Form 990 to sign a certification saying that to 5 the best of their knowledge, the contents were true because 6 he had been shocked about information he was learning about 7 excess benefits and personal benefits the NRA had been
8 paying for for executives. He couldn't get information
9 about it. He was surprised about it, and he -- he wanted
10 some assurances that the filings were accurate.

11 At the same time, Spray was continuing push back on 12 the "Wayne says" culture. You know, we saw and went over
13 this email where he chided staff saying there are no more
14 "Wayne says" approvals at the NRA. It has empowered others
15 to misbehave. It's not happening. You know, he was 16 frustrated, and he said, I won't go down that path.

17 Finally, in November 2020 after certain NRA
18 officials including Mr. Cotton, including LaPierre refused
19 to sign the certification, including Mr. Cotton refused to 20 sign the certification, Craig Spray said I'm not signing the 21 990. I won't sign it. He refused. The writing was on the 22 wall for Craig Spray at that point.

23 The man who in October was deserving of a $250,000
24 retention bonus was now not being invited to meetings. He 25 was being left out of the loop, and he stopped getting

KM

4663

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 information thereafter.

2 In fact, most tellingly -- I'm sorry. This is an
3 example where Mr. LaPierre electronically signed the 990.

4 Mr. Spray testified he was left out of the loop.
5 There's no question about that, and he was left out of maybe
6 one of the biggest decisions that an organization can make.
7 That's the decision to file for bankruptcy. He is the CFO
8 and treasurer of the NRA, and nobody tells him they are 9 going to take that organization and place it in bankruptcy
10 court in Texas. It's a shocking omission. He learned about 11 the decision to file bankruptcy hours or maybe minutes
12 before it's filed. And shortly after that, Mr. Spray has 13 the backbone or the guts to tell Mr. LaPierre that not only 14 was it a bad idea to file for bankruptcy, the way he went 15 about doing it was not right. The writing was on the wall.
16 Two days later, he was fired or -- actually, on January 28,
17 2021, he was fired leaving the NRA without a CFO, without a
18 treasurer in bankruptcy. Why? Because Mr. LaPierre no
19 longer perceived him as loyal, I would suggest to you.

20 Spray was brought in as a competent qualified CFO
21 and treasurer. He pushed reforms within the NRA. He gave 22 the Top Concerns whistleblower some cover. Remember they 23 said under Spray's guidance, under his leadership, they felt
24 free to come forward. He was making the NRA do its job,
25 making it preserve and administer charitable assets. But as

KM

4664

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 soon as his reforms came too close to top leadership, his
2 days were numbered. He was fired. And if you have any
3 doubt that that was wrong, think back to his employment
4 contract in 2020 and his retention bonus. He is a story of 5 the real course correction.

6 Has the NRA made strides ahead? Sure. But Craig
7 Spray's hiring and firing demonstrates that sometimes in 8 many ways this course correction is very shallow.

9 Moving on, let's talk about Ms. Rowling. She 10 testified in Plaintiff's case and also in the Defense case.
11 Ms. Rowling I think seemed to be a caring, dedicated 12 employee. She didn't want corruption to go on within the 13 NRA, but I think it's common sense, and we understand.
14 People want to keep their jobs. They want job security.
15 They want their salaries. They want their titles. Even 16 good people can also feel loyalty to their family or to 17 their job, and they can give into pressure when they see
18 what happens to people who stand up.

19 And is there any question about what happens to 20 people when they stand up to power, when they speak truth to 21 power? If you had a question about it in the NRA, you saw
22 what happened to Oliver North and Richard Childress. You
23 saw what just happened to Craig Spray her former boss.

24 In any case, you heard that Ms. Rowling was 25 promoted within the NRA, and you heard that she is promoted

KM

4665

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 even though she is a whistleblower. She is one of the 2 authors of the Top Concerns memo. That memo was an
3 important memo. It demonstrated again notice of lots of the 4 problems within the NRA. And in particular, they raised
5 concerns. For example, management has subordinated its 6 judgment to vendors. Decisions are made in the best
7 interest of vendors. The MMP bills violate contract
8 stipulations. This was in the Summer of 2018.

9 How long did the MMP bills continue to violate --
10 violate the NRA's rules? Until 2022 when it was 11 renegotiated. That's how some of these concerns were 12 treated.

13 What about the time that -- when this memo was 14 given to the NRA? How much trust did she have in the NRA at 15 that time?

16 You need look no further than the memo that she
17 prepared and said she wished she had given to the Audit
18 Committee. Read this in its entirety. PX 2605. She felt 19 the meeting was manipulated in a way to try and explain away
20 the issues.

21 And if we advance to slide 157, you when see that 22 she -- when she saw the rubber stamping of related-party
23 transactions and conflict-of-interest transactions -- I want
24 to remind you in 2018 and 2019, the NRA went through 25 something like 33 conflict-of-interest and related-party

KM

4666

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 transactions and approved them all. And if you doubt it was 2 a rubber stamping, just think about when they approved
3 Oliver North's contract and then later discovered they
4 didn't have enough information about it.

5 She said that they make her sick. Was she wrong to 6 believe that the Board's intention to the Top Concerns might 7 have been disingenuous? Maybe not.

8 If we can jump to slide 71 please, Jesse. Marion
9 Hammer of Hammertime name said that these so-called 10 accountant whistleblowers are feigning anger. What I see is 11 an orchestrated leaking of distorted information about 12 impure motives, not good deeds.

13 John Frazer listened to this. He did nothing.
14 Nothing to go do. He talked to the whistleblowers. They 15 thought he was nice. They thought he listened to them, and 16 I'm sure he did. But we would suggest to you if you look at 17 the concerns and the whistleblower memo and how long it took 18 the NRA to act or what types of action they took, it's not 19 necessarily a winning story for the NRA.

20 Ms. Rowling stuck around for years. She was there
21 for years under Wilson Phillips. Why did she stick around?
22 She said that she was concerned that she would not be able 23 to find another job. She said that she thought about 24 leaving for years, that she didn't know whether she would be 25 able to get another job, and then she was promoted as

KM

4667

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 treasurer or a CFO and her salary was increased. Now she
2 has some security. She has a better position, and I don't
3 think her motives are impure at all. I think she thought
4 I'll step in and I'll do the right thing and I'll try and 5 make reforms and she has. But again, in the background is 6 that knowledge -- it must be there. That if she does the 7 wrong thing, she puts her toe over the line, she might be --
8 she might be vulnerable as well.

9 I'd like to move quickly on to the bankruptcy. We
10 talked about it a little bit earlier, but this is an example
11 of the ultimate override of internal controls, and this also 12 belies the story of a course correction.

13 Mr. LaPierre made the decision on his own. He said
14 he consulted the SLC, but it was his decision alone to file
15 for bankruptcy on behalf of the NRA, one of the most 16 profound decisions an organization can make. And how did
17 that end up for the NRA?

18 The court in Texas dismissed the NRA's -- dismissed
19 the bankruptcy as not having been filed in good faith. It
20 noted it was shocked. It said "shocking," and it noted
21 concerns about the surreptitious manner which LaPierre had 22 obtained and exercised authority to file for bankruptcy.
23 The NRA filed for bankruptcy on January 15, 2021. That's 24 years into the course correction. Years into it.

25 LaPierre was accused of taking, losing, wasting and

KM

4668

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 diverting NRA funds, and he decides what should I do. Let's
2 take this organization and go to Texas.

3 Now, he gave you some testimony. I would say it's
4 self-serving that he thought, well, I'll still face claims
5 here in New York. But let's be honest. He moved -- he 6 moved the NRA or tried to move the NRA to Texas to avoid 7 regulatory review, and you don't have to take my word for 8 it. You can look in the bankruptcy court's decision at PX
9 2281 because it found that Mr. LaPierre moved -- filed for 10 bankruptcy to evade regulatory review and obtain a 11 litigation advantage. And remember, when he was filing for 12 bankruptcy, he left out -- he didn't include Craig Spray in 13 that. He didn't include John Frazer, the GC. Didn't tell
14 him. Mr. Frazer found out the day it was filed. If that 15 doesn't show you what Mr. LaPierre thought about his 16 authority and how important he was in the NRA, I don't know
17 what when.

18 You can see -- Mr. Frazer admitted this. He said
19 he learned shortly before, and we clarified "shortly" means
20 the day it's filed. And he said, correct.

21 Moving on, if we can. Just quickly look at slides
22 162 and onward. Mr. LaPierre -- just to step aside for a
23 second, Mr. LaPierre also made the decision to sue Ackerman
24 McQueen without consulting Mr. Frazer.

25 Again, managing legal risk is within the scope of

KM

4669

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 Mr. Frazer's job. He didn't complain about it. He just 2 went along with it.

3 You would have expected a GC to storm in the office
4 and say what are you doing. You can't do this to our
5 organization. He did nothing. And then he didn't bring it
6 to the Board's attention that he was being evaded -- like
7 his authority was being sidestepped.

8 If we can keep going on, Jesse, with slides 163,
9 164.

10 When Mr. -- going back to the bankruptcy, the only
11 person that Mr. LaPierre told was then head of the press
12 office Andrew Arulanadam. You know, I would remind you of 13 the testimony that -- and you can just page through these 14 slides just because I want to keep moving, Jesse, that other
15 Board members said the decision to file bankruptcy on 16 January 15 was a week after the January 7 Board meeting. At 17 that meeting, Mr. LaPierre presented a new employment
18 contract that offered much more favorable terms to the NRA.
19 Included in this was some bland language about Mr.
20 Erstling -- by the way, also wasn't told about the 21 bankruptcy -- some bland language, duties and powers of the 22 EVP. It didn't say "bankruptcy." It didn't say "Chapter
23 11." Mr. LaPierre took that language and said that gives me
24 authority to file for bankruptcy.

25 Nobody during that Board meeting said we are

KM

4670

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 thinking about filing for bankruptcy. Nobody said we are
2 thinking about moving to Texas. No one said anything. It
3 was done. He took control of that organization and evaded
4 Board control completely. That is an absolute violation of 5 the way things are supposed to work, and that is during the 6 course correction, years after the course correction began.

7 After -- and you heard Sonya Rowling say that the 8 bankruptcy cost the NRA 10 to $12 million, I believe. She 9 also said it cost them vendor good when and the ability to 10 get credit. This damaged the NRA.

11 I would submit to you that this was a failure to 12 properly administer the charitable assets of the NRA and a
13 breach of LaPierre's fiduciary duty because he had a
14 conflict. He was facing regulatory review here in New York
15 for his actions within the NRA, and he made a huge decision
16 on behalf of that organization cutting out the Board. That 17 all occurred during the course correction. And nothing
18 happened to LaPierre as a result.

19 You didn't -- there was no investigation. There 20 was no punishment. There was no looking into, a review of 21 his conduct in that way.

22 I'd like to keep moving on as quickly as possible
23 and get to some of the actual claims that you're going to 24 see on the verdict sheet rather than continuing on through 25 the illegal conduct.

KM

4671

Plaintiff's Summation/Ms. Connell

1 The Court's going to instruct you on the law. It's
2 going to give you a verdict sheet. The verdict sheet I
3 don't think is finalized or was just finalized or I would
4 present it to you, but the verdict sheet is going to ask you
5 a series of questions and ultimately, you make the 6 decisions. You determine whether to hold someone liable.
7 You determine whether something is true or not. But I'd 8 like to just talk to you about a couple of those claims and 9 time permitting. The first one is the whistleblower
10 protections under N-PCL. That's Not-For-Profit Corporation
11 Law 715B.

12 Plaintiff asserts two causes of action under the 13 N-PCL. I think the first slide is 244, Jesse. The first
14 cause of action is the NRA failed to have a compliant
15 whistleblower policy until January 2020. It had to have a
16 compliant whistleblower policy under the law, and it did
17 not.

18 This -- you heard John Frazer testify that this was 19 its policy. Located within PX 415, I believe at Page 13,
20 and it failed to include many provisions that are required
21 by the law. Again, the judge when instruct you on the law.
22 Not me. But it says only that those who take an action --
23 whistleblower action in good faith when not result in 24 retribution or reprisal. It does indicate they should also 25 be free from intimidation or harassment.

KM

4672

1 It fails to state that it when maintain a procedure
2 to maintain confidentiality of such reports, and it's not
3 labeled as a whistleblower policy, so it would be difficult
4 for a whistleblower to find.

5 It does not provide the person or people who are --
6 that the person or people who are subject of the complaint
7 when not take part in deliberations or voting on a
8 whistleblower complaint, and it speaks only about a
9 violation of the Statement of Corporate Ethics or a
10 financial irregularity and not about any actual or potential
11 violation of the law or the NRA's internal rules and 12 policies.

13 And then the most important part besides not being 14 labeled and not providing confidentiality is it should 15 clearly say that anyone acting in good faith shall not 16 suffer intimidation, harassment, discrimination or other
17 retaliation, and you can see that people within the NRA
18 might want that type of protection.

19 Getting it right, having a whistleblower policy is 20 an important safeguard. The NRA didn't have it. When you
21 get the verdict sheet, we ask that you answer yes, that the 22 NRA is liable for failure to have a compliant whistleblower
23 policy until January 22, 2020. That date's important
24 because that date on January 22, 2020, we concede the NRA
25 enacted and adopted a complaint whistleblower policy.

KM

4673

1

2

Second, the claims we assert that the NRA engaged in whistleblower intimidation, harassment, discrimination and other retaliation.

3

5

Again, I'm trying to move through quickly. You've heard about a number of whistleblowers. We've talked about -- we've talked about many of them. Some of them acted together.

6

8

9

10

11

12

13

15

So, for example, Esther Schneider, Timothy Knight and Sean Maloney frequently worked together; and, in fact, received the same letter from Carolyn Meadows telling them that they had been stripped of their committee assignments. Instead of protecting and evaluating their whistleblower complaints, the NRA intimidated, harassed and retaliated against them.

16

19

If we can go to Slide 87, I want to take a step back because you heard a lot of the whistleblowers complain that they asked for certain information from John Frazer and they didn't get it.

20

22

Jeffrey Tenenbaum, Government's expert stated the refusal to give board members information is unheard of.

23

24

That's Slide 87, I think, Jesse.

And I'm sorry to the jury, we've got a little bit out of order in our slide presentation.

25

That that is completely wrong and that that is --

BP

4674

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 I'm sorry, it was slide 72, Jesse, and then we're going to
2 go to slide 87. Let's just go back to 87.

3 You heard Jeffrey Tenenbaum talk about what is good
4 faith. Because Mr. Frazer dismissed most of the 5 whistleblower complaints other than the Top Concerns people
6 that you heard about as not having been brought in good
7 faith, and let's talk about what good faith means.

8 Mr. Tenenbaum described it, he said you have to dig
9 in. You have to figure out what that person was talking
10 about and if they're right, and he says something important.

11 Someone can have an ax to grind. Someone can be 12 rude. Someone can gasp, be a woman who cursed and they can 13 still be a whistleblower and you can't dismiss them as not 14 being in good faith.

15 Oliver North was dismissed as not being in good
16 faith because of an alleged conflict of interest. I submit
17 that's not a legitimate reason to find that he wasn't a
18 whistleblower in good faith. But then why also retaliate
19 against Richard Childress who had no such conflict of 20 interest?

21 Esther Schneider was deemed not in good faith I
22 guess because she was obnoxious or too pushy or because she 23 cursed at Carolyn Meadows. And, by the way, her cursing at 24 Carolyn Meadows and calling her names was not the 25 whistleblower complaint. The letters and writings that she

BP

4675

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 submitted, the inquiry into payments to board members,
2 financial improprieties deals with vendors, those were her
3 whistleblower complaints and they were ignored. NRA
4 officials took no ownership of their obligations to enforce
5 whistleblower protections.

6 If we can go to Slide 73, Jesse.

7 You heard from Rocky Marshall, for example. Here's 8 Carolyn Meadows. She had no obligation under the 9 whistleblower policy. She didn't believe that she did, and 10 maybe that's why she sent letters to the entire board
11 calling Judge Journey, essentially, a liar, impugning his 12 reputation he said. Maybe that's why she sent a letter to 13 Timothy Knight, Esther Schneider and Sean Maloney stripping
14 them of their committee assignments.

15 If we could go to Slide 76, and I'll move really
16 quickly, Jesse. I'll call out the important ones.

17 Carolyn Meadows said, Hey, it is my prerogative to 18 give you an assignment and I -- if you, if you do the wrong
19 behavior, like, make accusations against Wayne, you're not 20 getting assignments. And if you had any doubt that this is 21 stripping somebody of their committee assignments rather 22 than a fair decision not to reappoint them.

23 If you recall, Marion Hammer sent an e-mail to the 24 whole board and to much of the board saying, yeah, they're 25 disloyal. They joined in attacks. They were stripped of

BP

4676

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 their committee assignments, and it was understood as
2 punishment. Esther Schneider understood it as such.

3 Other board members suffered similar retaliation.
4 Rocky Marshall who had been found highly qualified by the 5 nominating committee the first time he ran for the board;
6 after he raised complaints was found not qualified.

7 The fact is the people who are not in what Willes
8 Lee called the echo chamber were ousted from the board.

9 Can you go the next one, Jesse? I want to see if 10 there's anything else in there.

11 Mr. Malone wrote a letter talking about his ouster
12 asking, begging Carolyn Meadows to be reappointed to at 13 least the Grassroots activity committee for which he had 14 received an award in previous years.

15 He was -- she refused to listen to his letter. You
16 should read his letter, and in one second -- oh, ask to see
17 PX 2094, Malone's letter demonstrating his deep commitment
18 to the NRA.

19 But, Mr. Frazer and if you read that letter, you'll 20 see Mr. Malone said to Ms. Meadows, I want to still be on 21 the committee. I need to be on the committee. I care about 22 it, but I have to do my fiduciary duties. That means I have 23 to ask questions. Didn't matter. He was out. He was 24 perceived as disloyal. He was a whistleblower, and he was 25 out. So, please ask for 2094 and take a look at it.

BP

4677

1

2

But, according to Mr. Frazer, he's not a whistleblower. He did not act in good faith, so he doesn't even have to be evaluated.

4

This is true with many of the other whistleblowers that we've talked about.

6

7

I'd like to move on to the related-party transactions.

8

9

Please, if that's possible, Jesse.

10

11

You heard from Jeffrey Tenenbaum that ratifying a conflict of interest which is transaction, which is a large umbrella of transaction where someone's loyalty might be divided between the NRA and someone else. That reviewing a large number of conflict-of-interest transactions after the fact, it is unheard of. That he's never seen an organization ratify more than five at a time or at once even, and he had never seen a nonprofit ratify dozens. And yet you will see here that, as I said, the NRA in a short period of time ratified 33 conflict-of-interest and/or related-party transactions.

12

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

25

Related-party transactions are a subset of conflict-of-interest transactions. The Judge will explain what they are; but they're essentially when the NRA forms a financial arrangement with a board member or executive or a key person within the NRA, and those have to be approved in

BP

4678

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 advance by the board. And if they're entered into, then
2 they have to be ratified according to the procedures that
3 the Judge will explain.

4 You saw evidence that the NRA paid money to 5 insiders, including Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North, Marion
6 Hammer, Dave Butz, David Keene, Sandra Froman. You saw
7 evidence that perhaps the board considered or tried to 8 ratify some of these transactions.

9 We're going to ask you that once you hear the law
10 from the Judge, you go back and look at these,
11 quote/unquote, approvals or ratifications and say, Were 12 these really approvals and ratifications?

13 For example, the 2018 approval and ratification of 14 the North contract didn't even reveal he was supposed to get 15 7 million dollars for that contract.

16 Is that really what's really happened? You heard
17 about these minutes, alleged minutes. Take a look and see 18 if you find them credible and say did those really give the 19 information that the Audit Committee needed to ratify or 20 approve these transactions? And why weren't they included
21 in the report that other board members see?

22 We've heard that maybe if you looked in the right
23 place on the 990, you could figure out that at some times
24 some board members got some money. That's not how it is 25 supposed to work. Okay, these are transactions that are

BP

4679

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 supposed to be open, above board, transparent and approved
2 by the Audit Committee after consideration of all relevant
3 facts as fair, reasonable and in the best interest of the
4 NRA.

5 The NRA arranged a contract with Colonel North that
6 had no written approval from all required parties, no
7 signature -- contract signature review sheet, no business
8 case analysis and was not approved in advance.

9 The other related-party transactions had similar
10 problems, and you can look at the trial testimony if you
11 ask. If you have questions about this and ask, we can show
12 you exhibits and trial testimony at the bottom of each
13 slide.

14 If we can move on. That would be great.

15 I will note one thing, too, about value delivered
16 by these services. Other than Ms. Hammer to whom the NRA
17 has that ten-year contract with, the NRA stopped engaging in 18 all of those related-party transactions soon after the 19 ratification.

20 If the NRA was really getting value for them, if
21 the NRA was really getting the benefit of the bargain, why
22 stop them? Why not carry them on? If, if David Keene's
23 speeches are bringing in new members, new donors and making 24 money for the NRA or advancing its cause, why stop it? But 25 that's what they did because they rubber stamped them, they

BP

4680

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 ratified them with cursory review and then they stopped them
2 because they knew they wouldn't hold up to real scrutiny.

3 Just to go back to the certain related-party
4 transactions with executives, you're going to be asked to 5 determine whether related-party transactions involving 6 Wayne LaPierre, and Joshua Powell and Woody Phillips were in 7 fact illegal related-party transactions. We allege that 8 they were.

9 LaPierre caused the NRA to pay vendors for hair and
10 makeup for his wife in the amounts of at least $41,876
11 between May 2017 and 2018 alone. No written approval, no
12 contract signature sheet, no business case analysis. But,
13 more importantly, no approval by the Audit Committee.
14 That's a related-party transaction.

15 Mr. Phillips, post employment consulting agreement.
16 This is outrageous. He is a CFO and treasurer during the 17 course correction. He signs an agreement to which he's 18 entitled to a flat rate of $30,000 a month, plus $3,500 for 19 office rental; and he has to deliver nothing in exchange.
20 You heard his counsel say, well, he made himself available.

21 I'm sure we'd all like to have a job where we got 22 paid $30,000 a month to be available. I would like that 23 job; but that is not, that is not an appropriate -- that is 24 illegal under New York law. It is an illegal related-party
25 transaction. It wasn't approved by the board. It wasn't

BP

4681

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 fair, reasonable, in the NRA's best interest.

2 And even though the NRA stopped under Craig Spray
3 paying it after a few months, it did pay $170,692 to 4 Mr. Phillips. That was an illegal related-party
5 transaction.

6 The NRA also paid McKenna & Associates over
7 5 million dollars from 2017 to 2019.

8 They hired Joshua Powell's wife. Mr. Powell was 9 hired by Mr. LaPierre and held various positions, including 10 chief of staff. That was not approved in advance by the 11 Audit Committee.

12 And the NRA while it had been paying McKenna for 13 years, you'll see in the Audit Committee report that it --
14 it increased those payments and retroactively ratified
15 them.

16 It also paid Mr. Powell's father for photographic
17 services. Now, is it coincidence that the NRA suddenly 18 hired the father of an executive to perform services for 19 $102,000? That seems unlikely to me. That should have been 20 approved by the Audit Committee in advance. It was not. It
21 was retroactively rubber stamped.

22 Mr. Frazer, you heard him testify often presented
23 these related-party transactions and conflict-of-interest
24 transactions to the board. When you look at them, see if 25 the board had and recorded all the information it should

BP

4682

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 have. See if it is clear that the board looked at how this
2 occurred and took steps to make sure there wouldn't be
3 further ratifications in the future, whether it considered
4 alternative transactions. Whether it ensured that the 5 amounts paid if they're set out in the report are fair and 6 reasonable and in the NRA's best interest.

7 I'll say one last thing about Audit Committee and 8 review of transactions.

9 As I said, when Mr. Frazer learned as late as of 10 2021 about Mr. LaPierre's conflict of interest with MMP, he 11 did nothing about it.

12 Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, we don't have 13 time to run through each and every violation that we allege 14 occurred and each and every breach of duties that the 15 defendants owed the individual defendants, owed to the NRA;
16 but I would point a couple of things out to you.

17 We do ask for removal of Mr. LaPierre and 18 Mr. Frazer. Mr. LaPierre has retired; but what the jury is 19 going to be asked to determine, was there cause to remove 20 him? And we would suggest to you that his rampant
21 violations of internal control, his self-interest, his 22 misuse of NRA funds demonstrates there was cause for 23 removal.

24 You are not being to asked to determine -- you will 25 see no question on that verdict sheet that he be ban from

BP

4683

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 ever working for a nonprofit. That is not something that is
2 before you.

3 We would also ask that you determine that there was 4 cause to remove Mr. Frazer, and I understand that that may 5 be difficult.

6 Mr. Frazer's counsel got up here and was moved,
7 right? He got emotional; but the Judge is going to explain
8 to you that you have to put sympathy aside and you have to 9 think is this a man who performed his obligations as 10 secretary of the NRA? Is this a man who met his fiduciary
11 obligations? Is this a man to whom the NRA properly
12 entrusted oversight of the NRA and of its donated funds and 13 of its compliance with the law and its management of legal 14 risk? And we would suggest to you that he is not.

15 During his opening statement, Mr. Frazer's attorney
16 asked you to think of him like a traffic cop, trying to 17 identify issues and steer them. I would say -- I would say
18 that someone in his position is much more important than 19 that. He's a board officer. And if he's a traffic cop,
20 then he should be someone who when they see violations of 21 the law or violations of NRA policy is telling people stop,
22 don't. He's holding them accountable. But, you didn't see
23 much evidence of that at all.

24 Mr. Frazer did give compliance seminars. That's 25 great, but you heard Ms. Rowling admit they weren't even

BP

4684

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 mandatory until 2022. You heard testimony that Mr. LaPierre
2 didn't even attend one until December 2021.

3 Compliance seminars is a great step in the right
4 direction. Does it make an effective fiduciary? I would
5 say the record here demonstrates it does not.

6 Mr. Frazer went along with secrecy. He didn't give
7 board members information. I think we told you he didn't
8 give board members information about important settlements
9 and legal developments.

10 So, we would ask that you check "yes" that there is 11 cause to remove Mr. Frazer.

12 I'd like to very quickly move on to false filings
13 and then damages.

14 Jesse, if you have the false filing slides
15 possible.

16 You heard about the importance of regulatory 17 filings from Mr. Tenenbaum. You heard if we move on to the 18 next slide, that it provides a wealth of information for 19 members, donors, regulators, and people interested in 20 charity.

21 And you heard that one of the questions the IRS
22 Form 990 asks about is conflict-of-interest policies. Does
23 the -- does the organization regularly and consistently 24 monitor and enforce that policy? For the 990s from 2016 to 25 2019 the NRA checked "yes" to that box. Mr. Frazer

certified that that was true and correct to the best of his knowledge.

Who at the NRA is responsible for making sure that's true? It is Mr. Frazer. He's in charge of the question about governance; but what happened starting in 2018? Well, with the Audit Committee's help and with Mr. Frazer's help, the Audit Committee rubber stamped dozens of related-party and conflict-of-interest transactions; some of which have been ongoing for years and, yet, they still checked the box that they enforced -- they hadn't enforced a conflict-of-interest policy. We submit to you that was a false filing for which the NRA and Mr. Frazer should be responsible.

Not only that, they continued checking that into 2021 after Mr. LaPierre -- into 2022 after Mr. LaPierre had revealed his conflict of interest to have been ongoing for years.

Does the rubber stamping of multiple conflicts of interest sound like regular consistent enforcement of a conflict-of-interest policy? No. That's a false filing.

The 990 also asks whether there is a significant diversion of assets. For 2020 to 2022, the NRA checked "no", but between 2020 and 2022, Mr. LaPierre repaid according to him one million dollars to the NRA for wrongful

BP

4686

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 benefits, personal benefits that he had received. We submit
2 to you that that box should have been checked, wrongful
3 diversion box.

4 You heard a lot in the trial about Schedule J,
5 which asks questions about particular types of compensation
6 that executives received, like first class and charter
7 travel and housing payments and health social club dues.
8 You heard the NRA did not have or did not enforce those 9 policies for years. Until 2021, the NRA had only a written 10 policy for first class travel, and we know now that that was 11 violated rampantly.

12 It isn't until -- I'm sorry, the 990 also asked
13 whether the nonprofit requires substantiation prior to 14 reimbursing or allowing expenses incurred for those perks,
15 and we have heard that the NRA did not enforce that policy.
16 Executives got perks and didn't pay for it, didn't pay for 17 them. So, we would say that the NRA had a false filing in 18 that matter.

19 It isn't until the 2019 990 filing 2020 after the 20 complaint in this action was filed that the NRA told the 21 truth, it had no written policy for charter travel or health
22 clubs.

23 We ask that you look at the verdict sheet, you
24 check "yes" on the questions as to whether there was a false
25 filing.

BP

4687

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 Again, I apologize for having to run through these.

2 You're going to be asked to determine whether the 3 individual defendant should repay -- if we can go to slide
4 212, please, Jesse -- damages or restitution related to the 5 NRA-related penalties.

6 Mr. LaPierre admits that he traveled by private
7 plane without NRA approval and in violation of NRA policies
8 from 2014 to 2019. That's the relevant period of time we're 9 asking for damages for. That total $10,455,307 from 10 May 15th to December of 2019 the NRA paid $3,222,358 for 11 flights that Mr. LaPierre either was going as a passenger or 12 where the flights stopped in the Bahamas, Nebraska. These 13 flights had a personal component and had no security
14 justification.

15 You heard Mr. LaPierre say that Gayle Stanford
16 committed a fraud on the NRA. The NRA paid millions of 17 dollars to her. And I'm sorry, I'm rushing through, but you
18 can ask that this be read back or you can ask for 19 information about how much the NRA paid to Gayle Stanford.

20 You saw Mr. Hines calculate that we believe those 21 are monies that should be repaid to the NRA.

22 You heard evidence recently that Associated TV, a
23 NRA vendor to which the NRA from 2015 to 2019 paid
24 $13,213,165 was a fraudster, that there's no evidence of any 25 value being received by the NRA for these payments.

BP

4688

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 Mr. LaPierre testified yesterday that Associated TV
2 committed a fraud on the organization.

3 These are damages, these are -- this is a
4 restitution that should be repaid to the NRA.

5 Mr. LaPierre was the manager of this organization.
6 Mr. Phillips helped him make those payments. You should 7 look at that amount of money and decide how much of it
8 should be repaid by Mr. LaPierre and Mr. Phillips.

9 By the way, Mr. LaPierre admits he was the owner of 10 the Associated TV contract. Mr. LaPierre says he was 11 shocked by Mr. McKenzie's betrayal, but that's not credible.
12 Concerns were raised about the McKenzie and Associated TV in 13 the Board Variance Report in the mid nineties.

14 These are things that the NRA had knowledge about.
15 So this is why in part you should hold the individual
16 defendants responsible, particularly Mr. LaPierre and 17 Mr. Phillips, because they were on notice of the 18 wrongfulness of these expenditures. If you remember the 19 Board Variance Report raised concerns about those 20 expenditures.

21 If we could move on to Slide 219.

22 From 2015 to 2022, the NRA paid the MMP entities
23 $109,595,600. As you've now heard numerous times in this 24 case, this was an overpayment of the contract amount.

25 If we can go on to Slide 220.

BP

4689

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 You heard that in 2022, under scrutiny of this law
2 enforcement action, the NRA finally renegotiated its terms
3 with MMP at a 46-percent reduction in what was being paid
4 while belated renegotiations offer an accurate measure of 5 the actual worth of the services the MMP entity offered as 6 David Warren who Mr. LaPierre described as a top person in 7 the Financial Services Division said, "This is a win, win,
8 win."

9 THE COURT: Ms. Connell, I gave a short window to 10 the NRA to go a little over. You're now at about the end of 11 that.

12 MS. CONNELL: Can I just have like two more
13 minutes, your Honor?

14 THE COURT: Two more.

15 MS. CONNELL: Thank you.

16 We would argue that Mr. -- that the amounts of 17 overpayment by MMP should be split between Mr. LaPierre,
18 Mr. Phillips and Mr. Frazer because he did nothing once he 19 learned of the conflict of interest between LaPierre and MMP
20 until the contract was renegotiated in 2022.

21 You heard that the NRA paid $4.3 million in 22 out-of-pocket expenses that did not go through and were not
23 compliant with the NRA's travel and expense reimbursement
24 process. We believe those are damages that should be repaid
25 by the individual defendants.

BP

4690

Plaintiff Summation/Ms. Connell

1 Some of those you'll see were stamped and approved
2 by Mr. Frazer. They were paid by Mr. Phillips, and
3 Mr. LaPierre was the manager of that relationship and should 4 be responsible for that, for those payments.

5 Finally, under Wild Skies, we would say that 6 payments of $2,340,000 by the NRA to Under Wild Skies is 7 also a wrongful transaction for which Mr. LaPierre and 8 Mr. Phillips should be liable. There was -- the NRA,
9 itself, admits that they were fraudulent.

10 Phillips' commuting costs which appeared on PX 2347
11 are also wrongful-related charges, wrongful charges for 12 which they should have to repay.

13 And, I'm sorry, I don't have time to go through all 14 this here. Ladies and gentlemen, in conclusion, I want to 15 thank you for your time and effort and attention.

16 I want to say that charities play an important role
17 in our society. Whether or not you support and believe in 18 the mission of the NRA is not important. It is not what is 19 at issue here. The charities allow people to come together
20 and serve an important purpose; but they have to have trust
21 in the charity and trust their donated funds will be used
22 for the purposes they were donated for.

23 You heard about how charities are vulnerable to 24 waste, loss and diversion. We submit that the evidence in 25 this case has shown the defendants breached the trust placed

4691

1 in them, had breached, violated or evaded each of the
2 safeguards intended to prevent such actions in charities and
3 had violated the law.

4 whether they violated the law. And if you do find that they

THE COURT: So, I have here our Court exhibit, copies of the verdict sheet and my instructions, which I'm going to send back to them. I don't think you need to read through the whole -- these are all the instructions in the verdict sheet I gave you and then I circulated again this morning.

I sometimes have the parties initial these just to confirm again it is -- you're reserving whatever objections you made before; but just as to form, that this is the one that everybody saw. If that won't take too long, I wouldn't mind you just initialing along the top.

So, I'll first have this -- what's our next Court Exhibit number?

MS. EISENBERG: I believe it is XI, your Honor.

THE COURT: Let's mark this Court Exhibit XI.

(Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XI, Verdict Sheet, was so marked.)

THE COURT: You can pass that to counsel. If you can take a quick look and make sure it is the same one I sent you this morning that has been circulated around.

MR. FARBER: Yes, I just wanted to put on the record that our initialing this isn't waiving any objections we may have?

THE COURT: No. I just want to make sure it is the

BP

4696

Proceedings

1 verdict sheet that you are aware of. Look, if there is
2 anything on the verdict sheet that you think doesn't work;
3 in other words, that functionally it doesn't give the right
4 instructions to go from this question to that question or 5 whatever, I'd like to know that before we use it and nobody
6 has raised any objections like that.

7 MR. FARBER: Understood, your Honor. The only
8 objections we have would be to the instructions, which would 9 be reflecting --

10 THE COURT: You're not adopting -- it's really more
11 of an authentication kind of a function that this is, in 12 fact, the verdict sheet that the Court shared with you, that 13 we've talked about for a number of days, you've made
14 objections to some of which were accepted some of which were 15 not.

16 If you don't want to initial it --

17 MR. FARBER: Understood, your Honor. I just wanted
18 to put that on the record.

19 THE COURT: It is on the record. You've preserved
20 more arguments than I could possibly list.

21 MR. FARBER: And just to add to that list, your 22 Honor, we're joining in the objection Mr. Correll made.

23 We filed something a few minutes ago just to 24 memorialize that. And, also, we know your Honor has ruled 25 on the statute of limitations issue, but we put that -- we

BP

4697

Proceedings

1 objected to that in the instruction in writing, and I know
2 we need to -- I think we need to make that -- to renew that,
3 also, orally after the instructions are given.

4 So, we'd request an opportunity to do that before
5 the jury retires.

6 THE COURT: I wouldn't suggest having that done
7 while the jury is here.

8 MR. FARBER: No. Outside the presence of the jury,
9 your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Right. Okay, that's fine.

11 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I join in all of those 12 objections, and I also just want to focus on the objection
13 of asking the jury to find whether there was cause to remove
14 Mr. LaPierre.

15 The other thing I'd like the Court to address is 16 the fact that neither the AG nor the NRA gave Mr. LaPierre
17 copies of their slides before they presented them. You had 18 ordered them to give slides to the extent that they did not
19 were tied to an exhibit.

20 I'd like you to review, if you would, slides to 21 determine whether they complied with your order.

22 THE COURT: What slides are you talking about?

23 MR. CORRELL: That they presented to the jury in 24 their closing.

25 THE COURT: If no objections were made in realtime,

BP

4698

Proceedings

1 I'm not going to retroactively rule on objections that
2 weren't made at the time when I could have fixed it.

3 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it was my understanding
4 that you admonished counsel not to interrupt the closing,
5 and we did not know what the slides were until they were put
6 up.

7 You gave a clear instruction to people who were 8 using slides to present them to the other side. In the 9 absence of having been presented with any slide, we could 10 not know what they were putting on; and I want to request
11 that the Court review them because I'm considering moving
12 for a mistrial.

13 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, if I may just be heard?

14 It was my understanding we were not ordered. The 15 Court suggested it was something we could do. Frankly, we 16 wanted to do it, but we didn't even have our slides ready.

17 THE COURT: The time to objecting to something that 18 you think rises to the level of a mistrial is when it is 19 happening, not asking me to review -- first of all, I have 20 absolutely no idea which of the 200-some-odd slides were 21 actually shown. That's not really my job to monitor all
22 that.

23 If something happened that you think was so
24 fundamentally unfair that you're making reference to a
25 mistrial regardless of whether you saw it in advance, if

BP

4699

Proceedings

1 something was said -- the jury is not going to get the
2 slides. The jury is not getting those slides, so it would
3 have to be something that was said. And I certainly didn't
4 want objections. But if something that rose to this level
5 of outrage happened -- and you're not suggesting that there
6 is. You're just saying you want me to look at it and see
7 whether I think it is.

8 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'm suggesting that there
9 is. I still haven't seen the slides.

10 If you could order them to produce them now for 11 review, I'll reserve this and we can proceed.

12 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, I could be more 13 specific.

14 THE COURT: I really want to get this going here,
15 so, go ahead.

16 MR. FLEMING: Well, just really quickly.

17 I asked for the slides this morning. I haven't 18 received word back. There were two representations made in 19 the summation, the AG's summation yesterday with respect to 20 false filings. One of them related to diversion of assets
21 with respect to excess benefits that Mr. LaPierre had 22 repaid.

23 I don't recall, and we've been searching the record
24 for any testimony about that issue, your Honor; and if there
25 had been testimony, the answer is really quit simple.

4700

Proceedings

1 Diversion of assets has to be significant. It has to rise
2 to the level of more than $250,000 or five percent of the 3 total assets, which is greater than 8 million, the lesser of 4 those two.

5 None of those things happened, and so easy
6 cross-examination it appears to me was denied because this 7 was never discussed.

8 There's also a second issue --

9 THE COURT: Look, nothing that was said in 10 closings -- first of all, if we want to start taking a list
11 of things people said during closings that were not in 12 evidence, that's going to be a long list, I will tell you
13 that. I listened very carefully to each of you.

14 So, be careful what bricks you throw.

15 None of that is evidence. The jury understands
16 that, I believe. I'm going to reconfirm it now.

17 Like I said, the time to address that was in 18 realtime. Of course I don't want objections to it, but 19 you're not constrained if you think something was 20 outrageous. But I will tell you, there was a lot of stuff
21 that was said by both sides that was not in the record. So,
22 I really don't think it is appropriate to start the day
23 after bringing in things like this.

24 But, you've made your record, I guess. I
25 personally think it is waived by not objecting in realtime,

BP

4701

Proceedings

1 but --

2 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, is it possible that a
3 curative instruction could ameliorate some of the prejudices
4 that have occurred, so I could I ask at a minimum you direct 5 the NRA -- all parties, the NRA and the AG, to produce their 6 slides so we could address them in the concrete?

7 THE COURT: I'm fine with producing the slides; but 8 like I said, if we're going to start going down the road of 9 correcting things that happened during the closings, I'm 10 not sure you're going to really like it much either.

11 MR. CORRELL: I understand what you're saying, your 12 Honor. I just want to see the slides.

13 THE COURT: The jury is going to have enough to 14 deal with. They have had six weeks of evidence. The 15 closings all -- maybe there was some little bits of license
16 that people chose not to object to, but that's a decision
17 trial lawyers make everyday.

18 I, certainly, if I heard anything I thought was 19 remotely mistrial worthy, I would have raised it; but most 20 of what I heard that I thought went outside the record came 21 from the defense side, personally.

22 Anyway, let's get the verdict sheet up and down the 23 row here so we can get started.

24 In the meantime, I'm going to mark as Court
25 Exhibit XII the version of the instructions that I'm going

BP

4702

Proceedings

1 to give to the jury.

2 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XII, Jury
3 Instructions, was so marked.)

4 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, where would you like me
5 to place my initials?

6 THE COURT: Just the top of the first page, just 7 little initials. I'm not going to call them out to the 8 jury. Just so that -- we're just acknowledging that this 9 is the verdict sheet you're aware that I'm sending to the 10 jury.

11 If anybody sees something that somehow crept into 12 it from this morning when I made a PDF of it, I'd be 13 interested to know.

14 MR. CORRELL: Just for the record, your Honor,
15 while the verdict sheet circulates, Professor Siegel does 16 say that the proper procedure is to wait until the end of 17 closings rather than interrupt; and so there is precedent
18 for taking that approach. I was inclined to jump up during 19 the closing, but I was --

20 THE COURT: Maybe not the next day though. Maybe 21 during the closings when the jury is still here, not the 22 next day.

23 Can I ask, do the IT folks have the jury verdict
24 form ready to be put up when I want it?

25 IT PERSON: Will you ask us to pop up the

BP

4703

Proceedings

1 questions at the end of your instructions?

2 THE COURT: No. It is right at the beginning.
3 I'm just going to flip through a couple of pages with them.
4 I'm not going to walk through the whole thing. I just want
5 to point out a couple of -- you know, they haven't seen a
6 jury verdict form before probably, so I just have a couple
7 of small things I want to highlight for them.

8 IT PERSON: So you'll just let me know the
9 question.

10 THE COURT: I'm going to just highlight, but just 11 take it down for now.

12 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, may I note when I might 13 expect to receive these slides?

14 THE COURT: Well, I would hope that somebody on 15 teams, who are in the building can e-mail those 16 straightaway.

17 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I'll take care of it as 18 soon as I'm done initially.

19 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we object to this. We 20 have to go through -- we didn't even use all our slides. It
21 is going to take some work, but the idea that now we're 22 going to through and have to reopen this.

23 THE COURT: I didn't suggest that. You know,
24 generally, demonstratives should be shared. Am I right that 25 it was shared between some of the defendants and the

BP

4704

Proceedings

1 plaintiff or not at all?

2 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor, not at all. I didn't
3 see the NRA's slides before they went; although, we talked
4 about it.

5 THE COURT: At a minimum the slides that were 6 shown. I don't care if you don't share the slides that were 7 not shown; but if somebody can go through and get the slides
8 that were shown, even if only for a minute.

9 I think if it was shown in open court, you can't 10 really deny one of the parties a chance to see it.

11 MS. CONNELL: Okay, your Honor. We'll have to go
12 through them though. It will just take a few minutes -- it
13 will take a little time today.

14 THE COURT: Understood.

15 What's going on with the verdict sheet? Is it
16 still making its way?

17 THE COURT: We still don't have the Court Exhibits
18 III through VII, which are the excerpts from the 19 transcripts.

20 MS. CONNELL: Those are during Plaintiff's case?

21 THE COURT: I believe so.

22 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry, your Honor. I'll take a
23 look. We went to introduce them that day --

24 THE COURT: We never -- anyway, that's done?

25 MS. CONNELL: Yes, that's done.

BP

4705

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Just so the record is clear, the
2 counsel have initialled it, at least as to form reserving
3 their objections on the substance.

4 All right, let's get the jury.

5 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

6 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
7 courtroom.)

8 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Have a seat,
9 please.

10 All right, so before we start with the 11 instructions, I will tell you that what I'm going to provide 12 to you, I'm also going to provide in writing, a copy of the 13 instructions so you can take with you.

14 The only part that's in not here, there's the short
15 portion where I'm going to give a little overview of the 16 verdict sheet which is not written out. So, if you want any 17 of that, you can ask for the transcript to cover it, but so 18 you don't have to -- it is not a memory test on the 19 instructions. You'll get exactly what I'm reading from and 20 be able to have that with you.

21 Okay, members of the jury, first of all, I know I
22 speak for the parties when I say how grateful we are for 23 your time and attention during this trial.

24 We come --

25 MR. FLEMING: I'm sorry, your Honor. There's just

BP

4706

Proceedings

1 some confusion about what appears to be a missing juror.

2 That's all.

3 THE COURT: Oh, right. I think we had mentioned
4 Juror 10 was excused for unavailability.

5 MR. FLEMING: I thought that was Juror 9. That's 6 the confusion.

7 THE COURT: No.

8 We come now, again, to that portion of the trial
9 where I will instruct you on the law applicable to this case
10 and after which you will retire for your deliberations.

11 You have now heard all the evidence introduced by 12 the parties and through arguments of their attorneys you
13 have learned the conclusions which each party believes
14 should be drawn from the evidence presented to you.

15 I'm going to start at the end with what you're 16 going to be asked to do, and then go through the very 17 important instructions to guide you along the way.

18 We're going to ask you to use a verdict sheet to 19 write down and report your decision. Here is a copy of the 20 verdict sheet you will see.

21 Put that on the screen.

22 (Displayed)

23 I'm just going to highlight a few things. I'm not 24 going to go through the whole bit; but in terms of the 25 instructions -- and I will say this again -- but as to each

BP

4707

Proceedings

1 question, five of the six jurors have to agree. And if a
2 juror disagrees with an answer, there will be a space for a
3 dissenting juror to sign. You'll see when we get to the 4 questions what that looks like.

5 And then one important thing in the instructions,
6 at the end of the verdict sheet, the last page is a
7 certification page saying that the whole verdict, everybody
8 signs.

9 I'm stressing that because the first jury trial I
10 did here, the jury forgot to sign it and I forgot to look;
11 and we spent the rest of the afternoon running through the 12 courthouse trying to find them all to sign it, which we did,
13 but we're not going to do that.

14 At the very last page -- if you just switch to the 15 last page for a second, 17, Jesse, that's the certification
16 page.

17 (Displayed)

18 Going back to the substance, if you go to page 2,
19 I'm just going to give you some examples of what these look 20 like.

21 The questions which we've tried to make as simple
22 as we could, they typically begin with "Did the plaintiff
23 prove by a preponderance of the evidence," and then whatever
24 the statement is. There are a couple which I'll show you,
25 one or two, where it is the defendant that has the burden of

BP

4708

Proceedings

1 proving the defense. Anyway, it is designed so that a yes
2 answer is yes, the person with the burden of proof did prove
3 it.

4 So, that's the form of the question; it is whether
5 the party that needed to prove it, proved it.

6 If you turn to the next page at the end of each or 7 end of several of these, there's a -- what do you if you
8 answer yes, what do you if you answer no.

9 So, in this 2(a), for example, if you answer yes,
10 that the plaintiff proved by a preponderance of the evidence
11 a violation of duty as described in the question, then you
12 move on to the other questions, 2 (b) and 2(c) and the like.

13 If you answered no, you shift to the third
14 question, which goes down to the next defendant.

15 So, if you find that the plaintiff didn't prove 16 liability, you don't need to answer the rest of the 17 questions in that section. That's basically the way it
18 works with one exception.

19 The other kind of question -- if you turn to the 20 next page, Jesse -- (displayed) -- all the questions are yes
21 or no, except the ones that ask for a dollar figure. So,
22 the form of the questions is yes, no, or dollar. You don't 23 have to write any text or anything else, okay.

24 The one example I wanted to point to is on page 8
25 in 6(c), there are just a few examples of situations where

BP

4709

Proceedings

1 the defendants have some burden to establish a defense.

2 So this one, which we'll get to in the instructions
3 is what's called the ratification defense. So, here, when 4 you answer "yes," you're answering did the defendant prove 5 this defense. So, here, if you answered "yes," that's when 6 you proceed to the next question. So, that means that 7 there's no liability because they proved the defense.

8 If you answered "no" on this one, that means you
9 continue on with the rest of Question 6.

10 So, it is the only time kind of where a "no" answer
11 means you keep going. There's only -- I think that may be 12 the only example of it.

13 The other thing I wanted to show is just a slightly
14 different form is on page 11. These are still yes or no;
15 but rather than asking the same question ten times, we just 16 created a chart where this question relates to related-party
17 transactions and it asks the same question with respect to 18 all ten of the transactions that are at issue. And so it's 19 just you'll check the yes or no.

20 So, this is just a way to conserve and make it a
21 little simpler and more compact.

22 So, other than that, again, as to each -- after 23 each question, there's a little italicized phrase which says
24 if you answered "yes," it tells you what to do; if you
25 answered "no," it tells what you to do. Just read those

BP

4710

Proceedings

1 carefully as you go through it so you know what your
2 directions are at each point.

3 All right, so when you have answered all the 4 questions that require answers, you will let the court
5 officer know; and then he or she will let me know and we
6 will come back to the courtroom to hear your decision.

7 As jurors, your duty is to decide from all the 8 evidence that you have heard and the exhibits that have been 9 admitted into evidence what the facts are. You are the sole
10 and exclusive judges of the facts, neither I or anyone else
11 can take over your responsibility to decide the facts of 12 this case, which you will do by the answers you provide on 13 the verdict sheet.

14 As sole judges of the facts, you must decide which 15 of the witnesses you believe, what portion of their 16 testimony you accept, and what weight you give to it.

17 If in the course of your deliberations your 18 recollection of any part of the testimony should fail or you
19 have any question about my instructions to you on the law,
20 you have the right to return to the courtroom for the 21 purpose of having such testimony read to you or to have such 22 question answered.

23 If you want to have testimony reread to you or to 24 have other questions about my instructions answered to aid
25 in your deliberations, you should submit the question or

BP

4711

Proceedings

1 questions in writing to me and have the jury foreperson who
2 you will select before you start deliberations pass your 3 written inquiry to the court officer outside the 4 deliberation room.

5 If any of you took notes during the trial, those
6 notes are only for your personal use and are simply an aid
7 to your memory. Because the notes may be in inaccurate or 8 incomplete, they may not be given any greater weight than 9 your independent recollection. Because the notes may be 10 inaccurate or incomplete, they may not be given any greater
11 weight or influence than the recollection of other jurors
12 about the facts or the conclusions to be drawn from the 13 facts in determining the outcome of this case.

14 Those of you who did not take notes should rely on 15 your independent recollection of the evidence and not be 16 influenced by the fact that another juror has taken notes.
17 Any difference between a juror's recollection and a juror's
18 notes should always be settled by asking to have the court
19 reporter's transcript on that point read back to you. The 20 court transcript should govern your determinations rather 21 than a juror's notes. A juror's notes are not a substitute
22 for the official record or for the governing principles of 23 law that I will give you.

24 You will recall that at the beginning of the trial
25 I went through some general instructions to keep in mind as

BP

4712

Proceedings

1 the trial progressed. I won't repeat all of that, but
2 briefly, I want to stress that you must consider only the 3 evidence admitted during the trial and not conclude from my
4 rulings or anything I have said during the trial that I
5 favor any party to this lawsuit. I truly do not.

6 You may not draw any inference from an unanswered
7 question, nor consider testimony which has been stricken
8 from the record in reaching your decision. If you find that 9 any witness has willfully testified falsely as to a material
10 fact, that means as to an important matter, the law permits
11 you to disregard completely the entire testimony of that 12 witness upon the principle that one who testifies falsely on 13 one material fact is likely to testify falsely about 14 everything.

15 You are not required, however, to consider such a
16 witness as totally unbelievable. You may accept so much of 17 his or her testimony as you deem true and disregard what you
18 feel is false.

19 By the processes which I have just described to 20 you, you, as the sole judges of the facts, decide which of 21 the witnesses you will believe, what portion of their
22 testimony you accept and what weight you will give it.

23 Except in a few instances which I will discuss, the 24 burden of proof rests on the plaintiff. That means 25 plaintiff must establish by a fair preponderance of the

4713

1 credible evidence that the claim plaintiff makes is true.
2 Plaintiff must satisfy that burden of proof as to each
3 element of each claim that it asserts.

4 The credible evidence means the testimony and
5 evidence you find believable and reliable. The 6 preponderance of the evidence means the greater part of the 7 evidence. It does not mean the greater number of witnesses
8 or the greater length of time taken by any party.

9 The phrase "the greater part of the evidence"
10 refers to the quality of the evidence; that is, its 11 convincing quality, the weight and effect it has on your 12 minds, not to the quantity.

13 The law requires that for plaintiffs to prevail on 14 a claim, the evidence that supports their claim must appeal
15 to you as more nearly representing what took place than the 16 evidence opposed to their claim. If it does not or if it
17 weighs so evenly that you're unable to say there is a
18 preponderance on any side, then you must decide the question
19 against the plaintiff. It is only if the evidence favoring 20 plaintiff's claim outweighs the evidence opposed to it that 21 you can find in favor of plaintiff on a claim.

22 (Continued on next page)

BP

JURY CHARGE

1 THE COURT: In this case, Defendants have raised a
2 defense to liability on certain claims. One example is 3 those relating to related-party transactions as to which 4 they bear the burden of proof.

5 Certain individual defendants also assert specific 6 arguments concerning the calculation of damages they must 7 pay if they are found liable on certain claims as to which 8 they bear the burden of proof. I will provide further
9 instructions later about those. But unless you hear
10 otherwise specifically in these instructions, the burden of 11 proof is on the Plaintiff.

12 In deciding this case, you may consider only the 13 exhibits that were admitted in evidence and the testimony of 14 the witnesses as you heard it in this courtroom or as was 15 read to you or shown to you during the trial.

16 Under our rules of practice, an examination before
17 trial or testimony that was recorded before the trial was 18 taken under oath and entitled to equal consideration by you
19 even though it was taken before the trial and outside this
20 courtroom.

21 However, arguments, remarks and summations of the 22 attorneys are not evidence. Nor is anything I now say or 23 may have said with regard to the facts or evidence.

24 As I instructed you previously, it is important to 25 remember that you may not use any internet services or

KM

4715

JURY CHARGE

1 social media including, for example, Google, Facebook, X,
2 formally Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram or TikTok or any other
3 media platforms to discuss or give or get information about
4 the case or its participants or to research topics
5 concerning the trial.

6 Electronic devices including any cell phones,
7 smartphones, laptops or other personal electronic devices
8 must be turned off while you're deliberating. Allowing 9 outside information which may be incomplete, inaccurate or 10 otherwise unreliable to affect your judgment is unfair and 11 prejudicial to the parties and could require this case to be 12 retried.

13 Although as jurors you're encouraged to use all of 14 your life experience in analyzing testimony and other
15 evidence in reaching a fair verdict, you may not communicate
16 any personal, professional expertise you might have or other
17 facts not in evidence to the other jurors. You must base
18 your discussions and decisions solely on the evidence
19 admitted during the trial and that evidence alone. You may 20 not consider or speculate on matters not in evidence or 21 matters outside the case.

22 The individual defendants, Messrs. LaPierre, Frazer
23 and Phillips as well as representatives of the NRA have 24 testified before you. The witnesses who are parties to the 25 action are interested witnesses. That is, they have an

KM

4716

JURY CHARGE

1 interest in the outcome of the case that may have affected
2 their testimony.

3 An interested witness is not necessarily less
4 believable than a disinterested witness. The fact that they
5 are interested in the outcome of the case does not mean that 6 they have not told the truth. It is for you to decide from 7 the demeanor of the witness on the stand and such other
8 tests as your experience dictates whether or not the 9 testimony has been influenced intentionally or 10 unintentionally by their interest.

11 You may reject the testimony if after careful
12 consideration of all the evidence in the case including the 13 cross-examination of the witness, you decide you do not
14 believe the testimony or you find it is not reliable.

15 On the other hand, you are not required to reject
16 the testimony of such a witness and may accept all or such 17 part of their testimony as you find believable and reliable
18 and reject such part as you find unworthy of acceptance.
19 The testimony is entitled to such weight as you decide it is 20 worth.

21 In reaching your verdict, you are not to be 22 affected by sympathy or dislike for any of the parties, what
23 the reaction of the parties or of the public to your verdict
24 may be, whether it will please or displease anyone, be 25 popular or unpopular or any consideration outside of the

KM

4717

JURY CHARGE

1 case as it has been presented to you in this courtroom.

2 You should consider only the admitted evidence,
3 both the testimony and the exhibits to find the facts from 4 what you consider to be the believable evidence and apply
5 the law as I now give it to you. Your verdict will be 6 determined by the conclusion you reach, no matter whom the 7 verdict helps or hurts.

8 You may recall that at the beginning of the trial,
9 I instructed you on the concept of a fair juror. As a fair
10 and impartial juror, you must guard against the application
11 of any stereotypes or attitudes about people or groups that 12 might lead you to render a biased decision based on those 13 stereotypes or attitudes. Keep in mind that bias based upon
14 stereotypes or attitudes is not always obvious or conscious.
15 In assessing the testimony and other evidence in this case,
16 you must not be swayed by those stereotypes or attitudes.

17 Facts must be proved by evidence. Evidence
18 includes the testimony of a witness concerning what the 19 witness saw heard or did. Evidence also includes writings,
20 photographs or other physical objects which may be 21 considered as proof of a fact. Evidence can either be 22 direct or circumstantial.

23 Direct evidence is evidence of what a witness saw,
24 heard or did which if believed by you proves a fact.

25 For example, suppose a fact in dispute is whether I

KM

4718

JURY CHARGE

1 knocked over a water glass near the witness chair. If
2 someone testifies that she saw me knock over the glass, that
3 is direct evidence that I knocked over the glass.

4 Circumstantial evidence is evidence of a fact that
5 does not directly prove a fact in dispute but which permits
6 a reasonable inference or conclusion that the fact exists.

7 For example, the witness testifies that he saw the 8 water was on the bench. The witness states that while he 9 was looking the other way, he heard the breaking of glass,
10 looked up and saw me wiping water from my clothes and from 11 the papers on the bench. This testimony is not direct 12 evidence that I knocked over the glass. It is 13 circumstantial evidence from which you could reasonably
14 infer that I did.

15 Those facts that form the basis of an inference
16 must be proved, and the inference to be drawn must be one
17 that reasonably may be drawn.

18 In the example, even though the witness did not see
19 me knock over the glass, if you believe her testimony, you
20 could conclude that I did. Therefore, the circumstantial
21 evidence if accepted by you allows you to conclude that the 22 fact in dispute has been proved.

23 In reaching your conclusion, you may not guess or 24 speculate.

25 Suppose, for example, the witness testifies that

KM

4719

JURY CHARGE

1 the water glass was located equally distant from the court
2 clerk and me, and the witness states she heard the breaking
3 of glass and looked up to see both of us brushing water from 4 our clothes.

5 If you believe that testimony, you still could not
6 decide on that evidence alone who knocked over the water
7 glass.

8 Parenthetically, I did not write this example.

9 Where these are the only -- the only proved facts,
10 it would only be a guess as to who did it. However, if the 11 witness also testifies that she heard the court clerk say,
12 I'm sorry, then this additional evidence might allow you to 13 decide who knocked over the water glass.

14 Facts may be proved either by direct or 15 circumstantial evidence or by a combination of both. You
16 may give circumstantial evidence less weight, more weight or 17 the same weight as direct evidence.

18 You will recall that the parties presented expert
19 witnesses who each testified concerning their respective 20 qualifications and gave their respective opinions concerning
21 issues in the case.

22 When a case involves a matter of science or art or 23 requires special knowledge or skill that most people do not
24 have, a qualified witness is permitted to state his or her
25 opinion for the information of the Court and the jury.

KM

4720

JURY CHARGE

1 The opinions stated by the expert witnesses here
2 were based on particular facts as they each obtained
3 knowledge of them and testified about them or as the 4 attorneys who questioned them asked them to assume.

5 You may reject an expert's opinion if you find the 6 facts to be different from the facts that form the basis for 7 their opinion. You may also reject an opinion if after 8 careful consideration of all the evidence in the case
9 including the cross-examination of the expert witness, you
10 decide that an opinion is not convincing.

11 In other words, you are not required to accept any 12 opinion to the exclusion of the facts and circumstances
13 disclosed by other evidence.

14 Opinion testimony should be evaluated in the same
15 way as the testimony of any other witness. It is given to 16 assist you in reaching a proper conclusion. It is entitled 17 to such weight as you find the witness' qualifications in 18 the field warrant and must be considered by you, but is not
19 controlling upon your judgment.

20 One final point before we get to the legal points.
21 While it is important that the views of all jurors be 22 considered, as I mentioned earlier, a verdict of five of the 23 six members of the jury will be sufficient under the law.
24 When five of you agree on a verdict, you may report your
25 verdict to the Court.

KM

4721

JURY CHARGE

1 Now, I'm going to turn to the rules of law
2 instructions. First, an overview of the claims.

3 In this case, Plaintiff the Attorney General
4 asserts nine distinct claims. Each claim is based on an
5 alleged violation of a New York Statute. The three statutes
6 involved in the case are, one, the Estates Powers and Trusts
7 law which I will refer to as the EPTL.

8 Two, the Not-For-Profit Corporation Law which I
9 will refer to as the N-PCL; and three, the Executive Law.

10 I'm instructing you that under New York Law, the 11 NRA is deemed to be a charitable not-for-profit corporation.

12 Before turning to the specific claims, here are 13 some over-arching instructions for you to apply to all 14 claims. The first relates to the fact there are multiple
15 defendants.

16 As you know, the Plaintiff has asserted claims
17 against the NRA as well as individual Defendants LaPierre,
18 Phillips and Frazer. I may refer to the individuals
19 together as the individual defendants. Therefore, we are 20 effectively conducting four trials in one.

21 It is your obligation to evaluate the evidence as 22 it applies or fails to apply to each defendant separately.
23 Each of my instructions on the law must be considered by you
24 as referring to each defendant separately. You must return
25 a separate verdict concerning each cause of action against

KM

4722

JURY CHARGE

1 each defendant. Those verdicts need not be the same though
2 they may be.

3 Next section concerns NRA's responsibility for 4 conduct of directors, officers and employees.

5 A corporate entity like the NRA generally operates
6 through its designated agents and employees including but
7 not limited to its Board of Directors, authorized committees
8 established by the Board of Directors and officers and 9 employees.

10 Generally, a corporate entity such as the NRA is 11 responsible legally for the conduct of its designated agents
12 and employees when they are engaged in NRA business. There
13 are, however, certain instances in which the conduct of a
14 corporate entity's individual agents and employees is not 15 attributable to the entity.

16 Specifically, if you find that an NRA agent or 17 employee including the individual defendants completely
18 abandoned the NRA's interests and was acting solely for 19 their own or another's purposes resulting in harm to the 20 NRA, that conduct is not attributable to the NRA.

21 For this exception to apply, the agent or employee
22 must have totally abandoned the NRA's interests and be 23 acting entirely for his or her own purposes. It can not be 24 invoked merely because the agent or employee has a conflict
25 of interest or because he or she is not acting primarily for

KM

4723

JURY CHARGE

1 the NRA's interests.

2 In other words, the exception applies when the 3 agent or employee's misconduct is committed against the 4 corporation rather than against others on the corporation's
5 behalf.

6 Even if you find that exception applies, that does
7 not resolve the question of the NRA's liability under the 8 N-PCL and EPTL statutes for conduct by self-interested NRA
9 officers and employees.

10 The NRA Board of Directors which governs the NRA
11 has an independent obligation under those statutes to keep 12 itself informed and oversee the conduct of NRA officers and 13 employees including those that might act against the NRA's
14 interests or the interests of its members and donors. The 15 NRA is liable for the acts and omissions of its Board of 16 Directors.

17 As you will hear shortly, NRA directors as well as 18 officers and key employees must exercise ordinary care in 19 good faith in discharging the responsibilities, but are also 20 able to reasonably rely in good faith on experts and others
21 in satisfying those obligations.

22 If you find that the NRA Board of Directors
23 including through an authorized officer or a delegated
24 committee of the Board failed to discharge its oversight
25 obligations with respect to the conduct of self-interested

KM

4724

JURY CHARGE

1 officers or employees, you may find the NRA liable for
2 statutory violations arising from such failure.

3 Now, during the course of the trial, you have seen
4 and heard evidence regarding the NRA's Bylaws and various 5 internal operating rules, policies and procedures.

6 You may consider compliance or noncompliance with 7 those bylaws, rules, policies and procedures in making your
8 determination whether the NRA and individual defendants
9 violated the statutory obligations which I will describe
10 shortly, but they are not conclusive.

11 In other words, a finding that the NRA or an 12 individual's conduct -- individual defendant's conduct or a
13 transaction violated an NRA Bylaw, rule, policy or procedure
14 does not necessarily mean that the conduct or transaction
15 violated the Statute.

16 Similarly, a finding that the NRA's or an 17 individual defendant's conduct or transaction complied with 18 an NRA Bylaw, rule, policy or procedure does not necessarily 19 mean that the conduct or transaction complied with the 20 Statute. The decision remains yours considering the 21 evidence admitted at trial to determine whether Plaintiff
22 has established the facts necessary to prove that the NRA or 23 individual defendants failed to discharge their statutory
24 duties as I will now describe them or shortly describe them.

25 Next, a note about the relevant time period before

KM

4725

JURY CHARGE

1 I get to that.

2 In this case, the Attorney General seeks relief for
3 conduct that occurred during specific periods of time.

4 For the claim against the NRA under the EPTL and
5 the claims alleging violations of duties by the individual
6 defendants under the N-PCL, the relevant period runs from 7 March 20, 2014, to May 2, 2022, except for claims against
8 Defendant Phillips for which the relevant time period ends
9 on December 31, 2018, the date of his retirement.

10 For claims concerning related-party transactions
11 and whistleblower violations under the N-PCL and for false
12 filings under the Executive Law, the relevant period is 13 March 20, 2017 through May 2, 2022. I will refer to these 14 time periods collectively as the relevant period.

15 Next, a note about evidence predating the relevant
16 period.

17 As you will hear later, in determining whether 18 there were violations of law in this case during the 19 relevant period, you will be asked to consider whether the 20 defendants exercised appropriate care and whether they acted 21 in good faith in connection with the conduct or transactions
22 alleged against them.

23 During the course of the trial, you heard testimony
24 and saw exhibits concerning certain events that occurred
25 before the relevant period.

KM

4726

JURY CHARGE

1 If you determine that those earlier events are
2 relevant to the question of whether one or more defendants
3 acted in good faith or with appropriate care at the time of 4 the alleged violations during the relevant period, you may 5 take that evidence into account in determining liability for 6 those violations.

7 If on the other hand, you determine that such
8 previous events are not relevant to a defendant's good faith
9 or appropriate care at the time of the alleged violation
10 during the relevant period, you should not take that 11 evidence into account in determining liability for 12 defendant's conduct during the relevant period.

13 Now, a note about the relevance of subsequent 14 events and corrective measures.

15 During the course of the trial you heard testimony
16 and saw evidence regarding measures taken by the NRA, and in 17 some cases individual defendants, that defendants claim
18 improved the NRA's internal operating procedures to address
19 previous conduct by certain officers and employees that they 20 claim had the intent and effect to prevent future violations
21 of law or NRA Bylaws, rules, policies and procedures.

22 Some of those measures may have occurred or been 23 implemented after the conduct or transactions at issue had 24 already taken place.

25 If you determine that subsequent events and

KM

4727

JURY CHARGE

1 corrective measures taken by the NRA and/or individual
2 defendants are relevant to the question of whether the NRA
3 or the individual defendants acted in good faith or with 4 appropriate care at the time of the alleged violations, you
5 may take that evidence into account in determining liability
6 for those violations.

7 If on the other hand, you determine that such
8 subsequent events and corrective measures after an alleged 9 violation are not relevant to a defendant's good faith or
10 appropriate care at the time of the alleged violation, you
11 should not take that evidence into account in determining
12 liability for their prior conduct.

13 For these purposes, the question is not whether the 14 corrective measures occurred during the relevant period. It
15 is whether they occurred after the date of the alleged 16 violation.

17 Similarly, during the course of the trial, you have
18 seen and heard evidence about repayment of funds to the NRA
19 relating to earlier alleged violations. The fact that a
20 defendant made repayment to the NRA of certain funds now
21 claimed to have been unlawfully obtained may be taken into 22 account in determining damages to be awarded in this case as 23 I'll describe later. However, the repayment does not by 24 itself constitute a defense to liability if you conclude 25 that the initial payments the defendants received were

KM

4728

JURY CHARGE

1 unlawful.

2 If you determine that subsequent repayment by an
3 individual defendant is relevant to the question of whether
4 that defendant acted in good faith or with appropriate care
5 at the time of the alleged violations, you may take such 6 repayment into account in determining liability for those
7 violations.

8 If, on the other hand, you determine that such
9 repayment is not relevant to a defendant's good faith or
10 appropriate care at the time of the alleged violation, you
11 should not take that evidence into account in determining
12 liability for the defendant's prior conduct.

13 I will now instruct you as to the specific claims
14 made by the Attorney General.

15 The Plaintiff's causes of action fall into six
16 categories. They are, one, failure to properly administer
17 the charitable assets of the NRA under the EPTL. That is 18 asserted against the NRA.

19 Two, breach of duty of care and good faith under 20 the N-PCL asserted against Defendants LaPierre, Phillips and 21 Frazer.

22 Wrongful related-party transactions under the --
23 number three. I'm sorry. Wrongful related-party
24 transactions under the N-PCL. That's asserted against the 25 NRA, LaPierre and Phillips.

KM

4729

JURY CHARGE

1 Four, removal of officers for cause under the N-PCL
2 asserted against Defendants LaPierre and Frazer.

3 Five, violation of whistleblower protections under
4 the N-PCL. That's asserted against the NRA.

5 And finally, six, false filings under the Executive
6 Law asserted against the NRA and Frazer.

7 Certain of your fact finding may be relevant to 8 more than one claim.

9 Your function as a jury is to determine first 10 whether the defendants are liable on any of the specific 11 statutory claims.

12 Second, for those claims that provide for an award
13 of money damages against an individual defendant, if you
14 find there is liability, you shall also determine whether 15 and in what amount money damages are to be awarded. I will 16 further instruct you on how to calculate damages later on.

17 First claim, improper administration of charitable
18 assets under the EPTL.

19 The Plaintiff's claim alleges that the NRA failed
20 to properly administer the NRA's charitable assets during 21 the relevant period. Again, that's March 20, 2014 through 22 May 2, 2022 as required under the EPTL statute.

23 The EPTL authorizes the Attorney General to 24 supervise people and entities known as trustees that 25 administer charitable assets.

KM

4730

JURY CHARGE

1 Charitable assets means property held and
2 administered for charitable, educational or benevolent
3 purposes.

4 I am instructing you that the NRA is a trustee of 5 charitable assets under the EPTL statute. A trustee fails
6 to properly administer a charitable not-for-profit
7 corporation when it fails to exercise good faith and 8 reasonable care to protect the corporation from unnecessary
9 risk -- unnecessary exposure to risk of loss.

10 Engaging in transactions that are not for 11 legitimate purposes of the not-for-profit corporation may 12 constitute improper administration if they expose the 13 corporation to risk of loss.

14 A trustee may rely on good faith upon the advice of 15 professionals and advisors in administering charitable
16 assets.

17 Transactions that you determine do not adversely
18 affect the NRA's charitable assets are not sufficient to 19 demonstrate improper administration.

20 In determining whether the NRA as a trustee has 21 failed to properly administer the NRA's charitable assets,
22 you may consider among other things whether the NRA violated
23 the N-PCL which I'll address later in these instructions; if 24 such violations, wasted or exposed the NRA's charitable 25 assets to risk of loss.

KM

4731

JURY CHARGE

1 Two, whether the NRA violated NRA Bylaws, rules,
2 policies or procedures that are designed to preserve and
3 protect the NRA's charitable assets.

4 And three, whether the NRA reasonably relied on the 5 advice of professionals and advisors in discharging the 6 NRA's responsibility. No one factor is dispositive.

7 As noted earlier in these instructions, you may
8 consider subsequent remedial or corrective measures
9 undertaken by the NRA, that is, measures undertaken after 10 allegedly improper conduct has occurred if you conclude that 11 they are relevant to determining the NRA's good faith and 12 reasonable care at the time of the alleged improper
13 conducting considered.

14 You may also consider such remedial or corrective
15 measures in determining whether any transactions or conduct 16 during the relevant period have impaired the NRA's
17 charitable assets.

18 Moving on to the violation of duty claims against 19 the individual defendants.

20 The N-PCL authorizes the Attorney General to assert
21 claims against officers, directors and key persons of 22 not-for-profit entities for among other things, A, neglect
23 of or failure to perform other violation of his duties in 24 the management and disposition of corporate assets committed
25 to his charge; or B, the acquisition by himself, transfer to

KM

4732

JURY CHARGE

1 others, loss or waste of corporate assets due to any neglect
2 of or failure to perform or other violation of his duties.

3 Under the N-PCL, directors, officers and key
4 persons such as the individual defendants are required to 5 discharge the duties of their respective positions in good
6 faith and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a
7 like position would exercise under similar circumstances.

8 To act in good faith requires directors and 9 officers to act with undivided loyalty toward the 10 corporation. Here, the NRA.

11 They must deal honestly, fairly and openly with an 12 absence of malice and the absence of a design to defraud or 13 seek -- or to seek an unconscionable advantage.

14 In discharging their duties, each individual
15 defendant when acting in good faith may rely on information,
16 opinions, reports, or statements including financial 17 statements and other financial data in each case prepared or 18 presented by, one, officers or employees of the NRA whom the 19 individual defendants believed to be reliable and competent
20 in the matters presented; two, counsel, public accountants
21 or other person as to matters which the individual defendant
22 believed to be within such person's professional or expert
23 competence; or three, a committee of the Board upon which 24 they do not serve, duly designated in accordance with a
25 provision of the Certificate of Incorporation or the Bylaws

KM

4733

1 as to matters within its designated authority which
2 committee the individual defendant believed to merit
3 confidence, so long as in so relying, they were acting in 4 good faith and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in 5 a like position would have exercised under similar
6 circumstances.

1 The N-PCL statute provides that persons who perform
2 their duties in good faith reliance on others shall have no
3 liability by reason of being or having been director,
4 officer or key person of the NRA. The individual defendants
5 shall not be considered to be acting in good faith reliance
6 on others if you find that he had knowledge concerning the 7 matter in question that would cause such reliance to be 8 unwarranted.

9 During the course of the trial, you have heard
10 about certain agreements concerning the compensation to be 11 paid to one or more individual defendants during or after 12 their employment. In those circumstances, the individual
13 defendant is permitted to consider his own personal
14 financial interests rather than the NRA's financial 15 interests. It is not a violation of his duty to do so.
16 However, post-employment arrangements negotiated while an
17 officer is still employed may be considered related-party
18 transactions, which are subject to approval requirements
19 that I will explain in the next section of these 20 instructions.

21 If you find that one or more of the individual
22 defendants violated their statutory duties during the 23 relevant period, you will be asked to determine individually
24 as to each defendant whether those violations caused
25 monetary harm to the NRA; and if so, in what amount.

BP

4735

Jury Charge

1 To the third claim: Wrongful Related-Party
2 Transactions against the NRA, Mr. LaPierre and Mr. Phillips.

3 The attorney general asserts that during the 4 relevant period, March 20, 2017, to May 2, 2022, or
5 December 31, 2018 as to Mr. Phillips; the NRA, Mr. LaPierre
6 and Mr. Phillips entered into certain unlawful related-party
7 transactions that are specifically identified on the verdict
8 sheet.

9 The term "related party" means any director or 10 officer of the NRA or any relative of a director or officer.
11 It is undisputed that Mr. LaPierre and Mr. Phillips were at 12 all relevant times related parties under that definition.

13 For purposes of this claim a relative of a related
14 party means that person's spouse or domestic partner,
15 ancestors, brothers and sisters (whether whole or half),
16 children (whether natural or adopted), grandchildren,
17 great-grandchildren, and the spouse or domestic partner of 18 his or her brothers, sisters, children, grandchildren, great 19 grandchildren.

20 A related-party transaction generally means any 21 transaction, agreement or other arrangement in which a
22 related party has a financial interest and in which the NRA
23 is a participant.

24 However, under the law, a transaction isn't 25 considered not to be a related-party transaction if:

BP

4736

Jury Charge

1 One, the transaction or the related party's
2 financial interest in the transaction is de minimis, meaning
3 that it is financially so minor that it is insignificant to 4 the NRA or the related party, or;

5 Two, the transaction would not customarily be 6 reviewed by the board or boards of similar organizations in 7 the ordinary course of business and is available to others
8 who are not related parties on the same or similar terms,
9 or;

10 Three, the transaction constitutes a benefit
11 provided to a relate party solely as a member of a class of 12 beneficiaries that the corporation intends to benefit as
13 part of the accomplishment of its mission which benefit is
14 available to all similarly situated members of the same
15 class on the same terms.

16 Section 715 of the N-PCL prohibits the NRA from 17 entering into a related-party transaction unless the 18 transaction is determined by the NRA board or an authorized
19 committee of the board to be fair, reasonable and in the 20 NRA's best interest at the time of such determination. The 21 NRA's Audit Committee was authorized by the NRA to review
22 related-party transactions.

23 Section 715 of the N-PCL requires that the NRA
24 board of directors or authorized committee prior to entering 25 into the transaction consider alternative transactions to

BP

4737

Jury Charge

1 the extent available, approve the transaction by not less
2 than a majority vote of the directors or committee members
3 present at the meeting, and contemporaneously document in 4 writing the basis for the board or authorized committee's
5 approval, including its consideration of any alternative
6 transactions.

7 For each transaction listed in the
8 related-party-transaction section of the verdict sheet, you
9 must determine first whether it is a related-party
10 transaction.

11 If it was a related-party transaction, you must 12 then determine whether it was properly approved in advance
13 by the NRA board or authorized committee in accordance with 14 the requirements just described.

15 If you find that a transaction was not a
16 related-party transaction or that it was a related
17 transaction and was properly approved in advance by the NRA
18 board or authorized committee, you will conclude that the 19 transaction did not violate Section 715 of the N-PCL.

20 On the other hand, if you find that a transaction
21 was a related-party transaction and that it was not properly
22 approved in advance by the NRA board or authorized committee
23 of the board, you will conclude that the transaction
24 violated Section 715 of the N-PCL unless the defendants
25 involved in the transaction proved by a preponderance of

BP

4738

Jury Charge

1 the evidence that the transaction was properly ratified by
2 the NRA board, which I shall now explain.

3 So, the ratification defense.

4 With respect to a related-party transaction that
5 was not approved in advance, the N-PCL provides that 6 defendants may assert a defense based on a later approval by 7 the board or an authorized committee of the board. This is 8 called ratification. The defendant bears the burden of 9 proving this defense by a preponderance of the evidence.

10 A defendant asserting a ratification defense as to 11 a particular related-party transaction must establish by 12 a preponderance of the evidence each of the following
13 facts:

14 One, the transaction was fair, reasonable and in 15 the corporation's best interest at the time the corporation
16 approved the transaction, and;

17 Two, prior to the receipt of any requests for 18 information by the attorney general regarding the 19 transaction, the board or the authorized board committee 20 has:

21 (A) Ratified the transaction by finding in good
22 faith that it was fair, reasonable and in the corporation's 23 best interest at the time the corporation approved the 24 transaction, and in which a related party has a substantial
25 financial interest, considered alternative transactions to

4739

Jury Charge

1 the extent available, approving the transaction by not less
2 than a majority vote of the directors or a committee members
3 present at the meeting;

4 (B) Documented in writing the nature of the 5 violation and the basis for the board's or committee's 6 ratification of the transaction, and;

7 (C) Put into place procedures to ensure that the 8 corporation complies with the N-PCL provisions regarding 9 related-party transactions in the future.

10 You can see why I'm giving this to you in writing.

11 If you determine that the defendants involved in a
12 particular related-party transaction listed on the verdict
13 sheet have proven each of the above facts by a preponderance
14 of the evidence, you will enter a verdict indicating that 15 the transaction did not violate the statute.

16 If you determine that the defendants involved in a
17 particular related-party transaction have not met that 18 burden of proof as to each of the above requirements, you
19 will enter a verdict indicating that the transaction
20 violated the statute.

21 I will instruct you later as to the damages that 22 may be awarded against individual defendants with respect to 23 such violation during the relevant period.

24 Fourth, the fourth claim is about removal of 25 officers, and it is asserted against Mr. LaPierre and

BP

4740

Jury Charge

1 Mr. Frazer.

2 Section 714-C of the N-PCL also permits the
3 plaintiff to seek removal of NRA officers for cause. The 4 plaintiff seeks to remove Defendants LaPierre and Frazer for 5 cause as officers of the NRA. Although Mr. LaPierre
6 tendered his resignation to the NRA shortly before trial,
7 this claim remains in the case, and you must deliver a
8 verdict despite the resignation.

9 To find cause for removal as to an individual
10 defendant, you must find that during the applicable relevant
11 period he, one, violated the N-PCL under one or both of the 12 claims described above; and that, two, the violation
13 constitutes material and serious misconduct in violation of 14 the officer's duty to the NRA or contrary to the interests
15 of the NRA.

16 If you find that the plaintiff has established both
17 of the required elements as to an individual defendant by a
18 preponderance of the evidence, you will return a verdict
19 finding cause for removal as to that defendant.

20 On the other hand, if you find the plaintiff has 21 failed to establish one or both of those elements as to an
22 individual defendant, you will return a verdict finding no
23 cause for removal as to that defendant.

24 No monetary damages are sought with respect to this 25 claim.

BP

4741

Jury Charge

1 Five, Violation of Whistleblower Protections.

2 This is asserted against the NRA.

3 Section 715-B of the N-PCL requires that the NRA
4 board of directors -- I'm sorry -- requires the NRA board of 5 directors to adopt and oversee the implementation of, and 6 compliance with, a whistleblower policy to protect from 7 retaliation persons who report suspected improper conduct.

8 The law provides that such policy shall provide
9 that no director, officer, key person, employee or volunteer
10 of a corporation who in good faith reports any action or 11 suspected action taken by or within the corporation that is 12 illegal, fraudulent or in violation of any adopted policy of 13 the NRA shall suffer intimidation, harassment,
14 discrimination or other retaliation, or in the case of 15 employees, adverse employment consequence.

16 The statute defines a whistleblower as any 17 director, officer, executive, employee or volunteer who in 18 good faith reports any action or suspected action that is 19 illegal, fraudulent or in violation of any adopted policy of
20 the NRA.

21 The statute requires the NRA to adopt and oversee 22 the implementation, and compliance with, a whistleblower
23 policy that is substantially consistent with the following
24 provisions:

25 One, Provisions for the reporting of violations or

BP

4742

Jury Charge

1 suspected violations of laws or corporate policies,
2 including procedures for preserving the confidentiality of 3 reported information;

4 Two, A requirement that an employee, officer or 5 director of the corporation be designated to administer the 6 whistleblower policy and to report to the board or an 7 authorized committee thereof, except that directors who are 8 employees may not participate in any board or committee
9 deliberations or voting relating to administration of the 10 whistleblower policy;

11 Three, A requirement that the person who is the 12 subject of a whistleblower complain not be present at or 13 participate in board or committee deliberations or vote on 14 the matter relating to such complaint, provided that nothing
15 in this subparagraph shall prohibit the board or committee
16 from requesting that the person who is subject to the 17 complaint present information as background or answer
18 questions at a committee or board meeting prior to the 19 commencement of deliberations or voting relating thereto;

20 And, four, A requirement that a copy of the policy
21 be distributed to all directors, officers, key persons,
22 employees and to volunteers who provide substantial services
23 to the corporation. For purposes of this subdivision, 24 posting the policy on the corporation's website or at the 25 corporation's offices in a conspicuous location accessible

BP

4743

Jury Charge

1 to employees and volunteers are among the methods a
2 corporation may use to satisfy the distribution requirement.

3 The N-PCL does not require that the NRA adopt a
4 whistleblower policy that tracks the statutory language
5 precisely. It is enough that the policy be substantially
6 consistent with the statute, meaning that any differences
7 are not significant to the overall purpose of encouraging
8 and protecting whistleblowers for the benefit of the NRA.

9 Plaintiff alleges to two violations of that
10 section:

11 First, that the NRA failed to adopt and implement a
12 whistleblower policy as required by N-PCL 715-B from 13 March 20, 2017, to January 2020 when the NRA adopted a 14 written policy that plaintiff agrees meets the statutory
15 requirements.

16 Second, plaintiff alleges that the NRA violated
17 Section 715-B by failing to evaluate whistleblower
18 complaints and by retaliating against whistleblowers during 19 the relevant period. Again, that's March 20, 2017 to May 2, 20 2022.

21 For purposes of the claims in this case, the 22 plaintiff claims the following individuals are 23 whistleblowers as to which the violations took place, and 24 these are listed in the verdict sheet.

25 Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North, Richard Childress,

BP

4744

Jury Charge

1 Esther Schneider, Timothy Knight, Sean Maloney, Rocky
2 Marshall, Philip Journey and Craig Spray. The NRA denies
3 these allegations.

4 Start with the first claim.

5 If you find that the NRA failed to adopt and
6 implement a whistleblower policy substantially in compliance
7 with Section 715-B of the N-PCL from March 20, 2017 to 8 January 2020, you shall find for the plaintiff on this
9 portion of its whistleblower claim.

10 If you find that the NRA adopted and implemented a
11 whistleblower policy in compliance, in substantial
12 compliance with Section 715-B at any time from March 20,
13 2017 if to January 2020, you shall find that there is no
14 liability on the part of the NRA for this portion of 15 plaintiff's whistleblower claim.

16 Next, to the whistleblower violation claim.

17 If you find that the NRA did not comply with 18 Section 715-B of the N-PCL at any time during the relevant
19 period by, one, failing to evaluate whistleblower complaints
20 or, two, failure to ensure compliance by permitting
21 whistleblowers to suffer intimidation, harassment,
22 discrimination or other retaliation to discourage reporting
23 six improper conduct, you will find for the plaintiff on 24 this claim.

25 If on the other hand you find that the NRA properly

BP

4745

Jury Charge

1 whistleblower complaints and did not permit retaliation
2 against whistleblowers during the relevant period you will
3 find no liability on the part of the NRA in connection with 4 this claim.

5 No monetary damages are sought with respect to 6 either portion of this claim.

7 Finally, the claim under the Executive Law for 8 false filings, and this is against the NRA and Mr. Frazer.

9 Section 172-D(1) of the Executive Law prohibits the 10 making of a material statement which is untrue or failing to 11 disclose a material fact in a public filing relating to the 12 solicitation and collection of funds for charitable 13 purposes. It is undisputed that the CHAR500 form that the 14 NRA files annually with the attorney general, which attaches
15 the IRS Form 990, is such a public filing.

16 A statement of fact is material if a reasonable
17 person would consider it important. In the context of a 18 regulatory filing, an untrue statement is material if it has 19 a natural tendency to influence or is capable of influencing 20 the decision of the decision-making body to which it was 21 addressed.

22 A statement of fact is false if, taken as a whole,
23 it communicates something that is untrue when considered
24 from the viewpoint of an ordinary person.

25 In this case, the plaintiff alleges that the NRA

BP

4746

Jury Charge

1 made materially false statements and omissions in the annual
2 reports the organization filed with the attorney general,
3 and that Defendant Frazer signed and certified such reports
4 notwithstanding a number of falsehoods therein.

5 First against the NRA.

6 In order to find the NRA liable for making false
7 filings under the Executive Law, you must find that, one, a
8 statement in a public filing was false; two, that the 9 statement or omission was material; and, three, that the 10 statement or omission or omission was made on behalf of the
11 NRA.

12 If you find that the attorney general has 13 established each of the foregoing factors, you will find the 14 NRA liable for making a false filing. If you find that the 15 plaintiff has not established one or more of the foregoing
16 factors, you must return a verdict of no liability as
17 against the NRA.

18 No monetary damages were sought with respect to 19 this claim.

20 The claim against Mr. Frazer.

21 In order to find Mr. Frazer liable for making false
22 filings under the Executive Law, you must find that, one,
23 a statement in a public filing was false; two, that the 24 false statement or omission was material; three, that the 25 statement or omission was made or authorized by Mr. Frazer;

BP

4747

Jury Charge

1 and, four, that Mr. Frazer knew or should have known that
2 the statement was false.

3 If you find that the attorney general has
4 established each of those foregoing facts, you will find
5 Mr. Frazer liable for making a false filing. If you find 6 that plaintiff has not established one or more of the 7 foregoing facts, you will return a verdict of no liability
8 against Mr. Frazer on this claim.

9 Again, no monetary damages are sought with respect
10 to this claim.

11 Final area is about damages.

12 I'm now going to instruct you on the law of 13 damages. The fact that I instruct you on the law of damages
14 must not be taken as an indication that you should decide
15 for the plaintiff. You will decide on the evidence
16 presented and the rules of law that I have given you whether 17 the plaintiff is entitled to recover -- in this case for the 18 benefit of the NRA -- from a defendant.

19 The plaintiff seeks monetary damages from the 20 individual defendants to compensate the NRA for statutory 21 violations under the N-PCL for violation of duty and 22 related-party transactions. You only need to assess damages
23 if you find that any of these statutory violations have been 24 committed during the relevant period. While several claims
25 may assert violations based on the same conduct, the

BP

4748

Jury Charge

1 plaintiff may only recover once for the same financial harm.
2 In other words, there can be no double recovery for the same
3 damage.

4 Starting with the N-PCL claim.

5 The attorney general seeks restitution and damages
6 to be paid to the NRA from the individual defendants for 7 violation of their duties under the N-PCL during the 8 relevant period, March 20, 2014, to May 2, 2022.

9 If you find that during the relevant period any of 10 the defendant's conduct violated their duties to the NRA,
11 then you must determine the amount of monetary damages to 12 compensate the NRA for losses caused by such violations. A 13 violation causes a loss if it was a substantial factor in 14 causing that loss.

15 Where difficulty in calculating damages is 16 attributable to defendant's misconduct, such as an absence
17 of records, some uncertainty is permitted. Although 18 mathematical certainty is not required, plaintiff must 19 nonetheless present competent evidence of losses arising
20 from defendant's wrong so that the damages award is not 21 merely speculative.

22 The appropriate measure of damages requires putting
23 the beneficiary, here the NRA, in the same position
24 financially in which it would have been in if the violation
25 had not occurred. Any damages you award must be reasonably

BP

1 related to the evidence and testimony received during the
2 course of the trial.

3 Next, moving to the Related-Party Transactions.

4 The only claim for which -- if you found -- I
5 believe the only damages are against Mr. Phillips on this
6 claim.

7 If you found Mr. Phillips liable for an illegal
8 related-party transaction, you will determine the amount of 9 damages to be awarded to the NRA in connection with such 10 transaction. The relevant period for this claim is 11 March 20, 2017, through May 2, 2022.

12 In the instructions here I'm crossing out
13 Mr. LaPierre's name because they're not seeking damages as 14 to that transaction as to which no payments were made for 15 post employment.

16 The measure of damages is the amount of any NRA
17 assets lost by reason of the related-party transaction;

18 If a defendant claims that the NRA received value
19 from an unlawful related-party transaction in which he was 20 involved, that defendant has the burden of proving the value
21 received by the NRA. If you find that the defendant has met
22 that burden, then you may subtract such value from any 23 damages award you make with respect to that transaction.
24 Such subtraction may lead to a finding of zero damages with 25 respect to the transaction.

BP

4750

Jury Charge

1 If you find that a defendant willfully and
2 intentionally entered into a related-party transaction in
3 violation of the statute, then you may, but are not required
4 to, award plaintiff a penalty of an amount up to double the 5 amount of any benefit you find that the defendant improperly
6 obtained.

7 A violation is willful if it was done with an 8 awareness that the defendant was acting wrongfully when 9 entering into the transaction. And there is a separate 10 question for that on the verdict form.

11 Finally, a note about credit for repayments made,
12 in this case, by Mr. LaPierre.

13 During the course of the trial, you have seen and
14 heard evidence regarding payments made by Mr. LaPierre to 15 the NRA with respect to prior transactions or events.

16 If you find Mr. LaPierre liable for damages on any
17 claim, you must determine whether and to what extent he is
18 entitled to a credit for amounts he has previously repaid to 19 the NRA to compensate for such damages. Mr. LaPierre bears
20 the burden of entitlement to such a credit.

21 To be entitled to a credit against damages awarded
22 in this case, Mr. LaPierre must prove, first, that a
23 payment was made. Second, Mr. LaPierre must prove that the 24 payment compensated the NRA for some or all of the damages
25 for which you found him to be liable.

BP

4751

Jury Charge

1 For example, if you found Mr. LaPierre liable with
2 respect to a transaction occurring on January 1, 2018, a
3 payment made by Mr. LaPierre to compensate the NRA for
4 losses sustained in connection with that very transaction
5 can be subtracted from your damages award in this case.
6 That would avoid the NRA obtaining a double recovery.

7 On the other hand, if Mr. LaPierre's previous
8 payment was made to compensate the NRA for a different
9 transaction, say one occurring on January 1, 2013, that is 10 prior to the relevant period and not part of your verdict in 11 this case, he would not be entitled to a credit for that 12 payment against damages sustained in the 2018 transaction.
13 In that situation, awarding full damages for the 2018
14 transaction would not be a double recovery for the NRA.

15 Okay, I've now outlined for you the rules of law
16 that apply to this case and the processes by which you will 17 weigh the evidence and decide the facts.

18 In a few minutes you'll retire to the jury room for 19 your deliberations.

20 In order that your deliberations may proceed in an 21 orderly fashion, you must have a foreperson of the jury.
22 To be clear, the foreperson's vote is entitled to know
23 greater weight than that of any other juror. They are there
24 to help keep things organized. In some cases, juror number 25 one acts as a foreperson; but you can select someone else if

BP

4752

Jury Charge

1 you would like.

2 Your function to reach a fair decision from the law
3 and the evidence is an important one. When you are in the 4 jury room, listen to each other and discuss the evidence and
5 issues in the case among yourselves. It is the duty of each
6 of you as jurors to consult with one another and to 7 deliberate with a view of reaching agreement on a verdict,
8 if you can do so without violating your individual judgment
9 and your conscience.

10 While you should not surrender conscientious
11 convictions of what the truth is and what the weight and 12 effect of the evidence and while each of you must decide the 13 case for yourself and not merely consent to the decision of 14 your fellow jurors, you should examine the issues and the 15 evidence before you with candor and frankness and with 16 proper respect in regard for the opinions of each other.

17 Remember in your deliberations that the dispute
18 between the parties is for them a very important matter.
19 They and the Court rely upon you to give full and 20 conscientious deliberation and consideration to the issues
21 and evidence before you. By so doing, you carry out to the 22 fullest your oaths as jurors to truly try the issues of this
23 case and render a true verdict.

24 At this point, we're going to randomly select which 25 of you are the alternate jurors.

BP

4753

1 As I told you before trial, only six of you will be
2 deliberating and additional jurors were required as a
3 safeguard against the possibility that one or more of you
4 might be unable to complete his or her service.
5 Fortunately, that has only happened in three occasions.

1 THE COURT: So what we are now going to do -- and
2 so what would we are going to do, so the first one is going
3 to be the first alternate. Do you want to give it a spin.
4 We are putting each of your things in there.

5 So the first alternate is juror number one. You
6 are the first alternate. Juror number nine, you are the 7 second alternate.

8 A JUROR: That's the person who is gone.

9 THE COURT: Well, that should -- for math purposes,
10 that should be ten, the one you just picked out again. So
11 we don't want to redo it. So nine would have been ten. So
12 ten. So that's the second alternate. And juror five.

13 So those of you who will not be deliberating must 14 not communicate anything about the case in any fashion with 15 the sitting jurors, other alternates or anyone else until 16 after a verdict has been rendered or I may instruct you
17 otherwise.

18 As a precaution, I'm going to ask that you remain
19 available for the rest of today and that you report back
20 here on Tuesday morning just in case something prevents one
21 of the other jurors from continuing with deliberations
22 tomorrow. I mixed up nine and ten. But again, I'm going to 23 ask you as a precaution to stay for the rest of the day.
24 And if there is no verdict, to report back on Tuesday
25 morning just in case something prevents one of the other

KM

1 jurors from continuing with deliberations on Tuesday.

2 The court officer has a room for you to sit in for
3 now, and we will direct you where to go.

4 I do want to genuinely thank and commend each of 5 you, the three of you who are leaving and those who are 6 remaining for your faithful attendance and attention.

7 Assuming we do not need to call on you, I want to 8 tell you now on behalf of the Court and the parties, thank 9 you very much for your service.

10 MR. FARBER: Judge, we need to put something on the 11 record outside.

12 THE COURT: So I'm going to --

13 MR. FARBER: I think we need to do it before the 14 jury retires under the rule.

15 Can we just do this at sidebar?

16 (Whereupon, at this time there was a
17 sidebar discussion as follows:)

18 THE COURT: Okay. With the alternate juror ten, I
19 thought she was ten. She turns out to have been nine.

20 MR. CORRELL: That's fine.

21 THE COURT: I think using nine as a proxy for ten.
22 Anybody object?

23 MR. CORRELL: I agree.

24 MR. FARBER: I agree. No objection.

25 Mr. Correll filed a letter I believe it was

KM

4756

1 yesterday putting on the record a written objection to the
2 charge on the breach of duty claim which we filed a letter
3 right before court this morning joining that objection, and
4 we want to note our continuing objection for the grounds
5 stated in Mr. Correll's letter.

6 MR. CORRELL: I'd like to make that same continuing
7 objection.

8 MR. FARBER: And second, your Honor has ruled on 9 the relevant Statute of Limitations for breach of duty claim 10 is six years and not three years, and we understand that,
11 but we wanted to note our objection to the record to 12 definition of relevant time period for Mr. Phillips in 13 this -- and the relevant time period section of the charge
14 as running from the charge given was March 20, 2014 to his 15 case December 31, 2018.

16 We believe because the three-year statute should
17 apply, it should have been March 20, 2017.

18 MR. CORRELL: And your Honor, I'd like to add a
19 continuing objection to including a -- in the verdict form a 20 requirement to determine whether there was cause to remove
21 Mr. LaPierre.

22 MR. PETERS: And we would like to note an objection
23 that the first cause of action was void for vagueness and 24 that the whistleblower claim should not have been charged
25 because they don't meet the statutory criteria.

KM

4757

1 MR. CORRELL: And I would like to go add the
2 objection that Mr. LaPierre's view, the Attorney General
3 lacks authority to seek monetary damages under 720 of the 4 N-PCL without alleging and proving knowledge of 5 unlawfulness.

6 MR. PETERS: And we would like to note our 7 objection to the three-year -- to the six-year Statute of 8 Limitations with the EPTL claim. We think it should be 9 three years.

10 MR. CORRELL: Last but not least, or maybe not 11 last, Mr. LaPierre objects to the application of the 12 six-year statute to the claims for breach of duty.

13 MS. CONNELL: Finally, since we are doing this,
14 Plaintiff objects to the three-year Statute of Limitations.

15 We will object to non-inclusion of claims under the 16 EPTL against the individual defendants as trustees and 17 -- and the exclusion of the related-party transactions
18 against Mr. LaPierre for the hair and makeup for 19 Mrs. LaPierre and of the Membership Marketing Partners
20 transactions.

21 MR. CORRELL: And your Honor, I will object to that 22 objection on the ground that the law requires that objection
23 to be made before the jury's instructed, and they have 24 waived their right to make that objection. Their making it
25 after the jury is instructed is violative of the CPLR.

KM

1 THE COURT: Okay, folks. I'm happy to have you all
2 put it on the record. I take no position whether any or all
3 of it is necessary, but you have the right to make a record
4 if you want to.

5 So with that, we will get back to the jury.

6 (Open court.)

7 THE COURT: Thank you. All right, folks. We will 8 let you folks go back there. I will have copies made of the 9 verdict sheet and instructions, and I will have those given
10 to you shortly.

11 THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Jury exiting.

12 (Whereupon, at this time the jury exits
13 the courtroom.)

14 THE COURT: I do want to thank you all for your 15 unbelievable efforts really over the last six weeks and --
16 well, first of all, I think Ms. Connell, you're going to 17 give us the missing Court exhibits.

18 MS. CONNELL: I am, your Honor. It's Court
19 Exhibit III, Court Exhibit IV, Court Exhibit V,
20 Court Exhibit VI and Court Exhibit VII.

21 THE COURT: Okay. You can just give them to Ms.
22 Hill over there.

23 THE COURT: I do want to thank everyone for really 24 exceptional efforts. It was challenging at times but all in 25 the name of vigorous representation of your clients, and I

KM

1 understand that. And I also understand that there are large
2 teams perhaps for some of you who haven't been in front of
3 me the entire time, and I want them to know that I
4 appreciate their efforts.

5 I do want to say I -- the fact that really on both
6 sides, the people allowed multiple members of teams to 7 participate in court, I think was -- it's good for the 8 profession, and I think it adds to the diversity of the 9 presentation. So I appreciate that. And the skill level
10 was very high. And you know, people kept their -- kept 11 things at a high level, so I appreciate that.

12 Is there anything else before we close?

13 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we have printed copies of 14 all the exhibits admitted during Plaintiff's case. I think
15 the Defendants have that as well.

16 Should we bring those to the courtroom to maintain
17 here?

18 THE COURT: Well, I mean, I would keep them
19 wherever -- we are going to need them quickly when they ask
20 for them. I don't know whether you have a better place to 21 keep them, but if you want to -- by the way, I do want to 22 also especially thank the court staff, the court officers
23 who have really done a miraculous job in keeping everything
24 organized and safe, my courtroom staff Ms. Hill and the 25 court reporters who continued to do a job that it's kind of

KM

1 like trying to imagine yourself dunking a basketball. I
2 can't even figure out how they do it. So just a tremendous
3 effort during the six weeks.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, we couldn't agree more.
5 Thank you so much.

6 In terms of your reaching us, we will monitor our
7 email. If you like, we can also leave our cell phone
8 numbers with your staff if that would be helpful.

9 THE COURT: I would make sure we have every way to 10 reach you. I would assume if this goes the way most things
11 go, that the first thing that we will get is for a bunch of 12 things. So I wouldn't go anywhere quite yet, and -- but 13 then after that, if we can have a way to reach you, I would

1 THE COURT: We got a brief note. Totally expected
2 one; although, I'm not sure logistically how you'll do it.

3 The jury requests a list of all the admitted
4 exhibits, identification numbers and a brief description of 5 what the document is.

6 Then they say, "If available, we would like to be 7 provided with any demonstratives the Court will allow."

8 Well, starting with that last one, I think what I
9 said is that if it is by consent, I would permit
10 demonstratives to go back. If it is not with consent, then 11 I will not. So, I have not heard the consent almost to 12 anything ever; but so am I correct in assuming that there
13 will not be unanimous consent to send any demonstratives
14 back?

15 MR. FARBER: That's correct, we would object.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I think we might change
17 our mind on that, but I just need to --

18 THE COURT: It doesn't matter. Unless everybody
19 consents, I'm not going to do it.

20 MR. CORRELL: Mr. LaPierre objects.

21 THE COURT: So, it doesn't matter.

22 Now, can you create such a list. I think it is a
23 sensible question, given how many exhibits there were that 24 they would like to have a list to choose from rather than 25 getting everything all at once. Does such a list exist?

BP

4762

Proceedings

1 And if not, how long will it take to create it?

2 MR. FLEMING: We have one. I can't vouch for its
3 perfection. It is a working copy, we could all peruse.

4 MR. FARBER: The challenge may be the description
5 part, your Honor. I mean --

6 THE COURT: Well, make it as.

7 TECH PERSON: We have that.

8 THE COURT: Well, it is a question of what you say
9 in the description; but if it just says e-mail dated blank
10 from blank to blank, as long as it is just objective data.
11 Well, try to do it. I think there's a combination of 12 completeness and speed that's a balance here because I don't 13 want them waiting to get going for hours if it is going to 14 take that long. So, I'll let you talk and see if you can 15 maybe start with the list you have, and since it is already 16 put together and then see if people can agree on the 17 descriptions.

18 MS. CONNELL: I think it won't take long. I think
19 we can have something in a few minutes, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: With descriptions that then have to be 21 shared?

22 MS. CONNELL: No, no, we have some descriptions. I
23 think it is a matter of the parties agreeing on the 24 descriptions.

25 THE COURT: Yeah, do it. And, again, I had this

BP

4763

1 conversation off the record, but we've now made copies -- I
2 think we either have made or are making copies of the --
3 that's the verdict sheet?

4 COURT OFFICER: Yes.

5 THE COURT: I'd like to have the verdict sheet and 6 the instruction exhibits, so Court Exhibit XI and XII I'd 7 like them to be put on NYSCEF so that they're available to 8 the public. So, you might want to wait until we get the 9 instructions as well.

10 MS. STERN: Just to clarify, your Honor, would you
11 like us to put them up on NYSCEF?

12 THE COURT: Yes, that's easier if the plaintiff
13 does it, yes. That would be easier for me if you did it
14 because I'm not sure exactly how we do it.

15 MS. STERN: Sure.

16 THE COURT: So I would just post it is Court
17 Exhibit -- just say Court Exhibit XI, paren., Jury Verdict
18 Sheet or form, whatever it says; and then Court Exhibit XII
19 Instructions.

20 So, Officer, just tell the jury that the parties
21 are working on it. You can tell them that it will just be 22 the admitted exhibits, not the demonstratives.

23 COURT OFFICER: Okay.

24 THE COURT: All right, we're back off the record.

25 (In recess)

BP

4764

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: The list of exhibits they wanted is
2 Exhibit XIV. The lawyers have that and they're working on
3 that.

4 I now have another note which is -- I almost 5 hesitate to get into it because it seems so premature, but 6 it is -- I'd like to paraphrase this for the record and 7 maybe then I'll share it with you.

8 It is somewhat expressing frustration about the 9 pace of their discussions. It says they're talking about 10 things over and over and not moving on to the next question,
11 and then suggests it is going to take a long time.

12 I mean, it's only been a couple of hours at this 13 point. We're not nearly at the time where it would be up to 14 the Court to intervene and start saying anything other than 15 just keep at it. I mean, I'll show it to counsel.

16 I mean, again, just in terms of juror
17 confidentiality, I'm a little concerned about putting all of 18 this just in the public record; but I may end up having to 19 do it. But, for now, I'd rather just share with counsel.

20 It doesn't express a view one way or the other. It
21 just expresses frustration about how long it is taking which 22 it may -- I guess it is a process complaint that this juror
23 wants things to move more quickly. So, I'll just report
24 that to you.

25 I don't see a particular need -- and after I'll

BP

4765

Proceedings

1 show you this and you can express your view. I don't see a
2 rationale to bring them all in here and talk to them after
3 two hours and say -- well, I'm certainly not going to say
4 hurry up.

5 Maybe we can make a copy, Officer.

6 So, I'll wait for you to read it. I think at some 7 point there would have to be some unexpressed thoughts,
8 right?

9 My suggestion is that I send them back with a 10 message to just review the portion of the instructions that 11 near the end where I tell them the importance of listening
12 to each other and how important that is, and it's not been 13 that long and something along those lines so that I don't 14 give anything new, but just point their attention to that 15 portion. I'll find what page it is, but it is toward the 16 back.

17 MR. FLEMING: It might be helpful if they knew that 18 maybe we were on the verge of giving them something.

19 THE COURT: Well, we'll tell them that the 20 documents are on the way, and that the Court would just 21 direct your attention back to the -- I think it is right
22 before the alternates. I have to find the copy of this.
23 Everybody has a copy of the instructions except me now.

24 I'm going to ask them to look at the conclusion
25 section beginning on page 69, which talks about listen to

BP

4766

Proceedings

1 each other, discuss the evidence. It is the duty of each of
2 you as jurors to consult with one another and to deliberate
3 with a view toward reaching an agreement, and just get past
4 this with whoever is having an issue. I don't think
5 bringing them back is a proportionate response to this at 6 this point.

7 Does anyone else have a disagreement with that?

8 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor, no disagreement.

9 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right, so just say we tell them
11 that -- I'm just talking to the court officer now -- the 12 documents are being gathered. They should be up reasonably
13 soon, and the Court would ask you to just re-review the part
14 of the instructions starting at page 69 about the importance
15 of listening to each other and deliberating and working 16 together cooperatively and that sometimes these things take
17 time.

18 Thank you.

THE COURT: The question is, "Can the judge explain in layman's terms number 3 on page 47 of the instructions," which is one of the exceptions to related-party transaction, if "The transaction constitutes a benefit provided to a related party solely as a member of a class of the beneficiaries that the corporation intends to benefit as part of the accomplishment of its mission which benefit is available to all similarly situated members of the same class on the same terms."

I could understand why that's a bit of a mouthful to them.

Is this an exception that the defendants claim might apply to any of the transactions? Because it seemed to me that it arguably -- they have argued 1 or 2 might apply, that it's either de minimis or it's not a board issue and something that was available to others; but this is kind of, like, I assume it means he gets a copy of the magazine just like everybody else does.

MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, it applies to hair and makeup provided to all the people who attended Women's Leadership events.

THE COURT: I think that's a second proviso. That's a transaction that would not personally be reviewed, but was available to others who are not related on the same

BP

4768

Proceedings

1 or similar terms.

2 This is a class of beneficiaries -- in the 3 hairstyling thing, that's not a -- they're not a class of 4 beneficiaries.

5 MR. CORRELL: I would argue that both exceptions
6 apply. It is my understanding -- and I think Mr. LaPierre
7 testified to this -- that those services were made available
8 to everyone.

9 THE COURT: No, I understand that; but is that the 10 way you -- this exception to the related-party transaction I
11 think is intended to mean if the entity provides benefits to 12 all members, then you're not precluded from getting the 13 benefit as a member.

14 So, Mr. LaPierre would get the same magazine
15 everybody else gets.

16 I think that I viewed the hairstyling issue as -- 17 which, by the way, is not asserted against your client at 18 this point -- would be number two, if there's anything.

19 So, I mean --

20 MR. CORRELL: Again, I think we've got there's two 21 bites at that apple. I think it can come in under any one.

22 If you take the provision of hair and makeup
23 services to members who attend an event and are asked to 24 speak on the stage as a benefit, then they are beneficiaries
25 I suppose. They're members and beneficiaries and it's

BP

4769

Proceedings

1 available to anyone who participates.

2 THE COURT: Is anyone aware of any cases under 3 any of these exceptions to which shed light on what they
4 mean?

5 MR. SHIFFMAN: No. There is guidance from the 6 office both pre-2016 when some of this language was changed
7 and after.

8 THE COURT: And what does it provide?

9 MR. SHIFFMAN: I think it is in align with what 10 your Honor stated, something like everybody gets a magazine.
11 We can pull it up.

12 THE COURT: Can you track it down?

13 MR. SHIFFMAN: Yes.

14 THE COURT: Track it down and send it to me. Why
15 don't you take a few minutes and find it.

16 Are the defendants aware of this one? I have to 17 admit, as I was sort of putting these in, they're all in the 18 statute so I figured there really wasn't much harm in 19 putting everything in the statute; but this one did strike
20 me as more of a broadly aimed benefit that it would be silly
21 to prevent related parties to get because everybody else got 22 them as opposed to whereas discrete number of people
23 attending a forum.

24 Now, if every attendee -- if all the members who 25 went got hair and makeup, that would be one thing. It

4770

Proceedings

1 seemed more like number two, if there's anything; but
2 there's not a lot.

3 The question is how to describe this differently
4 than it is, and it is what the statute says; but it's a bit
5 of a mouthful, I think we can agree. It is a bit of a word
6 salad.

7 So, what would the parties propose as a way to 8 describe what this is? I think it has to have -- there has 9 to be something where you identify a class of beneficiaries
10 that the corporation intends to benefit as part of the 11 accomplishment of its mission.

12 I think this is more -- you know, whether it's 13 enthusiasts or people who enjoy the benefit of the actual -- 14 the corporation's purpose, you shouldn't be denied that 15 benefit; but I don't think this is -- the benefit they're 16 talking about is hair and makeup. I think it is -- it has 17 to relate to the organization's mission.

18 So, I think if this has to have any independent
19 meaning, it has to mean, you know, pick whatever the 20 charity's goals are. If this is a benefit one would get as 21 a member consistent with those goals, fine.

22 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, these events as I
23 understand it were expressly to raise funds to advance the 24 mission. They were -- you know, some of them were actually 25 called benefits.

BP

4771

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: I know, but it's -- it's flipped,
2 right? This is the organization giving benefit to other
3 members and these are the people who are -- who join in the 4 effort to provide that benefit. So they're given a boost to 5 help them provide that benefit, but that may be what number
6 two is about.

7 Number three is about the recipients of the 8 benefit; meaning, the members who gain from the Women
9 Leadership Forum. Is there anything that those members get,
10 and if they get that, then a related party should get that.
11 The members don't all get their hair and makeup done at 12 these meetings; right?

13 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, if I could just have a
14 moment, I know there's language in 515-C that addresses
15 benefits.

16 THE COURT: Why don't you all think about it for a
17 few minutes; but my, my inclination is that I can't think
18 of any one of the related-party transactions if properly
19 construed that exception would apply to which would be the 20 easiest answer if I could get comfortable with that.
21 Because whatever it is, none of these are benefits that 22 flowed to the related party by virtue of being a member
23 service that the corporation intended to benefit as part of 24 its mission.

25 I'm not saying it is a related-party transaction

BP

4772

Proceedings

1 because it might not be under number two; but it certainly
2 is not a benefit as part of it accomplishing its mission.

3 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, there is another
4 example.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MS. EISENBERG: The payments as grants to United
7 Sportsmen of Florida, Marion Hammer as a financial interest
8 in that corporate entity; and this is a presumptively
9 allegedly related-party transaction because it's a
10 transaction between the NRA on the one hand and a corporate
11 entity in which she has an interest, right? It is important
12 to understand that there are multiple such corporate
13 entities across the nation that receive grants from the NRA
14 and falls squarely within the NRA's mission.

15 THE COURT: But are they getting that benefit
16 solely as a member of a class? Because that's -- again,
17 that's what seems to distinguish number two and number
18 three.

19 Number two could still be it's available to others
20 who are not related to parties on same or similar terms,
21 right? That's the second exception. But, it says it has to 22 be provided to them solely as a member of a class of 23 beneficiaries.

24 So, are you saying that every single organization
25 gets the same kind of grant? They're just getting it

BP

4773

Proceedings

1 because they're a member of a class, or isn't it that they
2 get -- that that particular organization gets a directed
3 grant for things that they do. They're not just receiving
4 it because they're the members of a class.

5 Again, it might be fine, but not under this third
6 branch. It seems to me that's -- the third branch is 7 your -- it is not directed to you as a benefit. You're 8 getting it because you're a member of a class. So, that's 9 why I don't think it seems to apply to any of these bespoke
10 grants or reimbursements. Right? I think that the 11 traditional -- I mean, the most obvious thing is all members
12 get this or all fill in the blank, all class -- all members
13 of the following group get the same exact benefit. So you
14 shouldn't discriminate against a related party because this 15 is a throw-in as being a member of a certain class.

16 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, there was an example
17 given in Mr. Frazer's testimony where he said because he was 18 a member I think of a shooting range or something like, that 19 had non-related parties and, of course, him as a related 20 party he would be permitted to enjoy the payment made by the 21 NRA to the range because it's -- because it fit into this
22 example, and I do think it's a jury question --

23 THE COURT: That's not a challenged related-party
24 transaction here. What I'm trying to get at --

25 MR. FLEMING: I understand.

BP

4774

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: If the answer to this simple question
2 -- although it is hard to reconstruct this language in a way
3 that will fit all scenarios. But, if the answer is that
4 it's inapplicable because there is no argument that one
5 could come up with that any of these listed transactions,
6 the recipient solely received because they are the members
7 of a class. None of them have that.

8 I'm not sure what you're arguing about since your 9 client isn't named in any of this.

10 MR. FLEMING: No, I understand. I'm trying to get 11 to the understanding that the issue it seems to me it is 12 mission related and that is a jury question because if the 13 rain of money from the NRA falls on something and some 14 related party's benefit and other non-related party's 15 benefit in the same way, that is what this exception is 16 intended to capture.

17 THE COURT: That may be true; but in a situation
18 like we've just been talking about, if you get your hair and 19 makeup done, that's not how you're receiving that benefit.
20 It is a personal benefit. You're not just getting it as a
21 member of a class.

22 MR. FLEMING: I think if a class of people --
23 however that's defined -- are getting hair and makeup
24 services and two out of the ten are related parties and 25 eight of the ten are not, it seems to me it's mission

BP

4775

Proceedings

1 related.

2 THE COURT: That's the other exception. Did you
3 find your guidance?

4 MS. STERN: Yes, and, one, I was going to say we
5 could just e-mail it to you and everyone else. It was in 6 the letter that we submitted to the Court on February 14th.
7 It has a link to the guidance, but we will send that. It's 8 on our website.

9 And, second, these are arguments that were never
10 made during trial. There's no evidence of these -- of whole
11 classes of people also getting the same benefits. Whether 12 you say a payment to a pistol club which that was never 13 raised, that's not what this exception is for. It's what 14 the related party conflict-of-interest policy is for.

15 MS. EISENBERG: It was raised in our answer.

16 MS. STERN: In your answer? Okay, and there's no
17 evidence of a whole class of people getting the hair and 18 makeup services.

19 THE COURT: I'm sorry, Ms. Eisenberg, you say you
20 raised in your answer this specific argument?

21 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: As to which related-party transactions?

23 MS. EISENBERG: In general, because we didn't know
24 which related-party transactions they were arguing because 25 they didn't tell us until the fall.

BP

4776

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Well, now that we know because they
2 could have been alleging, you know, you get the NRA magazine
3 every month or whatever it is and, and that's certainly not
4 a related-party transaction. That clearly falls under this.
5 So, that doesn't impress me much.

6 I certainly haven't heard any argument in the six
7 weeks I've sat here about this has a rationale for any of 8 these transactions. I don't want the jury to get confused
9 and overly -- perhaps over thinking something that nobody
10 has really ever asserted.

11 I heard the idea, as Mr. LaPierre testified that,
12 if they buy the idea that, well, it was given to everyone on 13 same and similar terms, even non-related parties because 14 they were doing the same thing Mr. LaPierre was doing, that 15 sounded to me like potentially -- I mean, the reason I kept
16 that in, frankly, as I pointed out was because I thought
17 this number two exception could apply to it if you, if you
18 accepted that testimony. It did not occur to me, to be 19 honest with you, that this third one would apply. I kept it
20 in because it was one of the three exceptions.

21 MS. EISENBERG: I think the jurors perhaps have it
22 right. Can we perhaps look at the definition that the NYAG
23 assigned to that exception and then make our decision based 24 on that?

25 THE COURT: Do you have that nearby, Ms. Stern?

BP

4777

Proceedings

1 MS. STERN: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Or is it something that's going to be
3 more complicated to read? I'm sure we've spent more time
4 already thinking about this than we have in the entire
5 four-year history of this case.

6 MS. STERN: Okay, this is from the Attorney
7 General's Guidance on Conflict-of-Interest Policies under 8 the Not-For-Profit Corporation Laws. Guidance document
9 issued date September 2018 at page 7:

10 "To qualify for the exception for benefits provided
11 to a related party solely as a member of a class that the 12 corporation intends to benefit as part of the accomplishment
13 of its mission, the benefits must be provided in good faith
14 and without unjustified favoritism towards the related
15 party."

16 "Example of a transaction in this category: A
17 legal services program agrees to handle the eviction case of 18 one of its board members who's eligible to be a client and 19 who is serving as one of the minimum number of 20 client-eligible board members that is required by federal 21 regulations. The decision to accept the case is made
22 pursuant to the organization's established case acceptance
23 policy without regard to the client's status as a board
24 member."

25

4778

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Right, so it is what the entity does
2 and it would actually be discriminating against the related
3 party to not provide it because that person would get that
4 benefit if they were anyone.

5 MS. STERN: Correct.

6 THE COURT: So the analogy, I guess, if you're
7 going to use the hair and makeup is, well, if Mrs. LaPierre
8 were just somebody off the street and was asked to speak at 9 this forum, she would have gotten the same treatment the 10 other people did. Although, again, the difference is your 11 situation is that is their whole purpose, is representing, I
12 assume, indigent people and so she's in the class of people
13 to whom the organization is dedicated.

14 This is really coming at it from the other side.
15 This is what benefits are we going to provide for people who 16 help us perform our mission. In other words, other people
17 who were going to enlist in the mission, can we give them
18 benefits that we would give to others?

19 See, that seems -- again, it seems different to 20 me. That's like saying, well, we can give you a job. Let's
21 say, let's say they were going to hire Ms. LaPierre and say,
22 Well, we're going to pay you what we pay everybody else,
23 right? That's the way -- I view it more analogous to that 24 because she's -- she's not receiving a member benefit. She 25 is conveying to a member benefit to others; and as part of

4779

Proceedings

1 the compensation for that, again, maybe this is fine just
2 like anybody else would, she's going to be compensated in
3 the same way sort of with this makeup service; but that I
4 don't -- I think what the third one is is looking at member
5 benefits, not provider benefits.

6 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, two things:

7 First, I thought you got it right in the first half
8 of that analysis.

9 Second, just for what it is worth, I'm not even 10 sure how this lands; but in 515-C it says "A corporation may 11 confer benefits upon members or nonmembers in conformity
12 with its purposes."

13 I would argue that when the NRA scheduled a big 14 event with maybe a thousand people, some will be members,
15 some will be nonmembers; and if anyone is asked to speak,
16 they will be provided this benefit. And the fact that 17 Ms. LaPierre is a volunteer, shouldn't -- or the wife of the 18 EVP shouldn't disqualify her from that benefit.

19 THE COURT: And the language I think you're reading
20 out of this is this has to be a benefit to a class of 21 beneficiaries that the corporation intends to benefit as
22 part of its accomplishment of its mission.

23 Providing hair and makeup services is not providing 24 a benefit as part of the accomplishment of the mission. It
25 is the other people who are listening to the forum that are

BP

4780

Proceedings

1 getting the benefit of the services, not the presenters.

2 MR. CORRELL: I don't even concede it is a benefit.
3 I don't know how much of a benefit it is to have your hair
4 brushed out, you know, frankly. I think it is de minimis.
5 I think the whole thing is kind of silly.

6 THE COURT: Well, it may be; but if the jury is 7 getting twisted or some are about what that might mean and,
8 you know, to me, the -- I think the only thing that had been 9 argued before, at least as I have heard, is either the de
10 minimis which I heard Ms. Rogers say in argument, and the --
11 I have heard one of you reference the available to others
12 who are not related parties thing because that seems to me
13 the benefit, if there is one, for each of these things that 14 both Ms. Eisenberg talked about and what you're talking
15 about.

16 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I have a practical
17 suggestion.

18 If you instruct the jury that if they determine
19 that the hair and makeup thing is de minimis or that it
20 falls within the other exceptions, then they don't need to 21 worry about that.

22 THE COURT: Well, that doesn't answer the question
23 because that just tells them -- I think -- I'll sort of --

24 MR. CORRELL: Can you ask them what --

25 THE COURT: This is not typically a dialogue where

BP

4781

Proceedings

1 I'm trying to talk them into anything.

2 MR. CORRELL: I understand. Can you ask them --

3 THE COURT: All I can do --

4 MR. CORRELL: -- what claim it relates to?

5 THE COURT: No, I think that would be a mistake.

6 This is not the time for that type of dialogue. But I think
7 the thing that the related party gets has to be something
8 that she -- he or she is only getting because they are the 9 beneficiary that a whole class of people get as part of the 10 NRA supporting its mission. That's as layman I can make it
11 I think.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I think it squarely
13 applies to the example that I gave. In fact, hearing
14 Ms. Stern's or the NYAG's example about the legal services
15 provider, providing legal services and obviously --

16 THE COURT: The word "solely" as a member of the 17 class is important, right?

18 MS. EISENBERG: Right.

19 THE COURT: In other words, the only reason that 20 that director was getting it is because he is one of the 21 class that the entity exists to serve.

22 MS. EISENBERG: Right, and so here the related
23 party is not Marion Hammer, but United Sportsmen of Florida,
24 an entity which she has an interest. So the focus should be 25 on the entity, and it is a member of a class of entities who

BP

4782

Proceedings

1 the NRA supports throughout the nation, squarely within its
2 mission and indirectly supports all of its members and other
3 supporters of the 2nd Amendment.

4 So, I would respectfully request that the Court
5 provide the definition that Ms. Stern read, including the 6 example about the legal services provider. It would seem to 7 me that that would help the jury.

8 THE COURT: I'm willing to read that out and say
9 here's a concrete example of how it might apply and then 10 leave it at that and let them see if they think that's 11 analogous.

12 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry, your Honor, the language
13 you're talking about is the United Sportsmen of Florida --

14 THE COURT: No, the Guidance from the Attorney
15 General --

16 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the only thing I would 17 say is that all of the evidence we heard being related to 18 the United Sportsmen of Florida are the grants to Ms. Hammer
19 directly and directly had to do with her reputation
20 allegedly as an un-parallel lobbyist.

21 THE COURT: I have two choices here. One is to 22 sort of rule as a matter of law this could not possibly 23 apply to any of these, and that's a big thing to swallow at 24 this late stage because I didn't do that before. I struck
25 some related-party transactions from the list, and I didn't

BP

4783

Proceedings

1 strike any of these. And I didn't sort of parse exactly
2 which exception it might fit under; but I don't see the harm
3 in saying, look, I'll give you a practical example of what 4 guidance has been given and maybe that will help them, and 5 then let them go from there.

6 MS. CONNELL: All right, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Do you have -- can you e-mail that to 8 Ms. Hale and she can print it out?

9 MR. CORRELL: Can you copy all counsel on that as 10 well so we have it?

11 MS. CONNELL: Of course.

12 THE COURT: We don't have to put our e-mail on the 13 record, but...

14 MR. FLEMING: Do you intend to identify it as AG
15 guidance or some anonymous guidance?

16 THE COURT: I mean, I don't see any reason to hide
17 the ball on what it is.

18 MR. FARBER: Well, these are instructions. I mean,
19 your Honor is stating the law. The fact that it is their 20 guidance isn't relevant. It's your guidance. I would 21 just --

22 THE COURT: Well, we're pretty much out of the time
23 for the day anyway, so I'm not sure what I'm going to be 24 able to provide them. I doubt this is what's standing in 25 the way of them finishing. They haven't indicated that

4784

Proceedings

1 they're otherwise ready to go.

2 I'd like to take a look at it, but it seems like a
3 reasonable thing to read to them. If this is continuing to 4 bug them, I can think over the long weekend; but I'm very
5 comfortable that it is not the hair and makeup.

6 I'm still thinking about whether it could apply to 7 a class comprised of clubs throughout the country who as a
8 group get benefits from the NRA, and this is just one of 9 them. That at least -- it may not be right factually, but 10 it structurally fits within what this exception is aimed at,
11 although I'm not entirely comfortable with it, but better.

12 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, it doesn't fit entirely
13 comfortably. There's no showing that this is like a
14 shooting event open to everybody, all members, it's a 15 magazine that all members get. There's no evidence of that 16 to support that.

17 THE COURT: Well, that's the tougher question,
18 whether there's any evidence to support the way people are 19 describing this. But, look, we're not getting anywhere with 20 this.

21 Let me see the guidance. I want to take a look at 22 it, and I don't think I'm going to have time to really do
23 anything meaningful with them between now and the end of the 24 day.

25 So, let's just convey to them that -- hang on one

BP

4785

Proceedings

1 second. Let's go off the record for one second.

2 (Whereupon, at this time a discussion was then held
3 off the record.)

4 THE COURT: What I understand, they're still
5 working on fixing the note on which exhibits they want so
6 this is not a gating item. I'm just going to ask the 7 officer to convey to them, I got their note, thinking about
8 it and we'll address it on Tuesday. I'm just going to tell
9 them to keep deliberating till close to five and then come
10 back Tuesday and, in the meantime, I'll think about anything
11 particularly that I can say to them and I do want the 12 alternates to be back on Tuesday.

13 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, we have additional 14 copies of the list they requested. We previously provided 15 one copy, and we have five more copies in case that's 16 useful.

17 THE COURT: You gave them the list of the exhibits?

18 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, with everyone's consent.

19 THE COURT: We'll deliver that up to them.

20 All right, everyone, so we'll convey that message.
21 I'll think about this and let's mark this one as Court
22 Exhibit XV.

23 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit IX was so
24 marked.)

25 THE COURT: All right, why don't you all just stay

BP

4786

Proceedings

1 just in case we get a different kind of note for another
2 ten, fifteen minutes and we'll release them at around five
3 and tell them to be back nine-thirty on Tuesday.

4 Is the thing that you sent -- oh, it has a link.

5 MR. SHIFFMAN: We cut and pasted the relevant
6 paragraphs right below it. That's the only part of the 7 guidance. The link will take you to the full guidance.

8 THE COURT: So what you just sent just gives the 9 part of the guidance that gives the example?

10 MS. STERN: In the e-mail we cut and paste what I
11 read into the record, but I put the link to the entire 12 document. Did it not --

13 THE COURT: I just got a printout of the e-mail,
14 which doesn't have the --

15 MS. STERN: Okay. The link is --

16 THE COURT: I see it.

17 MS. STERN: I could download it as a PDF and send 18 it to the chambers. I just need a second to do that.

19 THE COURT: Send it to everyone.

20 MS. STERN: I will.

21 THE COURT: Thank you. I will say I think this 22 example is kind of helpful to understanding what this is 23 for, and it is not quite as narrow -- it's is like we're 24 receiving the magazine. You still need to be a member of 25 the class that the organization is there to serve, which,

BP

4787

Proceedings

1 again, the -- I guess the question of what do you do with
2 these satellite entities that the NRA supports? They're not
3 members, but they serve members in sort of an ancillary way.

4 MS. STERN: I guess part of what the example is
5 getting to is that in the normal course, like legal services
6 organization, like Legal Aid is going to serve people and 7 give them protection in an eviction proceeding if they make 8 under $40,000 a year, you have a community member on the 9 board meets -- fits the class of people that, you know, are 10 in that income level and they get evicted, they can get 11 services. They're not precluded and have to go through Bronx
12 legal services because they're on the board.

13 THE COURT: Right, and the analogy of what the NRA
14 does with its education programs or training, is you
15 couldn't keep a related party from enjoying the benefits of 16 those programs, educational or instructional or whatever
17 else they might be and that's what I think this is about.
18 That's the analogy here, which is why I don't think any of 19 the ones that we've talked about really make any sense to 20 me. The "solely" word is important there. That's not a
21 word that legislatures use casually.

22 MS. STERN: I think that's exactly the kind of 23 example that Mr. Frazer gave, is everyone is entitled to 24 this. I come in and I'm a related party. If I fit all 25 those criteria and -- and the service is something that is

BP

4788

Proceedings

1 mission -- advancing or tied to the mission.

2 THE COURT: You couldn't be kept out of a Women's
3 Leadership Forum, for example, from going to the meeting or 4 if they have a dinner for all of the members of the forum,
5 you couldn't be kept out of that.

6 MS. STERN: By virtue of just purely as a related
7 party.

8 THE COURT: It is not a related-party transaction
9 because you had dinner with everybody else at the forum
10 meeting. The -- and not everybody at the forum meeting got 11 a thousand-dollar hair and makeup as part of it. That was 12 done -- I keep going back to that one because I think that's 13 further afield as part of a presenter, which is not a solely 14 as a member of a class. You're chosen specifically. You,
15 not just as a member of a class to be part of this forum,
16 and the decision to choose a related party is up to the 17 entity. So, when you are chosen to do that, that's one
18 thing.

19 And the -- again, the satellites, satellite
20 entities -- there's precious little evidence in the record
21 here about the specifics of Mrs. Hammer -- you know, I'm 22 trying to get to the point is there anyone on this list --
23 maybe you get to write me another letter if you want to, but 24 I think defendants have to explain to me how any of the -- 25 the transactions that are in the verdict form could possibly

4789

Proceedings

1 fit within. Because if the answer -- and I'm -- if I end up
2 being persuaded that there is no rationale argument that any
3 of the listed ones could be within that exception, then I
4 can just tell them that, that exception is irrelevant to any
5 of the listed transactions.

6 On the other hand, if it is possible that it could 7 be, then I would just use this guidance to say this is the 8 kind of thing they're talking about and you can decide
9 whether anything that's on that list is within that ambit.

10 All right, I think that's as far as we can go with 11 this today. I'm happy if people want to submit a short
12 letter, just because I miss hearing from you already, that's 13 fine.

14 No, I do take it seriously. I mean, any jury note,
15 you never know what people are thinking. They could be 16 either reading this too narrowly or too broadly or 17 completely irrationally and I don't know, and I don't want
18 to leave them confused. It is a little delicate when you
19 get a question like this that is sort of substantive because 20 I'm very hesitant to skew their discussions, and I do think 21 this is kind of a far-afield part of the definition of 22 related-party transaction that I have never heard anyone
23 mention until at least I didn't until just now. But, I can 24 understand why the defendants are interested because if the 25 jury is interested, it is one of those that can only help if

4790

1 you're looking at it from their perspective, so I get it. I
2 will give it a good look and let you know on Tuesday.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. I think the
2 only order of business is to have the Court's response to
3 the juror question we received Friday afternoon stamped as a
4 Court Exhibit and hand it up to the jury.

5 So, can we mark this as Court XVII.

6 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit No. XVII was 7 so marked.)

8 THE COURT: Just for the record, I'll read into the 9 record the response, which I'll just note that I did share
10 with counsel for all parties over the weekend and made 11 some -- a couple of revisions to address comments, but 12 here's the response:

13 On Friday afternoon I received a juror note asking
14 for an explanation in layperson's terms of item number three 15 on page 47 of the Court's instructions. That term describes 16 a type of transaction that is defined by the N-PCL statute
17 not to be a related-party transaction.

18 It reads as follows:

19 "The transaction constitutes a benefit provided to 20 a related party solely as a member of a class of the 21 beneficiaries that the corporation intends to benefit as
22 part of the accomplishment of its mission, which benefit is
23 available to all similarly situated members of the same
24 class on the same terms."
25

BP

4794

Proceedings

1 Here is some additional guidance, which should be
2 considered part of my instructions. To come within this
3 provision, the transaction must involve a benefit that the 4 company provides as part of its mission to an entire group
5 of which the related party just happens to be a member. It
6 must be a situation in which the only reason the related
7 party receives the benefit is because he or she is part of 8 that group, not because he or she is a related party.

9 Essentially, the company would have to make a
10 special exception to exclude the related party from 11 receiving a benefit that otherwise would be available to 12 him, her or it because of membership in a group that the 13 company's mission benefits.

14 An example from an unrelated context of a type of 15 transaction that could fall within this definition might be 16 helpful in explaining it:

17 A legal services program agrees to handle the 18 eviction case of one of its board members who is eligible
19 to be a client and who is serving as one of the minimum
20 number of client-eligible board members that is required by 21 federal regulations. The decision to accept the case is 22 made pursuant to the organization's established case
23 acceptance policy about regard to the client's status as a
24 board member.

25 So, I will have a few copies made for counsel and

BP

4795

Proceedings

1 also for the jury, and we'll send that up.

2 I believe the jury is also waiting on documents
3 that they had requested. Are those compiled?

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we have gathered all the 5 documents from plaintiff. We've given them to defendants to 6 review, and I think we're waiting for one document from the 7 defendants to be added to that pile.

8 THE COURT: I'd like to -- do the defendants have 9 that one document?

10 MS. EISENBERG: We're presenting it right now, your
11 Honor.

12 THE COURT: Why don't we send up now what we have 13 and say one more is coming; is that all right?

14 MS. EISENBERG: Certainly, your Honor.

15 MR. THOMPSON: We have a copy.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Great.

17 THE COURT: Is that the last one, right there?

18 MS. EISENBERG: It is, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Then we have a complete set.

20 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, may I provide you with 21 a quick update about the list?

22 THE COURT: Sure.

23 MS. EISENBERG: On Friday, jurors requested a list
24 of all exhibits which the parties provided over the weekend.
25 We identified six exhibits that were not listed and one that

BP

4796

1 was, but should not have been.

2 We believe we have consensus, and we'll be
3 presenting a revised list shortly, and we'll work with the 4 court officer assuming that's okay with the Court to get the 5 revised list to the jurors.

6 THE COURT: That will be fine.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Give them a copy each. I want the 9 jurors to have six.

10 COURT OFFICER: I have six.

11 THE COURT: And one for Sharon, the original for 12 Sharon.

13 All right, is that all we have for this morning?

14 All right, I'm going to be back and forth
15 downstairs. I'll be, obviously, paying attention for any 16 notes or alerts. Just make sure you're reachable at the 17 contact numbers and see you shortly.

BP

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: We have a fairly simple note I think.

2 The entirety of it is, quote: "Caused monetary
3 harm --" harm underlined -- "to the NRA," closed quote.
4 "Can you please explain what this could mean?"

5 So, they are presumably referring to Questions 2B,
6 3B, and 4B which is sort of the middle question after 7 do you find there's liability and the third question is what 8 are the damages; there's a bridge question of any financial 9 harm. I would urge us not to over think this too much.

10 I think "financial harm" means a financial loss --
11 I'm sorry -- "monetary harm" means any financial loss, and 12 then what I would propose to do is to refer them to the 13 damages instructions on page 64 to 65, which state that, The 14 appropriate measure of damages requires putting the 15 beneficiary -- here the NRA -- in the same position
16 financially in which it would have been if the violation had 17 not occurred.

18 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, my concern is that we're 19 blowing past the word cause and causation, which is a very 20 important concept here. Not just the harm, but causation.

21 Our position is that there is no evidence of 22 causation.

23 THE COURT: Well, that's why -- well, I guess my 24 reference to the -- I skipped over the damages part about 25 causation which is in there as well, but the causation is

BP

4798

Proceedings

1 the same. That middle question whether it caused financial
2 harm or whether it caused damages, it is the same question.
3 We asked it with -- I can't recall exactly what the 4 evolution of these questions were, but they're focussing on 5 a bridge question which is not supposed to be that
6 significant. It's just you don't calculate damages if you
7 conclude that there was no harm. That's really the purpose
8 of that.

9 So, what would you suggest I add to what my 10 description was?

11 MR. CORRELL: I think there's language about 12 substantial factor.

13 THE COURT: Yeah, that's fine. I mean, I'm happy
14 to --

15 MR. CORRELL: Mr. Farber has just shown me the 16 language "A violation causes a loss if it was a substantial
17 factor in causing that loss."

18 THE COURT: Yeah, look, I'm happy to reference that 19 as well. The word they underlined was "harm." I think what 20 they're signalling is they don't know what harm connotes;
21 and then it is followed by a damages question and then maybe
22 they're wondering maybe it could mean something else and it,
23 frankly, doesn't. It could have as easily had said damage
24 so --

25 MR. CORRELL: Right, and the other concept is that

BP

4799

Proceedings

1 treating that, the cause to an individual defendant; you
2 have three individual defendants and so I would not like it
3 if the jury were to think that if any of the three
4 defendants caused harm that somehow all three were 5 responsible for that.

6 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the pages in the 7 instructions that you reference talk about that specifically
8 and address that concern specifically.

9 THE COURT: Yeah, I agree. I didn't read that when 10 I read before.

11 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, my other concern is that 12 they -- the AG did not offer an expert on damages or on 13 causation and Mr. LaPierre did, and I intend to move under 14 CPLR 4404 for judgment as a matter of law on that point.

15 I have a case that I can cite to you on that point, 16 so I think we need to be very careful about this issue of 17 causation and damages.

18 THE COURT: I don't think we need to be anymore
19 careful than we were in the instructions, which covers all
20 of this. So, I'm fine making the point and referring them
21 to the entirety of the damages section, which includes the 22 comment with the instruction that if you find that during 23 the relevant period any of the individual defendant's
24 conduct violated the duties to the NRA, then you must 25 determine the amount of monetary damages to compensate the

BP

4800

Proceedings

1 NRA for losses caused by such violations. A violation
2 causes a loss if it was a substantial factor in causing a
3 loss.

4 So, I'm fine with repeating that, as well.

5 MR. CORRELL: Can I give you a citation to 6 Gonzalez versus Village Taxi Corp., 155 A.D.3d 696, in which
7 the Appellate Division reversed a judgment of the trial
8 court saying that the plaintiffs did not present any experts
9 to instruct the jury on their theory or any other economic 10 theory espoused by their counsel. The plaintiffs also 11 failed to present any expert testimony on the calculation of 12 any financial damages. Gonzalez, herself, could only guess
13 at the alleged losses.

14 THE COURT: Yeah, this is all your posttrial motion
15 if they come out against you. That has nothing to do with 16 answering question.

17 This question is just, I think, requires me to 18 refer them back to the damages section of the -- of the 19 instructions and that, you know, the phrase "monetary harm"
20 is not intended to mean anything other than the monetary
21 damages.

22 That's really I guess the simplest way I can put it
23 is that it means monetary damages.

24 And "caused" means -- I'll refer back to both of 25 them.

BP

4801

Proceedings

1 I'm trying to find out if we can bring them in and
2 do it orally or spend the time to write it up; but your
3 argument is a different thing which is whether if they come
4 up with a verdict will you be able to succeed on a motion
5 notwithstanding the verdict, and I'm not addressing that 6 right now.

7 Does anybody have a different view of what I'm,
8 essentially, coming down which caused monetary harm is 9 effectively the same thing as monetary damages to the NRA.

10 MS. CONNELL: No objection from the Plaintiff, Your
11 Honor.

12 THE COURT: And then anything from defense?

13 MS. EISENBERG: We agree with your Honor.

14 MR. FARBER: No objection, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: And then the caused monetary damages,
16 I would just refer them to the damages instructions, which 17 talk about both cause and damages and what both of those 18 mean.

19 MS. EISENBERG: That sounds good, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: I think it is a fair question because 21 they're probably wondering why we use a different word
22 "harm" in the second question and then "damage" in the third
23 question, which I suppose is a question we could ask
24 ourselves. But there may be some cases I'm trying to 25 remember that. If there is no harm, you don't move on to

BP

4802

Proceedings

1 damages, but it is effectively the same question.

2 MR. CORRELL: I would just like to, again, repeat
3 my objection for the record to our position that in order to 4 recover monetary relief under 720, there has to be
5 allegation and proof of knowledge of unlawfulness.

6 THE COURT: Understood. Well, why don't we give
7 them a break. I'll bring them out here and just tell them
8 very quickly what the answer to this is rather than having 9 them wait.

10 So, let's bring the jury in.

11 While we're waiting for them, let's me mark this
12 note as Court Exhibit XX.

13 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XX was so
14 marked.)

15 THE COURT: I'm marking this as Court Exhibit XX
16 because I think there were two earlier exhibits that were 17 supposed to be X and XI, which are now going to be XVIII and 18 XIX.

19 MS. EISENBERG: I have them right here. These are 20 clip reports for Ms. Meadows and --

21 THE COURT: And which one is which number?

22 MS. EISENBERG: XVIII is Mr. Spray and XIX is 23 Ms. Meadows.

24 THE COURT: I'll ask the court reporter to mark
25 those as XVIII and XIX, Court Exhibits XVIII and XIX.

BP

4803

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

2 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XVIII and
3 Court Exhibit XIX were so marked.)

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, there was one other
5 matter that had to do with clip reports that, erroneously,
6 were not entered into evidence, correctly recorded into 7 evidence; and that has to do with the clip report relating 8 to Gayle Stanford.

9 It was a document that was admitted during her --
10 during her testimony. It was displayed to the jury. It is 11 PX 783. It was technically never admitted into evidence.

12 While we're preparing with the defendants the 13 updated exhibit list, there was another example like that 14 which we agreed to, it was shown to the jury, admitted.

15 THE COURT: My intention was when I overruled
16 objections, a document that was part of the testimony and 17 that was shown on the screen was admitted. We didn't -- we 18 didn't do that in all cases, but I think they were intended 19 to be admitted if I didn't say the words. That was 20 certainly the intention.

21 MS. CONNELL: This was PX 783. That's the example.
22 We sent an e-mail about this I believe to the Court. I
23 understand everything was a mess -- not a mess -- and 24 everyone was busy and we should have brought this -- I
25 understand we were all busy at the end of trial. I should

BP

4804

Proceedings

1 have moved at that time, but I ask this be deemed --

2 THE COURT: PX 783 is admitted. That's not a new
3 admission. Just to be clear, I have intended to admit that 4 at the time it was shown. I wouldn't have permitted it to 5 be shown to the jury if it wasn't admitted. I appreciate
6 the cleanup.

7 MS. CONNELL: Thank you.

8 THE COURT: Is that one of the documents the jury
9 requested?

10 MS. CONNELL: No, no, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, you asked about the 13 volume of all exhibits put together. Two copies of 14 everything just comes up to four boxes.

15 THE COURT: Of everything?

16 MS. EISENBERG: Correct.

17 THE COURT: Plaintiffs?

18 MS. EISENBERG: Correct.

19 THE COURT: At this point they haven't made a 20 request for everything to be up there. I guess, in 21 retrospect, that might have made things go a little more
22 quickly; but whatever they want, if they come up with a
23 longer list, I may just suggest sending it all up.

24 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

25 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

BP

4805

Proceedings

1 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
2 courtroom.)

3 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Have a seat,
4 please.

5 So, thank you very much for your note. I figured
6 I give you a change of scenery rather than giving you
7 another note back to you. We appreciate your time and 8 attention.

9 But just to address this one, and for the record,
10 I'll just read the note out. It says, quote:

11 "'Caused monetary harm --" with harm underlined --
12 "to the NRA.' Can you please explain what this could mean."

13 Very simply, it means essentially the same as the 14 references to monetary damages in the instructions; and just 15 to be clear, I know you have a copy of these upstairs, but 16 on pages 64 and 65, describes the damages with respect to 17 the N-PCL claims which is where the language you quote comes 18 from in the verdict sheet, and just to read it out one more
19 time:

20 "If you find that during the relevant period any of 21 the individual defendant's conduct violated their duties to 22 the NRA, then you must determine the amount of monetary
23 damages to compensate the NRA for losses caused by such 24 violations."

25 "A violation causes a loss if it was a substantial

BP

4806

Proceedings

1 factor in causing that loss."

2 Then later on in the instructions and, obviously,
3 all the instructions are relevant; but the instructions note
4 "That the appropriate measure of damages requires putting
5 the beneficiary (here, the NRA) in the same position
6 financially in which it would have been if the violation had
7 not occurred. Any damages you award must be reasonably
8 related to the evidence and testimony received during the 9 course of the trial."

10 So, effectively, that financial harm question is 11 just a bridge from the liability question to the damages
12 question.

13 So, if you find that there is some harm, meaning
14 some damage, you answer "yes" to that one and then move on 15 to the damages question.

16 If you answer "no," that there was no harm, meaning
17 no damages at all, then there's no need to calculate
18 anything in the next question.

19 So, that, hopefully, simplifies a response to that
20 question.

21 So, with that, I gave you a bit of a walk; and,
22 again, I encourage you to listen to each other and keep 23 plugging away and we'll be here to answer questions that you
24 have.

25 Okay, thank you very much.

BP

4807

1 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

2 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
3 courtroom.)

4 THE COURT: All right, have a seat. They seem
5 suitably illuminated by that description.

6 All right, I think that's all we have at the 7 moment. Except somebody --

8 MS. EISENBERG: Just confirming that it is our turn
9 to get their lunch and it is on its way.

10 THE COURT: Thank you very much for that.
11 Appreciate it. Thank you, all.

12 We'll be off from one to two. So if there are any 13 notes during that period, we'll be at it shortly after two.

* * * * *

THE COURT: We have an energetic and tech-savvy jury. I now have six notes for you. The good news about that is that four of them -- actually five of them are largely just list more exhibits.

I think we now have a large enough list of exhibits that it may just make sense to just bring everything up. I think it would conclude -- that would just be faster. Are those ready to go if we do that?

MS. CONNELL: They will be shortly, your Honor. I gather there are a few issues that need to be addressed, but shouldn't take long.

THE COURT: I'll give you all of these at some point, but I'll skip over for now the ones that are just lists of exhibit numbers because that doesn't really require any explanation.

Here's one, which I'll read. This is from the foreperson:

"Is it possible to perform a digital search on transcripts and/or evidence? For instance, using a find function to search for specific key words. Could the court provide us a laptop containing only the court record transcript or evidence. We believe this will expedite our view of the case."

BP

4809

1 And then one of the lists of exhibits also includes
2 the following note, from one juror:

3 "I would like to see the list of exhibits. Also,
4 is it possible to see transcripts of all testimony that
5 discusses the post-employment contracts of WLP and Phillips?
6 Is there an easy way to search for this in the record?"

7 I think the answer to that is no, it's not an easy
8 way; and nor would having a laptop, really at least in my 9 experience be all that easy because the transcripts are all 10 day by day, and you'd have to have a single file, which we 11 don't have.

12 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, we created over the 13 weekend a database with transcripts broken up by 14 witness/date. So, if let's say you wanted everything
15 that's said by Witness A about Topic X, we could run that 16 search.

17 In addition, we created a database of all admitted
18 exhibits, which would enable us to quickly run a search.

19 For what it's worth, I just wanted to let you know
20 we do have that capability.

21 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, it is possible to combine
22 all of the transcripts into one searchable document. That's 23 how we've been proceeding. I think we're up to -- I think
24 we have it ready.

25 THE COURT: Look, I mean, typically, in the

BP

4810

1 traditional sense you have a read-back. I have some
2 sympathy for them not wanting to come and do it in that
3 form. And having the transcript in a way that they can
4 search is unusual, but I understand where they're coming
5 from. It is a very large record and some ability, like we 6 all have, to search for things. I mean, they may not 7 realize first of all that each transcript day has a list of 8 words at the end as well, which is somewhat helpful.

9 So, look, I'm flexible unless a party considers 10 there to be some prejudice to them being able to have an 11 electronic version of the transcript that they can navigate.

12 Do any of the parties object to that on substantive
13 or procedural grounds?

14 MR. FLEMING: Before I say whether I object, there
15 are portions of the transcript, of course, which are outside
16 the jury's hearing.

17 THE COURT: That's a good point. So, whatever we 18 would have to do, we would have to edit the transcript to 19 carefully exclude anything where the jury wasn't present,
20 which will take time.

21 MR. FARBER: I just think the answer to these 22 questions needs to be "no", Judge.

23 THE COURT: Well, is there any reason other than 24 it's hard?

25 MR. FARBER: Well, I mean, I think procedural

BP

4811

1 problems like that, there may be others like this one just
2 occurred.

3 THE COURT: Well, let's assume -- assuming there's 4 a way to limit it to transcripts that they could clearly
5 request to be reread, is there an objection if we were able 6 to limit it to that, to having them be able to access it in 7 a 21st century manner?

8 MR. FARBER: I guess I'm just trying to envision
9 how that's going to be. In principle, no, but --

10 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, if I may suggest, I
11 think what we should do is advise them that we will enable 12 them to run the searches that they want themselves after 13 we've cleaned up the record so that they're not seeing what 14 Mr. Fleming identified. And then I think in the meantime,
15 we have ability to run searches and particular terms if they
16 wish to have a read back on a particular topic.

17 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I do think cleaning up
18 the record so-to-speak is going to take quite of bit of time
19 to be careful. So, I would think in the meantime, while 20 that may be something we can work on in the background, in 21 the meantime we may want to try and do a read-back in the 22 more traditional sense.

23 THE COURT: I think what they're saying to us is 24 they don't know exactly what they would ask for a read-back
25 on. They sat through six weeks of really detailed

BP

4812

1 testimony; and, frankly, like all of you have, they want to
2 be able to use navigation tools that we all use in our daily
3 life to hunt and find things that they may not remember
4 exactly.

5 Like I said, it is a savvy question, and I -- if it
6 can be done in a way that doesn't prejudice anyone, I'd like
7 to see if there's a way to do it.

8 And, all right, so there's two parts of this: One
9 is the analogue, which is just getting their requests for 10 exhibits which, again, I think the answer to that one is 11 going to be just give them everything. And you have -- we 12 can give a 90-something percent version now and just 13 supplement it?

14 MS. CONNELL: Yes, your Honor. And I actually 15 think we already pulled the bulk of what at least the first 16 three notes are.

17 THE COURT: Yeah, there are more.

18 All right, what I'm going to do is I'm going to 19 mark this whole thing as a group as Court Exhibit XXI so
20 that you can all look at it in a clump. So, we'll just make 21 it a single exhibit with multiple pages.

22 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XXI was so
23 marked.)

24 THE COURT: So, I think the message back to the 25 jury for now is, look, we're going to go ahead and give you

4813

1 all the exhibits that are admitted. We'll give you the bulk
2 of them now and we may be some supplementing we'll do
3 shortly.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the full set should be
5 ready in a matter of two minutes.

6 THE COURT: All right, we'll do that. And I'll 7 convey to them through the officer that we're trying to work
8 through their more technological request to see if it is 9 feasible.

10 I don't know if I want to say anything like "In the 11 meantime we'll run searches for you." Having tried 12 searching this transcript, it's too much an iterative
13 process with judgment built in as to what exactly you would 14 conclude is responsive to a particular topic.

15 Again, somebody did ask for testimony about certain
16 transactions. I think on that one, they would have to say
17 we want to hear from the expert. If they made a request
18 saying we want to hear from the expert and Mr. Phillips
19 about this, then I think we have a more narrow range to come
20 up with what the read-back would be; but I think that's too
21 broad the way they described it.

22 It is not unfair from their perspective to say we 23 don't know exactly what we're looking for because it's been 24 six weeks, so I'm going to take it in steps.

25 We'll send the documents up as soon as they're

4814

1 ready, and we'll tell them we're going to think through the
2 tech requests to see if there's anything we can do that
3 would be helpful. And I guess I'd ask the parties to think
4 about it a little bit more, to try to be as creative we can
5 without causing anybody any prejudice.

6 I appreciate Mr. Fleming pointing out there were 7 some parts of the transcript that by definition, they should 8 only see the portions of the transcript that are with the 9 jury present.

10 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, it might make it slightly
11 easier it seems like the transcript has notations when 12 there's direct and cross and when there's a proceeding and 13 jury charge conference. That should help with the big sift
14 and then there might be some side bars. We wouldn't have 15 too many that have to come out.

16 THE COURT: And we may, ultimately, say you're 17 going to have to ask for the testimony by person.

18 Also, does the transcript have a particular 19 indication when the jury is present when the jury is 20 excused? It has to be something that people can search for.
21 Otherwise, it's going to be a daily log through. So, it may 22 be just technologically difficult, given that some parts of 23 the testimony was off -- outside the jury's presence.

24 So, let's take it in stages. For now, let's get 25 them the documents as soon as they're ready, which I assume

BP

4815

1 is soon.

2 You know what, let's bring them down. I'll explain
3 to them what we're doing.

4 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the boxes are ready.
5 We're just getting a dolly so we can wheel it over.

6 THE COURT: Thank you.

7 COURT OFFICER: Ready for the jury?

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

10 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
11 courtroom.)

12 THE COURT: Hello, folks. Have a seat.

13 So, thank you for your note. I do appreciate how 14 diligent you're being.

15 The first set of notes where it more or less says
16 exhibits, I think the conclusion is that I've drawn and the 17 parties agree we're just going to give you all the exhibits
18 and just have them moved up.

19 It's a few boxes and that way -- they're all
20 numbered so you can pick the ones that you want rather than 21 do the list again. In hindsight, I probably would have done
22 that from the beginning, but you never know how many;
23 documents the jurors are going to want to see. But since 24 you had a lot on your list, we're going to do that.

25 The technical questions you've asked about,

BP

4816

1 transcript searching and record searching is more
2 complicated than it might seem, and we're going to continue
3 thinking about how we can do it. Some of you or maybe all
4 of you are tech savvy enough to get all this; but parts of 5 the transcript were outside the jury's presence. So we have 6 to limit ourselves to the parts that you've heard. They're 7 also all in separate files for each day, so they're not one
8 sort of large document that one can search through.

9 So, there's some logistical hurdles that we're
10 trying to figure out. The traditional way would be, again,
11 it is a long trial, I know; but if it was "We want to see 12 the testimony of the Expert X or a Witness X," and then we 13 can more quickly to get that. And it may be a little more
14 tedious to do it that way, but that's the traditional way.
15 But the search way will require a fair amount of prep work
16 that has not been done to ensure that you get every access
17 to things that you've heard which is really all you're 18 supposed to get.

19 So, we're going to work on that while we wheel up
20 the few boxes. So that anything you want that's been 21 admitted, should be in those boxes.

22 So, we'll keep thinking about it; but in the 23 meantime, if there are particular witnesses you want to see 24 the testimony of, we can either do it by read-back or some 25 other way of getting that to you more quickly.

BP

4817

1 I understand the question. It was sort of a
2 thoughtful approach to trying to figure it out, but it is
3 not as easy as it might seem.

4 Okay, so, we'll let you go back. We'll have the 5 court officers bring the boxes up that you can then have at 6 your disposal.

7 Thank you very much.

8 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

9 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
10 courtroom.)

11 THE COURT: All right, have a seat. So, I'll ask
12 you folks to think about whether there's a way that you can
13 all agree on to make the access to the whole transcript
14 realistic. One thing I would ask us to think about is 15 rather than the read-back approach -- which is notoriously
16 time consuming and laborious, certainly can ensure that 17 there's just transcript portions they have already heard --
18 whether we would agree to just give them the transcript
19 pages that they can read at their leisure rather than having 20 to sit through a read-back which I've always found to be an 21 odd way to do it anyway.

22 So, my preference would be unless there's some 23 disagreement. If they do say, We want to see Mr. X or 24 Ms. X's testimony, to just edit out anything that was off
25 the record, but then just give them the transcript pages.

BP

4818

1 Does anybody have an objection to at least that
2 logistical part?

3 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

4 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor.

5 MR. FARBER: No, I would just add to that. I think
6 it also to have edited out things that were stricken,
7 objections that were sustained.

8 THE COURT: Agreed. It is going to take a little 9 work, and it is the kind of editing that you can do on the 10 fly if you're doing a read-back. That will require actual 11 cutting and pasting. So, think it through. You have a lot
12 of large brains out there in the audience here. If you can 13 think of a more efficient way to do it, I'm happy to 14 consider it. Okay.

15 I'll see you for the next five or ten minutes. I
16 have a hearing in 208, I'll be in for an hour or so. We'll 17 get interrupted with a note if need be; and if it seems to 18 be something that requires immediate attention, then I'll 19 take a break from the hearing. If it doesn't, I'll finish 20 the hearing and then come up here and deal with that.
21 Thanks.

MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, Mr. Fleming's tech, Mr. Marment -- I hope I'm pronouncing that correctly -- had started pulling the combined transcripts and pulling out proceedings, large chunks of things we all agree don't belong there. We had asked defendants if they would agree to this proposal of submitting the transcripts in searchable form if we can make it work to the jury because we think given the volume of information here, the way people think and search it out, that that's the best option and I don't want to take it upon myself to represent the defendants' positions. We have a couple --

THE COURT: Why don't you give me your position and I'll ask them their position.

MS. CONNELL: Our position is we have to go through and make sure that all of the proceedings come out. We should probably take out things that were stricken and sustained. Objections maybe that might be too much, there's a lot of them.

THE COURT: I don't have a problem if you do take out sustained objections and take out the question that they relate to.

MS. CONNELL: Yeah, so that will take a little time. It is definitely not something that can be done by

BP

4820

Proceedings

1 five today.

2 THE COURT: Agreed.

3 MS. CONNELL: So that --

4 THE COURT: So, subject to that process which I
5 know is not a lot of fun, no substantive objections to 6 giving the output of that process.

7 Now, we have to have some device that has no
8 internet and no other data on it. Does any such device
9 exist that you all trust?

10 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I understand someone had 11 spoken to court technology about whether there was a laptop
12 or something for which this could be done. I would just say
13 plaintiff's position is it is kind of hard to find a laptop
14 that doesn't have access to the internet, but any juror has 15 access to the internet at home or on their phone. We're 16 trusting them to follow their instructions.

17 THE COURT: I suspect it can just be disabled.

18 MS. CONNELL: So, it's plaintiff's position to make 19 this happen if it's at all possible.

20 THE COURT: Defense?

21 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the NRA agrees that the 22 jury should receive a searchable version of the transcripts
23 of what they saw during the trial.

24 In addition, we think they should get transcripts
25 of openings and closings, as well as demonstratives as well.

BP

4821

Proceedings

1 Obviously, that sort of broadens the number of issues --

2 THE COURT: Well, openings and closings would still
3 be within the context of anything in the transcript that 4 they saw. So, the openings and closings. But the 5 demonstratives, I've already given my ruling on that. If
6 they were without -- the default rule is no demonstratives
7 in the jury room and unless we now have a consent from all
8 parties, I'm going to continue with that.

9 But, the openings and closings are part of the 10 transcript.

11 MS. EISENBERG: Very good, your Honor. Thank
12 you.

13 MR. CORRELL: That's fine with Mr. LaPierre.

14 MR. FARBER: And I object to that, your Honor.
15 Openings and closings are not evidence, and they're not -- 16 I've never heard of a case in which those go back to the 17 jury. I don't think it is appropriate, and I object to it.

18 In addition, to the matters that the State outlined
19 it should be excised from the transcript, I think colloquy
20 from counsel, things like speaking objections should be 21 excised as well; and there was a lot of that during the 22 course of this trial and some of which were speaking 23 objections that characterized evidence or arguments that are 24 being presented.

25 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, rightly or wrongly, we

BP

4822

Proceedings

1 took the openings and closings out already. They can be put
2 back in, but I just wanted to make that note.

3 Otherwise, I have no objection to using a
4 searchable.

5 THE COURT: All right, well, look, in terms of the 6 objection from Mr. Phillips' counsel, the jury heard all of 7 these things; and if they came and asked for a read-back
8 saying, We thought there was a good summary in one of the 9 closings, we want to hear that again, I would let them hear
10 it.

11 I don't really understand the rationale behind it
12 being a memory test, that if they want to hear again things
13 that happened in openings and closings, I certainly don't 14 see anything prejudicial about it. It just gives them a 15 more reliable transcript to turn to than their memory might 16 be. So, I'm going to ask you to do it.

17 Now, they haven't asked for openings and closings
18 specifically, so I'm okay starting with what they have asked 19 for, which seems to be the testimony. If they ask for 20 the openings and closings, we can add that.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, how about the testimony
22 that came in by audio or video?

23 THE COURT: Well, the video won't be on the 24 transcripts. So, at this point, I would just stick with 25 what's in the court record. They know that they can do a

BP

4823

Proceedings

1 hear-back on that stuff. The only way to do that is to come
2 back and listen to it again.

3 So, the audio and video that were not part of the 4 court's transcripts will not be part of this, and they have
5 to see that in the old fashion way.

6 MR. CORRELL: Would you just let them know that
7 that's available if they want to hear it?

8 THE COURT: I have no objection to that.

9 MR. CORRELL: Just because, otherwise, it leaves
10 holes in the transcript.

11 THE COURT: Well, the holes will be obvious because 12 they'll say "video was played."

13 MR. FARBER: Judge, I thought that there were 14 transcripts of what was played. Those were all --

15 THE COURT: Well, there are transcripts that were 16 rolled on the screen, but they're not going to be on the 17 court transcript.

18 MR. FARBER: No, I understand. I thought those 19 were done separately. I mean the parties I think had them
20 that we were looking at as we were watching.

21 THE COURT: Those may be the Court Exhibits that 22 were marked.

23 MR. FARBER: That's what I thought, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: That is not part of the official
25 transcript.

BP

4824

Proceedings

1 If the jury wants to have a hear back of any of
2 that testimony; but instead they say, Well, we're fine
3 reading the transcript part if that's entirely clean, I'm
4 not going to stand on ceremony about that either. But right
5 now, we're just focused on the official court transcript.

6 So, let's do it. I understand from the officer
7 that IT can provide us -- this is now hearsay, so I'm not 8 offering it for the truth of the matter asserted. That we 9 can get a piece of hardware that not have internet access
10 and no extraneous programs, but you all can play with it for 11 awhile if you want to look at it and make sure.

12 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, just before we leave this 13 subject, we did take a pass at taking out the big chunks.
14 There are these remaining portions, like, motions to strike
15 and sustained objections and all that.

16 We've given that to the Government. I assume 17 they're going to take the ball from here on those?

18 THE COURT: Look, I find I'm willing to do what the 19 parties are agreeable to. I mean, things that the jury
20 heard, in fact heard is pretty low priority editing for me
21 because they heard it; but, certainly, if it was stricken,
22 it should come out for sure.

23 I'm also fine if you have the bandwidth to do it to 24 take out -- you know, the long objections that are not
25 admissible evidence. But, I certainly -- I would not insist

BP

4825

Proceedings

1 on it because if it was something they shouldn't hear, we
2 would have done it up at the bench.

3 Okay. Well, I appreciate you going through that 4 effort in part because it makes it less likely that you'll 5 write me letters during the night because you'll be busy on 6 something else.

7 But, I do, I think the jury seems to desire wanting
8 to really get their hands dirty in this stuff, which is 9 fine; but I would certainly want if we're going to do it,
10 give it to them tomorrow because I'd like to keep the ball
11 moving here.

12 And we can, by the way, can do it in pieces. If 13 you get through the first two weeks of the trial, and then
14 we'll give them the rest of it. It's not like they're going
15 to read it all in one sitting anyway.

16 MS. CONNELL: Certainly, your Honor. We'll
17 prioritize according to our discussion today and we'll
18 circulate it to the parties and the Court.

19 THE COURT: Do it from the part when the testimony
20 starts and we'll leave out for now the openings and 21 closings.

22 If they ask for it, I would provide it.

23 MS. CONNELL: Okay, thank you, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: All right, thanks everyone. Appreciate
25 it. The note, it is marked as Exhibit XXII, Court

BP

1 Exhibit XXII which was the note about Mr. Correll's favorite
2 article.

3 All right, thank you. See you all tomorrow, unless 4 I'm called down again, at least a half hour.

5 I'm going to bring the alternates back tomorrow.
6 I'm going to ask the alternates come back again tomorrow.
7 I'm going to consider that each day; but, for now, it's just
8 a precaution.

MR. CORRELL: Yes, your Honor. As I said to Mr. Blaustein, I hate to be the fly in the ointment; but on reflection it occurred to me that Mr. LaPierre's rights would be potentially highly prejudiced by allowing a transcript to go to the jury that was generated by over 40 hours of AG's time to his 9 hours, and where the AG had the privilege and the right to opening and closing and had resources of ten lawyers against his one.

I think that the jury -- I'm unaware of any precedent for doing this and, certainly, unaware of any precedent for searching, sending it back and allowing them to search. I'm concerned if they start searching by word search, the first ten or twenty hits will all be in the plaintiff's case and that because Mr. LaPierre came at the very end, that they might never get to the evidence that he put on to rebut the AG's allegations.

I think all things being considered, it would be best to not send a transcript back to the jury and certainly not to allow them to search it because I think it would be to the disadvantage of my client.

BP

4830

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Have you found any law one way or the
2 other providing that it is an abusive discretion to provide
3 the transcript in this way?

4 MR. CORRELL: I haven't looked yet, your Honor.
5 I'd be happy to look for some.

6 THE COURT: I haven't seen any one way or the 7 other. The part that I'm a little unclear about is, you
8 know, the trial happened. The transcript is simply a mirror
9 of the trial that they just heard. I'm not going to get
10 into details of your point about who had how much time. I
11 think the allocation of time was discussed at great length
12 and ended up being roughly equal plaintiffs across the 13 defendants.

14 So, what I'm having trouble understanding -- I
15 recognize it's unusual. I haven't had a request like this,
16 so I'm just trying to react to it in a rationale way. If,
17 as I assume we all agree, if they asked to have the 18 transcript read back, it is a hundred percent clear to me 19 that we would do that.

20 MR. CORRELL: I have no objection to that, your
21 Honor.

22 THE COURT: Right. So if -- given that, I'm having 23 trouble understanding the logic -- and, again, I recognize 24 doing something that we haven't seen before always raises
25 some questions. What could the marginal prejudice possibly

BP

4831

Proceedings

1 be if instead of doing that, we provide the same exact data
2 to them in a simpler and more digestible form?

3 MR. CORRELL: One advantage in terms of fairness is 4 knowing what they have asked to be read back so we can tell
5 whether they're focussing on something that was appropriate
6 for them to focus on or not appropriate to focus. The --

7 THE COURT: Where does that fight come from?

8 The jury can look at whatever exhibits they want.
9 They have all of them up there. There's no due process
10 right to know what they're looking at.

11 MR. CORRELL: I'm not suggesting there is, your 12 Honor. I am suggesting if there were some rulings, close
13 rulings on excluding evidence or allowing evidence and that 14 becomes a focus of the deliberations, that that would inform 15 any posttrial motions.

16 THE COURT: Well, in any case, you have an appeal
17 and you make arguments about close evidentiary questions.

18 I'm not really sure I understand still the logic.
19 I think the searching part; I mean, at least I understand
20 your point there. But, I don't know, although it is new, it
21 still doesn't really make any sense to me that since they're 22 free to hear the transcript at their whim and we told them
23 that several times at the beginning and at the end of the 24 trial, they're requesting reasonable to me, if different.
25 So, you know, in the absence of some guidance that you can

BP

4832

Proceedings

1 give me -- if all we're doing is just talking about what
2 makes sense, I think it makes sense to provide them what
3 they have asked for.

4 I will while we're still in the midst of doing some 5 editing to get rid of -- if that's what we're doing and 6 we'll get to that in a second. I'll give you a little bit
7 of time to search for any guidance that you can find that 8 would suggest that it would be an abusive discretion to 9 provide them the transcript in a way that I think most 10 people would agree is the more typical way people consume
11 information, which is electronically.

12 MR. FARBER: Judge, I agree that in principle
13 there's no distinction between giving them that, which would 14 be read back to them in court in a form that they can search
15 through. I think that the difficulty in respect in which 16 doing read-backs is a better process, it's just a logistical
17 one. Goes to the issue that I raised yesterday about there
18 is colloquy, there are questions as to which there were
19 objections that were sustained.

20 In theory, we could strip all of that out; but 21 that's going to take some substantial period of time to do.
22 And, so, the alternative we have is give them a transcript
23 that just has taken out the stricken testimony and things
24 that were outside their presence, but that's less than 25 ideal.

BP

4833

Proceedings

1 So, there is a difference between what Mr. Correll
2 is advocating and what they would get from read-backs.

3 MR. FLEMING: And, your Honor, I really take no
4 position on it; but to Mr. Correll's point, there are cases
5 which say it is an abusive discretion not to tell the jury
6 not to emphasize a portion of testimony; and to his point,
7 that if they do a search and, let's say, there's twenty hits
8 and they reach the first ten and don't get to the second
9 ten, it would run potentially afoul of that rule.

10 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, if I may address
11 something that Mr. Farber just stated?

12 There are three questions that the NYAG asked to 13 which I and Ms. Rogers objected to on hearsay grounds and 14 one on privileged grounds, and your Honor sustained
15 objections to those three questions and we, respectfully,
16 request that those be redacted.

17 I don't believe that --

18 THE COURT: Were there answers given to the 19 questions?

20 MS. EISENBERG: No. The objections were timely.

21 THE COURT: So, they heard -- obviously live, they 22 heard the questions and the objections, but you wouldn't 23 would want them edited out?

24 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, because the questions to which 25 we objected embedded inadmissible and prejudicial matter;

BP

4834

Proceedings

1 and further, Mr. Farber had time to identify any other such 2 instances that he believes fall into the same category and
3 he has not. And, therefore, I don't think that my request
4 should be overruled on the basis that Mr. Farber
5 articulated.

6 MR. FARBER: That, I disagree with that position.

7 What Ms. Connell did overnight was prepare a
8 transcript that redacted what was discussed with the Court
9 yesterday. If we're going to go through the process of 10 identifying those portions of the transcript which contain 11 questions as to which there was objection made, we can do
12 that now. But they all -- I think it is completely improper
13 just to remove some that the NRA cares about and not remove 14 the rest of them.

15 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, plaintiff has prepared a 16 transcript as we discussed yesterday. What is removed is 17 are all proceedings that were outside the presence of the 18 jury, the word indices and any testimony that was stricken.
19 We shared that with the parties last night.

20 We received responses only from the NRA.
21 Ms. Eisenberg identified three instances where she wasn't 22 sure that the redactions were correct. I believe we 23 resolved all of those.

24 Ms. Eisenberg asked for the redaction of one series
25 of questions relating to objections; and I have to say, we

BP

4835

Proceedings

1 share in Mr. Farber's objection to that because if we're
2 going to start taking out portions of testimony where
3 there's an objection sustained, that we think the question
4 itself was improper, I think that's a little bit of opening
5 the door.

6 I can give you some examples where we would have 7 the same argument. The jury was here. They heard the 8 questions. They heard the Court sustaining the questions,
9 sustaining the objection. We can even instruct the jury
10 about the effect of sustaining an objection.

11 In regard to the larger question here in 12 Mr. Correll's point; if the jury asks for testimony as they 13 did yesterday in one note they said, Hey, we'd like to hear
14 the testimony about Mr. LaPierre and Mr. Phillips
15 post-employment contract, as an exercise I went through the 16 transcript to find what I thought would be all testimony
17 relating to that. If you do that, you're going to -- it is 18 true you're going to come across -- and if we did that as 19 read-backs, what they're going to hear first for the first 20 twenty-five minutes is plaintiff's case, my questioning of 21 Mr. Phillips, cross-examination of Mr. Phillips.

22 That's how it is going to come in no matter how we 23 do this, if they're asking general questions. I think the 24 jury -- so that addresses Mr. Correll's concern about maybe
25 the plaintiff's case would come first.

BP

4836

Proceedings

1 Well, that's how it will happen if they ask
2 generally. We can instruct the jury or give them some sort
3 of guide that here are the pages where each witness
4 testified on the plaintiff's case, the defendant's case. So
5 they can specify where they're looking, but I can't say that 6 that's prejudice because that's the approach the Court would 7 use in the read-back anyway.

8 And, frankly, your Honor, I just think this is a
9 complex case. The same witnesses testified often on the 10 plaintiff's case and the defense case, were subject to 11 lengthy crosses by their counsel and other defense counsel
12 on the plaintiff's case.

13 So, saying that only things bad for the defense
14 came out in the first half of the case isn't even really 15 accurate. I just think this is a sensible pragmatic way to 16 address the jury's -- the jurors' concern and to allow the 17 jury to deliberate in a timely fashion.

18 MS. EISENBERG: Last, but not least, your Honor,
19 if your Honor is inclined to sustain Mr. Farber's objection,
20 that there should be a redaction of all questions that were
21 objected to and to which objections were sustained; the NRA
22 is happy to undertake that effort. Based on my review of 23 the transcript overnight, I don't actually think it will 24 take that long, and we'll be happy to shoulder that burden.

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I have found one case

BP

4837

Proceedings

1 while not directly on point casts some light on the point I
2 tried to make, which is the delicacy with which the Court
3 has to protect the record.

4 It says -- this is United States versus Arboleda,
5 20 F.3d 58, Second Circuit (1994).

6 "During deliberations on the same day of closing
7 arguments were given, the jury asked to have the 8 prosecutor's final argument read back to them. Shortly
9 thereafter, the jury convicted each of the defendants. This 10 was reversible error. While the prosecutor gets the last 11 word, he does not get the last word twice."

12 And, that's my concern here. The prosecutor gets 13 the first word and the last word and gets forty hours of 14 evidence.

15 THE COURT: I thought we were leaving out the 16 openings and closings.

17 MR. CORRELL: We were, but the same principle
18 applies to forty hours of evidence versus ten hours of 19 evidence. There is a disproportionality between the power
20 of the State and the power of the individual.

21 THE COURT: Well, who got the closing on the 22 introduction of evidence?

23 MR. CORRELL: The defendants ended up. We had the 24 last evidence in. I had three witnesses, and my expert was 25 up for, I believe, maybe ten minutes, and a security expert

BP

4838

Proceedings

1 was up for maybe ten minutes and then Mr. LaPierre was up
2 for awhile.

3 But it was at the end of the case; and to the 4 extent that that was the last thing the jury heard, it may
5 serve to redress the horrible imbalance between the case
6 that the Government put on and the case that my client was 7 able to put on just because of time constraints and 8 constraints of resources.

9 THE COURT: Well, look, you can make your record.
10 I think the repeated references to some sort of unfairness
11 met the allocation of time are really just genuinely out of 12 bounds.

13 I do not think that anyone looking at this record
14 will view it as imbalanced in the slightest, but you can 15 make your record and say what you want.

16 The defendants and both sides had notice of how the 17 time would be allocated. I gave each of the defendants the 18 opportunity to tell me directly if they felt like they 19 weren't getting their share of the defense time that they 20 wanted. But, anyway, I don't want to go back through all of 21 that. The record is what it is and I'm quite comfortable
22 with it, and I think you can -- well, I'll leave it at that.

23 Look, I think the jury has made what seems to me a
24 reasonable request. At the same time, the last thing I want
25 to do is create even a scintilla of a risk of an unnecessary

BP

4839

Proceedings

1 appeal issue arising out of something like this. My own
2 view is that we are dramatically over thinking this. We're
3 talking about giving them a transcript of what they already
4 heard and instead of doing the traditional way of a
5 read-back of portions of it, they made a request that would 6 sound reasonable I think to virtually everyone in the 7 current business environment when you have access to a long
8 document like this, seems perfectly reasonable to me. But,
9 I will agree that I haven't seen it done. I haven't heard
10 about it being done. I haven't canvassed people to find
11 out; but just on the chance that something about this
12 unusual process gives rise to appellate issue, I'm, frankly,
13 not interested in taking that risk.

14 So, I will I guess advise the jury -- I'm not
15 certainly going to point fingers in any way. But just say 16 logistically we can't comply with the request for providing 17 an electronic copy of the transcript for searching; but 18 they're certainly willing, able to ask for individual
19 portions of the testimony that they identify to be read back
20 to them.

21 I do think that the effort that has already gone in 22 to identifying the transcript, if the jury says, We want to 23 hear X person's testimony, you know, we've all been here for 24 many, many weeks. It seems to me an efficient use of time
25 to just say, Hey, look we have the transcript, send a

BP

4840

Proceedings

1 hardcopy of the transcript instead of having a dramatic
2 reading.

3 I would -- I guess I'll ask a subquestion. Does
4 anybody object to that? In other words, if they say, "We 5 want to hear Mr. Smith's testimony, direct testimony and 6 cross or they just want to hear the direct testimony -- they
7 don't have to ask for all of it -- but if they want to hear
8 it, does anybody object to giving it to them in transcript
9 form rather than having it be read back? And whoever
10 objects, gets to do the reading back.

11 MS. CONNELL: No objection from plaintiff, your
12 Honor.

13 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, as the fly in the 14 ointment again, and I hesitate to the say this; but there is 15 authority that when there's read back, it should be replayed
16 in open court.

17 And that is United States versus Newhoff, 627 F.3d
18 1163, 9th Circuit (2010); and I haven't run it down to New 19 York State cases, but I believe that's the traditional 20 approach.

21 THE COURT: It is the traditional approach because 22 that's the way it's always done. I don't know that there's 23 any magic to that, though.

24 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I share the Court's
25 concern. We're not looking for something that would lead

BP

4841

Proceedings

1 to an appeal or to make this reversible.

2 THE COURT: I can't think of what the appellate
3 issue would be, to be honest with you; but because I can't
4 think of it, doesn't mean it doesn't exist.

5 MS. CONNELL: I would just note that in some 6 criminal cases there may be sort of a 6th Amendment right or 7 some other concerns that may not be present in civil cases
8 so that should be something worth considering.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Well, proving, again, that 10 there's no simple issue we cannot complicate in this case.
11 I'm trying to decide whether to interrupt them to tell them
12 that they have to ask for individual pieces of testimony,
13 and then we'll sort of deal with that as it comes up.

14 We may spend a little time looking through some 15 cases as well in the meantime. The fact that something
16 hasn't been done before doesn't mean that it is not 17 sensible.

18 Look, it's certainly possible that it is also 19 overkill for the jury to want 4,000 pages of transcripts.
20 They don't really need that either, I agree, but I certainly 21 sympathize with them that in a six-week trial it would be 22 easier and is probably the way you all work that if you want
23 to find something, you find it the way we all find things,
24 electronically.

25 Anyway, enough of sermonizing from me.

BP

4842

Proceedings

1 So, in the meantime, I think I probably should
2 bring them in because if they are sitting up there waiting
3 for this, there's no reason for that.

4 I have, also, been mulling over a question which
5 you know we have the alternates coming back in everyday;
6 and while I don't want to release them because I think we
7 may need them, at least I'm toying with the idea of letting 8 them wait it out at home and be able to be called in when 9 needed. But, that's just more a matter of personal
10 convenience. I don't know how long the deliberations are 11 going to take, but that's just something I'm thinking about.

12 There may be another jury note.

13 So, let's wait on that and then we'll see whether 14 we call them back down.

15 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, just to flag an issue?

16 THE COURT: Yes.

17 MR. FLEMING: With the bundle of notes that came in 18 late yesterday, one of the notes asked for e-mails relating 19 to Mr. Frazer to and from him put in the order in which he 20 received them or sent them.

21 And to make --

22 THE COURT: You mean those were the words in the 23 note, or that was just the exhibits that they asked for?

24 MR. FLEMING: Those were the words in the note, one
25 of the six. I believe there were six. And last night we

BP

4843

Proceedings

1 put together those e-mails, put them in chronological order.

2 I have given them to the plaintiff to review. If
3 it is okay with them. Although, we could provide that to 4 the jury to assist them a little bit. I know they have all
5 the documents now. If the Court's view is that's good
6 enough, that's fine; but we thought we would do that.

7 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the NRA joins the 8 request by Mr. Fleming.

9 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we just got this note
10 this morning. I think it is unusual and I think it is 11 almost a piece of advocacy at this point.

12 THE COURT: If we're going to be turning square
13 corners, I'm going to do it all the way. They have the 14 exhibits. We're not going to organize them for them.

15 I hope you all have, also, thought through the fact
16 the jury searching through the transcript might be helpful
17 for your clients, too.

18 But, anyway, so I got this new note here with two 19 points in it:

20 "(1) Could we have a document or spreadsheet that 21 lists the exhibits in numerical order followed by the 22 corresponding box number. That would allow us to search and 23 find exhibits more quickly."

24 And "(2) Request to see the transcripts for 25 Caroline Meadows and Craig Spray testimony."

BP

4844

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, there were designations
2 offered by the NRA and NYAG already. We should assume they 3 want each side.

4 THE COURT: All of it?

5 MS. EISENBERG: Correct.

6 MR. FARBER: Judge, I have no objection to that,
7 and I think those were prepared.

8 Going back to your question about any authority on 9 the issue of providing transcripts to the jury, there is 10 another case which I think describes some considerations.
11 It's a federal case for judges to consider in doing that and 12 admonitions to be given to the jury when transcripts are 13 provided, and I just want to provide the cite for that.

14 It is United States versus Hernandez, 27 F.3d 1403,
15 9th Circuit (1994). And I'd ask that if your Honor does 16 decide to give them transcripts and including giving these 17 transcripts, that you provide the admonitions.

18 THE COURT: What is the admonition?

19 MR. FARBER: So, the 9th Circuit said that -- I'm 20 going to read from it in a prior case.

21 "The District Court provided the jury upon its 22 request with a copy of the trial transcript during 23 deliberations, noting the many precautions taken to avoid 24 undue emphasis of any portion of the trial transcript. We 25 held the District Court did not abuse its discretion."

BP

4845

Proceedings

1 "Precautions included that the District Court, one,
2 provided counsel an opportunity to note inaccuracies in the 3 transcript; two, caution the jury that the transcript was 4 not to serve as substitute for memory or assessment of the 5 credibility; and, three, admonish the jury weigh all the 6 evidence and not focus on any portion of the trial; and,
7 four, instructed that the transcript was not authoritative
8 and should not prevail over the jurors' memories."

9 THE COURT: There is a counterpart to the Pattern
10 Jury Instructions approved by the Appellate Division of New 11 York State which says that the only official record that 12 they should consult if there's a doubt about anyone's memory
13 is the transcript.

14 That is exactly what I instructed them twice;
15 right?

16 MR. FARBER: We don't have a final transcript at 17 this point, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Well, these instructions envision
19 providing the transcript or having them be read in the 20 trial, that's what the instructions are for.

21 Yeah, if the parties note typographical errors in 22 the transcript, they should be spotting that along the way;
23 but once that is taken care of, that's all we have is the 24 transcript.

25 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I did note some

BP

4846

Proceedings

1 substantive errors in the transcript. I didn't think we
2 were going to be reviewing them everyday and with errata;
3 but that would be something that I think would be necessary
4 to correct so that they actually get a correct transcript.

5 THE COURT: Well, I'm surprised to hear you say you
6 didn't think that now is the right time to do it because 7 when else would be the right time to do it?

8 So, if it is not clear, it seems to me the reason
9 for getting dailies is to do exactly that; to see if there
10 are any substantive mistakes that need to be corrected.

11 So, the rules of this state are that the official
12 record will be read back to the jury during trial. So, you
13 better be on top of it if you aren't already to get any 14 corrections into the system as soon as you can.

15 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, if I can just note, we 16 have had a jury that's been here for six weeks. They have 17 been asking for information, evidence, we're trying to speed
18 the flow. They have been doing their civic duty for a long
19 period of time, and they deserve us trying to make it easier
20 not harder for them while preserving everybody's rights.

21 THE COURT: I agree. The only good thing is 22 they're not here listening to all of this.

23 So, the two things they want, I thought they had a
24 list of the exhibits in numerical order.

25 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor, they have it in

BP

4847

Proceedings

1 the order in which they came in, and --

2 THE COURT: Oh, they're not done, like, PX 1
3 through --

4 MS. EISENBERG: No, and we're more than happy to do
5 that; but they are done Mr. Marshall was the first witness.
6 There were like say five exhibits that came in through him.
7 Regardless what they were numbered, we assigned them
8 sequential tab numbers 001, 002, 003, et cetera, and that's 9 together in the first box.

10 So, we actually think they have the tool that 11 they're asking for potentially, but we're more than happy to 12 do exactly what they just requested.

13 THE COURT: I had assumed they were listed by 14 exhibit numbers numerically so that -- you know, because,
15 also, during the trial several people said, well number, ask
16 for PX 35 or whatever; and if they're up there with a bunch
17 of boxes where even if they know what number they're looking 18 for they can't find it, that's not very helpful.

19 MS. CONNELL: Plaintiff has boxes of the exhibits
20 on plaintiff's entire case in number, in order. We had I
21 thought arranged with defendants to have their boxes in that 22 order in advance to make it easier to send exhibits back
23 and/or for giving everything back to the jury.

24 MS. EISENBERG: We can create the index they 25 requested very easily; and, obviously, everyone had the

BP

4848

Proceedings

1 opportunity to inspect the boxes that went back.

2 THE COURT: Yeah, all right. Well, I think
3 something like that would be helpful because how would they 4 know where an exhibit number is if it is not organized by 5 number.

6 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, I'll just note that's 7 exactly what we tried to do last night to answer the 8 particular note that the jury asked, which I guess now is 9 something we don't want to do? I'm a little confused by
10 that.

11 THE COURT: Well, I had assumed that the exhibits
12 were organized in a way that people would be able to 13 decipher which was where.

14 MR. FLEMING: I understand, but the note they 15 asked for last night for a subset of documents is exactly
16 what we put together, four of them in the way they asked it
17 to be done.

18 THE COURT: Look, the problem I have with that is,
19 you know, if everyone agreed that your collection was an
20 entire and accurate answer to that, I would have no problem
21 giving it them if they asked for it. But I'm just reading
22 the room here that I find it unlikely I'm going to get 23 consensus that whatever your collection is, is complete.

24 MR. FLEMING: Well, I actually have heard
25 absolutely nothing from the Government about it being

BP

4849

Proceedings

1 inaccurate or incomplete.

2 MS. CONNELL: Well, we just got it this morning;
3 and we voiced our objection that it seems more like advocacy
4 and us doing work --

5 THE COURT: If, if it was an objective question --
6 look, I honestly don't know. But if somebody said, Give us
7 an objective list in chronological order of five documents
8 and everybody agreed what the five were, I wouldn't have a
9 problem sending it up and say, Look, here, this is what you
10 asked for, here it is.

11 If it is more complicated than that and you're not 12 sure that what they have given you is a complete answer to 13 the question, then I'm not going to send it. I expect for 14 the parties to only object where there's a reasonable basis
15 to do that and if they do, fine.

16 I would ask you to look at this thing, if they ask
17 for a chronological compilation. If there's no reasonable
18 objection to it, then I'll send it up. If there is, I
19 won't.

20 MS. CONNELL: Taking it back, your Honor, to where 21 we were before we revisited this issue which is the 22 numerical order of all of the exhibits, I think that's 23 something we can maybe work out.

24 THE COURT: Well, I don't really want to send them
25 another bunch of boxes.

BP

4850

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: We can do the index, no problem.

2 THE COURT: Work on the index.

3 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, is it going to be 4 hear-backs or read-backs because Ms. Meadows was by 5 video?

6 THE COURT: Well, they asked for the transcripts.

7 This one seems a little easier because this is 8 literally what they heard and it's in exactly the order they 9 heard it. And so this question about not reading the 10 transcripts out of context, they're going to get the entire
11 thing.

12 MR. FARBER: Judge, I agree with that, that that 13 has all the extraneous material removed.

14 THE COURT: Right. So, those transcripts there's 15 no objection to, it's just giving them the transcripts of 16 Spray and Meadows. If they came in in two bunches or at 17 least two bunches, so would they get them in the same
18 bunches in which they heard them?

19 MS. CONNELL: Yes, your Honor. I think the easier
20 way to do it is to have the two, for example, the two Spray
21 designations and counter-designations together, and then the 22 two Meadows designations and counter-designations; but
23 they're in two bundles. The one that went in plaintiff's
24 case and the one that went in defendants' case.

25 THE COURT: So, there would be four bundles?

BP

4851

Proceedings

1 MS. CONNELL: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Which would correspond to the four
3 times they heard from these folks.

4 MS. CONNELL: Yes, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: So, let's get that gathered and we can
6 get that up there to them, and we'll tell them we're working
7 on the spreadsheet.

8 I'll bring them down here and tell them what we're 9 doing. So, let's get the jury down for a second.

10 Just so I'm clear, it is accurate to tell them the 11 boxes were organized when the exhibits were introduced?

12 MS. EISENBERG: That's right, and the index has 13 headings for witnesses and dates.

14 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, not to belabor the point
15 I was making before; but just to be clear, the note listed
16 exhibit numbers. There were about 33 of them, and all we 17 did was put them in chronological order.

18 So, I have a tough time understanding what the 19 objection is.

20 THE COURT: So, only -- so they just asked you to 21 take these 33 exhibits and put them in chronological order?

22 MR. FLEMING: Exactly, that's it.

23 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we were handed this this 24 morning and said we would look at it, which we will; but 25 we've been busy working on the transcripts.

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: If that's all it is and maybe I missed
2 it in the note, we should be able to do that for them. Just
3 check it. If you don't think it is right --

4 MS. CONNELL: Right, Judge, but we're just asking
5 for the opportunity, give advance notice and work
6 cooperatively.

7 THE COURT: I'm not sure what the judgment calls
8 are involving chronologizing 33 documents.

9 MS. CONNELL: There are often changes. We have to 10 make sure the changes are correct. I'm not saying it's 11 complex. We were just handed it before you came out.

12 MR. FLEMING: They're exhibit numbers. They're not
13 changes. They are exhibits.

14 THE COURT: They could overlap, right? There could 15 be -- but still it's -- okay.

16 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, we have the index in 17 case you'd like to have it, the one sent back to them. We 18 can also hand up a copy, if you'd like.

19 THE COURT: That's the one they have now?

20 MS. EISENBERG: That's right, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Yes, I'd like to see a hardcopy if you
22 have it.

23 COURT OFFICER: Ready for the jury, your Honor?

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

Proceedings

1 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
2 courtroom.)

3 THE COURT: Good morning, folks. Have a seat,
4 please. Sorry to interrupt your deliberations. Just wanted
5 to give you an update.

6 So, the request with respect to the transcript, the 7 entire multi-thousand-page transcript, I understand why you
8 asked for it. For a variety of logistical and legal 9 reasons, I can't make it happen exactly what you're asking
10 for, which is the searchable with a laptop and the entirety
11 of the whole thing. There's a bunch of reasons for it.

12 The traditional way to do it is to ask for -- it's 13 often called a read-back of particular testimony that you
14 want to hear; and then once we get something more specific,
15 we can talk about whether the more efficient way is to give
16 a transcript or to literally have you come back and hear a
17 back and forth on it.

18 The caution I would give you if you see any 19 portions of the transcript, just to remember that you have 20 to put all of it in context. You know, you have to just 21 remember that any particular piece of testimony is just part 22 of all the evidence that comes in. But, in any event, but 23 we will get you portions that you may have different
24 memories of and you wanting to hear, well, what did this 25 witness say?

BP

4854

Proceedings

1 We'll do it specifically when you have one. For
2 example, the most recent note asks for the Meadows and Spray
3 testimony that you saw on the screen, and we're going to put
4 those transcripts together and send those up.

5 We're also -- I understand the point about that
6 you just asked for a document or a spreadsheet or some kind
7 of a key that lists the exhibits in numerical order. I
8 think the way they were put together was in the order that 9 they were introduced in the trial; but I can see how if 10 you're looking for a particular exhibit number, if you don't 11 know where it is. So, the parties are going to put together
12 an index that will help you through that.

13 So, there were a couple of different ways that it
14 could have been organized, and that's the way it was chosen
15 to do it because I think that's the way lawyers collect
16 things during the trial; this was admitted on day one, this 17 was admitted on day two. But, I get it.

18 So, we're trying to do everything we can and we do
19 appreciate the diligence with which you're going through the 20 record. So, I want to let you know both of those things, so 21 we'll get you the two things that were just asked for.

22 And if there is testimony from the trial as to 23 which you are having -- you feel the need that you want to 24 either hear it back or see particular portions of the 25 transcript, just let us know and then we'll get that to

BP

4855

Proceedings

1 you.

2 Okay, so I don't think it was an unreasonable
3 request, but for a variety of reasons we had to do it the 4 traditional way. Okay, and I think all the other requests
5 are still sort of in process other than that one.

6 So, I just wanted to say hello and make sure you
7 knew that we know you're still up there and we're
8 responding. The lawyers are working very hard to get 9 answers to the requests as soon as possible.

10 So, thanks, again. Welcome back, and we'll see you
11 when we next hear from you. Thank you.

12 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

13 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
14 courtroom.)

15 THE COURT: This most recent request we'll mark as 16 Court Exhibit XXIII.

17 All right, folks, please get to work on finalizing,
18 hopefully, this chronology thing that they asked for, which
19 sounds like it is a simpler task than I had envisioned.

20 I would strongly encourage you that if for whatever
21 reason you haven't been checking the transcripts for 22 substantive errors, you should be and you should do it now
23 because now is when it counts because now is when the jury
24 may get it. Whether it is by read-back or a transcript, 25 somebody is going to have to read from the document that we

BP

4856

1 all have. So, if it says red and it should say green, fix
2 it now if it is important, at least.

3 All right, next.

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, one thing I will note.

5 One of the notes from yesterday did ask for a
6 read-back. I believe it was a note sent at 1:56 p.m., and 7 it said:

8 "I would like to see the listed exhibits that 9 contains the list of exhibits. Also, is it possible to 10 see --" well, it doesn't ask for read-back. It says "Is it
11 possible to see transcripts of all testimony that discusses 12 the post-employment contracts of WLP and Phillips."

13 THE COURT: Yeah, that's different than a
14 read-back. That's asking for us to curate evidence from the 15 trial and sort of -- and that, I think, is more difficult
16 than "We want to hear the testimony of Mr. Phillips," for 17 example, on this. I think that's a more complicated request
18 for them to ask us to curate evidence, which is also fraught
19 because everybody is going to disagree.

20 MS. CONNELL: I agree with that. I just didn't
21 want the jury to think we're working on that and not know
22 that we're not working on that.

23 THE COURT: Fair point. All right. Well, let's 24 keep working.

25 (In recess)

BP

4857

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Let's mark these as Court Exhibits XXIV
2 and XXV and make copies for counsel on both sides, and I
3 need one for myself so I can read it out loud.

4 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XXIV and 5 Court Exhibit XXV were so marked.)

6 THE COURT: So, we received two more notes. One is 7 a short one asking to see the transcript from the attorney
8 general's closing argument. The second one is a longer one.

9 Well, I'll read it out loud:

10 "In reviewing Question 9A about the NRA's
11 Whistleblower Policy, we have found relevant policy about 12 reporting violations in a statement of Corporate Ethics
13 dated --" I believe it says "01/26/15 in the NRA Employee
14 Handbook labeled PX 415 (index 258). We are unable to find 15 in evidence a copy that updated that policy, which we 16 understand exists and is in compliance with N-PCL, though it
17 may be after the relevant period ending 1/22/20."

18 "Can counsel advise whether any update to the 19 Employee Handbook that updates the Corporate Ethics
20 statement is in evidence? Or confirm whether an update was 21 produced before 1/22/20?"

22 The question about the closing argument, I'm aware
23 of at least one case out of the First Department -- a
24 criminal case -- finding error in rereading only the 25 prosecutor's summation in a case, which kind of makes sense.

BP

4858

Proceedings

1 I know they asked for just one side, but I think I'd be
2 uncomfortable giving sort of half the story.

3 We talked about whether they could have a rereading
4 of all of it, but I don't think I would just do part of it.

5 On the second one, that's a pretty detailed
6 question, and I guess I'll let you all mull it over over
7 lunch and see if there's an objective answer that is both 8 clear and undisputed and it can help avoid confusion they 9 may be having, that's fine.

10 So, I'll just leave that with you to think about 11 what the appropriate response would be.

12 I do have a hearing at 2:15 that I'm doing in 13 another matter that I'll try to be as quick as I can. I'll 14 come back after that.

15 So, the -- the only other thing I wanted to add is 16 I had done a little bit of looking along with my staff, and 17 there's not a lot on this whole transcript thing. I'm 18 comfortable giving them the entire transcript. To do
19 finding, their own searching, while if I were writing the 20 rules myself, I might permit something like that; I don't 21 think there's enough support for that. And the concern that 22 courts seem to have and legitimately is that the jurors will
23 focus on one testimony, piece of testimony to the exclusion
24 of others. Again, if left to my own devices, I think 25 there's nothing inappropriate about giving them the entire

4859

Proceedings

1 transcript, but that may be too much to swallow at this
2 stage.

3 There is, I think, pretty good law in the Second
4 Circuit, in fact the case that came after the one that was
5 read earlier that has some I think pretty good language.
6 The United States versus Escotto, E-S-C-O-T-T-O, 121 F.3d
7 81. Amongst other things, it says "We agree with the 3rd
8 Circuit and also with Judge Trager's reasoning in the 9 instant case that written transcripts provide the jury a
10 more efficient method than read-backs of sorting through 11 lengthy portions of testimony. The opportunity to turn
12 pages, some rapidly and some leisurely, will often be 13 preferable to enduring a verbatim and usually unanimated
14 rereading of testimony."

15 They go on later to say "While they recognize that 16 supplying transcripts of trial testimony poses some risk of 17 undue emphasis on selected passages, we conclude that the 18 decision to provide the jury with transcripts in lieu of 19 requested read-backs should be left to the trial court's 20 discretion, just like the decision to as to a request for 21 transcripts."

22 "The decision to supply transcripts either when 23 requested or in lieu of a requested read-backs should 24 generally be guided by the same considerations that apply to 25 a decision to permit a read-back of testimony. Whether a

BP

4860

Proceedings

1 court permits read-backs or sends transcripts, appropriate
2 cautions should be given to the jury to minimize the 3 particular risks associated with either technique."

4 "For example, a jury instruction reminding the jury
5 to consider all the evidence without unduly emphasizing any 6 portion of it would be appropriate in most cases where the 7 court sends transcripts into the jury room."

8 I think that's a common-sense position. I will 9 note we found a First Department case from 1989 in the 10 particular context of the Criminal Procedural Rules, which 11 do require that the defendant be -- criminal defendant be 12 present for all proceedings. And in that case, in 1989,
13 they expressed disapproval of the practice of submitting
14 transcript of testimony for review in the jury room and,
15 basically, if the defendant objects, then the read-back must 16 occur in open court with defendant and counsel present.

17 But, I think that is a specific outgrowth of the 18 statute that requires specific kinds of procedural
19 guidelines in a criminal case.

20 So, in any event, I'm persuaded that if and when 21 they ask for a read-back again or the first read-back, that 22 rather than having hours of read-backs -- assuming we can
23 agree on a transcript -- I think that makes a lot more 24 sense.

25 So, that's about it for this one. I may -- there's

BP

4861

Proceedings

1 one other sort of technical point, and I guess I didn't
2 include it in the instructions.

3 We're getting notes from individual jurors and,
4 typically, the foreperson would be the one writing all the 5 notes. I don't think that that would stop them from coming,
6 but it just might be a little less chaotic; but at this 7 point, that's what we have.

8 All right. So, take a look at both of these.
9 Again, on the closing arguments, the two choices it seems to 10 me are either to give them nothing or to give them all of 11 them. And my inclination would be to stick with they can 12 ask read-backs of the evidence, but unless the parties want
13 the closing arguments back there.

14 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the NRA definitely
15 wants the closing arguments back there, and we think that's 16 the right thing to do given how long the trial was and their 17 repeated requests for the same. Because when they sent a
18 note yesterday, they didn't say only evidence. They said
19 transcripts, court records and evidence.

20 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the case I cited the 21 right to speak first and last and then to give the 22 government the opportunity to have two last words just to me
23 should conclude that question.

24 MR. FARBER: And, your Honor, we object to giving 25 them the closing arguments. I have addressed this some the

4862

Proceedings

1 other day. I think the cases that you referred to
2 referencing the fact that jurors need to be told to focus on
3 reviewing all of the evidence, giving them the closing
4 arguments in particular is taking them away from what they
5 ought to be doing.

6 At this point what they should be doing and the 7 only thing they should be doing is reviewing the evidence,
8 whether those are exhibits or testimony.

9 THE COURT: Well, the only case I'm familiar with 10 is one that for whatever reason just gave one party's 11 closing. That's the only case I'm familiar with.

12 So, if there's anything else in particular, you can
13 let me know.

14 But, we're at the lunch break, so anything?

15 MS. CONNELL: No, just to make it clear for the 16 record, plaintiff believes having all the closing arguments
17 would be helpful to the jury, we should provide them.

18 MR. FARBER: One logistical thing, your Honor. You
19 said for us to consider over the lunch break. I know you 20 have a hearing at 2:15. When would you like us back in 21 order to deal with that?

22 THE COURT: Well, be back here 2:30. I don't know
23 when I'll be up here. I'll be up here as fast as I can.

24 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor. One other just 25 quick point on the summations issue. I mean, for example,

BP

1 the AG in their summation lists a whole range of exhibits.
2 The process of going back and looking over the summations,
3 they're going to focus on things like that, that I think
4 just are improper.

5 THE COURT: All right, I'll think it over. See you
6 in the afternoon.

7 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor.

8 (Whereupon, at this time a luncheon recess was then
9 taken.)

2

3

THE COURT: Good afternoon, folks. So, I've been trying to follow the back and forth between you and my law clerks while in another hearing; but it sounds like there's the simple answer is just to tell them that Tab 13, PX 421 is the amended Whistleblower Policy.

8

The rest of it just, you know, the NRA language seems fine with the page numbers, and I -- I think just referencing that it has, it is dated January 22, 2020, is sufficient. I mean, some of the language that's slightly different is whether it was in effect as of then. I'm not going to provide any testimony other than to just say it has a date of January 22, 2020.

10

12

13

15

MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, all we would say is that the juror note specifically inquires whether an update was produced before the 22nd, and the same document does contain the date stamp on the board resolution enacting the update which is before the 22nd.

16

18

19

20

So, directing them to page numbers perhaps we could say the updated policy is on page 286, and the date of the resolution adopting the update is on this other page.

21

23

24

25

THE COURT: I don't have all the stuff in front of me. I'm trying to find the proposal by the NRA is -- Ms. Eisenberg?

BP

4865

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, I think Ms. Connell
2 inadvertently forwarded to you an outdated version of the 3 NRA's proposal.

4 THE COURT: I'm looking at yours.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Before I got everyone's comments
6 and then I proposed a different one that more directly
7 responds to the question that Ms. Rogers just highlighted.

8 If I -- it basically says, We have the manual and 9 there are threes page that are relevant. The first page
10 contains a copy of the policy. The second page has the date
11 in the top corner, which shows it was effective as of at 12 least that date. And the third page reflects the date of 13 the resolution of the board and in which the board adopted
14 it, which was January 11th.

15 THE COURT: I have a better idea. I think I'm just 16 going to say that the amended policy, it is up to the jurors
17 to read the document and decide what it means. But they are 18 not really sure what document they should be looking at.
19 So, I think just telling them that it is PX 421 is 20 sufficient, and they can read the dates themselves.

21 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, would the Court be 22 amenable to because the exhibit is no voluminous, directing
23 them to the page the policy is on, and then directing them
24 to the page that the resolution is on enacting the policy?

25 So, the Court wouldn't need to testify to the date.

BP

4866

Proceedings

1 The Court could just say at page 202 of this document shows
2 the policy adoption, and page 286 shows the policy's text.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, the jury has asked for a
4 simple document. They have asked for the amended
5 Whistleblower Policy.

6 THE COURT: Well, I think -- look, I'm trying to be
7 also helpful to the jury in referring to a 300-page
8 document. So, Ms. Rogers you say 202 is the?

9 MS. ROGERS: I'm sorry, your Honor, I misspoke.

10 Pages 201 and 202 show the resolution adopting 11 the update and then at page 286 shows what the new policy
12 says.

13 THE COURT: And is there any dispute that the 14 adoption of the resolution on 201 and 202 applies to the 15 Whistleblower Policy on 286, asking the AG?

16 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I would just say I don't 17 know. I haven't looked at it because, literally, we've just 18 been debating this. But page 283 of 300, which is 274, it
19 says effective date of the policy, and we agree that's the 20 effective date of the policy. So why not --

21 THE COURT: Frankly, I don't know what the 22 difference of any of this is because there's no damages
23 attached to this, and the only dispute is whether there was 24 a policy during the earlier period.

25 MS. CONNELL: Right. Your Honor, I just think the

BP

4867

Proceedings

1 simpler we keep things and answer the jury's questions
2 directly with this.

3 THE COURT: I think giving page references within
4 this document to what's relevant to the Whistleblower
5 Policy. So, 201, 202 are board resolutions?

6 MS. ROGERS: It's one board resolution spread
7 across two pages.

8 THE COURT: Board resolution. 283 is that a
9 relevant? Page 283 is the effective date?

10 MS. ROGERS: Yes, 283 is where the policy text
11 begins.

12 THE COURT: Of the Whistleblower Policy?

13 MS. ROGERS: Of the new Whistleblower Policy.

14 THE COURT: And what was 286?

15 MS. ROGERS: 286 was me misspeaking, and I
16 apologize. I was looking at a different version.

17 THE COURT: So, 283.

18 MS. EISENBERG: I'm sorry, your Honor, page 283 is 19 beginning of the Statement of Corporate Ethics, which 20 contains the Whistleblower Policy, which starts on page 286.

21 So, if we want to be comprehensive we can give them
22 201 through 202, 283 and 286.

23 THE COURT: I think that's fine. Board resolution
24 201, 202. 283 is beginning of Corporate Ethics policy, and 25 286 is the Whistleblower Policy.

BP

4868

Proceedings

1 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

2 MS. STERN: Sorry, just to make you crazy, it's 201
3 of 300. It is the page number of the exhibit, not of the
4 document.

5 THE COURT: So, are the page numbers still right?
6 Is it 201 out of 300?

7 MS. STERN: Yes.

8 THE COURT: All the page numbers that were just 9 given are the ones at the bottom, which is the exhibit
10 number?

11 MS. STERN: Correct, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: I think they're used to reading those 13 things that way.

14 MS. EISENBERG: I agree. I think we say of 300,
15 that will avoid any confusion.

16 THE COURT: I'm also going to just sort of gently
17 include an instruction that I -- the PJI actually include,
18 and I don't because it seemed a little regulatory; but that 19 the jury foreperson should be sort of coordinating the 20 notes.

21 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, there is some utility to 22 seeing which jurors write which notes. I found that to be 23 helpful. So, I wouldn't want to extinguish the separate 24 identity or make people feel like they have to funnel their 25 requests.

BP

4869

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: That is the typical PJI instruction
2 that the foreperson is supposed to organize things. It
3 doesn't block anyone from asking anything.

4 Look, it doesn't matter that much to me one way or 5 the other. I didn't raise it before, and they seem to be 6 not shy about doing their own. So, if nobody else really
7 cares about it, I'll leave it the way it is.

8 So, what else do I need to tell them other than 9 this one small thing? That's pretty much it.

10 I should tell you all I have to leave for an 11 appointment this afternoon at about 3:45. So, any notes
12 that come in after that, Mr. Blaustein will be here.
13 Hopefully, if they're something just to get documents, you
14 don't have to wait for me.

15 We have another note. Okay, new note:

16 "Requesting the transcript of John Frazer's
17 testimonies during the case."

18 So, this is our first request for -- and it is 19 specifically for transcripts, and it is specific and kind of 20 what I told them to do, if they wanted to see. So, it will 21 be two different sets: One during the plaintiff's case, one
22 during the defense case.

23 So, hopefully, you've done all this work already to 24 excise out from the transcript portions anything that was 25 off the record or when the jury wasn't present.

BP

4870

Proceedings

1 I don't recall there being a lot of that during
2 Mr. Frazer's testimony; but if there's anything, just agree
3 on the transcript pages and try to have them ready. If you
4 can have them ready by the end of the day, that's fine. If 5 it has to be early in the morning, okay; but as soon as we
6 can, I'd like to be responsive.

7 This is at least very specific. There's no
8 ambiguity. So, let's get it done.

9 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the only other thing is 10 as you may recall, jurors asked in the note whether it is 11 possible to gather testimony related to two post-employment
12 contracts. As Ms. Connell previously pointed out, I'm not 13 sure we've gotten back to them on that request which I
14 believe your inclination was to say that's a little bit too
15 vague. But they have a more narrow request. We'd be happy
16 to provide --

17 THE COURT: Look, my thinking on that is -- I said
18 it seems vague to me, it would require curating. If the 19 parties can agree and say this is everything on those and we 20 can be helpful and sort of highlight the testimony, I won't
21 foreclose you doing that. But, otherwise, I would give that 22 answer that, you know, typically read-backs have to be not 23 something that requires us to parse.

24 MS. EISENBERG: I think it is something the parties 25 may be able to agree upon. It just may take a little bit of

BP

4871

Proceedings

1 time.

2 MR. FARBER: I'm less optimistic about that.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, just so I understand, are 4 we going to be giving the jury transcripts to take back with 5 them or do we do a read-back?

6 THE COURT: Look, my view -- and I haven't seen
7 anything contrary and, certainly, in a civil case. The 8 Second Circuit's rationale is very similar to mine, which is 9 if they can do a read-back which is people reading from a
10 script, I cannot think of any reason why they can't have the 11 document that they can then read it at their pace rather 12 than trying to follow it. It has no evidentiary component
13 to have two strangers reading the back and forth.

14 In a criminal case, I think it raises concerns
15 because at least -- at least one decision I've read suggests
16 that the act of them reading it happens outside the presence
17 of the defendant, which in a criminal case is something
18 that's specifically baked into the rules. Whether that's 19 still good law or not -- the case I saw was in 1989 -- but I
20 don't know, but I'm persuaded in this circumstance it
21 would -- it couldn't possibly -- at least I don't see any 22 prejudice in providing the testimony that they can read
23 individually or together in an organized way rather than 24 what will be hours. Let's face it, it would be hours of 25 time sitting here with people reading to the jury. That

BP

Proceedings

1 seems crazy to me after six weeks.

2 MR. FLEMING: To be clear, your Honor, I do not
3 oppose them getting a transcript. I will say that the one
4 point to take away from the case is undue emphasis.

5 If the jury emphasizes one portion as opposed to 6 the other, I think that can be cured with an instruction;
7 and I think especially here since Mr. Frazer testified two 8 separate times, they should be told that they should 9 consider all of it, not just some of it.

10 THE COURT: That's a good point, and I will make
11 that point to them.

12 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, there is some guidance
13 from the 9th Circuit in 1994.

14 I'll just read, "Providing to the jury during their 15 deliberations the transcribed portion of one witness's
16 testimony was reversible error. Trial court failed to 17 caution the jury to weigh all the evidence and failed to 18 warn that the transcript was not authoritative, even though
19 both direct and cross examination were provided, this was 20 not a sufficient protection. Counsel must be given an 21 opportunity to review the transcript to ensure its accuracy
22 and to ensure that all bench conferences are deleted."

23 THE COURT: Well, a couple points to that. First 24 of all, counsel has had the opportunity to review the 25 transcript for accuracy. Whether they have done so or not,

BP

4873

Proceedings

1 is not -- well, I'll just leave it at that.

2 Clearly, Mr. Frazer testified a long time ago; and
3 so if there are any substantive corrections that haven't
4 been made yet, you have until whenever this is provided if
5 you need them to make changes -- transcription mistakes.
6 You know, if he said a word and he thinks it is not the 7 right word, that's not -- it is not a -- that's not a change
8 you can make now.

9 So, I don't think that part works. I don't think
10 it's the law that you cannot as a matter of law -- by the 11 way, was that a criminal case?

12 MR. CORRELL: Yes, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: I'm quite comfortable it's not the law,
14 certainly not in the Second Circuit it's not the law, even 15 in criminal cases. And I think it's just not a sensible, in 16 my opinion, distinction to make that a read-back is 17 functionally the same as, but less, frankly, useful than a
18 transcript.

19 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I wasn't disputing that.
20 We have as much interest as everyone else in preserving the 21 sanctity of this trial. I was just providing that as 22 guidance the way another court looked at to make sure we 23 tapped all those bases.

24 THE COURT: Consider them tagged.

25 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, may I --

BP

4874

Proceedings

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you, your Honor. I discussed
3 this issue this morning. It was mooted by a ruling, but now
4 it is back on.

5 There are three questions back to back that
6 Ms. Stern asked of Mr. Frazer during his testimony. When I
7 objected and when Ms. Rogers objected, your Honor sustained
8 the objection to the questions and no answer was provided.

9 As I mentioned this morning, the questions embedded
10 inadmissible prejudicial matter. I just e-mailed the three 11 questions to the Court. We would respectfully request that 12 the Court permit us to redact those three questions,
13 objections and the Court saying that the objections are 14 sustained.

15 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, plaintiff would just say
16 that to the extent we're taking out sustained objections,
17 then it should be across the board and not pick and choose.

18 MR. FARBER: I agree we that, your Honor.

19 MS. CONNELL: As an example, your Honor, I believe
20 in regard to Mr. Frazer's testimony the NRA asked a number
21 of questions that your Honor sustained regarding bias, that 22 were loaded questions. They were objected to. Those also 23 should be stricken.

24 THE COURT: I think it should be evenhanded. Some 25 objectionable questions don't necessarily inject prejudicial

BP

4875

Proceedings

1 matter, but some do. I think it is a fair point, although 2 it is -- does require a little leg work, but questions where
3 the objections were sustained should be edited out. So,
4 build that into your work. I'm sorry, but I think that's
5 fair.

6 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

7 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor --

8 THE COURT: On all sides.

9 MS. CONNELL: On all sides, thank you.

10 THE COURT: No, I didn't mean just those three. I
11 was accepting the broader point that Mr. Farber was making.

12 All right, I guess let's bring them down.

13 MS. CONNELL: I'm sorry, one final point.

14 There are two cases that we read quickly before we 15 came down here. One is People versus Velasco, that's a
16 criminal case, 77 N.Y.2d 469. It is from 1991.

17 And in criminal cases, it talks about the jury's
18 entitlement to get read-backs or to hear testimony of 19 anything they requested, including things that are not
20 evidence -- I'm just referencing the juror request for a 21 closing. We didn't find directly on point with regard to 22 closing, and that case cited favorably a civil case, Wylie
23 versus Consolidated Rail Corp., which I believe is 261 AD2d
24 955.

25 And, also, your Honor, I would direct the Court to

BP

4876

Proceedings

1 the case Kerner -- with a K -- versus Surface Transportation
2 Corp., 266 Ap.Div. 356 (1943), which was affirmed by the
3 Court of Appeals; and Bloch versus City of New York,
4 68 AD2d 932, for the propositions that if the jury asks for
5 a read-back, it is entitled to hear that testimony.

6 THE COURT: Well, read-back of the closing
7 arguments in those cases?

8 MS. CONNELL: The first two cases I cited seemed to 9 indicate that it could include arguments not evidentiary --

10 THE COURT: My lean is I don't have to tell them
11 right. Now my lean is not to provide the closings. Again,
12 the case I saw was a slanted one where they only were 13 providing the prosecution's and that seems apparent that you
14 can't do that.

15 But, I think that the purpose of reading back is to 16 read back evidence. Again, this is one of those where both
17 sides thought it would be helpful to have all the closings,
18 transcripts available to the jury. I don't know that I
19 would object, but I don't know that it is legitimate to say
20 that -- you know, they heard them, they heard the closing 21 arguments.

22 I've never had a request from a jury for a
23 read-back of those. I think it would force me to then go
24 back into an issue that was raised I think at least in one
25 direction, but I would raise it in both, that there were

BP

4877

Proceedings

1 some foot faults during closing arguments on both sides,
2 that some things that were said that arguably were not
3 really in the record. Nothing that I consider material, but
4 I would feel the need to kind of go back and think about all
5 of that and I don't think it is really worth it.

6 So, I'll read whatever letter you provide if you
7 think that the jury -- that there is a right for them to get
8 them; but my lean right now is to leave it at evidence,
9 which is that's what they're supposed to be basing their 10 rulings on, not what was said in the arguments. And, the 11 arguments are a full day. So, that would be a lot to add to 12 their burden.

13 So, I'm certainly not going to give just one
14 side's -- sorry, nobody needs to argue this anymore. If you
15 want to put in arguments about why I should give them, I'll 16 listen and we can fix it tomorrow if I change my mind; but 17 right now, I'm going to stick with this.

18 COURT OFFICER: Ready?

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

21 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
22 courtroom.)

23 THE COURT: Welcome back, have a seat. Sorry to 24 keep bringing you back. I'm trying to do it as little as 25 possible, but I want to also bounce back answering the

BP

4878

Proceedings

1 questions when I can.

2 I received a question about the Whistleblower
3 Policy, and I do have an answer for you. I'm just looking 4 for -- okay.

5 The updated Whistleblower Policy that you are 6 inquiring about is Plaintiff's Exhibit 421, which is at 7 Tab 13 I think of your boxes. It is a long document,
8 roughly 300 pages.

9 The board resolutions are 201 and 202, or the board
10 resolution is at page 201 and 202 of 300 at the bottom.

11 The Corporate Ethics policy begins at 283, again,
12 of 300, and the Whistleblower Policy within that begins at 13 page 286. So, that's the exhibit. I think that's what you 14 were looking for is what document was it and that's the 15 document.

16 We are going to prepare the Frazer testimony, which 17 we just received a request for.

18 One thing I wanted to point out with respect to all
19 of these requests for testimony, really all the requests for 20 evidence is just to reemphasize the importance of 21 considering the totality of the evidence and that you
22 shouldn't place undue emphasis on particular pieces of 23 testimony that you get sent up to you. Just it is part of 24 the overall equation.

25 I'm fine to provide it for you, but I want to

BP

4879

Proceedings

1 protect against any undue emphasis on any particular thing
2 just because I happened to send it up in response to a
3 request. It's just part of it. So, just consider it in the 4 context of all the evidence.

5 So, the parties are going to put those together;
6 and I take it from your note that your preference is to 7 receive a transcript as opposed to sitting here listening to 8 a read-back, which everyone is nodding to, enthusiastically.

9 So, I know we have other requests that we're
10 still -- some of them I'm still considering and some of them
11 are still being worked on. I will say, generally, the 12 evidence that gets permitted to get into the jury room is 13 the evidence, not arguments of counsel.

14 So, at this point, I'm limiting what I send up
15 there to the admissible evidence; and whether it's opening
16 arguments or closing arguments, it's not evidence. So, I'm 17 continuing to think that through, but the basic function is 18 to make sure that you don't get distracted by things that 19 are not admissible evidence.

20 Okay, I think that's all I have to -- did I catch
21 everything that I was planning to describe to these guys
22 now? I think so.

23 All right. Well, look, I appreciate your hard work
24 and having to come down here and listen to answers doesn't 25 help that much, but I wanted to give you the answers to

BP

4880

Proceedings

1 these, especially that one document you were looking for.

2 And, keep at it. I'm going to be leaving in a bit
3 for another appointment, so you can keep sending notes and
4 the lawyers and my staff will handle those while I'm gone,
5 but I'll be back tomorrow morning.

6 Okay, thank you, all.

7 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

8 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
9 courtroom.)

10 THE COURT: Have a seat.

11 So, hopefully, that was sufficient on all fronts.
12 Anything needs to be corrected?

13 MS. EISENBERG: I think so, your Honor. The 14 post-employment agreement related testimony, I'm not sure we 15 had a consensus; but I think, your Honor, generally covered
16 it.

17 THE COURT: Yeah, I wasn't sure what to do with 18 them on that. If you all come up with an agreed-upon set,
19 definitive set of what the -- especially the affected
20 parties' belief is the testimony that covers that issue.

21 They are -- the post-employment agreements are 22 narrow topics, and so it may be possible for to you isolate
23 testimony that relates to that; and if it can be done with 24 agreed-upon accuracy and everybody is comfortable with it,
25 I'm happy to comply with the request. If there's going to

BP

4881

Proceedings

1 be a lot of fighting about it, then I'm unlikely to do it.

2 MS. EISENBERG: I think the number of pages that 3 concern those two agreements is fairly small, given the 4 overall record and I'm sure we'll do our best to agree if we 5 can.

6 MR. FARBER: Well, I have a different view. I
7 just -- it sort of goes back to the comment that your Honor
8 made about viewing things in isolation and not having the 9 context of the whole evidence; and that's, yes, it's a
10 discrete claim in the case, but there was broader evidence
11 that's relevant, the assessment of that claim, at least in 12 my view.

13 So, you know, as I sit here, I can't sit agreeing
14 to do exactly what I think those instructions say shouldn't
15 be done. I think if there are read-backs, it should be a
16 specific testimony as opposed to having counsel in curating
17 for the jury and saying this is responsive to that.

18 THE COURT: All I'm doing is not foreclosing the 19 parties from proposing an agreed-upon set of testimony that 20 covers the topic. If your point is, well, there has to be 21 other things that may not relate specifically to that 22 transaction that's still relevant to it, I get it. So,
23 that's why I'm not wildly optimistic.

24 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: But I don't want to shut the door on it

BP

1 because, in principle, if you could come up with an answer
2 to the jury's question, we should; and if you can't, you
3 can't.

4 Do you have something else for me?

5 Court Exhibit XXVI, and you can give a copy of that
6 to counsel, as well.

7 (Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XXVI was so
8 marked.)

9 All right, all, don't burn the house down while I'm 10 gone and be nice to Mr. Blaustein.

THE COURT: All right, good afternoon, folks.

I'm going to update the record on a couple of juror notes that I've advised counsel about that I want to put on the record.

The first is one that arrived at 1:30 p.m., and that was -- the note was "May we have Wilson Phillips testimony? (Text of transcript)."

I provided this note to counsel earlier in the day, and they have quite quickly gathered and agreed upon the testimony to send up and have sent it up to the jury. So that one is taken care of.

And then I received at 4:10 -- so, I'll mark this one I just referenced at 1:30 as Court Exhibit XXVII, and next I'll mark as Court Exhibit XXVIII.

(Whereupon, at this time Court Exhibit XXVII and Court Exhibit XXVIII were so marked.)

THE COURT: So, Court Exhibit XXVIII, that is a two-part request.

Question 1: "What is the date that the AG requested information regarding Woody Phillips and LaPierre's post-employment contracts?"

And number 2: "I'd like to see transcripts of the testimony of Charles Cotton, David Coy, and Rowling." R-O-W-L-I-N-G which is Sonya Rowling, I believe.

BP

4886

Proceedings

1

2

And then the note concludes:

3

4

"Is it possible that this could be ready in the morning? Thank you."

5

7

I have given that note to counsel who have advised that they are going to make every effort to gather this so that it can be provided to the jurors in the morning.

8

Agreed, counsel? Lots of nodding.

9

MR. FARBER: Yes.

10

12

THE COURT: All right, so I think that's all we have for tonight, unless you're coming to give me something else.

13

14

MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, there's one complicating issue.

15

17

18

19

21

With regard to Mr. Cotton, we used video clips of his deposition as party admissions and impeachment. Those are not reflected in the record, but they are part of the record; and either we need to note to the jury that they could request that they be replayed or work out some other method by which they can see that. We can print up clip requests, as well.

22

23

MS. CONNELL: Rowling as well, I'm sorry.

24

THE COURT: Rowling as well?

25

MS. CONNELL: Yes.

BP

4887

Proceedings

1

2

THE COURT: Well, my inclination is to get the transcripts from the trial. They requested transcripts from the testimony of, so I think it is a fair reading of that that that they mean the trial transcripts.

5

6

I'm okay with either providing it and seeing if they want the rest of it, if that's agreeable to everyone. I can -- we can include with that a note that we have not yet -- we have not included the videotapes.

7

10

Was that played separately or was that played during their testimony?

11

12

MS. CONNELL: During their testimony, and we can provide clip reports, your Honor.

13

14

THE COURT: I think that one since it was inter-delineated within the testimony, there will be a section in the transcript that says "Video was played," that's typically what it says. And so if they want that, then they can ask for it.

15

17

18

19

MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor.

20

THE COURT: Just like in some other testimony when somebody was impeached let's say with prior, there's some stuff that may not have been reflected; but they'll see the gap and if they want it -- if anybody feels very strongly that we should affirmatively get it, I didn't see anyone leaping to that, but I would consider it if people were

22

24

25

BP

4888

Proceedings

1 insisting on it.

2 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we believe that we do
3 feel strongly about it. These are party admissions. We 4 played them during the case in chief. They were put in 5 front of the jury. We feel strongly they're entitled to see
6 that if they want a read-back of the testimony.

7 THE COURT: It is not actually part -- when it is 8 done that way, part of the court transcript. That's just 9 the way it is. I don't disagree that if they ask for it, it
10 can be -- well, I'm going to just leave it at that.

11 What do the defendants --

12 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, I think if the jurors come
13 to a juncture in the transcript where they're asking what do
14 the videos say, we can approach that then. But we had 15 objected to many of these as improper impeachment; and if 16 impeachment was done properly, then the transcript will say,
17 Didn't you testify at your deposition that you approved the 18 contract in June, and so the jury might not need to see the 19 clip which we had objected to in the first place.

20 THE COURT: I'm not sure that it is improper, but 21 it is a way that is not then reflected in the transcript,
22 that is true.

23 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, just to make it clear,
24 plaintiff objects. There were not objections to a lot of 25 these video clips or most of them.

BP

4889

Proceedings

1 They are party admissions. We can produce and
2 provide to the parties and circulate and provide to the jury
3 clip reports, and we believe it is properly considered.

4 THE COURT: I think they were used as impeachment
5 when they were played.

6 MS. CONNELL: Not always, your Honor, no.

7 THE COURT: This was during their testimony. It
8 wasn't, we are now playing for the jury the following prior 9 recorded transcripts.

10 MS. CONNELL: They were played during their
11 testimony, your Honor; but they were both. In fact, I
12 believe and then we can take a look that your Honor held 13 them as such party admissions. So, we believe they should 14 be part of this record, not just left for the jury --

15 THE COURT: I understand the argument. I'm going
16 to stick with what I had, is that if -- first of all, I
17 think the jury or because they understood that we're not 18 going to respond to very curated kind of requests, they're 19 asking for in some cases hundreds of pages. We really have 20 no way of knowing of whether all they're looking for is a
21 very small piece of it.

22 So, I think going above and beyond what they ask
23 for which I think this would be, I'm going to take a step at 24 a time for now. Let's gather the testimony that's in the 25 transcript and provide that, and we'll see if they request

BP

4890

Proceedings

1 more. I don't think this falls under the sort of doctrine
2 of completeness.

3 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor --

4 THE COURT: Look, I don't need anymore argument on
5 this.

6 MS. CONNELL: May I just ask that they be 7 instructed that they can ask when they --

8 THE COURT: I'm going to give them the transcripts
9 they requested.

10 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, on another point, what is 11 your thinking on answering the question about when the AG
12 questioned about the employment agreements?

13 THE COURT: I assume -- the only document in the 14 record is the, as I recall -- if there's a document in the 15 record that reflects that date, the only thing I recall is a 16 subpoena and so I don't know if there's anything in the 17 record that reflects that date.

18 MR. FARBER: Judge, whether there's something in 19 the record or not, my suggestion or my request is that the 20 Court's response to them being something along the lines of,
21 As to this question, it is your responsibility based upon
22 your review of the evidence to find the facts.

23 What they're asking us to do is to go through the 24 evidence ourselves and to answer a factual question for 25 them, which I think is --

4891

Proceedings

1

2 THE COURT: Look, like I said, if -- I'm not sure
3 that there is anything in the record that reflects this.

4

MR. FARBER: Whether there is or there isn't,
5 that's the point, your Honor. That's for them to assess.

6

They asked what is the date the AG requested
7 certain information, and the job of the jury is to find the 8 answer to factual questions. That's a factual question, and 9 they're supposed to do it, themselves, based upon reviewing 10 the evidence.

11

And, it is also I think somewhat troubling because 12 there's been a series of notes like this. This one I think
13 is the most direct where they're sort of asking us to do
14 things that are really their job.

14

15

THE COURT: I think that's not unfair, especially 16 if there's -- if we could construe this as, look, I know
17 there's a document I just can't remember the number, can you 18 tell me; but that's not really what this question is.

19

And I, frankly, don't recall any document that 20 would reveal this information.

21

MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, I think that there was 22 the preservation notice, there was some testimony about
23 that. There was the subpoena, there was some testimony
24 about this. This is part of the 715-j affirmative defense.

24

25

So, I agree, it is a factual issue that the jury

needs to find, and I think should be clear --

THE COURT: Right, those are the three documents I was anything about, as well; but I don't think any of them got as granular as providing the information that 715-j asks about, which was this ratification before they were notified.

MS. CONNELL: I agree. I don't think any of them directly go to that. I would want to double check, but, again, I do think it is an important distinction --

THE COURT: Well, I think in that, in that setting I think it may be that the right answer is, it's up to you to determine whether that information is in the record. We can't really respond to that.

MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, the question assumes that there was a date on which the AG requested the info. Our position is there wasn't.

THE COURT: Well, either way, I think Mr. Farber is probably right, that we're not in the business of telling them what the evidence is or isn't.

MR. CORRELL: I agree with that, your Honor.

MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, just the point of law, though, that it is part of the affirmative defense so --

BP

1 THE COURT: I understand what you're saying, and
2 the defendants are the ones who are saying that so -- so I
3 think that's probably the right answer so I can -- when we
4 provide that information, the transcripts, I think I'll just
5 say as to the first question, the jury has to find facts
6 based on what it finds from the admitted evidence and that's 7 not a question that the Court or the parties can answer for 8 them at this point.

9 Okay, good night. Counsel, I'm going to shoot to 10 be here at 9:30 and bring them down and, hopefully, we'll 11 have the transcripts to send up and I'll give them that 12 little spiel on that answer.

Proceedings

1

2

THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. I want to try and deal with these logistic issues that were raised in various notes to me as soon as we can.

3

5

I'll start with I received a letter in the wee hours from the State about this issue of the video clips that were shown during the Cotton and Rowling testimonies. It is a good letter. I did read several of the cases that are in there. I think they involved different situations.

6

8

9

10

11

12

14

The one that jumped out to me was The People versus Flores case from 1985 holding reversible error for -- well, the quote from it is that "The court directed the read back of testimonies without including the portion impeaching the witness's prior testimony."

15

17

19

I looked at it. First of all, it was Grand Jury testimony so, obviously, it wasn't videotaped; and the trial court in that case seemingly deleted it from the transcript, which is a far different thing than what we are doing here.

20

22

23

25

But, I think what I'm going to do -- and I don't really need to hear argument about it -- is tell the jury once we clear up any issues you all had in terms of just putting together the actual transcript, I'll remind them that during two of the witnesses there were video clips played; and that per our usual procedure, those are not in

BP

4897

Proceedings

1 the transcripts. So, they're not in the transcripts that
2 are being handed to you; but if you wish to see the
3 transcript of those video clips, just send us another note
4 and I'll provide them.

5 So, rather than just leaving it to them to bring it
6 up on their own, I think it is fair to at least flag the 7 issue. And if they want them, that's fine; if they don't,
8 also fine. I'm not deleting anything from the official
9 transcript.

10 Parties can decide how they want to impeach
11 witnesses. If they want it to be in the official 12 transcript, they read it out for the court reporter. If 13 they would prefer to use video which I think is fine, that 14 is logistical issue that comes up. So, I don't think it is 15 inappropriate to provide it for the jury if they ask for it.

16 I personally don't view the request they made as 17 being clear one way or the other; but I'm giving them the 18 transcript once we work out the kinks, and I'll let them
19 know that those video clips are available. I think we 20 should do it by transcript, not by having them come in and 21 watch. That way would put more emphasis on the impeachment
22 than on the rest of the testimony.

23 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, plaintiff would just 24 still note an exception. We have the transcripts printed,
25 the clip reports here and ready; and that should be told to

BP

4898

Proceedings

1 them so they don't fear a delay which they clearly are
2 concerned about. At a minimum they should know that.

3 THE COURT: I'm done with that issue.

4 Tell me what is going on with what I thought was a
5 simple task of putting together the transcripts?

6 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, there are really three
7 areas. There are four -- but one plaintiff is willing not
8 to disagree about -- where there were sustained objections
9 and the defendants won't agree to redact them. And we've 10 agreed with things that we thought were maybe not copacetic;
11 but just in the interest of being even handed, we've taken
12 out all sustained objections and relevant questions where 13 that's appropriate.

14 There are a couple of examples where the defendants
15 just won't agree. It is a sustained objection. It should 16 come out.

17 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, the reason we don't 18 agree is because the answer was provided before the 19 objection was made and then there was no motion to strike.
20 That's the only reason.

21 THE COURT: I sustained the objection?

22 MS. EISENBERG: But they made the objection after 23 the answer was provided. But, yes, you said sustained, but 24 then they didn't say "move to strike." There were other
25 instances to which we agreed where the objection was made

BP

4899

Proceedings

1 before the answer was provided and when you sustained it, we
2 certainly agreed to redact those.

3 THE COURT: Well, sustain -- sometimes I will note,
4 Well, the witness has already answered.

5 MS. EISENBERG: You did not.

6 THE COURT: I can't recall. What happens sometimes
7 is that the sustaining of the objection and the answer
8 happen at about the same time, and the court reporter hears
9 both of them. The sustaining of the objection has the 10 effect of striking the question and the answer, so they 11 should both be edited out in accordance with what we've been 12 doing throughout.

13 MS. EISENBERG: Okay, that's not a problem, your 14 Honor. We wanted to be systematically consistent.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, when I intended to leave the 16 answer standing -- again, I'm not always watching the 17 realtime to see what exactly is getting on there -- I will 18 make an exception to it and say, "Well, the witness has 19 already answered" and in that situation, then I don't 20 typically go ahead and sustain the objection.

21 So, I agree with whichever side said we should just 22 have a consistent rule. And so if there was, I would 23 consider that a stray answer that is effectively stricken by 24 the objection being sustained.

25 So, with that ruling, you can then proceed with the

BP

4900

Proceedings

1 rest of the editing and we can tell the jury it is all going
2 to be there?

3 MS. EISENBERG: Yes, your Honor. Mr. Coy is 4 already ready because there were no disagreements there, and
5 the two others are in court. We'll just use a black marker
6 to redact those.

7 THE COURT: So, it will be a matter of minutes.

8 MS. EISENBERG: Thank you.

9 THE COURT: That's fine. So that was easier than I
10 thought it would be.

11 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, without reopening the 12 argument that you didn't want to reopen, I just wanted to 13 drop a marker which there was one item where there was 14 testimony from the bankruptcy and Mr. LaPierre had a
15 standing objection to using testimony from the bankruptcy.

16 I just wanted to flag that. If they don't ask for 17 it, it won't be an issue.

18 THE COURT: Well, the difference here is if 19 testimony is played in open court here and all parties have 20 the ability to cross-examine the witness, it doesn't have 21 the same -- I view it differently when something is 22 introduced as substantive evidence just separate and apart.

23 Here, if it was just played live to a live witness
24 who everybody could cross-examine, I don't see the same
25 objection being appropriate.

BP

4901

Proceedings

1 MS. ROGERS: Your Honor, we just wanted to flag
2 that we, also, put in a letter in response to their
3 late-night letter, but it might not have hit the docket
4 until this morning. That letter had more recent authority
5 on this issue confirming that the Court can exercise its 6 discretion not to give the jury impeachment read-back. We 7 don't intend to reopen the issue.

8 I think your Honor's ruling is reasonable and fair,
9 but I just wanted to make that note for the record.

10 THE COURT: I had not seen it.

11 MS. ROGERS: I think it hit the docket right as we 12 were all entering the room, so that's probably why.

13 THE COURT: I see it now.

14 MS. CONNELL: To be clear, your Honor, these were 15 often offered for impeachment. They were also party
16 admissions.

17 THE COURT: Well, yes and no. I mean, you can -- 18 this may be overly technical; but if you were offering it as 19 new evidence in addition to the live testimony of Ms. Smith,
20 We're also going to play certain prior testimony, this -- I
21 haven't looked at all the clips. But, generally speaking,
22 these were used as she answered a question, Well, didn't you
23 say the following; you can't have simultaneous testimony
24 here. I mean, I -- my recollection is when these clips were 25 shown, they may have also been admissible as independent

BP

4902

Proceedings

1 evidence; but they weren't offered that way. Because when
2 you offer it that way, you do it the way we've done with all
3 the other witnesses where the, the testimony is shown to the 4 jury, we have back and forth about completeness and it is a
5 separate introduction of witness testimony.

6 It is not really worth getting into because I'm 7 pretty clear that when this was shown, it was shown for 8 purposes of impeachment. Again, it might be independently
9 admissible as well; but the question that we're really just 10 getting at is when the jury asked to hear that testimony, my 11 position is is it's the official record. And I'm now going 12 to let them know that since they may not realize it, but 13 when the videotape happens that's not in the transcript; and 14 if they want it, they can get it.

15 So, I'm good with where I came out. I
16 appreciate -- there's no perfect solution. I think the one
17 thing I wouldn't do which appears to be what some of these
18 cases involve is literally editing out impeachment questions
19 and answers live on the stand. I can see why that would be 20 a problem.

21 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor. We still note
22 the exception. We do have the clip reports available.

23 THE COURT: Understood. If they ask for them,
24 they'll get them.

25 All right, let's -- is the jury gathered? Not yet.

BP

4903

Proceedings

1 We're still waiting on one.

2 COURT OFFICER: Ready, Judge?

3 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

4 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury entering.

5 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then entered the
6 courtroom.)

7 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. Please have a
8 seat.

9 So, just a couple of things I wanted to update you
10 on about some of the most recent requests.

11 The request we received near the end of the day
12 yesterday was for transcripts of three witnesses,
13 Mr. Cotton, Mr. Coy and Ms. Rowling; and those are I think 14 ready or one is ready right now. The other two, they're 15 just making some small changes.

16 The only point I want to raise on those is the only
17 thing we have edited out on any of these is sustained
18 objections. So, if the question was asked, objection raised
19 and I sustained it, that's not supposed to be part of the 20 record. So, just to keep you from being distracted we've 21 edited some of those out. So, if you see any editing marks,
22 that's the only thing that's coming out, along with it if we 23 have conferences at the bench or while you're out of the 24 courtroom. So, we're just leaving it to the admitted
25 testimony.

BP

4904

Proceedings

1 The other point is as to two of the witnesses, I
2 think it is Mr. Cotton and Ms. Rowling, you may remember
3 that during the testimony after some questioning, the --
4 there was played some video of their prior deposition
5 testimony or may be in some cases other types of testimony.

6 The way our system works, that is not transcribed.
7 When the video plays, the court reporter doesn't put that in
8 the transcript. So there will be just a notation saying
9 "Video was played."

10 So, the transcripts that you're getting won't have 11 the text of those videos. If you want those, just send a
12 followup note saying if you want all of them or if you want
13 a particular one and we'll have that done. Those 14 transcripts are ready. It is not going to be a long delay.
15 The official transcript just includes what was taken down by 16 the court reporter; but, again, you're free to ask for that 17 stuff if you want it.

18 I want to stress, again, that although it is 19 appropriate for you to ask for individual pieces of evidence
20 and testimony, most important is to take a holistic view of 21 all the evidence in the case. It is all one big whole and 22 you shouldn't overemphasize any particular piece of evidence
23 just because it's being sent to the jury room. It's just 24 important to always remember to take the broad view of all
25 the evidence that was submitted.

BP

4905

Proceedings

1 So, that should be up to you shortly. And, again,
2 just send us a followup note if you want anything else.

3 The other question that was asked was a more
4 specific fact question, "What was the date that --" the 5 question was "What is the date that the AG requested
6 information regarding Woody Phillips and Mr. LaPierre's
7 post-employment contracts?"

8 Unfortunately, although we'd like to be helpful
9 with that, that's the question we really can't provide an 10 answer for because that's a fact question for the jury to 11 determine based on the evidence. So, it would be 12 inappropriate for us to sort of hand you an answer like
13 that.

14 So, if you want to see evidence, we can certainly 15 bring that to you; but we can't sort of curate it and give 16 you answers to specific questions. That's not our role.

17 So, that's the answer to that.

18 So, with that, I think that that covers the various 19 requests, and we can let you go back to work.

20 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

21 (Whereupon, at this time the jury then left the
22 courtroom.)

23 THE COURT: Okay, let's try to get the transcripts
24 up to them as quickly as we can.

25 MS. EISENBERG: We sent Mr. Coy and are working on

BP

Proceedings

1 the other two.

2 THE COURT: Sent it through who?

3 MS. EISENBERG: Through the lieutenant.

4 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, we're actually reprinting
5 them because it just ends up being easier.

6 THE COURT: Fine. Thank you.

THE COURT: So, we'll mark this as Court

5

Exhibit XXIX which, I believe, the court officer gave you

6 and it is concise.

7

The question is: "How to figure out damages or 8

harm?"

9

My proposed response is as follows:

10

In response to the juror question regarding 11 calculation of damages, please refer to pages 67 to 69 of 12

the Court's instructions. If you have a specific question

13

regarding those instructions, please submit it and I will

14 determine whether additional guidance can be provided."

15

Anybody have any issues with that?

16

MR. FARBER: Judge, just that in looking at the 17 pages that were put on NYSCEF of the jury instructions, they don't appear to correspond to that.

18

19

THE COURT: Is that right?

20

MR. FARBER: The damages -- the section of your 21 instructions that starts with the heading "Damages" runs

22 from page 63 of 72 of 72 to 68 of 72. I can hand those up.

23

THE COURT: I was looking at a PDF I had on my 24

computer, and I guess I did not have the actual copies. So

25

that's a fair point. I can make that change. So, it

2 MR. FARBER: 63, your Honor, to 68.

3 THE COURT: 63 to 68. Okay, so I will make that

5 Any other comments?

6 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor. That's acceptable to 7 plaintiff.

8 I just say if it comes back and if it comes up
9 again, I remind the Court there was a request for 10 summations, maybe that would help them.

11 We cited People versus Velasco and the Wylie case
12 previously.

13 THE COURT: Okay, thank you. We'll wait for the

2 I have a note from the jury foreman which says the

5 So, as I mentioned, we do have flexibility from the

17 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I would also ask the

20 THE COURT: I don't know exactly what that means
21 because more than fifteen days could mean a lot more than

5 Just one moment. Thank you very much.

6 In a moment I'm going to ask the jurors just

9 (Brief pause)

10 THE COURT: I'm going to ask counsel, do counsel
11 have any issues with the form of the verdict sheet and its 12 consistency as with the verdict read by the foreperson?

13 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor.

14 MS. ROGERS: No, your Honor.

16 MR. FARBER: No, your Honor.

17 MR. FLEMING: No.

20 you by.

21 First stand, Juror Twelve, does the verdict that

8 JUROR NUMBER ELEVEN: Yes, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Juror Number Seven, does the verdict

11 JUROR NUMBER SEVEN: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Thank you. And, Juror Number Six, does

14 of the juror?

15 JUROR NUMBER SIX: Yes, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Members of the jury -- is there
17 anything else from counsel?

18 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I just want to renew the 19 oral motion that was made earlier under CPLR 4401 for a
20 directed verdict and move orally pursuant to CPLR 4404(a)
21 for judgment as a matter of law in Mr. LaPierre's favor for 22 a new trial in the interest of justice and on the grounds
23 the verdict is against the weight of the evidence. And I
24 would also like to ask on the record for the Court to allow 25 more than fifteen days to submit a written motion under CPLR

BP

1 4404.

2 I would also ask the Court to stay entry of the 3 judgment on the verdict until after the second phase of the 4 trial.

5 THE COURT: Anyone else?

6 MS. ROGERS: Nothing from the NRA, your Honor.

7 MR. FARBER: Judge, I have a similar request in 8 terms of additional time which to file a motion for a new 9 trial. I'll make the other request in connection with those 10 posttrial motions.

11 THE COURT: Understood. Mr. Fleming?

12 MR. FLEMING: If you would like to hear from me
13 now, I would speak to it; but I can also wait until after 14 you're done with the jury.

15 THE COURT: That's fine. Anything from the State?

16 MS. CONNELL: No, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay, members of the jury, this 18 completes your service. On behalf of the judicial system of 19 the state and the parties and lawyers, I thank you for that 20 service.

21 Before you leave the courtroom, however, I want to 22 inform you that you do not have to answer questions about
23 the case asked by anyone other than possibly me, and I don't 24 have any. The public interest requires that jurors have the 25 utmost freedom of debate in the jury room, and that each of

BP

4927

Proceedings

1 you be free to express your views without fear of what
2 others may think. Although you are not required to maintain 3 secrecy about what occurred in the jury room, you should 4 keep in mind your own best interests as jurors before
5 discussing the case with anyone or answering any questions
6 about it.

7 In sum, you are free to discuss the case with 8 anyone, and you are also free to decline to discuss the case
9 with anyone.

10 So, with that, I bid you a fond farewell, and thank 11 you very much for all of your time and patience and 12 diligence, and I really do appreciate your time.

13 Thank you very much.

14 COURT OFFICER: All rise, jury exiting.

15 (Whereupon, at this time the jury was discharged
16 and exited the courtroom.)

17 THE COURT: And I also thank the alternate jurors
18 who are now sitting in the courtroom for your time and 19 attention and your patience during this process as well, so
20 thank you very much.

21 All right, everybody can be seated.

22 We are in overtime here, so I would ask that we try
23 to keep whatever preservation of arguments that you want to 24 make now brief, and you can certainly expand on them in any 25 posttrial motions. You don't have to put everything on the

BP

4928

Proceedings

1 record. Just preserve what you feel like you need to.

2 MR. CORRELL: Should we go in order of the
3 defendants?

4 THE COURT: Sure.

5 MS. EISENBERG: Your Honor, we just want to 6 preserve all of the arguments we made in our motion for 7 directed verdict and as a matter of law.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. CORRELL: Your Honor, I'd like to incorporate
10 by reference the arguments that I made on the earlier Rule
11 4401 motion.

12 I had also incorporated arguments made by 13 Mr. Phillips's counsel and Mr. Frazer's counsel.

14 And I would like to make an oral motion for 15 judgment as a matter of law on the issue of whether Section
16 720 provides for relief in the form of damages in an action
17 against an officer at all; and whether assuming arguendo
18 without conceding that it does, whether such damages can -- 19 a judgment for damages or any other monetary relief can be 20 procured without allegation and proof of an unlawful 21 transfer of corporate assets with knowledge of its 22 unlawfulness to the officer who is the defendant in the 23 lawsuit.

24 I'd also like to move orally for judgment
25 notwithstanding the verdict on the ground that no reasonable

BP

4929

Proceedings

1 jury could conclude that Mr. LaPierre is liable on these
2 facts, on this record or that any act or omission on his
3 part was a substantial factor in causing any damages or 4 monetary harm.

5 I'm, also, moving orally on the ground that the 6 verdict against Mr. LaPierre is against the weight of the 7 evidence and against the interest of justice.

8 And, I'm also moving orally to set aside the 9 verdict on the ground that it appears -- to the extent that 10 it imposes damages outside the three-year period that we 11 believe is applicable to the claims against him in this
12 action and look forward to submitting a written motion
13 embodying all these arguments in due course.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 MR. FARBER: Judge, we still have the motions that 16 we made at the close of the State's case, which I know your 17 Honor has deferred ruling on. In terms of posttrial
18 motions, as I said, we'll put those in writing.

19 What I would like to ask the Court for and we'll be 20 submitting is a request to have sixty days to do the 21 briefing in connection with those motions.

22 MR. FLEMING: Your Honor, first, I would join in 23 the motion for an extension of time to file a 4404 motion.
24 And as your Honor knows, I made an oral motion for a
25 directed verdict followed up by a written brief, which was

BP

4930

Proceedings

1 filed last Sunday, which the Court has.

2 And, so, we would continue to urge the directed
3 verdict motion be considered and granted. That's it. Thank
4 you.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 MS. CONNELL: Your Honor, plaintiff would like to 7 reserve the right to make a judgment notwithstanding the 8 verdict in regard to ratifications of certain related-party
9 transactions, the credit afforded to Mr. LaPierre and the 10 lack of damages with regard to Mr. Phillips' post-employment
11 contract.

12 THE COURT: Okay, thank you all very much.

13 I'm certainly flexible about the scheduling of 14 posttrial motions. What I suggest we do is schedule a 15 conference in the next day or week to talk about the 16 schedule for briefing and, also, the schedule for the Phase
17 2 trial.

18 As a precaution, I tentatively blocked out a couple
19 of weeks in July because time was filling up quickly. If 20 the time doesn't work, we can look further, but I think it
21 was July, around the week of the 15th or so. But, so, think 22 about that in your schedule. I think I blocked two weeks.

23 So, we'll reach out to find the time for a
24 conference, sort of scheduling conference on briefing and on 25 the Phase 2 trial and any other things that have to happen

BP

4931

1 between now and the Phase 2 trial in terms of additional
2 evidence. So, we'll reach out and try to schedule that in 3 the next week.

4 As I've said, I'm starting a trial on Monday, so
5 I'm not sure exactly when I can do that; but I'll try to do
6 this as soon as I can.

7 So, with that, I do want to, again, express my 8 appreciation to very hard working counsel who worked
9 tirelessly on this case for years.

10 I, also, want to thank who I didn't the tech, who 11 worked on this trial have been prudent and really helped 12 the -- the defense ones aren't here, but I want to thank
13 you.

14 I want to thank the court staff, court reporters,
15 court officers, Ms. Hill who runs the entire show.

16 So, anyway, thank you very much. I appreciate all
17 of your efforts, and we'll be seeing each other again soon.
18 So, thanks very much.

19 MS. CONNELL: Thank you, your Honor.

20 MR. FARBER: Thank you, your Honor.
